

SENATOR SCOFIELD: Mr. President and members, I would just rise to say that I think Senator Hefner has hit on something that would be of particular interest in my area simply because we have a number of people that come in there for rendezvous and black powder shoots and events and, consequently, I felt compelled to respond when Senator Hartnett asked you how many there are. I can't answer that but that is a fairly popular activity in northwest Nebraska and we see people coming in to the state to participate in those activities as well as a number of local residents, so I think this is something that will probably not have a great impact on the deer population but will be a popular activity. Thank you.

SENATOR LAMB: Senator Hefner, that is all the speakers. Did you care to close on your amendment?

SENATOR HEFNER: Mr. President and members of the body, just briefly, I do have the information here on the number of muzzle-loaders that's in Nebraska.
