

educational pieces in it and by putting child care pieces in it, as Senator Landis says, and we just rejected them because we said, well, they're either unconstitutional or we'll do it some time else. Quite frankly, we're going to all...and I know this bill is going to advance, but we're doing it in the face of a decision which puts in great question what we're doing here. And for the reasons that I've stated here and before, I'm going to have to support the kill motion and vote not to advance the bill. Thank you.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Dierks. The question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. Shall debate now cease? Those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Record, please.

CLERK: 27 ayes, 1 nay to cease debate, Mr. President.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Debate ceases. Senator Chambers, to close on your motion.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Chairman and members of the Legislature, I hate that Senator Schmit left the Chamber. I wasn't going to castigate him at this point. I was going to mention the fact that he has behaved in an exemplary fashion considering that he's a Christian when he has supported so many bills for children, the homeless and the poor. In fact, he's so good, considering the fact that he's a Christian, I'm going to make him an honorary heathen. He, in fact, is too good to be a Christian and it shouldn't be possible for a heathen to say that and be telling the truth, but unfortunately thus it is, and I guess that's why Jesus said that the way that leads to salvation is very narrow and only a few are going to be there and they are going to be the ones that you didn't expect, but the way that leads to destruction is broad and many there be that find that. And some of those who have been shouting the loudest, condemning the most, making it so hard on the sinful ones are the ones who are going to reap what they sowed. Now I remember that there was a time when I was going to Creighton that if a student was Catholic and ate meat on Friday, he or she would shake like a leaf on a tree but eat it anyway. They don't suffer the same threat now because the church changed its mind, but they thought they'd go to hell then so the church was wrong. The church following that old heathenish Aristotle who was a chauvinist, Aristotle thinks, thought that men had more teeth than women, known for his observation. All he had to do was count the teeth and he'd have seen that that wasn't true. Thought you cured a
