

February 6, 1973

SENATOR MARVEL: Do you want to read the Committee Amendments.

CLERK: Read.

SENATOR MARVEL: I move the Committee Amendments be adopted.

CLERK: Those are found on Page 314 of the Journal.

SPEAKER: Is there any discussion. Are you ready for the question. All those in favor of adopting the committee amendments say aye, opposed no. The amendments are adopted. Any further committee amendments, Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: None, Mr. President.

SPEAKER: Senator Marvel.

CLERK: I have an amendment now, Mr. President. Read.

SPEAKER: Senator Carpenter.

SENATOR CARPENTER: Mr. President, the fiscal analyst according to the law is under the discretion of and the direction of the Executive Council and not the Budget Committee. The functions of the fiscal analyst are well spelled out in the area in which I put on your desk the other day. It seems to me that it would be a mistake not to have it mandatory that the fiscal analyst perform the duties as outlined in the bill and the budget committee should have nothing to say or to do about his making a report or not making a report and that's the purpose of this amendment. And while I'm on my feet

(End of Belt #8)