To Whom It May Concern:

The purpose of this letter is to explain why it is believed that temporary administrative certificates are effective. The temporary administrative certificate is available for any applicant who completed graduate study for school administration that did not include human relations training as defined by the Legislature. Since all Nebraska standard institutions of higher education provide human relations training as part of their education program that all students have to complete, this temporary certificate is only needed from individuals who did not attend a Nebraska standard institution of higher education.

A temporary administrative certificate meets all of the requirements for a professional administrative certificate, standard administrative certificate, or provisional administrative permit but have not met the human relations training requirement. These certificates are issued for 180 days and are not renewable.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions on this certificate type. I can be reached at 402-471-0738 or at clayton.waddle@nebraska.gov.

Sincerely,
