RULE 7—PROCEEDINGS AND MOTIONS

(A) Order of Business

Section 1. Meeting Time, Restrictions. (a) The Legislature shall meet annually at 10:00 a.m. on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January of each year and thereafter on each legislative day at 9:00 a.m., and adjourn not later than 1:00 p.m., unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote of its members present and voting thereon. The Legislature shall remain in session until it shall adjourn sine die, but in no event shall it remain in session for longer than ninety (90) legislative days in odd-numbered years or sixty (60) legislative days in even-numbered years. This limitation may be suspended by a four-fifths vote of the elected senators.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 10.

Each day the Legislature convenes shall be considered a legislative day.

(b) The order of business of the Legislature shall be as follows; except as otherwise provided by the Speaker.

- a. Prayer by the Chaplain
- b. Roll call
- c. Call for correction of the Journal
- d. Petitions and memorials
- e. Notice of committee hearings and reports
- f. Bills on Final Reading
- g. Resolutions
- h. Introduction of bills and reading by title
- i. Consideration of bills on Select File
- j. Motions to reconsider
- k. Motions to advance bills from committee
- l. Other pending motions
- m. Unfinished business, including messages on President's desk
- n. Consideration of bills on General File
- o. Miscellaneous business

(c) Messages from the Governor may be received at any stage of the proceedings.

RULE 7

(d) When a bill shall have been made a special order for a definite time and an adjournment shall intervene for a time beyond the time fixed for such special order, then in that event the bill so made a special order shall be placed in its order on General File. The unfinished business in which the Legislature was engaged at the adjournment of the last preceding sitting shall have preference in the special order of the day.

(e) Upon call for the introduction of bills, any member or any standing committee to which bills are referred for consideration may introduce one or more bills.

Introduction of bills. Rule 6, Sec. 1.

(B) Voting Machine

Sec. 2. Voting, Electric Roll Call. (a) All votes shall be taken viva voca unless otherwise provided for herein. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "Those who are in favor of the question say 'aye'; those who are opposed to the question say 'nay'."

(b) If a machine vote is called for or if the presiding officer is in doubt, he shall cause the result to be obtained by means of the electric roll call system, and in such event shall accept only machine tallied votes except that voice votes shall be accepted on a motion before the House while the House is under Call. The presiding officer may vote by voice. Only the totals shall be printed in the Journal. Once having voted aye or nay, senators may call in a change to not voting prior to the locking of the voting board.

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the electric roll call system shall be used. Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading.

(d) Whenever the "ayes" and "nays" are taken by machine vote no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the Clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote the Clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, those absent and not voting, and those excused and not voting, and on any action to advance or amend bills, these totals shall be set forth in the Journal. Voice votes shall be accepted on roll call or record votes.

(C) Motions

Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

- a. To adjourn
- b. For the previous question
- c. To postpone to a time certain
- d. To recommit to a committee
- e. To amend
- f. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, except that motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

When any of the following motions shall be made, any action on such motion shall be delayed at least one legislative day and the motion shall be printed in the Legislative Journal:

- a. Motion to postpone indefinitely on Select File
  - b. Motion to advance bills from committee
  - c. Motion to place bills on General File, notwithstanding the action of a standing committee
- (b) When a motion or other proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order.
- (c) Amendments to the title shall be made by the Enrollment and Review Committee.

RULE 7

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.

(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

Sec. 4. Shall the Debate Cease. The previous question shall be in this form, "Shall the debate now close?"

The previous question shall be in order when demanded by five or more members and must be sustained by the vote of a majority of the elected members, and until decided shall, except as provided in this section of this rule, preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn.

On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for a previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

When the previous question shall have been ordered on a proposition under debate, the mover, proponent, or introducer of such proposition shall be given the right to close the debate thereon.

Sec. 5. Call of the Legislature. A Call of the Legislature may be made by any member in the manner following: "I move for a Call of the Legislature." The presiding officer shall direct that the board be cleared and the members shall then vote on placing themselves under Call. If a majority of the senators present and voting vote in favor of such a motion then the Legislature shall be deemed to be under Call. Each member present shall indicate his presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his seat during the Call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the Call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members then present, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members elected. If all absentees were to vote on one side of the question, and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change the result of the vote, the President shall declare the Call raised.

RULE 7

Voice vote while House under Call. Rule 7, Sec. 2b.

Sec. 6. Postpone to Time Certain. No motion to postpone to a time certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Sec. 7. Reconsideration. (a) When a question has been decided, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side, or not voting, to move for a reconsideration thereof. A motion to reconsider must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on the next legislative day, except when it be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading. In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Sec. 3.

(b) Every motion to reconsider shall take preference over all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(c) For its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

- i Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.
- ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause attached, but which received the constitutional majority with the emergency clause stricken and the purpose of the motion is to again add the emergency clause, then a two-thirds vote of the elected members shall be required for adoption.

RULE 7

Sec. 8. Strike the Enacting Clause. A motion to strike the enacting clause if adopted, is equivalent to rejection of the bill. It shall not have precedence over a motion to amend nor a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Sec. 9. Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

- a. While a member is speaking.
- b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.
- c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.

A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall have precedence over a motion to adjourn. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions.

When a motion to adjourn has been made, the Speaker shall be privileged to speak to the motion prior to any vote on such motion, otherwise a motion to adjourn is not debatable.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 43.

Introduced by Chambers, 11th District; Fowler, 27th District.

WHEREAS, slavery of black people was prohibited by the Territorial Legislature of Nebraska in 1861; and

WHEREAS, the admission of the State of Nebraska to the Union affirmed the rights of all persons, regardless of "race or color", including the right to vote; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution of Nebraska declares that "All persons are by nature free and independent, and have certain inherent and inalienable rights"; and

WHEREAS, the laws of the State of Nebraska uphold the equal rights of people of all races; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Fair Employment Practice Act of 1965 states that racial discrimination in employment is "contrary to the principles of freedom" and contrary to the laws of the state; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Civil Rights Act of 1969 states that racial discrimination in housing and the use of any place of public accommodation is contrary to the policy and laws of the state; and

WHEREAS, the principle of racial equality enunciated in the Nebraska Constitution and upheld in its laws has not yet found expression in policy governing the management of state public funds; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature has charged the State Investment Officer with the careful and prudent investment of state funds, but has provided no further guidance; and

WHEREAS, the State Investment Council's approved list for investment of trust funds includes many corporations which support the apartheid regime of South Africa; and

WHEREAS, the South African government is unstable, resting not with the consent of the governed, but rather relying on violence and the support of outside investment in strategic sectors of the economy; and

WHEREAS, the South African apartheid regime, solely for reason of race or color denies 19 million South Africans basic human rights, including decent housing, education, and farmland, as well as the right to vote, organize, travel, and speak freely.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature declares the investment of Nebraska state funds in institutions which support the apartheid system of South Africa to be contrary to Nebraska's principle of human rights and social equality.

2. That the Legislature calls on the Nebraska Investment Council to review the list of corporations and banks which invest in South Africa, as compiled by the American Consulate General in Johannesburg, and to remove them from the approved list for investment of Nebraska trust funds.

FIRST DAY - JANUARY 9, 1980*LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL*EIGHTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE SECOND SESSION*FIRST DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, January 9, 1980

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 10, Article III of the Constitution of Nebraska, the Eighty-Sixth Legislature, Second Session of the Legislature of Nebraska, assembled in Legislative Hall of the Capitol Building at the hour of 10:01 a.m. on Wednesday, January 9, 1980, and was called to order by President Luedtke.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Chaplain Robert Palmer, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Lord of us all, at the start of this session in the dawn of a decade, we are anxiously aware of the winds of change blowing around us, the dangers of this day hovering over us, and the issues of this Legislature menacingly confronting us. Make us equally aware of the resources we each have within us, of the people we represent all around us and the God who fashioned us watching over us.

There are some familiar faces which are gone from this chamber, and we remember them; other new faces have come, and we welcome them; many familiar faces have returned, and we are gladdened by them.

During these coming months may we come closer to the truth, and though we may at times be too proud to cry, too grim to laugh, too sophisticated to enjoy, or too hard to repent, may we never be too legal to love, too narrow to notice, or too proud to pray. Amen.

January 9, 1980

The Honorable President, Speaker, and Members of the Nebraska Legislature:

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you back to the Second Session of the Eighty-sixth Legislature. I realize that during this sixty-day session, every minute is valuable. As I will deliver my Budget Address and State of the State Message to you personally tomorrow, I have chosen not to appear today. This will allow you to devote your limited time to the many tasks before you.

As we begin this decade, we will face many tough issues that were carried forward from the last. We will also face new challenges and opportunities. I wish to take this occasion to renew my pledge to work cooperatively with you to find solutions to our problems, old and new. By working together, we can make state government a more effective servant of all of the people of Nebraska.

With kind personal regards,

(Signed) Sincerely,
CHARLES THONE
Governor

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 128
July 12, 1979

Dear Senator Haberman:

This is a response to your inquiry concerning LB 623, which was passed in the 1978 Legislature session.

Following the receipt of your letter, this office contacted the Department of Welfare concerning that agency's interpretation of LB 623 and the extent of its implementation. We were informed that you had been in regular contact with the Department and that on May 22, 1979, Mr. Knight, the Director, had forwarded to you a resume of the services implemented by the Department pursuant to LB 623. In the interest of brevity we will not set out the details of that resume, but you will note that contracts were effected with 15 Domestic Abuse Projects for periods beginning the end of 1978 or the beginning of 1979 for a period of six months. These contracts, ranging up to $10,000.00 were agreed upon after a review rating of 20 proposals by a select committee.

In a follow-up contact with the Department of Welfare, we found that on June 11, 1979, the Department of Welfare provided you with additional information in response to your request of May 30, 1979. That response set out the expenditures of each of the above mentioned projects through April 30, 1979. It further set out the fact that the Department hired one staff member to be responsible for the coordination of the Domestic Abuse Program and it included a review of the cost and the number of participants in the Statewide Training Conference on Domestic Violence.

Our interview with the representatives of the Department of Welfare indicates that the information forwarded to you is a fair representation of the extent of the implementation of LB 623 by the Department of Welfare. This brings us to the essence of your request:

1. Has the intent of the Legislature been properly interpreted in regard to funding of domestic violence projects? and,
2. Is it the duty of the State Department of Public Welfare to provide the services enumerated in the statute rather than the duty of the local welfare and social service units? If so, what is the recourse for a community which did not receive a grant, but has need for services?

In regard to question number one, we do not feel that it is the duty of this office to opine to the Legislature as to whether the intent of that body concerning a particular bill has been properly implemented. Further, 84-901.02(2)(a), R.S.Supp., 1978, provides that the Legislature's Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee shall determine whether the administration of programs created by the Legislature are consistent with legislative intent. We would suggest that the Legislature itself could best make that determination except where an actual controversy exists and then "intent" would properly be decided by the courts.

In regard to your question number two, we note that it is not the desire of this office to regularly comment on existing legislation in the absence of a justiciable controversy. However, in this instance we have reviewed LB 623 and we note that section 4 states:

"The department shall establish and maintain comprehensive support services to aid victims of domestic abuse and to provide prevention and treatment programs to aid victims of domestic abuse, their families, and abusers." (Emphasis added.)

Section 5 describes the support services.

Section 6 reads as follows:

"The department shall provide the support services as provided in section 5 of this act to any person who seeks such services." (Emphasis added.)

We note that the above quoted section 6 uses the directive word "shall" rather than the permissive word "may," which would indicate that the program was to be effective statewide.

This office makes the above observations with the understanding that in the process of implementation of such a bill the Director is influenced by competing priorities and the extent of appropriations, both of which are relevant factors in the event of a controversy.

Opinion No. 131

Dear Senator Wesely:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning possible liability for public statements by a state senator.

As you suggested, the United States Supreme Court in Hutchinson v. Proxmire, recently had occasion to go into this subject.

The Supreme Court examined both the scope of the immunity of a U.S. Senator under the Speech and Debate Clause of the United States Constitution as well as the question of liability for defamation if the person claiming to have been injured was a "public figure."

On the first question, the court reaffirmed that the Speech and Debate Clause protects congressmen not only for utterances made within the four walls of either chamber but also protects committee hearings and committee reports. Citing Doe v. McMillan, 412 U.S. 306 (1973) and Gravel v. United States, 408 U.S. 606 (1972). The court emphasized, however, that the protection extended only to "legislative activities." Proxmire argued that such things as newsletters to constituents and press releases were part of his legislative activities as this brought pressure on other congressmen, governmental agencies and also exercised his “informing” obligation. The court rejected this argument pointing out that even republication of defamatory material first uttered within the four walls of Congress had been held to not be protected by the Speech and Debate Clause. Quoting from Doe v. McMillan, 412 U.S. 306, 314-315, the court stated:

“A Member of Congress may not with impunity publish a libel from the speaker’s stand in his home district, and clearly the Speech or Debate Clause would not protect such an act even though the libel was read from an official committee report. The reason is that republishing a libel under such circumstances is not an essential part of the legislative process and is not part of that deliberative process ‘by which Members participate in committee and House proceedings.’ “

The court then held:

“We reach a similar conclusion here. A speech by Proxmire in the Senate would be wholly immune and would be available to other Members of Congress and the public in the Congressional Record. But neither the newsletters nor the press release was ‘essential to the deliberations of the Senate’ and neither was part of the deliberative process.”

The court bolstered its opinion with the following from United States v. Johnson, 383 U.S. 169 (1966). The court stated:

“In stating that those things [Johnson’s attempts to influence the Department of Justice] ‘in no wise related to the due functioning of the legislative process’ were not covered by the privilege, the Court did not in any sense imply as a corollary that everything that ‘related’ to the office of a Member was shielded by the Clause. Quite the contrary, in Johnson we held, citing Kilbourn v. Thompson, supra, that only acts generally done in the course of the process of enacting legislation were protected.

“In no case has this Court ever treated the Clause as protecting all conduct relating to the legislative process.

“In its narrowest scope, the Clause is a very large, albeit essential, grant of privilege. It has enabled reckless men to slander [by speech or debate] and even destroy others with impunity, but that was the conscious choice of the Framers.”

“We are unable to discern any ‘conscious choice’ to grant immunity for defamatory statements scattered far and wide by mail, press, and the electronic media.” Hutchinson v. Proxmire, supra.

As to the argument that the “information” function is a part of the legislative process the court clarified that it had used this term in previous cases to cover congressional efforts to inform itself through committee hearings and reports as a part of the legislative function and not the activity of members of Congress telling the public about their activities. "Valuable and desirable as it may be in broad terms, the transmittal of such information by individual Members in order to inform the public and other Members is not a part of the legislative function or the deliberations that make up the legislative process."

In deciding the first amendment "free speech issue" the court held that the plaintiff had not become a "public figure" by accepting grants of public funds for research and by publishing reports as to his research or by answering Senator Proxmire's charges in the press. (The reason Proxmire wanted to establish that the plaintiff was a "public figure" was because the Supreme Court had held in New York Times v. Sullivan, 376 U.S. 254 (1964), that a "public figure" could not sustain any cause of action for defamation unless he could show that the defamation had been made with "actual malice.")

In Tenney v. Brandhove, 341 U.S. 367, the United States Supreme Court held that state legislators, "acting in a field where legislators traditionally have power to act" are immune from civil liability under the Civil Rights Act. We assume that the same definitions and reasoning used by the court as to congressmen in the various cases discussed, would be used as to state legislators in any defamation based lawsuit.

In the recent case of William E. Green, plaintiff v. John W. DeCamp, et al., defendants, in the United States District Court for the District of Nebraska, Chief Judge Urbom in dismissing plaintiff's petition held that committee activities of the Nebraska Legislature were a proper legislative function and that the state legislators were immune while so acting, reaffirming and applying as to state legislators, Tenney v. Brandhove, above, and previous U. S. Supreme Court cases as to congressmen mentioned earlier herein.

In light of the foregoing, it would be our opinion that a state legislator making defamatory statements, whether in the form of an award or otherwise, by the use of newsletters, press releases or other modes of transmitting information would be personally liable. A state legislator, in our opinion, would be protected so long as such statements were made upon the floor, in legislative committee or in legislative committee reports distributed in the normal course of legislative activities.

Respectfully submitted,

Dear Senator Cope:

We are in receipt of your letter of July 20, 1979, calling to our attention a service provided by the Retail Merchants Association of Nebraska to their members which involves furnishing their members forms to use in the collection of insufficient fund checks.

You asked in your letter whether or not in our opinion the associations distributing these forms to their members caused them to become a collection agency and therefore require them to be licensed under the statutes requiring collection agencies to be licensed. You indicate that if in our opinion this activity would require the Retail Merchants Association of Nebraska to become licensed as collection agencies you would introduce legislation to correct that situation.

You draw our particular attention to section 81-8,159, R.R.S. 1943, subsection (3) and (4). From our analysis of these subsections we believe that the Retail Merchants Association of Nebraska is not a collection agency within those definitions and therefore would not be required to obtain a license before it distributes to its members forms such as that which you enclosed.

You did not direct our attention to subsection (1) of section 81-8,159, R.R.S. 1943, however, that section also defines collection agency. We have reviewed this section and while we have some slight concern over whether or not the Retail Merchants Association is "indirectly engaged in soliciting" or "indirectly engaged in asserting enforcing or prosecuting such claims" we still do not believe that the intent of the statute was to include within those required to obtain a license an association such as this engaging to this limited extent and in this most indirect manner in claims such as insufficient fund checks.

Therefore, it is our conclusion that the definitions contained within the collection agency licensing sections do not include an activity such as that which the Retail Merchants Association of Nebraska proposes to engage.

Opinion No. 138

Dear Senator Koch:

You have asked us several questions relating to LB 2, Eighty-fifth Legislature, First Special Session, 1978. While your questions relate to existing legislation and normally would fall within the proscription of our office on answering questions concerning the interpretation or constitutionality of existing statutes, you state that you are studying potential methods of amending or repealing LB 2 in the upcoming legislative session. For that reason we will respond to the questions you have posed.

In your first question you ask whether sections 2 and 10 of LB 2 establish a dual standard for imposing and removing a lid? You further inquire as to the constitutionality of such double standards.

Reading the language of the provisions in question admits of no other meaning than two separate standards are being contemplated. Section 2 in part provides, "the budget limitation shall be adopted if approved by a majority of those voting on the question." Section 10 in part provides:

"Any limitation placed on budgets pursuant to this act shall remain in effect until a majority of the registered voters authorized to vote for the members of the governing body of such political subdivision vote to alter, amend, or revoke such budget limitation at a primary or special election . . ."

Under section 2 a simple majority of those voting on the question will be sufficient to adopt the proposed lid. On the other hand, once a petition presenting the question of removal has been successful, it would be necessary to achieve a vote of more than 50% of all voters registered to vote in that particular subdivision.

We have found no case which has discussed clearly the constitutional aspects of the question which you have raised. Most of the cases which have considered such requirements have dealt with an interpretation of specific language. For instance, in Nebraska, in Bryan v. City of Lincoln, 50 Neb. 620 (1897), our Supreme Court held that the following language: ". . . when the same shall have been authorized by a vote of the people . . ." required a majority of the votes cast at that election was necessary rather than a majority voting on the issue. Similar cases can be found in Nebraska and other jurisdictions. The variety of interpretations of the specific language used is directly related to the wording of the statute and, in some instance, the purpose of the election. For that reason a review of those cases would not be helpful. None, however, were based on constitutional grounds. We conclude that the method selected under LB 2 is constitutionally defensible.

In your second question you ask whether or not the provisions of section 11 of LB 2 exempt a subdivision adopting a limit under LB 2 from the provisions of LB 285, Eighty-sixth Legislature, First Session, 1979. It is our conclusion that the language of section 11 requires no interpretation. It, in part, provides:

“Any statutory limitation on the budget, . . . shall not apply to any . . . subdivision which has adopted a . . . limitation . . . pursuant to this act . . .”

The specific language of this section would indicate that LB 2 will govern over other limits established by law.

In your final question you ask who pays the cost of a special election required pursuant to the provisions of LB 2? Section 32-226 generally sets forth the duties of the election commissioner in each of the various counties of the state having an election commissioner. In those counties in which there is no election commissioner the duties are to be performed by the county clerks. LB 2 does not specify any separate or different method for funding elections than that generally specified by law. For that reason we believe that the general provisions relating to elections will apply. The aforementioned section provides in part:

“ . . . The expense of holding and conducting, separately, any city, municipality, metropolitan utilities district, school district, or other political subdivision election shall be charged to and paid by the city, municipality, metropolitan utilities district, school district, or other political subdivision holding the election. . . .”

Further, section 32-417, R.R.S. 1943, in part provides:

“ . . . The expense of printing and delivering the ballots and cards of instruction to be used in any city, municipality, metropolitan utilities district, or other political subdivision elections shall be a charge upon the city, municipality, metropolitan utilities district, school district, or other political subdivision in which the election shall be held.”

We believe that the provisions of the cited sections indicate that the particular subdivision generally will be required to bear the cost of any special election called for the purpose of deciding a question relating to that political subdivision.

Opinion No. 139

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have asked whether or not legislation which would authorize the imposition of a lid by a mere majority of persons voting in a special election which could be removed only by a majority of all registered voters authorized to vote would be constitutional. You indicate that you are considering such legislation.

We would point out that LB 2, Eighty-fifth Legislature, First Special Session, 1978, does exactly what you propose to do in your suggested bill. We refer you specifically to sections 2 and 10 of LB 2. Section 2 provides that a limitation may be imposed by a majority of those voting on the question. Section 10 provides that such limitation, once imposed, shall remain in effect until "a majority of the registered voters authorized to vote for members of the governing body of such political subdivision vote to alter, amend, or revoke such budget limitation at a primary or special election. . ."

Our research has failed to disclose any case which has held that requiring a majority of all registered voters to approve a measure for its adoption, is unconstitutional. Most cases which have considered these questions have dealt with the question of whether or not the specific language utilized in the statute or Constitution under consideration mandated a greater number than those persons actually voting in an election. We enclose with this letter a copy of an opinion sent to Senator Gerald D. Koch on similar questions of an even date.

Opinion No. 142

Dear Senator Johnson:

You have indicated that the Government, Military and the Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature is considering revisions to the election procedure for natural resource districts and other special use areas. Toward that end, you ask to what extent departure from the 'one man - one vote' concept is permissible in such elections.

Your inquiry is extremely broad in scope and therefore by necessity, our response must be equally broad and most general in nature. Of course, in the event that the committee were to propose specific changes, we would be most willing to constitutionally consider any such proposed changes individually.

Generally speaking, the United States Supreme Court has held the standard to be that:

". . . whenever a state or local government decides to select persons by popular election to perform governmental functions, the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment requires that each qualified voter must be given an equal opportunity to participate in that election, and when members of an elected body are chosen from separate districts, each district must be established on a basis that will insure, as far as is practicable, that equal numbers of voters can vote for proportionally equal numbers of officials. . . ." Hadley v. Junior College District, 397 U.S. 50, 25 L.Ed.2d 45, 90 S.Ct. 791 (1970).

In Hadley, supra, the court concluded that once the class of voters had been chosen and their qualifications specified, they could foresee no constitutional way by which equality of voting power might be evaded. Hadley, supra, at 25 L.Ed.2d 52.

Three years later, the United States Supreme Court had occasion to consider the case of Salyer Land Co. v. Tulare Water District, 410 U.S. 719, 35 L.Ed.2d 659, 93 S.Ct. 1224 (1973). Here the court concluded that:

". . . the appellee water storage district, by reason of its special limited purposes and of the disproportionate effect of its activities on landowners as a group, is the sort of exception to the rule laid down [previously]." Salyer, supra, at 35 L.Ed.2d 666.

Specifically the court held:

". . ., that the popular election requirements [previously enumerated] are inapplicable to elections such as the general election of appellee Water Storage District." Salyer, supra, at 35 L.Ed.2d 667.

From an examination of the decisions of the United States Supreme Court the general rule with regard to the constitutional requirements of the one man - one vote doctrine appears clear. Therefore, any attempted departure from that doctrine will have to be closely scrutinized. The court is apparently willing to recognize that there will arise cases in which elected functionaries perform duties so far removed from normal governmental activities and so disproportionately affecting different groups that a popular election in compliance with the one man - one vote doctrine would not be required.

Whether or not any revisions the committee might propose to the election procedures for natural resource districts or other such districts, would meet the exception recognized by the Supreme Court in Salyer, supra, would have to be analyzed on an individual case by case basis.

If we can be of any further assistance to you or to the committee in this area, please let us know.

Sincerely,

Opinion No. 148
September 10, 1979

Dear Senator Keyes:

You state that you have received an inquiry from a constituent who has driven a school bus for the Gretna School District for the past nine years. You also state that he was offered his position again for next year, but has now run into a snag; his 68th birthday was July 24, 1978. In addition, you also state that the State Department of Education, under their Rule 31, has informed him that because of his age he is prohibited from driving a school bus during the 1979-1980 school year. You then ask if Rule 31 and LB 161 of the Eighty-sixth Legislature, First Session (1979), are in conflict.

As you know, LB 161 did not contain an emergency clause. Thus LB 161 was not operative law when the State Department of Education, on July 9, 1979, informed your constituent that because of his age, it could not issue him a school bus driver's permit.

Second, LB 161 changes the mandatory retirement date of certain employees; it does not grant such employees a vested right in a particular position. On the other hand, Rule 31 provides that a school bus driver's permit can not be issued to an individual after the individual's sixty-eighth birthday. Rule 31 does not (and legally could not) state when the individual must retire. Thus LB 161 and Rule 31 of the State Department of Education are not in conflict.

Third, Dr. M. Anne Campbell, Commissioner of Education, has now advised this office of the opinion of the State Department of Education in this matter. We, therefore, trust that your inquiry has been fully answered.

Best regards.

Opinion No. 149
September 11, 1979

Dear Senator Johnson:

In Opinion of the Attorney General, No. 142, dated August 29, 1979, we informed you that in our opinion the leading cases from the United States Supreme Court on the question of when the concept of 'one man - one vote' was mandated were the cases of Hadley v. Junior College District, 397 U.S. 50, 25 L.Ed.2d 45, 90 S.Ct. 791 (1970), and Salyer Land Company v. Tulare Water District, 410 U.S. 719, 35 L.Ed.2d 659, 93 S.Ct. 1224 (1973).

After reviewing our opinion and noting, as we did, that the controlling case we cited was decided by the United States Supreme Court in 1973, you ask us to again research the point to make certain there has not been a more recent pronouncement by that Court on this issue. With the exception of a case decided the same day as Salyer, supra, Associated Enterprises v. Toltec District, 410 U.S. 743, 35 L.Ed.2d 675, 93 S.Ct. 1237, stating the same principles, and a 1977 case of Concerned Citizens v. Pine Creek District, 429 U.S. 651, 51 L.Ed.2d 116, 97 S.Ct. 828, a case which was remanded back to the Circuit Court for further consideration in which three dissenting judges felt that the matter might be disposed of more properly by simply affirming the lower court based upon the Salyer, supra, principles, we have discovered no other United States Supreme Court decisions which in any manner might qualify the holding pronounced in Salyer.

We have also researched the decisions of the various United States Courts of Appeals. In this respect we have found a number of instances where the particular Court of Appeals has decided the matter based upon the Salyer principles. We have found no occasion where a Court of Appeals has chosen to disregard this principle. See, for example, the decisions in Baker v. Regional High School District No. 5, 520 F.2d 799 (1975); Lytle v. Commissioners of Union County, 509 F.2d 1049 (1974); and Panior v. Iberville Parish School Board, 498 F.2d 1232 (1974).

Therefore, in spite of the fact that the leading case in this area appears to have been decided almost seven years ago, we are still of the opinion that the law stated therein and in our previous opinion to you is the correct and applicable law to any consideration of whether or not a departure can be had from the traditional 'one man - one vote' concept.

As we stated to you in our previous opinion, once you or the Government, Military, and Veterans Affairs Committee can be more specific as to your proposed revisions to the election procedure for the election of natural resource district directors and other special use areas, we will be in a better position to advise you as to our opinion on such a revision's constitutionality.

Opinion No. 151

Re: LB 171

Dear Senator Wesely:

We are responding to your letter of August 1, 1979, requesting an opinion as to the constitutionality of LB 171, known as the Nebraska

Lighting and Thermal Efficiency Act, which seeks to create a Nebraska Energy Office.

The specific concerns you address are: (1) the selection of the membership of a state board from a list provided by private organizations or associations; (2) whether the rule-making authority contained in the language of the proposed act is an unconstitutional delegation of authority by the Legislature?

I.

As proposed, LB 171 provides for the creation of the Lighting and Thermal Efficiency Standards Board consisting of seven members. Section 5 of the proposed act provides for the appointment of such members by the Governor subject to approval by the Legislature. Each of the seven members would be chosen from a list of three persons submitted by a specific private trade organization representing different businesses or professions. No business or profession would be permitted representation by more than one member on the board.

The Nebraska Constitution at Article IV, Section 10 grants the Governor of the State the power to make appointments to state offices, and reads in pertinent part as follows:

“The Governor shall appoint with the approval of a majority of the Legislature, all persons whose offices are established by the Constitution, or which may be created by law, and whose appointment or election is not otherwise by law or herein provided for; and no such person shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature. . . .”

The Supreme Court applied this constitutional section to an act creating a public electric corporation whose membership was composed of public power districts within the state, in Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W.2d 62 (1966). By this act, the Legislature created a board of directors providing a system for their appointment by the Governor. The state was apportioned into regions, each region being represented by a person serving on one of the constituent public power district board of directors. It was undisputed that of the nine regions from which members were selected for the board of directors, five of the regions contained only one person qualified to receive appointment to the board of directors. The court recognizes that it was a legislative function to define the qualifications for an office. It concluded, however, that this system limiting the Governor's power of appointment violated Article IV, Section 10, of the Nebraska Constitution. The court said:

“. . . The provisions of the Act which limit the appointment of grid system directors by the Governor to a certain unnamed individual or to a limited few, is an encroachment by the Legislature upon the powers of the Governor and is void as violative of Article IV, section 10, of the Constitution of Nebraska." (Emphasis added.) Id. at 460.

It is evident that LB 171 as proposed encroaches upon the Governor's prerogatives of appointment by its limitation of eligibility for an appointment as a member of the board of directors each selected from a list provided by one of six private trade organizations, which trade organizations are designated by the Legislature. This is not only an encroachment by the Legislature by its designation of these organizations, and by its designation of a list of three persons, it is also a delegation of executive authority reserved for the Governor in Article IV, Section 10, of the Constitution to private trade organizations in the limitation of the eligibility to a person selected from that organization.

It is our conclusion that the limitation of the Governor's selection to a list of three persons previously selected by private organizations named by the Legislature is an encroachment by the Legislature upon the prerogatives of the Governor and is, therefore, in violation of Article IV, Section 10, of the Nebraska Constitution.

II.

The proposed act at Section 10 requires the board to adopt standards by the following pertinent language:

"The board shall adopt standards imposing reasonable and cost effective requirements for lighting and thermal design consistent with recognized and accepted standards. . . ."

It provides the following guidance in the same section.

". . . In adopting such standards the board may include all or any part of the standards published by the International Conference of Building Officials, the National Bureau of Standards, the United States Department of Energy, the Council of American Building Officials, the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration, and Air-Conditioning Engineers, Incorporated, and the National Conference of States on Building Codes and Standards, Incorporated. . . ." (Emphasis added.)

The only other guidance to the board for its standards is contained in Section 2 of the act which states the purpose as follows in pertinent part:

"The purpose of this act is to provide for the creation, application, and enforcement of uniform minimum standards for lighting and thermal design for certain buildings, consistent with national and statewide energy conservation goals, . . ."

Nowhere are the energy conservation goals more specifically identified or defined. Nowhere are the "recognized and accepted standards" more specifically identified or defined. Nowhere is there any guidance or limitation for determining what may be a "reasonable and cost effective requirement." Although the board may consider seven different standards identified in the act, it may or may not include all or any part of them in its standards.

The Nebraska Constitution contains the following pertinent provision at Article II, Section 1:

"The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the Legislative, Executive and Judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted."

Our Supreme Court in Gillette Dairy, Inc. v. Nebraska Dairy Products Board, 192 Neb. 89, 219 N.W.2d 214 (1974), in holding that the Dairy Industry Trade Products Act was unconstitutional, stated:

"It is fundamental that the Legislature may not delegate legislative authority to an administrative or executive authority. It does, however, have power to authorize an administrative or executive department to make rules and regulations to carry out an express legislative purpose or for the complete operation and enforcement of a law within designated limitations. It is fundamental, however, that in the legislative grant of power to an administrative agency, such power must be limited to the express legislative purpose and administered in accordance with standards described in the legislative act. . . ." Id. at 100.

In quoting from Lincoln Dairy Co. v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N.W.2d 227 (1960), the court stated:

". . . In that case we held: 'The limitations of the power granted and the standards by which the granted powers are to be administered must, however, be clearly and definitely stated. They may not rest on indefinite, obscure, or vague generalities, or upon extrinsic evidence not readily available.'" Id. at 100.

This principle has been further recognized by our Supreme Court in University Police Officials Union v. University of Nebraska, 203 Neb. 4, 277 N.W.2d 529 (1979).

A statute providing for the enactment of regulations must provide designated limitations. This may be provided in the legislative history as well as in the standards clearly and definitely stated in the act. The language contained in LB 171 is not clearly and definitely stated. The purpose is vague and indefinite. There is no definite standard by which the regulations are to be issued and administered. The board is to adopt standards with only the limitation that they be reasonable and cost effective. No other guidelines or limitations are provided.

The act does refer to seven separate standards which the board may or may not adopt in total or in part, however these offer very little guidance.

It is our conclusion, that the language contained in LB 171 is so general, vague and indefinite that it fails to place adequate limitations on the board's power to enact regulations. It would, therefore, be an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power to the executive in violation of the Nebraska Constitution, Article II, Section 1.

October 12, 1979

Dear Senator Fowler:

You have asked whether the litter fee imposed by section 81-1559, R.S.Supp., 1979, applies to farmers and ranchers, as producers of food for human consumption. You ask the question as a member of the Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee, to aid you in determining whether proposed rules of the Department of Revenue dealing with this subject comply with the statutes.

We have concluded that farmers and ranchers producing food for human consumption are not, as such, subject to the litter tax, although the literal language of the statute could arguably apply it to them.

Section 81-1542 provides:

Section 81-1559 imposes an annual litter fee equal to $150.00 per one million dollars of gross proceeds of products manufactured and sales of which are consummated within this state, in the case of manufacturers. Section 81-1560 includes food for human or pet consumption in the products the production and sale of which are subject to the litter fee. Certainly a farmer or a rancher "produces" food for human consumption, and would appear, at first glance, to be defined as a manufacturer by section 81-1542.

Two considerations have led us to conclude that this literal construction does not reflect legislative intent. First is the fact that the word "manufacturer" is so inappropriate as applied to a farmer or rancher. True, the Legislature can give any meaning it wishes to a word, but when a proposed meaning is completely foreign to the ordinary one, we would require the statutory definition to be very clear in conveying that meaning. We do not think it is that clear in this case, but believe we have a case of somewhat careless statutory wording which accidentally included in its literal language classes not really intended to be included.

Second, we are disposed not to include farmers and ranchers as manufacturers because to do so would be so wasteful and unproductive. We have no statistics about the median gross sales of farmers and ranchers in this state, but we point out that the sale of one hundred thousand dollars worth of products would result in a litter fee of only $15.00. Even aside from the expense and trouble it would take on the part of individual farmers to make the necessary returns, we are confident that it would cost more for the Department of Revenue to handle such returns than the amount of litter fee collected.

Our basic purpose in statutory construction is to determine the intention of the Legislature. We will not lightly ascribe to the Legislature an intent to require the payment of a fee from thousands of taxpayers, when the cost of collection would exceed the amount collected.

In State v. Nance, 197 Neb. 257, 248 N.W.2d 339 (1976), the court said:

"It is a fundamental rule of statutory construction that if possible a court will try to avoid a construction which leads to absurd, unjust, or unconscionable results. A sensible construction will be placed upon a statute to effectuate the object of the legislation rather than a literal meaning that would have the effect of defeating the legislative intent. . . ."

The purpose of the provision for a litter fee is to raise money. When we combine (1) the inappropriateness of the use of the words "manufacturer" and "manufactured" as applied to farmers and ranchers and the products they produce with (2) the counterproductive effect of collecting the fee from farmers and ranchers, we are forced to conclude that the Legislature did not so intend, but, instead, simply used overly-broad language in expressing its intent.

This opinion is not to be construed to exclude from the reach of the litter fee all enterprises whose operations are so small as to make collection from them uneconomical. The statute provides no minimum volume of business to subject the manufacturer or wholesaler to the fee. This opinion is limited strictly to the question of the liability of farmers and ranchers for the litter fee.

Dear Senator Maresh:

You have stated in your letter of October 1, 1979, that the federal government owns property in Omaha, Nebraska, which cannot be disposed of without the permission of the Nebraska Legislature. You have asked whether such permission may be given by resolution rather than legislative bill. Generally, legislative resolutions are merely expressions of opinion by a legislative body. As stated in 73 Am.Jur.2d 270, Statutes, section 3:

"While some constitutions provide to the contrary the general rule is that a joint or concurrent resolution adopted by the legislature is not a statute, does not have the force or effect of law and cannot be used for any purpose for which an exercise of legislative power is necessary." (Emphasis added)

It must be assumed that the granting of permission by the Nebraska legislature would be an exercise of legislative power. Under the above stated rule, such an exercise of legislative power would require a bill rather than a resolution.

Re: Domestic Abuse Act, sections 42-901 to 42-927, R.R.S. 1943.

Dear Senator Lewis:

You have asked several questions about the constitutionality of the above act. Apparently you are prepared to introduce remedial legislation if it is necessary.

You have asked whether the phrase "persons living as spouses" in the above act and section 42-918 in the above act are unconstitutionally vague. We have concluded that the phrase is sufficiently specific and at least part of section 42-918 is constitutional.

A civil law was challenged as being unconstitutionally vague in State v. A. H., 198 Neb. 444, 253 N.W.2d 283 (1977). The court said:

"Most decisions invoking the constitutional void for vagueness doctrine have dealt with statutes and ordinances imposing criminal sanctions. It is clear, however, that this doctrine applies equally to civil statutes. Yet even in criminal statutes the language adopted need not afford an interpretation approaching mathematical certainty. . . ." Supra at 449.

"The due process command imposed by Amendment XIV to the Constitution of the United States, and Article I, section 3, Constitution of Nebraska, translates into two basic requirements. The statute's language must be sufficiently specific that persons of ordinary intelligence must not have to guess at its meaning. The statute must contain ascertainable standards by which it may be applied. This does not demand total absence of vagueness in a statute, but merely requires that a statute provide adequate notice of what conduct it requires or prescribes as well as guidelines by which a violation of the statute may be fairly and nonarbitrarily determined." Supra at 448,449.

Under a rule of statutory construction, a term not defined in the statute is to be given its usual and ordinary meaning. See State v. Byrum, 60 Neb. 384, 387, 83 N.W. 207 (1900). The courts often turn to a dictionary to find such a meaning. "Spouse" is defined in The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, 1969, 1970, 1971, as one's marriage partner; a husband or wife. In Attorney General Opinion #113 (June 27, 1977), we cited cases from other jurisdictions in which "marriage" was defined according to common usage as the union of a man and a woman. Using those definitions,

“persons living as spouses” would be a man and woman living together as marriage partners. This is consistent with the dialogue on page 07084 of the legislative history of Laws 1978, LB 623:

Q. “[T]his does not only apply to spouses. It also applies to people living together, right?”

A. “As spouses, . . .”

Thus the phrase “persons living as spouses” is sufficiently specific that it is not necessary to guess at its meaning.

Section 42-918, R.R.S. 1943, is a criminal law. It provides:

“Under sections 42-901 to 42-927, strict confidence shall be observed in all contact with victims of spouse abuse and their families. Any record, report, or files maintained by the department pursuant to sections 42-901 to 42-927 shall be confidential, except that the department may release statistical information, while not releasing names. Violation of this section shall be a Class V misdemeanor.”

The standards by which the first sentence of that section is to be applied may not be ascertainable and thus its constitutionality is questionable. However, the rest of the section is quite specific about which records of the department are not to be disclosed except for statistical data which does not include the names of the victims of spouse abuse and their families. “Abuse”, “family”, and “department” are defined in section 42-903, R.R.S. 1943. Thus that portion of section 42-918 should pass constitutional muster at least as well as the statute challenged for vagueness in State v. Dreifurst, 204 Neb. 378, ___ N.W.2d ___ (1979). (That statute made it a crime to abuse any sheriff, constable or any other officer in the execution of his office, but abuse of an officer was not defined. The court held the defendant had been adequately informed of the charge against him by an information which specified the acts constituting the abuse in his case.)

You have also asked if there are any due process problems with the ex parte exclusionary orders provided for by sections 42-924 and 42-925, R.R.S. 1943. We have concluded that there probably are not.

Section 42-924 provides that a district court or conciliation court or judge thereof may issue a temporary restraining order without bond on the filing of an application and supporting affidavit by any victim of domestic abuse. It may enjoin the adverse party from (1) imposing any restraint upon the person or liberty of the applicant; (2) threatening, assaulting, molesting, attacking, or otherwise disturbing the peace of the applicant; or (3) entering the family dwelling or the dwelling of the applicant upon a showing that physical or emotional harm would otherwise result. Under section 42-925, such an order may be issued ex parte if the circumstances of the case demand it, i.e., it must reasonably appear from the specific facts shown by the affidavit of the applicant that irreparable harm, loss, or damage will result before the matter can be heard on notice. "If such order is issued without notice to the adverse party, the court shall cause immediate notice of the application to be given the adverse party, that he or she may show cause, not less than five days after service upon him or her, why such order should not remain in effect."

Under the Fourteenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution and Article I, section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution, no person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law. The general rule is that due process includes the right to be heard before life, liberty or property are taken away. See Albin v. Consolidated School District, 106 Neb. 719, 723, 184 N.W. 141 (1921), and Bell v. Burson, 402 U.S. 535, 29 L.Ed.2d 90, 91 S.Ct. 1586 (1971). However, in Burson, the Court acknowledged that in emergency situations (which did not include that case where petitioner's driver's license had been taken away), the hearing could come after the interest had been terminated. The emergency situations cited were those in Fahey v. Mallonee, 332 U.S. 245, 91 L.Ed. 2030, 67 S.Ct. 1552 (1947), and Ewing v. Mytinger & Casselberry, 339 U.S. 594, 94 L.Ed. 1088, 70 S.Ct. 870 (1950). In Fahey a regulation of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in the exercise of its statutory power was upheld. It provided for a hearing on the appointment of a conservator or receiver for a federal savings and loan association after such person had taken possession. In Ewing the court upheld a section of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act which permitted multiple seizures of misbranded articles "when the Administrator has probable cause to believe from facts found, without hearing, by him or any officer or employee of the Agency that the misbranded article is dangerous to health, or that the labeling of the misbranded article is fraudulent, or would be in a material respect misleading to the injury or damage of the purchaser or consumer." (Emphasis added.)

Thus the constitutionality of the ex parte temporary restraining order authorized under sections 42-924 and 42-925 depends upon whether the situation is an emergency requiring prompt action to preserve the status quo. (This is the purpose of a temporary restraining order granted under sections 25-1063 and 25-1064(2), R.R.S. 1943. See, Trester v. Pike, 60 Neb. 510, 83 N.W. 676 (1900).) Both the legislative history and the evidence required would indicate that spouse abuse may present such an emergency situation.

Sincerely yours,

Opinion No. 165October 29, 1979

Dear Senator Haberman:

In your letter of October 25, 1979, you state that you are in the process of having a bill drafted to increase the tax on pari-mutuel wagering.

You state that you understand that the tax from the Lincoln races goes into the State Fairgrounds Building Fund, and is used to finance capital improvements at the State Fairgrounds. In substance you are correct, although in form these funds are appropriated from the General Fund. Section 2-1208.01, R.R.S. 1943, imposes the tax on pari-mutuel wagering, and provides that the tax shall be paid into the General Fund. Section 2-128, R.R.S. 1943, provides:

“There is hereby appropriated from the state General Fund to the Nebraska State Fairgrounds Building Fund from the gross sum wagered by the pari-mutuel method at race meetings conducted by the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture five per cent of any amount in excess of one million dollars, which amount is hereby appropriated to such fund for each fiscal year beginning with the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1974 and continuing for each fiscal year thereafter until June 30, 1994.”

As you will note, this is an appropriation out of the General Fund, the amount of which is measured by the amount of tax generated at the Lincoln races. You will also note that each session of the Legislature appropriates this sum to the Nebraska State Fairgrounds Building Fund, and that section 2-128 is not self-executing. See section 19 of LB 593, Eighty-sixth Legislature, First Session (1979).

Your question is whether part of the money now raised, or the increase you propose, can be earmarked for State Aid to Schools. We conclude that it can. As the court said in Evans V. Metropolitan Utilities District, 187 Neb. 261, 188 N.W.2d 851 (1971), the state Constitution is not a grant, but a restriction on legislative power, and the taxing power is vested in the Legislature without limit, except as prescribed in the Constitution. We know of no constitutional restriction on the power of the Legislature to tax pari-mutuel wagering.

The only restriction we are aware of with respect to the disposition of the proceeds of a tax is that it must be for a public purpose. Clearly State Aid to Schools is a public purpose, since Article VII, Section 1, of the Constitution requires the Legislature to provide for the free instruction in the common schools of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years. There is no constitutional requirement of a direct connection between the activity taxed and the use to which the tax is put.

The earmarking you mention could be accomplished either by a provision similar to that contained in section 2-128, or by a provision that the earmarked portion of the tax should be paid directly into a special fund in the hands of the State Treasurer, which fund could annually be appropriated to the purpose you have in mind.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 167
October 31, 1979

Dear Senator Cullan:

You have asked for our opinion on whether or not LB 285, Eighty-sixth Legislature, first session, 1979, applies to the tax levy authorized for rural or suburban fire protection districts under section 35-514.02 R.S.Supp. 1978. That section of the statutes authorizes rural fire protection districts to provide ambulance services and for such purposes to:

“ . . . pay the cost for such service out of available funds, or may levy a tax for the purpose of providing necessary ambulance service, which levy shall be in addition to any other tax for such fire protection district and shall be in addition to restrictions on the levy of taxes provided by statute; . . . ”

You ask we whether or not the limitations contained in LB 285 apply to a fire district in this circumstance. For purposes of your letter, we assume from your first sentence that you are anticipating legislation with regard to the authority of rural fire protection districts to initiate and raise revenue for the payment of the cost of ambulance services, although it is not explicitly set out in your letter. We have arrived at this conclusion because you have stated that it pertains to the drafting of emergency medical services legislation. For that reason, we proceed to answer your question.

The Political Subdivision Budget Limitation Act of 1979, section 77-3412 through 77-3430, R.S.Supp., 1979, generally limit political subdivisions to an increase in their budget of not more than seven percent in any one year. The section authorizing the levy of a tax for the provision of ambulance services provides that such tax levy may exceed that generally authorized for a rural fire protection district. Section 35-509, R.S.Supp., 1978, authorizes such a district to levy a tax of up to one mill or in certain circumstances, not to exceed two mills after a majority vote by the eligible voters, and three mills under certain other circumstances. It is our opinion that section 35-514.02 authorizes a tax levy in excess of the limitations contained in 35-509.

The only portions of LB 285 which would be applicable to the situation you describe is section 77-3426. That section provides:

“Any political subdivision that is authorized by state law to levy a tax or cause a tax to be levied, which tax or portion thereof is in addition to the tax such political subdivision is authorized to levy or cause to be levied on May 17, 1979, shall not include as a receipt from local tax sources the anticipated receipts from such newly authorized levy during the first fiscal year for which such newly authorized levy generates tax receipts, but thereafter the receipts from such newly authorized tax shall be included in determining receipts from local tax sources. . . .”

The authority granted in section 35-514.02 was effective as of April 20, 1978; thus, well in advance of the date provided for in section 77-3426. It is, therefore, our opinion that the limitations of LB 285, sections 77-3412 through 77-3430 are applicable as a limitation upon the authority granted under section 35-514.02.

Sincerely,

Opinion No. 168
November 8, 1979

Dear Senator Kremer:

You have called our attention to section 45-338, R.S.Supp., 1979, which provides in part:

“(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, the time price differential for any goods or services sold under an installment contract shall not exceed eighteen per cent per annum on that part of the unpaid principal balance not in excess of one thousand dollars, and not exceeding twelve per cent per annum on that part of the unpaid principal balance in excess of one thousand dollars, except the time price differential for installment contracts on vehicles having a gross vehicle weight of over fifteen thousand pounds or costing more than twenty thousand dollars shall not exceed sixteen per cent on the unpaid principal balance; . . .”

Your question is whether the word “vehicle” as used in that section of the statutes includes mobile homes. We conclude that it does not include mobile homes, as defined in section 60-1601.01, R.R.S. 1943, but might include some cabin trailers and self-propelled mobile homes, as defined in section 60-301, R.R.S. 1943, if they meet the weight and cost requirements of section 45-338.

In Chapter 60, Article 16 of the statutes, the Legislature classified mobile homes as motor vehicles, and taxed them as such. In Gates v. Howell, 204 Neb. 256, 282 N.W.2d 22 (1979), the court declared such provisions unconstitutional, holding that mobile homes of the type involved in that litigation were not motor vehicles, despite the legislative attempt to so define them.

We recognize that section 45-338, uses the word “vehicles,” rather than the term “motor vehicles.” We do not think that has any significance, and that the court would reach the same result. Section 60-301(9), defines “vehicle” as every device in, upon or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a public highway, excepting devices moved by human power or used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks. In Gates v. Howell, the court stated that even single-wide mobile homes were not self-contained units, and could not be operated or used as trailers. We therefore conclude that the court would say that such mobile homes are not “vehicles” as well as not being “motor vehicles.”

Chapter 60, Article 3 makes provision for the registration of cabin trailers and self-propelled mobile homes for operation on the highways. A cabin trailer eligible for such registration is defined as not exceeding eight feet in width, or forty feet in length, or thirteen and one half feet in height. A self-propelled mobile home does not have any size limitations, but is a vehicle with motive power designed for living quarters. We have taken the position that Gates v. Howell does not apply to vehicles eligible for operation on the highways under Chapter 60, Article 3, and that they are motor vehicles.

Therefore, the vehicle exception of section 45-338 would apply to self-propelled mobile homes and cabin trailers, as defined by section 60-301, if they meet the weight and cost requirements of section 45-338. Other mobile homes, and cabin trailers exceeding the size limitations of section 60-301, are not eligible for registration for operation on the highways pursuant to Chapter 60, Article 3, and therefore are not vehicles.

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Re: Authority of the Commission on Rural Health Manpower to administer the Nebraska Medical Student Assistance Act

Dear Senator Maresh:

You have asked if you will need to introduce legislation to enable the Commission on Rural Health Manpower to administer the Nebraska Medical Student Assistance Act as amended by Laws 1979, LB 506. We have concluded that the commission already has that authority.

Under section 71-5612, R.S.Supp., 1978, the commission shall cease to exist three years after September 2, 1977 "except for the duties prescribed by the Nebraska Medical Student Assistance Act." According to section 71-5614, R.S.Supp., 1978, sections 71-5613 to 71-5645 shall be known and cited as the Nebraska Medical Student Assistance Act. Under section 71-5626, R.S.Supp., 1978:

"The provisions of sections 71-5609 and 71-5612 to 71-5645 shall be administered by the commission with such assistance from the Department of Health as may be needed."

According to section 71-5617, R.S.Supp., 1978, commission shall mean the Commission on Rural Health Manpower.

Laws 1979, LB 506, amended several sections in the Nebraska Medical Student Assistance Act and repealed others, but it did not amend or repeal any of the sections referred to above. The Legislature is presumed to have had in mind all previous legislation on a subject so that in the construction of a statute or a part thereof courts may consider the pre-existing law. See Ledwith v. Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska, 156 Neb. 107, 54 N.W. 409 (1952).

We have concluded that the Commission on Rural Health Manpower has authority to administer the Nebraska Medical Student Assistance Act as amended by Laws 1979, LB 506. Under present laws it may continue to do so beyond three years after September 2, 1977.

Opinion No. 172

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the provision in LB 234, Second Session, 1979 concerning the payment for jury duty, as you are considering legislation at the up-coming session, if necessary.

You have asked for clarification on the matter of whether or not it is proper, in our opinion, for an employer to either deduct an amount equal to the pay an employee would receive for jury duty or require the employee to pay over his jury fee to the employer.

As you know, Mr. Lamb offered an amendment on March 27, 1979 to clarify this matter. The amendment would have inserted language just before the sentence providing the penalty for violation so that the provision would have read in part as follows, "No employer shall subject an employee to discharge, loss of pay, loss of sick leave, loss of vacation time, or any other form of penalty on account of his or her absence from employment by reason of jury duty./, except an employer may reduce the pay of an employee by an amount equal to any salary other than expenses paid by the court for jury duty. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a Class IV misdemeanor."

As you can see, had the above amendment been adopted, the matter would have been clarified. However, since the amendment was not adopted, a strong argument could be made that the Legislature did not intend that the employee be penalized in any manner, either by deduction or by employee paying over to the employer his jury pay. Of course, the fact that the amendment was defeated does not clarify the matter completely since some persons could argue that the Senators who voted against it thought the provision was already clear that an employer deducting the amount would not be penalizing the employee but merely causing him to receive the same amount of money that he would receive had he not been placed on jury duty.

In other words, in accordance with the strict wording of the statute, the employer would not be subjecting the employee to "loss of pay" or "any other form of penalty on account of his or her absence from employment by reason of jury duty." Since this is a criminal statute, it must be strictly construed.

Therefore, as you can see from the foregoing, a strong argument can be made for either interpretation. We do not think it would be proper for us to select one interpretation over the other since this bill has been enacted into law and the courts are now the only ones who can give a binding interpretation. Clarification by additional legislation at the up-coming session, as suggested in your letter, would clearly be in order.

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding the constitutionality of legislation under consideration to prohibit the use of State tax funds for the benefit or welfare of any person or persons who are not United States citizens.

Such legislation would be unconstitutional. Ostensibly it could be challenged on several constitutional grounds, however, it clearly violates the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Said amendment provides in pertinent part:

"... [N]or shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

The term "person," within the above quoted provision, encompasses resident aliens as well as citizens; both are entitled to equal protection of the laws of the State in which they reside. Graham v. Richardson, 403 U.S. 365, 371 (1971). The Supreme Court has held that classifications by a State that are based on alienage are suspect classifications, subject to close judicial scrutiny. Nyquist v. Mauclet, 432 U.S. 1, 6 (1977). A state law which discriminates against resident aliens will only withstand constitutional challenge if it advances a legitimate and substantial state interest and if the means adopted are necessary and precisely drawn.

In Graham v. Richardson, supra, the Supreme Court held unconstitutional state laws which denied welfare benefits to resident aliens or to aliens who had not resided in the United States for a specified number of years. Further, in Nyquist v. Mauclet, supra, the Court struck down, as violative of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment, a state law barring certain resident aliens from state financial assistance for higher education.

Based on the above legal authorities, it is our opinion that the legislation you are considering is clearly unconstitutional.

Opinion No. 177
December 7, 1979

Dear Senator Keys:

You have asked for our opinion on whether the Legislature could entirely repeal LB 2 or whether less drastic changes could be made. In your letter you indicate that certain political subdivisions have adopted budget limitations under LB 2, now codified as section 77-3401 through section 77-3411. Pursuant to these provisions at least two subdivisions of government have held elections at which a zero budget limitation has been imposed.

We assume that your question is, what effect would follow if LB 2 were in its entirety repealed. Prior to the adoption of LB 2 by the Legislature there was no specific statutory authority authorizing the imposition of a lid on any governmental subdivision. LB 2, however, authorizes a limitation different from that which was subsequently enacted by the Legislature generally limiting budget increases for a governmental subdivision. This limitation could be imposed by a vote of the people. The question is, if LB 2 is repealed, what happens in those jurisdictions that have adopted different budget limitations than those provided by law. Arguably, the Legislature has the authority to enact, repeal, amend and otherwise adopt laws for the government of local subdivisions. The local subdivisions exist by virtue of legislative action and are empowered to do certain things pursuant to statutes adopted by the Legislature. When the Legislature repeals statutes authorizing certain actions, the authority to take those actions generally also ceases to exist.

While our research has not been able to uncover any case law which indicate the effect of the repeal of a law requiring the vote of the people for its effectuation, it is our belief that if such law is repealed then actions taken under that law would also end. The difficulty with this conclusion is that section 77-3410 provides:

“Any limitation placed on budgets pursuant to sections 77-3401 to 77-3411 shall remain in effect until a majority of the registered voters authorized to vote for the members of the governing body of such political subdivision vote to alter, amend, or revoke such budget limitation at a primary or special election. Such elections shall be called and conducted in the same manner as elections to place a limitation on budgets are called and conducted pursuant to sections 77-3401 to 77-3411.”

Under this section the single vote of the people establishes a budget that will continue until a subsequent election modifies that vote. If you repeal the sections which authorize the modification of a limitation previously imposed, you might also thereby end the authority of any political subdivision to ever remove such a budget limitation. Conceivably there would be no authority to hold an election to remove the limitation imposed upon the budget. However, there are also arguments for the proposition that if the act itself is repealed, then the budget limitation is repealed and no longer exists. We cannot with certainty tell you which result would occur. There is simply no law available upon which we can rely. This appears to be a unique situation. Conceivably, the Legislature in repealing such an action could also enact a law that would eliminate existing budget limitations. That might be sufficient to cure the problems that are pointed out earlier in this letter. However, once again, this is a matter upon which no sure guidance can be had. In any event, any legislation drafted which seeks this result as its end should be carefully researched and very carefully written.

In the second part of your question you allude to less drastic measures. While we are not sure what less drastic measures you refer to, it does seem clear to us that the Legislature could, for instance, reduce the required majority for the removal of a lid from a majority of all registered voters to a majority of those voting in the election. We see no constitutional or statutory problems with such an amendment. Several other possibilities might exist but we would decline to speculate on those at this time. Should you have a specific amendment upon which you would like our advice, please feel free to contact us.

Opinion No. 179

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding the constitutionality of legislation under consideration to prohibit the use of State tax funds for the benefit or welfare of any person or persons who are not United States citizens.

Such legislation would be unconstitutional. Ostensibly it could be challenged on several constitutional grounds, however, it clearly violates the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Said amendment provides in pertinent part:

“ . . . [N]or shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.”

The term “person,” within the above quoted provision, encompasses resident aliens as well as citizens; both are entitled to equal protection of the laws of the State in which they reside. Graham v. Richardson, 403 U.S. 365, 371 (1971). The Supreme Court has held that classifications by a State that are based on alienage are suspect classifications, subject to close judicial scrutiny. Nyquist v. Mauclet, 432 U.S. 1, 6 (1977). A state law which discriminates against resident aliens will only withstand constitutional challenge if it advances a legitimate and substantial state interest and if the means adopted are necessary and precisely drawn.

In Graham v. Richardson, supra, the Supreme Court held unconstitutional state laws which denied welfare benefits to resident aliens or to aliens who had not resided in the United States for a specified number of years. Further, in Nyquist v. Mauclet, supra, the Court struck down, as violative of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment, a state law barring certain resident aliens from state financial assistance for higher education.

Based on the above legal authorities, it is our opinion that the legislation you are considering is clearly unconstitutional.

Yours truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 180
December 12, 1979

SUBJECT: Authority of Legislative Council Committees to Compel the Testimony of Witnesses; Authority for Legislative Council Committees to Initiate Contempt Proceedings where Witnesses Refuse to be Sworn or to Testify.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Franklin L. Lewis, Co-Chairman, LR 119 Interim Study Committee, Nebraska State Legislature, Lincoln, Nebraska

OPINION BY: Paul L. Douglas, Attorney General, Shanler D. Cronk, Assistant Attorney General

QUESTION: 1. Where a witness not under oath is testifying before a properly convened Legislative Council committee, and at some point refuses to testify further, does said committee have the authority to compel further testimony, and if so, what action can be taken if the witness refuses to testify further? What action can said committee take in a similar situation but where the witness has been placed under oath?

CONCLUSION: 1. A witness who refuses to testify further can be compelled to do so by contempt proceedings in the district court. If not previously sworn or affirmed, the witness should be requested to take the oath or affirmation, refusal of which is grounds for contempt proceedings. If previously sworn or affirmed, refusal to testify further upon request is likewise grounds for contempt proceedings.

QUESTION: 2. Can such Legislative Council committee compel the testimony of a witness who is not subpoenaed to testify, but who appears at a properly convened committee session as a spectator or observer?

CONCLUSION: 2. Yes, but only if the witness refuses to be sworn or affirmed, or to testify after being sworn or affirmed.

1. Sections 50-406 and 50-407, R.R.S. 1943, bestow on the Legislative Council and its committees the authority to administer oaths, issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses, and produce papers, books, accounts, documents, and testimony, and to cause the depositions of witnesses to be taken. These provisions further establish the duty of the district court, on application of a member of the council, to institute contempt proceedings against any person who fails to comply to requests made by virtue of that authority in the same manner as the court would if such refusal occurred in a matter before it.

The Nebraska Supreme Court early established in Wilcox v. State, 46 Neb. 402, 64 N.W. 1072 (1895), that the refusal to be sworn or affirmed is a ground for contempt separate from the refusal to testify after being sworn or affirmed. Remembering that the action that a Legislative Council committee can take to compel obedience to its requests are the same as that which the court could take, section 25-2121, R.R.S. 1943, must be noted. That section provides that the court has the power to punish by fine and imprisonment, or by either, as for criminal contempt, persons guilty of contumacious and unlawful refusal to be sworn or affirmed as a witness, and when sworn or affirmed, refusal to answer any legal and proper interrogatory.

In light of Wilcox v. State, supra, these statutes taken together set out the appropriate course of action for a Legislative Council committee to take upon encountering a witness who refuses to testify further. If not previously sworn, said committee should request that the witness be sworn or affirmed, and if he refuses, contempt proceedings can be brought in the district court. If said witness has been sworn or affirmed, and subsequently refuses to testify, contempt proceedings can be brought in the district court.

As a practical matter, in either situation a request by the committee that the witness be sworn or affirmed is a condition of bringing contempt proceedings. Against this background, a reexamination of the current practice of not swearing witnesses who appear before Legislative Council committees might be prudent.

2. The authority on the question of the power of such a Legislative Council committee to compel the testimony of a witness who appears before it as a spectator or observer is not voluminous, but it is clear and has stood the test of time. Where a person is present in court he can be called and forced to testify without subpoena, and this is true as to a third party, as well as to a party to the suit. Ex parte Hall, 90 Okla. 231, 122 P.2d 1005 (1942). See also, Leckie v. Scott, 10 La. 412, and Hawson v. Marlene Blouse Corp., 106 N.Y.S.2d 774.

Remembering, again, that such a committee can compel obedience to its requests by proceedings for contempt which the court would treat in the same manner as if the disobedience had occurred in a matter before it, such a committee may compel persons in attendance at its properly convened sessions or hearings to come forward and testify. Consistent with the above, failure to come forward upon such request and be sworn or affirmed, or failure to testify after being sworn or affirmed, would be grounds upon which contempt proceedings could be initiated.

Opinion No. 183

Dear Senator Johnson:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning enforcement of section 60-556 relating to picking up a suspended license or registration.

In answer to your first question, it would be relatively easy for a law enforcement officer to ignore the direction of the department to pick up a license or registration if the law enforcement officer is the employee of a city or county rather than the state. In addition, section 60-556 does not impose any duty upon a law enforcement officer but merely authorizes the department to direct; this may or may not imply a reciprocal duty on the part of the officer directed. As a practical matter, it would be difficult to pin the failure upon any one particular officer in a fairly large department.

There are presently statutes authorizing removal from office of police officers or sheriff's officers for failure to do their duty, inefficiency, etc.

For example, section 19-1807, R.R.S. 1943, authorizes a city civil service commission to remove, demote, suspend, etc., any officer found to be derelict in his duty, incompetent, or guilty of other types of misconduct therein listed.

Along the same lines, section 25-21,147, R.R.S. 1943, authorizes the removal from office of any sheriff, police officer, etc., who shall willfully fail, neglect or refuse to enforce any law which it is made his duty to enforce.

We would suggest more precise language in section 60-556, spelling out a duty on the part of the sheriff or chief of police of the department notified to follow certain steps listed in the statute. This will not only give the director of motor vehicles a tool to work with but should make it easier to prove who failed to carry out his direction.

Hoping this will be of assistance to you, we are

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

cc: Clerk of the Legislature

Opinion No. 188

January 8, 1980

Dear Senator Beutler:

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding whether a legislative committee can constitutionally be empowered to act in the interim by a rule of the Legislature. As you noted, the power given by rule would be separate and distinct from any powers conferred upon committees by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council pursuant to its enabling legislation.

As you explained, permanent committees are created and empowered by the Rules of the Legislature adopted at the beginning of each biennial session. The committees meet even when the Legislature is in recess and conduct business pertaining to their functions of oversight, investigation and bill formulation. Some of the committee business conducted during the interim is not specifically authorized by interim study resolution.

It is axiomatic that the committee system is a creature of the legislative body and must look to its parent for its authority and power. In other words, a committee may act only upon proper authorization by the legislative body. Murphy v. Collins, 20 Ill. App.3d 181, 312 N.E.2d 772, 785 (1974); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, section 615, p. 439 (1953); Sturgis Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure, p. 179 (1966). Additionally, legislative committees have no power to act as such after adjournment of the Legislature, unless they are specifically authorized to do so.

Commercial & Farmers Bank v. Worth, 117 N.C. 146, 23 S.E. 160 (1895); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, supra, at 445; 28 A.L.R. 1154, 1155 (1922).

The manner through which this authority may be transmitted from the legislative body to its committees has been the subject of several judicial decisions. In Murphy v. Collins, 20 Ill. App.3d 181, 312 N.E.2d 772 (1974), the court, while holding that the particular committee activity at issue was not authorized, concluded that the Illinois House of Representatives could create and empower standing committees through its legislative rules. However, this case involved only the authority of committees to function during the legislative session.

In regard to the manner of authorizing a legislative committee to function during the interim between sessions, the weight of judicial authority supports the conclusion that the Legislature may do so by resolution. People v. Hofstadler, 258 N.Y.425, 180 N.E. 106 (1932); 28 A.L.R. 1154 (1922). In so holding, courts have rejected challenges founded on constitutional restrictions regarding the duration of legislative sessions, as well as arguments based on constitutional prohibitions against enacting laws except by bill. State ex rel. Robinson v. Fluent, 30 Wash. 2d 194, 191 P.2d 241 (1948); People v. Backer, 113 Misc. 400, 185 N.Y.S. 459 (1920); State v. Atterbury, 300 S.W.2d 806 (Mo., 1957). The Nebraska Supreme Court has never considered this issue; however, in In re Appeal of Wilkins, 116 Neb. 748, 219 N.W. 9 (1928), the court, while considering a different issue, apparently presupposed the validity of committee actions taken after the close of the legislative session pursuant to a resolution of the state senate.

Our research has revealed no cases considering the precise inquiry raised herein, i.e. whether the Legislature may constitutionally authorize legislative committees to function during the interim by rule of the Legislature. However, the reasoning employed by the above cited authorities is instructive.

A state constitution is not a grant but a restriction on the legislative powers; therefore, the Legislature has all legislative powers not denied it by the constitution. AFMSCE v. State, 200 Neb. 171, 177, 263 N.W.2d 643 (1978); State v. Atterbury, supra at 810. An express enumeration of legislative powers in a state constitution does not exclude others not mentioned, unless accompanied by negative terms. State ex rel. Robinson v. Fluent, supra 191 P.2d at 246.

The Legislature possesses the inherent powers of inquiry, research and investigation as a basis for future legislation. 72 Am.Jur.2d, States, section 48, p. 447. It has been held that constitutional restrictions regarding sessions are limitations upon the power of enacting laws, not upon the function of investigation. State ex rel. Robinson v. Fluent, supra 191 P.2d at 246; State v. Atterbury, supra, 300 S.W.2d at 812.

Further, as heretofore noted, the constitutional prohibition against enacting laws except by bills has been held to be inapplicable to the transmittal of power and authority from the Legislature to its committees. People v. Backer, supra, 185 N.Y.S. at 460.

In our opinion, there appears to be no constitutional restriction on the power of the Nebraska Legislature to specifically authorize its permanent committees to conduct business during the interim by rule of the Legislature. There being no constitutional restriction, the result follows, in our opinion, that the Legislature is empowered to do so.

Further, Article III, section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution directs that “. . . the Legislature shall determine the rules of its proceedings. . . .” In State v. Hagemester, 161 Neb. 475, 73 N.W.2d 265 (1955), the court discussed this constitutional provision, stating:

“. . . It will be observed that this authority does not limit itself to any particular power which the Legislature has or is given but is broad and unlimited in its scope. . . .

“. . . ‘The power to determine rules of proceedings is not restricted to proceedings of the body in ordinary legislative matters, but extends to the determination of the propriety and effect of any action taken by the body as it proceeds in the exercise of any power, in the transaction of any business, or in the performance of any duty conferred on it by the constitution. * * *’” Id. at 628,629.

Further, it has been held that the Legislature’s interpretation of the constitutional provision authorizing it to determine the rules of its proceedings, while not binding on the judiciary, is persuasive and should be upheld unless manifestly erroneous. Witherspoon v. State, 138 Miss. 310, 103 So. 134 (1925); Moore’s Manual of Legislative Procedure, section 71, p. 72-73.

The committee system, being the principal means through which the legislative body performs many of its duties and powers including investigation, research and inquiry, is an integral part of the legislative process. In our opinion, the Legislature could reasonably interpret the constitutional directive to determine the rules of its proceedings as encompassing the creation and authorization of committee activities which, if so specifically directed, could therefore constitutionally continue during the interim.

Yours truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

SECOND SESSION*SECOND DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, January 10, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:05 a.m., President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Dear God, you have created us all to have faith in You as Lord, and to love one another as members of Your family. Help us to keep these lines of communication open with You and one another through prayer. Some of us don't believe in You and won't pray; others don't believe in You and yet pray when we're in need. Some believe in You but don't pray, while others of us believe in You and do pray. God, during these next 59 days of the session, forgive our unbelief, hear our prayers, and strengthen our faith to follow You more nearly, to love You more dearly, and to see You more clearly, that we may pray more sincerely. Amen.

11 therein, beneficiary or person designated to take pursuant to 12 a power of appointment exercised by a testamentary or nontesta-

24 provided
25 for in the execution of deeds of real estate, ~~and~~ (iii) declare 26 the renunciation and the extent thereof, and (iv) declare that 27 the renunciation is an irrevocable and unqualified refusal to 1 accept the renounced interest.

2 (3) The appropriate court in a proceeding under section
3 30-2806 may direct or permit a trustee under a testamentary
4 or nontestamentary instrument to renounce, modify, alter,
5 amend or otherwise deviate from any restriction on or power
6 of administration, management or allocation of benefit upon
7 finding that such restrictions or the exercise of such power
8 may defeat or impair the accomplishment of the purposes of the 9 trust whether by the imposition of tax or the allocation of 10 beneficial interest inconsistent with such purposes or by other 11 reason. Such authority shall be exercised after hearing and 12 upon notice to all known persons beneficially interested in such 13 trust, in the manner directed by said court.

14 (b) The writing instrument specified in (a) (1) and (a) (2)

26 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, the instrument must be received not 27 later than the date which is nine months after the later of 1 (i) the date on which the transfer creating the interest in
2 such person is made, or (ii) the date on which such person
3 attains age 21. If the circumstances which establish the 4 right of a person to renounce an interest arise as a result
5 of the death of an individual the instrument shall also be 6 filed in the court of the county where proceedings concerning
7 the decedent's estate are pending, or where they would be pend-
8 ing if commenced. If an interest in real estate is renounced, 9 a copy of the writing instrument shall also be recorded in the 10 office of the register of deeds in the county in which said
11 real estate lies. A copy of the writing also shall be mailed
12 to the personal representative of the decedent, the trustee 13 of any trust in which the interest renouncing exists, or to 14 such other person as has legal title to, or possession of, the 16 personal representative, trustee, or No person entitled to a

17 copy of the instrument shall be liable for any other proper dis-
18 tribution or other disposition made without actual notice of the 19 renunciation and no such person making a proper distribution or 20 disposition in reliance upon the renunciation shall be liable
21 for any such distribution or disposition in the absence of actual 22 notice that an action has been instituted contesting the valid-
23 ity of the renunciation.

26 otherwise indicated in the instrument creating the interest,
27 the interest renounced, and any future interest which is to 1 take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after the termin-
2 ation of the interest renounced, passes as if the person re-
3 nouncing had predeceased the decedent or had died prior to the 4 date on which the transfer creating the interest in such per-
5 son is made, as the case may be, if the renunciation is within 6 the time periods set forth in subsection (b) and if not within 7 such time periods the interest renounced, and any future inter-
8 est which is to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or 9 after the termination of the interest renounced, passes as if 10 the person renouncing had died on the date the interest was re-11 nounced, or if the person renouncing is one designated to 12 take pursuant to a power of appointment exercised by a testa-
13 mentary instrument, as if the person renouncing had predeceased
14 the donee of the power. The person renouncing shall have no
15 power to direct how the interest being renounced shall pass;
16 Provided, that the renunciation of an interest for which the 17 right to renounce was established by the death of an individual
18 shall, in the case of the spouse of the decedent, relate only 19 to that statutory provision or that provision of the instrument
20 creating the interest being renounced and shall not preclude
21 the spouse from receiving the benefits of the renounced inter-
22 est which may be derived as a result of the renounced interest
23 passing pursuant to other statutory provisions or pursuant to 24 other provisions of the instrument creating the interest unless 25 such further benefits are also renounced. In every case where 26 the renunciation is within the time periods set forth in sub-27 section (b) the renunciation relates back for all purposes to 1 the date of death of the decedent or the date on which the 2 transfer creating the interest in such person is made, donee,
3 as the case may be.

4 (d) Any (1) assignment, conveyance, encumbrance, pledge
5 or transfer of property therein or any contract therefore, (2)
6 written waiver of the right to renounce or any acceptance of 7 property or benefits therefrom or an interest therein by an 8 heir, devisee, person succeeding to a renounced interest,
9 donee, beneficiary under a testamentary or nontestamentary in-
10 strument, donee of a power of appointment, grantee, surviving 11 joint owner or surviving joint tenant, beneficiary or owner of 12 an insurance contract or any incident of ownership therein,
13 beneficiary or person designated to take pursuant to a power
14 of appointment exercised by a testamentary or nontestamentary
15 instrument, person who has a statutory entitlement to or elec-
16 tion with respect to property pursuant to the Nebraska Probate
17 Code, or recipient of any beneficial interest under any testa-
18 mentary or nontestamentary instrument, or (3) sale or other
19 disposition of property pursuant to judicial process, made
20 within the time periods set forth in subsection (b) shall not

21 bar the right to renounce but shall make a subsequent renunci-22 ation within the time periods set forth in subsection (b) in-23 effective for purposes of determination of inheritance and 24 estate taxes under Articles 20 and 21, Chapter 77, Reissue
 25 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943. before the expiration of 26 the period in which he is permitted to renounce, bars the right
 27 to renounce as to the property.

1 (e) Within thirty days of receipt of a written instrument
 2 or renunciation by the transferor of the interest, his legal
 3 representative, the personal representative of the decedent,
 4 the trustee of any trust in which the interest being renounced
 5 exists, or the holder of the legal title to the property to 6 which the interest relates, as the case may be, such person
 7 shall attempt to notify in writing those persons who are known
 8 or ascertainable with reasonable diligence who shall be recipi-
 9 ents or potential recipients of the renounced interest of the 10 renunciation and the interest or potential interest such recipi-
 11 ent shall receive as a result of the renunciation.

12 (e) (f) The right to renounce granted by this section
 13 exists irrespective of any limitation on the interest of the 14 person renouncing in the nature of a spendthrift provision or 15 similar restriction. A trust beneficiary whose interest is 16 subject to any limitation in the nature of a spendthrift pro-
 17 vision or similar restriction may assign, sell or otherwise con-
 18 vey such interest or any part thereof upon a finding by a court
 19 in a proceeding under section 30-2806, that the rights of other
 20 beneficiaries would not be impaired and that such assignment,
 21 sale or other conveyance would not result in any substantial 22 benefit to nonbeneficiaries of the trust at the expense of the 23 trust or trust beneficiaries. Such finding may be made after 24 hearing and upon notice to all known persons beneficially inter-
 25 ested in such trust, in the manner directed by said court.

26 (f) (g) This section does not abridge the right of any 27 person to assign, convey, release, or renounce any property
 1 arising under any other section of this code or other statute.

2 (g) (h) Any interest in property which exists on January
 3 1, 1977, the effective date of this section but which has not
 4 then become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity,
 5 or the taker of which has not then become finally ascertained,
 6 may be renounced after January 1, 1977 the effective date of 7 this section as provided herein. An interest which has arisen
 8 prior to January 1, 1977 the effective date of this section
 9 in any person other than the person renouncing is not destroyed
 10 or diminished by any action of the person renouncing taken
 11 under this section."

12 2. Insert a new section as follows:

13 "Sec. 4. That original section 30-2352, Revised Statutes

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

My reason for voting to advance LR 30 to the floor was due to my firm belief to not leave issues bottled up in Committee.

I do not support the resolution in its present rejection fashion. The Government Committee studied LR 30 during the interim and it is my belief that it is too early in the game for the Legislature to make an informed decision. The various states have until 1985 to decide. As LR 30 reads now, it is my opinion that if the Nebraska Legislature passes this resolution, that it will have done absolutely nothing.

(Signed) Orval Keyes, Chairperson
Government Committee

Speaker Marvel moved that a Committee of five be appointed to escort the Governor to the Chamber to deliver his State of the State and Budget Message.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Cullan, Hefner, Schmit, Sieck, and Mrs. Marsh to serve on said Committee.

EASE

The Legislature was at ease from 9:51 a.m. until 9:55 a.m.

The committee returned and escorted Governor Charles Thone to the Rostrum where he delivered the following State of the State, and Budget address.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the Legislature and friends.

My message this morning is both a report on the State of the State and my recommendations on the budget for the 1980-81 Fiscal Year. I believe the two are virtually inseparable, because the destiny of our state is in so many ways influenced by fiscal considerations and economic factors.

As your legislative session begins, the new decade is but a few days old. It is already filled with turmoil. American citizens are held hostage in an American Embassy overseas. The United States government has taken steps to punish the Soviet Union for its aggressive actions in the same part of the world. Included in those steps is a controversial embargo on grain trade which is likely to result in more damage to our own economy than to that of the Soviet Union.

Inflation runs rampant as the dollar shrinks in value each day on world money markets. Interest rates soar, seriously hampering business expansion and critically crippling housing markets. The availability of energy to power the machinery that runs this country and enables its citizens to move about freely is as uncertain as our own winter weather.

With these facts clearly in mind, we must look forward to the 1980s as a decade of perhaps unprecedented challenge. We face serious problems. But, Americans--and especially Nebraskans--have never shrunk from challenge. We are at our best in the face of adversity. Our forefathers overcame almost impossible odds to settle this country, to see it grow and to help it prosper. They--and you--have worked hard to make America the great country it is--the greatest in the world.

The challenges we face in Nebraska are reflective of those that confront our nation. In some ways they are compounded. In many ways, they are different. Fortunately, given able, honest and compassionate leadership, we are not without means to control our own destiny. As your Governor for a little over one year, I have sought to provide the leadership necessary to insure that our state continues to grow and prosper.

On Statehood Day, March 1, 1979, I outlined 10 major goals of my administration. . . a plan for progress in 10 critical areas for our state. This list was not meant to be all-inclusive. We have many critical areas that need attention, but I believe my 10 goals are ones upon which we at the state level can focus and upon which we can show marked progress by their implementation. No priority was assigned to the 10 because they are all of critical importance. As a reminder, those goals were to record significant progress in: Agriculture, Citizen Participation in Government, Criminal Justice, Education, Nebraska 2000, Health Care, Jobs, Roads, Taxes and Water.

My remarks this morning are generally organized along the lines of the 10 goals with a report on the progress we have made toward their accomplishment and what we see for the future. There are some budget items and legislative concerns that don't fall neatly within the 10 goals, and they will be addressed as well.

I know the Legislature shares my pride in our joint achievement during 1979 of holding the increase in state spending to 7 percent. In the previous 10 years, state spending had skyrocketed, by over 200 percent--an average of at least 20 percent each year. It is my goal again this year to keep state spending under 7 percent for the 1980-81 Fiscal Year. I pledge to work with each and every Senator on this issue. We know well the pressures that can be applied by some special interests who advocate big spending policies that have dominated for so many years at the federal level. We know, too, that these pressures can be, and must be, resisted in Nebraska. If local governments are required to live under a state-imposed 7 percent lid, state government can do no less.

The budget I am recommending to you today is the product of weeks of hard work--and even harder decisions. It is an austere budget. But it is a budget built upon the commitment to improve the quality of services and programs which constitute our state government. Moreover, it is a budget which demonstrates state leadership in fiscal prudence and restraint.

Such leadership is required and the challenge for the 1980s is clear. The era of unchecked government fiscal expansion is over. Government is not, never was and cannot be, all things to all people. Our budgetary task--difficult as it is--is to allocate the limited resources available to us with wisdom and self-restraint.

In my first budget message to you last year, I counseled and urged fiscal caution in light of the then uncertain economic situation. The outlook for 1980 is no less uncertain. It demands special caution on fiscal matters from us all.

The Department of Revenue has prepared--and your Appropriations Committee has accepted--a FY 1980-81 Revenue forecast based on current tax rates which reflects--necessarily--the uncertainties of which I spoke. The Revenue Department projects the range of net receipts to the General Fund for next Fiscal Year to be from $632.0 million to $644.2 million.

My budget recommendations are based on net receipts of $638.1 million, which is the midpoint of that range. Together with the June 30, 1980 estimated General Fund balance of $38.8 million, a total of $676.9 million will be available in General Fund Revenue.

This total will be reduced by the total of Fiscal Year 1980 deficits approved by the Legislature, and by increased tax credits and transfers from the General Fund, which I will recommend. New economic information as well as national and international events also will undoubtedly effect these projections over the next several months. I will communicate to you such new information as it becomes available.

I am recommending to you a 6.5 percent General Fund Reserve which I believe is prudent at this time.

During your budget deliberations I earnestly urge you to consider the full future annual costs of those proposed new programs which will be placed before you. As harsh experience has taught all of us, the future costs of current decisions often come very high.

In addition, it should be noted that the states' portion of the General Revenue Sharing Program may not be the only federal program faced with a significant reduction. It is true that the Carter Administration has recommended continuation of State Revenue Sharing, but the program must be funded by the Congress, where its most vocal opponents have been heard.

There are, though, other federal reductions, should they be fully implemented, that may in the long run place more fiscal pressure on the states than the loss of Revenue Sharing money. Throughout my budget deliberations, I was constantly faced with requests for additional state monies for lower federal match rates, federal reductions under current year allocation, or estimated federal allocations insufficient to offset inflationary costs for increased program demands. Such added fiscal pressure at a time of stringent limits on state resources tremendously complicates the budgetary task before us. As I suggested last year, our resources may be limited, but this does not mean we must limit our resourcefulness. I am presenting to you today a budget of $608.3 million, which is 5.5 percent above the current Fiscal Year Budget of $576.6 million. It is my intent to recommend to you at a later date revisions and significant increases in the Homestead Exemption Program which will provide needed property tax relief and which will bring my total budget recommendation close to an overall 7 percent increase.

Included in the $608.3 million total is the added cost of $7.8 million for the Personal Property Exemption Program which brings this program to the $70 million level mandated by your body in LB 518.

We are well aware of the lawsuit that is pending in the courts challenging that state distribution of this money back to local subdivisions of government for the purposes of reimbursement for revenue lost because of the exemptions. We will be watching closely the outcome of this suit and any legislation which may be proposed to change the distribution formula. However, the current budget recommendation is based upon the law as it currently stands.

Further, I have delivered to your Speaker, Senator Marvel, a bill which will provide a much needed 30 percent increase in the current Food Sales Tax Credit Program. This is a $9 million total increase for the Tax Credit Program; raising it by $6 from the current $20 to $26.

TAXES

As Chairman of the State Board of Equalization--which sets your sales and income tax rates--it was my recommendation at the November 15, 1979 meeting that the income tax rate for 1980 be lowered from 18 percent of federal liability to the current 17 percent. This recommendation was approved and the sales tax rate was allowed to remain at 3 cents on the dollar. In addition, I gave my approval to a plan to suspend withholding taxes during the month of December. This was not a tax reduction, but an early refund. This was necessary, in my opinion, because federal tax policies have resulted in over-withholding by both state and federal government. I saw no need to collect those taxes in December and then turn around and refund them in April or May.

Let me stress that there will be no tax increase required if the budget I am recommending to you today is adopted. Let me repeat--there will be no tax increase needed with this budget.

In another area of taxes, real progress was made during 1979 in property tax equalization. This was politically tough, but absolutely necessary under the law and in the interest of fairness. Changes in the assessment rate by the State Board of Equalization did not raise property taxes. Tax levels are set by local units of Government--the cities and villages, counties, school districts and special districts.

In 1978 the Legislature passed--LB 285--providing that local governments cannot increase their receipts by more than 7 percent a year. The law provides for some exceptions but, in general, 7 percent is the limit. Most reports during the past year indicate that, by and large, the law has been effective.

Another point should be made: about 53 percent of all tax money collected by state government is returned to localities and individuals in Nebraska.

It also should be clear that no property taxes--let me repeat: no property taxes--are levied to support state government. Income for state-level operations comes mainly from sales and income taxes, excises and fees.

With the current high rate of inflation, many families are finding it necessary for both parents to work in order to support a family. They, and working, single parents are finding it harder and harder to support their families after paying day-care costs for children. I believe the parents who wish to work to keep their families off public assistance deserve all of the help they can get. I therefore plan to offer a bill consistent with federal tax law providing a state income tax credit for a portion of the day-care costs incurred by working parents. The amount would vary depending upon actual expenses for child care, but could mean a state income tax break of up to $136 for a parent with two small children.

The State Board of Equalization and Assessment is required to set sales tax rates in increments of 1/2 percent and individual income tax rates in increments of 1 percent. I would urge the Revenue Committee to re-examine a proposal which would set the rates in smaller increments. I would propose that 1/4 percent increments for sales tax and 1/2 percent increments for individual income tax would allow the needed flexibility to limit taxes and still maintain the balance between these two major tax sources.

BUDGET OVERVIEW

In developing my Fiscal Year 1980-81 Budget, I have reduced state agency requests for operations and aid by $37.3 million and for capital construction by $44.6 million.

My total General Fund recommendation for state operations and state aid is $601.5 million including $15 million from the Federal Revenue Sharing Trust Fund. Even though the state portion of revenue sharing--in whole or part--still remains in some jeopardy in the Congress, its inclusion in the budget gives tangible evidence of our continued support of and need for this vital program.

Of the total $601.5 million recommendation, 52.8 percent, or $317.5 million, is allocated to state aid to local subdivisions of government and individuals: 24.2 percent or $145.9 million to post-secondary education; and 23 percent, or $138.1 million to all other operations of state government.

In light of the stringent budget I am proposing to you, I am also recommending that, with very few exceptions, all Fiscal Year 1980 ending balances be reappropriated to their respective state agencies in addition to the amounts I am recommending to you today. By instituting further procedures now to reduce current expenditures, state agencies will have added flexibility to meet pressing needs in Fiscal Year 1981. I ask your early concurrence with this concept so as to allow state agencies to proceed with what is, in effect, a biennial approach to budget planning.

Additionally, you will notice that in many instances my recommendations consolidate programs at a sub-agency and agency level for additional administrative flexibility. Expenditure reporting and control would still be accomplished in the current program categories.

CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION

My total capital construction recommendation of $31 million includes $21.7 million in General Fund monies, $7.4 million from Cigarette Tax Funds and $1.9 million from Revenue Sharing Trust Funds. I am recommending $7 million for deferred building maintenance as provided by LB 309, including improvements to meet handicapped access requirements and energy-related projects. The LB 309 concept has been a great success, and I enthusiastically recommend that the life of the commission be extended an additional two years. In addition, I am recommending $17.3 million for second and third year capital items currently underway and $6.7 million for other necessary capital projects.

My capital construction recommendation carries forward the policy I established last year of finishing previously approved projects, continuing the important LB 309 program and providing for renovation and improvements in existing structures as priority items, given available funds.

STATE EMPLOYEE SALARIES

Nebraskans are fortunate indeed in the dedication and ability of their hardworking public employees. This past year has reaffirmed their contribution.

Any real wage gains made by state employees last July have been largely, if not wholly, offset by continued high inflation. Even so, improvement in competitive salary levels has been achieved and will continue to be made through pay grade and classification revisions and pay grade adjustments.

I am recommending for your approval a 7 percent increase in state employees' salaries effective July 1, 1980. State agencies are provided the flexibility to make other pay adjustments necessary to maintain hiring competitiveness and reward meritorious service. Funds made available through reappropriated current savings, vacancy savings, reorganization and operational changes may be used for these purposes.

In my message to you last year, I called upon all state agencies to cooperate in a full review of their staffing needs directed toward an overall reduction in state staffing. In pursuing this goal, positions vacant on the authorized state staffing report for over thirty days were eliminated and procedures for re-justification were instituted. Subsequent vacancies of over 90 days duration are now automatically eliminated, and many state agencies have completed thorough reviews of their current staffing levels.

GOVERNMENT IMPROVEMENT

I am very proud that we have greatly reduced the overall percentage of increase in the number of state employees even though we substantially increased staff for new correctional facilities. During recent years the number of state employees has increased dramatically. During the current Fiscal Year, that increase has been cut to 4-tenths of one percent. However, that is not good enough.

One of the pledges I made upon taking office as your Governor was to reduce the number of state employees. I also pledged that your state government would run with economy and efficiency as our hallmarks.

After a year of working with state government, it is obvious that more must be done to accomplish those goals. We must get a better handle on state government. We must stop unwarranted growth and we must make some adjustments to make government more efficient and more responsive.

This is what I shall do. First, I will conduct my own detailed study of the executive branch to identify which facets of it can be made more responsive and more accountable to the taxpayers. We will look for ways to improve delivery of needed services at less cost. Second, I will appoint a blue ribbon task force on government improvement to examine the results of my study and to apply the perspective of the private sector in determining how best to overhaul the machinery of the executive branch. My hope is that the confluence of this inside and outside look at state government will produce a set of practical and attainable recommendations for legislative and executive action.

To achieve this, I have already taken two major steps. First, I have asked Mr. Earl T. Luff of Lincoln, Chairman of the Board of Lincoln Steel, to serve as Chairman of the Governor's Task Force for Government Improvement. This most distinguished Nebraskan has accepted this challenge.

Next, I have asked Dr. William A. Hamilton, who is already on my staff, to become my Special Consultant on Government Improvement. Dr. Hamilton has accepted this challenge and has already begun work on a comprehensive study of the executive branch.

Hand-in-hand with this examination of the executive branch will be an on-going effort to persuade people to become more involved in their state government. Another of my 10 goals is citizen participation in government. During the past year I believe we have brought state government closer to the people by holding "Meet Your Governor" sessions in Gering, South Sioux City, Kearney and Tecumseh. We'll have more of these one-on-one sessions in 1980.

As I travel throughout the state and talk with many Nebraskans, I pick up one underlying theme--people want less government, not more; fewer laws, not more; and less regulation, not more.

Our philosophy has been and will continue to be a restrained approach to state government and governing. We believe in a marked lowering of the profile of state government and a concerted effort to get government off the peoples' backs and let them go about their business.

My pledge is to remove as much governmental influence from Nebraskans' lives as I can.

In this regard, I urge the Legislature to apply very stringently the provisions of sections 50-430 through 50-436 of our statutes which provide for fiscal impact statements to be made on bills which increase or change the powers of state agencies in their dealings with business and consumers. This would go a long way in helping to eliminate those provisions which will be costing our citizens more and more tax dollars for more and more regulation. We have taken a step in this direction in the Governor's Office.

In November, I directed that all requests for approval of regulations sent to my office by state agencies, boards and commissions, be accompanied by a statement, signed by the department head or governing board, stating in dollars and cents:

(1) The fiscal impact of proposed regulations on state government; and

(2) The fiscal impact on those being regulated. For example, if a regulation will require a business to fill out a new form, I want to know what the total cost to Nebraska businesses will be to fill out that form. If there are 10,000 affected businesses and the form requires 10 hours to complete, at $5 per hour, that would be $500,000--quite an impact.

NEBRASKA 2000

As we enter a new decade, it is important that we begin to prepare for entry into a new century--only 20 years away. One of my 10 goals is to plan for a series of grassroots meetings in each of the 49 legislative districts followed by regional meetings and winding up with a statewide conference in Lincoln. The purpose of the meetings would be to have every citizen participate in planning for Nebraska's future in the 21st century.

A good deal of preliminary planning and consultation has already been accomplished under the direction of Lieutenant Governor Luedtke. To follow up on this, we will be announcing soon a planning committee for this volunteer effort and a list of meeting sites. I hope and expect that significant progress can be made in this challenging effort during the coming year.

EDUCATION

As Nebraskans, we can take great pride in our higher education institutions. Their contributions to the present and--perhaps more importantly--the future of Nebraska must be appreciated by all as they are by your Governor.

Nevertheless, administrators of our post-secondary education must take note: public resources are not unlimited. As I stated in my message to you last year: "It is vital that scarce tax dollars invested in higher education bear the highest possible return." It is incumbent upon our institutions of higher education to carefully and prudently manage all resources available to them to maintain the high level of quality they have achieved.

Post-secondary education includes the University of Nebraska, the State Colleges and the Community Vocational Technical College System. Approximately 24% of the State General Fund Budget is committed to post-secondary education.

Over the past ten years, state tax support for operations has increased by 212% for post-secondary education in Nebraska. This places Nebraska second among the "Big 8" States in state tax support growth.

After hours of review and careful study, I am recommending an 8.57 percent increase for the University of Nebraska from $116.0 million to $125.9 million, an increase of $9.9 million. Further, included in this recommendation is $1.2 million to be made available to the regents to assist in coping with extraordinary utility costs and other pressing problems.

In developing this recommendation, no changes were made to the basic cash and federal fund estimates of the Regents and identified University cash balances were not utilized. However, my recommendation does not include state assumption of all reduced federal grants and awards. It is incumbent upon University administrators--through increased efficiency, alternative revenue sources, or, where indicated, program reallocation--to manage the projected federal loss. There should be no easy assumption of unquestioned state support once federal funds are gone.

In addition to this flexibility, I am again recommending that the appropriation be made available to the Regents in lump-sum in accordance with a systems-wide approach to management.

In the area of University capital construction, my budget includes necessary renovation and improvements to the Agricultural Engineering Building on Lincoln's East Campus. In addition, I am recommending a fund of $1 million for miscellaneous capital items system-wide. It is proposed that this fund be appropriated in such a manner that the Regents have some flexibility in its use.

There has been some suggestion of eliminating the Central Administration offices of the University of Nebraska. I think this would be most unwise. The coordination and effective administration of University functions by this office far outweigh any criticisms I have heard.

For the state colleges at Chadron, Peru, Wayne and Kearney, I am recommending an 8.4 percent increase for a total of $20 million with maximum flexibility provided to the trustees to allocate funds. The budget for technical community colleges is recommended at 7.45 percent for a total of $17.7 million. While this is slightly higher than their request of 7 percent, it is my firm intent that a proportionate reduction be made in their property tax levies.

In addition to the post-secondary coordinating commission's responsibilities for the State Student Incentive Grant Program, Title I and Title VI-A of the Higher Education Act, and the Higher Education General Information Survey, I am recommending that the Commission begin examining areas of potential duplication in post-secondary education. Such studies, properly managed, should be of inestimable value in husbanding educational resources.

The most significant item in the budget recommendation for education is the increased support for special education programs within the State Department of Education. The General Fund recommendation for Fiscal Year 1980-81 is $28.4 million, an increase in excess of $5.5 million from the current year's appropriation. The rate of growth in costs has been dramatic for this program and the amount of federal support has increased markedly in recent years. However, this latter factor has become a matter of concern. As the level of federal support has grown, so too has the level of federal intervention in the use of these monies. The federal government has directed that its funds can be used to support only new programs and may not be used to supplement state support of ongoing services. This federal interpretation has the effect of penalizing those states, such as Nebraska, whose innovation in this area precedes the federal government's involvement. More importantly, this interference by federal government challenges Nebraska's role in the setting of service priorities for the future.

I invite the Legislature to address this matter, perhaps in the form of a Resolution to the Congress. I offer the support and assistance of my administration.

HEALTH CARE

The improvement of health care for Nebraskans and better and more efficient delivery of human services to all citizens is another of the major goals of my administration.

Our mental retardation programs are a matter of immediate concern. Of the $1 million dollars made available this Fiscal Year for movement of Beatrice State Developmental Center residents to appropriate community facilities, it now appears that only $600,000 will be expended for this purpose. Unless the transfer of Beatrice State Developmental Center residents who can be better served in community programs is accelerated, we can expect major capital expenditures at Beatrice necessary to meet pending Medicaid standards for a larger than expected population.

My budget recommendation provides $1 million dollars to be made available exclusively for the placement of Beatrice State Developmental Center residents in appropriate community settings, $500,000 to continue support for residents placed this Fiscal Year, and $250,000 for further deinstitutionalization or use at Beatrice State Developmental Center at the discretion of the director of the Department of Public Institutions. Let me hasten to add that I'm talking about only those citizens who can be better served in community programs. If community-based facilities are unable to, or will not accept eligible placements, other providers will be encouraged to develop appropriate licensed programs. I am meeting this afternoon with regional mental retardation governing board members to discuss our problems in this area and to seek their support for a timely solution.

As you know, there was a good deal of controversy in 1979 about activities at the Lincoln Regional Center Comprehensive Care Unit. My concern prompted me to appoint a three member panel--including a member of the Legislature--to study the situation and report to me. This committee of distinguished citizens did an outstanding job. Their report led me to ask that two distinguished professionals with national reputations in the field of mental health and mental retardation analyze the entire operation of our Department of Public Institutions and our community mental health and mental retardation structure and report to my Advisory Committee on Public Welfare, Institutions and Corrections. Since those recommendations have been made public previously, I will not go into them at this time. Shortly, we will have recommendations for legislation to improve the delivery of those vital services. In addition, you can soon expect some significant management changes to be accomplished in areas that do not require legislation.

To better reflect the Department's role in state government, I will be asking that legislation be approved to change the name of the Department of Public Institutions to the Department of Community and Residential Services. Under the leadership of Ralph Michener, a thorough professional in this field, I believe this Department can become a nationally-admired example in the delivery of these vital human services.

To promote greater efficiency and a more effective approach to the problems of chemical dependency, I will recommend to you this session the consolidation of the Drug Commission and the Alcoholism Division of the Department of Public Institutions. This consolidation is intended to achieve a comprehensive approach to the provision of services in this area. Further, I am recommending to you legislation for the over-all equalization of local match rates for state support for community mental retardation and mental health and alcoholism programs.

Continuing in the health field, I would like to express my support for efforts within the Legislature to bring the State Department of Health under the direct control of the Governor. It is my conviction that this executive branch agency, with its tremendous influence on the lives of our citizens, should be directed by an appointee of the Governor and be directly answerable to him. Our citizens rightly expect the Chief Executive Officer of the State to be responsible for the executive branch. Yet, of the 180 executive agencies, boards and commissions only 23 are controlled directly by the Governor. It is my firm philosophy that if the Governor has responsibility for the executive branch, he must have the means to make it more responsive. In the case of the Department of Health, I believe this to be a necessity. I would welcome discussion with senators on specific proposals to accomplish this transfer during the current session of the Legislature.

PUBLIC WELFARE

For the Department of Public Welfare, I am recommending $79 million, a 7.8 percent increase in General Fund support. $2.3 million of this increase is pursuant to LB 138 which I supported and which reduces the county share of Medicaid costs from 20 percent to 16 percent for FY 1981.

Further, I am recommending substantially increased General Fund support--from $3.2 million to $4.4 million--for the rapidly growing program for status offenders created by LB 700 of 1978. Implementation of this program has resulted in startling increases in the number of children for whom the Department of Public Welfare is responsible. I have directed John Knight, Director of the Department of Public Welfare, to investigate the sources of this increase and recommend to me measures for coordinating state policy among the several agencies with responsibilities for children. I would support legislation which would give the State the option to place offenders in the facility it determines the most appropriate.

AGING

My budget recommendation for the Commission on Aging recognizes the significant role of the elderly in maintaining Nebraska's heritage and culture. We will provide state matching funds--for the first time--to support community services such as nutrition programs and social services across the state. Also, we will continue to fund the "Grand Generation" program on the NETV network. My budget recommendation for the Commission represents an increase in General Fund support of $245,000 or 97% over the current year.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

This past spring, the Department of Corrections opened its two new facilities--the Lincoln Medium/Minimum Correctional Facility and the Diagnostic and Evaluation Center. With these two facilities, long-awaited improvements in the correctional environment have been realized. This important goal of improvement in our entire criminal justice system has come close to being realized. In addition, construction of the new maximum security facility is ahead of schedule. I will recommend to you acceleration of funding currently scheduled for next Fiscal Year to ensure the early completion of this vitally needed new facility.

With regard to the Omaha Medium/Minimum Security Facility, my budget recommendation provides for site work beginning in the fall of 1980 with construction to commence in the spring of 1981.

ROADS

The Department of Roads is responsible for planning, designing, constructing, maintaining and administering a modern, safe and efficient system of highways, roads and streets in Nebraska. The costs of this operation have expanded greatly in recent years, but revenues tied to gasoline taxes at the state and federal level have not kept up.

I am very much interested in legislation that has been proposed to increase the funding to insure our highways, roads and streets do not deteriorate and can be properly maintained. Therefore, action on this matter by the Legislature would be most welcome.

I am recommending fuller reliance on self-generated funds for the Department of Motor Vehicles. This includes increased fees for reinstatement of drivers licenses and transfer of the state portion of the driver license registration fee to a new departmental cash fund.

For our fine state patrol, I am recommending a new pay plan designed to offset the extreme compression found in the current pay grades through the creation of a Trooper II Classification. The cost of this recommendation is $328,000.

WATER

Protection, preservation and careful management of our natural resources are the guarantee of our continued prosperity. Nowhere is this more important than in the area of water resources. One of my 10 goals is to improve significantly our water management and planning policies at all levels of government. My budget recommendation includes the full second phase of the five-year water planning process at a cost of $413,000. Further, the completion of the multi-year program in the Department of Water Resources designed to upgrade and expand stream gauging activities is recommended. This program will ensure the availability of critical information for the water resources planning and development process.

For the Natural Resources Commission, I am recommending a major change in the financing of the Natural Resources Development Fund and the Water Conservation Fund. Effective July 1, 1980, one cent of the existing cigarette tax would be placed in the newly created Water Conservation Fund together with all reappropriated General Funds, and an additional $1 million fund I am recommending for this purpose. All interest accruing to these funds would also be made available to the Commission. The revenues to this fund will allow the Natural Resources Commission to more carefully schedule multi-year resource development projects together with the financial planning necessary to assure them.

In 1979, I formed the Interagency Water Coordinating Committee composed of 10 state agency or university department heads with the Governor as chairman, to better coordinate water resource planning and management in Nebraska. I believe we have made great strides during the year and have stimulated useful discussion which will lead to more effective water planning and management in the years to come. There will be several pieces of legislation considered during the current session to change some of our state water laws. My staff and I will examine each carefully, keeping in mind that there currently is an on-going study being coordinated for the Legislature by the Natural Resources Commission. As I said in my Statehood Day speech, because of the critical importance of water to this state and its many complexities, we must not move too hastily, but we must move.

JOBS

Our Department of Labor reports that Nebraska probably will have the number 1 ranking in the nation for the best record of employment. Our state had the lowest average unemployment in 1973, 1976, and 1978, and was fourth or better throughout the past 10 years. No other state has been as consistently low in unemployment statistics. The decade average unemployment in Nebraska for the 1970s was 2.8 percent.

Not that we do not have unemployment problems in our state, however. In our largest metropolitan area--Omaha--the average for the 70's was 4.2 percent. While this is significantly lower than the national average, it still presents a major problem for those many able-bodied and willing workers who cannot find a job. This is why we are pursuing employment opportunities for the Omaha area. One possibility we are aggressively exploring is convincing a large automobile manufacturer to locate an assembly plant employing as many as 5,000 people in that area.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture is the cornerstone of Nebraska's economy. The Department of Agriculture is the state agency with prime responsibilities for the furthering of agricultural interests. A number of commodity organizations receive administrative support from the Department of Agriculture. These include: soybeans, wheat, potato, corn, and poultry and egg. My recommendation includes the consolidation of the agricultural organizations formerly funded as a separate agency with the Department of Agriculture. This will provide a central agency to coordinate all agricultural organizations and societies receiving state funding or deriving taxing authority from the state.

You will find in my budget recommendations further expansion of the agricultural marketing activities I recommended last year. This added emphasis on international marketing will provide new and expanded markets for Nebraska products.

That is why this administration has developed a comprehensive international marketing plan for our state to be led by four of our agencies--agriculture, economic development, banking and finance and the policy research office. Details of this plan were released last week, so I will not dwell on them this morning. I do want to stress, however, that the more planning we can put into our exports, the better off we will be. My marketing trip to Europe last year taught me many things, but the one thing that stood out was that we can do a much better job in selling our products overseas. The markets are there. We must take advantage of them. I pledge to you that our state government will do everything in its power to help increase exports and stabilize our economy. Marketing activities within my administration have received a boost of more than $500,000 in their budgets for Fiscal 1980-81.

ENERGY

One of the most serious problems facing America is its over-dependence on foreign oil. There is every indication that our national problems associated with this situation will be at least as serious in 1980 as they were in 1979.

Nebraska has been a leader in the area of energy conservation. The people of this state have been doing something about it. During the months of May through November, 1979, they used 10 percent less gasoline than in the same period a year earlier. The state agencies under my direction during this May-November period achieved approximately a 25 percent reduction in gasoline over the same months of 1978. That was not an easy accomplishment. While the citizens of Nebraska and state agencies were reducing their use of gas, the federal government had a shocking increase. In the same 7 months of 1979, the federal government used 32 percent more gasoline in Nebraska than in the same period of 1978. President Carter is receiving a strong letter from me urging that the federal government start becoming a good example of energy conservation, instead of a horrible example.

The Nebraska Unicameral in 1979 made a good investment when it voted matching funds for the federal program to offer energy assistance to schools, hospitals, nursing homes and local governments. Nebraska was the first state in the nation to have its plan for operation of this program approved. Nebraska is the only state offering a free energy audit to each eligible institution that requests one. Already, 546 buildings have been audited. Just by following the suggested changes in operating procedures--with no investment--the average owner of a building audited has been able to reduce energy use by 20 percent.

In 1980, the largest electric and natural gas utilities will be required to offer energy audits to all the residences they serve. The responsibility is upon the utilities. The federal government does not require the State of Nebraska to be involved in this program at all. The Nebraska Energy Office worked with the 8 utilities that are under the law. One unified plan has been developed. Many smaller Nebraska utilities that are not required to participate in this program have indicated that they will offer audits. On January 21st, the Nebraska plan will be taken to Washington for federal approval. I believe that Nebraska will be the first state in the nation to complete a plan for offering this important service.

There has been a need for more information about the end use in Nebraska of various types of energy--particularly petroleum. The Nebraska Energy Office has obtained a grant from the Old West Regional Commission to expand its data collection greatly. All energy suppliers are cooperating fully in providing all available information requested.

This administration will ask that you approve at least four pieces of legislation which will equip the State of Nebraska to better deal with the national problem of energy supply and distribution: The legislation would: establish an independent energy office separate from the Department of Revenue under which it currently resides; clarify the Governor's powers to deal with resource shortages in emergency situations; set thermal and lighting efficiency standards similar to those contained in legislation introduced last year; and provide a solar tax credit for those citizens who seek to utilize this important alternative energy source. I recognize that legislation relating to these issues is already being considered by the Legislature. My proposals are not intended to compete with those proposals, but rather to reflect the Governor's thinking on these issues. As on all matters, we intend to work closely with the members of the Legislature on these proposals, and would welcome constructive suggestions for improvement.

In the area of gasohol--an ever increasing important energy source--we will continue through the Gasohol Commission, the Department of Economic Development, the Department of Agriculture and Energy Office to promote the manufacture of ethanol in our state from farm products and the marketing of gasohol in our state's service stations along our roads and highways. The nation recognizes Nebraska's role as a pioneer in this area and we must continue to lead in this important area.

It is my understanding that the Legislature will be considering a constitutional amendment to allow the State of Nebraska to back bonds for construction of plants to produce alcohol to be used in gasohol. I will support a reasonable approach in this area.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Legislature, I am privileged to have presented this budget message and State of the State Address. We share a difficult and challenging task, you and I. You will not agree with my recommendation in every instance, and that is not only your right, but your duty.

I welcome your careful consideration and constructive criticism, and it is my sincere hope and desire that as we begin this 1980 session we can continue the good relationship we established last year. I thank you both officially and personally for the cooperation and kindness every member of the Legislature has shown me. In return, I renew my pledge to continue to be as forthcoming and as responsive to your concerns as I can. Nebraskans expect us to work together for the good of Nebraska. We must not fail them.

The Committee escorted the Governor from the Chamber.

EASE

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Kremer asked unanimous consent to print the following change to LB 636 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

The following bills were read for the first time by title:

LEGISLATIVE BILL 665. By Powers, 9th District.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 191
January 9, 1980

Dear Senator Maresh:

You have informed us that you intend to offer an amendment to LB 44. Apparently you plan to eliminate sales tax on food sold at grocery stores, while retaining it on food sold at restaurants. You ask whether there would be any constitutional difficulties with such a provision.

We conclude that there are no such problems. The only constitutional argument we can see against such a provision is that it would constitute unreasonable classification, in violation of Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution. We do not believe a court would sustain such an argument.

We are informed by the Department of Revenue that approximately 19 states have such a provision in their sales tax acts. This fact would make us hesitant to hold that it constituted unreasonable classification, even if we were so inclined.

The courts have held that in the sales tax field the Legislature has great latitude in establishing the class to which the tax shall apply, or the class to be excluded from the tax, and to invalidate a tax for discrimination, exemption from its terms must be purely arbitrary. See 68 Am.Jur.2d 42, Sales and Use Taxes, section 27.

In Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 155 N.W.2d 322 (1967), the court said:

“The power of a state to make reasonable and natural classifications for purposes of taxation is clear and unquestioned. ‘That a statute may discriminate in favor of a certain class does not render it arbitrary if the discrimination is founded upon a reasonable distinction, or difference in state policy. * * * Similarly, it has long been settled that a classification, though discriminatory, is not arbitrary nor violative of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment if any state of facts reasonably can be conceived that would sustain it.’ Allied Stores of Ohio, Inc. v. Bowers, 358 U.S. 522, 79 S.Ct. 437, 3 L.Ed.2d 480.”

In Associated Food Services Inc. v. Commissioner of Taxation, 216 N.W.2d 253 (Minn. 1974), the court interpreted a statute exempting food sold in grocery stores but not restaurants. Vending machine operators said they sold the same items as could be bought in a grocery store, and so should be exempt. They contended that a contrary construction would be unconstitutional. The court rejected the argument saying:

“If similarity of product is the test, restaurants could not be taxed either, without violating the Equal Protection Clause, despite the legislative determination, acknowledged by all parties, that going to a restaurant is a taxable luxury and purchasing food at a grocery store is a nontaxable necessity.”

We believe the rationale used by the Minnesota Court to justify their classification is valid, and would sustain your proposed amendment from attack on equal protection or unreasonable classification grounds.

Very truly yours,
 PAUL L. DOUGLAS
 Attorney General
 Ralph H. Gillan

WHEREAS, agriculture is a vital, significant, and necessary industry in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the free market system used to exchange agriculture products represents a delicate balance between the world markets and the continuing production capability of American agriculture; and

WHEREAS, American agriculture derives its strength from the independence, resourcefulness, and productivity of the American farmer; and

WHEREAS, the livelihood of the American farmer and the certainty of economic continuity and survival depends in large part on the free market system; and

WHEREAS, President Carter promised never to use grain embargoes; and

WHEREAS, the impact of grain embargoes severely and adversely affected the market place through price depression; and

WHEREAS, the daily grain market decline, because of the Soviet grain embargo, reduces the income of the United States by billions of dollars; and

WHEREAS, President Carter did not provide sufficient remedy to counter-balance the impact of the embargo; and

WHEREAS, tremendous damage has been done to American agriculture, related industries, businesses, and the economy in general; and

WHEREAS, unless immediate action is taken, the lack of adequate financing from banks and financial institutions for agriculture and business could plunge this entire nation into a most serious, long-lasting recession.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Speaker of the Nebraska Legislature request an immediate meeting with appropriate members of Congress and appoint a delegation from the Unicameral to a) express concern for Nebraska and other American agricultural producers, b) to solicit congressional response to this embargo in the form of immediate remedies, c) to request congressional support and action to improve current circumstances.

2. That the Nebraska Legislature urge President Carter to immediately lift the Soviet grain embargo.

3. Should the embargo not be lifted, then the Nebraska Legislature urges the following alternatives for immediate federal government action: a) make purchases as necessary to stabilize the market, b) increase loan price levels to 90% of parity, c) increase storage subsidies to farmers with grain already in storage, d) implement a set-aside program, e) make alcohol plant loans available immediately, and f) embargo all exports to the Soviet Union.

Laid over.

SECOND SESSION*THIRD DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Friday, January 11, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Dear God, we hear that "Prayer Changes Things", but that really isn't true. Prayer doesn't move mountains, though it can move us to move mountains. Prayer won't endorse our blank checks, nor initiate the right bills, nor pass the correct legislation, but prayer can move us to do these things together. Prayer doesn't so much need discussion as it needs doing. Prayer isn't a motion to be tabled, it is a mood to be expressed. So as we take this moment for prayer, teach us that while You do not do everything for us, you can help us do those things which need to be done when we approve of ourselves. Prayer doesn't offer us escape, but it does give us encouragement, enlightenment, and it can enable us together to be better than otherwise we might be. May that be our experience today in our deeds because we have paused for this moment of meditation. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Koch, Lewis, and Sieck who were excused; and Messrs. Newell and Venditte who were excused until they arrive.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 192
January 7, 1980

Dear Senator Maresh:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning problems with titles to land because of a failure to obtain prior approval of subdivisions by the governing municipalities.

You ask whether sections 19-916 through 19-921 R.R.S. 1943 allow for after the fact approval of the subdivision or addition by the municipality and whether such subsequent approval would cure the title defect problem.

It is the opinion of this office that the answer to both of your questions is no for the following reasons.

Section 19-916 R.R.S. 1943 provides in part:

“No addition shall have any validity, right or privileges as an addition, and no plat of land or, in the absence of a plat, no instrument subdividing land within the corporate limits of any such municipality, or contiguous to the same, shall be recorded or have any force or effect, unless the same be approved by the governing body and its approval endorsed thereon.”

Section 19-917 R.R.S. 1943 requires a proper ordinance duly enacted by the governing body in order to vacate an existing plat and addition. Section 19-918 R.R.S. 1943 provides that to subdivide real estate within the corporate limits you must comply with the provisions of section 19-917. Section 19-919 also provides that any plat or instrument effecting the subdivision of real property described in section 19-918 has no force or effect unless it is approved by the governing body of the municipality.

In Village of Niobrara v. Tichy, 148 Neb. 517, 63 N.W.2d 867 (1954) at page 524, the court states:

“The making and filing of a plat of a subdivision of land by the owner, the dedication of streets and alleys shown on the plat, the continuous exercise by the municipality of authority thereafter over such platted area, and taxation of the territory and property thereon for municipal purposes do not annex the platted area and make it a part of the village or extend the corporate limits of the village. The reason for the insufficiency of either or all of these to have that effect is that they or any of them is not the exercise of the jurisdiction given the municipality to annex territory to it. The rule is stated in Wagner v. City of Omaha, supra: ‘A municipal corporation or its corporate authorities have no power to extend its boundaries otherwise than provided for by legislative enactment or constitutional provision. Such power may be validly delegated to municipal corporations by the legislature and where so conferred must be exercised in strict accord with the statute conferring it.’”

Since these statutes require the prior approval of the subdivision, annexation or vacation, the late approval by the governing body would not cure the title defect problem since a gap in time would exist between the initial attempted subdivision and the approval at a later date by the governing body.

In City of Valentine v. Valentine Motel, Inc., 176 Neb. 63, 125 N.W.2d 98 (1963), the City of Valentine attempted to comply with the statutory requirements for annexation by passing a nunc pro trunc order to supply the missing statutory requirements for annexation and the court held that this could not be done.

For these reasons we feel that late approval by the governing body of the particular municipality would not correct the title defect.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

RESOLUTION*LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 184.

Introduced by Haberman, 44th District.

WHEREAS, recent Russian aggression in Afghanistan has forced the President of the United States to impose economic sanctions against the Soviet Union; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska and the University of Nebraska engage in the testing of Russian tractors as a service to the Soviet Union; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the tractor testing laboratory of the Department of Agricultural Engineering at the University of Nebraska and the state Department of Agriculture cease to test and report on the Russian tractors.

3. That the Legislature directs the Department of Agriculture and the University of Nebraska Department of Agricultural Engineering not to release any result or report of the testing on the Russian tractors to any person unless a release is authorized by a majority vote of the Legislature.

Amendments to

Standing Committee Amendment to LB 306

1. Insert a new section as follows:

- 2 "Sec. 3. That section 30-2352, Revised Statutes Sup-
 3 plement, 1978, be amended to read as follows:
 4 30-2352. (a) (1) A person (or his personal represen-
 5 tative) who is an heir, devisee, person succeeding to a
 6 renounced interest, donee, beneficiary under a testamen-

7 tary or nontestamentary instrument, donee of a power of ap-
8 pointment, grantee, surviving joint owner or surviving joint 9 tenant, beneficiary of an insurance contract, person design-
10 nated to take pursuant to a power of appointment exercised
11 by a testamentary or nontestamentary instrument, or recipi-
12 ent of any benefit otherwise under a testamentary or non-13 testamentary instrument, may renounce in whole or in part,
14 or with reference to specific parts, fractional shares or 15 assets thereof, by filing a written instrument within the 16 time and at the place hereinafter provided.

17 (2) The instrument shall (i) describe the property or 18 part thereof or the interest therein renounced, (ii) be signed
19 and acknowledged by the person renouncing in the manner pro-
20 vided for in the execution of deeds of real estate, and (iii)
21 declare the renunciation and the extent thereof.

22 (3) The appropriate court may direct or permit a trustee
23 under a testamentary or nontestamentary instrument to renounce
24 or deviate from any power of administration, management or al-
25 location of benefit upon finding that exercise of such power
26 may defeat or impair the accomplishment of the purposes of 1 the trust whether by the imposition of tax or the allocation
2 of beneficial interest inconsistent with such purposes. Such 3 authority shall be exercised after hearing and upon notice to 4 all known persons beneficially interested in such trust, in 5 the manner directed by said court.

6 (b) The writing specified in (a) (1) and (a) (2) must 7 be filed within nine months after the death of the decedent,
8 settlor of the trust or donee of the power, or if the taker
9 of the property is not then finally ascertained not later
10 than nine months after the event by which the taker or the 11 interest is finally ascertained. The writing must be filed 12 in the court of the county where proceedings concerning the 13 decedent's estate are pending, or where they would be pending
14 if commenced. If an interest in real estate is renounced, a 15 copy of the writing shall also be recorded in the office of 16 the register of deeds in the county in which said real estate
17 lies. A copy of the writing also shall be mailed to the per-18 sonal representative of the decedent, the trustee of any trust 19 in which the interest renouncing exists, or to such other per-20 son as has legal title to, or possession of, the property in 21 which the interest renounced exists, and no such personal rep-
22 resentative, trustee, or person shall be liable for any other 23 proper distribution or other disposition made without actual 24 notice of the renunciation.

25 (c) Unless the decedent or donee of the power has other-
26 wise indicated by his will, the interest renounced, and any 27 future interest which is to take effect in possession or enjoy-
1 ment at or after the termination of the interest renounced,
2 passes as if the person renouncing had predeceased the de-
3 cedent, or if the person renouncing is one designated to take
4 pursuant to a power of appointment exercised by a testamentary
5 instrument, as if the person renouncing had predeceased the 6 donee of the power. In every case the renunciation relates 7 back for all purposes to the date of death of the decedent
8 or the donee, as the case may be.

9 (d) Any (1) assignment, conveyance, encumbrance, pledge

10 or transfer of property therein or any contract therefor,
 11 (2) written waiver of the right to renounce or any accept-
 12 ance of property by an heir, devisee, person succeeding to a 13 renounced interest, beneficiary or person designated to take 14 pursuant to a power of appointment exercised by testamentary
 15 instrument, or (3) sale or other disposition of property pur-
 16 suant to judicial process, made before the expiration of the 17 period in which he is permitted to renounce, bars the right
 18 to renounce as to the property.

19 (e) The right to renounce granted by this section
 20 exists irrespective of any limitation on the interest of the 21 person renouncing in the nature of a spendthrift provision
 22 or similar restriction. A trust beneficiary whose interest
 23 is subject to any limitation in the nature of a spendthrift
 24 provision or similar restriction may assign, sell or other-25 wise convey such interest or any part thereof upon a finding 26 by a court in a proceeding under section 30-2806, that the 27 rights of other beneficiaries would not be impaired and that
 1 such assignment, sale or other conveyance would not result
 2 in any substantial benefit to nonbeneficiaries of the trust
 3 at the expense of the trust or trust beneficiaries. Such 4 finding may be made after hearing and upon notice to all
 5 known persons beneficially interested in such trust, in the 6 manner directed by said court.

7 (g) Any interest in property which exists on January
 8 1, 1977, but which has not then become indefeasibly fixed
 9 both in quality and quantity, or the taker of which has not 10 then become finally ascertained, may be renounced after 11 January 1, 1977 as provided herein. An interest which has 12 arisen prior to January 1, 1977 in any person other than 13 the person renouncing is not destroyed or diminished by any 14 action of the person renouncing taken under this section."

15 2. Insert a new section as follows:

16 "Sec. 4. That original section 30-2352, Revised

FOURTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, January 14, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:02 a.m.,
President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

O God, returning at the beginning of this second week from our homes across the state, we pray for Nebraska: a microcosm of the ailments and aspirations of the world; a representative sampling of life at its best and worst; an ordeal for many, a delight for some.

Raise us as a Legislature, into a leadership community of the State in which the welfare of one becomes the concern of all. Help us to see our differences as assets rather than as liabilities, occasions for growth rather than grounds for tension. From our deeds and deliberations and discussions and decisions may there come a new ideal through which the common good will inspire nobler forms of public service.

So bless each Senator this day with decision-making wisdom, and an irrevocable commitment to equitable law. Help us as members of this body to more effectively relate our beliefs to life as it is lived around us. Make us bearers of hope, champions of justice, agents of reconciliation, and initiators of a better life for all. Amen.

FIFTH DAY - JANUARY 15, 1980

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE

FIFTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 15, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Almighty God, our first thought when someone comments on what a beautiful day this is, is to take credit for introducing the bill which established sunny skies and warm temperatures in midwinter. May we be equally willing to shoulder responsibility for those snow storms and sub-zero temperatures which might follow.

Our second thought, however, is that we really aren't responsible for either the good or the bad weather, but You are.

Teach us, therefore, to trust in You as the Creator of all things - Creator of the universe - for the big things in life, and then to do the best with our God-given talents with the little things confronting us.

Give us the serenity to accept those things which cannot be changed, give us the courage to change those things which can, and give us the wisdom to know the difference. Amen.

The Chaplain announced Mrs. Tom Kennedy is in the Lutheran Hospital in Norfolk, Nebraska.

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Cullan and Johnson who were excused; and Mrs. Labeledz, Messrs. Beutler, Kennedy, Schmit, Simon, and Venditte who were excused until they arrive.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

January 15, 1980

Mr. President and Mr. Speaker
Members of the 86th Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am transmitting herewith, as required by law, my recommendations for supplemental appropriations for fiscal year 1979/1980. These recommendations include General Fund, Cash Fund and Revolving Fund monies. Requested increases in personal services limitations are not included. It is my understanding that your Appropriations Committee will address this area.

Included in the General Fund supplemental recommendation of $667,467 is:

- $4,000 to correct an error in last year's Claims Bill.
- $246,807 for the Department of Motor Vehicles to maintain and keep current computerized motor vehicle records. These important records were made fully current this past summer for the first time following a crash program by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of Administrative Services.
- $96,300 for Kearney State College to provide for additional and unanticipated workload.

- $15,000 for the Historical Society to provide for utilities cost of the former Elks Building once the current lease arrangement is terminated.
- $199,000 for the State Patrol to fund increased fuel costs for highway operations.
- $106,360 for the Claims Board to provide for increased Workman's Compensation claims and medical expenses.

In addition to the above amounts, I am recommending that $1,500,000 of scheduled FY 1980/1981 appropriations for the Lincoln Maximum Security Facility be made available this fiscal year as accelerated funding. Favorable weather conditions have allowed this project to move ahead of schedule. My recommendation for FY 1980/1981 is reduced by the same amount.

I am also recommending $1,500,000 new monies for this Spring's cooperative grasshopper spraying program. When added to the reappropriation of $500,000 of unused funds from last Spring's program, this recommendation will provide total available dollars of $2,000,000 from the General Fund. This will allow a $6,000,000 spraying program with the costs to be shared equally by the Federal Government, the State of Nebraska, and local participating ranchers.

Other supplemental requests which I have not recommended have been shared with the Appropriations Committee.

Sincerely,
(Signed) CHARLES THONE
Governor

January 15, 1980

Mr. President and Mr. Speaker
Members of the 86th Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

As required by law, I am transmitting herewith a bill to reimburse school districts for special education costs. Specifically, based upon the request of the Department of Education, this bill provides for a supplemental appropriation of $6,680,199 for fiscal year 1978/1979 school district special education cost.

This program pledges State reimbursement to school districts upon proper presentation of actual expenditures for the prior fiscal year. Consequently, program costs are known after the fact; and supplemental appropriations have been a consistent and prominent feature of this program.

Included in the bill is $1,066,290 to fully fund school district claims for transportation of special education students during the 1978-79 school year. This amount supplements a previous appropriation in excess of three million dollars for this purpose. The remaining supplemental amount in this bill, $5,613,909, is required to fulfill the State's obligation to fund 90% of the excess costs of programs for school-age children. A prime factor in the size of this supplemental request is the continued interference by the federal government in our administration of these programs. The Board of Education and Commissioner Campbell have concluded that federal interference is responsible for at least $2.5 million of this deficit request, and may cause more financial problems in future years. An additional factor is the complexity of our own reimbursement procedures that require decisions to be made on outdated financial and enrollment data.

It is my intention to work closely with Senator Koch, the Education Committee and Commissioner Campbell of the Department of Education to study these issues and to improve the overall management of our reimbursement programs.

Sincerely,
 (Signed) CHARLES THONE
 Governor

SIXTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, January 16, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:07 a.m., President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Dear God, for so long a time now we have been thinking of the American hostages in Iran; concerned for them, praying for them; and we continue in our prayers and concerns.

What is also tragic is that so many of us remain in bondage as well, hostages to our past mistakes, hostages to our present problems, and hostages to our future anxieties.

Free us from these just now by reminding us that we are created for freedom, and that we are called to initiate those laws that will free up the people of this State to live the good life.

So give us pardon for our past, promise for the future, and purpose for the present that we may be free indeed. Amen.

11 section when the director finds in adopting such rules

13 Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, is not 14 necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for 15 the protection of investors. As used in this section,
16 not involving any public offering shall mean any offering 17 in which the seller has reason to believe that the 18 securities purchased are taken for investment and in 19 which each offeree, by reason of his or her knowledge
20 about the affairs of the issuer or otherwise, does not 21 require the protections afforded by registration under 22 sections 8-1104 to 8-1107, Reissue Revised Statutes of 23 Nebraska, 1943, in order to make a reasonably informed
24 judgment with respect to such investment.

25 The director may by order deny or revoke the 26 exemption specified in subdivision (2) of this section
27 with respect to a specific security. Upon the entry of 1 such an order, the director shall promptly notify all
2 registered broker-dealers that it has been entered and of 3 the reasons therefor and that within fifteen days of the 4 receipt of a written request the matter will be set down
5 for hearing. If no hearing is requested and none is 6 ordered by the director, the order will remain in effect
7 until it is modified or vacated by the director. If a
8 hearing is requested or ordered, the director, after 9 notice of an opportunity for hearing to all interested
10 persons, may modify or vacate the order or extend it
11 until final determination. No such order may operate
12 retroactively. No person may be considered to have 13 violated the provisions of sections 8-1101 to 8-1124 by 14 reason of any offer or sale effected after the entry of 15 any such order if he sustains the burden of proof that he 16 did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care
17 could not have known of the order. In any proceeding 18 under sections 8-1101 to 8-1124, the burden of proving an 19 exemption from a definition is upon the person claiming 20 it.

21 Sec. 2. That original section 8-1111, Revised
22 Statutes Supplement, 1978, is repealed.''

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 193
January 15, 1980

Dear Senator Labeledz:

You indicate that you are considering introducing legislation to insure the continuance of a court in South Omaha. As a part of your investigation in preparation for this action you ask whether section 14-125, R.R.S. 1943, requires the continuance of a courtroom in South Omaha.

As background to this opinion request and the analysis following, it should be pointed out that certain problems were brought to light involving the Municipal Court of Omaha, Nebraska. Pursuant to those problems an evaluation of the Omaha Municipal Court was conducted by the Court Administrator's Office. Certain recommendations were made as a result of that evaluation. Included among them was a recommendation that the branch court of the Omaha Municipal Court located in South Omaha be abolished; or, in the alternative, that court be held there only one day a week.

Section 14-125, provides:

"Any rights, power or authority acquired, granted or received or possessed by any person, city or village through consolidation effectuated under the terms of Chapter 212 of the Session Laws of Nebraska for 1915, are hereby granted and continued."

Chapter 212, enacted in 1915 as an emergency act, provided for the merger between a metropolitan class city and a city of the first or second class or village adjoining such city. Section 4 of that Act provides, in part:

"Where at the time of such consolidation, there exists and is established under existing law governing any city of the first class so consolidated with a metropolitan city, a . . . police court . . . such . . . police court . . . shall not be abolished by this act, but shall be provided for, conducted and governed by the proper officers of such metropolitan city. And where at the time of such consolidation there has been elected and is in office a Police Magistrate in any city of the first class the incumbent thereof shall hold and continue in said office, at the salary under which he was elected, and exercise his functions and jurisdiction of Police Magistrate over the territory embraced, for Police Magistrate purposes, within the first class city at the time of consolidation, until the time provided for the election of Police Magistrate in the metropolitan city, and until the time of taking office pursuant to such election, at which election there shall be elected in the metropolitan city, as thus consolidated, two Police Magistrates, and the Mayor and Council of the metropolitan city shall then divide the metropolitan city into two Police Court districts and designate the place in each district where the Police Court shall be held, one of which places shall be within the territory formerly embraced within the first class city, and the Mayor and Council shall assign each of such Police Magistrates to a particular district at the beginning of his term. . . .”

Clearly, under Chapter 212 at the time of consolidation a metropolitan city was required to continue in existence a police magistrate court which embraced within its jurisdiction the area formerly held within the first class city.

Subsequently, in the 1921 Legislative Session, the Legislature enacted a bill contained in Chapter 116, Laws 1919-1921, section 18, containing a similar provision. It provided:

“Where, at the time of such annexation or merger, there has been elected and is in office, a justice of the peace or police magistrate in any city or village annexed or merged, the incumbent thereof shall hold and continue in said office at the salary under which he was elected and exercised his functions and jurisdiction of police magistrate over the territory embraced for justice of the peace or police magistrate purposes, within the city or village at the time of such annexation or merger until the expiration of the term for which he was elected.”

Also, in Chapter 116, section 24, the current section 14-125 was enacted.

Arguably, under section 14-125, a right, power or authority granted, received or possessed by a person, city or village through consolidation would continue. The question to be addressed initially is whether any city or village acquired any rights, powers or authority to continue a police magistrate court under Chapter 212. It seems beyond argument that the City of Omaha acquired the right, power or authority to establish two police magistrate courts and to divide the city into two districts for purposes of police court jurisdiction. For the purposes of this opinion it would serve little purpose to delve into the question of whether or not the City of Omaha was required to maintain two police court districts or merely authorized to do so. The reason such question is immaterial is that at the time under consideration police courts were of constitutional significance. Prior to 1920 the Constitution provided in Article VI, section 1:

“The judicial power of this state shall be vested in a Supreme Court, district courts, county courts, justices of the peace, police magistrates, and such other courts inferior to the district courts as may be created by law for cities and incorporated towns.”

In 1920 a Constitutional Convention was convened and adopted Article V, section 1 of the Constitution which provided:

“The judicial power of the state shall be vested in a Supreme Court, district courts, county courts, justices of the peace, and such other courts inferior to the Supreme Court as may be created by law; . . .”

Thus, the constitutional basis for police magistrate courts was eliminated. Subsequently, in LB 1032, of the Eighty-Second Legislature, Second Session, a unified system for county courts was adopted for the purpose of combining the functions of county courts, justice of the peace courts and police magistrate courts. Thus, police magistrate courts were abolished. Therefore, any rights, duties, powers or privileges relating to police magistrate courts arising under Chapter 212, Laws of 1915, were abolished.

It is clear that a legislative session cannot forever bind future Legislatures from reorganizing, streamlining or in other manners altering the particular structure of government where the Constitution does not prohibit such changes or alterations by subsequent Legislatures. We find no such prohibition with respect to police magistrate courts.

Section 26-101, R.R.S. 1943, established metropolitan courts in Omaha. They succeeded to all the powers, duties and authorities of police magistrates. Section 26-101, in part, provides:

“There is hereby established and created in each city of the metropolitan and primary classes, a municipal court, which shall be held in such place as may be provided for that purpose within such city. It is hereby made the duty of such cities to provide suitable courtrooms, necessary equipment and room for the clerk of the court and the necessary help therefor, to be appointed by the judges of the court. The city may provide rooms in such location in the city as it sees fit where the judges of the municipal court shall conduct police court and exercise the duties theretofore performed by police magistrates and be governed by the procedure and jurisdiction provided by law for police courts. . . .”

LB 1032 in 1972 repealed the procedures relating to police courts. Sections 24-501 through 24-592, R.R.S. 1943, now govern. See section 26-122, R.R.S. 1943.

Generally, in the absence of a constitutional requirement, either the creating statute of the legislative body or the political subdivision to which such power is delegated establish the site at which a court is to hold its session. The statutes in this case have delegated that authority to the City of Omaha. We have examined the Municipal Code of the City of Omaha but have found no designation of the location at which the municipal court is to conduct its proceedings. Absent a specific designation by the City of Omaha it would appear that court for the Municipal Court of Omaha is to be held under a de facto designation in the rooms set aside by the City of Omaha for that purpose.

Generally, once a location at which a court is to sit has been specified, the court must sit in that location. See, Roberts v. State, 100 Neb. 199, and annotation 43 A.L.R. 1516, Place of holding sessions of trial court as affecting validity of its proceedings.

However, those general provisions have been overridden, at least as to county courts in Nebraska, by section 24-512 which authorizes the establishment of divisions of county courts at places other than the county seat.

A municipal court is a creation of the Legislature. The Legislature has, by virtue of its delegation under section 26-101, R.R.S. 1943, authorized the cities of the metropolitan and primary classes to establish the location in which courts shall be held. The question then is whether a court must hold sessions at locations specified, where there are more than one, when it has been determined that insufficient court business exists at one such location. While this is a close question, we believe that in the present situation at a minimum the court has the power to set sessions at South Omaha for once a week. Further if the municipal court determines that the amount of business conducted is wasteful of court resources, and entirely unnecessary, the South Omaha branch could be closed. Section 14-125, R.R.S. 1943, would not preclude either action.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

SEVENTH DAY - JANUARY 17, 1980

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

SEVENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, January 17, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., Speaker Marvel presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

O God, may the sudden changes of weather in the past few days remind us that all things in life change, and that whatever our present mood of the moment may be, it too will change. Amid these changes may we find those constant factors of faith and hope and love to keep us secure. As we take this moment for prayer, charge our beings with a current of gratitude, that whatever may be our momentary mood or fortune, we may find reason to be grateful to you.

We thank you for patience that helps us bridge desire and fulfillment; for unwise prayers that went unanswered, sparing us heavy pain; for the unwelcome new that led us to discover in ourselves capacities we never dreamed were there; for ancient words of wisdom that blaze with light and meaning as our circumstances change; for the winsome example of great leaders that excites the trust of young and old of every generation; and for Your mercy that holds us fast even when we are hardly worth the holding. Let the joy of what You are indwell our souls, so even in the worst of times our hearts may love You, our voices may speak Your truth, and our deeds may accomplish Your will. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mesdames Labedz, Pirsch, Messrs. Beutler, Cullan, Johnson, Newell, and Reutzler who were excused until they arrive.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 194

January 16, 1980

Dear Senator Simon:

You draw our attention to LB 614. LB 614 amends sections 16-691.02 and 17-609, R.R.S. 1943, by striking the authority existing for cities of the first class, second class, and villages to transfer excess operating revenues from certain publicly operated utilities to the general fund of such political subdivision.

Your question is whether such transfers would be prohibited under the provisions of section 77-3412 through section 77-3432, R.S. Supp., 1979, commonly known as the lid bill. Your intention in seeking this answer is to determine whether or not LB 614 is a necessary bill. Section 77-3423 provides that no governing body may increase their budget in such a manner that the anticipated combined receipts will exceed an increase of seven percent over the combined receipts budget base. Section 77-3421 defines combined receipts as those funds received by a political subdivision as defined in sections 77-3419 and 77-3420. Section 77-3419 defines local tax sources and includes funds received from the tax or taxes authorized to be levied by law. Section 77-3420 defines state tax sources to mean funds received by a political subdivision, the source of which is a tax imposed or levied by the State of Nebraska.

Operating revenues of a municipal utility are not a tax. Rather, they are a fee or charge for services rendered. As such they are not within the purview of section 77-3412, et seq., R.S. Supp., 1979.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Attorney General

EIGHTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:42 a.m.,
President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Oh God, after the snow, comes the sun, and after the weekend, comes the work of another week. We thank you for this long weekend when most of us have had the opportunity of being in our own community, visiting with families and friends, refreshing our minds as to local needs. Though we sometimes joke about looking around us on the floor here, and then praying for the people of Nebraska, it is for them this morning that we pray.

We pray especially for those who have needs that bring them near the breaking point; those who are expected to produce more than they can deliver; those whose grief and loneliness have made life seem unbearable; those who need work but find the market tight; those who are living on fixed incomes in a spiraling economy; those whose every breath is drawn in a struggle against disease; those who have been repeatedly rebuffed because of color, creed, or economics; those who await the release of imprisoned loved ones; those who are caught in the grip of social wrongs.

We pray not only that they may have courage to hang on one day more, and not only that You will strengthen them, but that we here may enact that kind of legislation that will comfort the oppressed, liberate the imprisoned, and make the good life a reality for all the people. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 195
January 17, 1980

Dear Senator Murphy:

In your letter of January 15, 1980 you inform us of your introduction of Legislative Bill 624, the primary purpose of which would be to amend subsection 52 of section 39-602, R.R.S. 1943.

The bill as drafted sets forth section 39-602, R.R.S. 1943, including all of its 113 subsections. The only subsection of this section affected by Legislative Bill 624 is subsection 52. You ask if the provisions of Article III, Section 14 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska mandates the reproduction of all of these subsections in the amendatory legislation where only a particular subsection is involved.

Article III, Section 14 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska provides in pertinent part:

“ . . . And no law shall be amended unless the new act contain the section or sections as amended and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed. . . . ”

The only decision of the Nebraska Supreme Court with reference to this constitutional provision which we believe to be directly on point is the 1896 decision of that court in State ex rel. City Water Co. v. City of Kearney, et al., 49 Neb. 325, 68 N.W. 533. In this particular case a section of law containing 36 subsections was amended by an act which contained only the particular subsection involved and did not recite all of the other 35 subsections. The Nebraska Supreme Court in discussing the constitutionality of the act stated:

“ . . . While the act under consideration is amendatory of said section 69, it does not contain the entire section thereby amended, but merely the subdivision charged (sic). This does not contravene the provisions of . . . the constitution, which declares: 'no law shall be amended unless the new act contains the section or sections so amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed.' In amending statutes it is necessary that all parts of the amended law should be set forth in the new act, and the old statute so amended repealed. The constitution requires that the section as amended shall be set out. This court has more than once held that the word 'section,' as employed in the constitutional provision above quoted, refers to a subdivision of a legislative enactment, and that a law to amend a certain subdivision of a section which contains the subdivision so amended is not inimical to said clause or the constitution. [Citations Omitted]"

In spite of the fact that this decision is over 80 years old we believe it to be a controlling decision on this question. Therefore, we would be of the opinion that your proposed amendment might be accomplished through a Legislative Bill containing only the recitation of the language of the subsection involved indicating the amendment and a statement within the act, indicating that the prior subsection is repealed.

We reach this conclusion with respect to the provisions of Article III, Section 14 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska. We do however, call to your attention that Rule 5, section 2(b) of the Rules of the Nebraska Unicameral set forth identical language to that used in the Constitution and given the language of Article III, Section 10, of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska giving the Legislature the exclusive power to determine its own rules of proceedings we express no opinion as to whether or not a Legislative Bill drafted in the manner you propose would be in conflict with this legislative rule.

If we can be of further assistance to you on this matter please let us know.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 197
January 17, 1980

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have asked us whether LB 661, which would distribute a part of the receipts of parimutuel betting to the counties, would endanger the tax exempt status of Ak-Sar-Ben, with either the state or federal governments. We are sure that it would not affect their status, so far as exemption from property tax is concerned. We cannot speak authoritatively on the question of exemption from federal income tax, but we have no reason to suspect that the bill would have any effect in that regard.

We are informed that Ak-Sar-Ben property is exempt from property tax under section 77-202(1) (c), which provides exemption for property owned by and used exclusively for agricultural and horticultural societies. This exemption is authorized by Article VIII, section 2 of the Nebraska Constitution.

LB 661 would amend section 2-1207, R.R.S. 1943, to provide that one half of the so-called breakage in parimutuel betting should be paid to the State Treasurer to be placed in the newly-created County Tax Relief Fund. The bill would also amend section 2-1208.01 to provide that half of the tax on parimutuel betting should be placed in the same fund. Section 4 of the bill provides that the money in that fund shall, from time to time, be divided equally among the counties in the state.

We fail to see how these provisions could even arguably affect Ak-Sar-Ben's status as an agricultural and horticultural society. That is the statutory test, and nothing in LB 661 would change its status.

We are not in a position to rule on the effect of the bill on federal exemptions. We are not sure under what federal provision Ak-Sar-Ben claims exemption from federal income tax, but we note that 26 U.S.C. Section 501 (c) (5) gives such exemption to agricultural and horticultural organizations. If Ak-Sar-Ben is exempt under that provision, requiring them to pay a tax or other payment to the State Treasurer, to be put into a fund for the benefit of various counties would not seem to change the nature of the organization.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General
Ralph Gillan
Assistant Attorney General

Mr. Patrick J. O'Donnell
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol, Room 2018
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. O'Donnell:

Enclosed please find a copy of the response which I received from Assistant Secretary Stanley J. Marcuss of the Department of Commerce in response to my request for an embargo on the export of locomotives, switch engines, and freight cars.

Pursuant to Legislature Resolution 53 passed during the First Session of the Eighty-Sixth Legislature, I wrote to President Carter to request an embargo on the export of this equipment. I have enclosed a copy of my letter to the President of August 7, 1979. I am respectfully requesting that you make both my letter to the President and the Department of Commerce response available to the Senators.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter, and I remain

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) JOHN J. CAVANAUGH
Member of Congress

JJC/tlt
Enclosure

August 7, 1979

The Honorable Jimmy Carter
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

In light of the current grain storage and shipment crisis resulting from recent high prices of wheat and feed grains and from the acute shortage of covered hopper railroad cars and boxcars in the Midwest, I am respectfully requesting that you exercise the power of your high office to impose an immediate embargo on the export of railroad locomotives, switch engines and freight cars until such time as all outstanding orders for this equipment from domestic railroads have been filled.

In addition, I urge you to instruct the Interstate Commerce Commission to order all railroads operating in the eastern United States to immediately return covered hoppercars, boxcars and fertilizer cars to the railroads of the Midwest, so that the current transportation shortage can be eased.

Mr. President, I'm sure you are aware of the crop failures currently being experienced by the Soviet Union and the potential for large foreign grain sales resulting from these crop failures. The prospects for bumper crops of wheat, corn, and soybeans in the United States this year are excellent. However, grain elevators and terminals throughout the Midwest are filled to capacity with recently marketed grain produced in previous years and are now refusing to purchase additional quantities of grain until such time as current stocks can be shipped. The result, of course, is the inevitable stockpiling of this year's harvest on the ground, exposed to the elements and the risk of loss of a substantial percentage of total production. This is a situation which can be averted through action on your part, and I strongly encourage you to take the necessary action.

I thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) JOHN J. CAVANAUGH
Member of Congress

December 20, 1979

Honorable John J. Cavanaugh
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Mr. Cavanaugh:

Thank you for your letter of August 7 addressed to the President requesting that exports of locomotives, switch engines, and freight cars be embargoed until such time as all outstanding orders for this equipment from domestic railroads have been filled. I apologize for the delay in responding to you; however, I understand our respective staffs have been in contact on this issue.

The recently-enacted Export Administration Act of 1979 authorizes the Commerce Department to control exports "where necessary to protect the domestic economy from the excessive drain of scarce materials and to reduce the serious inflationary impact of foreign demand."

In response to your request for action, this Department initiated a preliminary assessment of the rail transportation situation to determine if exports of locomotives, switch engines, and freight cars were contributing to a domestic shortage of these items. At present, our conclusion is that exports of these items have not contributed to such a shortage.

For the most part those locomotives, switch engines, and rail cars which are exported from the United States are either: (1) obsolete equipment, below United States performance and safety standards;

(2) built under long-term contracts to European specifications which are incompatible with the U.S. rail system; or (3) destined to Mexico and Canada, countries whose rail transportation systems are interlinked with our own, with rolling stock being freely used on both sides of the border. Thus restricting the export of these items would not alleviate the rail transportation shortage.

This Department has long been concerned with the chronically overloaded rail transportation system, as ever larger volumes of an increasing variety of commodities compete for available cargo space.

In the past, interagency consultations have been initiated in an effort to determine if any action could be taken under the Export Administration Act to alleviate this situation. Then, as now, our conclusion is that exports do not contribute to the problem.

Please let me know if this Department can provide any other assistance in reaching a solution to this problem.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Stanley J. Marcuss
Acting Assistant Secretary for Industry and Trade

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 198
January 21, 1980

Re: Proposed Legislation for Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection

Dear Senator Wesely:

Our office is in receipt of your letter of January 11, 1980, in which you have requested an opinion concerning proposed legislation regarding the motor vehicle safety inspection statutes. At the present time our office is involved in litigation in the Douglas County District Court regarding the constitutionality of the statute as a whole. Certain attacks have been made concerning the various exemptions contained in section 60-1701, R.R.S. 1943. It is urged that the various exemptions are unreasonable and arbitrary, thereby making the law unconstitutional.

In that our office is defending the constitutionality of the statute in its present form, it would be inappropriate for us to render an opinion concerning the merits of the case. However, the exemption given to car dealers and to their employees (including their respective families) has been attacked. In the event that this particular exemption is declared to be unconstitutional or invalid, it would appear that the legislation which you have proposed would cure a defect in the law. However, it should be noted that other exemptions have been attacked as well.

We would also point out that the decision rendered by Judge Burke did not determine the constitutionality of the statute. This issue is pending at the present time, and is still to be resolved.

If our office can be of further assistance to you on this matter, please contact the undersigned.

Sincerely,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 199
January 21, 1980

Re: Motor Vehicle Inspection
Statutes

Dear Senator Cullan:

Our office is in receipt of your letter of January 8, 1980, in which you have inquired as to the current status of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law in the State of Nebraska. At the present time our office is defending an attack upon the constitutionality of the inspection statute as a whole in the Douglas County District Court. The ruling by Judge Burke in this matter was not determinative of the status of the current law and the Department of Motor Vehicles is continuing to enforce the law in its present form.

In that our office is defending the current law, it would be inappropriate to render an opinion on the merits of the case. The attack that has been made in the pending litigation centers around the various exemptions which are granted pursuant to section 60-1701, R.R.S. 1943. In the event that the lawsuit is successful, the various exemptions may be declared invalid.

If our office can be of further assistance to you in this matter, please contact the undersigned.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

The Chaplain announced Mr. Fowler is doing well after his surgery yesterday.

Father in Heaven, we pray this day for the gift of hearing.

It may be strange to pray for that when we are surrounded by sound. We are being continually spoken to by the media. Lobbyists and other representatives of specific segments of our society send their messengers regularly. Our constituents are in contact on weekends and quite often in between.

But do we hear the voice of the poor, the lame, the halt, the down trodden, the prisoner, the institutionalized?

Father, we beg you for the power to hear them; to hear the counsel of one another; to hear Your voice. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mrs. Labeledz and Mr. Fowler who were excused; and Messrs. DeCamp, George, Haberman, Kremer, Lewis, and Simon who were excused until they arrive.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 200
January 18, 1980

Dear Senator Wagner:

You have requested our opinion regarding whether or not the waters of the Missouri River are included within the terms of Section 46-202, R.R.S. Neb. 1943, as it presently appears in our statutes.

Section 46-202 provides:

"The water of every natural stream not heretofore appropriated within the State of Nebraska is hereby declared to be the property of the public and is dedicated to the use of the people of this state, subject to appropriation as herein provided."

In your request, you indicate that your uncertainty regarding this matter arises from the fact that Section 46-202 refers to water "within" the state. Inasmuch as the Missouri River waters are along the border of our state, you wonder whether those waters are comprehended by the statutory terms, and therefore a part of our state's appropriation system.

The question you raise has never been addressed by the Nebraska Supreme Court. Accordingly, and until such time as that occasion arises, we are unable to answer your question with absolute certainty. We are of the opinion, however, that the language of Section 46-202 could reasonably be interpreted to comprehend the waters of the Missouri River.

Our opinion is based upon the enabling Act of Congress passed April 19, 1864, which provides in pertinent part in section 2 that: ". . . the said state of Nebraska shall consist of all territory included within the following boundaries, to wit: . . . Thence down the middle of the channel of the said Missouri River, and following the meanderings thereof, to the place of beginning." Hence, because the eastern boundary of Nebraska is located "down the middle of the channel" of the Missouri River, its water should be deemed to be "within" the State, therefore within the terms of Section 46-202, and correspondingly, a part of our state's appropriative system. That interpretation appears to be in harmony with other statutory and constitutional provisions relating to water use in this State, particularly Article XV, section 6, of our Constitution which declares, in part that:

“ . . . The right to divert unappropriated waters of every natural stream for beneficial use shall never be denied except when such denial is demanded by the public interest. . . .”

In closing, we wish to emphasize that while we are of the opinion that the waters of the Missouri River are presently included by the language of section 46-202, we do not wish to imply that such an interpretation will, in fact, be given the language of Section 46-202. The precise meaning of the statute awaits further clarification by the Legislature and/or interpretation by our highest court. Accordingly, and in that connection, inclusion of “or border” after the word within; or “including the Missouri River” immediately following “the State of Nebraska” --as you have suggested--would certainly aid in clarifying the statute. Either of those suggested changes would unquestionably serve the purpose of meeting any objections or challenges which might otherwise be made to the notion that the waters of the Missouri River are subject to appropriation pursuant to Section 46-202.

We hope the foregoing has been of some assistance to you. If you have further questions, please don't hesitate to ask. We remain available to assist you.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 201
January 21, 1980

Dear Senator Warner:

In your letter of January 14, 1980, you requested our opinion on two questions set forth as follows:

1. Is a county agricultural society established under the provisions of 2-201 to 2-220.04 a political subdivision?
2. Is a county fair board established under the provisions of 2-221 to 2-237 a political subdivision?

We assume, for purposes of this discussion, that by the term “political subdivision,” you were referring to the traditional concept of a political subdivision of the state, or a public entity created by an act of the Legislature. See, e.g., Wight v. McGuigan, 94 Neb. 358, 143 N.W. 232 (1913).

As referenced in your separate questions above, the Nebraska statutes addressing matters with regard to county agricultural societies and fairs are divided into two general parts. Part 1, section 2-201 through and including section 2-217, Neb.Rev.Stat. (Reissue 1977), deals with the formation of a county agricultural society, and the general powers of such a society in conducting fairs, and working with the county board in the assessment of certain levies for fairground improvements, acquiring fairground property, etc. Sections 2-221.01 through and including 2-237, Neb.Rev.Stat. (Reissue 1977), provide for a separate procedure for the conducting and support of county fairs by popular election within the county, and generally under the coordination of the county board and a county fair board appointed by the county board. It is necessary to consider these distinctions in responding to the separate questions you have raised.

We have had occasion to previously consider the question of whether a county agricultural society is a public agency, or for purposes of this discussion, a political subdivision of the state. Relying on earlier decisions of the Nebraska Supreme Court, such as Wilson v. Thayer County Agricultural Society, 115 Neb. 579, 213 N.W. 966 (1927), and Crete Mills v. Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, 132 Neb. 244, 271 N.W. 684 (1937), we opined that an agricultural society is organized and empowered to act in a fashion similar to that of a private corporation, as opposed to a governmental agency. Those previous opinions, No. 98 and No. 144, 1977-1978 Report of the Attorney General, are enclosed herewith. Consistent with that judicial reasoning, we would advise you that a county agricultural society is not a political subdivision of the state.

A county fair board, however, is a different type of entity, appointed by the county board which is elected in each of the respective Nebraska counties. The county fair board, therefore, serves at the pleasure of elected officers who represent the county, a political subdivision of the state under the rationale set forth in Wight v. McGuigan, supra. We would therefore consider the county fair board a governmental body serving a political subdivision of the state.

We trust this correspondence answers the questions you have raised, and invite you to contact the undersigned attorney if you have further questions.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Friday, January 25, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

We know, our Father, that there are times to speak and times to be quiet. Help us to tell the one from the other. When we should speak, give us the courage of our convictions and the sincerity of our beliefs. When we should keep silent, restrain us from speaking, lest in our desire to appear wise, we give ourselves away. Teach us the value of taking times for quiet and reflection, that we may use these times to know ourselves better, to gain new insights into the lives of others around us, and above all, to understand Your will the best of all, for then we shall truly be wise. Amen.

Monday, January 28, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:02 a.m.,
President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Oh God, coming back from a weekend, it's easy to exchange conversation about some of the obvious good things that have come our way, but as we gather now before You, we would reflect on those good things that have come to us disguised, or reached us in round about ways, we think of an unwelcome problem that shifted the center of our trust from ourself to You; of different people who entered our life without our willing or wanting, and in time expanded our horizons and made us better for their guidance; of some prize that toppled from our grasp as we strained to reach it, causing us to change course and in the changing to discover life itself. We remember long nights of heavy-hanging doubt that issued in a wiser, sturdier faith in the morning; explosive arguments that aired differences between us, routed sham, located issues, and made an authentic meeting of the minds possible; challenges to our power that deflated the ego and left us with a humbler estimate of self. For these and other back-door mercies, we thank You, God! Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Simon who was excused; and Messrs. Chambers, Fitzgerald, George, Hoagland, Lewis, and Sieck who were excused until they arrive.

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 29, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Oh God, hear us as we pray for those within this chamber and those for whom we legislate who are finding life too much; those who seem consigned to live on the ragged edge of poverty; those for whom Your name is a word on a coin, who have never heard that You are Love, or seen that Love in those about them; those who have paid too much for their success and yearn to recover a soul lost along the way; those who are slipping ever deeper into self-destructive habits and lack the will to extricate themselves; those who are expected to be what they are not; those who prefer to live at 33-1/3 RPM's but find life spinning toward them at a dizzying 78.

Oh God, the strength of all who seek You in every generation, turn our hearts and minds to You, that as leaders of the people of this state, we may stand as those whose moorings are secure; whose hearts are right, whose minds are sharp, and whose wills are set on building a better life for all. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 202
January 23, 1980

Dear Senator Kelly:

In your letter of January 21, 1980, you call our attention to Legislative Bill 221 and the adoption of an amendment to this legislation on January 16, 1980. You inform us this legislation is intended to amend section 53-103(23) and would, in pertinent part, provide as now amended:

“Minor shall mean any, (a) for purposes of consumption on the premises, any person under nineteen years of age, and (b) for purposes of consumption off the premises, any person twenty-one years of age, regardless of marital status.”

You express a concern with the choice of the word “premises” and therefore ask what, in our opinion, is a reasonable construction of the term “premises”. Corpus Juris Secundum in Volume 72 at page 484, states with regard to this term:

“The word ‘premises’ has various meanings depending upon the subject matter in connection with which it is used. It has no fixed legal significance, and no definition applicable to every situation.”

The authors of this legal encyclopedia go on to point out that the word has two entirely different meanings and in its most popular usage signifies lands and tenements, and the buildings thereon.

The word also is used in a legal context to mean that which has been before mentioned or matters previously stated or set forth or that which is proposed. A third meaning of this word, which is of no relevance here, is the introductory proposition of syllogism from which the conclusion is deduced.

While the amendment proposes to use this term within the Nebraska Liquor Control Act, section 53-101, et seq., and while the words “premises” and “licensed premises” are used throughout the Act, there is no definition provided within the Liquor Control Act of this term. It may be of some interest to note that the authors chose the phrasing “the premises” as opposed to selecting the phrase “a premises,” whether or not the significance of the placement of the article “the” in front of the word premises as opposed to the article “a” has any particular significance, cannot be deduced from the amendment itself and there does not appear to any legislative history at this stage which would help explain this choice.

We do believe that it can be said with certainty that the term premises as used within this amendment, refers to some kind of building or lands and is probably not used in its purely legal sense, as meaning something which has gone on before. Nevertheless, as you suggest in your letter of inquiry, whether or not the use of this term premises in this amendment refers only to premises which are licensed by the Liquor Control Commission or whether they refer to any piece of land or property which might be considered a premises is not known. You do indicate to us that in some informal communication from the amendment's sponsors, they expressed an opinion that it would permit a person nineteen years of age or older ". . . to drink alcohol by the drink at a bar, a party in a friend's house, or in a similar supervised setting." It would therefore appear that at least in the sponsor's mind the word "premises" would have a broader connotation and meaning than would be implied by "licensed premises". We would suggest that if there is as much confusion about the breadth of the definition of this term as there appears to be, perhaps this matter should be cleared up by further amendment either selecting some more definitive word than premises, or inserting in front of the word premises the word "licensed".

You also ask since the amendment speaks only of "consumption" and not "purchase", whether or not the amendment could be interpreted as permitting nineteen and twenty year olds to consume, but not purchase alcohol on the premises. We would agree that such an interpretation could be made. As you know of concern here, is a definitional section within the entirety of the Nebraska Liquor Control Act. The provisions relative to minors possessing and purchasing alcoholic liquors are found beginning at section 53-180, R.R.S. 1943, and continue as is relevant here, through section 53-180.02, R.R.S. 1943. Section 53-180, supra, provides as is pertinent here:

"No person shall sell, give away, dispose of, exchange or deliver, or permit the sale, gift or procuring of any alcoholic liquors, to or for any minor, . . ."

Therefore, substituting the definition of minor as amended for the term minor in section 53-180, it would appear as though an individual who is less than twenty-one years of age, is a minor only for purposes of "consumption off the premises" and is not a minor for purposes of "consumption on the premises". Therefore, even after substituting this definition for the term "minor" used in section 53-180, no provision is made for the selling, giving away, disposing of, etc., alcoholic liquors to such persons. The workability of this definition may be less difficult with reference to section 53-180.02, supra, concerning the offense of minors in possession.

Here again, we are of the opinion that if there is confusion as to whether or not you or the authors of this amendment intended to permit persons who are under the age of twenty-one years to purchase liquor for consumption on premises, either licensed or otherwise, that matter should be cleared up at this time and not left subject to speculation at a future time.

We also call to your attention, that while you are proposing that the definition of minor be changed in section 53-103, R.R.S. 1943, there are three other places within the Liquor Control Act wherein in lieu of the word "minor", the words "nineteen years" are used. These instances are in the second and third paragraphs of section 53-180.02, R.R.S. 1943, and in section 53-180.04, R.R.S. 1943, wherein the mandatory language of the warning to minors sign is set forth. We would suggest that if the definition of minors is to be changed, that some attention be given to amending those instances wherein the words "nineteen years" are used so that the intention of the Legislature with respect to the context in which the words "nineteen years" are used will be clear.

In conclusion, there appears to be considerable confusion and ambiguity as to the intended meaning of several of the words and terms used in this act. We would therefore suggest that efforts be made now to resolve these problems to avoid unnecessary litigation and to avoid the potential of a judicial interpretation inconsistent with legislative intent.

Sincerely,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

SECOND SESSION*FIFTEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, January 30, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:04 a.m., President Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Dear God, as we rise each morning during these cold days of winter, we look at our thermometer, shiver, and maybe complain. Even when we walk into this chamber, our souls sometimes shiver when we get the cold shoulder, or our bill is frozen in committee, or no one warms up to our ideas. Yet, when the thermometer drops, we do have an alternative; we can turn the thermostat up. So it is with us who stand before You now, some of us are like thermometers, others are like thermostats. Some of us merely record what goes on around us, while others change the atmosphere. Help us all, in those areas where genuine values are at stake, to be change agents for a better environment, that by our speaking and voting, by our choosing and compromising, by the work we do in committee rooms, and the halls of this building, or at our desks, that we be like thermostats that help to regulate a more moderating environment for all where, without boiling or freezing, each citizen of this State may better be able to enjoy the good life in a climate of understanding and equality, liberation and justice. Amen.

We feel a sense of the history and heritage of this House each time we stand for prayer, O Lord our God: so many others have stood here where we now stand. And we know that some of the things we now do will also become a part of that continuing stream of history - destined, perhaps, to be remembered even when our names are long since forgotten. Inspire us day by day, O God, by an understanding of the history of which we are a part. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 204
January 30, 1980

Dear Senator Venditte:

You have requested that we review LB 605 for any constitutional problems. LB 605 is entitled "AN ACT relating to crimes and punishments; to provide the offenses of unlawful assembly and refusing to disperse; to limit liability; and to provide penalties."

As the title suggests, three separate concepts are embodied within LB 605. The first relates to unlawful assembly. Clearly, constitutional implication exists in such a statute by virtue of the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States which in part provides: "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging . . . the right of the people to peaceably assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances" and Article I, Section 19, of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska which provides: "The right of the people peaceably to assemble to consult for the common good and to petition the government, or any department thereof, shall never be abridged."

Section 1 of LB 605 provides that certain assemblies are unlawful. In subsection (a) it is provided that whenever a person, together with two or more persons, assembles with intent to do an unlawful act with force and violence against the person or property of another or against the peace or (b) after being lawfully assembled, shall agree with force and violence to act against the person or property of another or the peace shall be guilty of a Class III misdemeanor. Courts which have considered such questions have generally held statutes similar to that proposed under LB 605 relating to unlawful assemblies to be valid exercise of the constitutional police power of the state. LB 605, section 1, is essentially similar to the provisions of section 28-804 under the criminal code of the State of Nebraska as it existed prior to the adoption of the new criminal code. An extensive annotation at 71 A.L.R.2d 875 sets out the authority of the state to regulate assemblies. It is our view that section 1 is constitutional as written.

Section 2 establishes the crime of refusing to disperse. There are three circumstances under which the crime might occur. First is where a proclamation is made commanding them to disperse by a judge, sheriff, peace officer or ministerial officer; second, a proclamation is attempted to be made or is prevented or absent a proclamation; and third, persons are lawfully assembled but commit an unlawful act. There is little or no question that the state may authorize appropriate officials to determine that a crowd has become a danger and authorize the appropriate official to order a dispersal in such circumstances. However, some standards must be established to guide that determination. In section 2 no such standards are established. It simply authorizes the making of a proclamation. A number of cases have struck down statutes where no standards existed. Such statutes have also failed where they were overly broad.

In the statute under consideration our prime concern is that there are no ascertainable standards which would guide the discretion of the official in determining that a proclamation to disperse should be made. Conceivably under the statute as it is written, if a police officer observed three individuals standing on a corner, he could make a proclamation that they should disperse. Clearly, such a proclamation would be of questionable constitutional validity. However, if there were standards to limit the discretion of an officer to circumstances where there was some reasonable threat of harm, such proclamation would be defensible. We do not intend to say that one may never order a group of individuals to disperse. We simply say that the statute must have some ascertainable standards which would guide the discretion of those making such an order.

Section 3 of LB 605 is legally meaningless. It states that an officer acting in a lawful manner is guiltless. Only by acting in an unlawful manner could an officer be guilty.

Sincerely,

Opinion No. 205
January 30, 1980

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have provided to us proposed amendments to LB 605. You have asked whether or not the amendments would withstand attack on a constitutional basis alleging vagueness or overbreadth. In essence, your amendment provides that:

“A person engages in disorderly conduct if such person intentionally creates an unreasonable risk of injury to the person or property of others by any act.”

Generally, the question of whether or not a statute may be susceptible to the challenge on the basis of vagueness arises in terms of whether or not a reasonable individual must necessarily guess what conduct is proscribed by the statute. Use of the language “an unreasonable risk of injury to the person or property of others by any act” would not require a guess at what conduct would fall within the terms of the statute. Some fairly clear standards on the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the risk of injury have been developed through case law. We believe that an attack on this basis could be successfully defended.

With respect to overbreadth, the case law in the area of disorderly conduct has generally narrowed the application of such statutes to those situations where an immediate danger of harmful results exist, sometimes referred to as fighting words where words are involved. Under the amendment as drafted an act is required. Most of the overbreadth attacks have related to protected free speech as opposed to acts. Therefore, we believe it could be successfully defended.

Section 2 authorizes a police officer to order participants and others to disperse where three or more persons are engaged in the course of disorderly conduct. Generally such statutes can withstand constitutional attack. See, Annotation, 65 A.L.R.2d 1152, failure or refusal to obey police officer's order to move on, on street, as disorderly conduct. Generally it is within the province of the Legislature to establish situations under which law enforcement officers may be authorized to order dispersal of crowds. It is necessary in such statutes that standards be established in order to guide the discretion granted to such officers. In the present statute, it is our opinion that a standard is established. The act authorizes action where an act has occurred. Thus, we believe such a provision could be defended against a constitutional attack.

We enclose with this letter a copy of an opinion issued this date to Senator Venditte which addresses similar questions and in some respects is relevant to the issues you have raised.

Sincerely,

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Chambers asked unanimous consent to print the following in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

FROM: SENATOR ERNIE CHAMBERS
TO: MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE
RE: ILLEGAL "ADVANCEMENT" OF LB 525 FROM SELECT FILE ON 1/25/80

The attached material—floor debate and excerpt from page 32 of Legislative Rule Book—should convince every Member that a misstep was made in the handling of LB 525. To save the Bill and the integrity of the Legislative process, we should correct the misstep.

Had the President not announced the vote, there would have been no problem. However, once he put it into the record that less than the required number of votes was cast, the problem sprang into existence.

PRESIDENT: All right, the question then is, shall LB 525 be advanced to E & R for engrossment? All those in favor signify by saying aye, opposed nay. LB 525 is advanced by a vote of three to one. Now the Speaker has asked that we waive Select File and go down to General File since the morning is half over. Yes, Senator Chambers, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Chairman, I just want the record to be clear that what you said about advance by three to one was done...stated facetiously, that the necessary majority for advancement did vote.

PRESIDENT: I am not sure that it was said facetiously, Senator Chambers, and I will say it when I mean it facetiously. I will tell you so.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Then I have made my point for the record and (interruption).

PRESIDENT: I said it passed and that is enough. I said it passed and that is enough. Thank you, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBER: Mr. Chairman, I challenge the Chair.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: My child is here. Now, when an official act is placed by the Legislature relative to a bill, it is necessary that a proper majority as laid out by the Constitution placed that act and the Journal and the record are utilized in determining what the Legislature's action was. So if a bill was advanced at a time when twenty-five votes are required and the Chair states that less than that number of votes were given, the bill did not legally advance, and if you continue to act as it did, the bill is in jeopardy. Now I have made my point. I will withdraw my challenge. Let the bill go.

From P. 32 (Rule 6)

(i) Any bill failing to receive 25 votes to be advanced to E & R Final after two attempts shall be indefinitely postponed.

The following votes shall be required to adopt the following motions affecting bills on Select File.

ANNOUNCEMENT

MOTION - Rule Changes

Mr. Beutler moved the adoption of the following rule changes:

PROPOSED RULES CHANGE

(1)

IN Revamp of Rule Three, Section 14, add a new subsection (c) to read as follows:

(c) A closed meeting may be held to compile and analyze information, investigate accusations or take testimony on the following matters only:

1. Matters the immediate public knowledge of which would adversely and significantly impact the finances of a government unit.
2. Matters relating to the employment of legislative personnel.
3. Matters which would imperil the public safety if disclosed.
4. Matters which may unjustly injure or unfairly reflect on the reputation and character of involved persons.
5. Matters relating to confidential business data such as the financial affairs or trade secrets of corporations, partnerships, trusts or individual proprietorships.
6. Matters involving the current or future investigation or prosecution of criminal offenses.
7. Matters involving consultation with the committee's counsel which would be deemed privileged in an attorney-client relationship.

In "Revamp of Rule Three", add a new section 19 to read as follows, and strike the original investigating committee section as shown:

("Revamp" section 3(f))

~~Sec. 22 Investigating Committees. The Committee on Committees may appoint other select committees when authorized by the Legislature. No investigating committee of the Legislature shall be created except by resolution which shall set forth, with supporting statements, the reasons for and the purposes of the investigation, and no committee thus established shall function except during the interim between legislative sessions.~~

Sec. 19

(a) It is within the inherent power of any legislative committee to gather information pursuant to its regular functions, and to conduct investigations of matter within its subject-matter jurisdiction.

(b) A committee's power of subpoena should not be exercised unless the committee has determined that no other method of securing the desired information would be successful or practicable, and that the matter is of primary importance to the welfare of the State of Nebraska.

(c) A committee of the Legislature conducting an investigation and gathering information, whether pursuant to Legislative direction or pursuant to its regular functions of oversight and bill preparation, shall observe the following procedures in addition to regular committee procedures whenever subpoenas are issued:

1. Issuance of Subpoenas

(i) A committee may by majority vote of all of its members, taken at a meeting properly called, issue a subpoena requiring a person to appear before the committee and be examined in reference to any matter within the scope of the inquiry or investigation being conducted by the committee.

(ii) The committee may also issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum requiring any person to appear before the committee and bring with him or her any books, papers or other documents pertinent thereto.

(iii) While the Legislature is in session, a committee deciding to issue subpoenas in an investigation must promptly report each issuance to the Legislature. A record shall be made in the Journal reflecting the date subpoena was issued, to whom it was issued, for what purpose it was issued, and the date on which testimony or production of documents is to take place. Under extraordinary circumstances the identity of the person subpoenaed may be withheld from publication if necessary to protect the safety of an individual or the confidentiality of the matter under investigation.

(iv) A person subpoenaed to attend a hearing of an investigating committee shall receive the same fees and allowances as a person subpoenaed to give testimony in an action pending in a court of record.

2. Notice to Witnesses

(i) Service of a subpoena requiring the attendance of a person at a hearing of an investigating committee shall be made in the manner provided by law for the service of subpoenas in civil actions at least seven days prior to the date of the hearing unless a shorter period of time is authorized by majority vote of all of the members of the committee in a particular instance when, in their opinion, the giving of seven days notice is not practicable; but if a shorter period of time is authorized, the person subpoenaed shall be given reasonable notice of the hearing, consistent with the particular circumstances involved.

(ii) Any person who is served with a subpoena to attend a hearing of an investigating committee also shall be served with a copy of the act defining the purpose of the committee, a copy of the rules under which the committee functions, a general statement informing him or her of the subject matter of the committee's investigation or inquiry and a notice that he or she may be accompanied at the hearing by counsel of his or her own choosing.

3. Conduct of the Hearing

(i) No investigating committee which has issued a subpoena directing a witness to appear at a hearing shall question the witness unless a quorum is present throughout the questioning.

(ii) All hearings of an investigating committee shall be public unless the committee, by majority vote of all of its members, determines that a hearing should not be open to the public in a particular instance, due to extraordinary circumstances consistent with legislative rule 3, section 14 (c) regarding closed meetings.

(iii) The chairperson of an investigating committee shall preside at all hearings and shall conduct the examination of witnesses himself or herself or supervise the examination by other members of the committee. The committee may by majority vote of all its members authorize the questioning of a witness by the committee's counsel or by special counsel.

4. Right to Counsel and Submission of Questions

(i) Every witness at a hearing of an investigating committee may be accompanied by counsel of his or her own choosing, who may advise the witness of his or her rights, subject to reasonable limitations which the committee may prescribe to prevent obstruction of or interference with the orderly conduct of the hearing.

(ii) Any witness at a hearing, or a witness' counsel, may submit to the committee proposed questions to be asked of the witness or any other witness relevant to the matters upon which there has been any questioning or submission of evidence, and the committee shall ask such of the questions as it deems appropriate and relevant to the subject matter of the hearing.

5. Testimony

(i) An investigating committee shall cause a verbatim record to be made of all proceedings in which testimony or other evidence is demanded or offered, which record shall include rulings of the chair, questions of the committee and its counsel, the testimony or responses of witnesses, sworn written statements submitted to the committee and read into the record, and such other matters as the committee or its chair may direct.

(ii) All testimony given or offered at a hearing shall be under oath or affirmation if the witness has been subpoenaed, and in other cases if a majority of the committee members present at the hearing so decide.

- (iii) The presiding member at a hearing may direct a witness to answer any relevant question or furnish any relevant book, paper or other document, the production of which has been required by subpoena duces tecum. Unless the direction is overruled by majority vote of the committee members present, disobedience shall constitute a contempt.
- (iv) A witness at a hearing or his or her counsel, with the consent of a majority of the committee members present at the hearing, may file with the committee for incorporation into the record of the hearing sworn written statements relevant to the purpose, subject matter and scope of the committee investigation or inquiry.
- (v) Testimony and other evidence given or offered at a hearing closed to the public shall not be made public unless authorized by majority vote of all of the members of the committee, which authorization shall also specify the form and manner in which the testimony or other evidence may be released.
- (vi) A witness at a closed hearing, upon request and at his or her own expense, shall be furnished a transcript of his or her testimony at the hearing.
- (vii) All information of a defamatory or highly prejudicial nature received by or for the committee other than in an open or closed hearing shall be deemed to be confidential. No such information shall be made public unless authorized by majority vote of all of the members of the committee for legislative purposes, or unless its use is required for judicial purposes.

6. Interested Persons

- (i) Any person whose name is mentioned or who is otherwise identified during a hearing of an investigating committee and who, in the opinion of the committee, may be adversely affected thereby, may, upon his or her request or upon the request of any member of the committee, appear personally before the committee and testify in his or her own behalf, or, with the committee's consent, may file a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record of the hearing.
- (ii) Upon the consent of a majority of its members, an investigating committee may permit any other person to appear and testify at a hearing or submit a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence of incorporation into the record thereof. Upon the consent of a majority of its members an investigating committee may invite any other person to appear at a hearing or submit a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record thereof. No invitation to appear, and no request to appear, appearance, or submission of evidence shall limit in any way the investigating committee's power of subpoena.

(iii) Any person who appears before an investigating committee pursuant to this section shall have all the rights, privileges and responsibilities of a witness provided to all other witnesses.

7. Contempt.

A person shall be in contempt if he or she:

1. Fails or refuses to appear in compliance with a subpoena or, having appeared, failed or refuses to testify under oath or affirmation.

2. Fails or refuses to answer any relevant question or fails or refuses to furnish any relevant book, paper or other document subpoenaed by or on behalf of an investigating committee, or

3. Commits any other act or offense against any investigating committee which, if committed against the Legislature would constitute a contempt. The chairperson of an investigating committee may apply to the Legislature or, during the interim, to the District Court of any county to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt.

8. Penalties.

(i) A person guilty of contempt under the provision of these rules shall be subject to punishment pursuant to R.R.S. 50-105 and 50-106 during the session, or to R.R.S. 50-407 when the legislature is not in session.

(ii) If an investigating committee fails in any material respect to comply with the requirements of these rules, any person subject to a subpoena or a subpoena duces tecum who is injured by such failure shall be relieved of any requirement to attend the hearing for which the subpoena was issued or, if present, to testify or produce evidence therein; and such failure shall be a complete defense in any proceeding against such person for contempt or other punishment.

(iii) Any person other than the witness concerned or his or her counsel who violates subsections of these rules concerning the publication of testimony taken at a closed hearing, or the publication of confidential information held by the committee, shall be in contempt of the Legislature, or, if a member of the Legislature, shall be subject to sanction or suspension according to the statutes governing the Legislature. The speaker on his or her own motion or on the application of any person claiming to have been injured or prejudiced by an unauthorized disclosure may institute proceedings for the determination of the issue and for the imposition of penalties provided herein. Nothing in this subsection shall limit any power which the Legislature may have to discipline a member or employee or to impose a penalty in the absence of action by a prosecuting officer or court.

(c) Limitations of Rules

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit or prohibit the acquisition of evidence or information by any committee by any lawful means not provided for herein.

Referred to the Rules Committee.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 206
January 29, 1980

Re: LB 525

Dear Senator Sieck:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the meaning of "physical disability" as used in section 1, line 6 of LB 525. The term is there used in the definition of "group homes" when one is "receiving therapy, training, or counseling for the purposes of adaptation to living with, or rehabilitation from physical disability. . . ."

Since the term "physical disability" is so broad it usually covers about any type of impairment to the body. For example, in the case of Quirk v. Electric Machinery Manufacturing Co., 306 Minn. 326, 236 N.W.2d 782, the court held that ten percent permanent partial disability of the hands and wrists was "physical impairment" within the meaning of the state's second injury statute. In Witcher v. Capitan Drilling Co., 503 P.2d 652, the court held that the word "disability" as used in the scheduled injury section stating "for disability resulting from an accidental injury to specific body members including the loss or loss of use thereof. . ." means physical impairment.

In Fuchs v. Old Line Life Insurance Co., 174 N.W.2d 273, the court held that "giving 'physical impairment' the ordinary meaning as used in common speech, the term denotes a defect or infirmity limiting or making useless a member or limb of the body."

We are of the opinion that, as used in LB 525, "physical disability" would apply to any type of physical impairment for which the person was receiving therapy, training or counseling for the purpose of adapting to live with such impairment. We are not convinced a court would construe it to include one suffering from drug or alcohol abuse; it would be safer to include those terms if you want them to be covered under "group homes."

If you have any further questions in this regard, please contact us.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 207
January 30, 1980

Dear Senator Koch:

This is in response to your letter of January 28, 1980. In that letter you ask two questions which pertain to LB 668 of the Eighty-Sixth Legislature, Second Session (1979). The same are hereinafter discussed.

1. "Is the proposed amendment to section 70-446 [sic] necessary to legally allow a member of a school board to be employed as a substitute teacher?"

Yes. Except part-time county superintendents who by law serve on a board of education, no member of a board of education can legally be employed at the present time as a teacher by the school district which is governed by the board of education on which he or she serves. See, Neb.Rev.Stat. section 79-466 (Reissue 1976).

2. "Would the proposed amendment, if adopted, violate any statutes relating to conflict of interest?"

Section 1 of LB 668 states as follows:

"No member of a board of education shall be employed as a teacher by the school district on which board he or she serves; except that, this section shall not apply to a part-time county superintendent who by law serves on a board of education nor to a member who is employed as a substitute teacher only."

It appears to us that section 1 of LB 668, which is quoted above, could create a host of conflicts of interest if it were to become operative law. Consider the potential conflict of interest when the board of education sets the salary of substitute teachers; if it were necessary for the board of education to investigate an alleged unsatisfactory classroom performance by a board member-substitute teacher; or if it were necessary for the board of education to conduct a hearing to determine if a student should be suspended or expelled because of conduct which was observed by the board member-substitute teacher. In addition, if a board member-substitute teacher were paid in excess of two thousand dollars for services in any one school year, Neb.Rev.Stat. section 79-442 (Reissue 1976), could be violated. The bottom line, of course, is that it is impossible to cite each and every possible conflict of interest. There are undoubtedly many more.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 208
January 31, 1980

Dear Senator Venditte:

You have requested our opinion concerning the constitutionality of Request No. 1304 which would amend section 28-310 of our statutes to provide for enhanced punishment of third degree assault when such act is committed by a person committed to or in the legal custody of the Department of Correctional Services. Request No. 1304 raises the penalty from a Class I misdemeanor to a Class IV felony.

We assume your concern is whether either the state or federal Constitution would allow legislation providing for an enhanced penalty for an act when committed by a particular class of persons. Our opinion is limited to that issue. Section 28-411(2), R.S.Supp. 1976, contained provisions almost identical to those contained in Request No. 1304. That section provided that a misdemeanor penalty be imposed upon any person who "unlawfully strikes or wounds another" except when a person was "confined or in legal custody in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex * * *, or in the State Reformatory for Women." In the case of the latter two classifications of persons, section 28-411 provided for the imposition of a felony penalty. The constitutionality of that section was challenged in State v. Holland, 183 Neb. 485, 161 N.W.2d 862 (1968), and was found not to violate the equal protection provisions of either the state or federal constitution. In so holding the court stated:

“The Legislature with good reason might recognize special needs for discipline and safety in administration of the penal complex and the women’s reformatory. . . . ‘* * * a State is not constrained in the exercise of its police power to ignore experience which marks a class of offenders or a family of offenses for special treatment.’ [Citations omitted.]” 183 Neb. at 488.

Therefore, in our opinion, the provisions of Request No. 1304 do not violate the Equal Protection Clause of either our state or federal Constitution.

Yours truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 209
January 23, 1980

Dear Senator Beutler:

In your letter of January 16, 1980, you call to our attention Legislative Bill 507 dealing generally with the revitalization of branch railroad lines in Nebraska and seek our opinion as to the constitutionality of several of this act's provisions.

Generally this legislation would create a Branch Rail Revitalization Council composed of industry, government and general public representatives and would carry out the intentions of the act including assisting Regional Councils in financing local branch line revitalization projects in certain specified manners. This legislation would also create a Branch Rail Line Revitalization Fund in the State Treasury into which any monies appropriated by the Legislature for the purposes of the act would be placed in addition to any other monies received from other sources. Additionally, the act would provide for the formulation of certain Regional Branch Rail Line Councils consisting of counties, cities, villages, combinations of political subdivisions and other persons interested in the revitalization of branch rail lines. These Regional Councils would devise specific local revitalization plans and would be authorized to issue regional bonds for the purpose of financing these plans.

You first ask whether or not the creation of such a "state agency" the purpose of which would be to receive and distribute state funds for the restoration of privately owned property is constitutional. Initially we question your categorization of this Branch Rail Revitalization Council as a "state agency." The only such reference we can find within this legislative bill is in section 13 where the following language is found:

" . . . The council shall be the agency responsible for administering programs and funds for rail line revitalization implemented pursuant to this act. . . ." (Emphasis added.)

We are not certain that the Legislature may, through such a passing reference to the term "agency" create an entity which would be considered a "state agency." It is more likely that what is being created here is not a state agency but rather a public or quasi-public corporation. However, if you are correct in your conclusion that this entity is a state agency, it would be only permitted to issue bonds in an amount less than one hundred thousand dollars which were issued solely for the purpose of meeting, ". . . casual deficits, or failures in the revenue, . . ." or be in violation of the provisions of Article XIII, section 1 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

Assuming that this Branch Rail Revitalization Council is not a state agency but is in reality a public or quasi-public corporation, the question remains whether or not the Legislature might expend funds to effectuate its purposes. We would be of the opinion that the resolution of this question lies in the examination of the issue as to whether or not a public purpose is being advanced by its creation and funding.

The Nebraska Supreme Court in two recent cases has had an occasion to discuss what constitutes public purpose. In State ex rel. Douglas v. Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, 204 Neb. 445, 283 N.W.2d 12 (1979), the court stated as follows:

"What is a public purpose is primarily for the Legislature to determine. A public purpose has for its objective the promotion of the public health, safety, morals, security, prosperity, contentment, and the general welfare of all the inhabitants. No hard and fast rule can be laid down for determining whether a proposed expenditure of public funds is valid as devoted to a public use or purpose. Each case must be decided with reference to the object sought to be accomplished and to the degree and manner in which that object affects the public welfare . . . [citations omitted.] It is the province of the Legislature to determine matters of policy and appropriate the public funds. If there is reason for doubt or argument as to whether the purpose for which the appropriation is made is a public or a private purpose, and reasonable men might differ in regard to it, it is essentially held that the matter is for the Legislature . . . [citations omitted.]” 204 Neb. at 457, 458.

The court in State ex rel. Douglas v. Thone, 204 Neb. 836, N.W.2d (1979), held as follows:

“The principles which must guide this court in the determination of whether the act contemplates a public purpose are these: ‘It is for the Legislature to decide in the first instance what is and what is not a public purpose, but its determination is not conclusive on the courts. However, to justify a court in declaring a tax invalid because it is not for a public purpose, the absence of public purpose must be so clear and palpable as to be immediately perceptible to the reasonable mind.’ Chase v. County of Douglas, . . . [195 Neb. 838, 241 N.W.2d 334].” 204 Neb. at 843.

After setting forth examples where that court had found a valid public purpose and examples where they had not, they specifically held as follows:

“ . . . Competition with private industry does not in and of itself make the expenditure one for a private purpose. The fact that the plants and facilities may be managed by private corporations or individuals under management contracts does not make the purpose private. This is clearly a case in which the court cannot say the legislative determination of public purpose is incorrect.” State ex rel. Douglas v. Thone, 204 Neb. at 845.

It appears to us from an examination of Legislative Bill 507 and an examination of the recent decisions of the Nebraska Supreme Court that this legislation may well satisfy the requirement that it fulfill a valid public purpose, however, we caution you that the court did state that while a legislative declaration of public purpose carries with it certain presumptions of validity, such a declaration is not conclusive on the court. State ex rel. Douglas v. Thone, supra.

In this regard we suggest that the avowed stated purpose of this legislation is extremely broad and manifests itself only in general concepts such as revitalization and the formulation of plans. It may be difficult in light of the most general direction given to both the statewide council and the various regional councils for a court to ascertain the exact purpose of this legislation let alone the validity of that purpose.

You next ask in light of the language of section 20 of Legislative Bill 507 which directs that each Regional Council shall be a, "political subdivision of the state" whether or not this designation is proper given the fact that these Councils will be made up of other political subdivisions and, ". . . any other person which desires to revitalize a branch rail line." (section 20). While it appears somewhat irregular for a political subdivision to consist of entities which are not political in and of themselves, we do not believe that the inclusion within this designated "political subdivision" of persons which are defined in section 8 as ". . . any corporation, partnership, joint venture, unincorporated association or other business entity, or natural person" would necessarily result in any violation of our Nebraska Constitution.

It does appear that as a result of the inclusions within this entity of these nonpolitical entities that designating it a "political subdivision" is probably a misnomer and may very well result in unnecessary confusion and possible litigation. It would appear as though the private entities could either be eliminated from the Regional Council and the resulting political subdivisions combined under the Interlocal Cooperation Act, sections 23-2201, et seq., or section 20 could be amended to delete the political subdivision classification and these Regional Councils could also be designated public or quasi-public corporations.

If these Regional Councils are to remain political subdivisions we do warn you of the provisions of Article XI, section 1 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, which provides:

"No city, county, town, precinct, municipality, or other sub-division of the state, shall ever become a subscriber to the capital stock, or owner of such stock, or any portion or interest therein of any railroad, or private corporation, or association."
(Emphasis added.)

We call this provision to your attention because of the provisions of this legislation which would permit Regional Councils to secure guarantees of their obligations incurred and to pledge any collateral they might possess to secure the obligations issued by the Regional Councils. It is conceivable that some railroad, private corporation or association might supply stock as collateral for bonds issued by the Regional Councils or might actually provide stock to generate money to be placed in the Branch Line Revitalization Fund or for the operation of the Regional Councils. While the potential inclusion within a Regional Council of a railroad, corporation, or association would not in and of itself appear to violate the provisions of Article XI, section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution, great care would have to be exercised as to their financial relationship to the Council itself.

You also ask whether or not the use of state appropriated funds for the administrative costs of such subdivisions, some members of which may be private entities, is unconstitutional. We believe that regardless of the exact legal status of these Regional Councils, the question is basically one of whether or not monies appropriated are for a public purpose. If a public purpose is to be achieved then we feel that no constitutional violation would exist.

Additionally you ask whether or not the issuance of bonds by a political subdivision and the use of tax monies for the purpose of improving privately owned property is constitutional. We believe the answer to this question also lies in the resolution of the question of whether or not this act advances a valid public purpose.

Next you call to our attention the fact that a particular Regional Council might revitalize branch lines which are not physically within their geographical boundaries and ask if this would render such a provision unconstitutional. We do not believe that the fact that the act's effect would exceed the geographical limits of any of the Regional Councils would have any constitutional affect so long as whatever was done was done to advance a general public purpose.

You next ask if the Regional Councils default on any bonds issued, whether or not the state would be ultimately liable to these bondholders. We would be of the opinion that if the state were to be liable this legislation would fail as did the legislation in State ex rel. Douglas v. Thone, supra, as being violative of either Article XIII, section 1, or Article XIII, section 3, or both, of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska. It does appear, however, from the actual language of the legislation both in section 15 and section 22 that there is no intent to bind the state or to make the state guarantors of any of the bonds issued by either the Branch Rail Revitalization Council or the various Regional Councils. We would be of the opinion, however, that to insure the successful review of this legislation by a court stronger language, even than that utilized, perhaps should be inserted to establish legislative intent that the State of Nebraska was under no circumstances to be considered liable as a result of the issuance of any of these bonds.

Finally, we call to your attention the fact that the act provides that from a number of different sources monies are to be placed in the Rail Line Revitalization Fund (section 18). However, in section 19(2) it appears as though the Branch Rail Revitalization Council is being given authorization to spend monies placed in this fund for certain activities. We would be of the opinion that once monies are placed in this fund which is a part of the State Treasury, they may only be withdrawn through the means of legislative appropriation. Perhaps this fact was known to the drafters of this legislation but it appears as though the expectation was that the Council might draw upon this fund for its own administration and other needs. While the Legislature could, for a public purpose, appropriate monies out of this fund to the Branch Rail Revitalization Council or Regional Councils, these Councils would not be empowered to spend the monies absent such a specific appropriation. You may wish to consider this fact if any amendments are to take place.

If we can be of further assistance to you in this matter, please let us know.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 210
February 1, 1980

Dear Senator Dworak:

You ask whether the Legislature can constitutionally limit the use of all public funds utilized to purchase group insurance coverage by prohibiting the purchase of certain types of coverage. You have provided us with a copy of REQ 1416, since introduced at LB 891.

LB 891 in essence provides that no group insurance contract or health maintenance agreement paid for in whole or in part with public funds shall include coverage for abortions as defined in section 28-326. It additionally specifically limits its coverage to group policies and not to prohibiting insurers from offering individual public employees abortion coverage if the cost of such are borne solely by the employee.

Your question, of course, involves an interpretation of Board of Regents v. Exon, 199 Neb. 146, 256 N.W.2d 330 (1977). In that case the University challenged a number of acts passed by the Legislature. Those matters considered can be grouped in two general categories. The first is appropriations matters which dealt with the scope of the governmental power granted by the Constitution to the Board of Regents. The other category of matters dealt with in that case concerned actions to be taken by state employees not subject to the control or authority of the Board of Regents. As an example, certain requirements concerning planning, design, construction and modification of existing or new facilities were to be established and administered by the Department of Administrative Services. Central data processing was to be done through the state agencies as was purchasing. The court held in each instance that such statutes delegated governmental authority over the university to nonuniversity employees and thus violated the proscription of the provision of the Constitution vesting the governmental function within the Board of Regents.

Arguably, the basis upon which the court decided that case was solely the delegation to determine what discretionary action was to be taken to someone other than the Board of Regents. LB 891 does not delegate such authority to anyone. It establishes a general law effective as to all public funds. It would include local subdivisions of government as well as the university and the state. As such, no delegation question would arise under LB 891 and Board of Regents v. Exon would not affect the operation of LB 891.

The Nebraska Supreme Court stated:

“The trial court further found that the provision that the duties and powers of the Board of Regents ‘shall be prescribed by law,’ means that the Legislature may set forth the powers and duties of the Regents. With this finding we agree but this provision must be considered with the other language of the section which requires that the general government of the University be vested in the Board of Regents. Thus, although the Legislature may add to or subtract from the powers and duties of the Regents, the general government of the University must remain vested in the Board of Regents and powers or duties that should remain in the Regents cannot be delegated to other officers or agencies.” 199 Neb. at 148, 149.

The question then is whether or not LB 891 invades the province of the Board of Regents in exercising the general government of the university.

While the court also held that the Legislature was without authority to establish the salaries paid to employees of the University in Board of Regents v. Exon, it would seem to us that the determination of what areas may not be proper for public funding is an underlying policy decision. As long as such underlying policy decisions are adopted in such a manner that they affect the entire class — in this case all governmental entities — such statutes would not offend

Article VII, section 10, vesting governmental power in the Board of Regents. It is thus our view that LB 891 would not violate the constitutional provision heretofore cited.

Sincerely yours,

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 213
February 4, 1980

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in reply to your letter of January 30, 1980, concerning LB 306 as it has been amended as of January 30, 1980.

You ask this office to comment on the constitutionality of this act in general, on the effects of the Chambers amendment, and anything else that this office believes in studying the act might be pertinent for a legislator to know.

With your letter you enclosed a copy of LB 306 as amended. You also enclosed a copy of 40 Neb. L. Rev. 153 (1960). The law review article reviews section 30-624, R.R.S. 1943, which section was repealed in 1974. Section 30-624 was similar to LB 306.

It is the opinion of this office that LB 306 as amended prior to its amendment by Senators Chambers and Beutler was constitutional. The bill was carefully drafted to avoid the constitutional problems set forth in 40 Neb. L. Rev. 153.

This office is also of the opinion that LB 306 as amended, including the amendments by Senators Chambers and Beutler is constitutional.

Prior to amendment by Senators Chambers and Beutler, LB 306 as amended, provided in part as follows:

“Section 1. Upon the death of any joint owner of property, except a multiple-party account, the surviving joint owner shall be personally liable to the personal representative of the decedent for debts, taxes, and expenses of administration, including statutory allowances to the surviving spouse, minor children, and dependent children, if other assets of the estate are insufficient, to the extent of the decedent’s beneficial interest in the property immediately before his or her death...”

After amendment by Senators Chambers and Beutler, LB 306 as amended provided in part as follows:

“Section 1. Upon the death of any joint owner of property, except a multiple-party account, the surviving joint owner shall be personally liable to the personal representative of the decedent for debts contracted for in writing, taxes and expenses of administration, including statutory allowances to the surviving spouse, minor children, and dependent children, if other assets of the estate are insufficient, to the extent of the decedent’s beneficial interest in the property immediately before his or her death; Provided, no creditor shall have any rights after the death of the decedent than such creditor would have had prior to the death of the decedent...”

We take it from your letter that your main concern is the effect on LB 306 as amended if Senator Chamber’s proviso were to be construed totally contradictory or repugnant to the purview or main body of the bill. Even if the proviso added by Senator Chambers amendment could be construed as directly repugnant to the purview or body of LB 306 as amended, this would not render LB 306 as amended unconstitutional.

Our Supreme Court has not ruled on the effect of a proviso which is directly repugnant to the purview or body of an act. Other jurisdictions have ruled on this point and the majority rule is as stated in 73 Am. Jur.2d, Statutes, section 321:

“The fundamental principle of interpretation that effect should be given to all parts of a statute requires that some effect should be given to a proviso when that can be done in accordance with the recognized rules of construction. Similarly, since the office of a proviso is not to repeal the main provisions of the act but to limit their application, no proviso should be so construed as to destroy those provisions. While there is contrary authority, the rule now generally approved is that a proviso which is directly repugnant to the purview or body of the act is inoperative and void for repugnancy.”

Even if Senator Chamber's proviso were to be construed as partially inconsistent, this office is of the opinion that LB 306 as amended would not be unconstitutional. In 82 C.J.S. Statutes, section 381(4), it is stated at page 889:

“...It is generally agreed that, where the inconsistency is only partial, the proviso is valid and prevails to the extent of the inconsistency.”

No other comments are offered.

Very truly yours,

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Marvel presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Our loving Father, we are grateful for the privilege of responsibility. Often pressing decisions cause inward frustrations. We know thou hast put us here on earth not for a picnic, but for a pilgrimage. May we all endeavor to live up to our capacities. While asking for Thy guidance, may we not shun hard thought, deep resolves, and high integrity. While recognizing we have feet of clay and can be shattered by frustrations, never let us lose awareness of our supreme worth, for we have been created in Thy spiritual image, and destined to live as Thy children. Amen.

16 Sec. 4. All papers comprising a recall petition
17 shall be assembled and filed with the county clerk or 18 election commissioner as one instrument within thirty 19 days after the filing of the affidavit required in 20 section 2 of this act. The petition shall bear the 21 endorsements thereon of the names and addresses of three 22 persons designated as filing the same.

23 Sec. 5. Within ten days after the filing of the 24 petition, the county clerk or election commissioner shall 25 ascertain whether or not the petition is signed by the 26 requisite number of registered voters, and shall attach 27 thereto his or her certificate showing the result of such 1 examination. If the petition be insufficient, he or she
2 shall forthwith notify the person filing the petition
3 that the petition may be amended at any time within ten
4 days after the giving of such notice by the filing of a
5 supplementary petition upon additional petition papers
6 issued, signed, and filed as provided for the original
7 petition. The county clerk or election commissioner
8 shall, within five days after such amendment, examine the 9 amended petition, and attach his or her certificate
10 thereto as in the case of the original petition. If his 11 or her certificate shall show the amended petition to be 12 insufficient, or if no amendment was made, he or she 13 shall file the petition in his or her office without 14 prejudice to the filing of a new petition for the same
15 purpose.

16 Sec. 6. If the petition, or amended petition, 17 shall be found to be sufficient, the county clerk or 18 election commissioner shall submit the same to the county
19 board at its next regular meeting and shall notify the 20 officer or officers whose removal is sought of such 21 action. If such officer or officers do not resign within 22 five days after such notice, the county board shall,
23 within ten days of the receipt of the certificate from 24 the county clerk or election commissioner, order an 25 election to be held not less than thirty nor more than 26 forty-five days thereafter, except that if any other 27 primary or general election is to be held within ninety
1 days after the receipt of such certificate, the county
2 board may provide for the holding of the removal election
3 on the same date.

4 Sec. 7. The ballots at such recall elections
5 shall conform to the following requirements: With 6 respect to each person whose removal is sought, the 7 question shall be submitted, Shall (name of person) be 8 removed from the office of (name of office) by recall?
9 Immediately following each such question there shall be

10 printed on the ballots the two propositions, in the order
 11 set forth: For the recall of (name of person) and 12 Against the recall of (name of person). Immediately to 13 the left of the proposition shall be placed a square in 14 which the registered voters, by making a cross (X) mark,
 15 may vote for either of such propositions.

16 Sec. 8. If the officer is deemed removed, such 17 removal shall result in a vacancy in the office. Such 18 vacancy shall be filled as provided for filling of 19 existing vacancies in such office.

20 Sec. 9. Should a majority of the votes cast
 21 thereon at a recall election be against the removal of 22 the officer named on the ballot, such officer shall 23 continue in office for the remainder of his or her term,
 24 subject to recall as before. If a majority of the votes
 25 cast thereon, at a recall election, shall be for the 26 removal of the officer named on the ballot, he or she 27 shall, regardless of any technical defects in the recall
 1 petition, be deemed removed from office.

2 Sec. 10. No recall petition shall be filed
 3 against a county officer within six months after he or 4 she takes his or her office, nor within twelve months
 5 after a recall election has failed to remove him or her.

6 Sec. 11. Should the county board fail or refuse
 7 to order a recall election as provided in this act within 8 the time required, such election may be ordered by any 9 court of general jurisdiction in the county.

10 Sec. 12. That original section 23-2010, Reissue
 11 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and also section 12 23-2011, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are 13 repealed.”.

14 3. In the title, line 7 after “section” insert
 15 “, and also section 23-2011, Reissue Revised Statutes of 16 Nebraska, 1943”.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 214
February 4, 1980

Dear Senator Labeledz:

You have asked for an opinion pertaining to the constitutionality of LB 627. As you know, LB 627 is a bill which amends the provisions of the Local Option Tax Control Act, sections 77-3401, 77-3402, 77-3403, 77-3404, 77-3405, 77-3406, 77-3409, and 77-3410, 77-3411, R.S.Supp., 1979.

LB 627 in very general terms does certain things which make the imposition of a local taxing subdivision budget lid different than that provided by state law more difficult. It increases from 5-15% the required number of voters signing petitions to initiate an election. (See section 2). It limits the effect of such a budget limitation to a one year period. (See sections 3 and 4). It imposes certain costs on individuals and organizations filing such a petition and it would do away with any existing budget limitations already adopted by the voters. (See section 9). We have generally discussed several of these questions in opinion to Senator Stoney of this date. We would refer you to that opinion for discussion on specific questions.

Generally, the Legislature may adopt laws relating to the conduct of affairs by local political subdivisions. Our court has, on several occasions, characterized local subdivisions as creatures of statutes. See Schultz v. Dixon County, 134 Neb. 549, 279 N.W. 179 (1938) in which the court said:

“True, in Nebraska, a school district is a creature of statute, possessing no power whatever beyond those given by the legislature. . . .” Supra at 555.

and Lindburg v. Bennett, 117 Neb. 66, 219 N.W. 851 (1928) in which the court stated that a county is a creature of statute and has only such powers as are conferred by the Legislature. The Local Option Tax Control Act passed by the Legislature was a grant of certain powers to be exercised in specified ways relating to the government and operation of a local political subdivision. The Legislature may continue to regulate those areas. It is our view that the Legislature has the authority to adopt, amend or repeal legislation relating to the operation of local political subdivisions. Absent an effect upon vested rights such power is limited only by constitutional provisions. We find no constitutional deficiencies except those as previously noted in our opinion above referred to with the general purposes of LB 627.

You have also asked what affect LB 627 would have on budget lids adopted by Omaha and Nebraska City school district voters. It would require pure speculation on our part as to what affect LB 627 would have, thus we decline to render an opinion on that portion of your request.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Clerk of the Legislature

Opinion No. 215
February 5, 1980

Dear Senator Stoney:

You have asked us for an opinion on various aspects of LB 627. LB 627 generally may be described as an amendment of the local option lid law passed as LB 2, now codified as sections 77-3401 to 77-3411, R.S.Supp., 1979. We will answer your questions in the order in which you have asked them.

In your first question you ask whether or not section 2 of LB 627 places a constitutionally impermissible burden on the citizen's right regarding initiative and/or referendum. As you point out in your letter, section 2 of LB 627 amends section 77-3402. As it now appears, section 77-3402 authorizes an election when five percent of the registered voters of a political subdivision sign a petition which calls for a limitation on the budget of the political subdivision funded by ad valorem taxation. LB 627 increases that percentage to fifteen.

As a general proposition, of course, the Legislature has plenary authority except as limited by the Constitutions of the State of Nebraska and of the United States. The Nebraska Constitution reserves to the people the right of initiative and referendum in Article III, Section 2 and Section 3. Generally, an initiative is an action in which the people of the state, upon their own initiative, enact laws. The Constitution spells out the method to be followed in utilizing the power of initiative. A referendum is the power of the people to pass upon laws passed by the Legislature. Once again, the power is specified in the Constitution as are the methods to be followed in utilizing this power. Additional specifications for the power of initiative and referendum are contained within the statutes of the State of Nebraska.

The voters may initiate or refer laws contemporaneously with the Legislature. The Legislature may act even though the initiative or referendum process is occurring. See, Klosterman v. Marsh, 180 Neb. 506, 14 N.W.2d 744 (1966).

However, none of these powers have anything whatsoever to do with LB 627 or section 77-3401, et seq. The power of initiative and referendum is separate and apart from any statutory special election powers that may be created by the Legislature. The Legislature has seen fit, in the adoption of the Local Option Tax Control Act referred to above, to provide a particular vehicle that relates solely to budgets. Such an amendment is not affected by the provisions of the Constitution dealing with initiative and referendum.

In your second question you ask, "Does section 3 conflict with section 4 of LB 627 in that the year for which such limitations would be applicable cannot be readily determined from a joint reading of those two sections?" Section 3 provides:

"When a budget limitation is approved by the voters at a primary or special election held for such purpose, the budget for the year in which taxes will be levied to fund such budget, shall, except as provided in section 23-929, be limited as provided in the petition."

Section 4, in part, provides:

"The petition calling for a budget limitation election and the election notice shall refer to section 77-3402, state the percentage limitation placed on the budget for the ensuing year, and specify the year for which such limitation is applicable. . . ."

We can find no inconsistencies between the two sections. Section 3 provides that the budget shall be limited as provided in the petition. Section 4 provides that the petition shall specify the year for which such limitation is applicable. Section 4 further provides that the year in which the limitation is effective shall be the ensuing fiscal year.

Giving such terms their normal and natural meaning, we conclude that such elections shall be held at least 120 days prior to the date on which the fiscal year of the affected subdivision begins and shall affect the budget commencing in the fiscal year specified in the petition subsequent to such election. We find no inconsistencies in these provisions.

In your third question you direct our attention to section 8 of LB 627 and ask whether or not the proviso therein requiring the elections to be paid for by the individual or organization filing the petition places an impermissible burden on the exercise of such rights. The Nebraska Constitution, Article III, Section 18, provides in part:

"The Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following cases, that is to say:

" . . . .

"The opening and conducting of any election or designating the place of voting."

We believe that section 8 of LB 627 would be a local or special law in that it classifies a particular type of election differently from all other elections. Generally a law which operates equally upon an entire class would not fall within the prohibition of Article III, Section 18. Section 8 of LB 627 would operate alike on all elections held for the specific purpose of limiting the budget of a political subdivision. However, it has classified this particular type of election as different from all others. Section 32-417 provides:

“All ballots cast in election for public officers within this state shall be printed and distributed at public expense, as provided in sections 32-226 and 32-417 to 32-448. The printing of the ballots and cards of instruction for the electors in each county, and the delivery of the same to the election officers, shall be a county charge, the payment of which shall be provided for in the same manner as the payment of other county expenses. The expense of printing and delivering the ballots and cards of instruction to be used in any city, municipality, metropolitan utilities district, or other political subdivision elections shall be a charge upon the city, municipality, metropolitan utilities district, school district, or other political subdivision in which the elections shall be held.”

We believe that segregating such elections from all other elections is an unreasonable classification. Thus, we believe it is a violation of Article III, Section 18, and unconstitutional.

In your last question you ask whether section 9 of LB 627 is constitutional. Section 9 provides:

“Any limitation placed on a budget pursuant to the Local Option Tax Control Act prior to the effective date of this act shall not apply to any budget for a fiscal year commencing after the effective date of this act.”

As you are aware, under the Local Option Tax Control Act a budget limitation once imposed by a vote of the people remains until there is an affirmative vote to remove such limitation by a majority of all registered voters. We refer you to our Opinion No. 177, December 7, 1979, to Senator Orval Keyes in which this specific question was addressed. Generally, in that opinion we indicated that this area of law was uncertain. We adhere to the views expressed in that opinion and restate in modified form those views.

The Legislature generally has the authority to enact, repeal, amend and otherwise adopt laws for the government of local subdivisions. See Chase v. Douglas County, 195 Neb. 838, 241 N.W.2d 334. We pointed out in that opinion that section 10 of the Local Option Tax Control Act, section 77-3410, provided that any limitation imposed by the vote of the people would continue until there was a vote to remove that limitation. That provision, of course, was an act of the Legislature. The Legislature, by LB 627, would repeal that provision. As we indicated in our letter to Senator Keyes, we believe that such a specific repeal, coupled with an act that would eliminate existing budget limitations, might be sufficient to cure the problems we pointed out in our opinion to Senator Keyes. It is our further opinion that the specific provision of section 9 of LB 627 accomplishes that result. It is our opinion that section 9 could probably withstand an attack on its constitutionality.

Sincerely,
 PAUL L. DOUGLAS

- 4 2. Insert new sections as follows:
- 5 "Section 1. Sections 1 to 15 of this act shall
- 6 be known and may be cited as the Laetrile Research Act.
- 7 Sec. 2. The Legislature finds that recent
- 8 research has raised questions as to whether the use of 9 laetrile may provide protection from the advancement of 10 cancer. It is the intent of the Legislature that passage

11 of this act shall not constitute an endorsement of the 12 efficacy of laetrile in the treatment of cancer, but 13 represents only the Legislature's endorsement of a 14 program which will answer the questions of the relative
15 merits of laetrile as a tool in the fight against cancer.

16 The Legislature finds that health of the people
17 is one of its major goals and that there is a need for 18 further investigation of a therapeutic nature regarding 19 laetrile's effect on such illnesses. The Legislature
20 further finds that such investigation should be carefully
21 regulated. It is for such reasons that the Therapeutic
22 Research Act is hereby enacted.

23 Sec. 3. For purposes of this act, unless the 24 context otherwise requires:

1 (1) Committee shall mean the Patient
2 Qualification Review Committee created by section 5 of
3 this act;

4 (2) Department shall mean the Department of 5 Health;

6 (3) Director shall mean the Director of Health;
7 and

8 (4) Program shall mean the Laetrile Research
9 Program created by section 4 of this act.

10 Sec. 4. (1) There is hereby created within the 11 Department of Health the Laetrile Research Program. The 12 program shall be administered by the director. The 13 department shall adopt and promulgate rules and 14 regulations necessary for the proper administration of 15 this act.

16 (2) Except as provided in subsection (3) of 17 section 5 of this act, the program shall be limited to 18 cancer patients who are certified to the committee by a
19 physician as being involved in a life-threatening
20 situation and who are not responding to conventional 21 therapies or for whom these conventional therapies have 22 proven effective but expose the patient to intolerable
23 side effects.

24 (3) The director may protect the privacy of 25 individuals who are participants in the program by 26 withholding from all persons not directly connected with 27 the conduct of the program the names and other
1 identifying characteristics of such participants.
2 Persons who are given such information shall not be
3 compelled in any civil, criminal, administrative,
4 legislative, or other proceeding to identify the 5 individuals who are participants in the program, except 6 to the extent necessary to permit the director to 7 determine whether the program is being conducted in

8 accordance with the provisions of this act.

9 Sec. 5. There is hereby created a committee to 10 be known as the Patient Qualifications Review Committee.
11 The director, upon the recommendation of the State Board
12 of Health, shall appoint such committee to serve at his 13 or her pleasure. The committee shall consist of three 14 members including:

15 (1) A physician licensed to practice medicine in 16 the state and certified by the American Board of Internal 17 Medicine and also certified in the subspecialty of 18 medical oncology;

19 (2) A physician licensed to practice medicine in 20 the state and certified by the American Board of 21 Psychiatry; and

22 (3) A pharmacist licensed by the state and 23 certified by the American Board of Pharmacy.

24 Members of the committee shall serve at the 25 director's pleasure.

26 Sec. 6. (1) The committee shall review the 27 medical records of all applicants and shall certify those 1 patients who meet the requirements of subsection (2) of 2 section 4 of this act for participation in the program.

3 At the time of such certification, the committee shall 4 also authorize the patient's physician of record to 5 prescribe laetrile to the certified patient.

6 (2) The committee shall prepare a list of all
7 certified patients and their physicians authorized to 8 prescribe laetrile. Such list shall be updated on a
9 regular basis.

10 (3) Licensed pharmacies may apply for and be 11 approved to participate in the distribution of laetrile
12 pursuant to this act. The committee shall approve a 13 sufficient number of pharmacies for participation in the 14 program to provide reasonable access for certified
15 patients.

16 Sec. 7. The production and use of laetrile
17 should be carefully regulated and while the need to 18 prevent diversion of laetrile supplies for illegal
19 purposes is clear such regulation should not prevent 20 access for health purposes as outlined in this act. The

Eternal Father, we ask Thy divine guidance, strength, and sense of purpose be given to the members of this Legislature. ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 217
February 6, 1980

Dear Senator Beutler:

This is in response to your letter of February 5, 1980. In that letter you ask if your amendment to LB 44 of the Eighty-sixth Legislative Session, which is quoted below, deletes the matter we found unconstitutional in our opinion to you on May 4, 1979:

“For any tax year commencing on or after January 1, 1980, there shall be allowed a food sales tax credit of twenty-eight dollars. For each year thereafter the Tax Commissioner shall adjust the previous year's credit by a percentage equal to the percentage change from July 1 of the previous year to July 1 of the current year in the Food at Home computation of Consumer Prices published by the federal government in its Economic Indicators prepared for the Joint Economic Committee by the Council of Economic Advisers.”

In our opinion to you on May 4, 1979, we advised you that a previous proposed amendment to LB 44 was unconstitutional because it reposed an absolute, unregulated and undefined discretion in the State Tax Commissioner. Your proposed amendment, which is quoted above, deletes that matter. Therefore, subject to the limitations stated in our opinion to you on May 4, 1979, we are of the opinion that the proposed amendment quoted above is constitutional.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

February 4, 1980

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

In a letter to you, dated October 3, 1979, and found on page 57 of the Legislative Journal for First Day-January 9, 1980, confirmation of the Legislature was requested on the appointments of Allen Burkhardt, James Nils Ackerman, and Ivan Abdouch to the Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education.

Since these members are representatives of post secondary education, confirmation by the Legislature is not, after all, required. In accordance with Section 85-902 (2)(b) of the Nebraska Revised Statutes these gentlemen were appointed with the advice of the technical college area boards, the governing board of the independent colleges, and proprietary schools.

Any inconvenience caused by this clerical error is regretted.

Sincerely,

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 218

February 6, 1980

Dear Senator Hoagland:

You have requested this office to review the provisions of LB 261, as amended and passed to Select File, and to consider whether it accomplishes the intended objective without creating unanticipated problems.

LB 261 would submit to the electors an amendment to Article V, section 5, of the Nebraska Constitution regarding the nature and formation of Supreme Court judicial districts. Pursuant to said amendment, the judicial districts would correspond identically to the congressional districts of the state and an equal number of judges of the Supreme Court would be selected from each district. The term of office of any judge currently serving on the court would not be altered; such a judge would continue to serve from the district from which he was selected. Present constitutional language regarding the effect of redistricting would be retained. Said language provides that whenever the Supreme Court is redistricted, judges then serving continue in office and the law effecting the redistricting shall specify as necessary which newly established district such a judge represents for the remainder of his term.

As mentioned in your correspondence, tying judicial districts directly to congressional districts and mandating the selection of an equal number of judges from each district, may pose problems upon a change in the number of congressional districts. Pursuant to 2 U.S.C.A. § 2a, reapportionment of Representatives may occur after each decennial census of the population. If the number of Representatives to which Nebraska is entitled would increase to four or five, it would be impossible to comply with the mandate of selecting an equal number of judges from each district.

Similarly, problems might arise upon a change in the structure of the Supreme Court. A change in the number of judges on the court might render it impossible to comply with the mandate of selecting an equal number of judges from each judicial district. For example, if the number of judges on the court were to be increased to nine, since the Chief Justice is not selected from a judicial district, it would not be possible to comply with the mandate of selecting an equal number of eight judges from three districts.

The proposed constitutional amendment is presently feasible. However, its continued viability is contingent upon the constancy of the congressional districts as well as the structure of the Supreme Court. A change in either may necessitate further revision of this constitutional provision. In the event of the above described contingencies, changes necessitated thereby might be less troublesome if the constitutional amendment at issue would be of a more general nature, authorizing implementing legislation which could describe more particularly an interrelationship between congressional districts and Supreme Court judicial districts.

If we can be of any further assistance, please advise.

Yours truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 219

February 7, 1980

Dear Senator Murphy:

You ask our opinion as to the constitutionality of legislation supposedly implementing Article VIII, section 12 of the Nebraska Constitution, dealing with the acquiring and redeveloping by a city or village of substandard or blighted property. Part of the legislation you inquire about is found in LB 158, passed by the Legislature last year, and part is found in LB 986, which is now pending.

With respect to the provisions in LB 158, we must call your attention to the letter of this office to the Clerk of the Legislature, dated December 28, 1972, and found in Volume 1, page 36 of the 1973 Legislative Journal. We enclose a copy of that letter herein. In that letter we said that we could not give an opinion to a senator on the constitutionality of or interpretation of a bill which has already become law. This policy precludes our commenting on the provisions of LB 158, which provisions are now found in sections 18-2101.01 through 18-2153, R.S.Supp., 1979.

LB 986 would amend the third sentence of section 18-2101.01, R.S.Supp., 1979 to read as follows, with the amendatory language underlined:

“ . . . Any such city or village is also granted power and authority to do all community development activities, and to do all things necessary to cooperate with the federal government in all matters relating to community development program activities as a grantee, or as an agent or otherwise, under the provisions of the federal Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, Public Law 93-383, 93rd Congress or any such subsequent or similar legislation. . . .”

The question immediately arises as to whether this constitutes delegation of legislative authority to Congress, since it may be construed to grant to Congress the authority to enlarge or alter the powers of cities and villages by federal legislation. It is clear that the Legislature may adopt by reference the provisions of a federal act in force at the time of the passage of the state act. Smithberger v. Banning, 129 Neb. 651, 262 N.W. 1 (1935) makes it clear that to make the provisions of a state statute dependent upon federal legislation to be passed in the future constitutes an unlawful delegation of legislative power to Congress.

While it is, perhaps, not perfectly clear that the amendatory language was intended to alter the powers of cities and villages upon the amendment of federal laws, it is at least susceptible of that interpretation, and for that reason is, in our opinion, highly suspect.

Section 2 of the bill would amend section 18-2103 (12) (b), R.S.Supp., 1979 to add to the improvements authorized for a redevelopment project the following: public spaces, parking facilities, pedestrian shopping malls or plazas, sidewalks or moving sidewalks, convention and civic centers, bus stop shelters, lighting, benches or other similar furniture, trash receptacles, shelters, skywalks and pedestrian and vehicular overpasses and underpasses, and other useful and necessary public improvements.

As a constitutional matter, the only question is whether these would be public purposes. We believe they are. We are not sure precisely what is intended by shopping malls and plazas or convention and civic centers, but we assume that they would be public facilities, and would not involve the municipalities' getting into private commercial activities. So far as parking facilities are concerned, the Nebraska Supreme Court has held that the operation of parking facilities is a public purpose. See Omaha Parking Authority v. City of Omaha, 163 Neb. 97, 77 N.W.2d 862 (1956).

Section 3 of the bill would amend section 18-2107, R.S.Supp., 1979 to authorize a community development authority to establish a revolving loan fund. However, we find no other reference in the bill to this fund, and we have no way of knowing to what use the fund is to be put. If it were to be used to make loans to private individuals, such use might constitute lending the credit of the state in aid of individuals, associations, or corporations, in violation of Article XIII, section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution. Not knowing, however, what use the fund is to be put to, we cannot comment further. The mere establishing of a fund would not appear to involve a constitutional question.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, February 11, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Marvel presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

We are grateful for the lives of men and women who serve the needs of their times. The life of Abraham Lincoln speaks to us of the possibilities of our own lives. As we celebrate his birthday we would ask of Thee to help us to acquire his spirit of compassion, patience, and courage. Help us also to respond to the cries for help and guidance in our own times; this day is such a time; give us then a right spirit for the cries of this day. As Lincoln died to make men free, may we in our time enact those laws which shall further free the hearts and minds and lives of all in our day. Amen.

Eternal God, our Father, we are grateful for leaders of the past who stand out as peaks among the foothills. RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 198.

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District.

WHEREAS, the continuation of railroad service in Nebraska is essential to maintaining this state's most valuable industry, its agriculture, and a shutdown of a single railroad line will result in loss of income and sources of energy to this state and its citizens; and

WHEREAS, the Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered the Rock Island Line to continue service through March 2, after which date the line will be shut down, leaving Nebraska farmers, shippers, and coal plants along the line without economical alternatives to transport their products, unless other arrangements for the line's purchase or maintenance can be made; and

WHEREAS, railroads in similar financial conditions to the Rock Island Line have been or are being successfully operated through federal and state assistance or private investment; and

WHEREAS, Governor Thone has urged a study to be conducted on the possible investment in the Nebraska Rock Island Line by three private railroad companies and the Governor has further stated to the presidents of these railroads that Nebraska is prepared to assist them in their investments.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature requests the Department of Economic Development to conduct a study which will determine the costs and impact to the state if the state acquires, supervises, invests, or makes some other commitment, in the Rock Island Line which runs through Nebraska, in order to provide continued service on that line.

2. That the department's study be conducted with as much accuracy as possible and include, but not be limited to, the following areas:

(a) A compilation of the costs involved for the state if it acquires or maintains the Rock Island Line, or takes any other alternative action.

(b) The types and amounts of possible benefits available to the state as a result of such commitment by the state.

(c) The liabilities and any other obligations the state would acquire or be responsible for, by such action.

(d) The necessary length of the state's commitment or involvement in the Rock Island Line and the possibility of the state transferring control to private companies in the future.

(e) The possible alternatives and costs involved for the state in providing technical assistance and other aid to private companies investing in the line.

3. That the Department of Economic Development complete its study within ten days from the passage of this resolution, and immediately thereafter report its findings and recommendations to this Legislature.

Laid over.

MOTION - Return LB 44 to Select File

Mr. Beutler moved to return LB 44 to Select File for the following specific amendment:

1. On page 3, line 24 strike beginning with "equal" through "dollars", show the old matter as stricken, and insert ", in amount determined annually by the Tax Commissioner pursuant to section 2 of this act.".

2. Insert a new section as follows:

"Sec. 2. For the tax year commencing on or after January 1, 1980, there shall be allowed a food sales tax credit of twenty-eight dollars. For each year thereafter the Tax Commissioner shall adjust the previous year's credit by a percentage equal to the percentage change from July 1 of the previous year to July 1 of the current year in the Food at Home computation of Consumer Prices published by the federal government in its Economic Indicators prepared for the Joint Economic Committee by the Council of Economic Advisers. If the Tax Commissioner determines that the computation of the Food at Home category of Consumer Prices has been altered since the effective date of this act, the Commissioner shall set the food sales tax credit for all tax years following the change at the amount set for the last tax year prior to the change in the method of computation."

3. Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 220
February 7, 1980

Dear Senator Lewis:

This is in reply to your letter of January 29, 1980. In that letter you note that LB 652 of the Eighty-sixth Legislature (1979) "would raise the allowable mileage reimbursement for state employees for the use of their personal vehicles for state business from sixteen cents to twenty-one cents per mile. On reviewing the matter further" you note that "it would appear that a longer term solution to such reimbursement could be had by tying the reimbursement rate to some other mechanism." You then solicit our review of the following proposed amendment:

“If a trip is made by personal automobile at the convenience of the agency involved, the reimbursement rate shall be equal to the maximum amount allowed by the United States Internal Revenue Service as a standard mileage deduction for federal income tax purposes.”

Traditionally, the United States Internal Revenue Service has allowed a standard mileage deduction for federal income tax purposes. Thus any review of the above quoted proposed amendment must take into account at least two legal concepts. First, the Legislature may enact a statute in which it adopts by reference an existing law or regulation of another jurisdiction, including the United States. Hamilton v. Foster, 155 Neb. 89, 50 N.W.2d 542 (1951); Lincoln Dairy Co. v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N.W.2d 227 (1960); Pelzer v. City of Bellevue, 198 Neb. 19, 251 N.W.2d 662 (1977); Shepoka v. Knopik, 201 Neb. 780, 272 N.W.2d 364 (1978). Second, the Legislature, except as expressly authorized by the Constitution of Nebraska, may not lawfully enact a statute in which it adopts (1) administrative rules of a federal agency to be promulgated in the future or (2) an act of Congress of the United States to be passed in the future. Smithberger v. Banning, 129 Neb. 651, 262 N.W. 492 (1935). Hence if the above quoted proposed amendment were to become operative law, it would have to be construed to freeze the rate at which state employees are reimbursed to the standard mileage deduction that is allowed by the United States Internal Revenue Service at the time the above quoted proposed amendment is approved by the Legislature. Consequently, said proposed amendment would not, in our opinion, provide any more flexibility than if the Legislature itself specified a specific rate of reimbursement. There are, of course, other alternatives.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Almighty God, deliver us from the foolishness of impatience. Let us not be in such a hurry as to run on without Thee. We know that it takes a lifetime to make a tree; we know that fruit does not ripen in an afternoon, and Thou Thyself didst take a week to make the universe. May we remember that it takes time to build the State that can truly be called God's own country. It takes time to find out what weshould do; what is right and what is best. So slow us down for a minute, O Lord, that we may take time to think, time to pray, and time to find out what Thy will is for our lives and our State. Then give us the common sense and the firm courage to do it, for the good of our people and the glory of Thy name. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 221
February 5, 1980

Dear Senator Venditte:

This is in reply to your inquiry as to the constitutionality of LB 803 and LB 895 concerning the defense of insanity and jury challenges.

LB 803 would amend section 29-2203, R.S.Supp., 1978, which is the statute providing the procedure for the plea of not guilty by reason of insanity. This amendment places the burden upon the defendant to prove the defense of insanity or mental derangement by a preponderance of the evidence.

In 1952, the United States Supreme Court, in the case of Leland v. Oregon, 343 U.S. 790, 96 L.Ed. 1302, 72 S.Ct. 1002 (1952), upheld the constitutionality of an Oregon statute which required the defense of insanity to be proved by the defendant beyond a reasonable doubt.

The court noted that such a statute did not offend the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution even though, among the twenty states then placing the burden of proving his insanity on the defendant, Oregon was the only state requiring him to do so beyond a reasonable doubt.

In 1970, the United States Supreme Court declared in the case of In Re Winship, 397 U.S. 358, 25 L.Ed.2d 368, 90 S.Ct. 1068 (1970), that the due process clause:

“. . . protects an accused against conviction except upon proof beyond a reasonable doubt of every fact necessary to constitute the crime with which he is charged.”

In 1977, in its most recent examination of this question, the Supreme Court, in the case of Patterson v. New York, 432 U.S. 197, 53 L.Ed.2d 281, 97 S.Ct. 2319, reconsidered its holding in Leland v. Oregon, supra, in the light of the requirement of In Re Winship, mentioned above, and reaffirmed the holding in Leland v. Oregon. In the New York case it was considering a statute which provided a defense of "extreme emotional disturbance" which placed the burden upon the defendant of proving his affirmative defense by a preponderance of the evidence.

The court noted that it had also confirmed the constitutionality of the holding in Leland v. Oregon, supra after the In Re Winship decision, discussed above, when the court dismissed, as not raising a substantial federal question, a case in which the appellant specifically challenged the continuing validity of Leland v. Oregon, after the Winship case. This occurred in Rivera v. Delaware, 429 U.S. 877 (1976).

In the Patterson case, the United States Supreme Court emphasized, as it had in Leland v. Oregon, that the burden remained upon the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt every fact necessary to constitute the crime with which he was charged, but that this did not require the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt every fact, the existence or nonexistence of which, it was willing to recognize as an affirmative defense or a mitigating circumstance.

LB 895 would also amend section 29-2203 by making insanity an affirmative defense with the defendant having the burden of establishing it by a preponderance of the evidence, but cases in which deliberate and premeditated malice are explicit elements of the crime are excepted. The only crime in which these two elements are explicitly required is first degree murder as defined in section 28-303, R.S.Supp., 1978 of the new criminal code.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has consistently held that the burden of proving every fact necessary to constitute the crime, including the elements of deliberation, premeditation and malice, must be proved by the state beyond a reasonable doubt. Nebraska Jury Instructions 14.06, p. 298 and cases there cited. We do not foresee that the Supreme Court of Nebraska would change its requirements that the burden of proof is on the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt every fact necessary to constitute the crime charged should the Legislature adopt either of the above proposals placing the burden of proof upon the defendant to prove the affirmative defense of insanity by a preponderance of the evidence.

It is therefore our opinion that there is no constitutional problem with the insanity provision of either of said bills. LB 895 also provides that:

" . . . When deliberate and premeditated malice are elements of an alleged offense, the state continues to have the burden of proof when subsequent lesser-included offenses are considered."

We do not know if this is intended to mean that the state still has the burden of proof of sanity when lesser-included offenses are considered, whether it means that the state has the burden of proof generally, or whether it is implying that the state does not have the burden of proof when deliberate and premeditated malice are elements of an alleged offense. This should be clarified because any interpretation which would remove the burden from the state of proving every element of the crime beyond a reasonable doubt as to any offense, whether lesser-included or not, as opposed to shifting the burden of proof as to an affirmative defense, as discussed above, would clearly be unconstitutional.

LB 895 would also increase the number of peremptory challenges of jurors from ten to twelve in all cases punishable with death or life imprisonment; we see no problem with the constitutionality of this change.

If you have any further questions in regard to the above, please contact us.

Respectfully submitted,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 222

Dear Senators Cullan and Wesely:

LB 382 has been introduced as a bill to authorize the sale, prescription and administration of Laetrile for the treatment of malignancy, disease, illness, or physical condition on the request of the patient. You have asked whether the Food and Drug Administration has authority to forbid the transportation of Laetrile in interstate commerce because, according to the Court in United States v. Rutherford, ___ U.S. ___, 61 L.Ed.2d 68 (1979), Laetrile has not met the standards of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the Act). We have concluded that it does as discussed below.

You have also asked whether materials needed to manufacture Laetrile may be legally imported into the State of Nebraska. We have concluded that they may not as discussed below.

You have also asked whether LB 382, if passed, would be "special legislation" proscribed by Article III, section 18 of the Nebraska

Constitution. We have concluded that it probably would not be because it appears to operate in the same manner upon all persons in like circumstances. See Bauer v. Game, Forestation & Parks Commission, 138 Neb. 436, 293 N.W. 282 (1940).

The Act defines a "drug" to include articles intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease in man or articles intended for use as a component of such articles. 21 U.S.C. section 321(g)(B) and (D). The intended use of a product is determined from its label, accompanying labeling, promotional claims, advertising, and any other relevant source. See Hanson v. United States, 417 F.Supp. 30 (D.Minn. 1976), affm'd., 540 F.2d 947 (8th Cir. 1976). In that case the tablets and vials of Laetrile at issue were held to be "drugs" within the meaning of the Act. In Millet, Pit and Seed Co., Inc. v. United States, 436 F.Supp. 84 (E.D.Tenn. 1977), apricot pits sold with no claim that they were for use in diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease were found not to be a "drug" under the Act. In United States v. Articles of Food and Drug, 444 F.Supp. 266 (E.D.Wis. 1978), the defendants had produced crude amygdalin (Laetrile) in various forms at its plant in Wisconsin from raw materials shipped in interstate commerce. They then sold, shipped, and held for sale after shipment in interstate commerce amygdalin in various forms, including ground defatted apricot kernels, powdered, tableted, and injectables, and the components thereof. The amygdalin produced and sold by defendants was intended for use in the cure, mitigation, palliation, treatment and prevention of various forms of human cancer. The court concluded that the amygdalin was a "drug" within the meaning of the Act.

The Act defines a "new drug" to include any drug not generally recognized among experts as "safe and effective for use." 21 U.S.C. section 321(p)(1). The Court in United States v. Rutherford, _____ U.S. _____ (1979), recognized that the Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration had determined that Laetrile was a new drug which was not exempt from premarketing approval under either the 1938 or 1962 grandfather provisions and that the district court had approved these findings except with regard to the 1962 exemption. It noted that on appeal, the circuit court had held that the safety and effectiveness terms used in the statute had no reasonable application to terminally ill cancer patients. The Supreme Court disagreed. It held that there was no exception for drugs to be used for such patients.

The Act provides that "[n]o person shall introduce or deliver for introduction into interstate commerce any new drug" unless an application under 21 U.S.C. section 355 has been approved except for certain investigational use by qualified experts.

The Act defines "interstate commerce" to include commerce between any state and any place outside of that state. 21 U.S.C. section 321(b). In United States v. Sullivan, 332 U.S. 689 (1948), the Court found that the purpose of the Act was "to safeguard the consumer by applying the Act to articles from the moment of their introduction into interstate commerce all the way to the moment of their delivery to the ultimate consumer." It held that Congress had constitutional power under the commerce clause "to regulate the branding of articles that have completed an interstate shipment and are being held for future sales in purely local or intrastate commerce." It found that a pharmacist had violated the act by repackaging, without labeling required by the Act, a drug he had purchased from a wholesaler in his state seven months after that wholesaler had received it in interstate commerce.

In United States v. A Quantity of Candy Containing Trinkets, 95 F.Supp. 490 (E.D.Va. 1951), a vending machine in Norfolk, Virginia, contained candy and gum shipped from Chicago and trinkets shipped from Dallas. The court held the mixture dispensed by the machine was within the interstate commerce sweep of the Act as "held for sale (whether or not the first sale) after shipment in interstate commerce."

United States v. Sanders, 196 F.2d 895 (10th Cir. 1952), was a proceeding to show cause why defendant should not be prosecuted for criminal contempt for violation of an injunction restraining him from directly or indirectly introducing or delivering or causing to be introduced or delivered a drug which was misbranded within the meaning of the Act. Defendant claimed he was not violating the injunction because he had stopped using runners or drummers who went into other states to solicit orders for the drug. Instead he made all his sales from his place of business in the State of Oklahoma. The court held he was guilty of violation of the Act because he knowingly and regularly sold misbranded drugs and delivered them, knowing that they were purchased for transportation in interstate commerce, and he solicited customers to return for future purchases and deliveries. Although he was not engaged in interstate commerce with respect to the drug, he was engaged in delivering such a drug for introduction into interstate commerce. This was a violation of the injunction.

In Gadler v. United States, 425 F.Supp. 244 (D.Minn. 1977), Gadler had been diagnosed as having a form of cancer. He wanted to go to Mexico and bring some Laetrile back for his own use. He sought a preliminary injunction to restrain the defendants from barring his importation of Laetrile solely for his personal use. The court denied the injunction. It was convinced his proposed action would be a violation of the Act which applied to "person," a term covering an individual as well as a manufacturer or distributor.

Opinion No. 223
February 8, 1980

Dear Senator Johnson:

You have submitted to us a proposed amendment to LB 716, and have asked our opinion as to its constitutionality. In our opinion it would be difficult to defend the proposal from attack on the grounds that it violates the uniformity of taxation provision of Article VIII, Section 1, and is not authorized by the provisions of Article VIII, Section 2 of the Nebraska Constitution.

The proposed amendment would amend section 77-3506, R.S.Supp., 1979, by providing that the portion of the actual value of a homestead which would result in an ad valorem tax on such homestead in an amount which exceeds one and one half percent of the actual value of such homestead should be exempt from taxation.

The ramifications of this seemingly simple amendment are very complex, but we do not believe it is necessary to explore all of the possible difficulties of its application, because it seems clear that the exemption does not come within the language of the exemption authorized by Article VIII, Section 2 of the Constitution. The provision in question reads:

". . .The Legislature may by general law provide that a portion of the value of any residence actually occupied as a homestead by any classification of owners as determined by the Legislature shall be exempt from taxation." (Emphasis supplied.)

There is obviously no "classification of owners" involved in the proposed exemption. The classification is, rather, by location. If the residence is located in an area where the total taxes would exceed one and one half percent of its actual value, a portion of its value would be exempt. The extent of the exemption would depend upon the mill levy, the higher the levy, the greater the exemption. If the total mill levy in the area did not exceed the limitation, there would be no exemption.

Exemptions are not favored by the law. In OEA Senior Citizens, Inc. v. County of Douglas, 186 Neb. 593, 185 N.W.2d 464 (1971), the court said that statutes exempting property from taxation should be strictly construed, and one contending that his property is exempt must clearly show that he is within the exemption provided by statute. We believe the court would carry that logic one step further, and require that one claiming that an exemption was authorized by the Constitution must show that the Constitution clearly authorizes it.

As we have said, we do not believe the provision classifies the homesteads to receive the exemption by class of owners, and so is not specifically authorized by Article VIII, Section 2. It is therefore forbidden by the other provision of that section that no property shall be exempt from taxation except as provided in the Constitution. Not being specifically authorized by the Constitution the exemption would provide for nonuniform taxation, in violation of Article VIII, Section 1.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee for a long weekend we have recently enjoyed, and for the rest that it has afforded us from the usual round of responsibilities. We know that Thou art lovingly concerned about the way we live and how we wear ourselves out, taking less care of ourselves than we do of our cars. Bless Thy servants, the Senators, with good health and good sense to preserve it. Bless the members of their families. May they commit them all to Thy care, that no anxiety shall keep any one from doing his best-work. We feel that we have to do so many things that we would rather not do, even as we plea that we have no time to do some things we know very well we should do. Help us to make wise choices and proper use of our time. We wait upon Thee for the continual answer to our prayers. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 225
February 13, 1980

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in reply to your letter of January 30, 1980, concerning L.B. 306, as it has been amended as of January 30, 1980. It supplements our letter to you dated February 4, 1980.

In your letter you asked this office to supplement its opinion set forth in its letter to you dated February 4, 1980. Specifically, you ask whether the provisions of L.B. 306 as amended grant a different right to creditors after the death of the decedent for the allowance of claims for "debts contracted for in writing, taxes, and expenses of administration, including statutory allowances to the surviving spouse, minor children and dependent children" than the creditors would have had prior to the death of the decedent.

It is the opinion of this office that L.B. 306 as amended does grant a different right to creditors or claimants after the death of the decedent than such creditors or claimants would have had prior to the death of the decedent.

We know of no court decision or statutory provision which makes one joint owner of property personally liable for the sole or personal debts or obligations of another joint owner of property while the joint ownership exists. Nor are we aware of any court decision or statutory provision which makes one joint owner of property personally liable for the sole or personal debts or obligations of another joint owner of property upon or after termination of the joint ownership of property either by conveyance of his individual interest to a third party by one of the joint owners or by conveyance of his individual interest by one joint owner to the other joint owner.

In the case of a conveyance by one joint owner to the other joint owner, the grantee may become personally liable after conveyance to a purchaser in good faith if the conveyance of his individual interest by one joint owner to the other joint owner was with intent to defraud creditors. However, it is not the purpose of L.B. 306 as amended to deal with fraudulent conveyances by the deceased. Section 30-2471 R.R.S. 1943 covers fraudulent conveyances by the deceased.

It is the opinion of this office that L.B. 306 as amended confers a right upon creditors or claimants for claims set forth in L.B. 306 as amended which said creditors or claimants did not have prior to the death of the decedent. That right is to have the joint survivor held personally liable to the personal representative, if other assets of the estate are insufficient to the extent of the decedent's beneficial interest in the property immediately before his or her death.

You also ask in your letter if a different right to creditors is conferred by L.B. 306 as amended, does the Chambers' amendment make the bill in effect, contradictory.

In the broadest construction of the Chambers' amendment, there can be no doubt that Senator Chambers' proviso is totally contradictory and repugnant to the purview or main body of the act because a new right is conferred in the main body of the act and all who have the type of claim set forth in the main body of the act could be construed as being creditors. If our court were to so construe the bill, the proviso would be void and inoperative for repugnancy. This, of course, means the bill would be enforced as written prior to Senator Chambers' amendment.

It is the opinion of this office, however, that the bill would not be so construed. With respect to provisos, our Supreme Court in Kinney Loan & Finance Co. v. Sumner, 159 Neb. 57, 65 N.W.2d 240 (1954), states at page 67:

“The fundamental rule of statutory construction is to ascertain and, if possible, give effect to the intention or purpose of the legislature as expressed in the statute.’ 82 C.J.S., Statutes, §321, p. 560. The same rule applies to a proviso. In that regard, as stated in §381, p. 885: ‘A proviso should be construed together with the enacting clause or body of the act, with a view to giving effect to each and to carrying out the intention of the legislature as manifested in the entire act and acts in pari materia. A strict but reasonable construction is to be given to the proviso so as to take out of the enacting clause only those cases which are fairly within the terms of the proviso.’

With the foregoing in mind, a strict but reasonable construction to be given to the proviso so as to take out of the main body of L.B. 306 as amended, only those cases which are fairly within the terms of Senator Chambers' proviso, in our opinion, would be to exclude only “debts contracted for in writing”.

What is meant by “creditors” as used in Senator Chambers' proviso is the key to the construction to be given to the proviso. If “creditors” is intended to apply to “debts, taxes, expenses of administration, including statutory allowances, to the surviving spouse, minor children, and dependent children”, then the proviso would be void and inoperative for repugnancy. This construction, however, would give no meaning to the proviso.

Since the construction of a proviso is to be strict but reasonable, it is necessary to know what constitutes a strict but reasonable meaning of the word “creditors”. The following citations aid in determining such a meaning.

In construing who are creditors to be notified by a bank receiver by statute requiring such notice, our Supreme Court in State, ex rel. Spillman v. Ord State Bank, 117 Neb. 189, 220 N.W. 65 (1928), at page 193 stated:

“...but we think that the county was not a creditor, within the meaning of the statute, to whom notice was required to be mailed, for two reasons:

(1) The term ‘creditor’ is defined by Webster as ‘one who gives credit in business matters; hence, one to whom money is due;’ and in ordinary acceptance has reference to financial or business transactions. It is in this sense that the term is used in the statute.”

Our Supreme Court in Richards v. County Commissioners, Clay County, 40 Neb. 45, 58 N.W. 594 (1894), 42 Am.St. Rep. 650, stated at page 48:

“We think it is well settled, therefore, that a tax is not a debt capable of enforcement generally by civil action; ...”

In Logrbrink v. Eugene State Bank, 240 Mo. App. 517, 209 S.W.2d 265 (1948), the court stated at page 270:

“... ‘A creditor in its strict legal sense, is one who voluntarily gives credit to another for money and for other property, but, in its more general and extensive sense, is one who has a right by law to demand and recover of another a sum of money on any account whatever...’ ”

In Collins v. Ruffner, 185 Tenn. 290, 206 S.W.2d 298 (1947), the court stated at page 300:

“And in Williams v. Conrod, 30 Tenn. 412, at page 418, in construing the statute regulating the administration of estates, the court said: ‘ *** In the construction of this statute (Acts 1715, Chapter 48) it was settled at an early day, and the decision has been followed, that all persons are ‘creditors’ who have demands originating from contracts or agreements.’ ”

In an Indiana case, State, ex rel. Gentry v. O’Byrne, 221 Ind. 282, 46 N.E.2d 687, 689 (1943), construing a statute providing for granting of letters of administration to a creditor the court stated:

“...A creditor, within the meaning of the statute, is one to whom the decedent was indebted. Hillebrand v. Kinney, 172 Ind. 447, 87 N.E. 832, (1909), 19 Am. Cas. 788...”

In Boston v. Turner, 201 Mass. 190, 87 N.E. 634 (1909), the court stated at page 635:

“*** ‘Creditor’ is ordinarily used as the antonym of ‘Debtor’ and involves a debt and a credit. It commonly signifies one who holds some contractual obligation against another. *** A tax, however, has uniformly been held in this commonwealth not to be a debt.”

In the case of In re Brezin, D.C.N.J., 297 F. 300, the court stated at page 305:

“The government’s claim against bankrupt’s estate for ‘taxes’ is not to be classed with a creditor’s claim for the payment of an ordinary debt, for ‘taxes are not debts, but imposts levied for support of the government.’ (Citations omitted).”

It should be clear from the above authorities that a strict and reasonable construction of the word “creditor” in L.B. 306 as amended could only be applied to claims for “debts contracted for in writing” and is inconsistent therewith. In our letter of February 4, 1980, we stated that the rule governing such inconsistency is found in 82 C.J.S. Statutes, §381(4) at page 889:

“...It is generally agreed that, where the inconsistency is only partial, the proviso is valid and prevails to the extent of the inconsistency.”

It follows then, that Senator Chambers’ proviso would exclude “debts contracted for in writing”. The other classes of claims would remain unaffected by the proviso.

Very truly yours,

Attorney General

 11 (section 9-313) and the collateral is goods
 12 which are or are to become fixtures, then in 13 the office where a mortgage on the real
 14 estate would be filed or recorded.

15 (c) In all other cases, in the office of the 16 Secretary of State.

17 (2) A filing which is made in good faith in an 18 improper place or not in all of the places required by 19 this section is nevertheless effective with regard to any

 22 regard to collateral covered by the financing statement
 23 against any person who has knowledge of the contents of 24 such financing statement.

25 (3) A filing which is made in the proper place in 26 this state continues effective even though the debtor's
 27 residence or place of business or the location of the 1 collateral or its use, whichever controlled the original
 2 filing, is thereafter changed.

3 ~~(4) If collateral is brought into this state from~~
 4 ~~another jurisdiction, the~~ The rules stated in section
 5 9-103 determine whether filing is necessary in this 6 state.

7 (5) Notwithstanding the preceding subsections,
 8 and subject to subsection (3) of section 9-302, the 9 proper place to file in order to perfect a security
 10 interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a 11 transmitting utility is the office of the Secretary of 12 State. This filing constitutes a fixture filing (section 13 9-313) as to the collateral described therein which is or 14 is to become fixtures.

15 (6) For the purposes of this section, the 16 residence of an organization is its place of business if 17 it has one or its chief executive office if it has more
 18 than one place of business.

 20 the Uniform Commercial Code for filing and recording, a 21 filing officer may record the information provided by the 22 filing on computer facilities and allow public access to 23 such information.

24 Sec. 3. Telephone inquiries regarding 25 information provided by the filing shall be allowed. The 26 filing officer, his or her employees, or agents, are 27 exempted from all personal liability as a result of any 1 error or omission in providing information in response to
 2 telephone inquiries, except in cases of willful
 3 misconduct or negligence.

4 Sec. 4. A filing which is made in the proper
 5 place in this state prior to September 1, 1981, continues
 6 to be effective even though under this act the place of 7 filing has been changed. The effectiveness of any 8 financing statement or continuation statement filed prior 9 to September 1, 1981, may be continued by a continuation
 10 statement as permitted by the Uniform Commercial Code,
 11 except that if this act requires a filing in an office
 12 where there was no previous financing statement, a new 13 financing statement shall be filed in that office. Such 14 new financing statement may be filed within six months
 15 before the perfection of the security interest would 16 otherwise lapse. Any such financing statement may be 17 signed by either the debtor or the secured party. It 18 must identify the original financing statement and any 19 amendment or continuation thereof, state the office where 20 and the date when each filing was made, and the filing
 21 number thereof.

22 Sec. 5. This act shall become operative on
 23 September 1, 1981.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 20, 1980

Mr. Patrick O'Donnell
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Re: LR 30

Dear Mr. O'Donnell:

Prior to 1974 every Resolution passed by the Legislature was, by law, presented to the Governor. The Nebraska Constitution was amended in 1974, changing Article IV, Section 15 so that now only "every bill passed by the Legislature shall be presented to the Governor."

I am not unmindful of Section 2 of your Rules and Regulations, but I do not have constitutional authority to sign Resolutions.

For that reason I am returning this Resolution and will return without action all future Resolutions presented to me. The absence of signature should not be interpreted as either approval or disapproval of the Resolution.

Sincerely,
(Signed) CHARLES THONE
Governor

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 226
February 19, 1980

Dear Senator Kelly:

In your letter of February 12, 1980, you ask on behalf of the Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee whether or not the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund is an agency as that term is defined in section 84-901(1), R.S.Supp., 1978, and if the rules the fund is authorized to adopt pursuant to section 76-1626, R.S.Supp., 1978, are rules as that term is defined in section 84-901(2), R.S.Supp., 1978.

You further inquire whether, if the Mortgage Finance Fund is such an "agency" and if its rules fall within the above cited statutory definition, these rules are subject to your Committee's scrutiny and approval.

Section 84-901, provides in subsections (1) and (2) as follows:

"(1) Agency shall mean each board, commission, department, officer, division, or other administrative office or unit of the state government authorized by law to make rules, except the Adjutant General's office as provided in Chapter 55, the courts, including the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court, the Court of Industrial Relations, and the Legislature;

“(2) Rule shall mean any rule, regulation, or standard issued by an agency, including the amendment or repeal thereof whether with or without prior hearing and designed to implement, interpret, or make specific the law enforced or administered by it or governing its organization or procedure but not including regulations concerning the internal management of the agency not affecting private rights, private interests, or procedures available to the public, and not including permits, certificates of public convenience and necessity, franchises, rate orders, and rate tariffs, and any rules of interpretation thereof, and for the purpose of this act every rule which shall prescribe a penalty shall be presumed to have general applicability or to affect private rights and interests; . . .”

We believe the critical question is whether or not the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund is an “. . . other administrative office or unit of state government. . . .” You will note at the outset that the definition concerns only entities of “the state” government and does not encompass all political entities or political subdivisions existing within the state.

Turning first to the act itself, section 76-1607, R.S.Supp., 1978, provides for the creation of a “. . . a body politic and corporate, not a state agency, but an independent instrumentality exercising essential public functions, . . .” (Emphasis added.)

As you are aware, this fund was the subject of considerable constitutional scrutiny and analysis by the Nebraska Supreme Court in the case of State ex rel. Douglas v. Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, 204 Neb. 445, ___ N.W.2d ___ (1979). This office, among other contentions, argued that this fund was unconstitutional in that it was violative of Article XIII, section 3, of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, which provides as is relevant:

“The credit of the state shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association, or corporation, . . .”

In response to this argument the Nebraska Supreme Court stated:

“The Act does not, however, violate Article XIII, section 3, because the credit of the state is not in any manner being given or loaned in aid of any individual. Only the fund is involved. . . . The Act could not be clearer that the credit of the state is not being given or loaned in any manner.”

We would be of the opinion that the Nebraska Supreme Court could not have reached such a conclusion if in fact this entity was an “administrative office or unit of the state government . . .” (84-901(1), R.S.Supp., 1978).

This office further took the position that the creation of this act permitted the state to incur indebtedness in excess of $100,000 in violation of Article XIII, section 1, of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska. In rejecting this argument the court specifically held:

“ . . . we do not believe the state is in any manner incurring a debt within the meaning of Article XIII, section 1. The bonds are repaid out of the revenue derived by the fund. No state appropriation, revenue, or a tax is used to repay the bonds. . . . There are no state funds involved in the repayment of any debt contemplated by the Act, . . . ”

We would be similarly of the position that the court could not have reached this conclusion if in fact this entity was a part of state government. Once again, here we believe that the distinction between being part of “state government” and being part of the overall government of the state must be made. Cities and villages and other manners of political entities are part of the overall government of the state. This does not mean that they are part of state government.

The Nebraska Supreme Court did have occasion to refer to the delegation of the rule-making authority to the fund in State ex rel. Douglas v. Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, supra, at 204 Neb. 465. It appears from the court’s discussion there that they felt the Legislature had granted the fund broad authority and discretion in enacting rules and regulations and while they do not reach the question of whether or not these rules and regulations are subject to legislative scrutiny, it would appear as though the argument that their rules are within the purview of section 84-901, R.S.Supp., 1978, would greatly increase the fund’s susceptibility to the constitutional challenges raised above.

Therefore, while it is difficult to say with certainty what the exact relationship between the fund and state government is, we would be of the opinion that whatever that relationship is this entity is not an “administrative Office or unit of the state government . . . ” even though it very well may be a public or quasi-public corporation existing generally within the government of the State of Nebraska.

In light of this conclusion, we do not believe that it is necessary to determine whether or not its rules fall within the definition of section 84-901(2), R.S.Supp., 1978, inasmuch as the rules referred to there only concern rules adopted by agencies falling within the preceding subdivision of section 84-901. Also in light of this conclusion, our answer must be with regard to your third question that the Legislature’s Rules and Regulations Review Committee would not have the power to scrutinize and approve the rules adopted by the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund.

If as you seem to suggest in your letter the Committee has some question about whether or not the fund is conducting its activities in conformance with original legislative intent, it may be that you or other members of the Legislature may well wish to introduce legislation to more clearly define your objectives or to direct the fund to conduct its business in a particular manner. In the absence of such specific direction, however, we do not believe that you might accomplish this purpose through the review and approval of this fund's rules and regulations.

Sincerely,
 PAUL L. DOUGLAS
 Attorney General
 Terry R. Schaaf
 Assistant Attorney General

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

O God, our Father, who art the author of all liberty and freedom, to Thee we pray. Guide and bless the members of this Legislature, as they represent the people of this State in committee room, in this chamber, in their voting record, and in their personal lives. Give them sustaining strength of mind, body and spirit to stand the persistent strains of their high office. Give them intolerance against all evils which would weaken our State, but great tolerance in hearing the evidence before making a decision. In using their sensitive minds to be rational, may they also keep alive that spark of heavenly fire called intuition which can guide us to a better society for all. Amen.

1 maximum weight permitted by section 39-6,179 or 39-6,180
2 or the maximum tolerance permitted in subdivision (1) or

21 groups of axles are within the maximum permissible limit, 22 or maximum permissible limit with tolerance, for such 23 axle, tandem axle, or group of axles, such shift or 24 change of configuration may be made without penalty;
25 provided further, that any truck, truck-tractor,
26 semitrailer, or trailer, carrying only a load of 27 livestock, may exceed the maximum load, as permitted by 15 the maximum legal gross weight at the first unloading

 16 facility on the itinerary where the cargo can be properly
 17 protected. All material so unloaded shall be cared for 18 by the owner or operator of such vehicle at the risk of

 24 section 39-6,179 or 39-6,180, with the tolerance
 25 permitted in section 39-6,182.

26 If the maximum legal gross weight or axle weight

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 227
February 20, 1980

Dear Senator Kremer:

You have asked for our opinion on several questions relating to the taxing authority of natural resources districts under section 46-673 as it is limited by the Political Subdivision Budget Limit Act, sections 77-3412, et seq., R.S.Supp., 1979.

As you point out, the Political Subdivision Budget Limit Act places a ceiling on the budget which may be adopted by local governing bodies. One section of the act provides in part:

“Any political subdivision that is authorized by state law to levy a tax or cause a tax to be levied, which tax or portion thereof is in addition to the tax such political subdivision is authorized to levy or cause to be levied on May 17, 1979, shall not include as a receipt from local tax sources the anticipated receipts from such newly authorized levy during the first fiscal year for which such newly authorized levy generates tax receipts, . . .” (Section 77-3426.)

In your letter you describe a situation involving a natural resources district. The district, pursuant to sections 46-656 to 46-674, established a control area on January 1, 1979. The district did not levy a tax under section 46-673. In your letter you indicate that LB 887 has been introduced to avoid the prohibition of section 77-3426. You ask if LB 887 will achieve this result.

Section 46-673, R.S.Supp., 1979, provides:

“Each district encompassed in whole or in part by a control area designated pursuant to section 46-658 shall have the power and authority to levy a tax not to exceed one-fourth of one mill annually on all of the taxable property within the portion of the district encompassed by such control area. Such levy, which shall be in addition to that authorized by section 2-3225, shall be utilized only for the costs of carrying out the provisions of sections 46-656 to 46-674, within such control area. Certification and collection of such levy shall be administered by the district and by the county or counties involved in the same manner as the levy authorized by section 2-3225.”

LB 887 provides:

“Any control area created pursuant to sections 46-656 to 46-674, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and amendments thereto, after December 31, 1978, shall for the first year in which funds are received from taxes imposed or levied be considered a new program for purposes of subdivision (2) of section 77-3424, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1979.’’

As an initial matter we should point out that at least in those natural resources districts where no control area is currently designated nor any tax currently levied for the purposes of the control area statutes, it is our opinion that the levy authorized by section 46-673 would be authorized under section 77-3426 as being a new levy. The natural resources district does not have the power or the authority under state law to levy the one-quarter mill authorized under section 46-673 until a control area has been designated.

The question of the district described above is when the authority to levy the tax arose. Arguably, the express terms of section 77-3426 could be construed to exclude the authority to levy the tax under consideration since the statute authorizing the tax to be levied could be argued to have become effective upon the date the natural resources district designated the control area. However, we believe that a better reasoned argument is that the authority to levy the tax under section 46-673 does not arise until the normal levy date which would have been in September of 1979. This analysis recognizes the fact that a levy may only be made by a political subdivision as provided by statute. No levy could have been made until the date provided by statute following the designation of the control area. That time fell after May 17. Therefore, we believe that the natural resources district to which you point would have been authorized to levy the one-quarter mill and exclude it from the calculations of the 7 percent lid.

This is in contradistinction to the opinion of this office, No. 167, October 31, 1979, to Senator Cullan in which we indicated that the levy authorized for ambulance services under section 35-514.02 would be within the limitations of the Political Subdivision Budget Limit Act. In that situation the authority to levy the tax had existed at all times. It simply required affirmative action on the part of the particular political subdivision to levy the tax. No other act was required. In the present situation another act is required; that is the creation of a control area. Absent such action, the specific tax here under consideration could not be levied.

The adoption of LB 887 would, of course, resolve any doubt about the opinion we have expressed above. It would authorize natural resources districts, after having taken the proper steps, to levy the one-quarter mill authorized by section 46-673.

In your remaining questions you ask whether a natural resources district could levy the one-quarter mill tax if they would not exceed the 7 percent limit; or if they could levy a part of the one-quarter mill authorized which would not exceed a 7 percent increase. The limitations of sections 77-3412, et seq., R.S.Supp., 1979, applies to budgets not to tax levies. Any tax authorized may be levied. The limit arises in the amount that may be spent, i.e. no budget exceeding 7 percent may be adopted. As long as the subdivision remains within a limit the tax may be levied.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Mr. DeCamp offered the following substitute committee amendments:

Req. #2101

- 2 1. Strike the original sections and insert new
- 3 sections as follows:
- 4 "Section 1. The Legislature hereby declares and
- 5 finds that alcoholism is a disease which, if untreated,
- 6 is highly disruptive of family life and employment and
- 7 costs the state, its political subdivisions, insurers,
- 8 employers, and taxpayers millions of dollars annually

9 because of highway deaths and injuries, lost wages, lower
10 productivity, welfare and unemployment compensation,
11 greater utilization of health insurance benefits and 12 premature death, alcohol related crimes, and the 13 corresponding costs to the criminal justice and penal 14 systems. The Legislature further finds that while most 15 health benefit plans pay the high cost of treating the 16 symptoms, injuries, and diseases associated with 17 alcoholism many exclude coverage for treatment of the 18 disease itself, or limit coverage to acute portions of 19 hospitals which do not generally treat the disease. The 20 Legislature therefore declares that group subscribers and 21 insured should have information concerning the scope of 22 alcoholism benefits being offered and access to coverage
23 for treatment of the disease on such terms and conditions
24 as may be agreed upon between the subscriber or insured
25 and the insurer, hospital service corporation, or health
1 maintenance organization.

2 Sec. 2. For purposes of sections 1 to 13 of 3 this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the 4 definitions found in sections 3 to 10 shall be used.

5 Sec. 3. Hospital shall mean an institution
6 licensed as a hospital by the Department of Health and 7 described in subdivision (2) of section 71-2017.01,
8 Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943.

9 Sec. 4. Alcoholic treatment center shall mean
10 an institution licensed as an alcoholic treatment center
11 by the Department of Health and described in subdivision
12 (12) of section 71-2017.01, Reissue Revised Statutes of 13 Nebraska, 1943, which provides a program for the 14 inpatient or outpatient treatment of alcoholism pursuant 15 to a written treatment plan approved and monitored by a
16 physician and which is affiliated with a hospital under a 17 contractual agreement with an established system for 18 patient referral.

19 Sec. 5. Outpatient program shall refer to a 20 program which is not required to be licensed by the 21 Department of Health as an alcoholic treatment center,
22 but which is certified, as defined in section 6 of this 23 act, by the Division on Alcoholism of the Department of 24 Public Institutions pursuant to section 83-163, Revised
25 Statutes Supplement, 1979, to provide specified services
26 to persons suffering from the disease of alcoholism.

1 Sec. 6. Certified shall mean approved to render
2 specific types or levels of care to the person suffering
3 from the disease of alcoholism by the Division on 4 Alcoholism of the Department of Public Institutions.

5 Sec. 7. Accredited shall mean accredited to 6 render specific types or levels of care according to the 7 Accreditation Manual for Alcoholism Programs of the Joint

8 Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals.

9 Sec. 8. Primary treatment shall mean inpatient
10 treatment rendered in a structured and scheduled setting
11 to prevent further ingestion of alcoholic beverages, to 12 relieve the pain of the withdrawal syndrome, and to 13 provide intensive therapy or rehabilitation, when such 14 treatment is rendered in a hospital or an alcoholic 15 treatment center which is certified or accredited to 16 render such care.

17 Sec. 9. Outpatient treatment shall mean
18 counseling and therapy provided on a nonresidential basis
19 when such treatment is rendered in or through a hospital,
20 an alcoholic treatment center, or an outpatient program
21 which is certified or accredited to render such care.

22 Sec. 10. Basic coverage for treatment of 23 alcoholism shall mean coverage for primary and outpatient 24 treatment consisting of not less than (1) thirty days of 25 inpatient coverage for the primary treatment of 26 alcoholism in any three hundred and sixty-five day
27 benefit period with at least two such inpatient treatment
1 periods available during the lifetime of the policy, and
2 (2) sixty outpatient treatment visits during the lifetime
3 of the policy.

4 Sec. 11. After January 1, 1981, all policies or 5 contracts of group sickness and accident insurance
6 written or issued by insurance companies, all group
7 contracts and subscription agreements written or issued
8 by a hospital service corporation chartered under Chapter
9 21, article 15, and all group contracts or certificates
10 written or issued by a health maintenance organization as 11 to which there is a premium change or which are delivered
12 or issued for delivery in this state, which do not 13 provide at least basic coverage for the treatment of 14 alcoholism, shall be subject to the following:

15 (1) The written sales and advertising literature,
16 descriptive brochures, and the exclusion sections of such 17 policy, contract, or certificate shall contain a notice
18 in all capital letters in the following language or in 19 words of similar effect as approved by the Director of 20 Insurance: This agreement does not provide basic 21 coverage for the treatment of alcoholism. Coverage for 22 treatment of alcoholism is available if you specifically
23 request it and then only upon such terms and conditions
24 as you and the company agree;

25 (2) The written sales and advertising literature,
26 descriptive brochures, and such policy contract or 27 subscription agreement itself shall not, in describing
1 the plan, contract, coverage, or benefits, use the words
2 comprehensive;

3 (3) The definition of a facility, program, or

4 agency in or through which covered alcoholism services
5 may be rendered contained in any optional coverage shall 6 not be more restrictive than the definitions contained in 7 sections 3 to 7 of this act if the effect of such 8 definitions would be to limit, deny, or withhold benefits
9 which would be available if the definitions used in this 10 act were applied;

11 (4) Such policy, contract, or subscription
12 agreement shall provide benefits to any person covered 13 thereunder for the treatment of alcoholism under such 14 terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the 15 subscriber or insured and the insurer, hospital service
16 corporation, or health maintenance organization; and

17 (5) In the case of policies, contracts, and 18 subscription agreements issued before January 1, 1981, as 19 to which there is a premium change after January 1, 1981,
20 the notification requirements of this section may be met
21 by written endorsement to such policy, contract, or 22 subscription agreement.

23 Sec. 12. An insurance company, hospital service
24 corporation, or health maintenance organization will be 25 considered to be providing basic coverage for treatment
26 of alcoholism if it makes benefits available for the 27 treatment described in section 10 of this act on terms
1 involving durational limits, dollar limits, deductibles,
2 and coinsurance which are no less favorable than the 3 terms on which it makes benefits available for the 4 treatment of physical illness generally.

5 Sec. 13. An insurance company, hospital service
6 corporation, or health maintenance organization which 7 does not provide basic coverage for treatment of 8 alcoholism may nevertheless provide different or lesser 9 benefits. Nothing in this act is intended to limit any 10 insurance company, hospital service corporation, or 11 health maintenance organization from providing more 12 coverage for the treatment of alcoholism than is 13 described in section 10 of this act.''.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 230
February 20, 1980

Dear Senator Newell:

You have requested from this office an opinion as to whether vacant land in the older parts of urban areas could be declared blighted and/or substandard pursuant to the definitions of substandard and blighted areas contained in LB 986, a bill to amend the Nebraska Community Development Law.

Your request makes no attempt to specify to what degree vacant land would comprise such an area which is a determination necessary for a conclusive answer in any particular instance. Thus, we construe your inquiry as requesting the general legal principles and guidelines which would be applied in specific situations as they would be encountered under LB 986.

Essentially you raise a question of statutory construction. Inasmuch as the definitions provision of LB 986 would be but one of several which comprise an entire act, the Nebraska Community Development Law, we are required to look to the other provisions and the purpose of the whole act as would be amended by LB 986 for guidance in interpreting the particular section of which you inquire. Furthermore, because the Nebraska Supreme Court has not had occasion yet to interpret the particular provisions of the Nebraska Community Development Law, and more specifically those which are relevant to your inquiry, we cannot be totally definitive in our response.

As you point out, the definitions contained in LB 986 indicate that the principal characteristic of a "substandard" area would be the predominance of buildings. Relative to a blighted area, several characteristics are listed which would render an area blighted for purposes of the Nebraska Community Law. While it is readily apparent that the definition of a blighted area is broader and less restrictive than that of a substandard area, your question arises because neither specifically provides for nor mentions vacant land.

Nevertheless, the weight of authority on community development law which has begun to develop elsewhere is that the fact that some of the lands in an area selected for redevelopment are vacant or contain sound structures does not render inapplicable the community development law or a particular project. This line of reasoning reflects the fact that community development initiatives are intended to have an "area," rather than a structure-by-structure, focus and impact. To what extent vacant lands can comprise such an area is a question of degree that can be answered only on a case-by-case basis within the context of the particular community development law which is applicable. It is apparent from our review of case law in other jurisdictions that the courts are more likely to validate redevelopment areas substantially or predominately consisting of vacant land where, unlike the provisions of LB 986, the authorizing community development law makes some provision for or mention of vacant lands. See 44 A.L.R.2d 1439 and 45 A.L.R.3rd 1096.

Obviously, it is not possible at this time to say for certain how much vacant land could be included in a substandard or blighted area consistent with LB 986 if it were enacted. However, a few observations significantly narrow this uncertainty. First, relative to a blighted area, if the cause of the vacancy can be demonstrated to be defective or inadequate street layout, faulty lot layout in relation to size, diversity of ownership, improper subdivision or obsolete planning, or any of the other reasons spelled out in section 2 (11) of LB 986, then those vacant lands could comprise a part of a blighted area or such an area in its entirety.

Secondly, section 18-2123, R.R.S. 1943, presently provides that under certain conditions undeveloped vacant land not within a substandard or blighted area might properly be the focus of community development activities if such land is essential to the proper clearance or redevelopment of such an area or is a necessary part of the general urban renewal and development program of the city. Apart from the significance of this provision relative to vacant lands adjacent to a redevelopment area, it is our view that it also supports the proposition that LB 986 would authorize to a certain degree vacant lands found within such an area to be subject to redevelopment activity so long as the focus and impact of those activities and the particular project from which they emanate are genuinely area-wise in nature.

Finally, section 18-2153, R.R.S. 1943, presently states that the Nebraska Community Development Law is to be liberally construed in connection with all grants of power, authority, rights or discretion given to cities or villages and all incidental powers necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the law. While this section supports our views set out above, relative to LB 986, we feel it would not go so far as to authorize the inclusion in any redevelopment area of an unlimited amount of vacant land, given the stated purpose and the provisions of the Nebraska Community Development Law and LB 986 in their present form.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

LEGISLATIVE BILL 863. Mr. Beutler offered the following amendment:

Req. #2114

- 2 1. Insert the following new sections:
 3 “Sec. 2. That section 70-1012, Revised Statutes
 4 Supplement, 1979, be amended to read as follows:
 5 70-1012. Before any electric generation
 6 facilities or any transmission lines or related 7 facilities carrying more than seven hundred volts are 8 constructed by any supplier, an application, filed with 9 the board and containing such information as the board
 10 shall prescribe, shall be approved by the board, except 11 that such approval shall not be required (1) for the 12 construction of a transmission line extension or related 13 facilities within a supplier's own service area or for 14 the construction of a line not exceeding one half mile

15 outside its own service area when all owners of electric
16 lines located within one half mile of the extension
17 consent thereto in writing and such consents are filed
18 with the board or (2) for any generation facility when 19 the board finds that: (a) Such facility is being 20 constructed to replace a generating plant owned by the 21 municipality with a capacity not greater than that of the 22 plant being replaced, (b) such facility ~~will~~ is designed 23 to generate less than twenty-five thousand kilowatts of 24 electric energy at rated capacity, and (c) the applicant
25 will not use the plant or transmission capacity to supply
1 wholesale power to customers outside the applicant's
2 existing retail service area or chartered territory.

3 The board may also require any supplier of 4 electric energy to Nebraska citizens proposing to build
5 an electric generation facility or transmission lines or 6 related facilities to file a statement of intent prior to 7 filing an application as required by this section for 8 construction of such facilities or lines.

9 Sec. 3. That section 70-1013, Reissue Revised
10 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as 11 follows:

12 70-1013. Upon application being filed under 13 section 70-1012, the board shall fix a time and place for 14 hearing and shall give ten days' notice by mail to such 15 alternate power suppliers as it deems to be affected by 16 the application. The hearing shall be had within thirty 17 days unless for good cause shown, the applicant shall 18 request in writing that such hearing not be scheduled 19 until a later time, but in any event such hearing shall 20 not be more than ninety days from the filing of the 21 application, and the board shall give its decision within 22 thirty days after the conclusion of the hearing. Any 23 parties interested may appear, file objections, and offer
24 evidence, except that ; ~~Provided~~, the board may grant the 25 application without notice or hearing, upon the filing of 26 such waivers as it may require, if in its judgment the 27 finding required by section 70-1014 can be made without a
1 hearing. When the application involves a power supply
2 facility, which shall include any generation plant
3 designed to operate at a capacity of twenty-five thousand
4 kilowatts or more and transmission facilities with a 5 design voltage of three hundred forty-five kilovolts or 6 more, the board may not grant the application without 7 notice and a hearing. Such hearing shall be conducted as 8 provided in section 70-1006. The board may allow 9 amendments to the application, in the interests of 10 justice.

11 The board may require that any application
12 previously approved by the board be submitted to the 13 board for an additional hearing. Such hearing may 14 address issues which the board determines require review, 15 including any actions taken by the applicant to 16 substantially change or delay the facility authorized by 17 the application. After hearing, the board may modify,
18 cancel, or extend the original application upon a finding 19 by the board that such modification, cancellation, or 20 extension will serve the public convenience and necessity
21 as defined under section 70-1014.

22 Sec. 4. That section 70-1014, Reissue Revised
23 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
24 follows:

25 70-1014. After hearing, the board shall have 26 authority to approve or deny the application. Before 27 approval of an application, the board shall find that the 1 application will serve the public convenience and
2 necessity, and that the applicant can most economically
3 and feasibly supply the electric service resulting from 4 the proposed construction, without unnecessary
5 duplication of facilities or operations.

6 Before approval of an application for a power
7 supply facility, as defined in section 70-1013, the board
8 shall make the findings provided in sections 5 to 7 of 9 this act.

10 Sec. 5. In determining the need for a power
11 supply facility the board shall find that the proposed 12 facility is being constructed to meet the current and 13 future electric energy needs of the retail customers or 14 the wholesale customers currently under contract to the 15 applicant or any additional reserve electric energy
16 requirements arising from agreements with state or 17 multi-state planning and power supply organizations.

18 Sec. 6. Before approving an application for a 19 power supply facility under section 70-1014, the board
20 shall find that the applicant has provided to the board a 21 comprehensive written analysis of the current and future
22 electric energy needs of the applicant's customers.

23 The board shall find that such analysis has been 24 made pursuant to prudent utility practice which for the 25 purposes of this section shall mean use of any of the 26 forecasting practices and methods engaged in or approved
27 by a significant portion of the electric utility industry
1 which practices or methods could be expected to
2 accomplish accurate results at the lowest reasonable cost
3 consistent with reliability. In evaluating such analysis
4 and making such a finding, the board may order an 5 independent review of the methods used in making such

6 analysis. The costs of such independent review shall be 7 assessed against the applicant.
 8 The written analysis provided by the applicant
 9 shall provide at least a ten-year forecast of future
 10 electric energy needs of the applicant's customers, a 11 description of forecasting methodology, and a description
 12 of current needs and of current and planned future
 13 resources or capacity.

14 Sec. 7. Before approving or denying an 15 application under section 70-1014, the board shall find
 16 that the proposed facility is the most economically
 17 feasible method of supplying the electric energy needs of 18 the applicant's customers. In making such finding, the 19 board shall consider, but not be limited to:

20 (1) Costs of meeting the electric energy needs of 21 the applicant's customers from electric generation
 22 capacity available to the applicant from another supplier
 23 by firm contractual offer for purchase or participation,
 24 whether from existing or planned facilities, facilities
 25 pending before the board, or facilities previously
 26 approved by the board. The board shall also consider 27 costs of alternative methods of meeting or reducing
 1 energy demand through energy conservation or load
 2 management techniques;

3 (2) The long-term availability of the energy or 4 fuel source proposed for use in the facility; and

5 (3) Any other necessary costs of delivering or 6 interconnecting the planned facility with the existing 7 primary distribution system of the applicant, including 8 any directly related substations, transmission lines, or 9 other directly related facilities necessary to make the 10 electric energy available for sale to the applicant's
 11 customers.

12 The board shall develop procedures describing the 13 form in which such information shall be submitted, and 14 may require the submission of such information with a 15 statement of intent required by the board."

16 2. On page 4, line 12 after "original" insert
 17 "sections 70-1013 and 70-1014, Reissue Revised Statutes
 18 of Nebraska, 1943,"; in line 13 after the second comma
 19 insert "and section 70-1012, Revised Statutes Supplement, 20 1979," and strike "is" and insert "are".

21 3. Renumber original section 2 as section 8.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion No. 231
February 15, 1980

Re: LB723

Dear Senator Reutzel:

We are responding to your letter requesting an opinion whether the amendatory language to section 37-1111, R.R.S. 1943, contained in LB723, is sufficient to authorize an officer to cite an unattended motor vehicle unlawfully in a permit area, thereby allowing the vehicle's owner to be charged with the offense.

The language to which you refer is a sentence which reads in pertinent part as follows:

“If the identity of the operator in a motor vehicle in violation of this section cannot be determined, the owner of person in whose name such vehicle is registered shall be held prima facie responsible for such violation and shall be guilty of a Class V misdemeanor.”

We note that there are no special procedures providing for ticketing the vehicle, but that if the provisions of sections 29-424 and 29-425, R.S.Supp., 1978, are followed, this sentence would be effective to charge the owner of the motor vehicle with the commission of an offense.

There is some question whether the owner's right to due process of law, equal protection, and right not to bear witness against himself, guaranteed by the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution are violated by this sentence, making him guilty of a misdemeanor without evidence to prove that the owner committed the criminal act. People v. Hildebrandt, 308 N.Y. 397, 126 N.E.2d 377, 49 A.L.R.2d 449, and cases cited therein (1955); Commonwealth v. Slaybaugh, 364 A.2d 687 (1976). We note, however, that the possible punishment includes no incarceration, minimum fine, and involves an offense of no greater import than a parking violation. Further, pursuant to Nebraska Rules of Evidence, section 27-303, R.R.S. 1943, this statute would merely raise a permissive presumption which the finder of fact could accept or reject at its discretion.

It appears that in light of the long line of cases approving of this sort of statute in enforcing parking regulations (People v. Hamilton, 454 P.2d 680 (Oklahoma, 1969) and cases cited therein; Iowa City v. Nolan, 239 N.W.2d 102 (Iowa, 1976); and 49 A.L.R. 2d 456, and cases cited therein), that there is legal precedent to support a legislative conclusion that there is a rational basis to a statutory presumption that the owner of motor vehicle is responsible for its entry into a state park without a park permit. We hesitate to be more definite about this conclusion in light of the deep division in the United States Supreme Court concerning the propriety of presumptions in criminal cases. County Court of Ulster County, New York v. Allen, ___ U.S. ___ 60 L.Ed.2d 777, 99 S.Ct. ___ (1979).

In conclusion, although there is some question as to the constitutionality of such an enactment as a criminal provision, we cannot say certainly that such a measure would be disapproved by the courts. In light of the minimal penalty, minimal import of the statute, and long history of court decisions approving statutes such as this regarding parking violations, as well as the permissive nature of the presumption under Nebraska law, we conclude that a court could very likely approve this statute.

Very Truly Yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General
G. Roderic Anderson

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 232
February 25, 1980

Re: LB 889

Dear Senator Schmit:

In your letter of February 11, 1980, you enclosed for our review a copy of LB 889, which you described as a bill “. . . designed to remedy the problems created to the Nebraska Commercial Fertilizer and Soil Conditioner Act as a result of the case PPG Industries Canada v. Kreuzscher.” Your question was then set forth as follows:

“We would also like to know if it [LB 889] will require an out-of-state manufacturer of raw products to register in Nebraska. If so, does this violate any of the provisions of the federal constitution?”

We assume, by your use of the term “out-of-state manufacturer,” you are referring to such companies as the producers and marketers of potash and phosphates as were involved in the Nebraska Supreme Court cases of PPG Industries Canada Ltd. v. Kreuzscher, 204 Neb. 220, 281 N.W.2d 762 (1979); Amax Chemical Corp. v. Kreuzscher, 204 Neb. 235, 281 N.W.2d 771 (1979); Ideal Basic Industries, Inc. v. Kreuzscher, 204 Neb. 237, 281 N.W.2d 772 (1979); and Texasgulf, Inc. v. Kreuzscher, 204 Neb. 236, 281 N.W.2d 771 (1979).

As you know, our office represented the former Nebraska Director of Agriculture in both the above referenced appeals to the state Supreme Court, as well as the lower court trials conducted before the District Court of Lancaster County, Nebraska. Because the lower court memorandum and order addresses one of the questions you have raised, we have enclosed a copy of the district court's opinion for your review.

Turning first to your question of whether an out-of-state manufacturer of raw products would be required to register under the provisions of LB 889, we first note that neither the current law, set forth at Neb.Rev.Stat. §§81-2,162.01, et seq. (Reissue, 1976) [as amended, in part, at Neb.Rev.Stat. §§81-2,162.02, et seq. (Cum.Supp. 1978)], nor the provisions of LB 889 places product registration requirements on "manufacturers of raw products." Rather, the product registration provisions set forth at section 81-2,162.03 of both the current law, as well as the proposed legislation, speaks in terms of "distributors" of commercial fertilizers.

The present law, at section 81-2,162.03(1) provides as follows:

"Each commercial fertilizer and soil conditioner shall be registered before being distributed in this state. . . ."

Under LB 889, the above referenced provision is immediately followed by this sentence:

"The distributor who first causes the distribution of the product into or within this state shall be responsible for compliance with the product registration requirements of this section."

As noted by both the Lancaster County District Court and the Nebraska Supreme Court, it is therefore necessary to turn to the legislative definitions of "commercial fertilizer" and "distribute" to understand what products should be registered and by whom.

Under the present law, the term "commercial fertilizer" is defined, at subsection (3) of section 81-2,162.02, as follows:

"Commercial fertilizer shall mean any formula or product distributed, . . . which contains one or more plant nutrients . . . which nutrients are used for their plant nutrient content and are intended to promote plant growth;"

While the district court found that this definition included such products as potash, which is commonly blended with other nutrients to form a "custom blend," the Nebraska Supreme Court interpreted the intent of the Legislature to regulate only "finished products" and not merely raw material ingredients, such as potash. PPG, supra, 204 Neb. at 230.

The proposed legislation, LB 889, adds the following sentence to subsection (3) of section 81-2,162.02:

"The term commercial fertilizer shall not be deemed to include unmanipulated animal and vegetable manures, but shall be deemed to include both finished products and fertilizer ingredients capable of being used in the formulation of a finished product." (Emphasis added.)

The term "distribute" has not been redefined by the proposed legislation. It is defined at section 81-2,162.02(6) as follows:

"Distribute shall mean to offer for sale, sell, barter, or otherwise supply commercial fertilizers or soil conditioners;"

Consequently, this definition, as both the district court and the Nebraska Supreme Court recognized, refers back to the definition of commercial fertilizer.

As we noted above, neither the current law nor the proposed bill identifies the "manufacturer" as the proper party to register the commercial fertilizer, but rather looks to the initial "distributor" for purposes of product registration. Therefore, if the out-of-state manufacturer also markets such products as potash and phosphoric acid in Nebraska, and supplies the same to fertilizer dealers in the state, it would appear that this party, the manufacturer and initial distributor, would be responsible for the product registration requirements of section 81-2,162.03.

Under Section 7 of LB 889, the proposed legislation also amends section 81-2,162.23 of the existing law to require that an out-of-state manufacturer and distributor must register ". . . his or her principal out-of-state office." This amendment, as the legislative history of LB 889 indicates, also appears to be in response to the opinion of the Nebraska Supreme Court which indicated that the court had some difficulty in interpreting the present provisions of section 81-2,162.23, Neb.Rev.Stat. (Reissue, 1976). PPG, supra, 204 Neb. at 230.

We have examined the legislative history of LB 889, which indicates that the amendments were intended to require product and firm registration from out-of-state entities who market or distribute commercial fertilizers in Nebraska. In light of the rule that the statute should be interpreted to give effect to such legislative intent, we would advise you that the amendments appear to us to require an out-of-state manufacturer to register its product and its principal office when that manufacturer is also responsible for the initial distribution of the product into or within Nebraska. Pelzer v. City of Bellevue, 198 Neb. 19, 251 N.W.2d 662 (1977); Norden Laboratories, Inc. v. County Board of Equalization, 189 Neb. 437, 203 N.W.2d 152 (1973).

The question we now must consider is whether such a requirement on an out-of-state distributor, engaged in the interstate commerce of commercial fertilizer products, may constitute an impermissible burden on interstate commerce in violation of the federal constitution.

We first note that the Nebraska Supreme Court has recognized that the Nebraska Commercial Fertilizer and Soil Conditioner Act was a consumer protection measure, intended to prevent consumers from being defrauded by manufacturers and distributors of such fertilizer products. PPG, supra, 204 Neb. at 229. The amendments to LB 889, as we have previously noted, appear to clearly indicate a legislative determination that the consumer is to be protected by both the regulation of the finished product as well as the primary nutrient such as potash.

As the state district court cited, the case of Patapseo Guano Co. v. North Carolina, 171 U.S. 345, 43 L.Ed. 191, 18 S.Ct. 862 (1898), held that it is within the protective power of the state to provide for the regulation and inspection of products which may be injurious to the population of that state.

We are aware of no overriding federal regulation which would preempt the state from the registration of fertilizer products which are shipped in interstate commerce. In the absence of congressional legislation, there is a "residuum of power in the state to make laws governing matters of local concern which nevertheless in some measures affect interstate commerce or even, to some extent regulate." Southern Pacific Co. v. State of Arizona, 325 U.S. 761, 767, 89 L.Ed. 1915, 65 S.Ct. 1515 (1945). Accordingly, the test by which the validity of state legislation must be measured is set out in Pike v. Bruce Church, Inc., 397 U.S. 137, 142, 25 L.Ed.2d 174, 90 S.Ct. 844 (1970).

"Although the criteria for determining the validity of state statutes affecting interstate commerce have been variously stated, the general rule that emerges can be phrased as follows: Where the statute regulates evenhandedly to effectuate a legitimate local public interest, and its effects on interstate commerce are only incidental, it will be upheld unless the burden imposed on such commerce is clearly excessive in relation to the putative local benefits. . . ."

The burden upon commerce would appear to be the filing of two registration forms with the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, and the payment of a nominal fee to the state. In our judgment, this would not constitute an "excessive" burden upon interstate commerce. On the other hand, the guarantee to the state, and all of its citizens, of the precise ingredients and nutrient content of a particular fertilizer would seem to be an important consumer protection measure recognized as such by the Nebraska courts previously referenced. It should be noted that the state district court did not consider the burden upon interstate commerce excessive, even under the existing law, which was interpreted at that time to require both the product and firm registrations, as well as the payment of tonnage fees to the State Department of Agriculture. LB 889, in contrast, provides that the payment of tonnage fees be made by the local dealer selling directly to the ultimate user.

Consequently, consistent with the position we maintained in our previous representation of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, and consistent also with the opinion of the state district court, which was the only court ruling on the constitutional question presented, we would advise you that the amendments to LB 889 which require, in some cases, registration by out-of-state distributors, do not appear to exceed the constitutional limitations we have discussed.

Sincerely yours,

1. Add new sections 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27 as follows:

Section 21. It is the declared policy of the State of Nebraska that it is necessary to regulate and control the retail sale of alcoholic liquors within the state to foster temperance in the consumption of alcoholic liquors, prevent abuses that result from the sale of alcoholic liquors, and generate needed respect for and obedience to the law. An overabundance of retail outlets makes it difficult to achieve these ends and it is deemed necessary to limit the number of alcoholic liquor retail outlets throughout the State of Nebraska. To promote the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens of the state and an orderly retail market of alcoholic liquor sales, it is necessary that legislation be enacted to limit the number of retail alcoholic liquor outlets in each county in the state.

Sec. 22. After the effective date of this act, the maximum number of retail alcoholic liquor licenses to be issued within any single county shall be limited to one license for each one thousand two hundred inhabitants of the county. The population of each county shall be determined by the most recent federal decennial census at the time application for any retail alcoholic liquor licenses shall be in the force in any single county on the effective date of this act than would be permissible under this section, such greater number shall be the maximum number of retail alcoholic liquor licenses in the county.

Sec. 23. Whenever a retail alcoholic liquor license is revoked, surrendered, cancelled, or not renewed, the number of existing licenses shall be reduced by the licenses revoked, surrendered, cancelled, or not renewed until the number of licenses is equal to one retail alcoholic liquor license for every one thousand two hundred inhabitants of the county. No new retail alcoholic liquor license shall be issued until the number of licenses is less than one retail liquor license for every one thousand two hundred inhabitants of the county.

Sec. 24. The limitation on the maximum number of retail alcoholic liquor licenses allowed under this act shall not apply so as to deny any city, village, or county from having at least one retail alcoholic liquor license.

Sec. 25. Whenever any retail licensee has not requested or taken the proper action to renew his or her alcoholic liquor license for the next licensing period pursuant to any law or rule or regulation established by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commissioner, the commission shall not grant any type of retail alcoholic liquor license to such former licensee. All retail alcoholic liquor licenses not renewed shall lapse and shall be null and void.

Sec. 26. The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission may recommend approval of the granting of a license to a former licensee if the licensee files an application for a retail alcoholic liquor license within the first licensing period immediately following the licensing period during which the licensee held a current and outstanding retail alcoholic liquor license.

Sec. 27. Nothing in this act shall operate to prevent the issuance of a new license to a bona fide purchaser of the business assets and inventory of an existing licensee to a club, restaurant, or hotel, as defined by section 53-103, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, or to prevent the annual renewal of any license in effect on the effective date of this act.

Renumber sections accordingly.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 234
February 25, 1980

Dear Senator Carsten:

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutional validity of LB 882. This bill would abolish the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund, established by section 77-202.30, R.R.S. 1943, and the provisions providing for the distribution of that fund, and would create the Local Government Revenue Fund, and provide for its distribution. In an opinion of this office dated June 15, 1978, Report of the Attorney General, 1977-1978, page 394, we expressed grave concern about the validity of the method of distributing the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund. LB 882 is, as we understand it, an attempt to correct some of the problems we discussed in that opinion.

Section 3 of LB 882 provides that the Tax Commissioner shall determine the amount distributed to each county during fiscal year 1979-1980 from the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund, and shall determine what percentage of the amount distributed from that fund each county receives. That section then provides that during fiscal year 1980-1981 each county shall receive that same percentage from the Local Government Revenue Fund. For ensuing years each county is to receive the same amount it received the preceding year plus ten percent of the change in the total amount of general taxes levied in that county. Section 2 of the bill says that it is the intent of the Legislature each year to appropriate to the fund an amount equal to the amount appropriated the prior year, plus ten percent of the change in general taxes levied in the various counties.

Section 3 of the bill also provides that if in any year the appropriation is insufficient to pay the counties in full, the fund shall be prorated among the counties.

The money received by each county is to be distributed by the county to itself and other taxing entities in the county in the proportion that the property taxes levied by each taxing entity bear to the total property taxes levied in the county.

LB 882 corrects some of the problems we saw with respect to the distribution of the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund. The distribution of the money to the taxing entities within the county under LB 882 has a rational basis, and can be defended, whereas we do not feel that the distribution within the county of the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund can be.

Very serious problems remain, however, in the distributions to the counties. The distribution in 1980-1981 is to be in the same percentage as distributed in 1979-1980. The distribution in 1979-1980 was based upon losses by reason of personal property exemptions in each county in 1976, plus supposed losses in 1974 due to the freeport exemption under section 77-1226.01. There may be some question as to the propriety of the basis for the 1979-1980 distributions, and there is now pending a suit challenging those distributions. If the 1979-1980 distributions were based upon unreasonable classifications, as is contended in that suit, it may be difficult to sustain another year's distribution upon that shaky foundation.

However, let us assume the validity of the 1979-1980 distribution. LB 882 contemplates appropriating enough money for each year in the future to pay to each county the amount paid the previous year plus ten percent of the increase in property taxes. The amount paid to each county in 1979-1980 furnishes the starting point for that county. Assuming the Legislature adheres to its plan, and assuming that a county does not in any year reduce the taxes it levied the preceding year, the amount it receives may be regarded as being divided into two pots. Each year, indefinitely into the future, one of those pots will contain the same amount of money that county received in 1980-1981, which was based on the amount it received in 1979-1980, which, in turn, was based on that county's losses because of personal property tax exemptions in 1976 and freeport exemptions in 1974. So long as the Legislature appropriates the amount it says it plans to, and so long as the total amount of taxes levied in the county does not fall, that amount will be fixed.

The other pot will contain ten percent of the cumulative increases in taxes levied in the county starting with fiscal year 1980-1981. This amount will vary, but will not affect the amount in the first pot. The fact that both of the pots will be lumped together and the county will get one check does not alter the fact that the amount in the first pot will be frozen, perhaps forever, at the 1980-1981 figure.

We believe we have a classification question here. The State Treasurer could, at this moment, we suppose, make up a list of the 93 counties, showing exactly how much each has, or will, receive from the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund in 1979-1980, and could calculate the amount each county would receive from the Local Government Revenue Fund in 1980-1981. In a sense, then, each county constitutes a separate class, county A being in the class which gets $1,186,932.50, and county B being in the class which gets $834,675.25.

In 1981-1982, and forever into the future, assuming the Legislature appropriates the full amount required, each county will stay in the same class, so far as its basic "pot" is concerned. It will get neither more nor less, regardless of any change of circumstances, at least so long as its tax levies do not decrease. Variations in the amount of the second pot will not effect the amount in the first pot.

Our court has for many years held frozen classes to be in violation of Article III, section 18 of the Nebraska Constitution. In State v. Kelso, 92 Neb. 628, 139 N.W. 226 (1912), the court said:

"The rule appears to be settled by an almost unbroken line of decisions that a classification which limits the application of the law to present condition, and leaves no room or opportunity for an increase in the numbers of the class by future growth or development, is special, and a violation of the clause of the constitution above quoted. It follows that the limitation in the act to all county seats which had existed for ten successive years at the time of the passage of the act, and not permitting the rule to be applied to other counties, is equivalent to the naming of the county seats of that class, and is therefore void. . . ."

Other cases which have invalidated acts freezing classes at the time of the passage of the act are State v. Scott, 70 Neb. 685, 100 N.W. 812 (1904); Axberg v. City of Lincoln, 141 Neb. 55, 2 N.W.2d 613, 141 A.L.R. 894 (1942); and City of Scotts Bluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256, 175 N.W.2d 74 (1970). See, also, 16A Am.Jur.2d, Constitutional Law, §§ 751 and 757.

Our attention has been called to Leonardson v. Moon, 92 Idaho 796, 451 P.2d 542 (1969). On the facts, it could be in point, because it, too, appears to create a frozen class, and the act was sustained. However, the parties did not attack the classification on that basis, but on the basis that it was based on arbitrary unequal ratios of assessments and levies within the taxing districts. The court discussed the issue on the basis argued by the parties. Even if we felt that our court would be influenced by an Idaho decision which we do not feel could be squared with Nebraska precedents, we do not feel the court would be greatly swayed by a decision which did not discuss the vital issue.

We also recognize that the picture can be made more confusing and obscure if the Legislature fails to appropriate enough money to pay the counties in full, or if some of the tax levies for some of the counties fall. We will not lengthen this opinion by exploring all those possible ramifications. In any event, the effect of the amount received by each county in 1979-1980 will be carried into the future indefinitely, regardless of changed conditions. We believe the propriety of this is very questionable.

There is also a question of whether the amount received by the counties in a preceding year is a proper basis for classification, in any event. If it is, it would appear that the Legislature might, if it wished, perpetuate the status quo indefinitely by each year allocating to the counties the same amount or percentage as they received in the preceding year, long after the original basis for the allocation had disappeared.

Also, we point out that the basis of the 1979-1980 distributions was 1976 and 1974 losses to the counties because of personal property exemptions. LB 882 does not provide for reimbursement of such losses, and, indeed, cannot, because the current amount of such losses is unascertainable. LB 882 simply provides for state aid to political subdivisions. A legitimate question could be raised as to whether past losses because of exemptions is a reasonable basis for state aid to political subdivisions, particularly since the money is distributed in the counties on an entirely different basis.

In summary, LB 882 is an improvement on the present law, in that distribution within the counties is made on a defensible basis. The distributions to the counties, however, would, we believe, be hard to defend.

Very truly yours,

SECOND SESSION*THIRTY-THIRD DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, February 28, 1980

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Marvel presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

As we take these moments to pause in Thy presence, we know that in our relations with others there is a time to speak and a time to keep silent. Help us to tell the one from the other. When we should speak, give us the courage of our convictions; when we should keep silent, restrain us from speaking lest in our desire to appear wise we give ourselves away. Teach us the sacraments of silence that we may use them to know ourselves, to understand one another, and above all else to know Thee. Then we shall truly be wise. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 235
February 26, 1980

Dear Senator Reutzel:

In connection with your consideration of LB 733, you have requested the opinion of this office regarding the following inquiry:

“If an employee receives notice of up-coming jury duty, and reports this information to his employer, is the employer within his rights to switch that person’s hours of work (shift) from day to night for that pay period?”

Your inquiry involves an interpretation of section 25-1640, R.S.Supp., 1979, which provides:

“Any person who is summoned to serve on jury duty shall not be subject to discharge from employment, loss of pay, loss of sick leave, loss of vacation time, or any other form of penalty, as a result of his or her absence from employment due to such jury duty, upon giving reasonable notice to his or her employer of such summons. No employer shall subject an employee to discharge, loss of pay, loss of sick leave, loss of vacation time or any other form of penalty on account of his or her absence from employment by reason of jury duty. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a Class IV misdemeanor.”

The issue posed then is whether a change in shift, such as you have described, constitutes “. . . any other form of penalty. . .” within the meaning of section 25-1640.

Since violation of the provisions of section 25-1640 is a misdemeanor, said statute must be strictly construed. State v. Tatreau, 176 Neb. 381, 387, 126 N.W.2d 157 (1964). Due process requires that the law give a person sufficient warning so that they may conform their conduct to avoid that which is forbidden. State v. Robinson, 202 Neb. 210, 213, 274 N.W.2d 553 (1979). However, a penal statute need not be written so as to be beyond the mere possibility of more than one construction. While a penal statute must be strictly construed, it should be given a sensible construction. A statute should be construed in the context of the objects sought to be accomplished, the problems sought to be remedied and the purpose for which it serves. State v. Louis, 184 Neb. 111, 119, 165 N.W.2d 569 (1969).

Section 25-1601.03, R.S.Supp., 1979, provides that the legislative intent and the purpose of the act is to:

“. . . create a jury system which will insure that . . . [a]ll qualified citizens fulfill their obligation to serve as jurors when summoned for that purpose; . . .”

Further, the legislative history of LB 234, 1979, indicates that the intent of said act is simply to allow more people to serve on juries. (Hearing, Committee of the Judiciary, January 31, 1979). Therefore, the statutory language at issue should be construed to effectuate the legislative intent of encouraging all qualified persons to serve as jurors.

Additionally, in construing a statute where an enumeration of specific things is followed by some more general word or phrase, the general word or phrase is usually held to refer to things of the same kind. 82 C.J.S. Statutes §332b, p. 658-666; In Re Grainger's Estate, 151 Neb. 555, 38 N.W.2d 435 (1949). The specific items enumerated in section 25-1640, i.e. discharge from employment, loss of pay, loss of sick leave, loss of vacation time, may be categorized as disadvantageous consequences which if imposed by an employer would discourage an employee from serving on jury duty. Switching an employee's shift from day to night for the reason that he or she would be absent from the day shift while on jury duty is, in essence, requiring that the employee serve as a juror on his or her own time. In this regard, the employer's action would appear to be similar to deducting an employee's absence due to jury duty from his or her sick leave or vacation leave.

In the absence of judicial consideration of the issue you have posed, we are unable to respond with certainty to your inquiry. However, we are of the opinion that the provisions of section 25-1640 could reasonably be interpreted to prohibit a shift change such as you have described imposed by an employer for the sole reason that an employee has been summoned to jury duty. While an argument to the contrary could be advanced particularly in light of the requirement that penal statutes be strictly construed, the above stated opinion appears to be more consistent with the legislative intent in enacting section 25-1640, R.R.S. 1943.

If we can be of further assistance, please advise.

Yours truly,

Opinion No. 236
February 26, 1980

Dear Senator Koch:

You have requested our opinion on the constitutionality of the Political Subdivisions Budget Limit Act of 1979 codified as section 77-3412 et seq., R.S.Supp., 1979. While you do not point to any specific legislation in progress which would warrant our response to your question, we assume that you are concerned with the provisions of certain bills now before the Legislature intended to amend certain aspects of both the above cited bill and the Local Option Tax Control Act, sections 77-3401 through 77-3411, R.S.Supp., 1979. For that reason, we proceed to answer your question.

You phrase your question in the following manner:

“Does the 1979 budget limitation legislation violate one or both of the stated constitutional provisions in that it prohibits the raising of ‘necessary’ revenue through taxation to provide for the required free instruction in the public schools?”

The constitutional provisions to which you refer are Article VII, Section 1 and Article VIII, Section 1. They provide respectively that, the Legislature shall provide for free instruction in the common schools of the state for all persons between five and twenty-one years of age; and that the necessary revenue of the state and its governmental subdivisions shall be raised by taxation in such manner as the Legislature may direct.

In the first instance, we are unable to discern in what manner section 77-3412 et seq., R.S.Supp., 1979, prohibits the raising of the necessary revenue or prohibits the provision of free instruction in the common schools of the State of Nebraska. You have not directed our attention to, nor are we aware of, any situations in which any school district has been required to close its doors. Nor are we aware of any instance in which a school district was unable to raise revenue.

The Budget Limitation Acts of 1978 and 1979 were designed to place a ceiling on the increased expenditures by adopting a limitation upon the budget that may be proposed by political subdivisions. These acts do not prohibit the raising of revenue. Nor do they prohibit the expenditure of such money for the purpose of providing education in the common schools without cost.

As you point out in your letter, in this state, and in most states, the Legislature's authority is plenary in the area of taxation. The Legislature is authorized by the Constitution to delegate to subdivisions specific taxing authority. The Legislature has delegated taxing authority to school districts. That authority is exercised locally by the school board. Using these funds coupled with other revenue sources, such bodies have provided education for Nebraska residents. The level of education to be provided is for the governing body as long as it meets the constitutional minimums. Just what those minimums are is largely a legislative determination. The range and breadth of course offering is a policy decision. One method of making that determination is to set the level of financial support. In some measure the lid bills do that.

Your question seems to assume that a limit on the level of tax support of education violates the constitutional provisions. Perhaps a showing could be made in that regard. It would at a minimum require evidence of an almost total failure to meet even the basic educational requirements. No mechanism exists from which we could make such a determination.

We are not unaware of cases such as Collie v. Franklin, 145 N.C. 170, 59 S.E. 144 (1907) or Wilson City Board of Education v. Wilson City Board of Commissioners, 27 N.C.App. 114, 215 S.E.2d 416 (1975), in which limits on the taxing authority of school boards have been found unconstitutional. Those cases, however, are not relevant to Nebraska. They dealt with a dual system of taxing authority. Nebraska, of course, does not have such a dual approach. Rather, the Legislature in the past has given unlimited taxing authority to some school districts. The Legislature has now seen fit to restrict that unlimited authority in the form of the Budget Limit Act applicable to school districts as well as all political subdivisions. At least in the absence of some showing of a near total lack of provision of educational basics, we do not find that approach by the Nebraska Legislature to be in contravention of any provisions of the Nebraska Constitution.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 237
February 25, 1980

Dear Senator Vickers:

You have requested an opinion from this office as to whether the value of rent-free housing, utilities and similar items provided by counties to sheriffs can be included in the calculation of the "minimum salary" of sheriffs that would be established by the provisions of LB 628, were it to be enacted.

It appears to us that those portions of LB 628 relevant to your inquiry would have only the effect of increasing the dollar amounts of the minimum salaries to be paid Nebraska county sheriffs presently established by virtue of section 23-1114.02 through 23-114.07, R.R.S. 1943. Accordingly, your inquiry is just as pertinent relative to those existing statutes as it is to LB 628.

This office previously has had occasion to consider this question. The position we have taken in the past, and which we now take, is that it is not proper to regard as part of his salary the fair and reasonable value of residence facilities furnished to the sheriff without charge by the county. The word "salary" as used in LB 628 should be taken to mean a fixed annual or periodical payment for services and a compensation which cannot be diminished during continuance of the incumbent in office. In contrast, the weight of authority is that the provision of living quarters for a sheriff is more in the nature of a gratuitous allowance or emolument of office and is in addition to the prescribed regular "minimum salary" guaranteed by statute. While we feel that the courts would construe LB 628 as presently written in this manner, a definition of minimum salary could of course be included in the bill to clarify any different construction intended by the Legislature.

Relative to utilities, clothing, etc., and consistent with our position in connection with rent-free housing, we take the view that the value of such items should not be regarded as a part of a sheriff's minimum salary pursuant either to LB 628 or existing statutes. In fact, we note that section 23-1718, R.R.S. 1943, specifically provides for a uniform allowance independent of salary considerations to be paid sheriffs and deputies serving in counties of less than 200,000 population.

In our opinion, the practical effect of the existing statutes regarding sheriffs' salaries would not be changed by passage of LB 628 in its present form. Counties must provide them at least the statutorily prescribed minimum salaries for the performance of their regular and official duties and services. Beyond that, the counties may, as they deem appropriate, provide them with increased salaries, gratuities or allowances not otherwise statutorily precluded. However, any such increases, gratuities or allowances are not to be regarded as part of the minimum salary.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General
