

to the top was the unemployment rate. Thurston County again which has the highest teen pregnancy rate also had the highest unemployment with 5.1 percent. Scotts Bluff County had the second highest with 3.3 and then Omaha the lowest with 2.3. Each one of those statistics, as we went through, came to show more and more...

SENATOR MORRISSEY: One minute.

SENATOR HILLMAN: ...and followed the rates of teen pregnancy as some things fell in line. The other thing that we looked at probably was the ethnic backgrounds and the race in each one. If you looked at Thurston County, you would find that whites was 54 percent, blacks .1 of 1 percent, Native American 43.9 percent and Asian .1 of 1 percent, Hispanic .9 of 1 percent and then others. In Scotts Bluff County, you had 76.5 percent was white, .2 of 1 percent was black, Native American 1.8 percent and 14.7 percent Hispanic. In Omaha, you would look at 84.8 percent white, black was 10.9 percent, Native American .6 of 1 percent, Asian 1 percent and Hispanic 2.7. We did these comparisons also with some other counties and looked at...

SENATOR MORRISSEY: Time.

SENATOR HILLMAN: Thank you, I'll finish later.

SENATOR MORRISSEY: Senator Lindsay.

SENATOR LINDSAY: Thank you, Mr. President, members, I just have to respond to the last eight or nine speakers and I've got five minutes to do it. I'd first like to respond and let you know where I stand on this issue. The Hillman-Rasmussen amendment, as I mentioned, if we were serious about amending the bill, making it a good bill and then advancing it, I'd say, yeah, let's do it. Unfortunately, we can do all we want about the Hillman amendment, we can attach that to the bill and we know where it's going to end up because I guarantee you that they are not going to vote to advance the bill once we attach that on. Senator Bohlke was asking me, during her talk, about what objection I had to the resolution. My primary objection is to the first four words that say strike the original sections. It guts the bill, Senator Bohlke, that's the objection to the Bernard-Stevens amendment. The Hillman-Rasmussen amendment establishes a task force, that's a good thing. All of these things we've been talking about, looking at them, trying to find
