This bill would provide for seizures of pet animals and equines as prescribed.

There does not appear to be a fiscal impact to the state or political subdivisions from the provisions of this bill. The Attorney General estimates no fiscal impact.

The Supreme Court estimates no significant fiscal impact and their response follows:

No significant fiscal impact on revenue. Although not specified, it is assumed that the hearing mentioned in Section 4 of LB 1084 would be considered a new civil action requiring court costs to be paid. However, the number of hearings is not estimated to be significant so any revenue increase would be minimal.
