SENATOR BARNETT: I have a point of personal privilege in order. I would like to make it in the form of an announcement. I just--

PRESIDENT: Proceed.

SENATOR BARNETT: As the Senators know in the--behind the speakers there and over in the mail office area, there is a first aid room and I have told a couple of the Pages to pass out the same sheets we did a year ago or two years ago for any Senator or any employee around here that wishes, they can fill out this small medical form if they want to. It is just some kind of a general outline for us to go by in the event something happens to you while you are here from out of town and anybody that doesn't want to fill it out, doesn't have to. Because if you drop, we will just leave you lay and then we will try to take care of you if something happens and if you have to go to the hospital, we'll send this slip with you so that they can give you some kind of emergency care until they can get a hold of your doctor and that's the only reason we're asking this to be given out. Thank you.
