SPEAKER MARVEL: That's true. We have some work to do, but we also have some rescheduling to do, and I cannot tell you what it will be till we get this and we check once again with the bill drafter's office and I'll bring you a report right after lunch, this afternoon. Has everybody indicated whether or not they plan to be here tomorrow? Okay. Pardon me. With that information we'll get back to you after lunch and indicate to you a proposed schedule for the next few days. The problem involved here is we have to let one intervening day occur so that Enrollment and Review can take care of the work that we give them, and that's what we have to schedule. If we don't schedule it that way, we'll be in trouble next week. From Senator Keyes' district in the south balcony forty-three 4th grade students from Westmont School, Springfield, Nebraska.
