LB 39 amends the Nebraska Rules of the Road to specify how vehicles and bicycles are to be operated when in close proximity to each other and addresses the use of bike paths and who is assigned the right-of-way when crossing a highway. The only portion of the bill that appears to have a fiscal impact is the imposition of fines and court costs when provisions outlined in the bill are violated and drivers are found guilty. Since the number of violations is unknown an estimate of the amount of any increased revenue is unknown at this time.
