so gullible and can be tricked and duped out of whatever it has. It's why some woman can get on television and lay out some picture cards and say, I'll tell your fortune and all kind of things about you from these picture cards. Then, during the commercial, they have people who are paid to do this who will say, gee, how did you know that about me? Well, that's the script. People hear that stuff and they pay their money to call to have their money taken from them. Churches operate on the same principle. The bigger the church the more crooked it is, so the biggest church is the "crookedest" church. And they want people to be ignorant and accept things as true just because some preacher or priest or rabbi says that it's true. And religious leaders are the ones who do not want anything they say subjected to examination and that's why they use terms like sacrilege, blasphemy, heresy, because they do not want it subjected to examination. When it comes to the conduct of judges, they do not want theirs subjected to examination. But nobody owns me and I'm going to examine all of them and show where all of these men have feet of clay, whether they're hiding it under a robe or under a Brooks Brothers suit in shiny patent leather shoes. They cannot withstand examination and that's why people who belong to their organization say you blaspheme my religion when you talk about a man who is capable of doing wrong, and if you check his history you see he did do wrong. Well, let these priests and preachers and others not do the wrongful conduct, but don't tell somebody else don't talk about it. There was a priest the other day convicted of a sexual offense against a child and the Catholic Church had already paid out over $10 million on him alone and an archbishop had to apologize because he said he knew what the rat had done and not said anything about it, had not done anything about it, had not warned anybody about it when they transferred him. Then people get mad at me and say what I say is vile because I'm de...I'm discussing the vile conduct of these people. I've got a letter from a preacher at a Catholic Church that I'm going to hand around to my colleagues to show why I have little regard...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...for them and their religion. He sent it to me and he signed it. He's Reverend somebody. He's from
