This bill prohibits the administration of phosphatidylcholine or sodium deoxycholate by subcutaneous injection for the purpose of eliminating or reducing localized fat accumulation. The prohibition does not apply if the physician has received approval from the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

The Department of Health and Human Services estimates that an additional licensing specialist would be needed to handle the expected increase in the volume of complaints. The cost would be $34,725 in FY 09 and $30,778 in FY 10. The costs would be paid from cash funds.
