SPEAKER BARRETT: Thank you. On the motion to advance, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Chairman and members of the Legislature, this is the last I will speak on this bill at this stage. But I just happened to open a box that was on my desk and it had been mailed to my Capitol office and with it is a little piece of paper that says, "Here is our 1988 Virginia Slims Book of Days Personal Engagement Calendar. We wish you joy and peace for the holiday season and happy fulfilling days for 1988. Happy Holidays."; and a signature that I can't read. And here, what to my wondering eyes should appear...now this woman has all of her clothes on but she is stretched out in a very provocative posture and I'm sure it's not designed to teach a man to be faithful to his wife. Why would they put that picture in there? Because they know what people think and they know what will cause people to go for what they want. This lady looked like she is laughing at what I just said. But then there is another one in here with a dress on and it's split up the front and she has got one of her legs sticking out of it and a hand on her sassy hip. Now why would they send this kind of literature to senators? Is this designed to make us more attentive to our work? Is that what it's for? Well, now somebody might look at this and say, this is the wrong kind of thing for senators to have on their desks or have sent to their offices and they ought not even be thinking about things like that. And maybe if you were to bust open a senator's head at the right minute, a 1,000 little pornographic images would fall right out on the floor. I didn't say male senators, I said a senator. I don't make those distinctions. Male and female were created, based on what I was taught as a child, in the image of God, made he him, male and female, created he them, to multiply, be fruitful and replenish the earth. And they wouldn't just automatically do these things, so there were things about each that was to attract the other. That's the way it was created. That's what was meant to be and some things that are very ordinary, that are very normal, are dealt with in such fashion that they take on an ugly, tawdry, low type of appearance, and, rather than make young people avoid these things, we confuse them about those things that are most normal and ordinary. They get impulses, they get urges, enzymes and juices start to flow. There are physiological reactions that occur in their bodies voluntarily
