happening to their farmers, and the business community of West Point got together to do this. They're going to also do this same thing in Congress. Every member of Congress will receive a ham, United States senators, United States congressmen. So it's not...we are being favored with it in Nebraska; they're also going to be favored with a ham in Congress. And I think that...I'd just like to thank them for their personal involvement with this whole situation. It will bring to light some of the problems we have. The press was there and did a nice coverage of the story this morning and I think it's important for you all to know these situations that are going on in Nebraska today. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Thank you, Senator Dierks. Senator Connealy, I also understand you rise to join with this point of personal privilege.

SENATOR CONNEALY: Yes. I also want to thank them for coming and recognize that they are in the balcony today and thank them for their efforts.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: The Legislature will stand at ease here as we have further bill introductions this morning. I do want to announce some guests of the Legislature. They are Meg Fricke from Omaha and Gert Fowler from Omaha. They are guests of Senator Quandahl. They are underneath the north balcony. Would you please stand and be recognized by your Legislature. We'll stand at ease until we can process more bills. Thank you.
