LB1198 would require any entity selling electronic tickets to a large public event (a venue with a capacity of at least 5,000) to provide a paper ticket, at no charge, if the purchaser requests one. The paper ticket must be delivered before the event or made available for the purchaser to print before the event. The Attorney General would enforce the requirement, and violations would be subject to a civil penalty equal to $10 multiplied by the total number of tickets sold for the event.

The University of Nebraska states University of Nebraska–Lincoln Athletics estimates an annual fiscal impact of approximately $133,013 for printing, processing, and distributing paper tickets; current fees used to offset these costs would not be permitted. The System also states University of Nebraska at Omaha currently provides paper tickets only upon request for a fee (approximately 70 requests in 2025) and that eliminating this fee would increase ongoing operational costs; similar impacts are anticipated at the University of Nebraska at Kearney. Expenses would be paid with University cash funds.

Overall, the System states the bill would create increased, recurring operational costs related to staffing, printing, box office operations, and ticket distribution, and that the total fiscal impact cannot be precisely determined because it will depend on future paper ticket request volumes.

The Attorney General (AGO) states the bill would have a fiscal impact and would require at least one full-time attorney to carry out the enforcement responsibilities. The AGO further states that the bill does not expressly authorize recovery of enforcement costs or attorneys’ fees, which may result in enforcement and litigation work being conducted without cost recovery. The AGO indicates funding would be needed to support enforcement and litigation efforts, which could involve a significant volume of matters. Estimated cost: $152,468 in FY 2026-27 and $155,923 in FY 2027-28.

Explanation of Estimate:

This bill would have a fiscal impact on the AGO. The Attorney General requires at least one full-time attorney to fulfill its enforcement mandate under this bill. Furthermore, this bill does not expressly entitle the AGO to recover costs or fees, meaning any enforcement work done under this bill may be conducted at a loss. The AGO will need funding for its enforcement and litigation efforts, which could amount to a large volume of matters.

Explanation of Estimate:

LB 1198 would require the University of Nebraska to provide paper tickets, free of charge and upon request, for events held in facilities with a seating capacity of at least 5,000, regardless of actual attendance. This requirement would apply to athletic and other large-scale events at the University of Nebraska#Lincoln, the University of Nebraska at Omaha, and the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

Athletics at the University of Nebraska#Lincoln estimates an annual fiscal impact of approximately $133,013 based on the most recent year of costs associated with printing, processing, and distributing paper tickets to ticket holders requesting them. Currently, Husker Athletics charges a fee to help offset these costs; such fees would not be permitted under LB 1198.

At the University of Nebraska at Omaha, paper tickets are issued only upon request for a fee. Approximately 70 paper tickets were printed in 2025 at a cost of $25 per request. LB 1198 would eliminate the ability to charge this fee, resulting in additional, ongoing operational costs. Similar impacts are anticipated at the University of Nebraska at Kearney due to facility size thresholds.

Overall, LB 1198 would result in increased and recurring operational costs associated with staffing, printing, box office operations, and ticket distribution. The full fiscal impact across all campuses cannot be precisely determined and would depend on the volume of paper ticket requests in future years.
