

May 9, 1977

playing tricks, then I think Senator Bereuter and some others ought to be looking somewhere other than this spot right here. What I am trying to do is get some equity here because certain individuals apparently have prevailed on the Speaker to take bills out of the order even that they appear on the worksheet. They were reported late to the floor and they are high on the individual preference list. Now in the past, for those of you who haven't been here, there was always an incentive to try to get your priority bill to the Speaker earlier because that is the order they were placed on the priority list. As they came in, they were placed on the priority list. So the first change is that they hasten you to get your bill in but it makes no difference because they are not going to follow that procedure. Then we are told that the basis for placement on the priority list is the order that they are found on the worksheet. Yet when we review the priority list now, it does not follow the order on the worksheet. So I am saying, what we have the opportunity to do now, to do away with all of the recrimination, all of the inuendoes, all of the suspicions that I and others have that there have been forces at work here which are not completely above board and fair, it is a Texas situation where we all put our name in the pot and draw it out and the luck of the draw determines the order on the priority list. There is no other equitable manner to do this thing. That is the motion and I think it ought to be adopted.

SPEAKER LUEDTKE: The question is the adoption of the Chambers motion. All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Have you all voted? Record the vote. Senator Chambers.

CLERK: 14 ayes, 20 nays. Senator Simon's machine again is not working.

SPEAKER LUEDTKE: Motion fails.

CLERK: Motion on the desk.

SPEAKER LUEDTKE: May the Chair just clarify something. In just looking at the chronological listing here, 407 does appear to be out of order. The Speaker still insists that the order should be the chronological listing on the worksheet. If this sheet is wrong, then it will be corrected but we have to come in, you see, it was a moot question until you made a motion to take up the individual list. We will now prepare a correct list by carefully going over the list on the worksheet and the order of your preferences will follow in the order in which they are on the worksheet. In other words, if Senator Murphy's 46 is first, that one will be first and so on down the line. Because of the fact that the one we selected a couple of weeks ago was the order in which it was is because perhaps that is the way the worksheet was at that time but now we are at the point where we are going to take them up and we are going to follow the order of the worksheet today. Senator Cullan. Senator Cullan. I was going on the order in which they appear on the worksheet. That should be the order in which they were reported out because they do not lose a position. I am not going to get that technical. I have said the chronological order in which they appear on the worksheet. You see, in answer to your