punish them. I will not join in the war against these young people.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Senator Chambers, you're recognized to continue.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, Mr. President. Why do I call it a war against young people? Because you dare not do the same thing to adults that you do to children. There's Senator Dwite Pedersen sitting over there having had a bill of his killed which would have said when you have these people under 21 selling and serving liquor it must be done under the direct supervision of an adult. And the committee killed that bill, the same committee probably that brought this one out here because they're so worried about young people. But you know what they're more worried about? The liquor purveyors. They are worried about the adults who are going to make money using these kids to sell and serve liquor. That's all right. There is a specific exemption in the hypocritical Christian's law that allows it. And why did I say Christian's? Because the statutes of Nebraska recognize Christians and sometimes a specific Christian church when it comes to conception and what constitutes a human being. One particular church says a human being exists from the point of conception so that is to be put into the law. So that's why I can say your Christian law. You bend the knee to Christianity. But if Christianity means following Christ, you certainly don't measure up. You want to punish, punish, punish. This Christ that you say you believe in, which I know you don't, said forgive, forgive, forgive. When he was on the cross and bleeding his life away and dying because his heart could no longer pump enough blood through his body, he could have called down, if the stories are true which they're not, he could have called down lightning and struck every one of them dead. He could have prevented them from putting him up there in the first place. After all, he and his daddy are one he said. And his disciples at one point told him, call down fire on these people. And do you know what Jesus told them? You don't know what spirit you are of. You don't have any idea what I'm talking about. So what did Jesus say when he's bleeding his life away, he had been humiliated, had been tortured, had been given the lashing with the scourge which is
