LB 751 would amend statutory provisions regarding projects to remove vegetation in and along the banks of a natural stream. Current law provides that projects can remove vegetation within 100 feet of the banks of a channel; LB 751 would amend the distance to allow vegetation to be removed within 1,320 feet of the banks of a channel. It is estimated that this revision would not impact program funding, but could affect the type of projects that are funded.
