FLOOR DEBATE

March 6, 2001

LB 574

Senator Bromm, if this person is, the merchant is looking at this item and the digital image resembles the person standing in front of that merchant, does the merchant have a chart of algorithms so that he or she can go through these mathematical calculations and determine that, although this person looks like the image on the license, that is not really the person? Is that what you're telling me?

SENATOR BROMM: No, I don't think so, Senator Chambers. He'll be able to swipe it through his...his card machine and tell whether it's an authentic license or whether...or if it's a duplicate it probably won't work.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And what is going to assure us that all these merchants are going to do this? Because now all some of them would have to do is look at this and see that the person standing before him or her is not the person on there, and they don't do that.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Time.

SENATOR BROMM: Yeah.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Oh.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Jones.

SENATOR JONES: (Microphone malfunction)

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Question has been called. Do I see five hands? I do. Question before the house is, shall debate cease? All those in favor vote aye; all those opposed vote nay. We're voting on ceasing debate. Have you all voted who care to? Record.

CLERK: 25 ayes, 1 nay to cease debate, Mr. President.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Debate ceases. Senator Bromm, you're recognized to close on AM0692.

SENATOR BROMM: I would like to give Senator Janssen a minute or
