SENATOR TYSON: ...you may think or I may think. Mine is a tighter construction.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Well, that...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: ...is...

SENATOR TYSON: And between "requires" and "allows" there's a world of difference. One says he can if he wants to...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: It says nothing.

SENATOR TYSON: ...and the other one says he can't.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Says nothing shall be accepted if it isn't in conformance with the policies and objectives of this initiative. So I don't...I don't really know what you're trying to get at, but I'll listen to the debate.

SENATOR TYSON: Okay.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: At this point, I have to say I can't support your amendment because I'm not sure that I understand it or what the full implication of it would be. Originally, I was going to.

SENATOR TYSON: Well...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Okay? Thank you.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. President and members of the Legislature, I am a graduate of Creighton University. Many, many years ago I graduated from Creighton University and when I went to Creighton University, young Senator Bourne, there were gentlemen who walked around in long black robes that we derisively described as dresses. They would put "SJ" after they signed their name, which meant Society of Jesus, or Jesuits. They were the soldiers or army of the Pope. Creighton University is
