scripture so you better get your act cleaned up. What I want to do in this amendment, even though I can't do away with this bounty system, is to reduce the amount. If this person gets this certification and need not get it again for 10 years, that person, under my amendment, would garner $50,000 just by being alive and breathing and holding on to a job. So I don't think it's unreasonable to reduce the amount to $5,000. You're not insisting that this teacher be a better teacher. You can put all kind of things in this book and say, well, under this program we know that if the teacher teaches math the teacher is going to teach math better. Well, here's how the teacher will teach math better. The teacher used to teach that two plus two are seven; but if you give that teacher $5,000 a year bonus, then the teacher will study up and say, well, two plus two are not seven; two plus two are five. That's closer, but actually two plus two are four, but the teacher now, that's getting all this extra money, has time to justify it, and the teacher says, well, no, you don't know how...what two plus two are. I'm talking about two baskets plus two baskets. I say, well, how do you get five out of two baskets plus two baskets? Well, we're actually adding apples, there's one apple in the first basket, that's one; two...one apple in the second basket, that's two; one apple in the third basket, that's three; two apples in a fourth basket. Three plus two are five, but we're talking about baskets, so two plus two are five. And we say, wow, we only gave them $5,000 more. That's ingenious; we ought to give them a lot more. I have kept reports that were written on report cards of my children where the teachers didn't know anything about agreement between subject and predicate--Gayla are doing very well. My daughter Gayla is not Siamese twins. Gayla are one person and Gayla are doing well. And I was so happy that she were doing well in view of the teacher that she had. I keep those things because people always want to tell me, no teacher would do what you say and nobody would be allowed to teach. Well, that teacher was allowed to teach in the school where my child went to school. But I spent time with my children. I read to them all the time. I showed them words in the book. I even used...we had a rotary...no, we didn't, it wasn't a rotary dial. It was where you push the buttons but they weren't quite like the modern looking telephones now. And we would go through the telephone and recite the alphabet and count the numbers and they could start in the middle of one to zero, well, one to ten
