But what we're trying to capture here is some kind of mechanism for those who truly don't know that their taxes haven't been paid. And I think that it's only common courtesy, and really I think a lot of our state treasurers feel that it is a common courtesy as well, and some of them do it already. And they do make a lot of money off of this interest, I mean a lot of that money comes...comes to them through this.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Do you think if you just had the one line that could easily be attached to a tax statement, it might not require an additional form or changing of a form would be adequate, if you just said "taxes for prior year are delinquent"?

SENATOR SCHIMEK: I don't think that would be good enough. And we have, as I say, we have worked...I had another amendment up here that was more elaborate. And we sat down and worked with the...with NACO on this, and it seemed to be satisfactory to both sides. Now, you...that doesn't mean you won't hear from any treasurers, because this was worked out within the last couple of days.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Time.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: I don't....

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Vrtiska. Senator Vrtiska waives off. Senator Schimek, you're recognized to close on your amendment.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Yes, thank you, Mr. President, members of the body. Senator Beutler, if I could just try to address your questions a little bit more. I don't think that we're talking about an onerous expense here. The main thing would be the postage, probably, in this notice. And if there are 4,000, I guess, that translates into about $1,200, if it has to be a separate mailing. And it wouldn't, in a lot of cases, have to be a separate mailing. But when you're talking about the interest that is accruing over all these months, and the taxpayer doesn't even know it's accruing, I think it's just
