LB990 amends the Nebraska Criminal Code to create the offense of stolen valor. Violation of this new offense would be a Class I misdemeanor which has a maximum sentence of not more than 1 year of incarceration or $1000 fine, or both. There is no minimum sentence.

Article VII, section 5 of the constitution requires the fines from this type of violation be remitted to counties to be appropriated to the Common Schools. An impact is not determinable due to the inability to project how many violations would occur each year.

Lancaster County Corrections does not anticipate a fiscal impact.

The Supreme Court anticipates a need to provide further judicial and court education, however they indicate this can be accommodated within their existing appropriation.

There is no basis to disagree with either entity's assessment of impact.
