(a) The Legislature shall meet at noon on the first Tuesday of each year and thereafter on each legislative day at 9:00 a.m., and adjourn not later than 1:00 p.m., unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote of its members present and voting thereon. The Legislature shall remain in session until it shall adjourn sine die, but in no event shall it remain in session for longer than ninety (90) legislative days in odd-numbered years or sixty (60) legislative days in even-numbered years. This limitation may be suspended by a four-fifths vote of the elected senators.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 10.

Each day the Legislature convenes shall be considered a legislative day.

(b) The order of business of the Legislature shall be as follows:

a. Prayer by the Chaplain
b. Roll call
c. Call for correction of the Journal
d. Petitions and memorials
e. Notice of committee hearings and reports
f. Bills on Final Reading
g. Resolutions
h. Introduction of bills and reading by title
i. Consideration of bills on Select File
j. Motions to reconsider
k. Motions to advance bills from committee
l. Other pending motions
m. Unfinished business, including messages on President's desk
n. Consideration of bills on General File
o. Miscellaneous business

(c) Messages from the Governor may be received at any stage of the proceedings.

(d) When a bill shall have been made a special order for a definite time and an adjournment shall intervene for a time beyond the time fixed for such special order, then in that event the bill so made a special order shall be placed in its order on General File. The unfinished business in which the Legislature was engaged at the adjournment of the last preceding sitting shall have preference in the special order of the day.

(e) Upon call for the introduction of bills, any member or any standing committee to which bills are referred for consideration may introduce one or more bills.

Introduction of bills. Rule 6, Sec. 1.

(B) Voting Machine

Sec. 2. Voting, Electric Roll Call. (a) All votes shall be taken viva voca unless otherwise provided for herein. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "Those who are in favor of the question say 'aye'; those who are opposed to the question say 'nay'."

(b) If a machine vote is called for or if the presiding officer is in doubt, he shall cause the result to be obtained by means of the electric roll call system, and in such event shall accept only machine tallied votes except that voice votes shall be accepted on a motion before the House while the House is under Call. The presiding officer may vote by voice. Only the totals shall be printed in the Journal. Once having voted aye or nay, senators may call in a change to not voting prior to the locking of the voting board.

Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading.

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the electric roll call system shall be used.

(d) Whenever the "ayes" and "nays" are taken by machine vote no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the Clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote the Clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, and those absent and not voting. Any member may request a roll call or a record vote and further that the same be verified.

(C) Motions

Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk in writing before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

a. To adjourn
b. For the previous question
c. To postpone to a time certain
d. To recommit to a committee
e. To amend
f. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, except that motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

(b) When a motion or other proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order.

(c) Amendments to the title shall be made by the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.

(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

Sec. 4. Shall the Debate Cease. The previous question shall be in this form, "Shall the debate now close?"

The previous question shall be in order when demanded by five or more members and must be sustained by the vote of a majority of the elected members, and until decided shall, except as provided in this section of this rule, preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn.

On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for a previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

When the previous question shall have been ordered on a proposition under debate, the mover, proponent, or introducer of such proposition shall be given the right to close the debate thereon.

Sec. 5. Call of the Legislature. A Call of the Legislature may be made by any member in the manner following: "I move for a Call of the Legislature." The presiding officer shall direct that the board be cleared and the members shall then vote on placing themselves under Call. If a majority of the senators present and voting vote in favor of such a motion then the Legislature shall be deemed to be under Call. Each member present shall indicate his presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his seat during the Call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the Call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members then present, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members elected. If all absentees were to vote on one side of the question, and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change the result of the vote, the President shall declare the Call raised.

Lieutenant Governor votes only when Legislature equally divided. Rule 1, Sec. 14.
Voice vote while House under Call. Rule 7, Sec. 2b.

Sec. 6. Postpone to Time Certain. No motion to postpone to a time certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill of proposition.

Sec. 7. Reconsideration. (a) When a question has been decided, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side, or not voting, to move for a reconsideration thereof. A motion to reconsider must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on the next legislative day, except when it be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading. In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Sec. 3.

(b) Every motion to reconsider shall take preference over all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(c) For its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

i Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.

ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause attached, but which received the constitutional majority with the emergency clause stricken and the purpose of the motion is to again add the emergency clause, then a two-thirds vote of the elected members shall be required for adoption.

Sec. 8. Strike the Enacting Clause. A motion to strike the enacting clause if adopted, is equivalent to rejection of the bill. It shall not have precedence over a motion to amend nor a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Sec. 9 Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

a. While a member is speaking.
b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.
c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.

A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall have precedence over a motion to adjourn. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions.

FIRST DAY—JANUARY 8, 1975

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FIRST DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, January 8, 1975

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 10, Article III of the Constitution of Nebraska, the Eighty-Fourth Legislature, First Session of the Legislature of Nebraska assembled in Legislative Hall of the Capitol Building at the hour of 10:06 o'clock on Wednesday, January 8, 1975, and was called to order by President Marsh.

PRAYER

Prayer was given by Dr. Robert Palmer, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> O Lord, our God, if ever we needed Thy wisdom and Thy guidance, it is now - as our Legislature begins a new session, standing upon the threshold of a new year, fraught with so many dangerous opportunities.
> Some old faces are gone from this chamber - and we remember them; other new faces have come - and we welcome them; many familiar faces have returned - and we are gladdened by them.
> We are grateful that somehow our beloved State continues to go on with vitality, vigor and energized faith, and we pray that in this new year we together may move on to loftier heights and nobler achievements, for the good of the people in an invigorating climate of freedom, frankness, fortitude, and faithfulness - to what we believe, to one another, and to Thee. Amen.

NOTICE OF CONTEST OF ELECTION

TO: WILLIAM E. NICHOL AND BEN WILSON

You are hereby notified that Terry Carpenter contests the general election held on November 5, 1974, for the office of member of the Legislature from the Forty-eighth Legislative District of the State of Nebraska, the recount held on November 25, 1974, and the canvass and certification of William E. Nichol as winner of the election on December 2, 1974, and will rely upon the following grounds for the contest of this election:

1. Certain illegal votes were received and certain legal votes rejected at the polls by the canvassing board and the recount board, sufficient in number to change the results of said election.

2. Certain errors occurred by the poll counters, the board of canvassers and the recount board in counting said ballots and in declaring the results of this election, which errors if corrected would change the result of this election.

3. Allen J. Beermann, Secretary of State, acted arbitrarily and discriminatory and employed improper and abusive exercise of the rules in determining that certain votes should be rejected because there was no first name or initial before the surname of the write-in candidate Terry Carpenter sufficient in number to change the results of the election.

4. Allen J. Beermann, Secretary of State, acted arbitrarily and discriminatory and employed improper and abusive exercise of the rules in determining that certain votes should be rejected for the reason that there was misspelling of the surname Carpenter sufficient in number to change the results of said election.

5. The number of legal votes rejected at each precinct as referred to in paragraphs 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this notice, and the statutory reason given for their rejection, and by whom they were rejected is as follows:

PRECINCT	REJECTED BY COUNTY CANVASSING BOARD No first name and initial Sec. 32-453 and 32-489 R.R.S. 1943	REJECTED BY RECOUNT BOARD No first name and initial Sec. 32-453 and 32-489 R.R.S. 1943	REJECTED BY COUNTY CANVASSING BOARD Surname misspelled Sec. 32-489 R.R.S. 1943	REJECTED BY RECOUNT BOARD Surname misspelled Sec. 32-489 R.R.S. 1943	REJECTED BY COUNTY CANVASSING BOARD No office designation Sec. 32-4,136 R.R.S. 1943	REJECTED BY RECOUNT BOARD No office designation Sec. 32-489 R.R.S. 1943

The County Canvassing Board and the Recourt Board did not count 465 votes for Terry Carpenter, because the voter wrote in the proper office designation and the first name and surname spelled correctly, but also punched a vote for Ben Wilson and/or William E. Nichol.

The County Canvassing Board did not count 1 vote for Terry Carpenter because there was no first name and/or middle initial; did not count 20 votes for Terry Carpenter because the surname was misspelled, and did not count 26 votes for Terry Carpenter because of no office designation for a total of 47 votes.

The Recount Board, in addition to not counting these 47 votes which previously had not been counted on the night of election, November 5, 1974, in arriving at the total votes cast for Terry Carpenter, did not count 49 votes because there was no first name and/or middle initial; did not count 28 votes for Terry Carpenter because the surname was misspelled and did not count 3 votes for Terry Carpenter because of no office designation, or a grand total of 126 votes. The grand total of the votes rejected for Terry Carpenter by the County Canvassing Board and the Recount Board for no first name and/or middle initial and misspelling of the surname amounted to 98 votes.

According to the official results certified by the Scotts Bluff County Clerk, Terry Carpenter received 2548 votes. William E. Nichol, a candidate, received 2545 votes. Ben Wilson, a candidate, received 2177 votes. The apparent winner by 3 votes was Terry Carpenter.

On a recount held on November 25, 1974, according to the official results of the recount, Terry Carpenter received a total of 2478 votes, William E. Nichol received a total of 2546 votes, and Ben Wilson received a total of 2178 votes. The apparent winner by 68 votes was William E. Nichol.

At the recount an additional 15 votes were counted for Terry Carpenter that had not been previously counted by the County Canvassing Board, and an additional 1 vote that had not been previously counted by the County Canvasssing Board was counted by the Recount Board for each William E. Nichol and Ben Wilson.

Terry Carpenter contends that the 126 votes set forth in this numbered paragraph were legal votes and should have been counted and if they were counted he would win the election by 58 votes.

Terry Carpenter further contends that notwithstanding the rejection of 29 votes cast for him which delineated no office designation he would nevertheless win the election by 29 votes, if all 97 votes were counted which previously were rejected because of no first name and/or middle initial or misspelled surname; and that these votes were clearly legal because they showed the clear intent of the voter to vote for Terry Carpenter, and could not be misconstrued in any way to be a vote for any other person for the office of State Senator of the Legislature from the 48th Legislative District of the State of Nebraska.

6. Melvin Maxwell, County Clerk of Scotts Bluff County, Nebraska, advised the election board officials that the only requirements necessary to count a write-in vote was for the office designation to be shown and the surname properly spelled. He told them that it was not necessary that a first name or middle initial appear on the ballot. Election board officials, when asked by a voter how to write in a candidate, told the voter that all that was necessary was to write in the office designation and the last name of the party they were writing in; and that this is sufficient to void the election, or to have all 49 votes cast for Terry Carpenter with the proper office designation and surname alone for Terry Carpenter counted.

7. Section 32-453 is unconstitutional as a violation of the due process clause of the 14th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Nebraska and violates the equal rights clause of the Constitution of the United States and the State of Nebraska.

8. Section 32-489 is unconstitutional as a violation of the due process clause of the 14th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Nebraska and violates the equal rights clause of the Constitution of the United States and the State of Nebraska.

9. As a part of this notice, Terry Carpenter states that the taking of depositions of the witnesses to be examined shall commence at 1:30 p.m., on the 17th day of December, 1974, in the County Courthouse in the City of Gering, Scotts Bluff County, Nebraska, and shall continue from day to day until finally concluded; and that the deposition of Allen J. Beermann, Secretary of State, and any other witnesses in Lancaster County, Nebraska, shall be taken in the office of the Secretary of State in the State Capitol Building in the City of Lincoln, Lancaster County, Nebraska, commencing at 9:30 a.m., on the 20th day of December, 1974, and shall continue from day to day until finally concluded.

As a further part of this notice, Terry Carpenter attaches a list of witnesses to be examined marked Exhibit "A" and by this reference incorporated herein and makes Exhibit "A" a part of this notice, but does not by this attachment of Exhibit "A" preclude himself from calling other witnesses as authorized by law and the rules of the Legislature.

Filed Dec. 30, 1974 (Signed) Vincent D. Brown, Clerk of the Legislature.

BEFORE THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEBRASKA

IN THE MATTER OF THE CONTEST OF ELECTION FILED BY TERRY CARPENTER, CONTESTER, FOR OFFICE OF MEMBER OF LEGISLATURE FROM THE FORTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT.	))))))	NOTICE TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS and ANSWER OF WILLIAM E. NICHOL

COMES NOW William E. Nichol, the duly elected Member of the Legislature from the Forty-eighth District of the State of Nebraska, and for his Answer to the "NOTICE OF CONTEST OF ELECTION" filed by Terry Carpenter, Contester, admits, denies and alleges as follows:

1. Admits that William E. Nichol, as the result of the Recount held on November 25, 1974 and November 26, 1974, and the canvass of votes by the Board of State Canvassers, has been certified as the Member of Legislature from the Forty-eighth Legislative District of the State of Nebraska.

2. For answer to Paragraph 1 of said "Notice of Contest of Election", denies all of said paragraph and affirmatively alleges that any votes rejected by the Canvassing Board and Recount Board was correct and in truth and fact, all Write-in Ballots cast for Terry Carpenter should now be rejected by the Legislature for the reason that fraudulent write-in ballots may have been received:

(a) On December 17, 1974, during Attorney Russell E. Lovell's Cross-examination of Terry Carpenter's witness, Melvin Maxwell, who is the County Clerk and Election Commissioner of Scotts Bluff County, Nebraska, it was discovered that prior to the General Election an employee of Maxwell's had wrongfully given Terry Carpenter the information so that Carpenter could illegally order 25,000 identical write-in Ballots (also called Ballot envelopes) from the same firm that furnished the Official write-in Ballots to Maxwell for the 48th Legislative District, namely Computer Election Systems, 1001 East Shore Highway, Albany, California; that delivery to Terry Carpenter was accomplished by having said 25,000 official write-in Ballots delivered to Election Commissioner Maxwell's County Clerk's office at the Scotts Bluff County Court House, Gering, Nebraska!

(b) Once Terry Carpenter and his campaign workers had access to the official write-in Ballots, it was incumbent on Maxwell to have the Election Judges sign their names on the back of the write-in Ballots offered each voter who voted in the General Election on November 5, 1974. (See provisions of Section 32-4,132 and Section 32-450 of the Revised Statutes of Nebraska 1943, Reissue of 1974.) The write-in Ballot or portion so provided "was a part of the official ballot---". (Emphasis ours) (See Section 32-4,136 R.R.S. 1943 above referred to.) Maxwell admits he failed to require the election judges to sign the back of the write-in Ballots, even though he knew Carpenter had access to official write-in Ballots! It is submitted that if Secretary of State Allen W. Beermann knew of these facts at the time of the Recount on November 25 and 26, 1974, he would sustain William E. Nichol's present Motion to invalidate the Terry Carpenter write-in Ballots!

(c) The write-in Ballots for Terry Carpenter should also be rejected because the majority of voters wrote in "Terry Carpenter Senator". This does not meet the requirement that "---The write-in ballot shall clearly identify the office for which such write-in votes is cast". (Emphasis ours.) (See Section 32-4,136 Revised Statutes of Nebraska 1943, Reissue of 1974.) The correct name for the office is "Member of the Legislature Forty-eighth District". (See Article III of the Constitution of Nebraska. See Chapter 50, Legislature of the Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943.)

3. Deny Paragraph 2 of Carpenter's "Notice of Contest of Election".

4. Deny Paragraphs 3 and 4 of said "Notice of Contest of Election", except so much as states that Secretary of State Allen W. Beermann rejected certain votes where only the surname of Carpenter was used. This is required by Section 32-453 Revised Statutes of Nebraska 1943, Reissue of 1974, the applicable part stating "---If the elector desires to vote for any person whose name is not printed on the ballot, except where not permitted by law, he shall write the name of the person in full in the blank space on the ballot under the proper office." (Emphasis ours.)

5. For answer to Paragraph 5 of said "Notice of Contest of Election", so much of said paragraph setting forth the precincts and the total votes rejected is substantially correct. The County Canvassing Board and the Recount Board did not count 465 write-in votes for Terry Carpenter as the voter had also voted for William E. Nichol or Ben Wilson. Election

Commissioner Melvin Maxwell then had the punch card votes for Nichol and Wilson both punched so it is now impossible to ascertain whether the voter voted for Nichol or Wilson. Section 32-493.02 R.R.S. 1943 provides, "Before write-in votes are counted they shall be compared with votes cast on the paper ballot or ballot card for the same office. If the voter has cast more votes for an office than he is entitled to vote for that office, the write-in vote shall be declared void and shall not be counted. Votes cast for duly nominated candidates will not be voided because of an invalid write-in vote, but if otherwise valid shall be counted." (Emphasis ours.)

For further answer to Paragraph 5, admit that the official results of the Recount Board and of the Board of State Canvassers shows that William E. Nichol received 2,546 votes, Terry Carpenter 2,478 votes and Ben Wilson 2,178 votes. Deny the rest of said paragraph 5 inconsistent with the above allegations and facts.

6. Terry Carpenter, prior to the General Election on November 5, 1974, in his television and radio programs and newspaper advertising, admitted that the Write-in vote for him had to state his full name, "Terry Carpenter". Carpenter also informed the public that his last name, "Carpenter", had to be spelled correctly to be counted. This admission on tue part of Terry Carpenter seems inconsistent with his statement at this time, that Section 32-453, Revised Statute of Nebraska 1943, which requires the full name on a write-in ballot is unconstitutional.

7. Terry Carpenter, in his advertising, also requested the voters to identify the office merely by stating "Senator Terry Carpenter". In view of the number of years that Terry Carpenter was a Member of the Legislature, it is difficult for us to understand why the voters were not properly inforv ed that the correct name of the office was "FOR MEMBER OF THE LEGISLATURE FORTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT". It is interesting to note that when Terry Carpenter was a member of the Legislature in 1969, he voted in favor of Section 32-4,136, which Statute provides, among other things,

"The write-in ballot shall clearly identify the office for which such write-in vote is cast".

8. Terry Carpenter not only obtained Official Write-in Ballots, which may have inadvertently caused some fraudulent write-in votes to have been received, but he and his campaign workers are also guilty of violation of Section 32-1221, Revised Statxtes of Nebraska 1943, which provides that no soliciting of votes and no electioneering shall take place within 100 feet of any building where there is a polling place. Numerous voters have complained that they were evenapproached inside of the polling place, inquiring if they wanted to know how to vote for Terry Carpenter.

9. Deny Paragraphs 6, 7 and 8 of "Notice of Contest of Election" and affirmatively allege that Sections 32-453 and 32-489 are constitutional; that the burden to prove otherwise is on Contester Terry Carpenter, who has failed to carry such burden.

10. As a part of this Notice, William E. Nichol states that the taking of Depositions of the witnesses to be examined to contest the legality of the write-in votes given to Candidate Terry Carpenter, shall commence at 9:00 o'clock A.M. on the 15th day of January, 1975, in the County Courthouse in the City of Gering, Scotts Bluff County, Nebraska, and shall continue from day to day until finally completed.

As a further part of this Notice, William E. Nichol attaches a list of witnesses to be examined, marked Exhibit "A", and by this reference incorporated herein, makes Exhibit "A" a part of this Notice, but does not by this attachment of Exhibit "A" preclude himself from calling other witnesses as authorized by law and the rules of the Legislature.

WHEREFORE, William E. Nichol, having fully answered the "Notice of Contest of Election" filed by Contester Terry Carpenter, respectfully prays that the Legislature take such necessary action to confirm the election of William E. Nichol as Member of Legislature from the Forty-eighth District. William E. Nichol renews the Motion made by his attorney, Russell E. Lovell, on December 17, 1974, after cross-examining Election Commissioner Melvin Maxwell, that the Legislature invalidate all write-in Ballots for Terry Carpenter, because (1) Terry Carpenter illegally had access to the Official Write-in Ballots; (2) Election Commissioner Melvin Maxwell knew that Carpenter had 25,000 Official Write-in Ballots but neglected to have the election judges sign the Write-in Ballots as is required by law; (3) the majority of the Carpenter Write-in Ballots failed to clearly identify the office, as "Senator Terry Carpenter" is not sufficient, the office is "Member of the Legislature Forty-eighth District". See Exhibit "B", attached hereto and made a part hereof.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) William E. Nichol

Mr. Mahoney asked unanimous consent to have the following material printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

RE: TERRY CARPENTER CHALLENGE (PROTEST)

STATE OF NEBRASKA
ARTICLE III – LEGISLATIVE

Sec. 10. the Legislature shall be the judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its members,

UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION
Article I, Section 5

Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualficiations of its own members...

ARTICLE I – BILL OF RIGHTS

Sec. 22. All elections shall be free; and there shall be no hinderance or impediment to the right of a qualified voter to exercise the elective franchise.

CONSTITUTIONAL BASIS FOR NONSECRET VOTE

ARTICLE III – LEGISLATIVE

Sec. 11. The Legislature shall keep a journal of its proceedings and publish them (except such parts as may require secrecy) and the yeas and nays of the members on any question, shall at the desire of any one of them be entered on the journal. All votes shall be viva voce. The doors of the Legislature and of the Committees of the Whole, shall be open, unless when the business shall be such as ought to be kept secret. (Amended, 1934.)

CONSIDERATIONS:

~~1. The basic and fundamental right to vote (intent prevails).~~

2. Judicial requirement of only "substantial compliance" with election laws to protect voter intent. (Greathouse v School District 155 Neb 883)

3. Power of courts to review legislative proceedings to determine legality. (Powell v McCormack 395 US 486)

4. Impropriety of exalting form over substance to defeat fundamental right to vote.

5. Idem sonans doctrine -- when misspelled name is legally acceptable. (Black's Law Dictionary, 1968)

CONSTITUTIONS, LAWS, COURT DECISIONS

The views in this paper are buttressed by Federal and State Constitutions, Statutes and Supreme Court decisions. All Nebraska cases are Supreme Court decisions.

The Legislature is dealing with basic democratic rights on which this political system is based. Should a Federal court be called on to review our actions, it will reverse and correct any unconstitutional or illegal conduct and decisions which infringe upon or ignore those rights.

ROLE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Since in Nebraska, the intent of the voter prevails and the Legislature is the sole judge of the election of its members, the Secretary cannot usurp the right of voters to choose whom they please, nor the grave responsibility of the Legislature to be the "sole judge" of the election of its members. If his exercise of discretion is found to have been arbitrary and contrary to the voting policy of the State, correction is in order. The disputed ballots must be examined to determine this. The Legislature must look at what he looked at.

FEDERAL JUDICIAL REVIEW

This Challenge was duly filed according to law and is properly before the Legislature. (Copies of Statutes related to Legislative Election Contest have been given to you.) We must adhere to the law and conform to the principles of due process -- no short-cuts or short circuits which violate anyone's rights.

The U.S. Supreme Court has made it clear that Legislative activity is not immune to judicial scrutiny and nullification:

It is competent and proper for a court to consider whether a legislature's proceedings are in conformity with the Constitution and laws...and if they (are) not, to treat their acts as null and void. (Powell v McCormack 395 US 486)

So, not only are we under public observation, we may come under a Federal judicial microscope. As Senator Jerome Warner said during a December meeting on this issue, we must construct a clear record of what we do and why.

This Challenge comes to the Legislature by authority and direction of the Nebraska Constitution which declares at Article III, Section 10:

...the Legislature shall be the judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its members...

Significantly for judicial purposes, this language is lifted intact from the Federal Constitution, Article I, Section 5. The U. S. Supreme Court, when construing this provision, did not hesitate to reverse action of the U. S. Congress (Powell v McCormack) and lecture them about the necessity to constrain legislative bodies when they try to limit the people's right to select their own representatives. The Court reminded Congress that the Framers of the Constitution had rejected schemes which might allow legislatures to usurp the "indisputable right of the people to (elect) whom they thought proper".

There is no reason to place the Nebraska Legislature on a higher footing than Congress, so far as being required to obey the Constitution and act lawfully. When a State incorporates a provision of the Federal Constitution into its own Constitution the history and prior judicial interpretation are guides for construing it.

DETERMINATION OF STATE POLICY ON VOTING

We must do some construing of our own because Nebraska Statutes are inconsistent on how to properly write-in a candidate. Hence, we must view the Statutes against the background of the voting policy established by the Constitution and Supreme Court decisions to get a total picture.

The Constitution calls for the voter to exercise the right of suffrage with "no hinderance or impediment". Numerous Nebraska Supreme Court decisions declare the paramount importance of voter intent. A Statute (32-488) says that if only a part of the voter's intent can be determined, that part must count.

SECTION 32-453 -- OUT OF STEP

Rather than strictly construe this Section (name written "in full") to defeat voter intent and the spirit of the Constitution, it would be advisable, perhaps, to consider the principle laid down by the Nebraska Supreme Court that "certain provisions of the election laws are directory". (Yeoman v Houston 168 Neb 855) And that:

...all statutes tending to limit the citizen in the exercise of the right of suffrage should be liberally construed in his favor. (Bingham v Broadwell 73 Neb 605)

In addition, a note following this Section in the Statute Book cites a case which declares: "Where the intent of the elector has been clearly expressed on the ballot, the ballot should be counted". Such construction harmonizes Nebraska law and implements the policy of the Constitution.

GOVERNMENTAL ATTEMPTS TO LIMIT RIGHT TO VOTE

Aiming to limit the power of legislatures to restrict voting, James Madison reminded the Constitutional Convention that Parliament had assumed power to regulate the qualifications of voters and

"the abuse they made of it was a lesson worthy of attention. (Parliament) had made changes . . . subservient to their own views, or to the views of political . . . parties."

Madison was convinced that such authority vested "an improper and dangerous power in the legislature".

Over a century later, the Nebraska Supreme Court expanded on the idea and included others who might abuse power:

If history teaches any lesson . . . it is that electors are far less likely to be guilty of malconduct than are election and returning boards, supervisors and inspectors. A requirement of excessive strictness in compliance with technical formalities has in all times been a most facile instrument for defeating the popular will. . . . More to be feared than "an army with banners" are intricate and complicated election laws in the hands of skillful and unscrupulous manipulators. (Griffith v Bonawitz 73 Neb 622)

When the Congress bolted toward the forbidden territory feared by Madison, they were abruptly halted by the Supreme Court, and Justice Douglas was moved to say:

At root . . . is the basic integrity of the electoral process. Today we proclaim the constitutional principle of "one man one vote". When the principle is followed and the electors chose a person who is repulsive to the Establishment in Congress, by what constitutional authority can that group of electors be disenfranchised? (Powell v McCormack)

(Alexander Hamilton believed that the fundamental principle of representative democracy is that "people should choose whom they please TO GOVERN THEM.")

VALUE OF THE RIGHT TO VOTE

"No right is more precious in a free country than that of having a voice in the election of those who make the laws under which we must live." (Wesberry v Sanders 376 US 1)

"The right to vote freely for the candidate of one's choice is of the essence of a democratic society, and any restrictions on that right strike at the heart of representative government." (Reynolds v Sims 377 US 555)

NO UNDUE RESTRICTION ON THE RIGHT TO VOTE

"The right of suffrage is subject only to the imposition of state standards which are not discriminatory (Harper v Virginia Board of Elections 383 US 663); and the classifications drawn in the statutes (must) be reasonable. . . (Carrington v Rash 380 US 96); because we deal here with matters close to the core of our constitutional system."

Again, the Nebraska Supreme Court speaks to the subject:

At the threshold of such a discussion as this the courts are met by two propositions which cannot be ignored or evaded. One is the (Nebraska) constitutional enactment (Art. 1, Sec. 22); and the other, inherent in the idea of representative government, is that the free and uncorrupted will of the voter shall be given effect . . . a free ballot and a fair count. . . . All statutes and parts of statutes irreconsilably in conflict with or derogatory of either of them are (of no force). (Bingham v Broadwell 73 Neb 605)

NO DISFRANCHISEMENT OF QUALIFIED VOTERS

In Nebraska:

It is the policy of the law to prevent the disfranchisement of qualified electors who have cast their ballots in good faith by requiring only a substantial compliance with the election laws of the state. . . . On the trial of a contested election ballots will not be treated as void simply because of irregular or unauthorized markings . . . which appear to have been innocently made as a result of . . . ignorance, if the lawful intent of the voter can be ascertained therefrom. (Greathouse v School District 155 Neb 883)

"Courts should be reluctant to disfranchise the voter. Rules rejecting ballots . . . have that effect in particular cases. Where . . . there is basis, the presemption of legality, innocence and good faith should be applied." (Murray v Floyd (Minn.) 11 NW2d 780)

"The Supreme Court has consistently held that qualified citizens have a constitutionally protected right to vote and have their votes counted." (Ex parte Yarbrough 11o US 651)

IGNORANCE / MISTAKE

. . . the objections that are made to individual ballots are of a character that is commonly described as "technical". That is to say, the purpose or intent with which they were cast is not in doubt . . . but it is sought . . . to defeat that intent because of some alleged defect or informality, the evident result of innocent . . . mistake or ignorance. (Griffith v Bonawitz 73 Neb 622)

Minnesota acknowledges that: "The undeniable fact is that in voting there are many mistakes and a great deal of careless and ignorant marking of the ballots." (Murray v Floyd)

CONSTITUTIONAL STATUS OF WRITE-IN VOTING

"A write-in ballot permits a voter to effectively exercise his constitutionally protected franchise. . . . The denial of this unfettered freedom of choice is a denial of equal protection of laws as guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment." (Socialist Labor Party v Rhodes 290 F. Supp. 983)

The right to vote is protected against "sophisticated as well as simple-minded modes (Lane v Wilson 307 US 268); and cannot be denied directly or indirectly" (Guinn v United States 238 US 347)

"Constitutional rights would be of little value if they could be manipulated out of existence." (Gomillion v Lightfoot 364 US 339)

VOTER'S INTENT PREVAILS

"Ballots are not invalidated by failure to strictly comply with the statutory directions for marking them, under the liberal rule for arriving at the voter's intention allowed by our statutes, but when the markings are evidently intended for the purpose of expressing the voter's intention, the ballots should be counted. . . . The important thing is to determine the intention of the voter and to give it effect." (Bingham v Broadwell)

After citing an impressive list of cases and authorities, the Nebraska Supreme Court says in another case:

It is obvious from the aforementioned authorities that the intention of the voter is the dominant factor to be determined from the ballot. (Greathouse v School District)

The picture is fleshed out by language from Nebraska Statutes 32-488:

. . . When a ballot is sufficiently plain to gather therefrom a part of the voter's intention, it shall be the duty of the judges of election to count such part.

From Connecticut, a case went to Federal court, and it was stated: "Inconsequential errors in designation will not invalidate a vote where the identity of the candidate intended to be designated is fairly ascertainable". (292 F. Supp. 411)

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

According to the Nebraska Supreme Court:

A name is a word or words . . . used to distinguish a person . . . from others, and words indicated by single letters are only less adapted to that purpose than words indicated by several letters. (Referring to an election judge who endorsed the backs of ballots only with initials instead of his full name as directed by statute, the Court continued): . . .the endorsements are . . . for the purpose of identification and authentication of the ballots. This object was as effectively accomplished by (initials alone) as it would have been by the full name or of the surname and the first two initials. We think the spirit, if not the letter, of the statute was satisfied. (Griffith v Bonawitz)

If Section 32-453 is to be construed liberally to safeguard the intent of the voter, how should 32-489 (requiring only the surname) be handled? Help comes again from the Nebraska Supreme Court: "The rule is: in case of doubt as to the meaning of a statute, resort may be had to the title as an aid to discover the legislative intent". (Yeoman v Houston 168 Neb 855) The application of this rule makes it clear that legislative intent was that initials and first name are not needed when the write-in candidate is the only one being written-in and there can be no confusion of him with another. Again, the liberal attitude is shown toward safeguarding the intent of the voter from defeat by ignorance or carelessness.

DOCTRINE OF IDEM SONANS

BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY, 1968, presents this legal doctrine:

. . . absolute accuracy in spelling names is not required in legal documents or proceedings . . . if the name as spelled . . . though different from the correct spelling thereof, conveys to the ear, when pronounced according to the commonly accepted methods, a sound practically identical with the correct name as commonly pronounced, the name thus given is a sufficient identification of the individual referred to . . . Example: Lawrence, Lawrance.

According to the Minnesota Supreme Court:

Minnesota statutes provide for disregarding misspellings and abbreviations. Where the name is incorrectly spelled, but the one written is idem sonans with that of the candidate, the vote should be counted for him." (Murray v Floyd)

Since literacy is not a prerequisite to voting in Nebraska; since the Nebraska Supreme Court has been so protective of the right to vote (even to the point of disregarding the letter of the law when the spirit was complied with); since there is a Statute which emphasizes the intent of the voter, I must conclude that the doctrine of idem sonans would be accepted in Nebraska as in Minnesota if a case were presented to the Nebraska Supreme Court. After all, the principle is generally accepted.

Enough has been said.

Senator Ernie Chambers
11th Legislative District

BINGHAM v. BROADWELL (73 Neb 605)

"At the threshold of such a discussion as this the courts are met by two propositions which cannot be ignored or evaded. One is the constitutional enactment (Art. I, Sec. 22); and the other, inherent in the idea of representative government, is that the free and uncorrupted will of the voter shall be given effect. . . a free ballot and a fair count . . . All statutes and parts of statutes irreconcilably in conflict with or derogatory of either of them are (of no force). p. 607

"It seems clear that it was the intention to vote for the particular candidate, and therefore the ballot should be counted. p. 612

"Ballots are NOT invalidated by failure to strictly comply with the statutory directions for marking them, under the LIBERAL rule for arriving at the voter's INTENTION allowed by our statutes, but when the markings are evidently intended for the purpose of expressing the voter's INTENTION, the ballots should be counted. p. 613

". . .all statutes tending to limit the citizen in the exercise of the right of suffrage SHOULD BE LIBERALLY CONSTRUED IN HIS FAVOR. . . . The important thing is to determine the INTENTION of the voter and to give it effect. p. 614

"THE LEGISLATURE WAS, PERHAPS CONSCIOUS OF WHAT THE COURT DOES NOT SEEM CLEARLY TO HAVE APPREHENDED, THAT SO RIGID A REGULATION WAS A PRACTICAL OBSTRUCTION TO THE VOTER IN VIOLATION OF THE CONSTITUTION." p. 612

NEBRASKA CONSTITUTION
ARTICLE I–BILL OF RIGHTS

Sec. 22. All elections shall be free; and there shall be no hinderance or impediment to the right of a qualified voter to exercise the elective franchise.

32-453. Ballots; how marked by voter; name written in, permitted. The elector shall proceed alone into a compartment, if there be one then unoccupied, and prepare his ballot by marking it in the following manner: He shall make a cross or other clear intelligible mark in the square to the left of every candidate for whom he desires to vote, and in case of a question to be submitted to the vote of the people, by making such a cross or mark in the square to the left of the answer he wishes to give. If the elector desires to vote for any person whose name is not printed on the ballot, except where not permitted by law, he shall write the name of the person in full in the blank space on the ballot under the proper office.

32-488. Ballots; unsigned and unintelligible; rejection; valid in part; duty to count. In the canvass of the votes, any ballot which is not endorsed upon the back thereof as provided by law by the signature of two judges or any ballot or parts of a ballot from which it is impossible to determine the elector's choice shall be void and shall not be counted; Provided, when a ballot is sufficiently plain to gather therefrom a part of the voter's intention, it shall be the duty of the judges of election to count such part.

32-489. Ballots; incorrect initials or surname of candidate; count or rejection; when authorized. If at any stage of the canvass a ballot shall be found having correctly written or printed thereon the surname of any person for any office, who shall be a candidate for such office at such election, and there shall be no other candidate for the same office having the same surname, such ballot shall be counted for such candidate, although the initial letter or letters, or first name or names written or printed before his surname may not be those properly belonging thereto; Provided, if there shall be two or more candidates at such election for the same office having the same surname, and such initial letter or letters or first name or names, written or printed on such ballot, do not properly belong to either of the candidates, such ballot shall be rejected and disposed of as directed in section 32-492. A candidate within the meaning of this section is any person intentionally voted for at any election.

REPORTS

STATE TORT CLAIMS

December 24, 1974

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Brown:

In conformity with the provisions of Section 81-8,226, R. R. S. 1943, the following report is made on behalf of the Attorney General to the Legislature for all claims and judgments made under the State Tort Claims Act since the start of the last regular legislative session. In order to avoid repetition with the report made by the Secretary of the State Claims Board only claims appealed to the courts are herein mentioned, the same being covered by the Secretary. Of those tort claims which were denied by the State Claims Board, a considerable number have been appealed to the district courts and are still pending therein. Some nine cases which were appealed have been disposed of during the past biennium. Each of these cases now disposed of are as follows:

Tort Claim No. 0014 - Samuel and Emma Snell - Filed in the District Court of Dawson County, Nebraska, in the amount of $3,960.11. The action was based upon claimed negligence of Department of Roads' employees in operation of a snow plow. After trial in the District Court the case was dismissed, the Court finding no negligence on the part of the state employees.

Tort Claim No. 1012. - Herminio Cortes - Action filed in the District Court of Cass County, Nebraska, in the amount of $14,231.52 for the death of plaintiff's son from drowning in a state lake. The District Court after trial found for the defendant State of Nebraska. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court of Nebraska who affirmed the District Court's decision.

Tort Claim No. 1016 - Russell Baldwin - Action was filed in the District Court of Douglas County, Nebraska, for $367.61 based upon alleged negligence of the Department of Roads and its contractor for repair work upon Interstate 80. The case was dismissed by the plaintiff without trial.

Tort Claim No. 1027 - Northwestern Public Service Company - Action was filed in the District Court of Buffalo County, Nebraska, for $49,728.90 against the State, a building contractor and an architect in relation with the construction of a new building at the Youth Development Center at Kearney. The action was based upon rupture of a gas line during construction work, which rupture caused loss of gas service to the City of Kearney for approximately a two-day period. The lawsuit became quite involved and settlement between all the parties was finally reached, the State paying $13,675.45 as its share in the settlement.

Tort Claim No. 1028 - Haines Peacock - Action in the District Court of Lancaster County, Nebraska, with prayer for $51,000.00. Claim was based upon a motor vehicle accident alleged to have occurred as a result of mud being upon Interstate I-80 after a heavy rain. Case was dismissed by the plaintiff.

Tort Claim No. 2010 - Robert King - Suit was brought in the District Court of Lancaster County, Nebraska, for $10,000.00 based upon negligence of State Reformatory officials for not properly protecting plaintiff from assault and sexual attack by cellmates at the Penal Complex Reformatory. Denial by the Board was appealed to the District Court of Lancaster County and was dismissed by the Court in finding that no negligence existed on behalf of the State.

Tort Claim No. 2021 - Fred Kuhlmeier - Action brought in the District Court of Cass County, Nebraska, for $30,000.00 for injuries received by the plaintiff in falling down a concrete bank. Settlement was made by this office with payment of judgment entered in the settlement in the amount of $25,000.00.

Miscellaneous Claim No. 52 - Jerry Sheldon - This claim was filed by the Secretary of the State Claims Board as a miscellaneous claim rather than a tort claim as the Secretary knowing that the injury complained of occurred prior to January 1, 1970, felt that it could only be construed as an extra-judicial claim which would only permit a recommendation by the Claims Board rather than actual allowance and payment which would be the case with a tort claim. The plaintiff on being informed that the claim had been disallowed by the State Claims Board filed an action in the District Court of Lancaster County, Nebraska, for $20,000.00, treating the same as a tort claim. Demurrer was filed by the State which was sustained by the District Court because the injury to the plaintiff occurred prior to the passage and effective date of the Tort Claims Act. The claim was based upon plaintiff having suffered from leg injuries while working as a barber in the Nebraska Penal Complex, plaintiff alleging that disability occurrred as a result of lack of proper cushioning on the concrete floor.

Tort Claim No. 3011 - William Konen - Action was filed in the District Court of Webster County, Nebraska, for $529.90. Settlement was made by this office with the plaintiff by payment of $379.90. The claim arose by reason of Department of Roads' employees leaving a fire smoldering on plaintiff's premises resulting in the loss of livestock attracted to warmth of the smoldering fire.

Tort Claim No. 3059 - Sandra Hansen - Action was filed by the plaintiff in the amount of $758,359.16 in the District Court of Dodge County, Nebraska. Action was based upon alleged negligence of state employees in allowing an inmate to visit his wife in Fremont without proper travel orders and without searching at the gate of the Penal Complex, inmate shooting his wife resulting in her being injured to such an extent that she will never be able to fully take care of herself or to sustain regular employment during the balance of her lifetime. Judgment of the District Court was for $176,000.00. This judgment is pending an appeal by the State in the Supreme Court of Nebraska; summary is included in this report on this claim because of the judgment being in excess of the $50,000 payable by the Board.

There are a considerable number of claims, some of the same being in large amounts, which are now pending in various district courts of the state awaiting action in said courts.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

STATE DEPARTMENT OF ROADS

December 23, 1974

The Honorable J. James Exon
Governor of the State of Nebraska
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509
and
Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and
Members of the Eighty-Fourth Legislature, First Session
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Governor Exon and Members of the Legislature:

In accordance with the provisions of Section 39-1392 R.R.S. 1943, I am submitting herewith a one year and a long-range five year plan of scheduled design, construction, and improvement for all exterior access roads and interior service roads as certified to the Department of Roads by the Game and Parks Commission as provided under Section 39-1390, R.R.S. 1943.

This report is presented on the basis of fiscal year programs rather than calendar year programs, since both the Department of Roads and the Game and Parks Commission currently operate on a fiscal year basis.

Section 39-1392, R.R.S. 1943 provides that only projects certified by the Game and Parks Commission may be included in the Department of Roads One and Five Year Program. Consequently, the Five Year Program we have submitted reflects only projects which have been certified. The report by the Game and Parks Commission will show the projected Five Year Program. It is our understanding that the Game and Parks Commission will provide project certifications from their Five Year Program early in 1975. Within the limitations of the projected funds, our Five Year Program in next year's annual report will reflect selected projects from the Game and Parks Commission's 1975 certification list.

It is estimated that the Recreation Roads which have been certified by the Game and Parks Commission will obligate all funds accruing to the Recreation Road Fund for approximately the next four years. Engineering is progressing on most of these projects so they can be let to contract when sufficient funds are available. It is anticipated that the projects certified by the Game and Parks Commission in early 1975 will provide sufficient projects to allow the Department of Roads to prepare a Five Year Program which will commit all projected funds.

It should be noted that in developing the Department of Roads One Year and Five Year Program for State Recreation Roads, we have adopted the following policy. The Department of Roads One Year Program will be developed within the projected funds available six months beyond the time frame of the One Year Program. The One Year Program for FY 1976 will consist of FY 1976 plus moneys accruing in the first half of FY 1977. Similarly our Five Year Program for FY 1977 through FY 1981 will consist of FY 1977 through FY 1981 funds plus moneys accruing in the first half of FY 1982. Not withstanding the certifications or programs by the Game and Parks Commission, our One Year and Five Year Programs shall be based on the above policy.

Obligation of funds six months in advance will allow maximum utilization of the State Recreation Road Funds, since payout to contractors usually occurs approximately six months after the funds are obligated and let to contract.

Attached hereto are the following documents for your review.

1. One Year Program for FY 1975 (July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975)
2. One Year Program for FY 1976 (July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976)
3. Five Year Program for FY 1977 through FY 1981 (July 1, 1976 thru June 30, 1981)
4. A Financial Report of the State Recreation Road Fund showing:
   a. Projected status of the State Recreation Road Fund as of December 31, 1974.
   b. Projected status of the State Recreation Road Fund as of June 30, 1975.
   c. Projected status of the State Recreation Road Fund as of June 30, 1976.
   d. Projected status of the State Recreation Road Fund for the Five Year Program. (Includes 6 months FY 1982 funds)
5. Report of the design, construction and improvements accomplished during calendar year 1972, 1973, and 1974.

The Department of Roads wishes to acknowledge the excellent cooperation of the Game and Parks Commission in providing certified projects for the State Recreation Road Program and in cooperating with the Department during the design and construction of these projects.

If additional details or explanation of our part in the State Recreation Road Program is desired, we shall be pleased to provide them upon request.

Yours very truly,

NEBRASKA STATE PROBATION SYSTEM

SUBJECT:
ANNUAL REPORT ON NEBRASKA STATE PROBATION SYSTEM

TO:
Hon. J. J. Exon, Governor
State of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska

Hon. Frank Marsh, President
Nebraska State Legislature, Lincoln, Nebraska

THROUGH:
Hon. William C. Hastings, President
Nebraska District Court Judges Association
Lincoln, Nebraska

FROM:
Edwin H. Garrison, Probation Administrator
State of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska

In compliance with LB 680, Section 7, Paragraph 13, this annual report for the year 1973-74 is submitted on the Nebraska State Probation System. Following the annual Nebraska District Court Judges Association Meeting to be held in Lincoln on June 12, 13, 14, 1974, this report will be forwarded to Governor J. J. Exon and the President of the Legislature.

In 1973-74, a total of 4946 people were processed and supervised by the Nebraska Probation System. This total compares with 3946 processed in the 1972-73 period. Nebraska cooperated with the other 49 states in processing and supervising over 500 probationers in Nebraska from other states. These Interstate Probationers are included in the total of 4946.

Many hours were spent in visitations with State Senators, civic groups, talking to newspaper personnel and appearances on radio and tv programs to inform all citizens in Nebraska about the Probation System and its rehabilitative effects. In addition to the rehabilitative effects many people have been amazed at the amount of money that the Nebraska Probation System saves Nebraska taxpayers by the courts using probation in lieu of incarceration.

Eleven new probation officers were assigned during the past year and thirty-three more have been approved for the coming year. This increase was made because of large increases in the number of people on probation in Nebraska. For example, in 1969-70 we had 1606 probationers. In 1973-74 this had increased to nearly 5,000.

The Advisory Committee, consisting of County and Juvenile Judges established under LB 680 meets twice a year to discuss current probation problems across the State. In addition, individual discussions have been held frequently with individual members of this committee.

The State Probation Administrator has met with the Probation Committee of the District Judges and County Judges four times during the past year. He has also met with individual groups throughout the State.

During the period 1973-74, a total of 3755 presentence investigations were made as compared to 3031 made in the previous year.

Training programs were held during the months of June and October for all probation officers. In addition, many of the probation personnel were allowed to take special college courses or to attend national training sessions.

Because a great interest is being shown throughout the State in volunteer work, the Nebraska Volunteers In Probation program was started on August 1, 1973. Although the program is not a year old, it has been very successful. In that time we have trained three coordinators who cover the entire state. We have trained 526 people in 56 towns. It has been received well by the judiciary and the citizen populace as well. We plan to continue this program and hopefully by making more people aware of the current problems with adults and juveniles we can see a reduction in crime throughout Nebraska.

The Nebraska State Probation System is a member of the following organizations: 1. The American Corrections Association 2. The National Institute on Crime and Delinquency 3. The Council of State Governments.

The goals of the Nebraska Probation System are three-fold: a. To rehabilitate the probationers in their community. b. To reduce crime in communities throughout Nebraska. c. To save money for the Nebraska taxpayer.

If you have any questions on the Nebraska Probation System or the Composite Report which is attached, please give me a call.

Thank you for your continued interest, support and cooperation.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Edwin H. Garrison
State Probation Administrator

TO: Nebraska State Board of Education
SUBJECT: Deficiency Appropriation for School Food Services, Program 508-88 State Matching

The National School Lunch Act requires that Federal funds received under Section 4 of the Act must be matched with State and/or local funds at a rate of $3.00 of State and/or local funds for each $1.00 of Federal funds, except that such ratio shall be reduced by the same percentage that a State's per capita income is below the National per capita income. The Act also requires that 6% of the matching funds shall be from State revenues appropriated or specifically used for program purposes other than State Administration. The State matching requirement for any fiscal year is based on the Section 4 Federal funds for the previous fiscal year.

In our budget request for FY 1975 we requested $380,265 for this purpose. Final reports from the schools determined the actual need to be $508,633. The amount appropriated by L.B. 1053 for this purpose was $230,265, or $278,368 short of our actual need. It has been determined by the USDA that an estimated $104,653 of money appropriated for food services in State operated schools may be counted as matching money. This reduces our unmet need to $173,715. It is, therefore, my recommendation that this amount ($173,715) be requested in a Deficiency Appropriation.

These funds are used solely for providing nutritious meals for Nebraska's young school children and are an investment not only in the education and the future of these children, but also an investment in the future of Nebraska. It is a widely accepted fact that you can not teach a hungry child. It is estimated by the office of Internal Revenue that there are 866,000 taxpayers in Nebraska. This deficiency appropriation would cost each taxpayer approximately 20 cents. This is less than the price of half of a pack of cigarettes.

Although it is true that a portion of State Aid to schools may be counted toward meeting the $173,715, the uncertainty of the amount is considered too much of a risk. The amount that may be counted is the amount of each schools State Aid multiplied by the percentage of their total budget that was transferred from their general fund to their food service account. Such amounts could not be determined until January of 1976. Payments to the schools must be made by June 30, 1975. Failure to meet the matching requirement requires that the State refund a percent of the Federal funds equal to the percent by which the State failed to meet its requirement. If Nebraska failed to meet its requirement by $173,715, or 34.1% ($173,715 508,633), the amount to be returned to the USDA would be $997,319 ($2,924,690 X 34.1%). This would be an assessment against the State, not the schools, and would have to be paid from State appropriated monies.

Our computation of this amount is as follows:

Section 4 funds used in FY 1974	$2,924,690.36
State matching rate	289.85016%
Amount of matching required	$8,477,219.69
State appropriated funds rate	6%
State appropriated funds required	508,633.18
Funds appropriated for matching purpose	230,265.00
Additional funds needed	278,368.18
Appropriated funds for state operated schools pro-rated (estimated)	104,653.00
Other state appropriated funds required – deficiency appropriation request	173,715.18

NEBRASKA STATE COLLEGES

December 19, 1974

TO: Governor J. J. Exon
The Nebraska Legislature

RE: Report on the Development of the Management Information System

This is in response to the following directive found in Section 9 of LB,1054:

"The Office of the Secretary is directed to: ---(d) Issue a progress report to the Governor and Legislature by January 1, 1975 on the stage of management information system development as of that date, and the projected timetable for full implementation throughout the state college system;"

I am pleased to report the progess which has been made in the development of a management information system for the State Colleges of Nebraska. Following is a copy of the resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges on June 8, 1974. This resolution was developed as the result of a thorough study by a committee of the Board chaired by Dr. Colwell:

Report of the Date Processing Committee
Dr. Colwell, Chairman

It was moved by Dr. Colwell and seconded by Mr. Egermayer to adopt the following resolution concerning a management information system. A roll call vote was taken. Those voting aye were: Walker, Reesman, Colwell, Egermayer, Lane and Stanley. None voted nay and the motion carried.

WHEREAS, There were appropriated by the 1974 Legislature certain funds to hire a director of planning and development at the Peru State College, Wayne State College and Chadron State College, and

WHEREAS, There were appropriated funds for a part-time position for the Central Board Office, and

WHEREAS, Kearney State College already has an excellent on-going program in this field, and

WHEREAS, The four institutions mutually desire to maintain a closely coordinated and agressive program in data processing, and management information systems, and

WHEREAS, On each campus modern computer facilities are manned by well trained technical staffs, and

WHEREAS, The Legislature has charged each college with the responsibility for developing a sound approach to institutional management, coordinated within the state college system, and now

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That (1) The Presidents of Peru State College, Wayne State College and Chadron State College be authorized and directed to recruit and employ a professional Director of Planning and Development; (2) Dr. Nelson is designated as "Administrative Advisor" to the MIS project for the system and will retain this responsibility until changed by the Board of Trustees; (3) Dr. Nelson be authorized to engage such consultant services as are necessary to carry out this responsibility as administrative advisor.

Immediately following the passing of this resolution the presidents proceded with the search for candidates for the positions of Director of Institutional Planning and Development. The following persons were named:

William Lovejoy, Chadron State College
Dean Marsh, Kearney State College
John Jacobson, Peru State College
Irv Brandt, Wayne State College

At the time of the adoption of the resolution it was envisioned by the Board and the college administrators that there would be dedication by all toward the best progress possible. It was recognized, however, that the development of such a system takes time and that the first year may produce little more than the acceptance of common definitions and the establishment of some common data banks on the four campuses. It was agreed that all four colleges must have clear and like data on student information of all types.

The NCHEMS (National Center for Higher Education Management Systems) Data Elements Dictionary was accepted for use with modifications to fit our system. The new Directors of Institutional Planning and Development attended an NCHEMS workshop in Denver in September. This meeting provided the spurt of energy which caused some commitments almost unrealistic for achieving.

While these new directors were organizing their tasks the institutional budget officers had adapted their budgets to the NCHEMS Program Classification Structure in order that they would be able to provide data for the Resource Requirements Prediction Model.

At this early time a number of modules and models are operational and others are envisioned for the near future. They are:

The Student Data Module (SDM). The SDM employs institutional data about students and the classes they take and produces a contribution report and a consumption report. The reports are useful internally in determining such things as the credit hours produced by one department which are taken by majors and by non-majors (indicating departments that are of service to the college, while perhaps low in majors). The number of majors, lower division, upper division, graduate division, whether full or part-time, the FTE, and even an average student load for each major are indicated. The SDM is operating at 100% for Fall 1974 and is one of the inputs to the Resource Requirements Prediction Model 1.6. Normally, three SDM runs per year will be utilized--one for academic year (a full RRPM is for academic year), one for summer sessions, and one for fiscal year (Information Exchange Procedures requires the full year).

The Personnel Data Module (PDM). The PDM makes use of institutional data about employees and the tasks they perform. It produces a person report primarily useful for accuracy checks and a consumption report which indicates where dollars are being expended, by person, division, and course levels. These reports are useful internally for allocation of funds and personnel. The PDM is operating for Fall 1974 on faculty (teaching) dollars only since historic data is not yet available on funds which will be expended in other support categories for 1974-75. Like the SDM, the PDM will normally be run three times a year since it is the other input to both the Resource Requirements Prediction Model and the Information Exchange Procedures.

The Account Crossover Module (ACM). The ACM converts all institutional accounts to account forms readable by the computer. It produces contribution and consumption reports useful internally for determining dollar allocation and utilization by programs. The ACM is scheduled for implementation in the late spring of 1975 and will be run once a year since it provides data necessary for the Information Exchange Procedures.

The Data Management Module (DMM). The DMM utilizes the output from the SDM, the PDM, and the ACM to produce reports for the Information Exchange Procedures. These reports allow for comparison, based on similar definitions, of institutions nationwide. The module will be run once a year.

The Student Flow Model (SEM). The SFM employs a number of data inputs and produces reports concerning enrollment projection and the student flow through a specified number of years in college. The SFM is envisioned as being run twice a year-once for summer sessions and once for the academic year.

The Resource Requirements Prediction Model 1.6 (RRPM). The RRPM receives its input from the SDM and the PDM. In its historical mode, it produces reports which display the institutions resources in dollars, persons, time, credit production, and percentage utilizations of each. It provides program cost by major, by student, and by department. It is useful internally as a description of past performance and utilization of dollars by program. In its projective mode, it can display the impact across the institution of salary or personnel adjustments, of new program offerings, or of cutbacks. It is important that the projective mode be based on reliable data. While the RRPM normally operates on an academic year's data, it can be utilized in a restricted format. The RRPM is currently operating on full student data for fall only, on personnel tasks for fall only, and on teaching faculty dollars (full compensation) for the academic year. The RRPM will be run twice a year in the historical mode for summer sessions and academic year and twice a year in the predictive mode for summer sessions and academic year.

It is anticipated that the system will have full implementation and utilization of NCHEMS programs for management information over the next several years, including the Outcomes Project. The information derived from each of these programs will become increasingly useful in internal management and in supporting or altering the goals and resources needed as they are listed in this report.

As we plan the MIS activities for the next year our schedule looks like this:

August 26, 1974

The Nebraska Resources Development Fund Act of 1974 created a fund to assist in the development and wise use of Nebraska's water and land resources. It can be used to provide grants and/or loans to local political subdivisions of the state or an agency of the state, or it can be used by the Natural Resources Commission to acquire an interest in a project in the name of the state.

The Act created a conjunctive administrative system with certain delegated responsibilities to the Natural Resources Commission, and other delegated responsibilities to a statutorily created "Advisory Board." The Advisory Board is made up of agency representatives from the following eight state agencies:

Department of Economic Development
State Office of Planning & Programming
Department of Water Resources
Game & Parks Commission
Conservation & Survey Division
Department of Agriculture
Department of Environmental Control
Nebraska Natural Resources Commission

Advisory Board Function & Progress

The primary function of the Advisory Board is to determine project and program eligibility for Resources Development Fund assistance. The board must also determine the type of assistance appropriate; grant, loan or a combination thereof. To accomplish its responsibilities, the board must adopt appropriate rules and regulations, evaluation standards, specifications, and guidelines for implementation.

To date, the board has held four meetings. It has adopted Procedural Rules and Regulations that govern its internal operations, which has been approved by the Attorney General's office and filed as required by law.

Presently, the Advisory Board is working on a system and procedure for determining project and program eligibility. It must decide what basic types of projects are eligible and also adopt standards to determine whether such projects are feasible. Not only must the projects be engineeringly sound, but they must also be economically and financially feasible and environmentally acceptable.

To accomplish its task, the Advisory Board has broken down into four study committees: Engineering, Economics, Environmental and Eligibility. The committees have been very active in drafting their project evaluation criteria. Adoption of the evaluation criteria is expected at the September Advisory Board meeting.

Once the evaluation criteria has been adopted, it will be necessary to prepare the operational rules and regulations and any other necessary supporting material such as policy, guidelines and accepted evaluation procedures.

Commission Function & Progress

The Commission's primary administrative functions begin once the Advisory Board has reviewed the applications, determined their eligibility and referred those eligible on to the Commission. Determination of priorities for eligible programs or projects is a responsibility soley of the Commission. Prior to an allocation of funds, the Commission must enter into an agreement and negotiate other necessary documents to be assured that the state investment is protected.

Presently, the Commission staff is working on various administrative procedures, agreement considerations, and security assurances. The Commission's Program Committee will meet in early September to discuss staff findings, and to make recommendations for drafting the operational rules and regulations.

Rules and regulations prepared by the Advisory Board will be merged with those prepared by the Commission and submitted as one document. Public hearings will be held on them in late October or early November. Appropriate modifications will then be made and adoption by the Advisory Board and the Commission is expected in January.

One million dollars of General Fund monies was appropriated to the fund for each of the Fiscal Years 1975 and 1976. To date, no funds have been spent or obligated. We anticipate that preliminary applications will be accepted in November or December of 1974 and no funds will be obligated until at least March of 1975.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, Constitutional Officers, Members of the 84th Session of the Nebraska Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen. .. . .

Thank you for inviting me to your Chambers for the inaugural ceremonies.

We meet at a time of opportunity and challenge. It's a time for confidence in Nebraska. It is a time for realistic optimism.

As we begin another four years, I think it is well that we reflect for a moment on the past as we proceed, with assurance, to the all important future.

Four years ago, I stood at this podium and outlined my philosophy for the first time to your distinguished body. That philosophy has not changed for the new term which began with my taking the oath a few moments ago.

We have had four years of "Nebraska, The Good Life." We have seen record shattering industrial and tourism growth, and generally good agricultural production except for the 1974 drought and the disastrous plunge of some agriculture prices.

Our past proven record of success is our positive guide to the future.

Economically, 1975 will not be the best year for Nebraskans, but it will be far from the worst by any measurement. We have a firm foundation for confidence. We are again fortunate to be an agricultural state. With normal rainfall, we will enjoy a bountiful harvest because our farmers have the will, the know-how, the equipment and the land. They are our firm backbone, and they have never let us down. National and international demands for food, and Nebraskans' ability to produce, place us in an enviable position.

Soft spots remain in agricultural economy in livestock, poultry and dairy farming. We must continue to press Washington for corrective, constructive and positive actions in these areas.

Our industrial expansion the last four years will further help stabilize the economy while we must anticipate some further increase in unemployment. Nevertheless, we had more people employed in Nebraska in 1974 than ever before, and we are assured of an overall good employment figure this year. The productivity of Nebraska workers is well recognized and will place us in good stead.

Most unfortunately, many of our people are out of work for the first time in their lives. The administration is moving to use all programs available to assist the unemployed.

With the success of our recent court action regarding impoundment of our federal highway funds, and assuming federal authorities will not attempt to punish us further by more delaying tactics, we could count on an additional $63 million being pumped earlier into our 1975 and 1976 highway construction programs. It seems inconceivable that federal authorities would continue arbitrary impoundment of our funds with the obvious need for highway work and construction jobs. What better noninflationary tonic is there to fight unemployment than using tax money already collected?

We can predict general job stability in all governmental units if elected officials do not cave in to salary demands by some which could force loss of employment for others. We need not expect unusual sacrifices; we do not anticipate reasoned understanding.

As far as state government is concerned, I have recommended increases which will assist all to generally meet the cost of living spiral, with emphasis to help most middle and lower salaried individuals. There are complaints that my recommendations are not enough. It is interesting to note that the extensive fringe benefit package for state employees, one of the best in the nation, is usually overlooked. It is my hope and request that the Legislature will back the executive recommendations in this area.

By far the most important task you will perform here in the next few months will be the construction of the budget and consideration of tax rates.

Your Governor has vetoed more spending measures than any of my predecessors. This was not done to establish records or to cause executive-legislative confrontations. To the contrary, those actions were taken because of my convictions on what I felt was right or wrong and consistent under the circumstances. I have an obligation, as do senators, individually or collectively, to exercise my judgement as one elected by and a representative of all Nebraskans in every section of this great state.

So, as we proceed in 1975, let us first agree that we will not always agree, nor should we be expected to do so.

On the other hand, to solve our problems and to prevent the creation of new ones, mutual understanding must be one of our highest objectives. It is in a personal but yet formal sense that I seek the cooperation of the members of this Legislature so that we might jointly provide the type of leadership which the people of this state deserve and certainly expect.

We have all received a mandate from the citizens to proceed confidently but cautiously in this period of national economic uncertainty. Nebraska has some built-in advantages, as I have outlined, that will be of help as we steer our course through some troubled economic waters. This does not mean, however, that we are a magic island insulated from the realities of recession. This is no time for "business as usual." There are no "instant cures" for the twin problems of recession and inflation. Prudence and patience have been traditional Nebraska virtues; there has never been a more opportune time to employ them.

Inflation has been caused, and its resulting recession bred, by a propensity that we must have everything we want, when we want it, whether we can afford it or not. We are all guilty to a considerable degree, both inside and outside government. We tend to become consumed with material things, new buildings and better machines.

We must zero in on those programs and services which are most important. Which do we value the most? What do we need the most?

We cannot spend our way out of the present situation either as Nebraskans or Americans. Nor can we be blind to legitimate needs and obligations.

We will have the "Good Life" by tempering demands, accepting realism, separating needs from expediency, junking organized spending pleas, even when hawked by those cloaked in the garb of the supposedly untouchables.

In short, we must come to the realization that we must set priorities. There are not enough tax dollars to satisfy the appetites of all, however worthy.

This is certainly a time when Nebraska is facing a decline in revenue growth. Simultaneously, we are seeing the highest demands yet to cover on-going legislative appropriations and known new appropriations for which the Legislature is obligated.

Specifically, for example, I refer to new deficit appropriations of $11.5 million for the community technical colleges and $2.5 million for homestead exemptions. For the 1975-76 budget period, there will be new additional appropriations of $10.3 million for increases in personal property and homestead exemptions. Please note these are not ordinary state operations, but rather expenditures of state tax dollars to aid sub-divisions of state government and the new community technical colleges. An evaluation is in order regarding the $4.5 million required to finance capital construction projects for 1975-76 that was appropriated last year. Furthermore, we are facing new appropriations of several million dollars for cost of living increase for our dedicated state employees.

When you couple this with the fact that we will find ourselves strapped with comparatively little unobligated General Fund balance on June 30, 1975, because of unwise tax cuts in 1973 and 1974, the crunch of the money situation becomes clear.

Current predictions indicate that on June 30, the end of our present fiscal year, the unobligated General Fund balance will be the lowest in the last 7 years. The picture becomes clouded even more when we consider the distinct possibility of further declining state revenue because of a proposed reduction in the Federal Income Tax on which our income tax is based.

I will be presenting to you my budget recommendations and latest revenue projections as soon as possible. There are hard decisions ahead.

The administration will also be sending for your consideration some important legislation generally of a non-spending nature, and I will comment on those measures at that time.

I pledge the cooperation of the Executive Branch and encourage your counsel and advice. Our open door policy will continue as we must thoroughly communicate.

With God's help then, and working together, we can solve any problem, build any bridge to better understanding, and chart a steady course for the people we serve with confidence and realistic optimism.

PRAYER

The Chaplain announced former State Auditor Ray Johnson had passed away and the funeral will be Tuesday, January 14, 1975 at 3:00 p.m. at Westminster Chapel. The members stood for a moment of silence.

Our heavenly Father, in this moment of prayer, when there is silence in this senate chamber, may there not be silence in Thy presence. May our prayers be heard.

May no short circuits be made by our lack of faith, our high professions joined to low attainments, our fine words hiding shabby thoughts, or friendly faces masking cold hearts.

Out of the same old needs, conscious of the same old faults, we pray on the same old terms for new mercies and new blessings. In the name of Christ our Lord. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 2.

Introduced by Keyes, 3rd District.

WHEREAS, Nebraska's highway construction program has been seriously affected by inflation; and

WHEREAS, the Executive Branch of the federal government has further hindered the progress of Nebraska's highway program by impounding large sums of federal highway user taxes which rightfully belong to Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska's state gasoline and diesel fuel tax receipts have been reduced because of a reduction in total miles driven; and

WHEREAS, about two-thirds of Nebraska's highway construction state-source revenue is generated by the state tax on gasoline and diesel fuel; and

WHEREAS, the federal government is considering an increased federal tax on crude oil, gasoline, and/or diesel fuel in order to discourage the use of all fuels; and

WHEREAS, the timely and efficient movement of essential agricultural products from farm to market requires that Nebraska continues to maintain an aggressive and adequate highway construction and maintenance program;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That not less than 50% of any additional tax at the federal level be returned to the states on an equitable basis; and be it further resolved

2. That the Nebraska Congressional Delegation be requested to officially support and promote the provisions of this Resolution, and be it finally resolved

3. That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States and all Members of Congress.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 3.

Introduced by Marsh, 29th District; Duis, 39th District; Bereuter, 24th District; DeCamp, 40th District; F. Lewis, 45th District; Keyes, 3rd District; Luedtke, 28th District; Koch, 12th District.

WHEREAS, the Eighty-third Legislature of Nebraska, Second Session, determined that members of the Legislature shall never again meet to conduct business on January first of any year; and

WHEREAS, the voters of Nebraska determined the elections of 1974 that the Legislature of the State of Nebraska shall not meet on January first of any year; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has proclaimed certain dates to be legal national holidays; and

WHEREAS, the annual sessions of the legislative body may produce tension and fatigue among its members due to increases in work volume and complexities of the legislative process; and

WHEREAS, it should be recognized by the members of the Legislature that the quietude and ease afforded to individuals by a holiday can be of great value to all Nebraskans, and particularly those engaged in the Legislative process.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE, FIRST SESSION:

That the members of the Legislature shall not meet to conduct the business of the state on any official federal holiday, unless it is determined that taking a period of rest for a holiday at any given time during a legislative session would work to the disadvantage of the state.

MOTION–Executive Board Proposal

Mr. Murphy moved that the suggestion of the Executive Board be adopted, in accordance with section 1 of Rule 2. (Set out in detail in the following letter.)

The motion prevailed with 29 ayes, 14 nays and 6 not voting.

January 8, 1975

Dear Senator:

The Executive Board has discussed several proposals to try to reduce the confusion on the Legislative floor. It is our recommendation, and the Sergeant-at-Arms has been so instructed, that no notes will be delivered to Legislators when they are in session. Persons requesting to see certain Senators will make contact with the Senator's office which, in turn, can reach the Senator by intercom. At that time, the Senator can advise his secretary or the person seeking to reach him when he can meet. This would prevent interruption of Senators in discussion of bills and would reduce the problem of continued activity on the floor.

Further, all staff offices have been instructed that, with the exception of Dr. Jack Rodgers, Vincent Brown, Eldin Ehrlich, Emory Burnett, Bruce Cutshall, and their respective staffs, all employees of the Legislature are to stay out of the Legislative Chamber when they are in session. At times, it will be necessary to have certain staff people come into the Chamber, which is acceptable.

Senators' secretaries should be permitted to come in only to deliver mail or pick up mail and then leave immediately. Dictation should not take place on the floor of the Chamber.

If you concur with these recommendations and the Legislature implements them, we will then reduce considerably the confusion on the floor of the Legislature. If this doesn't work, we will have to go back to the old system; but based on my conversations with Senators, it seems this is more in keeping with what they really want.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Eugene T. Mahoney, Chairman
Executive Board

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Reverend Everett F. Hezmall, Associate Pastor, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln.

> We thank You, O God, for the rich heritage of this great and good land; for the evidences of Your favor in the past and the direction of your providence which has made and preserved our State and our Nation.

> We thank You for men and women who by toil, tears and sacrifice have forged into being all we hold dear now. Help us to see ourselves as continuing in that never ending purpose.

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

SEVENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, January 20, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:01 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Our Father, before we become involved in the routine of another day, we stop to seek Thy help. Experienced in the ways of men so well, we know all too little of the ways of God. But Thou knowest each one of us, by name and by need. Therefore turn our wayward minds and hearts to Thee. Forgive our faults and failures that we have committed in the past and set us free from them. Forgive our failure to apply to ourselves the standards of conduct we demand of others. Forgive our slowness to see the good in others or to see the evil in ourselves. In our differences may we be kind; in our agreements may we be humble, that Thy will may be done in us and through us in our beloved State. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Keyes, Kime, and Koch who were excused and Mr Schmit who was excused until he arrives.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Sixth Day was approved.

State Capitol, Room 2018
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

I would like your consideration in reading the following statement from the Department of Public Institutions to the honorable body of the Nebraska State Legislature:

It has come to my attention that an organization calling itself "The Farmers for Legalization of Marijuana" wrote a letter to the members of the Legislature using the Department of Public Institutions' envelopes. The envelopes were not given to anyone for this use, and the Department would like to say that it does not support this organization. In view of the fact that we are in the business of trying to help people suffering from mental illness, drugs, and alcoholism, we certainly do not approve the use of any drug which has not been proven safe.

We are now trying to investigate how the envelopes were obtained. They are not the type in present use.

Sincerely,

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

January 20, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Re: New Construction, University Pharmacy Building

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

Attached herewith is a copy of the standard approval from all agencies and details for the start of construction on the new Pharmacy Building on the Medical Campus of the University.

This project was authorized by the 1974 Legislature in total amount of $2,600,000. $145,000 is now requested; the 1975-76 cost is $1,500,000; the 1976-77 cost is $955,000.

Before the project can go forward, my signature is required.

As I have suggested previously, it is obviously necessary that we review past spending authorizations as well as proposed new ones in light of the state's financial crunch.

We are not alone in our joint concerns to conserve our dwindling balances. Michigan plans to save $78.5 million by reducing construction, education and other operations. Florida has adopted percentage reductions in state programs to save $127 million. Kentucky has ordered a 90 day freeze on planned construction. Illinois, Maine and others have taken conservation of resources actions.

The executive wishes to cooperate fully with the Legislature. Contrary unilateral action on my part of your previous construction authorization is not contemplated. This is a time, I emphasize once again, for careful planning.

In keeping with legislative appropriations and direction, I am prepared to grant my required approval. However, so as to give your honorable body an opportunity to review this expenditure, which authorizes the initial step for another new building, I will withhold further action for ten days.

If I have not received appropriate instructions from the Legislature by January 30, 1975, I will assume that you approve this expenditure.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

FIRST SESSION

EIGHTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 21, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> We know, our Father, that there is a time to speak and a time to keep silent. Help us to tell the one from the other. When we should speak, give us the courage of our convictions to speak with clarity and strength. When we should keep silent, restrain us from speaking, lest, in our desire to appear wise, we give ourselves away. Teach us the sacraments of silence, such as this moment, that we may use them to know ourselves, to sympathize with others, and, above all, to know thee. Then shall we be wise. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Kime who was excused.

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Great unseen Spirit, eternal and majestic, ruler of the heavens and the earth, before whom a thousand years are as a watch in the night; yet ever mindful of even the small things of the earth - the sparrow that falls from the skies in death; the cup of cold water given to one in need.

The report was adopted by the Committee on a vote of 6-1.

Senator Kelly voted No.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 4
January 21, 1975

Dear Senator Stoney:

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutional validity of a proposed bill which would amend Section 2-3215, R. S. Supp., 1974, by making the following amendments to said section:

> "A vacancy on the board shall exist in the event of the death, disability, resignation or removal from the district or subdistrict of any director ~~or~~, in the event of the elimination or detachment from the district of the territory in which a director resides, or in the event a director shall be absent during all of three consecutive monthly meetings of the board of directors without having obtained prior consent of the board of directors for any of such absences. In the event of a vacancy from any of such causes, or otherwise, such vacancy shall be filled by the board of directors. The person so appointed must have the same qualifications as the person whom he succeeds. Such appointments shall be in writing, for the remainder of the unexpired term, and until a successor is elected and qualified. The written appointment shall be filed with the Secretary of State."

The constitutional problem that arises in our mind in connection with this amendment is whether the director in question will have been afforded due process of law in connection with his removal. If we read Section 2-3215, as amended, alone, it would appear that the vacancy occurs automatically, with no action by the board necessary, and without any notice to the director or opportunity for him to be heard on the matter. So construed, we believe the section in question might deny the director due process of law.

In 67 C.J.S. 255, Officers, Section 61, we find a discussion of the circumstances and manner in which an officer may be removed from office. Apparently some statutes have been upheld permitting the removal of an officer serving a definite term without notice and hearing, although other cases have held that even such statutes impliedly require a hearing according to the principles of natural justice. We note that Article IV, Section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution provides that the Governor may remove a person whom he shall appoint for a term only for cause and after a public hearing. It is possible that the Legislature might provide for removal of an officer elected to a definite term without such notice and hearing, but is certainly somewhat doubtful, and we would not so interpret a statute unless required by unambiguous language.

If the provision in question were passed, we would interpret it in light of Section 2-3216, which provides:

"Members of the board may be removed from office for the same reasons and in the same manner as provided by law for the removal of county officers."

Chapter 23, article 20, makes provision for removal of county officers. Except as to removal by recall, these sections provide for removal after notice and hearing, as prescribed. Under Sections 23-2301 to 23-2309, the removal is by judicial proceeding initiated in the district court. In the absence of statutory provisions to the contrary, this would appear to be the appropriate manner to remove a director because of three consecutive absences from monthly meetings, if this amendment is adopted. What this bill would do, then, is to add a new statutory basis for the removal of a director, that is, three consecutive unexcused absences. We see no constitutional problems in such a provision.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 5
January 23, 1975

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of January 21, 1975, you asked us to review Legislative Bills 203 and 214, and give you our opinion as to their constitutional validity. While these two bills are not identical, they are very similar, and the comments we will make herein are applicable to both.

These bills prohibit, with some exceptions, corporations other than family farm corporations, family ranch corporations, or authorized farm corporations, as defined in the bills, to engage in farming or ranching, or to own agricultural land. We will not set forth the details of the exceptions and qualifications to the general rule, as they are not important in our discussion.

A family farm or ranch corporation under both bills must be incorporated under the laws of the State of Nebraska for agricultural purposes. The majority of the voting stock must be held by members of a family related to each other within the third degree of kindred. At least one of such family members must reside on or actively operate the farm.

An authorized farm corporation is a corporation having not more than ten shareholders, all of whom, other than estates, are natural persons, having only one class of membership, and whose revenues from rent, royalties, dividends, interest and annuities do not exceed 20 percent of its gross receipts.

We have considered similar bills in the past. In an opinion of this office dated January 4, 1972, Report of the Attorney General 1971-72, page 201, we considered a bill which would have prohibited farming by a corporation which, in any one year, sold food or agricultural products valued at five million dollars or more, or sold farm supplies valued at the figure. We held that our court would probably find such a corporation was not threatening a monopoly, and could not be barred from farming, saying:

> "* * *. We suspect that our Court would say that the preservation of one method of production, as contrasted to another method, both of which are freely competitive, is not a proper function of the Legislature, and that the success or failure of various methods of producing agricultural products must depend upon competition in the market place, and not upon legislative fiat."

On March 21, 1972, we wrote another opinion, involving a bill whose general provisions were very similar to the bills in question. See, Report of the Attorney General 1971-72, page 275. We noted that North Dakota had in 1943 upheld a somewhat similar bill, but felt that that case could be distinguished, and that, in any event, the Nebraska Supreme Court would not follow it. We relied upon Skag-Way Department Stores, Inc. v. City of Grand Island, 176 Neb. 169, 125 N. W. 2d 529, holding that a business or occupation which has no tendency to affect or endanger the public in connection with health, safety, morals, or general welfare, is not within the police power. We also cited Nelsen v. Tilley, 137 Neb. 327, 289 N. W. 388, to the effect that a person has the right to adopt and follow any lawful business pursuit, not injurious to the community, which he may see fit, without being subjected to arbitrary restraints.

Lincoln Dairy Company vs. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N. W. 2d 227, which we cited in that opinion, is very significant here. The court said:

> "A citizen clearly has the right to engage in any occupation not detrimental to the public health, safety, and welfare. Measures adopted by the Legislature to protect the public health and secure the public safety and welfare must have some reasonable relation to those proposed ends. A citizen has a constitutional right to own, acquire, and sell property, and if it becomes apparent that the statute, under the guise of a police regulation, does not tend to preserve the public health, safety, or welfare, but tends more to stifle legitimate business by creating a monopoly or trade barrier, it is unconstitutional as an invasion of the property rights of the individual. * * *."

In another opinion dated January 7, 1974, we considered a bill very similar to those under consideration, and again concluded it would be very difficult to sustain its constitutional validity.

It is true that a corporation is a creature of statute, and has only such powers as the state sees fit to give it. Nevertheless, limitations placed upon it cannot be arbitrary. A very serious question of classification arises in our minds with respect to these bills. The Legislature has required special types of corporations as a prerequisite to engaging in various businesses, such as the banking, building and loan, and insurance businesses. These businesses are subject to regulation by state regulatory bodies, for the protection of the public. Because of the nature of such businesses, the types of persons who shall conduct them, the business practices they shall follow, and the financial stability of the corporations involved are of concern to the public.

We can see no rational basis for concern about such matters with respect to the agricultural industry. It is, of course, a tremendously important industry, and much legislation has been adopted to foster and encourage it, and to insure the wholesomeness and purity of the food it produces. We can see no basis for holding that the restriction of the industry to private individuals, partnerships, or the types of corporations described in the bills will promote any legitimate objectives.

There is a two-fold classification question here. First, is there a valid basis for classifying agriculture differently from any other industry, so far as limiting the types of corporations that can engage in the industry? It is difficult to find such a basis. Second, is there a basis for classifying the corporations described in the acts differently from other corporations? What public interest is served by requiring the majority of stock to be held by family members as prescribed by the acts, or requiring the land to be occupied by or operated by one of those family members?What public harm results from having a farm owned by corporation having more than ten stockholders that will not result from the ownership by a corporation having fewer stockholders?The answer to none of these questions is readily apparent, and we question whether our court would find satisfactory answers.

Our court has frequently stated the rule as to classification to be that it is competent for the Legislature to classify for the purpose of legislation, if the classification rests on some reason of public policy, some substantial difference of situation or circumstances, that would naturally suggest the justice or expediency of diverse legislation with respect to the objects to be classified. See, Shear v. Board of Commissioners, 187 Neb. 849, 195 N. W. 2d 151. We believe the Supreme Court might very well find the classifications involved in these bills unreasonable.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

WHEREAS, it appears that, within a very short period of time, the United States Army Corps of Engineers will exercise its power, under federal law, to declare and classify the Platte River a navigable river, and will thereby assume and exercise certain powers over said river; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska in 1967, pursuant to a statewide water plan, adopted legislation which gives the state far-reaching authority to exercise control over physical objects built in the riverbed of the Platte River and in the flood plains surrounding said river; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature of the State of Nebraska, in its current session, is considering further legislation which would give the state additional authority to control the use of the Platte River, the streambed thereof, and the flood plains surrounding such river; and

WHEREAS, since the State of Nebraska has exercised and is continuing to exercise, comprehensive supervision over the Platte River, there is no need to classify the Platte as a navigable river, or for the United States Army Corps of Engineers to assume authority over the river and its streambed.

THIRTEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 28, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Reverend Everett F. Hezmall, Associate Pastor, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln.

> We thank thee O God for the challenge of this new day. Teach us our Father, how to look at the things we see, and to look at them without bias or prejudice. With the truth waiting to be looked at, discovered and applied, forgive us when we refuse to look at it or to welcome it.
> Lord of our lives, we pray that Thou wilt fill with new meaning this sacred moment of prayer. Set our perspectives in the context of your will and purpose. Even though they be hard nosed facts that we face, let them be faced with the insight of Your spirit, knowing that human beings are far more precious than property, and peace among our fellowmen more to be desired than discontent.
> In this moment of solitute and deep need, release our minds so that we may be free to receive Your guidance for which we have asked. In the spirit of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FIFTEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, January 30, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:03 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord and Saviour of us all: We need Your help to take resentment out of our thoughts and meditations - sometimes, more than others, but never, it seems, are we completely free of this need - for things happen in life generally, and in the life of this Legislature, of course, which annoy and hurt us.
> Words are spoken which we sometimes feel to be personally unkind or unnecessary; and we feel ourselves to be misjudged when we should be congratulated, or overlooked when we should be recognized.
> Save us from inner rebellion and bitterness and moodiness, for such things can succeed only in destroying our souls.
> Help us today by reminding us of that perfect one who tread these paths before us in the fullness of time; and may the way the Master went be the way the servant travels still. Amen.

> For ties that continue to bind us together, even when the going is rough; for common purposes we continue to recognize as larger than we are, even when the business at hand taxes our patience and our constituents; for the privilege of sharing in the inspirations - as well as the frustrations - of events which make headlines . . . causing folks back home to smile, or to stop smiling; for the conviction we share that what helps our district helps our state; and what helps our state helps people; and what helps people is always right; for anything that may happen during today's session to deepen this conviction, and give it practical application; we now ask Your help, O Lord our God. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 7
January 31, 1975

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have requested an opinion from this office regarding whether, under Section 48-224, R.R.S. 1943, it is mandatory that an employer-agency withhold funds and make payments when authorized by an employee.

The wording of that section is not clear and unambiguous as to whether or not it is a mandatory requirement to withhold once the employee has exercised his option. However, after considering the contents of the Labor Committee hearing and the floor debate of the Legislature, it is quite clear that the intention was that it not be a mandatory requirement until approved by the appropriate authority. From those sources it is quite clear that the requirement of withholding the authorized amount is subject to approval by the "Governor and the Director of Administrative Services, in the case of employees of the State of Nebraska or by the duly elected governing body of such municipal corporation or other public body or agency." Once that approval is given, however, the requirement does become mandatory upon those administering the payroll. This interpretation is in accord with the general rule concerning union dues check-offs. (See, 48 A. L. R. 2d, Labor, Sections 181-186).

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

Opinion No. 9
February 4, 1975

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have requested an opinion from this office regarding the effect of L.B. 126. You specifically ask whether, under Section 48-224, R. R. S. 1943, it is now mandatory that an employer-agency withhold funds and make payments when authorized by an employee, and if mandatory, why certain state agencies are not complying, which is the problem attempted to be remedied by L.B. 126.

After considering the contents of the Labor Committee hearing and the floor debate of the Legislature when the statute was enacted, it is quite clear that the intention was that it not be a mandatory requirement until approved by the appropriate authority, however, when so approved and authorized, the withholding and payment becomes mandatory. In our opinion, L.B. 126 clarifies Section 48-224, although the additional language is not necessary because it would be redundant.

It is not known at this time what state agencies or departments are having the problem. However, the problem with the withholding and payment may lie elsewhere than with the proposed area of amendment. Section 48-224 applies both to withholding for charitable contributions and for employee organization or union dues. We are assuming the problems arise from the withholding of union dues.

The process whereby the employer withholds union dues from wages is known as "dues checkoff," and is a process which is generally desired by the labor organization. Almost universally this is thought to be a proper subject of collective bargaining. The problem which is sought to be corrected may be arising out of this situation. Section 48-224 is somewhat ambiguous in setting out who the appropriate authority for giving approval may be in a given situation. Certain departments or agencies may be refusing to withhold because the approval has not been given by the "appropriate authority," in their opinion. Also, in the case of dues checkoff, the word "approval" is somewhat ambiguous. Does the word "approval" refer to the recognition and certification of a union as the exclusive bargaining agent, thereby eliminating dues checkoff as a proper subject of collective bargaining? Or conversely, does the word "approval" specifically refer to approval of the act of withholding the union dues, thereby retaining dues checkoff as a proper subject of collective bargining?

Again, we would like to emphasize that this office has no knowledge of what problem is referred to by the Legislature in reference to Section 48-224 which is sought to be remedied by L.B. 126, and we are merely speculating in advising you of possible problems regarding the interpretation of the "appropriate authority" and the interpretation of the word "approved."

Yours very truly,

(e) Upon call for the introduction of bills, any member or any standing committee to which bills are referred for consideration may introduce one or more bills

Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk in writing before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.
(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

RULE 7

In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

"Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Sec. 3."

(b) ~~Every motion to reconsider shall take preference over all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.~~ After motion to reconsider is made, action shall be delayed one legislative day and the motion shall be printed in the Legislative Journal before action may be taken on the motion to reconsider.
(c) for its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause

b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.

WHEREAS, emission, safety and damageability standards being met by 1975 automobiles are the most stringent that any automobiles have ever had to meet in any country; and

WHEREAS, industry tests indicate that control systems being developed for 1977 will result in a reduction in fuel economy; and

WHEREAS, by 1978 the cost to consumers for emission controls and safety equipment and damageability standards may be as much as, $900.00 higher than 1975 costs, per automobile, in addition to such auto's purchase price; and

WHEREAS, these factors will make automobiles more difficult to sell, less economical to operate, more wasteful of our nation's precious energy resources, and cause possible financial hardship on auto industry workers due to a decline in sales and production; and

WHEREAS, the avoidance of such a situation would be of great benefit to the auto buying public in reduced purchase prices, a benefit to auto workers and related industry employees everywhere by preventing factory lay offs, and a benefit to the nation by conservation of fuel resources; and

WHEREAS, a five year moratorium on federal emission, safety, and damageability standards from 1977 to 1981 would provide a ready source of avoiding the problems outlined herein; and

WHEREAS, such a moratorium would result in a nine billion dollar saving to the American car buyer, save twenty billion gallons of gasoline each year, and allow the auto industry to use the five billion dollars which would be needed to meet the 1978 federal standards for additional research regarding better fuel economy, safer automobiles and cleaner engines, allow a reduction of two million tons a year in materials needed to build cars; and

WHEREAS, a five year moratorium would give the country a chance to beat inflation, recover from recession, gain some independence from oil exporters, and to decide whether each future proposed standards are necessary before they are legislated; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has indicated its willingness to relax the strictures which have caused great difficulty and concern in the auto industry by eliminating regulatory requirements for seat belt interlocks and continuous buzzers in passenger cars.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the State of Nebraska urge the Congress of the United States to declare a five year moratorium on emission, safety, and damageability standards to begin with 1977 model automobiles.

APPROPRIATIONS REPORT ON LB 403

The Appropriations Committee has held two public hearings concerning the State Department of Education's request for a supplemental appropriation for LB 403 special education programs. At the present time, additional documentation is being prepared by the State Department of Education to determine the appropriate level of state funding for LB 403 during 1974-75.

In cooperation with the recently appointed Commissioner of Education, Anne Campbell, the Appropriations Committee is monitoring the development of the documentation necessary to make a decision on the supplemental appropriation request.

The State Department of Education is also revising LB 403 rules and regulations, financial reimbursement procedures, and identification of handicapped children, plans for special education programs, and special education budgets.

The Appropriations Committee is aware of the concern expressed that a decision be made for funding of LB 403 as soon as possible. As soon as the additional documentation is available from the State Department of Education, the Appropriations Committee will be able to make a LB 403 funding recommendation to the full Legislature.

The Committee's purpose is to insure that state funds are expended for appropriate special education programs according to law.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

Opinion No. 10
February 3, 1975

Re: L. B. 66

Dear Senator Richard Lewis:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the above bill which would give the Board of Barber Examiners complete authority to set the fees for licenses issued by them.

Although, if passed in its present form, the provisions of Section 7 of L. B. 66 would make the intention of the Legislature perfectly clear, it has been repeatedly held by our Supreme Court that the power to legislate granted to an administrative agency must be administered in accordance with adequate standards and guide the exercise of discretion granted.

In light of the indefiniteness of the terms "necessary expenses and salaries" and "unnecessary surpluses" we cannot say, with any degree of certainty, that the provisions of L. B. 66 are not an unlawful delegation of legislative powers.

SELECT COMMITTEE REPORT
Rules

Mr. President,

The Rules Committee has acted favorably on the attached amendment to the rule that was offered yesterday by Senator Burbach which is found on page 375 of the Journal. This also includes revision of Rule 3, Section 12 (Page 16 of the Rules Book) to harmonize the provisions of the suggested change. This revision is also attached.

Senator Chambers wishes to go on record as opposing this proposal.

Dated: February 7, 1975

(Signed) John W. DeCamp, Chairman

Burbach Motion: Rule 7, Sec. 3.

RULE 7
Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk in writing before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

a. To adjourn
b. For the previous question
c. To postpone to a time certain
d. To recommit to a committee
e. To amend
f. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, except that motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

a. Motion to postpone indefinitely on Select File
b. Motion to advance bills from committee

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.
(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.

RULE 3
Sec. 12. Indefinitely Postponed Bills. If the standing committee report on a bill be to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed; Provided, that such bill may be placed on General File or referred back to the standing committee by a majority vote of the elected members upon motion made within three legislative days after the committee makes its report to the Legislature, or by a two-thirds vote of the elected members upon motion made more than three legislative days after such committee report. Not more than one bill shall be raised from committee on any one motion. A motion to raise cannot be amended to include any other bill or subject matter. A motion to raise must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after ~~making the same~~ the motion is available for consideration or it shall be deemed defeated.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 11
February 7, 1975

Dear Senator Sys:

This is in response to your inquiry of January 21, 1975, concerning L. B. 100. You first ask whether the proposed amendments meet constitutional requirements relating to the separation of the legislative and executive powers. We are unable to perceive how such amendments would violate the separation of powers doctrine.

You also ask whether in our opinion the language of L. B. 100 meets the requirements of the federal laws to which Section 37-423, R.R.S. 1943, and Section 37-423.01 refer. Section 37-423 refers to the Act of February 18, 1929, Ch. 257, 45 Stat. 1222, known as the Migratory Bird Conservation Act.

Generally, the act of incorporating by reference a federal act will not also serve to incorporate subsequent amendments of that federal act. You will note that the "Act of Congress" referred to in Section 37-423 has been amended several times since 1929, the effective date of both the federal act and Section 37-423. (See, generally, 16 U.S.C.A., Section 715 through Section 715s.) In view of the amendments to the federal act in question, the Legislature may wish to consider the desirability and necessity of "updating" the internal references in the statutes which are affected by L. B. 100.

L. B. 100 would also amend Section 37-423.01, which likewise refers to a federal act. That act, as amended, is now found in 16 U.S.C.A., Sections 777 through 777k. Again, the specific act to which Section 37-423.01 refers has been amended since it was incorporated in Section 37-423.01 in 1951, and therefore the Legislature may wish to consider the amendments to decide whether "updating" is necessary or desirable.

Section 1 of the act to which Section 37-423.01 refers (codified in 16 U.S.C.A., Section 777), provides in part:

> ". . . No money apportioned under this chapter to any State, except as hereinafter provided, shall be expended therein until its legislature, or other State agency authorized by the State constitution to make laws governing the conservation of fish, shall have assented to the provisions of this chapter. . . ." (Emphasis added.)

Section 37-423.01, if amended by L. B. 100, would provide that the Legislature and the Governor "may assent to any of the provisions . . ." (emphasis added). If such assent was given to only some of the provisions of the act, there may be a question whether the federal government would consider this an assent "to the provisions of this chapter" as required in 16 U.S.C.A., Section 777. Thus, the purpose of the federal act could be frustrated.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

1. Strike original sections 1 and 2 and insert the following:

"Section 1. Any city or village owning or operating electric generation or transmission facilities may enter into contracts for the purchase of electric energy, power and energy, or capacity, or any combination thereof, upon such terms and conditions and for such periods as the governing body of such city or village may by ordinance authorize. Such terms and conditions may obligate the city or village to make payment under the contracts during such time or times as the facility, if any, to which the contract pertains may be incapable of being operated or may not be in operation for any reason. Any contract authorized by this section may be entered into by the city or village with nonprofit corporations of this or any other state among whose purposes is the financing of electric properties, projects or undertakings for such city or village, other municipalities of this or any other state, public power districts and public power and irrigation districts of this or any other state, other governmental entities or agencies of this or any other state or the federal government, electric cooperatives or electric membership cooperatives of this or any other state, or investor owned electric utilities organized under the laws of any other state. The obligation and liability of such city or village under the contract shall be limited to the electric revenues of such city or village, unless prior to the execution of the contract by the city or village the contract shall have been approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the city or village voting upon the question.

Sec. 2. The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this act shall be independent of and supplemental and in addition to any other provisions of law or charter. The provisions hereof shall not be considered amendatory of or limited by any other provision of law or charter.".

LEGISLATIVE BILL 62. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 62:

1. Strike original section 1 and insert the following:

"Section 1. That section 70-628.01, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

70-628.01. (1) Such district shall have and may exercise any one or more of the powers, rights, privileges, and franchises mentioned in sections 70-625 to 70-628, either alone or jointly with one or more other such district. In any joint exercise of powers, rights, privileges and franchises with respect to the construction, operation and maintenance of electric generation or transmission facilities, each district shall own an undivided interest in such facility and be entitled to the share of the output or capacity therefrom attributable to its undivided interest. Each district may enter into an agreement or agreements with respect to any electric generation or transmission facility with the other district or districts participating therein, and any such agreement shall contain such terms, conditions and provisions consistent with the provisions of this section as the board of directors of the district shall deem to be in the interests of the district.

(2) The agreement may include, but not be limited to, (a) provisions for the construction, operation, and maintenance of an electric generation or transmission facility by any one of the participating districts, which shall be designated in or pursuant to such agreement as agent, on behalf of itself and the other participating districts or by such other means as may be determined by the participating districts, and (b) provisions for a uniform method of determining and allocating among participating districts the costs of construction, operation, maintenance, renewals, replacements, and improvements with respect to such facility. In carrying out its functions and activities as the agent with respect to construction, operation and maintenance of a facility, such agent shall be governed by the laws and regulations applicable to such agent as a separate legal entity and not by any laws or regulations which may be applicable to any of the other participating districts.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary, pursuant to the terms of the agreement, any participating district or districts may delegate its powers and duties with respect to the construction, operation, and maintenance of a facility to the participating district acting as agent, and all actions taken by such agent in accordance with the provisions of the agreement shall be binding upon each of such participating districts without further action or approval by their respective boards of directors. The district acting as the agent shall be required to exercise all such powers and perform its duties and functions under the agreement in a manner consistent with prudent utility practice. As used in this section, prudent utility practice shall mean any of the practices, methods, and acts at a particular time which, in the exercise of reasonable judgment in the light of the facts, including but not limited to the practices, methods, and acts engaged in or approved by a significant portion of the electrical utility industry prior thereto, known at the time the decision was made, would have been expected to accomplish the desired result at the lowest reasonable cost consistent with reliability, safety and expedition. In no event shall anything in this act be deemed to authorize any district to become liable for and to pay for any costs, expenses, or liabilities attributable to the undivided interest of any other district participating in such electric generation or transmission facility. Any district that is interested by ownership, lease, or otherwise in the operation of electric power plants, distribution systems, or transmission lines, either alone or in association with another district or districts, in thirteen or more counties in the state may sell, lease, combine, merge, or consolidate all or a part of its property with the property of any other district or districts. ~~; Provided, that nothing in this act shall permit the board of directors of any such district to delegate its duties to any other district or group of districts.~~".

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-THIRD DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, February 11, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Almighty Father, in decisions before us which effect the lives of human beings, give us an equation between the telescopic and the microscopic view of life. May we endeavor to see issues in their minute details and also from a long range perspective. May we not be absorbed in the tyranny of trifles and lose the meaning of the larger issues. Give us clear minds. May we not be submerged in indecisions which multiply our problems, divide our worth, add to our sleeplessness, and subtract from our value to the people of our State. In our Lord's name. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Carsten, Moylan and R. Lewis who were excused.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 12
February 11, 1975

Dear Senator Duis:

We have examined the amendment to Legislative Bill 153, a copy of which was transmitted with your letter of February 7, 1975.

In our opinion the Plumbing Board of a metropolitan class city has no power, without approval by the mayor and council, to grant variances or waivers of its rules and regulations without an amendment to Section 18-1906, somewhat along the lines contained in the amendment you furnished us.

Section 18-1906 provides that the rules and regulations of the Plumbing Board (except such as are adopted for its own convenience only) must be "approved by ordinance by the mayor and council." In the event the mayor and council should, by appropriate official action, authorize the Plumbing Board to grant variances or waivers, in our opinion, the Board would then be free to modify its rules and regulations accordingly; and this, we believe, could be done without any amendment to Section 18-1906.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, February 13, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord our God: we pray once more - but sometimes we wonder what's left to pray for, because we've said it all so many times before, and we don't want to wear thin our welcome.
> And sometimes we are unwilling to accept the answer to our prayer, because it is not what we have been expecting.
> Yet we continue in this Legislature to feel the burden of being the few who act for the many on matters of importance, and we do need to have our spirits uplifted and held close to the heart of the Eternal, if only for a brief moment each day.
> We have been aware of Your Presence, O God, even though we may not always have acted as if You were here.
> Continue with us - we ask it once more: help us today, and stay with us to the end, O Lord our God. Amen.

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Friday, February 14, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:01 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> In this prayer, O God, we come to Thee as children to a loving Father. We pray that thou wilt help our senators to face the problems that confront them, not alone by giving them wisdom greater than their own, but also by relieving their minds of all other anxieties.
> May they now turn over to Thee loved ones who need the healing touch of the Great Physician, with every confidence that Thou wilt hear our prayer of intercession, and as we do the work that is before us, that Thou wilt do Thy work of healing in those whom we love. May Thy help be so plain and practical in our family affairs that we shall come to believe strongly in the help that Thou dost offer in our state affairs. Deliver thy servants from personal worries, that they may be able to give themselves wholly to the challenge of this hour. In Jesus' name. Amen.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT GOVERNOR

The Chair appointed Messrs. Savage, Simpson and Mills to escort Governor J. James Exon to the Chamber to deliver his Budget Message.

EASE

The Legislature was at ease from 11:31 a.m. until 11:36 a.m.

The Committee escorted the Governor to the rostrum where he delivered the following Budget Message.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Thank you for allowing me the time this morning to present the Executive Budget Recommendations which meet the twin tests of restraint and realism.

I am offering for your consideration a sound and balanced budget, and will outline the perimeters of spending and taxes necessary to finance this program.

This is the fifth consecutive budget proposal where I have recommended a budget based on the State tax rates of 2½% on sales, and 13% on income that were in effect as far back as 1970. I am forced, in order to assure the State's solvency, to ask that you forthwith enact a 13% income tax retroactive to January 1, 1975. If it is the Legislature's desire, I will introduce a bill for this purpose.

I have many times previously cautioned against "Political Tax Tinkering" and a Yo-Yo approach to the State's tax needs and legitimate balances. Had my previous recommendations been followed, it would not be necessary for me to request such legislative action, and we would not find the State in the financial crunch it is experiencing in 1975. Even your tax action that I have requested will allow little leeway and future substantial deterioration of Nebraska's economy or a reoccurrence of drought this summer could produce serious revenue problems.

There are some major economic time bombs that are ticking away in Nebraska that cannot be brushed aside just because we are confident of our future. Information just received in my office indicates that Nebraska unemployment jumped in January by over 1%, up from 4.7% in December to 5.8% in January.

I call once again for the Legislature to assume rate setting authority as your counterparts have done in all other states as well as the legislative body of the Federal government. The Nebraska Legislature, for reasons best known to itself, has maintained that it should appropriate but not tax. Besides not being workable, the system encourages spending because those setting in the budgets, in effect, rely on others to shoulder the responsibility for tax rates. If the Legislature wishes to wait until November 15 each year to set tax rates, you could agree to reserve your last Legislative day each year for that purpose. Another workable solution would be for the Legislature to set tax rates for the current year the first day it meets in January.

My recommendations are for a $327.4 million General Fund Operations Budget, and a $4.1 Million General Fund Capital Construction Budget. This is the minimum recommendation that we should consider if we are to act responsibly. In addition, your body must consider, and I support, other pending obligations as follows:

1975–76 previously authorized capital construction appropriations of $1.9 million as amended by my bill, $1 million for the Resources Development Fund, an additional $1.6 million for Aid to Dependent Children, $1 million in deficit appropriations as I previously presented, and $1 million for the Veterans' Trust Fund.

I have also recognized deficit funding requirements for the Community Technical Colleges and Homestead Exemptions in my considerations of available General Fund Revenues.

The total All Funds Budget, including General Funds, Cash Funds, and Federal Funds for 1975–76 is $712.1 million.

This budget proposal was hewn from a massive portfolio of documents and spending requests and is a product of many long hours of work, study, and most difficult decisions. In total, I have reduced by some $36.6 million the General Fund requests of all agencies. The final determinations were based upon my interpretation of what I believe to be the highest priorities on what we can afford.

You will discover some decisions that may appear to many as harsh. There is little or no room for any of the new and increased spending proposals introduced and being considered by the Legislature. Indeed there are some suggestions to cut back or delay some of the previous Legislature's authorizations. In your deliberations I encourage all to look about and see what drastic reductions are being made in other states as they meet their similar responsibilities.

All agency budgets incorporate our previous recommendations for a 5% pay step increase on the State Pay Plan for our dedicated State employees plus an additional $468 per year per employee. This provides a significant increase especially for the lower and middle income employees; a fact that is evident, notwithstanding claims to the contrary.

We support a moderate increase for ADC recipients to help meet increased costs for those most in need. For example, for an unemployed mother and one child, we are suggesting an increase from the present $175 per month to $210.

To improve the care and provide for marked increases in patient loads for the State's Regional Centers, we must provide an additional $2.7 million over the current fiscal year.

In Penal Reform and Construction, we are asking for a total of $1.5 million, which is similar to our suggestions of last year which were not fully funded. This is a high priority item agreed to jointly by the Judiciary Committee, our Department of Corrections, and the Governor. Included in this request is $300,000 which will generate $2.5 million in Federal funds and provide the important new and expanded programs at both the community and institutional levels. I urge your appropriation authority accordingly.

The University of Nebraska received a General Fund increase in operational appropriations last year of approximately 25%. This was by far the largest increase in the Big 8. This year, the University had requested a further percentage increase of 34% representing an additional $22 million for a requested total yearly General Fund Appropriation of $86 million for 1975–76. I have reduced this by $14 million while allowing a percentage increase of 11.4%. This amount is necessary basically to meet pay increases and expenses, and to encourage our University to maintain itself as a top-flight institution of higher learning. By comparison with funding for other universities in the Big 8 and elsewhere, this is an entirely fair proposal.

Since the University Operations Budget will be considered "tight" by their officials, I am recommending an aggregate appropriation to the entire system of $71.6 million and suggest allowing the elected regents and their extensive administrative staffs to set their own spending priorities. With their all-funds budget of $180 million, I feel all legitimate needs can be met as we all struggle with increased spending demands even in the face of overall static or declining enrollments.

With the constraints of available resources, we have been forced to be extremely conservative on capital construction, including the University.

The high priority State Construction Projects totaling $25 million for 1975–76 should not be interrupted, because it would be unwise and wasteful. I believe the top priority for new construction should be the new ambulatorium at the Medical School. $1.2 million is recommended for this purpose to meet the matching Federal funds of $2.6 million.

The funding of this building will directly increase the number of physicians being trained to practice medicine in Nebraska. This represents an important step in alleviating Nebraska's physician shortage. I believe, however, that in conjunction with funding for the ambulatorium, there should be an increased effort by the Medical Center to select for admission to Medical School those candidates who are most likely to return to practice in our medically deficient areas. Under current policies, 60% of those admitted to the Medical School come from Nebraska urban areas, which represents 40% of the population, while only 40% come from rural and outstate Nebraska, which makes up 60% of the population. In short, we should start to recruit and admit more students for the Medical School who come from our small towns and rural areas, and who are more likely to return to their home communities. If we do not begin to put our house in order, we can expect Federal legislation which may impose physician quotas and possibly even a physician draft.

However, primarily as a result of this decision, I am recommending delay in appropriations previously authorized of $2.7 million at UNO for construction of another physical education facility. This surely can wait as we struggle with priorities.

I further recommend that you rescind for one year the previous $960 thousand appropriation for the lease-purchase of the Omaha State Office Building. In lieu of this, I am suggesting a $40 thousand authorization for preliminary planning money. It is obvious the previous $960 thousand appropriation cannot be expended in 1975–76, and therefore is not necessary this year.

I realize these are not popular suggestions. This is not designed as a budget to win any popularity contests. If there is any beauty to the budget, I am hopeful that it is trim and one that meets necessities.

For the State colleges, we are requesting an 11.4% increase primarily to meet their inflation costs. I would like to express my appreciation and thanks to the Board of Trustees and their administrators for their budget preparations. They were most reasonable, and we basically funded their on-going budget requests.

As for the Technical Community Colleges, we recommend a return to local control with a moderate increase in State aid for these institutions.

With regard to post-secondary education, we are faced with the necessity for some type of coordination. The Legislature has discussed this matter the last two sessions, but has not acted. As a result, I proceeded under executive authority to establish a 1202 Commission. It is my suggestion that this commission be continued in an advisory capacity and will present you with a bill for this purpose.

As we attempt to build a workable budget that will fit the restraints of revenue, I ask that the Legislature bracket all measures with "A" bills, where possible, and refer them to your Appropriations Committee so all can get a handle on total appropriations.

I also respectfully suggest that members of the Legislature have before them daily a current picture, showing declining balances as each spending appropriation is voted on; otherwise I cannot see how each senator can be fully informed.

When considering the receipts by State Government, it is important to recognize that approximately 50% of the State collections, totaling $183.4 million go back to governmental subdivisions and citizens in the form of State Aid to Schools, Property Tax Relief, Homestead Exemptions, and Social Services.

The Executive Budget recommends continuation of the $55 million Aid to Education. It should be pointed out that total State Funds will be paid to school districts in total of at least $85 million in fiscal 1975–76 when all aid is considered.

I caution against implementation of any further increase in the basic present $55 million aid this year. This simply cannot be financed because of necessary budget restraints. It is important to note that because of prudent actions by the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds, there will be available to the school districts an additional $9 million this year over last. That, in itself, is a significant increase in funding.

Before we can proceed to an equitable long-range solution to State Aid, I believe we need passage of a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to reclassify real property. We will present you with such an amendment which could be approved by the people next year.

In lieu of a Veterans' Bonus, Nebraska has chosen to provide for financial assistance to needy veterans from proceeds from investments of an $8 million dollar trust fund established after World War II. Because of increasing demands, the fund must be increased gradually to produce higher returns. We are requesting a $1 million appropriation to the fund in fiscal 1975–76. With regard to meeting increasing veteran's needs, we are ready to begin occupancy of the new Veterans' Home in Scottsbluff, and further expansion will be made as soon as possible.

We must continue our battle in behalf of our Number 1 industry, agriculture. Last Tuesday, President Ford assured me and other Midwest governors in Topeka that the Administration was still reviewing the possibility of curtailing red meat, poultry and dairy imports. The President agreed he had the authority, but made no promises to act immediately. The President was also made aware of steadily declining prices in grain. He renewed the plea for full production, and could only promise agricultural fuel availability, but was not specific on its cost to the farmer.

It is my hope that some of the suggestions for protection of farmers in selling their products to processors can be enacted. Among other suggestions being made, I direct your attention to the proposed Federally administered one cent checkoff per head by the seller and one cent by the buyer at slaughter to create a fund to guarantee payments.

Looking ahead to the needs of agriculture, our budget provides $20,000 for planning for a new Plant Science Building at the University. We are also continuing the State's increased role in water resources development with an additional $1 million contribution to the Natural Resources Development Fund.

Road construction in Nebraska received the expected boost when we were finally successful in prying loose at least part of our impounded highway funds. We can proceed with our orderly planned programs. It would appear we will realize approximately $42 million in new money for bid lettings this spring.

We will continue to press our successful legal action to recover an additional $42 million due Nebraska. These funds will be employed primarily for noninterstate construction. Unlike many the other states, we are not hampered by a lack of state matching funds, and due to the excellent planning by Director Doyle and his staff, we have engineered jobs on the shelf and ready for bid.

I remain opposed to any gas tax increase at this time at either the State or Federal level. Again I renew my opposition to deficit financing of roads by bonded debt, but again would welcome standby authority in this area to meet any presently unforeseen emergencies.

The Budget Bill that I have presented this morning will not satisfy the spending demands of most State Agencies or special interest groups. I assume that indeed it will be criticized by some State Senators. The budget was not structured to satisfy everyone or every group, rather, it was built on minimum needs of required State services within a reasonable perimeter of what we should expect from the State's taxpayers. There will undoubtedly be cries of anguish and even despair in some circles. With its presentation, we can now all declare "open season" on the Governor's recommendations. It's fair game, as it should be, but in the end, I presume something very similar to its total will be enacted. The Legislature certainly has the right to make any changes it deems necessary, and it is not offered as an infallible document.

Hopefully, we can all agree that restraint in spending authorizations must be a paramount consideration. We must jointly address ourselves as to how we can balance expenditures with income. There will be disputes as to priorities. That too is as it should be. However, working in consort, and attempting to understand another's point of view, I am sure that we can accomplish our difficult budget task without rancor and agree on tax rates necessary to support the eventual decision. That task will not be easy nor are these easy times.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS

Opinion No. 16
February 13, 1975

The Honorable Harold D. Simpson
Member of the Legislature
Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator:

You have submitted to this office a proposed amendment to Section 81-1329, R. S. Supp., 1974. This section basically provides for the approval by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska classification and pay plan, as revised, with provision for its future amendment by the Director of Personnel and the Merit System office. Your request our advice as to the consitutionality of said legislation.

Reviewing the new language proposed we cannot say that the amendment is clearly valid. We note that the Director of Personnel and the Merit System office shall on the specified dates amend the state classification and pay plan by changing the rate of pay in accordance with the consumer price index as determined by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics. There appears to be no discretion granted the Director of Personnel in this area. Whatever figures may be adopted by the Bureau of Labor Statistics are imposed upon the Director of Personnel and the Merit System office. In Smithberger v. Banning, 129 Neb. 651, 262 N.W. 492, our court held that the Legislature has no power to delegate any of its legislative powers to an outside agency such as the Congress of the United States. If we are here dealing with a legislative power then there would be no question as to the invalidity of the proposed legislation. However, a question could be raised that the power involved is not legislative, but executive. If executive, it could well comprise an improper exercise of executive power by the Legislature, or an improper delegation to an agency not a part of state government.

Your attention is called to Section 1, Article II, Constitution of Nebraska. This section prohibits the Legislature from exercising any power properly belonging to the executive. Recognition of the powers of the executive has been pointed out by our court in several cases. In Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W. 2d 62, our court specifically found invalid a statutory provision which limited the Governor in his appointment of officers to a certain unnamed individual or to a limited few as being an invalid encroachment by the Legislature upon the powers of the Governor. We also note that in State ex rel. Meyer v. State Board of Education and Assessment, 185 Neb. 490, 176 N.W. 2d 920, the court was dealing with annual personal service limitation placed in the appropriations of each of the departments of state government. In that case the court held the annual limitation as to the amount each department might spend of its appropriation for personal services based on a total yearly amount was valid. However, the court did point out that the Legislature could not through the power of appropriation exercise or invade the constitutional rights and powers of the executive branch of the government. The court said that the Legislature, "* * * cannot administer the appropriation once it has been made." These cases recognize that there are executive powers and the Legislature may not, by legislation or otherwise, invade those powers.

In view of the foregoing, we cannot say with any degree of assurance that your proposed legislation would be valid.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 17
February 13, 1975

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of February 12, 1975, you ask for our evaluation of the constitutional validity of L.B. 77. This bill would amend Section 28-926.11(9), which now reads as follows:

> "Obscene shall mean: (a) Work, material, conduct or live performance which taken as a whole predominantly appeals to the prurient interest, a shameful or morbid interest in nudity, sex or excretion, which goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor in description or representation of such matters, (b) work, material, conduct or live performance which depicts or describes in a patently offensive way sexual conduct specifically set out in sections 28-926.11 to 28-926.33, and (c) work, conduct, material or live performance which taken as a whole lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value as determined by the average person applying contemporary community standards;"

This bill would amend this subsection by moving the language concerning "an average person applying contemporary community standards" from test (c) of the definition of obscenity to test (a), and by eliminating the provision that the material, conduct or live performance must go "substantially beyond customary limits of candor in the description or representation" of matters appealing to the prurient interest, or a shameful or morbid interest in nudity, sex, or excretion.

As to the movement of the language concerning the average person applying contemporary community standards, we see no constitutional objections, and, as a matter of fact, it brings the statute more nearly in line with the language of Miller v. California, 413 U.S. 15, 37 L.Ed. 2d 419, 93 S. Ct. 2607. As the statute now reads, with this language at the end of test (c), it can be construed as applying the community standards, determined by the average person, to test (c), dealing with the question of whether the material lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value. Or it can be construed as applying such community standards to all three of the tests. Miller v. California, supra, applies such standards to test (a), and we believe the change effected by L.B. 77 is an improvement.

The other amendment, however, presents some problems. In Jacobellis v. Ohio, 378 U. S. 184, 12 L. Ed. 2d 793, 84 S. Ct. 1676 (1964), we find this language:

> "* * *. It should also be recognized that the Roth standard requires in the first instance a finding that the material 'goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor in description or representation of such matters.' This was a requirement of the Model Penal Code test that we approved in Roth, 354 US at 487, note 20, 1 L ed 2d at 1508, and it is explicitly reaffirmed in the more recent 'Proposed Official Draft' of the Code. In the absence of such a deviation from society's standards of decency, we do not see how any official inquiry into the allegedly prurient appeal of a work of expression can be squared with the guarantees of the First and Fourteenth Amendments. See Manual Enterprises, Inc., v. Day, 370 US 478, 482-488, 8 L ed 2d 639, 643-647, 82 S Ct 1432 (opinion of Harlan, J.)."

The case of Miller v. California, supra, and its companion cases modified somewhat previous definitions of obscenity, but we believe it would be a mistake to take the position that those cases repudiated all of the previous law with respect to obscenity. Those cases were not an attempt to completely rewrite the law, but only to modify some of the requirements of previous cases. We find no language in any of them suggesting that the above-quoted passage from Jacobellis is no longer valid.

In Miller v. California, the court said:

> "* * *. The jury, however, was explicitly instructed that, in determining whether the 'dominant theme of the material as a whole . . . appeals to the prurient interest' and in determining whether the material 'goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor and affronts contemporary community standards of decency,' it was to apply 'contemporary community standards of the State of California.' "

We believe that this is the proper approach, and the constitutional requirement. Before the material can be found to appeal to the prurient interest, the jury must find, applying contemporary community standards, that the material goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor in the description or representation of such matters.

This is not to say that the provision that the material must go substantially beyond the customary limits of candor must remain in definition section, where it now is. We would see no objection to amending Section 28-926.11(9) as L.B. 77 now would do, if the provision in question were inserted in some other section of the obscenity statute, as, for example, the section on instructions to the jury, Section 28-926.18. We do, however, feel that it should be somewhere in those statutes, because if the Supreme Court were faced with a legislative history of a statute containing this constitutionally-required language which was amended to eliminate it, the court would be hard pressed to construe it back in.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Section 84-1213, R. S. Supp., 1974, provides in part:

(Emphasis added.)

Section 84-712, R. R. S. 1943, provides:

> "Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, all citizens of this state, and all other persons interested in the examination of the public records, are hereby fully empowered and authorized to examine the same, and to make memoranda and abstracts therefrom, all free of charge, during the hours the respective offices may be kept open for the ordinary transaction of business."

Section 32-1001.06, R. R. S. 1943, specifically dealing with depositions taken pursuant to a contested legislative election, provides in part:

". . . The taking of depositions and all matters relating thereto shall be conducted in the manner now provided by law for the taking of depositions in civil procedure."

Section 25-1267.22, R. R. S. 1943, provides in part:

"After notice is served for taking a deposition by oral examination, upon motion seasonably made by any party or by the person to be examined and upon notice and for good cause shown, the court in which the action is pending may make an order. . . ; (7) that after being sealed the deposition shall be opened only by order of the court; . . . ; (10) the court may make any other order which justice requires to protect the party or witness from annoyance, embarrassment, or oppression." (Emphasis added.)

It is our opinion that the depositions, even though presently contained in envelopes which have not been opened, have come into the custody of public officials and are now the property of the Legislature. It would also be our opinion that they are now public records within the meaning of Section 84-712, R. R. S. 1943.

The Legislature could, however, impose the provisions of Section 25-1267.22(7) and/or (10), R. R. S. 1943, acting in their quasi-judicial capacity as judge of the election of its members, as provided in Article III, section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution. The Legislature could also, acting in this same quasi-judicial capacity, allow the contestants to withdraw the depositions submitted.

Absent such actions by the Legislature, these depositions and other records of the Committee and legislative deliberations now in your possession would be in our opinion public documents open to inspection and copy.

You also inquire as to the status of the ballots cast in the election for representative from the 48th Legislative District. These ballots are now within the custody and control of the Secretary of State and all questions relative to their status and disposition should be directed to him.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 19

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You direct a letter to this office stating that it is your thought to amend the Constitution to permit the Legislature to write the gambling laws of the state. You call our attention to L.B. 464 and request our opinion on its constitutionality and "any other observations or suggestions you might have on this matter."

We have reviewed L.B. 464. Essentially, it purports to regulate gambling and games of chance with certain exceptions. Certain of these exceptions are presently authorized under our constitutional provision prohibiting gambling and games of chance. These include pari-mutuel wagering on horse races, bingo, and lotteries and gift enterprises as restricted by the Constitution. The bill then goes one step beyond this. Section 2 makes it illegal for an individual, corporation or association to knowingly engage in gambling and then provides that it is a defense to a prosecution for gambling "(a) That the actor engaged in gambling in a private place; (b) That no participant received any economic benefit other than personal winnings; and (c) That, except for the advantage of skill or luck, the risks of losing and the chances of winning were the same for all participants."

This language, obviously, would authorize private gambling. A private place in the bill is defined as, "Private place shall mean a place to which the public does not have access."

Insofar as applicable, Section 24, Article III, Constitution of Nebraska, states, "The Legislature shall not authorize any game of chance, * * *." There are certain exceptions recognized in this constitutional provision but this bill obviously goes beyond the specific exceptions authorized. The proposed legislation, in our opinion, seeks to avoid, in part, this specific restriction in the Constitution of this State.

We note that the definition of a "private place" is really extremely broad. It would encompass not only the private homes and residences of individuals, but also private clubs and private organizations. It obviously could encompass a private club organized specifically for the purpose of gambling. We are certain that this is not contemplated by the restrictive language of our constitutional provision.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

~~(3)~~(2) The judge shall instruct the jury that the guidelines in determining whether a work, material, conduct, or live exhibition is obscene are: (a) The average person applying contemporary community standards would find the work taken as a whole goes substantially beyond contemporary limits of candor in description or presentation of such matters and predominantly appeals to the prurient, shameful, or morbid interest; (b) the work depicts in a patently offensive way sexual conduct specifically referred to in sections 28-926.11 to 28-926.33; (c) the work as a whole lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value; and (d) in applying these guidelines to the determination of whether or not the work, material, conduct or live exhibition is obscene, each element of each guideline must be established beyond a reasonable doubt.

~~(4)~~(3)In any proceeding, civil or criminal, under sections 28-926.11 to 28-926.32, where there is an issue as to whether or not the matter is obscene, either party shall have the right to introduce, in addition to all other relevant evidence, the testimony of expert witnesses on such issue as to any artistic, literary, scientific, political or other societal value in the determination of the issue of obscenity."; line 12 strike "section" and insert "sections"; after "28-926.11" insert "and 28-926.18".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 20

Re: Constitutionality of L.B. 101

Dear Senator Bereuter:

You have requested of this office an opinion regarding the constitutionality of L.B. 101, specifically Section 7 (1) (a) and (b). You ask essentially whether the state may constitutionally deny a person the right to withdraw a reasonable amount of water from underneath his land. The constitutional question involved is whether the state may prohibit a person from withdrawing groundwaters from his land without paying just compensation therefor. In our opinion the state may regulate the further appropriation of groundwater.

The Nebraska Supreme Court in the case Metropolitan Utilities District v. Merritt Beach Company, 179 Neb. 783, 140 N.W. 2d 626 (1966) held that groundwaters are a part of the public waters of the state. Syllabus No. 8 on page 784 reads as follows:

> "Waters: Public Policy. All public waters of the state, whether they be surface or underground waters, are a natural want by constitutional declaration. The waste of such waters as a natural resource is against public policy."

On page 800 of the same opinion the Supreme Court indicates that groundwaters of the state are subject to the same regulation as surface waters by the following language:

> "* * *. Underground waters are a part of the source of water supply to a growing population and an expanding economy the same as the surface waters flowing in a live stream on the surface of the ground. Because of the ever-increasing demands for water control of underground waters as well as the flow of rivers and streams, it is becoming more important and extremely necessary that regulation and control of all sources of water supply be attained. * * *."

The only limitation upon the state's right to regulate in this area is that the state may not take vested property rights without paying just compensation therefor. It is only in the following two areas in which a water right in the nature of a vested property right appears: (1) riparian rights, and (2) the right of prior appropriation.

Riparian rights are generally applied only as to surface water and it is not known at this time whether such rights would apply to groundwater in Nebraska. However, even if such rights would apply to groundwater they are restricted. Ordinarily a riparian owner's right to use of the water of a stream is limited to its use for domestic purposes. L.B. 101, however, does not relate to domestic purposes but applies only to agricultural or manufacturing purposes. In limited cases riparian rights may also apply to using water for irrigation purposes. However, for such rights to attach, the water must have actually been used for irrigation purposes prior to 1889 at which time rights of prior appropriation replaced riparian rights in Nebraska. See, Crawford Co. v. Hathaway, 67 Neb. 325 (1903). Because of the very restrictive nature of riparian rights it would only be in a very rare situation that such would appear in Nebraska.

The second type of vested property right which must be recognized is the right of prior appropriation. This right was first enacted in Nebraska by statute in 1889. This right was given constitutional proportions in 1920 in what is now Article XV, section 6 of the Constitution of Nebraska. In essence a person is granted a property right in his priority of appropriation. Section 7 (1) (a) only applies to the denial of further appropriation. It does not divest vested priorities which have accrued in the past. Therefore, in our opinion, just compensation is not required. However, a problem does exist with respect to Section 7 (1) (b) and (c) of L.B. 101. By our reading those sections put all prior appropriations upon an equal basis for apportionment or rotation. In essence, therefore, those sections take away vested rights to priority in appropriation and just compensation may constitutionally be required.

In conclusion, it is our opinion that Section 7 (1) (a) of L.B. 101 which authorizes the denial of further appropriation in a critical area is constitutional. Just compensation may be constitutionally required to be given to those persons who under Section 7 (1) (b) and (c) of L.B. 101 are denied their vested right in priority of appropriation and relegated to an equal footing with those who have subordinate rights of appropriation.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

THIRTY-FIRST DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, February 24, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord our God: by now it seems so very familiar to us all - the dash back to the Statehouse for the tasks of another week; the rap of the Speaker's gavel; the prayer of the Chaplain; the pile of unopened letters on our desks from those who see so clearly what we should be doing here; the guests in the gallery who are trying to see what we are doing here; the reporters who will tell the folks back home what they believe we have been doing here; and beyond all these, the things which we have convinced ourselves that we are in fact doing here; by now it seems so very familiar to use all - we've been down this road so many times before.
> But the more familiar the way, the more treacherous the detours. Keep us on course, we pray!
> Save us from the sin of over-familiarity with public trust.
> May our accomplishments for Nebraska be so significant that even we, when we describe them, may not be guilty of bragging - nor when we accept our checks, guilty of sponging. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Murphy who was excused.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 21
February 21, 1975

Dear Senator Fowler:

Section 18-1901, R. S. Supp., 1974, provides that in all cities of the primary, first, and second class and villages there may be appointed a board for the examination and licensing of plumbers. (In metropolitan class cities there must be a plumbing board.) Section 18-1907 requires that any person desiring to do any plumbing or to work at the business of plumbing in a city or village which has established a plumbing board shall obtain a license from such board. The establishment of a plumbing board in all cities and villages, except metropolitan class, appears to be entirely discretionary. You have asked our opinion as to whether such cities and villages have any authority to require the licensing of plumbers in the absence of establishing a plumbing board; for example, whether the municipality may require licensing by some other department or agency of the municipality.

In Interstate Power Co. v. City of Ainsworth, 125 Neb. 419, 250 N.W. 649, the Nebraska Supreme Court noted that a municipality is purely a creature of the Legislature and has only such power as it derives from that source. The court further declared that when the Legislature has prescribed a specific method whereby a municipality may exercise one of the powers granted to it that statutory method is exclusive and any attempt to exercise that particular power in any other way is ultra vires and void.

Accordingly, it is our opinion that in the event any municipality desires to make provision for the licensing of plumbers, it must establish a plumbers board and follow the procedures set forth in Chapter 18, Article 19 of the statutes.

Legislative Bill 153, which is pending in the current session of the Legislature, has as one of its purposes the elimination of first and second class cities and villages from the provisions of Section 18-1901 et seq. The amendment to Section 18-1901 which would be effectuated if that bill be enacted has no bearing upon the conclusion which we expressed above. The effect of the amendment, in our opinion, would be to preclude cities of the first and second class and villages from establishing a plumbing board. As is the case now, the establishment of a plumbing board in cities of the primary class would remain discretionary.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 24, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am hereby returning LB 22 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 22 would increase the per diem paid to members of the Nebraska Investment Council from $20 to $50. At a time when we are asking for sacrifices in state government, I think it unwise to be increasing the expenditure of funds in the manner proposed in LB 22.

To increase the per diems paid to members of state government commissions and committees across the board would certainly be a very expensive undertaking. In addition, we have many commissions and committees in state government in which no per diems are paid to the members. I think a review of our policy with regard to the payment of per diems would be in order.

It would seem to me that the present $20 per diem for members of the Nebraska Investment Council is sufficient and that the proposed increase is not of such a priority that it should be enacted by your honorable body.

Sincerely,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 22

Dear Senator Maresh:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning L.B. 290 which provides in effect that as a condition of permitting a child to remain in its own home under Section 43-208 (relating to dependent and neglected children) and 43-210 (relating to delinquent children) the court may impose certain conditions upon the parents.

It should be noted that under either of these sections the court is authorized in the first instance to remove the child from the home and place the child with the care of a suitable family or in a suitable institution including, in a case of dependent and neglected children, the Department of Public Welfare and as to delinquent children, the Department of Correctional Services.

The jurisdiction of the juvenile court to remove a child from the home after an adjudication of dependency, neglect and delinquency and the constitutionality of the statutes authorizing the same have been upheld by the Nebraska Supreme Court many times. See State ex rel. Weiner v. Hans, 174 Neb. 612; Mingus v. Stuchlick, 185 Neb. 139.

As mentioned earlier, L.B. 290 provides conditions which may be imposed upon the parents as a consideration for permitting the child to remain in its own home; if the parents do not live up to the conditions the court may remove the child as it could have done in the first instance. Surely if the court had the authority to remove the child from the home in the first instance it may do so if the parents do not wish to live up to the conditions imposed by the court.

Therefore, in our opinion, the statute is constitutional and would be within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

We are not unmindful of the decision from Florida attached to your letter. That decision, as we read it, provides that the Florida district court did not have jurisdiction to order a parent of a delinquent child to participate in a rehabilitation program for the child. All that case holds is that Florida does not have a statute for the action taken. The constitutionality of any particular statute was not considered.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 23
February 24, 1975

Re: Authority of a Court to Include Support for an Adult Child in a Divorce Decree if Not Contracted For Between the Parties

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In determining whether you will introduce legislation on the above subject, you have asked us whether a district court is legally empowered to order, in the absence of a property settlement, that a parent support a child able to care for itself beyond the age of majority or emancipation. This is a question for judicial resolution, but we can assess the probabilities for you.

A "minor" is defined by statute as all persons under 19 years of age. In case any person under the age of 19 marries, his minority ends. Section 38-101, R. R. S. 1943. The father and mother are the natural guardians of their minor children and are equally entitled to their custody, services and earnings and to direct their education. Section 38-107, R. R. S. 1943. For this a father has a legal duty to support his minor child. Mabe v. Gross, 167 Neb. 593, 797, 94 N. W. 2d 12 (1959). These rights and duties arising from the relation of parent and child are reciprocal. 67 C.J.S., "Parent and Child," Sections 2.b., p. 629. But there may be a mutual abandonment of the rights and duties of parent and child and a relinquishment by the parent of all property in the child's earnings. Clemens v. Brillhart, 17 Neb. 335, 22 N. W. 799 (1885). The result is an emancipated minor.

As defined for establishing domicile for resident tuition purposes, an emancipated minor is one who has not lived with nor been supported by his parents, or either of them, for two years or more. Section 85-502(3), R. R. S. 1943. The statute making parents liable for the intentional torts of "their minor or unemancipated children residing with them" emphasizes the right of custody as an element on which liability rests. Section 43-801, R. R. S. 1943. So does the statute making parents liable for expenses for treatment for venereal disease of "minors under their custody" even though the parents' consent to treatment is not necessary and they need not be notified. Section 71-1121, R. S. Supp., 1974. The parents may remain liable even though they do not have custody of the child if they have voluntarily relinquished custody to other persons, Section 43-801, or when custody has been taken from them by court order. Section 43-210.03, R. R. S. 1943.

Although "unemancipated children residing with the parents" may be the equivalent of a "minor" in determining whether their parents are liable for their intentional torts or medical bills incurred in the treatment of venereal disease, we cannot say that in the face of an express statutory definition of "minor" that the authority of the district court to issue an order for child support is so limited. It is thus possible that a court can include support for an emancipated minor in a divorce decree under the authority granted to it in Section 42-351, R. R. S. 1943, and Section 42-364, R. S. Supp., 1974. At least a parent seeking to avoid rendering such support should have the burden of establishing that the child is an emancipated minor.

It is unlikely that a court can include in a divorce decree support for a child who has reached his majority. Not only has the Nebraska Supreme Court expressly said in Waldbaum v. Waldbaum, 171 Neb. 625, 107 N. W. 2d 407 (1961), that the father's legal duty to support his child ceases when the child comes of age, but the above statutes expressly grant authority to issue such orders only in respect to minor children. Furthermore, child support judgments cease to be liens on property ten years from the date the youngest child becomes of age or dies. Section 42-371(2), R. R. S. 1943.

Even in jurisdictions where the court is given authority to include provision for "children" in a divorce decree, it is generally held that such duty of support applies only to minor children and terminates when the children reach majority. See Annotation in 162 A.L.R. 1084, "Power of Court in Divorce or Separation Suit to Provide for Support of, or Aid to, Adult Child or to Continue Provision for Support After Child Attains Majority." Such a conclusion is buttressed in Nebraska by the fact that the crime of nonsupport refers only to minor children, Section 28-449, R. S. Supp., 1974. The crime of neglect refers only to children under 18, Section 28-477, R. S. Supp., 1974. The crime of willfully abandoning, cruelly or unlawfully punishing, or willfully or negligently depriving a child of necessary food, clothing or shelter applies only to children under the age of 16 years, Sections 38-115 and 38-117, R. R. S. 1943.

With the repeal in 1969 of Section 68-101 and 68-102 of the pauper and public welfare laws, it is questionable whether in Nebraska a parent is ever legally liable for the support of his adult children unless he has contracted to be liable.

We conclude that the district court is authorized to enter orders in divorce decrees only with respect to minor children of the parties involved. This may or may not include support of emancipated minors.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 24
February 26, 1975

Re: Contempt of the Legislature

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have requested an opinion from this office regarding whether it would be proper for the Legislature to raise the fine for contempt of the Legislature to $500.00. In our opinion, it is questionable whether the Legislature would have the power to levy a fine for any such contempt.

The Constitution of the State of Nebraska, Article III, Section 10, specifically grants to the Legislature the power to imprison for disorderly or contemptuous behavior in the presence of the Legislature. However, there is no constitutional grant to the Legislature of the power to fine for such contempt.

> ". . . The Legislature may punish by imprisonment any person not a member thereof who shall be guilty of disrespect to the Legislature by disorderly of contemptuous behavior in its presence, but no such imprisonment shall extend beyond twenty-four hours at one time, unless the person shall persist in such disorderly or contemptuous behavior." (Constitution of Nebraska, Article III, Section 10.)

Since the Legislature has no express constitutional grant of such power to fine, it must be determined whether that power is inherent in the Legislature. Historically, the legislative power to punish by contempt has been for the purpose of the protection of the dignity and order of its proceedings rather than for the "punishment" of a wrongful act. See, State ex rel. Groppi v. Leslie, 44 Wis. 2d 282, 171 N. W. 2d 192 (1969). In addition, the oft-quoted test of Anderson v. Dunn, 6 Wheaton, 19 U. S. 204 (1821), should be considered: "[T]he least possible power adequate to the end proposed, "which is often stated as the minimum of necessity principle. This historical contempt power seems to be almost exactly that which is granted by the Nebraska Constitution.

In our opinion, the reason why the power to fine is not granted by the Nebraska Constitution and does not seem to have been recognized historically is that a fine, by its nature, is for the purpose of punishing a wrongful act rather than for protecting the dignity and order of proceedings. It is for these reasons that we find it to be questionable whether the Legislature has the power to punish for contempt by a fine.

In addition, under the statutory procedure for contempt of the Legislature as set out in Sections 50-105 through 109, R. R. S. 1943, it is questionable whether any punishment other than that for the protection of the proceedings would meet constitutional due process requirements. The case of Groppi v. Leslie, 404 U. S. 496, 30 L. Ed. 2d 632, 92 S. Ct. 582 (1972), holds that under certain circumstances due process may require that before the Legislature levies punishment for contempt of its body, notice and an opportunity to be heard must be given to the contemnor while at the same time recognizing that a Legislature, like a court, possesses the power to act immediately and instantly to quell disorders in the chamber by imposing summary punishment for contempt committed in its presence. That case specifically involves a situation in which the Legislature imposed the punishment two days after the contemptuous action occurred. The Supreme Court held that the contemnor's rights to due process had been violated since he was not given notice, the opportunity to be present, or to respond to the charges. Because of the nature of a fine, in the opinion of this office, it is questionable whether one could be imposed without affording the rights of due process outlined in Groppi.

Further, we would like to point out two additional constitutional arguments which may be made without commenting upon the merits of those arguments. One argument which may be made is that the Legislature may be usurping the power of the court and thereby violating the constitutional separation of powers. Second, it may be argued that such a punishment would constitute an unconstitutional bill of attainder.

In conclusion, we find it questionable whether the Legislature has the power to fine for contempt of the Legislature because (1) the power is not specifically granted in the Constitution and (2) it is questionable whether it is within the historical inherent powers of the Legislature. If, however, the Legislature does have such power, the procedures used to impose such a fine should be examined so as to be brought in line with Groppi.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 25

Dear Senator Fowler:

In your letter of February 10, 1975, you ask if a governing body of a municipality has statutory authority to enter into contracts or leases for a period of time exceeding the term of office of the incumbent city council or village board of trustees. You also ask if Section 19-2421, R. R. S. 1943, is the source of this authority.

With a few exceptions such as Section 19-2421, R. R. S. 1943, governing bodies do not have statutory authority to enter into such contracts or leases. As to their authority generally, the Nebraska Supreme Court has stated:

> "* * * It is well settled that the Legislature may authorize municipal boards to enter into contracts which will extend beyond their own official term. Whether such board has the implied power so to do depends largely upon the nature of the contract. The distinction has been thus expressed: 'A city has two classes of powers, the one legislative or governmental, by virtue of which it controls its people as their sovereign, the other proprietary or business, by means of which it acts and contracts for the private advantage of the inhabitants of the city and of the city itself. In the exercise of powers which are strictly governmental or legislative the officers of a city are trustees for the public and they may make no grant or contract which will bind the municipality beyond the terms of their offices because they may not lawfully circumscribe the legislative powers of their successors. But in the exercise of the business powers of a city, the municipality and its officers are controlled by no such rule and they may lawfully exercise these powers in the same way and in their exercise the city will be governed by the same rules which control a private individual or a business corporation under like circumstances.' " (Leidigh v. City of Nebraska City, 138 Neb. 136, 292 N. W. 115)

As to the provisions of Section 19-2421, R. R. S. 1943, it should be noted that this section concerns only contracts for lease of real or personal property and only cities of the first and second class and villages.

We would be most willing to attempt to be of more specific assistance on these matters if you desire.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 26
February 26, 1975

Dear Senator Goodrich:

This is in response to your inquiry of February 24, 1975, concerning the "amended version" of L. B. 185 which has apparently been postponed indefinitely by committee.

You specifically ask whether any constitutional question arises out of permitting Class 6 and 7 counties to adopt a plan which would require a photograph on each individual's motor vehicle operator's license issued in that county, for an extra fee of one dollar.

The amended version of L. B. 185 may be suspect as special legislation which is generally prohibited under Article III, Section 18, of the Constitution of Nebraska. However, the Supreme Court of this state in Omaha Parking Authority v. City of Omaha, 163 Neb. 97, 77 N. W. 2d 862 (1956), has ruled that the Legislature, for purposes of legislation, may classify counties and cities if such classification rests upon some rational basis. The court stated:

> "... The rule is well established that the legislature may, for the purpose of legislating, classify persons, places, objects or subjects, but such classification must rest upon some difference in situation or circumstance which, in reason, calls for distinction or circumstance which, in reason, calls for distinctive legislation for the class. The class must have a substantial quality or attribute which requires legislation appropriate or necessary for those in the class which would be inappropriate or unnecessary for those without the class. . . ."

In Fougeron v. County of Seward, 174 Neb. 753, 119 N. W. 2d 298 (1963), the court ruled:

> "... The power of classificiation rests with the Legislature and it will not be interferred with by the courts if real and substantial differences exist which afford a rational basis for classification. The act is not special if it operates uniformly upon a classification reasonably made. . . ."

The validity of this bill then may rest upon whether there is some difference in the situation and circumstances of Class 6 and 7 counties which calls for distinctive legislation for those counties. We cannot accurately predict whether the courts would consider such a law a reasonable classification. The purpose of the bill is not stated within its text. If the purpose of the bill is for identification purpose, this would appear to be a matter which is at least arguably common to all counties in the state, in which case legislation applicable only to Class 6 and 7 counties may be constitutionally suspect. Unless there exists some reasonable basis for making this classification, L. B. 185, as amended, may be constitutionally defective.

You may also wish to refer to an opinion of the Attorney General, No. 46, March 20, 1959, a copy of which is attached hereto.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

48-838. (1) The court shall determine questions of representation for purposes of collective bargaining for and on behalf of employees, and shall make rules and regulations for the conduct of elections to determine the exclusive collective bargaining agent for employees; Provided, that in no event shall a contract between an employer and an exclusive collective bargaining agent act as a bar for more than three years to any other party seeking to represent employees, nor shall any contract bar for more than three years a petition by employees seeking an election to revoke the authority of an agent to represent them. The court shall certify the exclusive collective bargaining agent for employees affected by sections 48-801 to 48-823 following an election by secret ballot, which election shall be conducted according to rules and regulations established by the court. ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 27

Dear Senator Rasmussen:

You have requested that we examine Legislative Bill 525 and that we express our views with respect to the validity thereof.

L. B. 525 would be known as the State Electrical Act. Among other things, the act would: create an Electrical Board; establish various job classifications for persons performing electrical work and require licensing of such persons; provide for state inspection of electrical installations and equipment; and, provide criminal penalties for various violations of the act or rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

There is no question but what the Legislature, as a general proposition, has the power to impose reasonable regulations concerning the practice of the electrical trade, including the matter of licensure. However, there are some features of this bill which could give rise to serious questions as to legality and enforceability. Hereunder we shall mention a few of those which readily draw attention.

Section 16 refers to the licensing of a person who has been examined or submitted satisfactory evidence "that he is qualified to undertake and perform work in his trade or skill, to the end that such work will be safely and properly accomplished and installed in accordance with approved standards for such work." (Emphasis ours) The bill contains no further definition or specification as to what are "approved standards." Similarly, in Sections 25, 27, 34 and 36, relative to inspections, there are references to "accepted standards of construction for safety to life and property." (Emphasis ours) Again, the bill contains no further definition or specification as to what are "accepted standards." Section 2(4) provides for a job classification of "special electrician" for persons "installing or repairing special classes of electrical wiring, apparatus, or equipment." Nowhere in the bill do we find any specification as to what constitutes "special classes."

In Lincoln Dairy Company v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N. W. 2d 227, the Nebraska Supreme Court said:

> "Limitations of power granted an administrative agency and the standards by which the granted powers are to be administered must be clearly and definitely stated in an authorizing act, and they may not rest on indefinite, obscure or vague generalties, or upon extrinsic evidence not readily available."

In view of this ruling by the Nebraska court, we believe it would be difficult to defend the bill against an attack upon its validity.

In Sections 31 and 36 there are provisions to the effect that once an electrical job has been inspected and approved by a state certified inspector, the supplier of the electrical service shall be relieved of all liability in cases of subsequent damage or loss arising from any cause. Although flagrant negligence in the installation of electric service and equipment should be discoverable by a competent inspection, the fact remains that inspection and approval is not and cannot be a guarantee of absolute freedom from defects. This bill, therefore, could have the effect of precluding a party from any recovery of just compensation for damages resulting from the negligence of his electrical contractor. Such a provision, we feel, might well be contrary to public policy, violative of constitutional guarantees of due process and equal protection.

Finally, we mention a matter of perhaps less substantial question concerning the bill. Section 21(7) would exempt from licensure requirements persons making repairs of electrical equipment in municipalities having a population of less than 2,500 inhabitants. That provision, arguably at least, might constitute an unlawful classification.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 28
February 28, 1975

Dear Senator Barnett:

In your letter of February 19, 1975, you ask if Section 6 of Legislative Bill 237 would give law enforcement or public health officials the legal right to take an intoxicated person into custody even though no crime would have been committed by that person.

Section 6 of Legislative Bill 237 provides:

> "Any peace or health officer, or someone under such officer's supervision, may take an intoxicated person in need of emergency care and rehabilitation into custody and transport him to a certified or court-approved program for detoxification. Such peace or health officer, or someone under such officer's supervision, shall make application for admission for such person to the certified or court-approved program for detoxification. Such application shall contain a statement of the circumstances and reasons why such person was taken into custody. A copy of such application shall be given to such person upon admission." (Emphasis added.)

A person "in need of emergency care and rehabilitation" is defined in Section 5(2) of the act as a person who is "intoxicated and in danger of causing injury to himself or others." An intoxicated person is defined in Section 3(11) of the act as "a person whose mental or physical functioning is substantially impaired as a result of the use of alcohol."

It is our opinion that Legislative Bill 237 would give law enforcement and public health officials a legal or statutory right to take "intoxicated" persons into custody and the right to transfer them to a "certified or court-approved program for detoxification" when that person was "in danger of causing injury to himself or others."

Acts similar to Legislative Bill 237 have been passed by a number of other states. Questions could be raised as to whether or not an individual has been deprived of his constitutional right to due process of law through the provisions of this act which would deprive him of his liberty under certain specified, although rather general, conditions, i.e., when he is in need of emergency care and supervision and is a danger to himself or others. Many of these other states' laws are relatively new and many have not yet been tested in the courts.

It has been argued that the power to act in this manner is derived from a state's common law power known as "parens patriae" generally meaning the sovereign's power of guardianship over persons under disability and/or from the state's inherent "police power."

It would be our opinion that the constitutionality of Legislative Bill 237 would be more defensible if several amendments were to be made. It may be difficult to justify constitutionally holding an individual against his will for seventy-two hours as presently provided by the act. Some states provide for a much shorter period, such as twelve hours, or provide that the individual may be released upon his request at any time when he ceases to be intoxicated or when he ceases to be a danger to himself or others. Some states have also given the designated authorities the added option of taking the intoxicated individual to his home in appropriate circumstances. The act would also be more defensible if more specific guidance could be given as to what constitutes an "intoxicated person" who is "in danger of causing injury to himself and others" and who is in "need of emergency care and rehabilitation."

We would be most willing to visit with you further on these matters if you desire.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 18.

Introduced by Stull, 49th District.

WHEREAS, the Legislature has long recognized the need for positive action in providing higher education for the citizens of Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, higher education in Nebraska and nationwide has entered a period of declining enrollment at a time when budgets continue to rise because of inflationary pressures; and

WHEREAS, there is no state agency with the authority to coordinate the various institutions and programs of higher education in Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, it is the responsibility of the Legislature to prevent duplication in state-supported programs, and to guarantee that state-supported programs of higher education are of high quality and operated in an efficient and economical manner; and

WHEREAS, optimal utilization of all facilities and resources presently available to students is in the interest of the state.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature of the State of Nebraska direct the Appropriations Committee to study the problems arising from this lack of coordination in higher education.

2. That the committee specifically study the problems of (a) common data reporting among institutions, (b) course and program proliferation, (c) declining enrollments and increasing attrition, (d) changing faculty workload patterns, and (e) differential tuition rates among institutions.

3. That the committee give special attention to the status of revenue bonds at all publicly supported institutions of higher education including (a) an inventory of such facilities, (b) an investigation of the possibility of any institution defaulting on bond obligation, and (c) an inquiry into the constitutional and statutory responsibilities of the state in these matters.

4. That the committee report to the next regular session of the Legislature the findings of study and investigations with recommendation for the overall coordination of higher education appropriations, facilities, administration, and programs.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 29
February 28, 1975

Dear Senator Duis:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the word "felony" as applied in L.B. 276.

Section 29-102, R. R. S. 1943, defines the term felony as follows:

> "The term felony signifies such an offense as may be punished with death or imprisonment in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex. Any other offense is denominated a misdemeanor."

This section has been interpreted to mean that if the possible maximum penalty is imprisonment in the Penitentiary, the crime is a felony even though the individual may actually be sentenced to a fine or a county jail sentence.

As you know, a number of our crimes now carry a wide range of penalties giving the judge a discretion as to whether to impose a fine, a term in the county jail, or both, or impose a sentence in the Penitentiary. Under such a penalty provision the crime would be defined as a felony because a possible maximum sentence would be imprisonment in the Penitentiary even though the judge in an individual case may actually sentence the individual to a fine or a county jail sentence.

If you have any further questions please contact us.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 30
February 28, 1975

Dear Senator Luedtke:

Under existing law, you have asked if a privately-owned business school whose corporate charter allows it to "do what is necessary and convenient" in carrying out the aims of its charter may issue associate degrees or whether additional legislation is necessary.

Neb. Rev. Stat. Sections 79-1819 to 79-1824 (Reissue 1971), as amended, govern the licensing of privately-owned correspondence, business, or trade schools and Neb. Rev. Stat. Sections 79-1809 to 79-1818 (Reissue 1971) govern the accreditation of said schools. Neither these statutes nor any other Nebraska statutes would limit the type or kind of degree that may be awarded by a school such as the one you have described with the exception of those matters which are prohibited by the criminal law. We are therefore of the opinion that in the absence of criminal conduct, a privately-owned business school in Nebraska whose corporate charter allows it to "do what is necessary and convenient" to carry out the aims of its charter may issue associate degrees under existing law provided the same is also consistent with the corporation's by-laws.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 31
February 28, 1975

Dear Senator Barnett:

You state that L.B. 327 would establish a Nebraska Housing Development Authority. The purpose of the authority would be to generate loans for rehabilitation and construction of residential housing by issuing tax exempt revenue bonds of the authority. You request our advice as to the constitutionality of this bill.

This bill does attempt to set up the Nebraska Housing Development Authority as an independent agency. The memorandum which accompanies your request letter is directed toward this point. We call your attention to the case of State ex rel. Meyer v. Duxbury, 183 Neb. 302. The court therein held the Nebraska Clean Water Commission Act, Chapter 71, Article 42, R.S.Supp., 1967, invalid in part. The legislation you present to this office attempts to avoid the debt limiting provisions of our Constitution. We will assume for the purpose of this discussion that the Housing Development Authority is established as an independent political subdivision of the State of Nebraska and is not in fact a state agency. There are several minor areas which, while probably not sufficient to make the entire bill invalid, would certainly be suspect in an appropriate action before the court.

In State ex rel. Meyer v. Duxbury the court did point out that "to the extent that the act authorizes the pledging of such funds for the payment of the bonds and notes of the commission, the act violates the constitutional limitation upon indebtedness." The court also noted in the same opinion that a part of the funds to be pledged for the bonds to be issued by the authority was a provision in the act that the "Legislature may appropriate supplemental funds from the general revenue fund of the state to supply any deficiency so that the debt service reserve fund may be maintained at the full amount prescribed in the act." The act there considered went on to provide further that it was to be the policy of the state and the state pledged and agreed that to the extent appropriations may be made from state funds for the limited purposes stated in the act that such was intended as compensation to the commission as an agent of the state for the accomplishment of a state governmental purpose. This was a part of the funds pledged by the state which the court held to be unconstitutional in the Duxbury case.

We note that the proposed act purportedly does not pledge any state funds. Note the following language in Section 30, "[e]ach obligation issued under this act shall contain on the face thereof a statement that neither the faith nor credit nor the taxing power of this state or any political subdivision thereof is pledged to the payment of the principal of or the interest on such obligation." Nevertheless, subsection 3 of Section 32, provides that pursuant to agreements with the bondholders the bonds issued by the authority under the act may "[p]ledge any money, loans or grants received from the federal government, the state, or any city, county, or political subdivision of this state for any housing development financed in whole or in part from the sale proceeds of bonds issued by the authority under this act." (Emphasis supplied.) Again, in Section 40 of the act there is established a housing finance fund. This fund is to consist of the proceeds of the sale of bonds, fees and other money received by the authority under this act and "funds appropriated by the state for use by the authority in carrying out this act." Not only that, but in Section 44 the notes and bonds of the authority are to be considered legal investments in which all public officers and public bodies of this state, its political subdivisions, all municipalities and municipal subdivisions, and others can invest.

We thus have the bill making the positive statement that the credit of the state shall not be pledged and the state shall have no liability with reference to the repayment of the bonds but yet apparently attempting to give to the bond holders a dangling carrot to say that the Legislature may appropriate funds in the future in aid of the authority. Deceptive, to say the least. We question the validity of these provisions.

We note in Section 45 subprovision (2) states: "contracts for the construction and acquisition of any housing developments undertaken pursuant to this act may not comply with the provisions of any other state law applicable to contracts for the construction and acquisition of state-owned property." This language, we may point out, is certainly not clear and should be made more descriptive. For example, fire and safety regulations could well be applicable to contracts for the construction of such units. Does this language mean that adequate electrical wiring does not need to be made a part of the construction contract, or perhaps that antidiscrimination provisions which are presently required by state law need be ignored? We do not believe that this is intended, but this is certainly not clear.

We may concede that the Nebraska Housing Development Authority is an independent public corporation. It may not be a state agency for the purpose of state indebtedness. However, it is certainly a political entity or a political subdivision of the state if it is not in fact representative of the state itself. In State ex rel. Beck v. City of York, 164 Neb. 223, 82 N. W. 2d 269, the court pointed out that the prohibition contained in Article XIII, Section 3, Constitution of Nebraska, relating to the giving or loaning of credit in aid of any individual, association, or corporation, applies to the state and all political subdivisions thereof. In that case the court was concerned with the Industrial Development Act. Here we are concerned with the furnishing money to private entities for the purpose of furnishing private rental housing. It does this by the issuance of tax free bonds and then loaning the proceeds from those bonds and other public funds to qualified housing sponsors. These sponsors may be individuals, joint ventures, partnerships, limited partnerships, trusts, firms, associations, public bodies or other legal entities or any combination thereof.

We think we need point only to what the court said in State ex rel. Beck v. City of York, 164 Neb. 223, 82 N. W. 2d 269:

> "The constitutional prohibition against the State as to giving or loaning its credit to an individual, association, or corporation is applicable to all subdivisions of the State. The issuance of revenue bonds by a city, although the city is not generally liable for their payment, is an obligation of the city even though the source and method of payment is restricted. The money realized from revenue bonds is public money and it may not be appropriated for a private purpose or used for the purpose of acquiring property for the benefit of a private concern. It is not material what such undertakings may be called, or what forms are devised to conceal their main purpose, or how worthwhile they may appear to be, when the question of constitutionality is presented, their substance will be examined. The financing of private enterprises with public funds is foreign to the fundamental concepts of our constitutional system. To permit such encroachments upon the prohibitions of the Constitution would bring about, as experience and history have demonstrated, the ultimate destruction of the private enterprise system. We have not overlooked the fact that the Legislature determined that the Act was for a public purpose. While such a legislative declaration is entitled to great weight, it is not conclusive. There are limits beyond which the Legislature cannot go. It cannot authorize a city to spend public money, or lend or give away, directly or indirectly, its credit or property for a purpose which is not a public one."

In view of the foregoing we certainly feel that the validity of the proposed legislation is questionable.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 32
February 28, 1975

Re: L. B. 372, Section 7

Dear Senator Barnett:

You have asked whether a contract which meets all the requirements established by law that has already been completed can be declared null and void because it resulted from the efforts of one not complying with the provisions of L. B. 372 regarding conflict of interest.

Sections 1 and 3 of L. B. 372 state a public policy of avoiding conflict of interest or apparent conflict of interest by indivduals providing professional services for state agencies. (This supplements Chapter 49, article 11 of Nebraska Revised Statutes which states a similar policy in regard to state officials and employees.) A contract contrary to public policy is generally held to be void and unenforceable. As the court held in Atwater v. Sellers, 122 Neb. 118, 239 N. W. 629 (1931):

> "* * *. Courts of justice will never recognize or uphold any transaction which in its object, operation or tendency is calculated to be prejudicial to the public welfare; * * *." Supra at 126.

Thus, the conditions you pose may be mutally exclusive. Under L. B. 372 an agreement negotiated by one having an undisclosed conflict of interest would not meet all the requirements established by law for a contract. It would therefore be void and unenforceable.

The rule is quite generally recognized that the validity of a contract depends upon the state of the law at the time it was made, subject of course to any limitations subsequently made under the police power of the state. Vonburg v. Farmers Irrigation District, 132 Neb. 12, 17, 18, 270 N. W. 835 (1937). The general rule codifies Article I, Section 16 of the Nebraska Constitution which proscribes ex post facto laws. As stated in Travelers Insurance Company v. Ohler, 119 Neb. 121, 125, 227 N. W. 449 (1929), the general rule is:

> "A legislative act will not be permitted, even if an attempt so to do is disclosed, to operate retrospectively where it will have the effect to invalidate or impair the obligation of contracts or interfere with vested rights. * * *."

The exception is defined and rationalized in Chicago, B. & Q. R. Co. v. State, 47 Neb. 549, 564, 66 N. W. 624 (1896):

> "The essential quality of the police power as a governmental agency is that it imposes upon persons and property burdens designed to promote the safety and welfare of the general public. It is one of the powers which has been reserved by the people of the state, and which cannot be surrendered, to require persons and corporations to so exercise and enjoy their rights as not unnecessarily to injure others. That the principle stated is especially applicable to existing rights, without regard to the time of their acquirement or to the source from whence they are derived, appears to us a self-evident proposition not requiring argument, and the subject will not therefore be further pursued in this connection."

L. B. 372 Section 7, at least insofar as it applies to transactions or negotiations actually entered into in violation of Section 3 of the bill, appears to have a clear and real connection with the public policy stated in Section 1 of the bill. L. B. 372 Section 7 is to that extent a valid exercise of the police power, bringing it within the above exception. See United States Brewers' Assn., Inc. V. State, 192 Neb. 328, 333, 220 N. W. 2d 544 (1974).

Accordingly, if L. B. 372 is adopted, it will invalidate all contracts procured in violation of its provisions. In the absence of an actual contract, the courts are likely to imply a contract by which the party retaining benefit from work already performed will be liable to the performing party for time and materials.

Sincerely yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 33
March 3, 1975

Dear Senator F. Lewis:

You have asked if L. B. 522 of the Eighty-Fourth Legislature, First Session, is constitutional. The same is hereinafter discussed.

In substance, L. B. 522 would require school districts to provide the same transportation along its regular school bus routes for nonpublic school pupils as it provides for public school pupils. It would appear that it does not violate the "establishment of religion" clause of the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. Everson v. Board of Education, 330 U. S. 1, 67 S. Ct. 504, 91 L. Ed. 711 (1947). It also appears that it has a secular legislative purpose of protecting health and safety of children traveling to and from nonpublic schools and thus would not violate Section 11 of Article VII of the Constitution of Nebraska, although the same is not free from doubt. See, for example, Board of Education v. Bakalis, 54 Ill, 2d 448, 299 N. Ed. 2d 737 (1973). Consequently, we cannot say that L. B. 522 is unconstitutional.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

An heir or devisee who initially waived bond may be a petitioner under this sub-section.

FIRST SESSION

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, March 5, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Gathered here this morning are a very special group of men - men who make laws - men who make decisions that affect the lives of millions of people. They are men who have pledged to be responsive to the needs of the people - men who have committed themselves to represent the best interests of their constituents. Like all of us, God, these men need Your guidance. They need You to look over their shoulder - and sometimes they need You to remind them that You are looking over their shoulder. These are good men, God, and don't let them forget it!
> We live in a big state - in a state that has a tradition of greatness. And just as our aspirations are great so are our problem. We have all the problems of a great state: crime, drugs, problems with our youth, misunderstanding of our minorities, and a host of other problems that these men have long wrestled with. We have big problems, God, and we need big help from You. There are many people in our State - and faced with all these problems there are times when we are tempted to treat them like things - like mere numbers. But this is the great lesson that You have taught us, God - that we cannot solve human problems - unless we treat people like human beings. Dear God, very often we are tempted to forget this most important principle. God help us! Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 35
March 4, 1975

Dear Senator Stoney:

You have requested our opinion as to the constitutionality of Legislative Bill 432, which provides for the appointment rather than election of the county sheriff in counties with a population of 200,000 or more.

> Article IX, section 4 of the Constitution of Nebraska provides:
> "The Legislature shall provide by law for the election of such county and township officers as may be necessary * * *."

In State ex rel. O'Connor v. Tusa, 130 Neb. 528, the Nebraska Supreme Court held that a legislative act which provided for the appointment of county officers, such as register of deeds, was contrary to Article IX, section 4 and, therefore, void. The same reasoning, we believe, is applicable to the office of county sheriff. Accordingly, it is our opinion that L.B. 432 would be held void in the event it were subjected to a constitutional attack.

Furthermore, we believe it is impossible to amend this bill, or otherwise to draft legislation providing for the appointment of a county sheriff, without there first being adopted an enabling constitutional amendment.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Clerk of the Legisalture

Opinion No. 36

Dear Senator Chambers:

This is in reply to your letter of March 4, 1975, concerning Legislative Bill 432 which provides for the appointment of county sheriffs in counties with a population of 200,000 or more. As you know, Senator Stoney has directed to us an inquiry regarding the constitutionality of this bill; and we enclose a copy of our reply to him.

We note your comment to the effect that is the constitutional provision empowering the Legislature to create county offices automatically required those positions to be filled by election, no county offices could be created without their being filled by election. Atricle IX, Section 4 of the Constitution does not enumerate the county officers to which the election provision has reference. As was observed by the court in State ex rel. O'Connor v. Tusa, 130 Neb. 528, the words "office" and "officer" are terms of vague and variable import, the meaning of which necessarily varies with the connection in which they are used; and, to determine the correct meaning in any particular instance, regard must be had to the intention of the statute and the subject matter in reference to which the term is used. Not all persons who may be considered or referred to as county officials are "county officers," within the meaning of Article IX, Section 4 of the Constitution. In our opinion, the constitutional provision regarding the election of officers has reference to the traditional executive branch type of offices which the Legislature has created; that is to say, county clerk, county assessor, county attorney, county treasurer, register of deeds, clerk of the district court and county sheriff.

We do not share your interpretation of Dinsmore v. State, 61 Neb. 418, as being authority for the proposition that the Legislature may in its discretion decide whether all or any of the traditional county officers shall be elected or appointed. In the context of the Dinsmore case, it is our belief that the word "character," as used in the excerpt from the opinion which you quote, has reference to the status or capacity in which the various county officers shall function.

Nor do we see anything of significance in the fact that the Director of the Division of Corrections in counties of 300,000 or more population is an appointive officer. There still remains an elected sheriff who performs the customary duties of that office, with the only apparent function of the County Board of Corrections and the Division of Corrections being to assist the sheriff in carrying out his duties and responsibilities in the operation of the county jail in a progressively enlightened manner.

As we indicated in our opinion to Senator Stoney, in our judgment L.B. 432 is seriously vulnerable to constitutional attack.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord, help us to see the world in true perspective. In the pressures of daily life we sometimes lose our sense of proportions. We forget the great and eternal realities while we wrestle with the immediate and the temporal.

> The grass looks large, the stars look small, and Thou seemest far away.

> We pray Thee, restore to us the far look and the confident faith. In the midst of our struggles, let us know that there is a source of strength which will not fail us. Under the roar of machinery let us hear the everlasting harmony; after the earthquake, the wind and the fire, let us hear the still small voice. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 37
March 6, 1975

Dear Senator Burbach:

In your letter of March 5, 1975, you enclose amendments to L. B. 203, and ask us for an opinion as to the constitutionality of the bill, as it would read under the proposed amendments.

The amended bill, briefly, is intended to prohibit vertical integration in the agricultural industry. It would make it unlawful for any business entity having net assets in excess of five million dollars and engaged in farming or ranching to engage, through vertical integration, in any other business activity in the storing, processing, or marketing of agricultural products other than on-farm or on-ranch storage of its own products.

In an opinion of this office dated January 4, 1972, Report of the Attorney General, 1971-72, page 201, we considered a somewhat similar bill to prohibit vertical integration in the agricultural industry. The preamble to that bill indicated that the primary purposes of the bill were to preserve opportunity for family farm producers of agricultural products, and to prevent monopoly. We reached the conclusion in that opinion that the preservation of the family farm was not a proper function of the Legislature, and that the business enterprises being regulated did not present any ascertainable danger of monopoly, and concluded that the bill was of doubtful constitutionality.

Section 1 of the proposed amendments is somewhat different from the corresponding section we considered in our previous opinion. Section 1 of the proposed amendments provides:

> "The Legislature finds that the growing development of large scale vertical integration by corporations or other business entitities organized for profit in the production, processing, and distribution of farm or ranch products places the ordinary farmer or rancher at a severe competitive disadvantage and threatens the stability of the agricultural economy of the state."

If a factual showing could be made to establish the findings set forth in Section 1 of the bill under consideration, our Supreme Court might sustain it. The rule with respect to classification is that the classification must rest upon real differences in situation and circumstances surrounding members of the class relative to the subject of legislation. The court has also held that the power of classification rests with the Legislature and cannot be interfered with by the courts unless it is clearly apparent that the Legislature has by artificial and baseless classification attempted to evade and violate provisions of the Constitution prohibiting local and special legislation. See City of Scottsbluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256, 175 N. W. 2d 74.

It is not readily apparent to us how the vertical integration L. B. 203 would prohibit places the ordinary farmer or rancher at a severe economic disadvantage and threatens the stability of the agricultural economy of the state. On the other hand, we cannot definitely say that these findings by the Legislature could not be sustained. The subject is too complex for us to give categorical answers at this time.

Under the circumstances, we are unable to give a definite assurance that the court would sustain the bill under consideration, nor can we say that the court would strike it down. The only way this matter could be determined would be by a court test after passage of the bill, at which time supporters of the bill might be able to present evidence showing the necessity for such legislation. If any substantial factual showing were made, the court would probably sustain the legislation, even if it disagreed as to its wisdom.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Dear Mr. Brown:

We have received Engrossed Legislative Bills Nos. 60, 62, 63, 75, 104, 145, 192, 192A, 224, 236, 291, and 292.

March 7, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning herewith LB 122 without my signature and with my objections.

In my opinion, LB 122 sets up machinery that could unfairly penalize some of our smaller school districts in the state, their students, and some dedicated and highly qualified teachers. At issue also is how far does state government rightfully go in exercising control over local school boards.

We have some 19,000 teachers in Nebraska, and this bill is directly aimed at only a distinct minority of some 500. The minority needs some protection and consideration in all fields.

For your information, I am attaching a breakdown by counties where these primarily K-6 teachers affected are located.

In many instances, I am fearful that many of these primarily rural districts might have difficulty in locating qualified and acceptable teachers if current staffs are unable to meet standards and time limits recommended by LB 122 and administered by the State Board of Education.

I do feel that we should continue to upgrade educational standards for teachers and generally support the baccalaureate degree minimum.

No new certificates should be issued to anyone for less than a four year degree, while grandfathering in by some method those relatively few already certified teachers that do not have such full four year degrees. All should recognize that in years past, other deserving professionals have been protected with grandfather rights as requirements were raised.

Many will not agree with my action herewith. However, I hope the Legislature will join me in protecting the rights of a distinct minority in our less populated areas, the school boards, their children, and their teachers.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FORTY-SECOND DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, March 11, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Many years ago a psalmist asked God a question, which was also in a sense a testimony and a witness. He asked: "Whither shall I go from Thy Spirit and whither shall I go from Thy presence and whither shall I flee from Thy Spirit? If I ascend up into Heaven Thou art there; if I make my bed in the grave, behold Thou art there; if I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there shall Thy hand lead me and Thy right hand shall hold me.
> "If I say surely the darkness shall cover me, even the night is become light about me. The darkness hideth not from Thee but the night shineth as the day. The darkness and the light are both alike to Thee."
> Let us pray together to our God. It is strange, Our Father, and yet true, that though there is no escaping Thee and wherever we turn Thou art already there. Thou dost surround us completely and we shall never successfully flee from Thee; yet we find it so easy to shut Thee out in the hurried affairs of the day with all the demands and pressures that come upon us we forget Thee, and in our forgetfulness we are successful in denying Thy will.
> Watch over us then, we pray, especially in these sessions of this Legislative Session. Guide us through each day as pressures increase, as obligations multiply, as voices conflict with voices, urging us to do this or that, and grant that somehow inside each of our lives there shall be a central place of calm and quietness where we can turn and listen to a voice which is like a sound of gentle stillness, a still, small voice that guides and directs our lives, infallibly.

Help us to do Thy will in this House and in this Legislature through this and every year, we ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

We remember especially in our prayers this morning, Paul Thein, Assistant Fire Marshal of the State of Nebraska. Paul was tragically killed in an accident last night. Our thoughts go out to his family and dear ones, as we stand for a moment of silent prayer.

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Marvel who was excused.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Almighty God, first lawgiver and final judge, in this brief moment of recollection before the beginning of today's session, may we all remember that You have made man alone among an infinitude of wonderful creatures with the power to know Your laws, to fashion others of his own. May this august Senate be wise in its proceedings, just in its judgments, a reflection of Your eternal wisdom in its programs for the welfare of the State.
> O Lord of all, stand beside the Senators at their legislative desks so that they may strive avidly for the enactment of just laws for the common good, welcome vigorously the challenge of honest debate, accept graciously the trial of committee hangups, conform heartily to the discipline of parliamentary procedures, represent candidly the wishes of their constituents, acknowledge sincerely the biting criticism of partisan or foe, uphold humbly the dignity of their servious and sacred office.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 39
March 11, 1975

Re: Requested Opinion Concerning L.B. 126

Dear Senator Koch:

You have requested our opinion as to whether, under L.B. 126, a school board would not be required to make deductions from the payroll unless the governing body approved it. This office agrees with your opinion that the language of L.B. 126 is unclear and therefore it is questionable whether or not school boards would have to approve a deduction from payroll before it is required to make such deductions.

Our initial impression upon reading L.B. 126, Second Final Reading, is that approval of the Governor and the Director of Administrative Services in the case of employees of the State of Nebraska and the approval of the governing board in the case of employees of governmental subdivisions is required only for community charities or public welfare plans and not for employee organizations or credit unions. The language is unclear, however, and is subject to the construction that the approvals are required for any deductions from payroll. Because the language is unclear, we are not prepared at this time to render any opinion which would definitively answer your question. Because the language of the bill is unclear, it would be subject to judicial construction and we are not prepared to predict how the bill would be construed.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

FORTY-FOURTH DAY

Thursday, March 13, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

Upon all our Senators assembled here today may we pause to invoke the blessing and guidance of Almighty God as they resume their arduous and challenging responsibilities to all the people of our State. In the Senate hall hallowed by the voices and votes of your illustrious predecessors, the direction of our great State is charted. For, in faith, our fate will here be determined.

As our Ship of State sails on, give these Senators, Almighty God, a sense of direction so that with clarity of vision they may see the port and with determination arrive there.

Grant them fortitude to weather the rough seas, as they head into the tidal waves rocking the boat: poverty, sickness, old age, education.

Give them smooth sailing in the storms churned up by spiraling costs, decaying morality, excalating taxes, tight budgets and loose living.

Let them not be unnerved by necessary nuisances and grant them flexibility to accommodate the irreconcilables and durability to withstand the pressures of special pleaders.

May they all understand that this State, like Heaven, has room for all of us.

Therefore, we pray, Almighty Father, that You will continue so to renew these Senators with a sense of humaneness, a sense of honor and a sense of humor that they may serve the best interests of all our people - and in serving and helping them - may they clearly recognize, Almighty Father - that they are serving and loving Thee. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 40
March 12, 1975

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of March 6, 1975, you ask our opinion as to the constitutional validity of a proposed amendment to the Nebraska Constitution. Legislative Resolution 8 proposes an amendment to Article XII of the Constitution by adding a new section 8 which would provide:

> "No corporation, domestic or foreign, shall engage in the business of farming or agriculture, except the Legislature shall exempt family farm corporations and may exempt such other corporations as they determine to be in the best interest of the state."

The resolution would submit the proposed amendment at the general election in November, 1976. The resolution further provides that the proposed amendment, if adopted, shall be in force and take effect immediately upon the completion of the canvass of the votes.

We have dealt in prior opinions with a number of bills which would prohibit or limit farming by corporations. In general, we have found them to be of doubtful constitutionality, basing our opinions on the provisions of the Nebraska Constitution. We have felt that our courts would hold that they violate Article I, Sections 3 and 25, or Article III, Section 18. See Report of the Attorney General, 1971-72, page 201, January 4, 1972; Report of the Attorney General, 1971-72, page 275, March 21, 1972; and Opinion No. 5, January 27, 1975. We have relied heavily upon Skag-way Department Stores, Inc. v. City of Grand Island, 176 Neb. 169, 125 N. W. 2d 529; Nelsen v. Tilley, 135 Neb. 327, 289 N. W. 388; and Lincoln Dairy Company v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N. W. 2d 227. In general, these cases hold that a citizen has the right to engage in any occupation not detrimental to the public health, safety and welfare, and that a business or occupation which has no tendency to affect or endanger the public in connection with health, safety, morals or welfare is not within the police power, and that access to such an occupation cannot be restricted by the Legislature. Basically, it is a question of classification, and permitting some and forbidding others to engage in such an occupation constitutes unreasonable classification. The case of Boomer v. Olsen, 143 Neb. 579, 10 N. W. 2d 507 is also instructive. In that case the court held that the ordinary callings of life were not clothed with such a public interest that the price of the products could be fixed by state regulations. A fortiori, such occupations should not be altogether forbidden to selected classes, such as corporations, without substantial reasons.

Resolution 8, however, deals with a proposed constitutional amendment, rather than a proposed statute. While we do not intend to state categorically that a constitutional provision could never be so in conflict with, or inconsistent with, other constitutional provisions as to be invalid, it would be very difficult to sustain such a position, and if the proposed amendment in question were adopted, we would probably take the position that charges of violation of the Nebraska Constitution could not be sustained.

This does not eliminate the question of possible violations of the Federal Constitution. The Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution provides in part:

> "* * *. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

The equal protection clause, particularly, involves questions of classification substantially indistinguishable from the classification questions involved in Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution. In Lincoln Dairy Company v. Finigan, supra, the court held that the act in question violated the due process clauses of both the state and federal Constitutions. There is no question, of course, that state constitutional provisions, as well as state statutes, are subject to the provisions of the Federal Constitution, which is the supreme law of the land. See 16 Am.Jur. 2d 221, Constitutional Law, Section 50. If our court were to decide, as we believe it might, that there is no rational basis for prohibiting a corporation from engaging in farming or agriculture, it might very well hold it to be in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, even though state constitutional objections had been removed. We must not, however, overlook the fact that the Nebraska Supreme Court is not the final voice in determining questions of federal constitutional law. When a state Supreme Court determines that a state statute is in violation of the state Constitution, its determination is final, and cannot be reversed by the United States Supreme Court. On the other hand, were the Nebraska Supreme Court to decide that the constitutional provision in question was a violation of the Federal Constitution, that decision would be subject to review by the United States Supreme Court. This happened in Olsen v. Nebraska, 213 U. S. 236, 85 L. Ed. 1305 (1941). The Nebraska Supreme Court had held the statute in question unconstitutional under the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. The United States Supreme Court reversed, holding that it did not violate such constitutional provision. This was the same statutory provision which our court later held, in Boomer v. Olsen, supra, to be in violation of the state Constitution.

A similar situation occurred in North Dakota Pharmacy Board v. Snyder's Stores, 414 U. S. 156, 38 L. Ed. 2d 379, 94S. Ct. 404 (1973). That case dealt with a statute requiring that the majority of the stock of a corporation applying for a permit to operate a pharmacy must be owned by registered pharmacists. The North Dakota Supreme Court had held the statute to be in violation of the due process clause of the Federal Constitution. The Supreme Court reversed, overruling a prior case relied upon by the North Dakota Supreme Court, and stated that there had been a shift in the position of the United States Supreme Court, in that previous decisions had been based on the feelings of some members of the Court that the legislation in question was unwise, improvident, or out of harmony with a particular school of thought. The Court indicated that it was now construing the due process clause more narrowly in reviewing the validity of state statutes.

Nevertheless, we are of the opinion that even the United States Supreme Court might have difficulty in finding a rational basis upon which to sustain the proposed amendment. As we have said before, it is very difficult for us to detect any public evil in having agricultural products produced by corporations. In North Dakota Pharmacy Board v. Snyder's Stores, supra, the Court justified the statute on the grounds that the selling of drugs and poisons calls for a knowledge of high degree, and that a stockholder who was a licensed pharmacist would be more likely to observe the business with an intelligent eye than a casual investor who looked only to the standing of the stock in the market. We have been unable to detect any such justification in the amendment under consideration.

We also wish to point out some problems with the amendment. The prohibition against corporate farming is apparently self-executing, and not dependent upon legislative action. The exceptions only are dependent upon legislation. The amendment will have the force of law upon completion of the canvass of the votes. Under the plain wording of the amendment, all corporations, including family farm corporations, would be required to cease agricultural activities forthwith, and could not resume operations until such time as the Legislature enacted statutory provisions exempting them from the operation of the constitutional provision.

We must also point out that the term "family farm corporations" is not defined in the constitutional provision, and is rather vague and uncertain. Even if the basic prohibition against corporate farming is upheld, issues of classification will again arise when the Legislature attempts to define family farm corporations, and to exempt other corporations they determine to be in the best interest of the state.

In summary, we believe that our Supreme Court may well find the same classification problems with this proposed amendment in the context of the Fourteenth Amendment as we foresaw with respect to previous bills in the context of the Nebraska Constitution. The United States Supreme Court is somewhat more liberal than our court in these matters, but we would anticipate that there would be some difficulty in sustaining this amendment even before that Court.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 43
March 11, 1975

Re: Opinion Concerning Disclosure of Records,
February 28, 1975

Dear Senator Cavanugh: (sic)

We are enclosing a copy of our letter to Mr. Matzke clarifying our letter to him dated February 28, 1975.

As you know, your request for data on state employees did not disclose the purpose or project for which you needed the requested records although your request was made on your letterhead as a State Senator. Therefore, any records which are not clearly "public records" cannot be disclosed to you at this time.

Whether a given purpose demonstrates the requisite necessity or proper purpose must be determined on a case-by-case basis. We cannot say whether records on file with a public officer but which are not public records should be made available to you until you disclose your purpose for needing them.

Sincerely yours,

Attachment to above opinion.

Mr. Stan Matzke, Director
Department of Administrative Services
State Capitol Building

Re: Disclosure of Records of State Employees

Dear Mr. Matzke:

This is to clarify our letter to you dated February 28, 1975, regarding the above subject.

You had asked us if there was any statutory basis for not complying with Senator Cavanaugh's request for a list of all state employees, their Social Security numbers, gross pay for the calendar year ending December 31, 1974, date of birth, hire date, and amount of deductions for state retirement system, Blue Cross - Blue Shield, Nebraska employees' credit union, and American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

We marshaled all the statutory bars to disclosure. Section 48-612, in conjunction with regulation 5 of the Commissioner of Labor, seemed to make all of this information confidential except the date of birth. Section 25-1208 made some records unavailable. Another possible basis for withholding the data was the fact that not all records on file with a public officer are public records available on demand to the general public pursuant to Section 84-712.

Now on reconsideration of Section 48-612, we have concluded that the data made confidential by that statute is not all records which employers are required to keep pursuant to regulation 5 of the Commissioner of Labor, but only data collected by the Commissioner and his representatives in the investigation of a claim under the Employment Security Law. Our present conclusion is reinforced by the fact that criminal sanctions set out in Section 48-612 are to be imposed only against employees of the Commissioner who violate the required confidentiality and not against employers.

Thus we must rely on the exceptions to Section 84-712 and on Section 25-1208 if we are to provide you with a statutory basis for not complying with Senator Cavanaugh's request.

Nebraska statutes do not define "public record" and the Nebraska Supreme Court has not held any of the items requested by Senator Cavanaugh to be public records. It is not every document on file with a public officer that is a public document. Reports of private individuals to government officials, even pursuant to statute, correspondence of such officials in matters relating to private affairs of the citizen, although in connection with public business, are not public documents or records unless made so by statute. The rule in relation to such records and documents seems to be that they ought not to be indiscriminately subject to inspection. However, any person who has an interest in such record or document should ordinarily be permitted to inspect it unless its inspection would obviously be detrimental to the public interest. See, People v. Harnett, 131 Misc. 75, 226 N. Y. Supp. 338 at 341, 342 (1927).

Of the requested data, the names of state employees and the gross pay for each for 1974 fall most easily into the category of "public records" available to the general public. There is precedent for such disclosure in the fact that names and salaries are generally known for elected public officials. The general public has the greatest interest in this data too in order to preserve the general welfare, i.e. to know how the public monies are being spent and to guard against abuses of nepotism.

On the other hand, the social security numbers, date of birth and hire date fall more naturally into the category of records which relate to public records but do not in themselves constitute public records. They can be made available to a person showing necessity or proper purpose. In this case Senator Cavanaugh has not disclosed any purpose or project for which he needs the requested records.

The amount of deductions are communications made to you in official confidence which arguably are protected from disclosure by Section 25-1208, R.R.S. 1943.

You are not required to provide anyone with a copy of any records until the person demanding them tenders the fee for making them as set out in Section 25-1280, R. R. S. 1943.

Sincerely yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 42
March 10, 1975

Dear Senator Chambers:

We are in receipt of your letter of February 24, 1975, regarding nonrefund of money for return of merchandise purchased. You advise that a consumer has contacted you and stated that she incurred difficulty in obtaining a cash refund from a Nebraska merchant upon returning a new and recently purchased piece of clothing. You request to know if legislation is needed to assist consumers who attempt to return purchased merchandise for a cash refund.

The Uniform Commercial Code provides for no immediate right of prompt cash payment upon return of goods except if the goods are nonconforming or defective. See U.C.C. Sec. 2-612, R.R.S. 1943. Of course, if any misrepresentation occurs in the sale of goods or services, the Nebraska Consumer Protection Act, Section 59-1601, R.S.Supp., 1974, et seq. provides for civil remedies as well as remedies enforced by the Attorney General which would bring about return of monies paid. However, where no misrepresentation occurs or where there is no nonconformity or product defect the merchant may establish by contract a practice which he deems reasonable and appropriate.

Of course, a number of merchants have established by custom a policy of allowing cash refunds for merchandise returned, no matter what the reason. Some large merchandisers have been following such a procedure for a number of years. Some businesses and especially small businesses have adopted a policy where merchandise can be returned but only for a credit for the purchase of additional merchandise. Still other merchants have flatly refused to make any refund upon the return of merchandise.

Those merchants who will only give a credit refund or who refuse to allow any type of refund argue that a number of the products which they sell can have temporary beneficial use and then be returned. Such use cannot be detected at first glance, and they feel it is unfair for the consumer to gain the benefit of this purchase and yet be allowed to obtain a cash refund later. Such arguments are not without merit and to specifically require merchants to honor any merchandise returned might be unreasonable.

In order for a remedy to exist under the factual situation you describe in your letter, legislation would be needed. Until we are able to review such legislation we cannot comment on its possible conflict with the Nebraska Constitution or existing state statutes.

If you have any further questions of if we can assist you in any way, please advise.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 44
March 14, 1975

Dear Senator Mills:

In your letter of March 13, 1975, you ask whether L.B. 398 would be constitutional if it allowed branch banking only in cities of over 100,000 population. In an opinion of this office dated March 27, 1973, Report of the Attorney General, 1973-1974, page 44, we considered a bill which would have limited the maintenance of detached auxiliary teller offices to banks located in cities of not less than 10,000 inhabitants. In that opinion we concluded that a rational justification for such classification existed, because of parking problems and greater distances involved in larger cities, and that such a provision was therefore probably constitutional.

We are enclosing a copy of that opinion herein. Based on our analysis in that opinion, we believe that justification could be found for the provision you inquire about, and that our court would therefore probably uphold its constitutionality.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 17, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

At the present time, two bills have been passed by your body which, if signed by me, would require over one-half million dollars in increased state spending. I am referring to LB 294 and LB 427.

These two bills were not accompanied by "A" bills, are not provided for in my budget recommendations and, to the best of my understanding, are not part of the Appropriations Committee recommendations.

The passage of these bills without any consideration of the required funding is, at best, inconsistent with sound planning and budgetary policy.

I would once again urge your honorable body to give careful attention to the fiscal impact of every bill which you enact. As I suggested in my budget address, your body should bracket all "A" bills and other bills with significant fiscal impact until the Appropriations Committee can consider them all in conjunction with their total budget recommendations.

Each bill requiring the spending of state tax dollars should be required to meet the test of budgetary priorities within the Legislative Chamber as well as the Governor's Office.

Sincerely,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 45
March 17, 1975

Dear Senator Keyes:

You request our advice on a possible constitutional question raised by L. B. 433. The title to the act states that it is an act to adopt the Nebraska Land Resources Management Information Act.

The bill consists of two sections. Section 1 of the bill is divided into two subsections. Subsection (1) provides that the Legislature's Committee on Agriculture and Environment shall officiate as the state authority in compiling and disseminating information on state and local programs for land resources management. It goes on to state, "In carrying out this responsibility, the Legislature's Committee on Agriculture and Environment shall consult with representatives from all the county boards and shall request that the county boards periodically submit their local plans, programs, and proposals with regard to land-use planning or countywide zoning in their counties."

Subsection (2) provides that the Committee shall coordinate legislative plans for land-use and resources management and encourage the development of local programs to correct local problems of environmental impact. The Committee is also to recommend legislative measures to promote local programs and voluntary compliance when practical.

The possible constitutional question which might be raised is whether or not this constitutes an improper infringement upon the executive authority by the Legislature. Article II, Section 1, Constitution of Nebraska, provides:

> "The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the Legislative, Executive and Judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted."

There is no express direction or permission in the Constitution authorizing the proposed activity, so any possible doubts must be directed toward the question of whether or not the powers granted the Legislative Committee under this act are properly a legislative function rather than executive. A reading of this proposal indicates that there is a mixture of what might be properly functions of both the executive and the legislative. There are actually very few "powers" granted by the bill. This Committee is to be the authority in compiling information which may well be properly for legislative purposes. It also is to officiate as the state authority in disseminating information on state and local programs for land resources management. This does border on an executive function but there is no clear line drawn. Certainly the duty to coordinate legislative plans for such management is a legislative function. Possibly, the encouragement of development of local programs to correct local problems is more closely related to an executive function. In its present form, the bill grants very little authority or power to this particular Committee.

In the case of State v. Neble, 82 Neb. 267, 117 N. W. 723, our court pointed out:

> "* * *. The duties of the officers of the several departments have, to some extent at least, overlapped and interlaced until it is hard to say in some cases where the one leaves off and the other begins. * * *."

In view of the rather general language of the bill, we cannot say with any degree of certainty that the proposed bill would be clearly invalid. It does, however, approach the limits prohibited by Article II, Section 1, of the Constitution.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 46
March 17, 1975

Dear Senator Maresh:

You have submitted a proposed bill which provides for the setting up of commodity program boards. You ask whether or not it is proper for these boards to have the power to pay money and appropriate funds for programs without being responsible to or under the control of some elected or appointed state official. We have reviewed the proposed legislation and cannot say that it would be clearly illegal.

In Section 1 of the proposed bill it is stated that the purpose for creation of these entities is for a public purpose. Essentially the proposal is to encourage the producers of agricultural commodities to develop, carry out, and participate in programs of research, education, market development, and promotion of the particular commodities concerned. Our court has stated that a public purpose is one which has for its objective the promotion of the public health, safety, morals, security, prosperity, contentment, and the general welfare of all the inhabitants of the state. Platte Valley Public Power & Irrigation District v. County of Lincoln, 144 Neb. 584, 14 N. W. 2d 202. In this situation the Legislature has made such a finding as a matter of policy and considerable weight must be given to that finding. Whether or not an appropriation of public funds is for a public purpose is normally a matter for the Legislature to determine. Oxnard Beet Sugar Co. v. State, 73 Neb. 66, 105 N. W. 716. The courts will not ordinarily interfere with such a determination unless it is clearly invalid. We cannot say that this determination by the Legislature is clearly invalid.

You assume in your question that the officers of the entities concerned are not state officials. The exact nature of these boards is certainly not clear. They appear to be quasi-public bodies, but the funds involved certainly could be classed as public funds. However, our Supreme Court has determined that the vital point in the appropriating of money and the expenditure of such is whether or not the purpose is public and, if so, it does not make any difference whether the agency through which it is dispensed is public or not. The appropriation is not made for the agency but for the object which it serves and the test in this situation is for the end and not for the means. See United Community Services v. The Omaha National Bank, 162 Neb. 786, 77 N. W. 2d 576.

In view of the foregoing we must conclude that the procedure outlined in the proposed legislation is not clearly invalid.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 18, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I return herewith LB 294 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 294 is a good measure in basic concept which is better evaluation of juvenile offenders. This I support.

I do not support some of the accompanying consequences of this measure.

It would additionally obligate the state for such services, costs for which are now shared by the counties and state. Why?

This measure will cost the state an additional $250,000 while the Legislature has failed to recognize or fund these new expenditures of dollars. I believe such action inconsistent and lacking in sound planning and elementary budget procedures.

We are in an expansive program now for penal construction and further program improvement. We cannot do all things at the same time. It may well be that our recommended four community pilot projects and the diagnostic and evaluation services therein provided would be sufficient.

In order to avoid possible duplication, I feel any such legislation as LB 294 should be held off until at least 1976.

If the Legislature does not concur with my veto, then may I courteously suggest that you provide a means of funding the measure.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. James Exon

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 48
March 18, 1975

Dear Senator Kennedy:

This is in reply to your inquiry of 18 March 1975. In your inquiry you ask if L. B. 371, Eighty-fourth Legislature, First Session, will give the technical community colleges the proper right to sell buildings and land.

L. B. 371 would amend Neb. Rev. Stat. Sections 79-2619 (Reissue 1971) as follows:

> "May acquire, hold title, and dispose of any real and personal property whenever the technical community college area will be benefited thereby, but no grounds upon which any buildings of any technical community college are located shall be disposed of without the consent of the state board."

The precise answer to your question is no. The amendment states that "no grounds upon which any buildings of any technical community college are located shall be disposed of without the consent of the state board." Hence, without the consent of the state board, the area board is without authority to sell "grounds upon which any buildings of any technical community college are located."

Very truly yours,

> Take resentment out of our thoughts and actions today, O Lord our God, even though things may occur which annoy or hurt us . . . even though we may feel ourselves being misjudged or overlooked or underestimated.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 49
March 20, 1975

Dear Senator Murphy:

You request our opinion on the constitutional requirement for the number of votes needed to pass a bill making an appropriation for a specific item of legislation. You used as an example, the appropriation in L. B. 240A which was intended to supply the necessary funds to implement L. B. 240. You pose your question as follows:

> "The question is: in as much as this is new legislative material, there is no provision in the Governor's budget for funds required for 240A. Does this come under the constitutional requirement that any bill appropriating money not included in the Governor's budget, must have a 3/5 vote to become law."

We have discussed this matter by telephone. We have pointed out to you that we wonder whether or not this is an appropriate area in which this office should interfere. You have assured us that your purpose in requesting this advice was that you intend to move to reconsider an action taken by the Legislature, and that our advice in this area is essential for the guidance of the Legislature in future actions of that body. We hesitate because we are not certain whether the request of such a nature should not come from the Legislature as an entity or the presiding officer thereof, rather than an individual member of the Legislature. We are fully aware that Article III, Section 10, Constitution of Nebraska, provides that the Legislature shall determine the rules of its proceedings, and its determination would probably not be subject to review by the courts.

Your question, however, deals with a matter involving the Legislature and is certainly of concern to each and every member thereof. We shall present our thinking on the matter for your aid and assistance. The question raised, to the best of our knowledge, has not been directly decided by our Supreme Court. We are familiar with the case of State ex rel Meyer v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 185 Neb. 490, 176 N. W. 2d 920, and the appropriations therein determined to be invalid do not fall into the category of the appropriations with which we are concerned here. We are assuming from your letter that a bill is enacted which provides a new program of operation or a new duty imposed upon a department which has not heretofore existed. An appropriation is then made in support of that particular program. You then wonder whether or not the vote requirement made by Section 7, Article IV, Constitution of Nebraska, is applicable. The pertinent language is as follows:

> "* * * No appropriations shall be made in excess of the recommendation contained in such budget including any amendment the Governor may make thereto unless by three-fifths vote of the Legislature, and such excess so approved shall be subject to veto by the Governor. * * *"

The question is simply whether or not under the circumstances outlined above a 3/5 vote is required for the appropriation. We think that such is not required.

In arriving at such conclusion we considered the decision of the court in Mekota v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 146 Neb. 370, 19 N. W. 2d 633. In that case a new department of state government was established and an appropriation made therefor. In that case the defendants contended that the language contained in the Constitution at that time, which is similar to the present language, applied only to departments, institutions and agencies of the state in existence at the time it is required that the Governor shall make his budget recommendations. The court pointed out that the Department of Industrial Relations which was created by the act concerned was not in existence at the time the Governor made his recommendations. The court stated that it thought the position of the defendants was the more reasonable. The court stated:

> "* * * Of course the Governor could not have at the time his budget recommendations were required, made a recommendation of appropriation for the Department of Industrial Development and it does not seem reasonable that it was intended that the provision should be applicable to that which could not be anticipated but which was within the legislative prerogative."

The court went on to point out that the Constitutional provision contained the words:

> "* * * 'No appropriations shall be made in excess of the recommendation contained in such budget.' The plural, 'appropriations,' is used. This would imply a limitation upon increase of amounts named in the budget and required to be therein and not to matters which could not be contemplated or anticipated. It would also imply an intention that the limitation was to attach to named subjects of appropriation and not to appropriations generally." (Emphasis supplied).

It does seem reasonable that the Governor is fully aware that additional duties may be imposed upon various departments and appropriations may be needed to fund such duties. We are not talking about duties and authorities which are presently imposed upon a state department or agency, but to entirely new duties which may be imposed upon a particular department which the department did not have at the time the budget was presented, and for which neither it nor the Governor could have anticipated nor budgeted. We do not believe that this constitutional limitation was intended to apply to such a situation. This, because the Governor prepares his budget based upon existing agencies and existing programs. He cannot anticipate new duties which may be imposed by the Legislature on any agency and which may require an appropriation. However, the determination as to whether or not a new program is being funded or the appropriation is merely an increase for an existing program is one for the Legislature to determine at this state of the legislative procedure.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

> O Lord our God: even as we dash madly to meet our deadlines, remind us that all of life is a solemn trust - that no part of life is without significance - that every moment has its very special meaning. Help us to understand that because we represent others here, we are stewards for them both of time and of life. May we count ourselves successful stewards not in what we are able to keep for ourselves of life's blessings, but in what we succeed in making more available to others. MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 20, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am herewith returning LB 2 without my signature and with my objections.

This measure would be a step backwards for Nebraska's Workmen's Compensation Laws which have been progressive to this point and in conformity with other states. The National Governors' Conference, the Midwestern Conference of the Council of State Governments, of which your body is a member, and indeed the Nebraska Legislature, itself, only last year have all passed resolutions supporting and encouraging uniform State Workmen's Compensation Laws. Copies of these resolutions are attached for your consideration. LB 2 violates the spirit and intent of these positions.

All should understand that these policy resolutions have been adopted for the sole purpose of strengthening the states' status so as to protect the states' rights to administer their own workmen's compensation system in the face of a very real threatened federal takeover in this area. I am sure we all oppose such a possibility and, therefore, we should all be forewarned.

LB 2 is opposed by both the Nebraska AFL-CIO as well as the Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry. When two such usually diverse groups agree, it is a veritable signal for caution.

It should be pointed out that individual proprietorships and partnerships are not required to maintain workmen's compensation coverage on the owners or partners. It is only when the corporate form of ownership is chosen that stockholder-officers are required to be covered. In most instances, especially with regard to professionals, the decision to incorporate is based on the desire to obtain certain federal income tax advantages. With those advantages comes the responsibility of providing workmen's compensation coverage for the employees and officers of the corporation. It would seem that the responsibilities of the corporate structure should be accepted along with the advantages.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

National Governors' Conference Policy Position
Workmen's Compensation

Since their inception at the turn of the century, Workmen's Compensation Programs have been the responsibility of State Government. The provision of adequate compensation for workers who are disabled, killed, or afflicted with occupationally related disease as a result of their employment is a continuing state concern.

In its 1972 report, the National Commission on State Workmen's Compensation Laws concluded that while many state programs were in need of updating, "the States' primary responsibility for the program should be conserved." The National Governors' Conference supports this view.

The National Governors' Conference urges all Governors to take action toward bringing state programs into conformance with appropriate standards recommended by the National Commission and the Council of State Governments.

REVENUE COMMITTEE STATEMENT
March 20, 1975

Legislative Bill 362 is an act which would eliminate the local property tax by replacing it with a broadly based income tax applied to adjusted gross income and to use this revenue as the major source of support for the local costs of education in the state. The bill is an attempt to shift the burden of local school support from the property tax base to an income tax base.

The Committee felt that the concept of this shift was a new and viable method of local support for schools. The Committee also felt that the concept deserved further study. As a result of these feelings, the Committee voted to hold the bill and to direct the Committee to engage in an interim study on the merits of such a proposal.

Appearing in favor of this bill were the introducer, Senator George Burrows, Mr. Alan Thober, Beatrice, Nebraska; Mr. Ross Rasmussen, NSSBA; and Hubert Wisnieski. Appearing in opposition was Mr. Forrest Johnson, Nebraska Tax Research Council. Mr. Kent Kalb, Department of Revenue, spoke for informational purposes.

(Signed) Calvin F. Carsten, Chairman

REVENUE COMMITTEE STATEMENT
March 20, 1975

Legislative Bill 506 is an act which imposes a five percent income tax on individuals in addition to the tax imposed in the current income tax statutes, and a one percent income surtax on corporations. The revenue derived from each surtax would be distributed to the school district in which the taxpayer resides if that district is marked upon the tax return. If the district is not marked, the revenue from the tax shall be equally distributed to the school districts on a per pupil basis.

The bill establishes an income tax surcharge to aid local school districts. The Committee felt that this procedure merits further study and voted to hold the bill in Committee in order to hold an interim study on the bill.

Senator Warner, the introducer, presented the bill. Appearing in favor were Glenn Rader, Nebraska Farm Bureau and Ross H. Rasmussen, NSSBA.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 50
March 18, 1975

Dear Senator F. Lewis:

This communication is in reply to your request for this office to supply you with an opinion as to the constitutionality of the proposed committee amendments to LB 344, Eighty-fourth Legislature, First Session. In connection therewith you state that you would appreciate our comments on the funding and control issues which were the basis of the Supreme Court's opinion in State ex rel. Western Nebraska Technical Community College Area v. Tallon. You also state that such diverse matters as the powers of the state commission are of concern to you.

I.

State ex rel. Western Nebraska Technical Community College Area v. Tallon.

We deem it advisable to state at the outset the holding of the Supreme Court in the above cited case. "We hold that where the State assumes the control and the primary burden of financial support of a statewide system of technical community college areas under the provisions of the Technical Community College Area Act, the property tax levy provided for in section 79-2626, R. S. Supp., 1973, is for a state purpose within the meaning of Article VIII, section 1A, of the Nebraska Constitution." See, 192 Neb. 201, 213 (1974). The proposed committee amendments are hereinafter discussed.

II.

Selected Committee Amendments to LB 344.

Section 3 of the above described amendments to LB 344 would create a statewide system of six (6) technical community college areas. Pursuant to section 5 of said amendments, each area would be governed by a board of eleven members. The proposed committee amendments would also create a state commission whose powers and duties, pursuant to section 19 are limited to general advisory supervision over the technical community colleges. It is not altogether clear when each area board would prepare its annual operating budget but section 15 of the proposed amendments clearly states that on or before September 1 of each year area boards may certify to the county board of equalization of each county within the area served a mill levy, not to exceed two mills, for the purpose of supporting operating expenditures of the college. In addition thereto, the area board may certify a mill levy, not to exceed one mill, for the purpose of establishing a capital improvement fund, a bond sinking fund, or for the retirement of general obligation bonds. The combined levy, however, may not exceed 2.5 mills without prior approval by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the area. Unlike the property tax funding under the Technical Community College Act, which the Supreme Court found to be a state purpose within the meaning of Article VIII, Section 1A, of the Nebraska Constitution, section 9 of the proposed committee amendments demonstrates the use of the above described tax levies to support local purposes.

In addition to the above described direct control by the local area over capital expenditures, the local area board, pursuant to section 9 of the proposed amendments, would be given statutory power to control and direct which facilities and training will be available in that area and at what cost (tuition) to the student which again demonstrates the dominance of the local area as opposed to the state in major matters of control and operation of the proposed statutory system. The control of the state, if it can be called control, is the amount of funds, if any, appropriated by the Legislature for the aid and assistance of technical community colleges. Section 16 of the proposed amendments states that funds appropriated by the Legislature for this purpose shall be distributed to the technical community colleges in the same proportion as the full-time equivalent student enrollment total for each college is relative to the full-time equivalent enrollment total of all technical community colleges combined. Hence, the dominance of the local area, the number of full-time equivalent students enrolled in each technical community college, would control the distribution of funds, if any appropriated by the Legislature for this purpose.

III.
Conclusion

Until each of the six technical community college areas prepare budgets it is impossible to determine if the primary burden of financial support of a statewide system of technical community colleges will rest on the state or on the local area. On the other hand, it seems clear that the proposed committee amendments to LB 344 would provide local control over technical community colleges. It would therefore appear and we are of the opinion that the property tax provided for in section 15 of the proposed committee amendments to LB 344 would be for a local purpose and consequently would not violate Article VIII, section 1A, of the Nebraska Constitution.

Opinion No. 51
March 20, 1975

Dear Senator Duis:

This is in response to your letter of March 17, 1975, in which you ask whether the Legislature may "condition" the pardon power of the mayor through L. B. 200.

We have concluded that the Legislature may lawfully provide that the pardon of a conviction for a traffic offense, issued by any municipal officer or board vested with that power, should have no effect on the assessment of points or the revocation of an operator's permit pursuant to the Nebraska Points Law (Section 39-669.22 through Section 39-669.30, R. R. S. 1943, and Supp., 1974).

The Legislature has conferred upon certain municipal authorities the power to pardon offenses arising from violations of ordinances (Section 14-126, metropolitan; Section 15-315, primary; Section 16-316, first class; Section 17-117, second class). The municipal power to pardon, contrary to the power vested in the State Board of Pardons by Article IV, Section 13, of the Constitution of Nebraska, is not derived from the Constitution. We see no reason why the Legislature cannot "condition" the power which it has granted, provided it is "conditioned" uniformly among those municipal authorities presently possessing such power.

Sincerely yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 24, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I return herewith LB 427 without my signature and with my objections.

While all may not agree, I believe LB 427 to be the most unfair legislation, from the public's point of view, passed this session.

I am confident the measure was not understood, and therefore not really considered or debated by the vast majority of the members of the Legislature. Likewise, I doubt that even the majority of the telecommunications committee was aware of its real implications and potential millions of dollars in additional costs to Nebraska taxpayers in the future.

LB 427 is a major thrust to satisfy and further crystallize the monopolistic desires of the common carriers. I do not necessarily criticize the telephone companies for attempting such self-serving legislation. We often see such activities by special interest groups. I do question legislative procedures which allow such a measure to pass by such a majority without even a hint of debate or thoughtful consideration on the real issue of the bill.

It is my understanding that extensive lobbying efforts have been underway for some time to override this promised gubernatorial veto. When the full impact of LB 427 is understood and its magnificent favorable benefit for the common carrier is fully appreciated, all can understand why the Legislature is being wooed so desperately.

It is not the intention of this administration to authorize competition with the common carriers on long distance telephone lines. This is not the point at issue at all. We have the obligation to protect the interests of the state in the future in its consideration of essentially non-telephone communications.

I heartily disagree with the basic philosophy espoused by LB 427 that the common carriers are automatically guaranteed the right to all line and data processing micro-wave business at rates established by them.

The key point is that this measure would not only prevent any threat of competition to the common carrier, as was the case with the NCCC network, but would further prevent Nebraska state government from establishing, if it desires in the future, its own state-owned facilities for any direct line communications, micro-wave, or even state-owned lines between the Capitol building and new state office building.

Please note a key and little noticed phrase in Section 10, which reads, "except for existing state owned facilities." That is the tip-off that the real intent of this bill is to prevent, in the future, the state from exercising some cost savings benefits similar to those which have previously been instituted. Also, aside from Section 10, LB 427 would cause an estimated $250,000 additional expense per year for reports and audits which appear superfluous.

I attach for your information correspondence from Steve Robinson, Director of the Telecommunications Bureau.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon

STATE OF NEBRASKA
DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

MEMORANDUM

March 24, 1975

TO: Stan Matzke
FROM: Steve Robinson
SUBJECT: LB 427

In addition to previous information and memos transmitted on the subject of LB 427, the following items should be highlighted in considering the impact of LB 427.

1. Initial fiscal impact of LB 427 may be in the area of $250,000 annually. This cost is projected to increase annually due to increased costs of personal services and broadened scope of operations which will undoubtedly occur in ensuing years. The majority of the $250,000 may be spent to generate studies and reports for the Legislature which, under the guidelines of LB 427, we believe are not the most effective management tools.
2. The State now enjoys the latitude of being able to install, operate, and maintain its own special use Telecommunications facilities. Examples would be; radio remote control links, data and closed circuit television facilities of the various University campuses, and telemetry control circuits for power distribution. Under the provisions of LB 427 these facilities would be liable for excess construction charge as well as monthly lease costs. These excess construction charges and monthly costs could well be in excess of State owned and operated facilities due to the fact that the required facilities are not normally available nor on existing telephone company routes.

3. My interpretation of the definition of terms in Section 10, LB 427, would place the State in the position of having to lease all telephone facilities for the new State Office Building from Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph.

EIGHTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FIFTY-SECOND DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, March 25, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord, let us never be afraid of a new idea or unreceptive to a new thought, lest we pull down the shades of our minds and exclude Thy holy light. When confronted by mystery, help us to remember that we do not have to explain all we know or understand all we believe. But give us the grace of humility and the spirit of the open mind, the courage to persist in face of difficulties, and a steady confidence in the power of truth.
> Help us to learn something this day, that we shall be wise at its close and more ready for our eternal home when we are one step nearer. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. DeCamp and R. Lewis who were excused.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
March 26, 1975

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I herewith return LB 240 without my signature and with my objections.

Once again I caution the Legislature that you are mandating an additional $1,562,000 expenditure consisting of $382,000 general funds, $312,000 in county funds and $868,000 in federal funds but failed to pass the accompanying "A" bill or funding measure.

LB 240 has merit in that it would eliminate certain age restrictions for eligibility to the blind and disabled. However there is no way these eligibility changes can be implemented without funding authorization.

Sincerely,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor
