

good faith voting for this particular amendment and for...

SENATOR MOORE: I've always said...

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...this particular bill, too.

SENATOR MOORE: Minimally you have to vote, my opinion would be LB 22, LB 491, and LB 815, minimally.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Okay. I just find it interesting that some people who seem to have taken an interest in this particular amendment for a million and more for several years have voted against or passed on every tax revenue bill that has come before us so far. And it's going to be very interesting to me to see who votes yes on this particular amendment and what their votes are in the future on the revenue bills. I think that certain individuals should think very seriously about whether they are being honest with the public and honest with their constituents and honest with the rest of us with respect to their voting patterns by voting against all of the tax revenue bills and then standing up and promoting some of these amendments. Thank you.

SENATOR HALL: Thank you, Senator Beutler. Senator Schmitt on the amendment to the amendment from Senator Moore.

SENATOR SCHMITT: Yes, Mr. President. I just rise in support of the amendment and partly to answer Senator Robinson's question, if I can, on what he was referring to. What this computer would do is law enforcement officers from police departments, sheriffs departments or from the State Patrol can call in on the radio and this is transferred to the State Patrol then through the computer is transferred through the federal crime information center. And I believe that would probably be the answer to Senator Robinson's question. Thank you.

SENATOR HALL: Thank you, Senator Schmitt. Senator Hohenstein, your light is next.

SENATOR HOHENSTEIN: Thank you, Senator Hall, members of the body. This is interesting. Every time Senator Moore has an amendment the food comes so this is sort of like the Scott Moore diet plan I think. You just keep talking and you won't have to eat. Over the last several weeks I've had extensive discussions and, after appropriations met, extensive discussions with the State Patrol. And frankly, the original request for this has
