- (a) UNK's Military and Veteran Services Office is staffed by a full-time trained professional who serves as the point of contact and the VA School Certifying Official. Students receive personalized assistance in obtaining VA education benefits, military federal and state tuition assistance, and the NDVA waiver of tuition program. Services include advising and providing support and information about resources available to students on and off campus. Located in the same department, the Military and Veteran Student Center is a designated area for military-connected students where they can study, gather, and relax between classes. UNK waives the application fee for military-connected students, and credit may be given for courses taken at another school, or for military experience and basic training. Policies are in place for mandatory military absences. The short-term policy grants excused absences for days missed for training and is designed for students who are actively drilling and attending two weeks or less of training during the academic year. The long-term policy provides students who are called to active duty for an extended period with several options for continuing their education. Full refunds are given at the student's request. Each student receiving federal financial aid funding is paired with a staff member in the Financial Aid Office, who will remain their contact for the duration of their enrollment to assist with questions regarding the process for applying for and receiving grants, loans, and scholarships.
- (b) UNL has a one-stop shop location to serve and support all military connected students including Veterans. The Center is focused on five pillars of excellence: (1) Education Benefits – VA benefits, tuition assistance, scholarships, and residency tuition application information; (2) Academic Support – free tutoring, study areas, computers, and printing; (3) Student Service – partnering with all student services available at UNL to increase awareness and access (e.g., Services for Students with Disabilities, Student Veterans of America-UNL Chapter, and Counseling and Psychological Services) and partnering with services in the local community (e.g., Veteran Affairs services, American Legion, and Veterans of Foreign Wars); (4) Career Services – partnering with military friendly companies in Nebraska, educating students on state and federal job opportunities and applications, partnering with UNL Career Services to assist with resume and interview preparation; and (5) Outreach On & Off Campus – Center staff are advocates for our military connected students at UNL and work closely with faculty and staff to help students accomplish their academic goals. In addition, the Center engages with multiple organizations in the local community to ensure military connected students are aware of the numerous services available in Nebraska (e.g., Nebraska Veteran and Family Task Force).
- (c) UNMC students can receive the following additional support, services, and assistance: UNMC College of Nursing is approved for the Air Force Nurse Enlisted Commissioning Program (NECP), offering active-duty Airmen/Airwomen an opportunity to earn a bachelor's degree in nursing, an in-demand career in the Air Force; waiver of enrollment fee and supplemental application fee; new military student orientation every fall; academic support from academic success coordinators in each division; access to behavioral health counseling; and guaranteed admission for military students with a 3.3 GPA or higher that meet all requirements; and 10 saved seats on the Omaha, Lincoln and Kearney campuses for ROTC applicants.
- (d) UNO offers extensive support to military-connected students through collaborative efforts involving the Financial Aid Office, the Military Connected Resource Center (MCRC), and a satellite office at Offutt AFB. Veterans and service members have direct access to School Certifying Officials (SCOs) for help with Veterans Education Benefits, Federal and State Military Tuition Assistance, and the NDVA Waiver of Tuition. The MCRC, located in the Student Center, provides tailored resources, including academic support such as tutoring, advising, and access to a dedicated librarian. Military-specific career services and dedicated spaces for studying, printing, and peer support are also available. UNO ensures flexibility for service members, offering 100% tuition refunds if they are called to Active Duty and priority course registration for Veterans and Service Members. To meet the diverse needs of its military-connected students, UNO collaborates with various campus units (e.g., Counseling, Accessibility Services) and community organizations (e.g., Vet Center, At Ease, military leaders, employer partners) to provide comprehensive and effective support. Additionally, UNO awards college credit for prior education and military experience, helping students save time and resources on completing their degrees.
