Executive Summary

The Vocational and Life Skills (VLS) Program was created through Nebraska Legislative Bill 907 in 2014 to support individuals returning to the community after incarceration. The program funds organizations across Nebraska that provide services such as job training, education, mentoring, housing support, and life skills development to help individuals successfully transition back into their communities. The program is administered by the Nebraska Department of Correctional Services and evaluated by the Nebraska Center for Justice Research (NCJR). Questions on this report may be directed to senior research specialist, Dr. Katelynn Towne, at the Nebraska Center for Justice Research (ktowne@unomaha.edu).

This report provides information on:

- The organizations funded through the VLS program
- The number of individuals served during the quarter
- Program participation and completions
- The average cost to serve participants across programs
- How grant funding has been distributed and used

Program data is reported by service providers through the Nebraska Inmate Case Management System (NICaMS). Because this system is continuously updated, some numbers may change slightly as new information is entered or corrected.

Overall, this report provides a snapshot of how VLS funding is supporting services that help individuals build employment skills, access community resources, and work toward successful reentry. More information about the program offerings can be located in the NDCS Opportunities for Change Catalog that is updated annually. Additionally, updates on VLS programs and announcements can be found on the NDCS Reentry Services page.

Report Definitions

Participants Served

This term refers to the number of unique individuals served through various VLS programs. A program participant is an individual who engaged with a program during the specified reporting period. Each person is counted once, regardless of how many times they participated in program activities.

Cost Per Participant

This metric represents the amount of VLS investment used to support each participant within a specific program. Programs may also have additional funding sources that contribute to participant support. Cost per participant is calculated by dividing the total reimbursements paid to the program to date by the total number of individuals served by that program during the reporting quarter.

Program Offering Participations

This term refers to the total number of engagements or interactions participants had with VLS programs. Unlike “Participants Served,” which counts unique individuals, this measure counts each instance of participation. As a result, the same individual may be counted multiple times if they take part in multiple program offerings.

Program Offering Participations

VLS Program offerings were developed for each grantee, so the evaluation may describe programming components. Each grantee provides different services; thus, each has a unique catalogue of offerings. Some participants may only need one offering while others may receive multiple. The program offering status describes how participants are or have participated in programming.

Program offering participations for grant cycle six, quarter three (January 2026 – March 2026) are presented below. Program staff work with each participant to develop an individualized plan of programming unique to their needs. Many participants are involved in multiple program offerings at each program, and some offerings available are not suitable for each participant. Some may only complete one program offering, while others may participate in multiple offerings either back-to-back or simultaneously.

A description of all funded program offerings is provided in Appendix A of this report. The variety in program offerings has changed over the years and will continue to change to meet the needs of the population. Therefore, some of the data presented will not match exactly with previous quarterly reports on program offerings.
