youth once. Did I do it? I can't remember that far back. But we choose to go in. They sit out in the car and say, now, which one will sell it to us? Will this store? Will that store? Will this one here? What's a good target? Let's go try this one. Maybe they're an easy target, they have a young person coming working there. He works hard. He is studying for his exams, and we may catch him off guard. And that's the truth. Then that store gets punished. That store is punished. We have good, reliable grocery stores that sell alcohol. I'm not in favor of that, by the way, but they are good, reputable companies. It's the law and they can do it. They don't entice those youngsters to come in but yet they're punished. But it is a compromise and I applaud Senator Landis for seeing it that way, and I guess if we can't have it the other way, like Senator Jones says, there's already a law that says $500 fine for youth that try it. I wonder how many in this room know of a circumstance that that's happened. I don't know of any circumstance. There probably has. I am not an attorney so I don't see those cases or read about them, but has that ever happened? How many youth have been fined $500 for such? I wish somebody could answer that question, but I don't know of any. So the youth are not getting the message. That's simple and clear. The youth are not getting the message. How are we going to do it? I think this is a compromise. I'm going to vote for this. I don't particularly like it but maybe we can change it down the road, but I do applaud Senator Landis for at least...he gave in, we gave in, that's the way it is. Thank you.

SENATOR CROSBY: Thank you, Senator Cudaback. Senator Hartnett.

SENATOR HARTNETT: Madam President, members of the body, Senator Landis when he was talking the last time mentioned the lottery, I think, and I guess I've been told by retailers there's no compliance checks or something on lottery tickets because that's...you know, that's a state business. And I just...I just learned the other day is that we have for buying lottery tickets I believe the year is 18, you can buy lottery tickets legally at the age of 19. I think you can purchase cigarettes at the age of 18, and liquor at...at 21. And I, you know, and I, Senator Bromm, I, you know, had an amendment to his LB 407. I guess I've always been concerned about, since I'm a poor math student, for people doing the math, you know, and I think some progress
