

to show my contempt...a yacht, I know what it's called, but "yatchet" sounds so much more effective for the purposes that I have in mind. Take them on free "yatchet" rides, give them food and the only purpose for doing that is to get these black legislators to sell out our communities. See, Senator Bohlke, ours is targeted. They put a lot of the billboards...and I'm going to come in with a bill at some time to prohibit those billboards in my community. The liquor industry does it heavily and the tobacco industry does it heavily and they know what they're doing. They have these high-priced, slick ad campaigns. They're out there all the time. While legislators are sleeping, the tobacco industry is creeping and they are doing their damage to this society. They are spreading heart disease. They are spreading emphysema. They are spreading stroke. They are spreading cancer. And those four things, by themselves, could constitute the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse because each one of them causes so much devastation and damage and harm and hurt to people that those four things alone are enough to cause this society, through its legislators, to do everything it can to bring that kind of activity to a halt. Let there be a different agricultural product from tobacco that is causing this much damage and how long do you think it would continue to be dispensed? You let them show a direct link between an agricultural chemical and cancer, stroke, heart disease and emphysema, as has been established, and there are other diseases from tobacco, let that be established and how long do you think it would take before that chemical were banned? Where is DDT?

PRESIDENT MOUL: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: It's being used in other countries now, because those things not salable in America are shipped to other countries. And because the tobacco industry sees its market diminishing in America, they're now broadening their campaign and making it global and they are making tremendous inroads in other parts of the world and this in the interest of Yankee American ingenuity. And how is that ingenuity displayed? By selling death. They can't compete when it comes to computers. They can't compete when it comes to automobiles. They can't compete when it comes to anything of a high technological nature, but when it comes to the dispensing of that which kills, that which cripples, that which maims, that which destroys, America is number one. And had the writer of the Apocalypse known about America, one of those Four Horsemen would have had the name America.
