RULE 1—OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

A. Election of Officers

Section 1. Officers To Be Elected. At the commencement of each regular session in odd-numbered years the Legislature shall nominate from the floor and elect by secret ballot the following officers:

Speaker
Chairman of Committee on Committees
Chairman of Executive Board
Vice-Chairman of Executive Board
6 Members of Executive Board (See footnote)

Before the ballot is taken each person so nominated may make a public statement to the Legislature indicating what the Legislature may expect from him or her in the area of the responsibility of such office. The officers so elected shall hold such office for a period of two years.

The Legislature elects two from legislative districts Nos. 1, 2, 15, 16, 23 through 30, 32 through 35, and 46; two from legislative districts Nos. 3 through 14, 20, 31, and 45; and two from legislative districts Nos. 17 through 19, 21, 22, 36 through 44, and 47 through 49. Speaker is member of Board; Chairman of Appropriations is nonvoting member; RRS 50-401.01.

Sec. 2. Officers To Be Approved. In addition, the Legislature shall advise and consent to the recommendations of the Executive Board of the Legislative Council for the following officers:

Chief Clerk of the Legislature
Assistant Clerk of the Legislature
Sergeant at Arms
Chaplain

Officers and employees recommended by the Executive Board, RRS 50-111.

Sec. 3. Voting on and Removal of Officers. (a) A majority vote of the elected members shall be required for the election of all officers of the Legislature. All officers shall hold their office until a successor is chosen or they are removed.

(b) Any officer of the Legislature may be recalled upon a two-thirds majority vote of the members elected to the Legislature provided no such recall shall be voted on until five legislative days after the motion to do so is placed in the Journal. The vacancy thus created shall be filled by a majority vote of the members.

Sec. 4. Officer's Oath. Each permanent officer shall take an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, and to discharge faithfully the duties of his office according to the best of his ability.

B. Presiding Officer

Sec. 5. President of Legislature. The Lieutenant Governor shall preside as President of the Legislature. The Speaker shall serve as acting President and preside when the Lieutenant Governor shall be absent, incapacitated, or shall be acting as Governor. All references herein made to the President shall be construed as meaning also the Speaker whenever he may preside.

Prohibited from presiding when acting as Governor. Const. Art. III, Sec. 10.

Addressing the Chair. Rule 2, Sec. 7.
Duties RRS 50-113.

Sec. 8. Alternate Presiding Officers. The President may name any member to perform the duties of the presiding officer, but such delegation shall not extend beyond adjournment. When possible the order for delegation of the presiding officer shall be as set forth in Sec. 6, supra.

Sec. 9. Convening of Legislature, Quorum. The President shall take the chair each legislative day at the hour to which the Legislature shall have adjourned at the last sitting. He shall call the Legislature to order, and a quorum being present, shall proceed in the manner and order prescribed by these rules. A majority of the members elected to the Legislature shall constitute a quorum.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 10.

Sec. 10. Absence of Quorum. If the President finds that a number less than a quorum is present, he shall so state, and a majority of the members present, if five in number, may compel the presence of all members subject to a Call of the Legislature.

Sec. 11. Order and Decorum. The President shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of disturbance or disorderly conduct in the galleries, or in the lobby, may cause the same to be cleared.

Consent to enter Chamber. Rule 2, Sec. 3.

Sec. 12. President Decide Order of Speaking. The President may speak to a point of order in preference to members, and shall decide the questions or order, subject to an appeal to the Legislature by any member, on which appeal no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the Legislature. A majority of the elected members may overrule the Chair.

Sec. 13. Signing of Bills and Resolutions. The President shall sign, in the presence of the Legislature, while the same is in session and capable of transacting business all bills and resolutions passed by the Legislature. All writs, warrants, and subpoenas issued by order of the Legislature shall be under his hand and seal, and attested to by the Clerk.

Only Lieutenant Governor or Speaker may sign bills. Const. Art. III, Sec. 14.

Sec. 14. Lieutenant Governor Voting When. The Lieutenant Governor, when presiding, shall vote only when the Legislature is equally divided.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 10.

C. Speaker

Sec. 15. Speaker, Presiding, Privilege. The Speaker shall preside over the Legislature at such times and circumstances as is above set forth. He shall be privileged to speak at any stage of proceedings at any time incident to the duties and responsibilities of his office.

RRS 50-115

E. Other Offices

Sec. 20. Sergeant at Arms. (a) The Sergeant at Arms shall attend the Legislature during its sittings, to execute the commands of the Legislature from time to time, together with all such processes issued by authority thereof as shall be directed to him by the presiding officer, and shall enforce strictly the rules as they relate to privileges of the Legislative Chamber.

RRS 50-116

(b) The Assistant Sergeant at Arms shall assist the Sergeant at Arms and in the absence of the latter, shall perform all of the duties herein prescribed for the Sergeant at Arms.

(c) Such other security guards as may be necessary shall be under the direction of the Speaker.

Compel attendance at committee hearing. Rule 2, Sec. 4.

Sec. 21. Chaplain. The Chaplain shall attend and shall open with prayer each day's sitting of the Legislature.

RRS 50-120

Sec. 22. Other Employees, Hiring of. The Executive Board of the Legislative Council shall hire all employees of the Legislature except those subject to the procedure in Rule 1, Sec. 2. The salaries of permanent employees shall be determined by the Executive Board subject to the limits of the appropriation bill. The Executive Board shall submit a salary schedule the first day of each session to the Legislature for all temporary employee positions. Such salary schedule shall be considered adopted unless rejected or amended by a majority of the elected members. No further adjustments in individual salaries for temporary employees need to be submitted to the Legislature for that session.

RRS 50-112

RULE 2—RULES OF PROCEDURE

Section 1. Rules, Matters Not Covered. These rules shall govern the Legislature. In all matters not covered herein, the Legislature shall decide as to the procedure to be followed, the same to require the concurrence of a majority of the elected members.

Overruling the Chair. Rule 1, Sec. 12.
Presiding officer, duties. RRS 50-113.

Sec. 2. Rules, Suspension, Amendment. These rules may only be suspended by a three-fifths majority of the elected members by a machine vote, and may be amended by a three-fifths majority vote of the members elected; Provided, any proposed amendment must first be referred to the committee on Rules for consideration and report.

Sec. 3. Chamber, Guests, Distributions of Material. (a) The Legislative Chamber shall consist of the entire floor of the Legislative Chamber including the space under the balcony on either side adjacent thereto, or any other space designated by the Legislature or the Executive Board thereof.

(b) No person shall be admitted to the floor of the Legislature, as described in this rule, except the following:

(i) Members of the Legislature and their immediate families.
(ii)Officers and employees of the Legislature.
(iii)Reporters of regularly accredited newspapers and broadcasting stations.

(c) The Governor, state officers, former legislators, and other distinguished visitors may be admitted to the floor upon permission from the Chair.

State officials appearing before committees. Rule 3, Sec. 6.

(d) No one shall be permitted to be seated beside members of the Legislature except members of their immediate families upon permission from the Chair. When bills are being read on Final Reading, no one shall be permitted to be seated beside members of the Legislature.

(e) No person, other than those hereinbefore excepted, shall be admitted to the members' cloak room or post office, unless accompanied by a member.

(f) No printed or written material of any nature may be placed on the desks of the members or distributed to them in the Legislative Chamber, unless such material clearly indicates on its face the person responsible for its distribution. The distribution must be approved by at least one member of the Legislature. The Speaker may authorize the Clerk to distribute material prepared by state agencies.

(g) Members shall remain in their seats during the Final Reading of a bill and until the vote thereon has been announced, except when excused by the President.

Sec. 4. Attendance at Sessions. (a) Every member shall be present within the Legislative Chamber during the meetings of the Legislature and shall attend the regular meeting of the standing committee of which he is a member, unless excused by the Legislature, the Speaker, or the committee chairman. Members who have been excused by the Legislature or the Speaker shall notify their committee chairman that they will be absent.

(b) The presence of any member may be compelled, if necessary, by sending the Sergeant at Arms, or such other person or persons as the membership present may authorize, at the expense of such absent member, unless such excuse for nonattendance is made as the Legislature may judge sufficient, and in that case the expense shall be paid out of the contingent fund.

Sec. 5. Absent Members, Explanation of Vote. Absent members may have inserted into the Journal how he would have voted had he been present.

Sec. 6. Expulsion of Members. No member shall be expelled except by a vote of two-thirds of all members elected to the Legislature, and no member shall be twice expelled for the same offense.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 10.

Sec. 7. Senator Desiring to Speak. (a) When a member desires to speak in debate or to deliver any matter to the Legislature, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President." A member shall speak only when recognized and shall confine himself to the question before the Legislature.

(b) No member shall interrupt the business of the Legislature nor speak to another who has the floor, except when he may yield to a question. No guest will be introduced during the legislative session except dignitaries and such dignitaries shall only be introduced by the presiding officer, provided that the presiding officer can announce the presence of visiting groups or organizations at his discretion. Those individuals and groups not introduced may be inserted in the Journal by request. No member shall use profane or abusive language when speaking to or about another member.

Sec. 8. Transgression of Rules, Call Member to Order. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the Legislature, the presiding officer shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case he shall immediately sit down, unless permitted on motion of another member to explain, and the Legislature shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, but not otherwise, and if the case requires it, he shall be liable to censure or such punishment as the Legislature may deem proper.

Sec. 9. Words Excepted To. If a member is called to order for words spoken in debate, the member calling him to order shall indicate the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down in writing at the Clerk's desk and read aloud to the Legislature, but he shall not be held to answer, nor be subject to the censure of the Legislature therefore, if further debate or other business shall have intervened.

Sec. 10. Time Limit on Speaking. No member shall speak more than twice, nor for more than ten minutes on each occasion, upon any one question in debate during the same legislative day, without leave of the Legislature, except in explanation, unless he be the mover, proposer, or introducer of the matter pending, in which case he shall be permitted to speak in reply, but not until every other member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

Sec. 11. Personal Privilege. Personal privilege shall be, first, those affecting the rights, dignity, and integrity of the Legislature collectively; and second, the rights, reputation, and conduct of members individually. They shall have precedence over all other questions except motions to adjourn. Personal privilege shall not be used to permit any discussion or debate pertaining to any measure pending before the Legislature. All questions of privilege shall be channeled through the presiding officer, who shall determine their order of consideration.

RULE 3—COMMITTEES

Section 1. Standing Committees Defined. All committees with regular meeting times shall be identified as standing committees. The membership of all standing committees shall be appointed at the beginning of each session beginning in odd-numbered years and shall continue until the regular session in the next subsequent odd-numbered year.

Sec. 2. Standing Committees, Permanent. The standing committees and the number of members shall be as follows:

Agriculture and Environment	8 members
Appropriations	9 members
Banking, Commerce and Insurance	8 members
Constitutional Revision and Recreation	7 members
Education	8 members
Government, Military and Veterans Affairs	8 members
Judiciary	8 members
Labor	7 members
Miscellaneous Subjects	8 members
Public Health and Welfare	7 members
Public Works	8 members
Revenue	8 members
Urban Affairs	8 members

The Speaker shall not be a regular member of any standing committee.

All committee members shall be nominated by the Committee on Committees in such manner as is hereafter set forth.

Committee on Committees. Rule 3, Sec. 17.
Budget—Governor's Bill, Introduction. Rule 5, Sec. 7.
Chairman, Appropriations Committee, Member Executive Board. RRS 50-401.01
Government Committee—Review Civil Defense program. RRS 50-127

Sec. 3. Chairman, Vice-Chairman. (a) The Chairman of each committee shall be selected by secret ballot on the floor of the Legislature.

(b) Each standing committee shall elect from its membership a vice-chairman to serve in the absence of the chairman.

RULE 3

Sec. 4. Meeting Times. Standing committees shall meet at 2:00 p.m., unless otherwise ordered by the Legislature. Any committee chairman before deciding not to hold committee meetings or a committee meeting on an assigned day, must receive permission from the Reference Committee.

Reference Committee. Rule 3, Sec. 19.
Excuse from attendance. Rule 2, Sec. 4.

Sec. 5. Public Hearing, Notice. Before taking final action on a bill or resolution, a committee shall hold a public hearing thereon and shall give at least seven calendar days' notice, after the bill shall have been printed, by publication in the Legislative Journal, of the date and time of said hearings. No bill, having been set for public hearing, shall be withdrawn nor the hearing canceled within seven calendar days' of the date set for said public hearing, except for hearings held during the first 20 legislative days of each session, there shall be required only five calendar days' notice of said hearing or withdrawal of said bill.

Reference of bill to committee. Rule 3, Sec. 20.
Withdrawal of bills before hearing. Rule 5, Sec. 11.

Sec. 6. State Officials Appearing Before Committees. State officials and department heads, or their designee and state employees may appear before any legislative committee.

State officials appearing on chamber floor. Rule 2, Sec. 3.

Sec. 7. Executive Sessions, Press. Executive sessions of standing committees shall be open to the news media.

Reports on votes by a committee shall be as follows:

1. The vote of an individual senator on all motions may be reported.

2. The press may report the vote of individual senators by name on any motion.

Privilege of press on floor. Rule 2, Sec. 3b iii.

Sec. 8. Consideration and Correlation of Bills. Standing committees shall consider and report without unnecessary delay all bills and resolutions referred to them. Standing committees shall be authorized to combine and to correlate the provisions of different bills referred to them and related to the same subject under the number of one of the correlated bills, and may, before taking final action on any bill, adopt amendments thereto, for the consideration of the Legislature.

The chairman of each committee shall take into consideration the importance, need for, and passage of the bills referred to his committee and set the bills for hearing accordingly.

Review of workload by Committee on Committees. Rule 3, Sec. 17f.

Sec. 9. Debate Before Committees. Each standing committee shall keep a record of its proceedings. Any two members of the committee may demand a roll call upon the reporting of any bill, or upon amendments thereto. The vote so taken shall be made a part of the committee report.

Sec. 10. Request From Committee, Bills Held. (a) Except for the general appropriation bills necessary for the support of the state government for the biennium, the Legislature may, by vote of a majority of the elected members, request a report from any standing committee at any time after said committee shall have been in possession of a bill or resolution for twenty legislative days.

(b) Any senator may move that a bill be placed on General File twenty days or more after the committee hearing, and by a vote of a majority of the elected members, said bill shall be placed on General File.

(c) Any time the introducer of a bill attempts to take a bill from committee to be placed on General File, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed if the motion fails to receive a majority vote of the members elected to the Legislature.

Sec. 11. Report of Bill to Legislature. In reporting a bill to the Legislature, whether with or without amendments, a standing committee shall, by vote of a majority of its members, recommend that the bill be placed on General File or that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Such action shall be taken at regularly scheduled committee meetings only. A report on a bill or resolution must be made to the Legislature within eight calendar days after the committee has acted upon the particular measure. No bill shall be reported by the committee to be placed on General File unless the amendments, if any, are approved as to form and draftsmanship by the bill drafter.

Sec. 12. Indefinitely Postponed Bills. If the standing committee report on a bill be to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed; Provided, that such bill may be placed on General File or referred back to the standing committee by a three-fifths vote of the elected members upon motion made within three legislative days after the committee makes its report to the Legislature, or by a two-thirds vote of the elected members upon motion made more than three legislative days after such committee report. Not more than one bill shall be raised from committee on any one motion. A motion to raise cannot be amended to include any other bill or subject matter. A motion to raise must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after the motion is available for consideration or it shall be deemed defeated.

Sec. 13. Statement of Intent. Each standing committee with the assistance of the legislative staff shall, when reporting a bill, submit therewith a brief statement of the main purpose and the provisions of the bill, and, if recommended to General File, a copy of all amendments recommended by the committee. Such statement shall give the committee's reason for so reporting. A minority view signed by whoever proposed it may also be given. Copy of amendments shall be furnished to the members. On a motion to report the bill to the floor the majority report shall reflect the voting record of each senator.

Sec. 14. Temporary Appointments. (a) When a member is unable to serve, the chairman of such committee after a majority vote of the remaining members shall request to fill such vacancy or vacancies. The request shall be made to the Committee on Committees and such committee shall appoint either the Speaker, or a member from a regular standing committee having eight members to fill such vacancy or vacancies.

(b) A temporary appointment may be made by the chairman of the Committee on Committees for only one day when requested by a chairman of a regular standing committee which lacks a quorum. When a member is appointed from an eight-member committee, the consent of the member to be appointed shall first be obtained. The temporary appointee shall have the right to vote only on the bill or bills that actually have been heard by the appointee and provided that the vote is taken on such bills on the day the bill or bills are heard. When such appointment is made in case of an incapacitated member or members, such appointee shall cease to be a member of such committee upon the return of the incapacitated member for whom he was appointed.

Sec. 15. Select Committees, Defined. All permanent committees without a regular meeting time shall be identified as select committees. The members of all select committees shall be appointed by the Committee on Committees unless otherwise provided for by statute or rule.

Sec. 16. Select Committees, Named. The permanent select committees shall be as follows:

Committee on Committees ..... 13 members
Enrollment and Review ..... 1 member
Reference ..... 9 members
Rules ..... 5 members

Committee on Committees. Rule 3, Sec. 17.
E & R. Rule 3, Sec. 18.
Reference Committee. Rule 3, Sec. 19.
Rules Committee, Review of Amendment to Rules. Rule 2, Sec. 2.

Sec. 17. Committee on Committees. (a) At the commencement of each session, the Legislature shall elect a Committee on Committees to consist of thirteen members, one at large who shall be chairman, and three from District No. 1 consisting of legislative districts Nos. 1 through 3, 25 through 30, 32, 45, and 46; three from District No. 2 consisting of legislative districts Nos. 4 through 14, 20, and 31; three from District No. 3 consisting of legislative districts 15 through 19, 21 through 24, 34, 35, and 40, and three from District No. 4 consisting of legislative districts 33, 36 through 39, 41 through 44, and 47 through 49.

(b) The Committee on Committees by a majority vote of all of its members, shall recommend to the Legislature for its approval appointments to the standing and select committees, each with the number of members as set forth, unless otherwise provided for herein or by statute.

(c) Committee on Committees shall publish a schedule of regular standing committee meetings, in such manner as to avoid, as far as possible, conflicts in the assignment of members to such committees.

(d) All nominations made to the Legislature by the Governor, requiring confirmation by the Legislature, shall be referred to the Committee on Committees, and the same procedure shall be followed as governs the handling of other matters before standing committees, unless the Legislature shall otherwise direct by unanimous vote.

73-74 Attorney General Opinion No. 56 – Need 25 votes to disapprove.

(e) The chairman of the Committee on Committees shall daily report the number and identity of any bills held by a committee when said committee has taken action on said bill more than eight days prior thereto. Said report shall be set forth in the Journal.

(f) The Committee on Committees shall have authority to call before it a committee chairman and discuss the workload of said committee. They shall hear and dispose of all written complaints filed with said committee by a senator against any committee chairman. The Committee on Committees shall conduct said hearing in accordance with its own rules.

See Rule 3, Sec. 3 a for selection of chairman.
See Rule 3, Sec. 3 b for selection of vice-chairman.

Sec. 18. Enrollment and Review. (a) The chairman of Enrollment and Review shall be in order at any time in reporting bills which have been engrossed for Final Reading and passage. In the absence of the chairman, the vice-chairman of the Judiciary Committee shall assume the duties of the chairman of the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(b) The bill drafting service shall have supervision of and provide legal services for Enrollment and Review Committee.

(c) The chairman of Enrollment and Review shall have authority, without being required to include the same specifically in his reports and recommendations to the Legislature, in accord with accepted usage:

i To correct the spelling of words, to correct erroneous division and hyphenation of words, to capitalize or decapitalize words, and to change numbers from words to figures or from figures to words, in new and independent acts, in the new matter of amendatory acts, in standing committee reports, and in General File, Select File, and specific amendments.

ii To underscore or remove underscoring, as the case requires, in standing committee reports and in General File, Select File, and specific amendments.

iii When an amendment to add the emergency clause is adopted on Select File which does not spell out the standard emergency clause and make the necessary change in the title, the chairman of Enrollment and Review shall also have the authority to add to the engrossed bill the standard emergency clause, assigning to it the appropriate section number, and make the necessary change in the title as a matter of course without including such action in his reports and recommendations to the Legislature or making any special record thereof.

For amendments to title. Rule 7, Sec. 3c.
For engrossment of bill. Rule 5, Sec. 9.

Sec. 19. Reference Committee. The Executive Board shall constitute the Reference Committee. The Reference Committee shall review each bill and resolution and either refer the bill to a standing committee or to General File.

Those placed on General File will be bracketed for five calendar days, and if one senator requests a public hearing on one or more of these bills, they will then be referred to a committee. Bills on General File for which public hearings have not been requested will be handled as all bills on General File.

Reference of resolutions. Rule 4, Sec. 8.

Sec. 20. Objection to Reference of Bills. Any member may object to the reference of any bill or other proposition, and correction in case of error in reference may be made by the Legislature by unanimous consent, or by the vote of a majority of the elected members.

Sec. 21. Special Committees. Special committees shall include all permanent committees other than standing or select committees. The special committees shall include but not be limited to the following:

(Chosen by Legislature)

Sec. 22. Investigating Committees. The Committee on Committees may appoint other select committees when authorized by the Legislature. No investigating committee of the Legislature shall be created except by resolution which shall set forth, with supporting statements, the reasons for and the purposes of the investigation, and no committee thus established shall function except during the interim between legislative sessions.

Sec. 23. Nebraska Retirement Systems Committee. The Nebraska Retirement Systems Committee together with the chairman of the Appropriation Committee shall function during each legislative session as a special committee of the Legislature, shall have jurisdiction over all bills proposing new or amending existing retirement systems of the state and its political subdivisions. All rules of procedure and operation of the standing committees shall apply, except as to a date certain for holding hearings.

Sec. 24. Intergovernmental Cooperation. In addition to the members of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee chosen in accordance with Sec. 81-816, the Executive Board may appoint alternate members to serve on such assignments as the chairman shall direct.

RULE 4—RESOLUTIONS

Section 1. Identifications. A resolution shall be designated as Legislative Resolution___. All resolutions shall be numbered consecutively for each Legislature. All resolutions shall be introduced and read by the Clerk upon introduction and shall be printed in the Legislative Journal.

73-74 Attorney General Opinion No. 13 – Resolutions must be printed and read before a vote is taken.

Sec. 2. When Considered As a Bill. Resolutions which propose amendments to the state constitution, propose the ratification of amendments to the federal constitution, or memorialize the Congress for the purpose of proposing amendments to the U. S. Constitution, or the rejection, change, alteration, amendment, or modification of rules under the provisions of Section 84-904, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, shall be considered and adopted in the same manner as bills.

Const. Art. III, Secs. 13, 14; Art. IV, Sec. 15; Art. XVI, Sec. 1.
Const. Art. III, Sec. 25, Cannot appropriate funds by resolution.

Sec. 3. Study Resolution. Resolutions which propose that studies be made by the Legislative Council shall be first referred to the Executive Board of the Legislative Council, this Board to submit a report with each resolution recommending that the proposed study be made or rejected. The Executive Board of the Legislative Council shall determine the time and number of interim studies. All such studies authorized by the Legislature shall be referred to the appropriate permanent standing or special committee by the Executive Board. The chief introducer of a study resolution shall, if not otherwise a member of the committee to which the resolution is assigned, be an ex officio member of said committee, but such membership shall not extend beyond the convening of the next legislative session and shall be limited to a study of that resolution only.

Sec. 4. All resolutions, if amended, shall pass through the process of Enrollment and Review in the regular course of their consideration.

Sec. 5. All resolutions shall be adopted by an affirmative vote of a majority of the elected members except for those specified in Section 2 which shall be considered and adopted in the same manner as bills.

Sec. 6. Resolutions shall lie over for consideration at least one legislative day after introduction.

Sec. 7. Only those resolutions specified in sections 2 and 3 of this Rule shall be engrossed unless otherwise ordered by the Legislature or unless the Clerk determines the nature of the resolution is such that upon its adoption it must be engrossed to properly achieve the purpose for which it was presented. All resolutions which are engrossed shall be enrolled and signed by the Lt. Governor or Speaker and certified to by the Clerk as to the date of final passage.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 14.

Sec. 8. Reference to Committee. Resolutions other than those covered by Secs. 2 and 3 of this rule may be referred to a committee if a motion to do so is adopted by a majority of the elected members.

Sec. 9. Reviving Resolution Killed by Committee. If the standing committee report on a resolution be to postpone indefinitely the resolution shall stand indefinitely postponed; Provided, that such resolution may be considered by the members of the Legislature if a majority vote of the elected members so direct, provided the motion is made within three legislative days after the committee makes its report to the Legislature. A motion to raise cannot be amended to include any other resolution or subject matter.

For public hearing. Rule 3, Sec. 5.

Sec. 10. A committee, when reporting out a resolution shall attach thereto a statement setting forth what is sought to be accomplished and the committee vote. The statement shall be set out in full in the Journal.

Emergency seat of government; Resolution proving for, must be signed by Governor. RRS 23-2103, 1943, by Governor.

RULE 5—BILLS—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1. Drafting of Bills. The bill drafter shall prepare all bills and amendments in proper form when requested by members of the Legislature, newly elected members of the Legislature, or heads of executive departments. No bills or major amendments shall be introduced or considered unless the same has been approved as to form and draftsmanship by the bill drafter. The bill drafter shall make available a continuing compilation of sections to which amendments are proposed so as to reduce unnecessary duplication of bills. This section index of bills drafted shall be available to all senators, newly selected senators and other persons entitled to have bills drafted. After January 1 of each year no bill shall be drafted by the bill drafter unless requested or authorized by a member of the Legislature.

Sec. 2. Content and Form of Bills. (a) A bill shall be designated as Legislative Bill No. .

Style of bill. Const. Art. III, Sec. 13.

(b) No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title. No law shall be amended, unless the new act contains the section or sections as amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 14.

(c) An amendatory bill or constitutional provision shall be so prepared and printed as to show the new matter proposed, old matter to be retained, and old matter to be omitted from the Statutes or Constitution.

Sec. 3. Revisor Correctional Bills, Pre-Printing. (a) Preceding each legislative session, the chairman or any member of the Executive Board of the Legislative Council, or if the Executive Board so requests, the senator who, in the preceding session served as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, shall sign as introducer the Revisor of Statutes correctional bills. The Clerk of the Legislature shall number these bills consecutively beginning with number 1 and shall show the committee reference to be General File. The Clerk of the Legislature shall have these bills printed before the convening of the next regular session.

(b) In addition to causing to be printed the revisor bills, the Clerk shall number and cause to be printed all bills delivered to him by the Executive Board, provided said Board has referred said bills to a standing committee. No bill so printed shall be withdrawn until after the Legislature convenes.

Sec. 4. Introducers Signing Bills. Members shall introduce only such bills as they are willing to endorse and support personally. Not more than three senators shall sign any single bill; Provided that, this limitation shall not apply to committee bills, to Legislative Council bills, and to Revisor of Statutes correctional bills. The last name and district shall be used, unless an initial or name is necessary to identify the introducer. Any additional signers shall be by the suspension of the rules with a machine vote and cannot be made by unanimous consent.

Sec. 5. Introduction of Bills, Ten Day Limitation. (a) Except as provided in Rule 5, Sec. 6, no bill shall be introduced after the tenth legislative day during sessions in odd-numbered or even-numbered years, except as hereinafter provided.

(b) A bill may be introduced at the request of the Governor at any time. A standing committee or special committee may introduce a bill for any purpose including at the request of another senator provided said bill receives the endorsement of a majority of the committee members, whose names shall be on the bill and the motion to introduce the bill receives a vote of three-fifths of the elected members of the Legislature.

(c) A copy of intent of a bill recommended for introduction by a committee must be placed on each member's desk before such introduction of bill is voted upon.

(d) In regular sessions each member shall be limited as an introducer or co-introducer to a total of 10 bills for the period of introduction of bills by individual members. Any bill withdrawn by a member during the introduction period shall be counted in the limitation of 10 bills; Provided, those bills introduced as a result of an interim study of the Legislative Council shall not be included in the limitation on individual members. Bills introduced under Rule 5, Sec. 3a will not be included in the limitation.

Sec. 6. Fiscal Analyst. (a) A copy of every bill introduced shall be transmitted by the Clerk to the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall review each bill and make an estimate of the anticipated change in state, county, or municipal expenditures or revenue under the provisions of the bill. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall prepare a statement to be known as a fiscal note to be attached to each bill prior to its public hearing by a committee, or its first consideration on General File if the bill is referred directly to General File. The fiscal note shall set forth the fiscal impact of the bill and the governmental subdivision affected by the fiscal impact as determined by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. No bill which has a fiscal impact of more than five thousand dollars shall be heard by a committee or considered on General File unless the fiscal note is attached.

(b) In determining the fiscal impact of any bill, the Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall request the appropriate department or other entity of state government or subdivision thereof, or appropriate association which will be affected by the bill to prepare the fiscal note within five calendar days.

(c) The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall review the fiscal note so prepared and shall also request a review of such fiscal note by the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services. The statement by the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services shall be attached to and become a part of the fiscal note. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall include in the fiscal note any exceptions to the conclusions of the department or other entity and of the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services.

(d) The fiscal note shall be delivered by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst to the Clerk within ten calendar days of receipt of a copy of the bill for analysis. The Clerk shall attach the fiscal note to the bill and to all copies prepared for members.

(e) When amendments to a bill are adopted by a committee or the Legislature and such amendments would change the fiscal impact of the bill, the appropriate changes shall be made in the fiscal note.

(f) When the Legislative Fiscal Analyst determines that the fiscal impact of a bill will be less than five thousand dollars, it shall not be necessary to prepare a detailed fiscal note, and the fiscal note may merely state this fact.

(g) When any bill proposes adoption of a new program or change of an existing program which would require an appropriation of $50,000 or more to implement in the ensuing fiscal year an appropriation bill for the purposes of funding the provisions of such bill shall be prepared from the information contained in the fiscal note. Such appropriation bill shall be prepared by the Fiscal Analyst and be placed on General File and considered as introduced by the introducer of the original bill at the time the original bill is reported to General File, shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "A" added (for example LB 1A), and shall accompany the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. However, if the original bill is reported by committee to General File with committee amendments, the "A" bill shall be introduced by the committee which is reporting the original bill to the floor and placed on General File. The "A" bill shall include the funding required by the committee recommended amendments. No vote, suspension of the rules, or unanimous consent shall be required for the introduction of an "A" bill. All bills for which an "A" bill is prepared shall be bracketed on Final Reading until the "A" bill is advanced to Final Reading. The authorization bill shall first be considered and if it should be passed on Final Reading then the "A" bill shall be read and voted on for final passage.

(h) The note shall be factual in nature, as brief and concise as may be, and shall if possible provide a reliable estimate in dollars and, in addition, it shall include both the immediate effect and, if determinable or reasonably foreseeable, the long range effect of the measure. If, after investigation, it is determined that no dollar estimate is possible, the note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given.

(i) No comment or opinion shall be included in the fiscal note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared, however, technical or mechanical defects may be noted.

(j) The subject matter of bills submitted to boards, commissions, departments, agencies, or other entities of the state by the Fiscal Analyst shall be kept in strict confidence by said agencies and by the office of Fiscal Analyst together with the content of the fiscal note itself and no information relating thereto shall be divulged by any official or employee prior to its introduction in the Legislature.

For creation of position. RRS 50-418.
For duties of position. RRS 50-419.

Sec. 7. Governor's Budget Bill. The budget bill prepared by the Governor shall be shown as introduced by the Speaker of the Legislature at the request of the Governor.

Governor's Budget message.
Const. Art. IV, Sec. 7.

Sec. 8. Reading Title of Bills, Printing. Every bill and resolution shall be read by title when introduced, and a printed copy thereof provided for the use of each member, and the bill and all amendments thereto shall be printed and read at large before the vote is taken upon its final passage.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 14.

Sec. 9. Engrossment of Bills. All bills, before being advanced to Final Reading and passage, shall be engrossed, and copies thereof showing new and stricken matter shall be made available to members.

Sec. 10. Expenditure of Legislative Funds. Those expenditures on which the Legislature votes shall require the approval of the majority of the elected members.

Salaries of employees. Rule 1, Sec. 22.

Sec. 11. Withdrawal of Bills. No bill, having been introduced may be withdrawn except upon motion of the first introducer with the consent of his co-introducers. Such motion, when made, shall not be considered prior to the next succeeding legislative day, and, for its adoption, shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of those voting upon the question.

Withdrawal of bills set for hearing. Rule 3, Sec. 5.

Sec. 12. Division of Bills, Prohibited. No bill shall be divided into two or more bills.

Sec. 13. Holding of Bills. Unless otherwise disposed of, all bills on which no final action has been taken by the time of adjournment of the regular session in odd-numbered years shall be held over for consideration at the regular session convening in even-numbered years.

RULE 6—BILLS—STAGES OF CONSIDERATION

Section 1. Introduction of Bills. Starting with regular sessions in odd-numbered years, bills shall be numbered consecutively starting with the number 1. Bills introduced in regular sessions in even-numbered years shall start with the number following the number of the last bill introduced in the preceding regular session of an odd-numbered year, (bills introduced in any special session shall start with the number 1) and shall be numbered consecutively as read by the Clerk. After introduction the Clerk shall deliver bills requiring reference to the Reference Committee.

Sec. 2. General File. (a) The Clerk of the Legislature shall read the number and the title of the bill and the name of the principal introducer as it comes up for consideration on General File. A bill will not be read section by section unless requested by a member of the Legislature.

(b) Each section shall be open to amendment. The amendments, if any, recommended by standing committees, shall first be considered. The introducer's amendments, if any, shall next be considered, after which he may move to advance and explain the bill. Other amendments and motions permitted by these rules may then be offered and shall be considered after the introducer has explained the bill in the order in which they are filed with the Clerk, subject to the provisions of Rule 7, Sec. 3.

(c) Bills shall be listed and considered on General File in the order in which they shall be reported from the standing committees, except as modified by the Speaker; Provided, that any bill that comes up for debate for a second time, with the introducer present, shall be placed by the Clerk at the bottom of General File if said introducer asked for further time, unless otherwise directed by the Speaker.

Speaker determine order of bills. Rule 1, Sec. 16.

(d) During consideration of bills on either General or Select File, any member may move that the bill be passed over once and if the motion is carried by a majority of those voting, the bill shall be passed over and shall retain its place on the file.

(e) In the event a motion to indefinitely postpone a bill is made before the bill is read on General File, such motion shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the elected members.

(f) In the event a bill has become substantially a new and different bill by reason of amendments having been adopted, the Speaker may refer said bill to the Reference Committee who must refer the said bill to a proper committee for a public hearing; Provided, that a majority of the elected members may overrule the decision of the Speaker.

(g) If in the opinion of the Speaker, the bill is in such form that it should properly be referred back to committee for further action he may by order direct the same; Provided, that a majority of the elected members may overrule the decision of the Speaker. Any rule to the contrary notwithstanding any motion to amend a bill shall require a majority vote of the elected members. Any motion to amend an appropriation bill or a motion to amend an amendment to an appropriation bill shall require a majority vote of the elected members.

(h) Any bill failing to receive 25 votes to be advanced to E & R Initial after three attempts shall be indefinitely postponed.

The following votes shall be required to adopt the following motions affecting bills on General File:

UC-Unanimous Consent; MEM-Majority of Elected Members; MTV-Majority of those voting.

Sec. 3. Enrollment and Review. Bills when advanced to Enrollment and Review shall be reviewed for recommendations relative to arrangement, phraseology, and correlation. Advancement to Enrollment and Review from General File for such purpose shall require a majority of the elected members. A motion to return to General File from Enrollment and Review shall, for adoption, require the concurrance of a majority of the elected members.

Sec. 4. Select File. When the Legislature considers bills on Select File, any of the following motions shall be in order.

(a) A motion to approve or reject any or all of the changes recommended by the chairman of Enrollment and Review.

(b) A motion to adopt an amendment which shall require a majority of the elected members.

(c) A motion to recommit to the proper standing committee.

(d) A motion to recommit to General File for one or more amendments. If the motion to return is adopted the bill shall be considered first on General File. Any motion may be made the same as when the bill was first on General File. If the bill is readvanced, it shall be given priority consideraton by E & R. If the bill is not altered, it may be advanced to E & R for engrossment.

(e) A motion to postpone indefinitely.

(f) Motions made pursuant to subsections b, c, d, and e hereof may be adopted only upon the affirmative vote of a majority of the elected members.

(g) Amendments recommended by E & R shall not be read by the Clerk except upon the request of a member of the Legislature.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision contained in this section, if the E & R Committee returns a bill to Select File from engrossment, then only the specific enrollment and review amendments may be considered.

The following votes shall be required to adopt the following motions affecting bills on Select File:

Sec. 5. Return to Select File. On a motion to return a bill to Select File for a specific amendment, a majority of the elected members must concur. No other amendment shall be considered when the bill is so returned. Such amendment when considered may be adopted by a majority of the elected members.

Sec. 6. Final Reading. No bill shall be voted on for final passage until:

(a) After five legislative days following the introduction of the bill.

(b) Two legislative days after its reference to Final Reading file.

(c) Printed copies of the bill in its final form, as amended, shall have been available to members and on their desks for at least one legislative day.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 14.

Sec. 7. Final Reading, Motions. On Final Reading the bill shall be read at large with all amendments thereto before the vote is taken. At any time before the roll call shall have begun on Final Reading of the bill, it shall be in order to move:

(a) To recommit the bill to Enrollment and Review to correct an error and for re-engrossment.

(b) To recommit the bill to the proper standing committee, with or without instructions.

(c) To recommit the bill to Select File for specific amendment, which amendment may be adopted by a vote of a majority of the elected members; Provided, however, if the proposed amendment be to add the emergency clause, it may only be adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the elected members.

(d) Any bill returned to Select File for a specific amendment, may if the amendment is rejected, be readvanced to Final Reading without going through Enrollment & Review. A motion to so advance shall require the concurrence of a majority of the elected members.

Members to remain in their seat. Rule 2, Sec. 3g.
No one to be seated beside member during Final Reading. Rule 2, Sec. 3d.

Sec. 8. Question on Final Reading. The question after the Final Reading of bill shall be: "All provisions of law relative to procedure having been complied with, the question is, 'Shall the bill pass?' " If the emergency clause is contained in the bill, the words "with the emergency clause attached" shall be added to the question.

Majority of elected members required. Const. Art. III, Sec. 13.

Sec. 9. Emergency Clause, Votes Requested. When a bill containing the emergency clause does not receive the required two-thirds constitutional majority on Final Reading, then the emergency clause shall be considered stricken, and the bill without the emergency clause shall be pending on Final Reading, and the question then shall be, "Shall the bill pass with the emergency clause stricken?"

Const. Art. III, Sec. 27.

Sec. 10. Governor's Veto, Reconsideration. Upon the day of receipt of a message from the Governor announcing his veto of a bill, or on either of the next five legislative days, any member may move that the bill so vetoed be taken up for passage. Whereupon, the question shall be, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objection of the Governor?"

Three-fifths vote of the elected members required to pass bill over Governor's veto. Const. Art. IV, Sec. 15. See also Art. IV, Sec. 7.

The Governor may disapprove any item or items of appropriation contained in bills passed by the Legislature, and the item or items so disapproved shall be stricken therefrom, unless repassed in the manner prescribed in case of disapproval of bills.

Const. Art. IV, Sec. 15.

Sec. 11. Bills, Passed Over Veto. Should the Legislature pass a bill over the objections of the Governor by the necessary constitutional majority, it shall so certify and deposit the same with the Secretary of State.

o. Miscellaneous business

(c) Messages from the Governor may be received at any stage of the proceedings.

(d) When a bill shall have been made a special order for a definite time and an adjournment shall intervene for a time beyond the time fixed for such special order, then in that event the bill so made a special order shall be placed in its order on General File. The unfinished business in which the

RULE 7

Legislature was engaged at the adjournment of the last preceding sitting shall have preference in the special order of the day.

(e) Upon call for the introduction of bills, any member or any standing committee to which bills are referred for consideration may introduce one or more bills.

Introduction of bills. Rule 6, Sec. 1.

(B) Voting Machine

Sec. 2. Voting, Electric Roll Call. (a) All votes shall be taken viva voca unless otherwise provided for herein. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "Those who are in favor of the question say 'aye'; those who are opposed to the question say 'nay'."

(b) If a machine vote is called for or if the presiding officer is in doubt, he shall cause the result to be obtained by means of the electric roll call system, and in such event shall accept only machine tallied votes except that voice votes shall be accepted on a motion before the House while the House is under Call. The presiding officer may vote by voice. Only the totals shall be printed in the Journal. Once having voted aye or nay, senators may call in a change to not voting prior to the locking of the voting board.

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the electric roll call system shall be used. Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading.

(d) Whenever the "ayes" and "nays" are taken by machine vote no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote the clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, those absent and not voting, and those excused and not voting, and on any action to advance or amend bills, these totals shall be set forth in the Journal. Voice votes shall be accepted on roll call or record votes.

(C) Motions

Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

a. To adjourn
b. For the previous question
c. To postpone to a time certain
d. To recommit to a committee
e. To amend
f. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, except that motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

When any of the following motions shall be made, any action on such motion shall be delayed at least one legislative day and the motion shall be printed in the Legislative Journal:

a. Motion to postpone indefinitely on Select File
b. Motion to advance bills from committee
c. Motion to place bills on General File, notwithstanding the action of a standing committee

(b) When a motion or other proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order.

(c) Amendments to the title shall be made by the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.

(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

Sec. 4. Shall the Debate Cease. The previous question shall be in this form, "Shall the debate now close?"

The previous question shall be in order when demanded by five or more members and must be sustained by the vote of a majority of the elected members, and until decided shall, except as provided in this section of this rule, preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn.

On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for a previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

When the previous question shall have been ordered on a proposition under debate, the mover, proponent, or introducer of such proposition shall be given the right to close the debate thereon.

Sec. 5. Call of the Legislature. A Call of the Legislature may be made by any member in the manner following: "I move for a Call of the Legislature." The presiding officer shall direct that the board be cleared and the members shall then vote on placing themselves under Call. If a majority of the senators present and voting vote in favor of such a motion then the Legislature shall be deemed to be under Call. Each member present shall indicate his presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his seat during the Call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the Call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members then present, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members elected. If all absentees were to vote on one side of the question, and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change the result of the vote, the President shall declare the Call raised.

Lieutenant Governor votes only when Legislature equally divided. Rule 1, Sec. 14.
Voice vote while House under Call. Rule 7, Sec. 2b.

Sec. 6. Postpone to Time Certain. No motion to postpone to a time certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Sec. 7. Reconsideration. (a) When a question has been decided, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side, or not voting, to move for a reconsideration thereof. A motion to reconsider must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on the next legislative day, except when it be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading. In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Sec. 3.

(b) Every motion to reconsider shall take preference over all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(c) For its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

i Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.

ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause attached, but which received the constitutional majority with the emergency clause stricken and the purpose of the motion is to again add the emergency clause, then a two-thirds vote of the elected members shall be required for adoption.

Sec. 8. Strike the Enacting Clause. A motion to strike the enacting clause if adopted, is equivalent to rejection of the bill. It shall not have precedence over a motion to amend nor a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Sec. 9. Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

a. While a member is speaking.
b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.
c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.

A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall have precedence over a motion to adjourn. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions.

When a motion to adjourn has been made, the Speaker shall be privileged to speak to the motion prior to any vote on such motion, otherwise a motion to adjourn is not debatable.

FIRST DAY– JANUARY 5, 1977

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FIRST DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, January 5, 1977

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 10, Article III of the Constitution of Nebraska, the Eighty-Fifth Legislature, First Session of the Legislature of Nebraska, assembled in Legislative Hall of the Capitol Building at the hour of 10:00 A.M. on Wednesday, January 5, 1977, and was called to order by President Whelan.

PRAYER

Prayer was given by Dr. Robert Palmer, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> Dear Lord and Father, if ever we needed Your wisdom and guidance it is now as our Legislature begins a new session, standing upon the threshold of a new year, filled with so many wonderful and dangerous opportunities. Although we have been organized as a Legislature for 40 years, our traditions go back to the first dreams of democracy, and our thoughts stretch forward with high hopes for what we may yet accomplish in the future.
> Some familiar faces are gone from this chamber, and we remember them; other new faces have come, and we welcome them; many familiar faces have returned, and we are gladdened by them.
> We are grateful that somehow our beloved State continues to move forward with vitality, vigor and energized faith, and we pray that in 1977 we together may move on to loftier heights and nobler achievements, for the good of the people in an invigorating climate of freedom, frankness, fortitude and faithfulness - to what we believe, to one another, and to You the God and Father of us all. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and the following members were present.

MOTION—Adopt Rules

Mr. DeCamp moved that the Rules, as now in the possession of the members, be adopted for today only, Wednesday, January 5, 1977.

The motion prevailed with 42 ayes, 0 nays and 7 not voting.

MOTION—Appoint Temporary Clerk and Sergeant at Arms

Mr. Carsten moved we appoint Mr. Vincent D. Brown as temporary Clerk of the Legislature and Mr. Ray Wilson as temporary Sergeant at Arms.

The motion prevailed with 42 ayes, 0 nays and 7 not voting.

MOTION—Committee on Credentials

Mr. Clark moved we proceed to the election by ballot of 5 persons to serve as the Committee on Credentials, who will forthwith report to the Legislature on the credentials of those claiming to be elected to the Legislature in the General Election in November, 1976.

The motion prevailed with 43 ayes, 0 nays and 6 not voting.

The Chair appointed the Clerk's staff to act as tellers.

Nominations of Committee on Credentials

Mr. Marvel moved the following top nominations be declared nominated and to vote on five of these. The motion prevailed.

Hasebroock
Kremer
Mills
Nichol
Luedtke
Rumery
Savage
Stoney

Mr. DeCamp asked unanimous consent to elect the top five. No objections. So ordered. The Chair declared Messrs. Hasebroock, Kremer, Mills, Nichol and Luedtke duly elected.

The Committee escorted Secretary of State Allen Beermann to the rostrum to deliver the report on the election returns.

Mr. Hasebroock reported on the Credentials Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS

I, Allen J. Beermann, Secretary of State of the State of Nebraska do hereby certify that the attached is a true and correct copy of the Official Roster of Members of the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature elected or appointed to serve in the Eighty-Fifth Legislature, First Session (Regular), 1977.

RESIGNATION

December 1, 1976

The Honorable J. J. Exon
Governor, State of Nebraska

Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Jim:

My letter to you today is one of the most difficult I have ever written. It is time to notify you that my official resignation from the Nebraska Legislature will be effective as of December 31, 1976.

When you have chosen my successor, I hope you will extend me the courtesy of knowing your selection before the public announcement is made as I have a very deep interest in the representation of the 46th District.

In retrospect, the challenge of the trying as well as the rewarding encounters between the Unicameral and the Governor will be well remembered as well as the suspense involved in not knowing what you were cooking up for us!

As a Public Service Commissioner I will now be given the opportunity to learn how the executive branch functions.

Good luck with the new legislators!

Sincerely,
(Signed) Harold D. Simpson, Senator
46th District

January 5, 1977

Speaker of the Legislature
Eighty-fifth Session, Regular (First Session)
Legislature of Nebraska, Unicameral
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Honorable Speaker:

In accordance with Article IV, Section 4 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, I have the honor of herewith delivering to you, under Seal, the Abstract of votes cast in the ninety-three counties of the State of Nebraska at the Bicentennial General Election held on November 2, 1976, for the offices of Members of the Public Service Commission, which votes are required by law to be canvassed by the Nebraska State Legislature, pursuant to Section 32-4,110, R.S. 1943, Reissue of 1974 as submitted to me for delivery to the Honorable Speaker of the Legislature.

I call to your attention that in the November 2, 1976, General Election, only two State Executive Elective offices appeared on the ballot, that of Public Service Commission, District One (First) and District Three (Third).

I also deliver to you under Seal, the names of candidates receiving the highest number of votes for the particular office and District enumerated. The certificate of the Secretary of State accompanies the listed names.

The original abstract sheets containing the tabulation of votes for the candidates for the Public Service Commission in the various counties of said Districts, covering the General Election of November 2, 1976, which constitutes a part of the official record of the State Board of Canvassers, is submitted for your examination.

Inasmuch as this canvass sheet is a part of the records of the office of the Secretary of State, I respectfully request that it be returned to our office files immediately upon the completion of your Official Canvass.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALLEN J. Beermann
Secretary of State

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

SECOND DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, January 6, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Before we plunge into the duties of this day's sessions, O Lord our God, lift up our spirits for a moment at least, we pray, so that the pounding of our hearts may be eased somewhat by the quieting of our minds - so that our inner uncertainties may yield, however slightly, to a sense of adequacy and poise.
> "What we know not, teach us; what we have not, give us; what we are not, make us; for what we have been, forgive us; as now we are, receive us; toward what we should be and shall be, guide, guard and direct us." Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all the members were present except Messrs. Brennan and Duis who were excused.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the First Day was approved.

MOTION–Adopt Rules

Mr. DeCamp moved to adopt the rules as now in our possession.

Mr. DeCamp offered the following amendments to the motion:
No. 1 Rule 7 - Proceedings and Motions
In odd-numbered years the Legislature shall meet for two consecutive days after the body first convenes for the exclusive purpose of seating new members, establishing internal organization and consideration of changes in rules of the body. The Legislature shall then recess until the second Monday in January which shall constitute the third legislative day devoted exclusively to introduction of bills. The body shall then recess until the third Monday in January which shall constitute the fourth legislative day. On this day the Legislature shall proceed with its regular business.

Mr. DeCamp requested a roll call vote.

Voting in the affirmative, 22:

DeCamp	Dworak	Fitzgerald	Fowler	George
Goodrich	Hasebroock	Hefner	Kahle	Koch
F. Lewis	R. Lewis	Luedtke	Marsh	Maxey
Merz	Newell	Rumery	Schmit	Simon
Venditte	Warner

Voting in the negative, 22:

Barnett	Bereuter	Burrows	Carsten	Chambers
Clark	Cope	Cullan	Kelly	Kremer
Labedz	Lamb	Maresh	Mills	Moylan
Murphy	Nichol	Rasmussen	Reutzel	Savage
Stoney	Swigart

Not voting, 5:

Boughn	Brennan	Duis	Keyes	Marvel

The amendment lost with 22 ayes, 22 nays and 5 not voting.

No. 2 – Rule 6 - Bills - Stages of Consideration
Sec. 2. After Section 2 (d) insert new subsection (2) as follows:
(e) At any stage of consideration of a bill, a motion to bracket or to bracket to a day certain or to unbracket shall, if made by the primary introducer of the bill, require a majority of those voting. If made by other than the primary introducer, there shall then be required a majority vote of the elected membership. In any event such motions shall alternatively be passed by unanimous consent of the body.
Renumber present subsection (e) through (h) as (f) through (i) respectively.

The amendment was adopted with 36 ayes, 0 nays and 13 not voting.

No. 3 – In Rule 3, Sec. 2, rename the Labor Committee to read "Business and Labor".

The amendment was adopted with 30 ayes, 10 nays and 9 not voting.

No. 4–Rule 5, section 1. Drafting of Bills. The bill drafter shall prepare all bills and amendments in proper form when requested by members of the Legislature, newly elected members of the Legislature, or heads of executive departments. No bills or major amendments shall be introduced or considered unless the same has been approved as to form and draftsmanship by the bill drafter. In order to shorten the length of sections, the bill drafter shall, in the drafting of new sections, make each paragraph a separate section except when to do so would be contrary to sound bill drafting practice. The bill drafter shall make available a continuing compilation of sections to which amendments are proposed so as to reduce unnecessary duplication of bills. This section index of bills drafted shall be available to all senators, newly elected senators, and other persons entitled to have bills drafted. After January 1 of each year no bill shall be drafted by the bill drafter unless requested or authorized by a member of the Legislature.

Rule 3, section 18 (c) iii. When an amendment to add the emergency clause, the severability clause, or provide an operative date is adopted on Select File which does not spell out the standard ~~emergency~~ clause or section and make the necessary change in the title, the chairman of Enrollment and Review shall also have the authority to add to the engrossed bill the standard ~~emergency~~ clause or section, assigning to it the appropriate section number, and make the necessary change in the title as a matter of course without including such action in his reports and recommendations to the Legislature or making any special record thereof.

The amendment was adopted with 30 ayes, 4 nays and 14 not voting.

No. 5 – Strike all of Section 10, Rule 2 and insert the following:

Sec. 10. Time Limit on Speaking. Each member shall be allowed to speak up to three times for not more than five minutes on each occasion, upon any one question in deliberation during the legislative day, without leave of the Legislature, unless he be the mover, proposer, or introducer of the matter pending in which case he shall be permitted to speak in reply, but not until every other member choosing to speak shall have spoken. Provided, however, the mover, proposer or introducer of the matter pending may speak for ten minutes when he first presents the matter to the Legislature.

The amendment was adopted with 26 ayes, 9 nays and 14 not voting.

No. 6 – Rule 5 - Bills. Section 5. (b) Add the following:

During the first regular session of each Legislature no committee shall submit more than five bills.

During the second regular session of each Legislature no committee shall introduce more than three bills.

In each regular session of the Legislature any committee may introduce no more than three additional bills resulting from interim studies. Any bill resulting from an interim study may be introduced by a committee only if such bill was prepared under authority of a legislative resolution.

There shall be no limitation on the number of appropriation bills which may be introduced.

(d) In the first regular ~~sessions~~ session of each Legislature each member shall be limited as an introducer or co-introducer to a total of ~~10~~ 12 bills for the period of introduction of bills by individual members. No bills shall be introduced by any member during the second regular session. Any bill withdrawn by a member during the introduction period shall be counted in the limitation of ~~10~~ 12 bills; Provided, those bills introduced as a result of an interim study of the Legislative Council shall not be included in the limitation on individual members. Bills introduced under Rule 3, Sec. 3a will not be included in the limitation.

Mr. Newell offered the following amendment to the above amendment No. 6.
To Substitute
Limiting 10 bills in 90 day Session
Limiting 6 bills in 60 day Session
No Limits on Committees bills.

The Newell amendment lost with 20 ayes, 20 nays and 9 not voting.

Mr. Newell moved for a Call of the House. The motion lost with 8 ayes, 26 nays and 15 not voting.

Mr. Chambers offered the following amendment to the above amendment No. 6.:
Rule 5, Sec. 5(d) strike existing matter and insert:
"There shall be no limitation on the number of bills introduced by any member."
Strike all existing matter.

Amendment pending.

Speaker Luedtke requested we proceed to business on the Clerk's desk at this time.

Mr. DeCamp moved to adopt our rules, as amended thus far, until 3:00 p.m. today.

The motion prevailed with 27 ayes, 2 nays and 20 not voting.

April 30, 1976

Dear Senator George:

In your letter of March 31, 1976, you called our attention to LB 954, which was introduced in 1976, but which was not acted upon. You ask us a number of questions about the bill, and we assume that the questions are asked in the anticipation that the bill, or a similar one, will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature.

The bill, briefly, provided that the producers of any agricultural commodity could, by a procedure spelled out in the bill, provide for a commodity program for that particular commodity, to be administered by a commodity board. The expenses of the board were to be financed by assessments deducted from the sales price of the commodity by the first purchaser of the commodity, and remitted to the State Treasurer, to be placed in a special fund for that particular commodity program. The bill further provided that any producer who had an assessment deducted from the sale price of the commodity could, by making application to the board, have the assessment which had been deducted refunded to him.

In an opinion of this office dated March 17, 1975, Opinion No. 46, we considered the question of whether or not it was proper for the commodity boards to have the power to pay money and appropriate funds for programs without being responsible to or under the control of some elected or appointed official. We concluded that the proposed legislation was not clearly invalid with respect to the matter inquired about. We are enclosing a copy of that opinion herein.

We do, however, feel that the assessments provided for are taxes. The Supreme Court of Texas considered this question in a very similar situation in Conlen Grain & Mercantile, Inc. v. Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board, 519 S.W.2d 620 (1975), and concluded that the assessments were taxes. The levying of taxes is clearly a legislative function, and there would appear to be serious question as to the propriety of delegating this function to the commodity boards, or to the producers of the commodity who may vote in an election conducted pursuant to the statute. In this respect LB 954 is different from the Nebraska Soybean Resources Act, sections 2-3301 to 2-3324, 1975 Supp. Section 2-3316, 1975 Supp., fixes the fee to be collected at not to exceed one cent per bushel, although it does make provision for the reduction of such fee by the board, in the event that the amount it yields is excessive. In any event, we question whether the Legislature can delegate to a commodity board the legislative function of levying a tax.

You have asked several other questions in connection with this bill which we do not feel it necessary to answer at this time, in view of our previous discussion. You also ask whether it is constitutional to grant executive authority to the commodity board. We are not precisely sure of what your question is with respect to this matter, or what you mean by "executive authority." We will therefore not comment on this, pending further clarification of your question. You have also asked about the lack of provision for power for the commodity board to make rules and regulations, and ask whether there is compelling legal reason for granting this power. In the first place, there is a very serious question as to whether the commodity boards are governmental bodies at all. As we said in our opinion of March 17, 1975, to Senator Maresh, the exact nature of these boards is certainly not clear. In any event, we are unable to perceive how a failure to grant them rule making authority would affect the constitutional validity of the bill.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

(Enclosure Opinion No. 46 dated March 17, 1975)

Dear Senator Maresh:

You have submitted a proposed bill which provides for the setting up of commodity program boards. You ask whether or not it is proper for these boards to have the power to pay money and appropriate funds for programs without being responsible to or under the control of some elected or appointed state official. We have reviewed the proposed legislation and cannot say that it would be clearly illegal.

In Section 1 of the proposed bill it is stated that the purpose for creation of these entities is for a public purpose. Essentially the proposal is to encourage the producers of agricultural commodities to develop, carry out, and participate in programs of research, education, market development, and promotion of the particular commodities concerned. Our court has stated that a public purpose is one which has for its objective the promotion of the public health, safety, morals, security, prosperity, contentment, and the general welfare of all the inhabitants of the state. Platte Valley Public Power & Irrigation District v. County of Lincoln, 144 Neb. 584, 14 N.W.2d 202. In this situation the Legislature has made such a finding as a matter of policy and considerable weight must be given to that finding. Whether or not an appropriation of public funds is for a public purpose is normally a matter for the Legislature to determine. Oxnard Beet Sugar Co. v. State, 73 Neb. 66, 105N.W. 716. The courts will not ordinarily interfere with such a determination unless it is clearly invalid. We cannot say that this determination by the Legislature is clearly invalid.

You assume in your question that the officers of the entities concerned are not state officials. The exact nature of these boards is certainly not clear. They appear to be quasi-public bodies, but the funds involved certainly could be classed as public funds. However, our Supreme Court has determined that the vital point in the appropriating of money and the expenditure of such is whether or not the purpose is public and, if so, it does not make any difference whether the agency through which it is dispensed is public or not. The appropriation is not made for the agency but for the object which it serves and the test in this situation is for the end and not for the means. See United Community Services v. The Omaha National Bank, 162 Neb. 786, 77N.W. 2d 576.

In view of the foregoing we must conclude that the procedure outline in the proposed legislation is not clearly invalid.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 234
June 23, 1976

Dear Senator Frank Lewis:

You and several other state officials have asked if the State Department of Education may distribute two and one-half million dollars during July, 1976, from funds appropriated pursuant to LB 691 of the Eighty-Fourth Legislature, Second Session (1976), pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-4,160 (Supp. 1974). The same is hereinafter discussed.

Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-4,160 (Supp. 1974) states that the "[d]istribution of funds under this section shall be made as follows: One-fourth on September 30, one-fourth on January 15, and one-fourth on March 15, which three distributions shall be based upon average daily membership for the previous school year. The final one-fourth shall be adjusted on or before July 31 so that the total distributions for the year reflect the actual average daily membership for the current year which shall be determined from reports filed by each school district by June 30." Pursuant to sections 1 and 2 of LB 610, program number 143, the Eighty-Fourth Legislature, First Session (1975), appropriated ten million dollars for distribution under the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 79-4,160 to 79-4,168 (Supp. 1974) for the period of July 1, 1975, to June 30, 1976.

However, Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-4,160 (Supp. 1974) was amended by section 7 of LB 3 on November 14, 1975, at a special session of the Eighty-Fourth Legislature. That amendment, which is operative through June 30, 1976, states that "[d]istribution of funds under this section shall be made as follows: One-fourth on September 30, one-fourth on January 15, and one-fourth on March 15, which three distributions shall be based upon average daily membership for the previous school year, except that for the period commencing December 1, 1975, and ending June 30, 1976, the amount yet to be paid each school district shall be distributed in seven, as nearly as possible, equal monthly payments between the third and fifteenth day of each month. . . ."

It will be observed that this amendment does not authorize any payments in July, 1976, or in August, 1976. It should also be observed that Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-4,160 (Supp. 1974), as amended by section 7 of LB 3, Eighty-Fourth Legislature, First Special Session (1975), was amended by section 7 of LB 903, Eighty-Fourth Legislature, Second Session (1976). Pursuant to section 13 of LB 903, supra, that amendment becomes operative on July 1, 1976. Consequently, as of July 1, 1976, Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-4,160, as amended, will read as follows:

> ". . . .
> ". . . . The State Department of Education shall determine the amount to be distributed to the various school districts and certify such amounts to the Director of Administrative Services. Each amount shall be distributed in ten as nearly as possible equal monthly payments, beginning in September, 1976, and each September thereafter. . . . ."

It will be observed that as of this date, June 23, 1976, the statute very clearly states "beginning in September, 1976, and each September thereafter," ten monthly payments are to be distributed to school districts. It is equally clear that it does not authorize payment in July, 1976, or in August, 1976.

Section 25 of Article III of the Constitution of Nebraska, in part, declares:

> ". . . No money shall be drawn from the treasury except in pursuance of a specific appropriation made by law, and on the presentation of a warrant issued as the Legislature may direct, and no money shall be diverted from any appropriation made for any purpose or taken from any fund whatever by resolution."

As demonstrated above, there is no statutory authority whereby the State Department of Education may make a lawful payment of money to local school districts in July, 1976, or in August, 1976, pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-4,160, as amended. Money simply cannot be drawn from the treasury except in pursuance of a specific appropriation made by law.

Opinion No. 235
June 24, 1976

Dear Senator Skarda:

In your letter of June 14, 1976, you indicate that you are considering having introduced legislation, the purpose of which would be to repeal section 52-182, R.R.S. 1943.

This section currently prohibits corporations holding liquor licenses in this state and their officers, employees, agents and representatives from making contributions directly or indirectly to any political party, candidate for political office, or nomineee for any political office.

You have asked for our opinion as to the constitutionality of this statute. This statute was initially enacted in 1935 and we are aware of no instance where the Nebraska Supreme Court has considered the constitutionality of the prohibitions contained within this statute.

From an examination of the relevant decisions of our Supreme Court generally relating to the control by the Legislature of alcoholic beverages it is difficult to say, with any degree of certainty, how the court would rule on this specific question. For example in Central Markets West, Inc. v. State of Nebraska, 186 Neb. 79, 180 N.W.2d 880 (1970), the court upheld a statute which prohibited volume discounts from wholesalers to retailers of intoxicating liquors. The court in Tom & Jerry, Inc. v. Nebraska Liquor Control Commission, 183 Neb. 410, 160 N.W.2d 232 (1968), upheld a statutory provision prohibiting a retailer from purchasing beer from a wholesaler on credit. In this case the court also approved the legislatively drawn distrinction between beer and liquor retailers. On the other hand, however, the court in Terry Carpenter v. Nebraska Liquor Control Commission, 175 Neb. 26, 120 N.W.2d 374 (1963) held that a rule of the Liquor Control Commission setting price schedules for beer and liquor and prohibiting their sale at less than these prices was invalid as it constituted impermissible price fixing.

The Nebraska Supreme Court has on occasion set forth the standards by which legislation such as the provisions of section 53-182, R.R.S. 1943, would be judged. Set out below, is a synopsis of the various considerations and standards to which our Supreme Court has referred.

Our court has held the basic determination which must be made, is whether the statute or regulation is in reality designed to accomplish a purpose properly falling within the scope of the police power. In every case it must appear that the ends adopted are reasonably necessary and appropriate for the accomplishment of a legitimate object within the domain of the police power. Central Markets West, Inc. v. State of Nebraska, supra.

The police power is an attribute of state sovereignty and within the limitations of state and federal constitutions, the state may in its exercise of this power, enact laws for the promotion of the public safety, health, morals and generally for the public welfare. State v. Geest, 118 Neb. 562, 225 N.W. 709. The extent to which the Legislature may go in the exercise of the police power is primarily a matter of legislative judgment but the purpose of the regulatory measure must be legitimate and the means employed to affect it must be reasonable. Central Markets West, Inc., supra.

Our court has held that the liquor industry is one in which the public has a significant interest such as to warrant regulation under this police power. Historically the liquor industry has been regarded as one warranting what may well be regarded as stringent regulation. It is evident that this industry is regarded as more susceptible to regulation and to regulation in a greater degree under the police power than almost any other occupation. Central Markets West, Inc., supra.

The Supreme Court has held that it is the duty of the Legislature to use its judgment in exercising this police power of the state. The presumption is that any such law enacted by the Legislature is constitutional and it is only when the courts determine that an enacted law invades personal and property rights protected by the Constitution, that the constitutionality of such legislation will not be upheld. Thorin v. Burke, 146 Neb. 94, 18 N.W.2d 664.

Generally, if it appears that the Legislature has not acted arbitrarily, capriciously or in an unreasonable manner, such statutes will be upheld. The Nebraska Supreme Court has specifically held that it would indeed be ironical if the Legislature, having the authority to completely do away with certain types of businesses, were found to be lacking in authority to promulgate reasonable regulations for their control. Central Markets West, Inc., supra.

Viewed in light of the standards set out above we believe the constitutionality of the prohibitions contained within this section is suspect at best. We do not believe that there exists a legitimate nexus between prohibiting such contributions and the public safety, health, morals or welfare.

Additionally, we think that the distinction created by this statute between individual persons holding such licenses and corporations would be difficult to defend constitutionally. However, in spite of our conclusion that this statute is most probably constitutionally defective, as we stated at the outset, given the previous holdings of our Supreme Court on related matters it is most difficult to project how our Supreme Court would hold.

In any event we hope you will find this information useful in your determination of the necessity or desirability of the repeal of section 53-182, R.R.S. 1943.

Sincerely yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Re: Care and treatment of mentally retarded persons.

Dear Senator Burrows:

This is in reply to your letter concerning the residency requirements and responsibilities of regional mental retardation programs for the care and treatment of mentally retarded persons, to aid you in drafting new legislation on this subject.

Generally a mentally retarded person, his spouse if married, and his parents if he or she is a minor are responsible for the financial care and treatment of a mentally retarded person in the regional program which is computed in the same manner as patients at the Beatrice State Home; however, if the relatives do not pay the full amount there is no statue requiring the county of residence to pay a stated sum per day as there is for residents of the Beatrice State Home. Presumably, the interlocal agreement of each region provides for the care and treatment of the residents of that region. The regions also have the authority to contract with other regions for the payment by the region of residence to the region of nonresidence providing the treatment.

Specifically, your first inquiry concerns the residency of adults discharged from the Beatrice State Home.

The controlling statute on residence is contained in sec. 68-115, 1975 Supp. This statute relates to legal settlement for the purposes of receiving pauper's relief and provides in short that every person who has resided one year continuously in any county shall be deemed to have a legal settlement therein; that every person who has resided one year continuously within the state but not in any one county shall have legal settlement in the county in whichhe has resided six months continuously.

The statute further provides that the time during which a person has been an inmate in any public or private charitable or penal institution or has received care at public expense shall be excluded in determining the time of residence. In the early case of Clay County v. Adams County, 69 Neb. 106, the state Supreme Court held that the legal settlement of an insane person is in the county which would be primarily responsible for the support of such person if a pauper. That is the statute mentioned above and would presumable apply to mentally retarded as well. This case has never been overruled and therefore under sec. 68-115, a person who has been discharged from a state facility would be deemed to have the same residence he had when committed to the state institution since he could not gain any residence while in the institution. However, should an adult person thereafter reside in another county for the one year or six months as outlined above he would be deemed to be a resident of the second county. Since residence is composed of not only physical presence but an intent to remain in the place where he is physically present for an indefinite time, the mental capacity of certain retarded persons to formulate such an intent might successfully be challenged by those officials who did not wish to provide aid as required to be provided to residents under the regional interlocal agreement. This, however, would have to be determined on an individual basis.

Your next question is related to the first and asks if a mentally retarded adult has established a residence in a region other than the one from which he originated before receiving programatic services whether the second region may require him to return to the first.

Section 83-1,143.07, R.S.Supp., 1974, provides as follows:

> "As of April 16, 1974 any developmentally disabled individual attending any existing regional program may continue to do so and actual costs shall be contracted and paid by the regions involved. Any developmentally disabled individual desiring to change to another region may do so with the approval of the regional directors from the region delivering the service and the region contracting for the service. Any such change shall be subject to contract and payment by the regions involved. Payment shall be based upon actual cost for the provision of the service or services exclusive of other available funds which may be utilized to support the cost of services to the individual."

While this section nor the preceding section which establishes the counties composing the various regions do not speak specifically concerning treatment of only residents within the region without contract, we assume that each regional interlocal agreement provides for care and treatment of residents and for contracting with other regional directors under the above quoted statute if these services are to be obtained outside the region of residence.

To specifically answer your question, Amendment XIV of the United States Constitution provides in part that no state shall deny to any person the equal protection of the laws. The mental retardation regions, having taxing authority as well as having their budgets established by the Nebraska Legislature are undoubtedly governmental subdivisions and would be bound by said Constitutional provision. Therefore, assuming an adult had acquired residence within a region the region would not have the authority to deny him services solely because he had previously resided in another region.

You next ask; 3: May a mentally retarded adult move freely within the State...from one OMR Region to another to establish and be eligible for available services in the new Region? The answer to this question is yes, provided he resided for the requisite time within the new county and had the mental capacity to formulate the necessary intent discussed above.

Lastly you ask whether an OMR Regional Office may require that a mentally retarded person in a state psychiatric facility be institutionalized at the Beatrice State Home prior to consideration for replacement to their home OMR Region.

Admittance to the Beatrice State Home, sec. 83-218, provides that the Beatrice State Home shall provide residential care and humane treatment for those persons who are so mentally retarded as to require residential care etc. It further provides that when ever the Department of Public Institutions determines that continued residence in the Beatrice State Home is no longer necessary for the welfare, care, treatment or training of such person, it shall have authority to discharge or transfer such persons to any other available program or facility.

Section 83-220, R.R.S. 1943, provides that the Beatrice State Home shall receive residents only such mentally retarded persons as are committed by a juvenile court, by a county court or admitted to the institution upon application of the parent or guardian.

Actually, the regional directors have no legal authority to require the state to institutionalize a patient. However, as a practical matter, a region having limited facilities may require that certain steps be taken by the Beatrice State Home before it is willing to accept a patient in the region. This is a problem of evaluation of the patient and the facilities involved and the capability to take care of the patient as required by the Constitutions and statutes but is not a legal matter as to authority or responsibility to place a patient.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Re: Antitrust implications of LB 204

Dear Senator Kelly:

In response to your letter of June 21, 1976, in which you expressed a concern that LB 204 may be in violation of antitrust law, it is our preliminary conclusion that these amendments are not in violation of the Nebraska antitrust law.

Nebraska law prohibits private restraints upon trade at section 59-801, R.R.S. 1943, and our statutes also proscribe such restraints on commerce by way of the Consumer Protection Act at section 59-1603, R.S.Supp., 1974. However, the latter law, made effective in 1974, provides that actions done pursuant to the laws as administered by "any regulatory body... acting under statutory authority" are exempted from state antitrust regulation under the Consumer Protection Act. By implication, section 59-1617, R.S.Supp., 1974, also exempts restraints upon trade made pursuant to the law as administered by the Liquor Commission from the state antitrust prohibitions under section 59-801. The reasoning behind these exemptions is simply that the state should not prosecute those whose anticompetitive conduct is done pursuant to state laws or regulations.

Federal law, by way of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. section 1, et seq., provides for certain federal restraints on territorial divisions of markets. While a state may immunize certain transactions occurring within its borders from antitrust attack, the State Legislature cannot exempt practices that affect interstate commerce from the sanctions of the Sherman Act.

Because the question of whether the implimentation of LB 204 may violate federal antitrust law is primarily a matter for the Federal Trade Commission or the United States Department of Justice to resolve, we cannot make any conclusions at this stage beyond the question of immunity.

While we make no comment on the wisdom of the legislation in question nor on any other constitutional questions raised by these amendments, there does not appear to be any violation of Nebraska antitrust law. If you have any further questions in regard to this matter, please feel free to contact us.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 247
August 4, 1976

Dear Senator Burrows:

In order to appraise the adequacy of existing legislation on the subject, you have requested our opinion as to the coverage afforded by a bond issued on National Farmers' Organization, Inc., in favor of the State of Nebraska, in purported compliance with sections 88-518 and 88-519, R.R.S. 1943, as amended. Section 88-518 now provides that:

> "Any person, firm, cooperative, or corporation, other than a public grain warehouseman licensed as such in this state, who shall purchase grain from the owner thereof for the purpose of resale, or who shall purchase and transport grain or who shall transport grain into this state for resale, or who shall act as employee or agent of a seller or purchaser of grain, or both, or who shall represent a seller or purchaser for purposes of collective bargaining in the marketing of grain, shall first procure a license therefor from the Public Service Commission. . . ."

This section was amended in 1975 so as to expressly provide for application to the handling of grain under collective bargaining arrangements such as that engaged in by the NFO. Section 88-518 further requires that the applicant for license shall furnish a surety bond, approved by the commission, conditioned that the applicant "will pay the purchase price of such grain, and that he owns, free of liens, any grain which he offers for sale."

The NFO is a farmers' organization founded for the purpose of facilitating the joint collective bargaining efforts of its members. In 1970, by and with the authorization of its membership, the NFO established the Iowa Grain Trust to handle the NFO Members' Grain Custodial Account for the specific purpose of receiving, managing, and disbursing proceeds resulting from the sale of grain by NFO members participating in the collective bargaining program. Due to financial difficulties, the Iowa Grain Trust was terminated as a recipient of such proceeds from future grain sales; and, in lieu thereof and for similar purposes, the Iowa Grain Trust was succeeded by the Minnesota Grain Trust. Although the arrangement is fully authorized by the NFO membership, there is no specific reference in the NFO bond to either the Iowa Trust or the Minnesota Trust. Accordingly, a question has arisen as to whether the bond covers the proceeds from the sale of NFO members' grain, which proceeds are now in the custody of the NFO Members' Grain Custodial Account under the supervision and administration of the Minnesota Grain Trust.

The question referred to has been generated by the ruling of an Iowa federal district court in proceedings entitled Securities and Exchange Commission, Plaintiff, v. The National Farmers' Organization, Inc., et al., Defendants, Civ. No. 74-162-1, 74-241-1. The court held that the NFO Corporation and the Iowa Grain Trust (predecessor of the current Minnesota Grain Trust) were separate and distinct legal entities. However, it is important to note the context in which this federal court ruling was made. The sole issue there under consideration was whether Iowa Grain Trust could make a partial distribution to NFO members of grain sale proceeds which the trust had collected under the NFO collective bargaining program. There was not involved in that holding any question as to the liability of the surety under a penal bond such as that which has been furnished pursuant to Nebraska statutes. (Incidentally, an Iowa state trial court, prior to the federal court decision, had reached just the opposite conclusion and found that the NFO-Iowa Grain Trust arrangement did not have the effect of creating separate legal entities; but that holding was abased upon the technicality that the procedure pursuant to which the trust purportedly was created was defective under Iowa law and, hence, that no trust existed at all.)

For present purposes, we feel it unnecessary to become preoccupied with the technical niceties as to whether the Minnesota Grain Trust is a bona fide separate legal entity apart from the NFO. The mere fact that the grain trust might be considered a separate entity for some purposes does not compel the further conclusion that such technical separate legal identity necessarily defeats liability under the penal bond in question. There are some well-established propositions of law and rules of statutory construction which are pertinent to the subject of this inquiry.

> "While a bond is ordinarily purely a contract which, when privately given without any qualifying laws, is to be strictly construed and not extended beyond the scope of the obligation according to its express terms, a statutory bond to the public given for the observance of a law is to be read, construed, and enforced in connection with, and according to, the statute pursuant to which it is given, and to be interpreted according to the purpose and meaning of the legislative enactment. The provisions of the statute pursuant to which a bond is given are to be read into the bond and considered a part of it. . . ." 12 Am.Jur. 2d, Bonds, section 2, p. 479.
> "The primary rule of construction of remedial statutes is to ascertain, declare, and give effect to the intention of the Legislature, as gathered from the language used.

"A remedial statute should be construed so as to afford all the relief within the power of the court which the language of the act indicates that the Legislature intended to grant.

"A statutory bond will be construed in the light of the purpose for which it is required as expressed in the statute." Sun Ins. Co. v. Aetna Ins. Co., 169 Neb. 94, 98 N.W.2d 692 (1969), which also involved a licensing bond.

Even in the case of purely contractual private bonds, which are given strict construction, it has been said:

"... The prevailing rule allows a court to place itself in the position of the contracting parties and to consider, in view of all the facts and circumstances surrounding the execution of the instrument, what the parties intended. The manifest intention of the parties must control in the interpretation of a penal bond, regardless of inapt expressions or mere technical rules of construction. In proper cases the state of the parties and the property at the time the bond was given, may be considered in order to determine from that instrument in its entirety and the whole condition, the purpose for which it was given, without rejecting any word, if consistent effect can be given to it. If an omission of a word or words in the condition of a bond has the effect of rendering the condition meaningless, the word may be supplied if, by reference to the whole instrument, it makes the instrument conform to the obvious intent and purpose of the parties. The court may depart from the letter of the condition stated in the bond in order to carry into effect the intention of the parties. And where the condition in the bond is so drawn as to lack definite meaning, it may be read in the light of the evident intention of the parties..." 12 Am.Jur.2d, Bonds, section 25, p. 494, 495.

There can be no question that what the obvious purpose and meaning of the statutory law on this subject is to afford purchase money protection for NFO members who entrust their grain for sale through organizational channels. We find it inconceivable to think that the Legislature might have intended to countenance the avoidance of an obligation for accountability on the part of either the NFO or the surety on its bond by the device of establishing a Members' Grain Custodial Account and creating a separate trust entity to handle the details of collecting, accounting for and distributing grain sale proceeds. It is similarly inconceivable that even the NFO or its surety would avow such an intended result; and, certainly, the NFO members had no such intent. Otherwise, obviously, the fiduciary obligation of the NFO and the condition of the penal bond would be rendered meaningless; and any attempt to interpret the terms of membership or the conditions of the bond in any other fashion would be contrary to public policy and, in our judgment, ineffectual as a defense against liability.

Notwithstanding our strong conviction in this respect, we are unable to cite any judicial precedent wherein this precise question has been litigated and resolved in harmony with our conclusion. We may suggest, with the view of total elimination of uncertainty, that consideration be given to the feasibility and advisability of a requirement by the Nebraska Public Service Commission that there be furnished an appropriate endorsement or rider to the existing bond whereby the obligation thereof is expressly declared to cover arrangements such as that here under discussion.

From: Paul L. Douglas, Attorney General

Date: August 4, 1976

Re: Constitutional duties of state officers and the advice of the Attorney General

During the July 13th meeting of the Interim Committee on Health and Welfare, certain questions were raised concerning the authority of the Attorney General to advise the Director of the Department of Insurance not to implement an enactment of the Legislature based upon the conclusion that the enactment is unconstitutional and the authority of the Director of the Department of Insurance to follow that advice and not implement such an enactment.

This matter first arose when E. Benjamin Nelson, the Director of the Department of Insurance, in a letter to this office dated June 21, 1976, raised several constitutional questions he had concerning Legislative Bill 434 and requested:

> ". . . the guidance of your office in determining whether or not the Department of Insurance should proceed, on July 10, 1976, to expend funds and utilize personal services prior to a court test of the constitutionality of L.B. 434. Please advise as to whether or not the Department of Insurance should implement the directives set forth in the Nebraska Hospital Medical Liability Act as of the effective date of July 10, 1976."

Thereafter in our five-page letter of response dated July 8, 1976, outlining some of the constitutional difficulties we saw with the provisions of this Legislative Bill, we concluded:

> "In light of the discussion presented above we are of the opinion that the provisions of this act are sufficiently constitutionally suspect so as to justify your nonimplementation of the provisions of this act until such time as it can be evaluated by the courts of this state. Therefore it is our recommendation that you should not proceed to expend funds or utilize personnel in implementing the directives set forth in this act until after its provisions can be constitutionally reviewed by a court of law."

This memorandum is intended to clarify some of the questions previously raised by you and the members of your Committee.

The advice of the Attorney General is available to state officers and officials both as a result of statutory enactment and the holdings of the Nebraska Supreme Court. Section 84-205, R.S.Supp., 1974, provides:

> "The duties of the Attorney General shall be:
> ". . . .
> "(3) To give, when required, without fee, his opinion in writing upon all questions of law submitted to him by the Governor, the head of any executive department,the Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Auditor of Public Accounts, Board of Educational Lands and Funds, State Department of Education, the Public Service Commission or the Legislature;"

The Nebraska Suprme Court in Follmer v. State, 94 Neb. 217, 142 N.W. 908 (1913), held that the Attorney General is the attorney for the state and that the officers who by the Constitution and the laws are given charge of the affairs of the state may call upon him for advice upon questions of law which arise inthe discharge of their duties. Additionally, the Attorney General has been held to possess all those powers held at common law which have not been expressly diminished by statute. State ex rel. Sorenson v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 123 Neb. 259, 242 N.W. 609 (1932).

It is our position that when constitutional review is requested by a state officer prior to implementation, this office is expected to exercise sound legal judgment as to the constitutional validity of the legislative enactment. The Attorney General in so doing does not affect the constitutional status of the enactment but merely makes a considered evaluation as to how that statute might be construed by the judiciary.

In giving this advice we are mindful of the fact that all officers and officials charged with the implementation of statutory enactments are duty bound to support the provisions of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska. In this regard the Nebraska Supreme Court held as early as 1895 that:

> ". . . the Constitution is the fundamental law; that an act of the Legislature repugnant thereto is not merely voidable by the courts, but is absolutely void, and of no effect whatever. It is no law, and binds no one to observe it. The officers of this state are sworn to support the Constitution. Where a supposed act of the Legislature and the Constitution conflict, the Constitution must be obeyed, and the statute disregarded." Van Horn v. State, 46 Neb. 62, 64 N.W. 365. (Emphasis added.)

The court added that mere doubt as to the constitutional validity of a statute would not justify nonimplementation and that only in clear cases of unconstitutionality should they refuse obedience to legislative acts. However the court went on to point out that:

> "If an act must be respected until its validity is declared by the judiciary in proper proceeding, then the Constitution is utterly ineffectual." Van Horn v. State, supra, at page 83.

In a case arising in 1915 where the State Treasurer had refused to act prior to judicial review the Nebraska Supreme Court, while finding the legislative enactment constitutional, specifically stated:

> "We do not intend to criticize the State Treasurer for hesitating to pay out this money before the act had been officially construed." State ex rel. Ridgell v. Hall, 99 Neb. 89, 156 N.W. 16.

The court then reaffirmed the principle stated in Van Horn, supra, stating that where a supposed act of the Legislature and the Constitution conflict, the Constitution must be obeyed and the statute disregarded.

Therefore in some circumstances a dilemma is created for the state official. The legislative directive is clear but on occasion the constitutionality of the statute is not. It is in exactly this kind of dilemma where we believe the advice of the Attorney General should be sought. If in the Attorney General's best judgment the enactment is unconstitutional, then the officer should follow the constitutional mandate and not expend funds nor utilize personnel in its implementation. If on the other hand the statute in the opinion of the Attorney General is constitutional, the official is obligated to effect implementation.

The consequences of unquestioning implementation must also be considered. The United States Supreme Court has held that an unconstitutional act is not law, it confers no rights, it imposes no duties, it affords no protection, it is in legal contemplation as inoperative as though it had never been passed. Norton v. Shelby County, 118 U.S. 425, 30 L.Ed. 178, 6 S.Ct. 1121. The Nebraska Supreme Court has held that the general rule is that an unconstitutional statute is invalid from its inception and is ineffectual as though it had never been passed. State v. Several Parcels of Land, 78 Neb. 703, 111 N.W. 601.

State officers may well desire the advice of the Attorney General given the possible consequences of their actions or their inactions. The United States District Court for the District of Nebraska has held that under the Nebraska law a state officer has qualified immunity from tort liability such that he is immune in the absence of proof that he acted in bad faith. Nebraska Department of Roads Employees' Association v. Department of Roads, 364 F.Supp. 251 (1973). This question of good faith may be dependent in part upon whether the advice of the Attorney General was in fact sought and followed. Such was the basis of an Arizona case holding that a state official was relieved from personal liability when his course of conduct was based upon the advice of the Attorney General. Hastings v. Thurston, 100 Ariz. 302, 413 P.2d 767. The North Dakota Supreme Court has held that state officials are deemed to have acted in good faith when they have sought and followed the advice of the Attorney General but if they fail to seek this advice or refuse to follow his opinion they do so at their peril. State ex rel. Johnson v. Baker, 74 N.D. 244, 277, 21 N.W.2d 355, 372 (1945).

CONCLUSION

Therefore, given the fact that a state official owes his ultimate allegiance to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska we believe that where our advice is sought we have a constitutional and ethical duty to advise nonimplementation where in our best legal judgment the enactment would not survive close constitutional scrutiny by the judiciary and that the official is thereby legally justified in following that advise and not implementing the legislation in question.

Opinion No. 249
September 2, 1976

Dear Senator Luedtke:

In your letter of August 10, 1976, you brought to the attention of this office a memorandum addressed to you from the Nebraska State Bar Association Committee on Correctional Law and Practice. The focus of that memorandum was on work release as a form of parole. It was the conclusion of the Committee on Correctional Law and Practice that "there is a substantial difference in both theory and practice between parole and temporary community based release programs." In your letter you indicated that the Judiciary Committee had resolved to present this memorandum to our office and seek from us a new opinion on the topic of work release as a form of parole.

On February 23, 1976, this office in Opinion No. 184 concluded that furloughs and work and educational training programs fit within the definition of "parole" and therefore the sole authority and power to grant those temporary forms of release is vested in the Board of Parole by virtue of Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska. That opinion was affirmed on March 4, 1976, in Opinion No. 190. After a review and research of our earlier opinions, your most recent letter, the Nebraska State Bar Association Committee on Correctional Law and Practice memorandum, and the statutes and constitutions of other states, we again come to the conclusion that temporary releases such as work and educational release and furloughs are a form of parole and as such the authority to grant such releases is vested in the State Board of Parole.

In reviewing the memorandum from the Nebraska State Bar Association Committee on Correctional Law and Practice, we find that much of that memorandum deals with policy considerations which, while they may be valid as policy considerations, do not rise to the status necessary to overcome the constitutional provisions relating to parole and the Parole Board as found in Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska. We have also found that in I of the Committee on Correctional Law and Practice memorandum attention is directed to the intent of the framers of Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska. In that part of the memorandum it was said:

> "It is clear from the proceedings of the Convention that the drafters of the parole amendment not only understood there to be a difference between parole and shorter, more temorary forms of community release but they specifically rejected an amendment designed to give the then Pardon Board the power to award such temporary releases."

As a matter of fact, it is anything but clear that the drafters of the parole amendment understood there to be a difference between parole and shorter, more temporary forms of community release. The very material quoted in the memorandum would more readily support the theory that the drafters thought the word "parole" sufficient to include the words "furlough" and "leave of absence." After Mr. Nye had suggested that the word "parole" not be sufficient to cover "furloughs," Mr. Anderson responded, in essence, by saying that the word "parole" was sufficient to cover these other temporary forms of release and that to begin to include other words such as "furlough" and "leave of absence" would also require the inclusion of "all the other varieties and combinations of English language in a matter of this kind." The motion by Mr. Nye did not prevail. This vote could be interpreted to mean that the members of this Constitutional Convention thought that temporary releases could be granted under the term "parole."

The memorandum from the Committee on Correctional Law and Practice in III discussed work release as a form of parole in other jurisdictions. While this section discusses the various statutory systems for handling work release in other jurisdictions, there is not one mention of a constitutional provision from any of the thirty-nine states considered. It is the opinion of this office that Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska, is the provision which distinguishes Nebraska from any of the other states that you have considered. It is of no legal importance in the State of Nebraska that thirty-nine other states with different constitutions treat work release differently than does the State of Nebraska. We must make our legal determinations on the basis of our Constitution and our Constitution provides that the Board of Parole shall have the sole authority to grant paroles.

Our research has indicated that thirty-six states have what could be termed work release programs. In studying the constitutional provisions which might relate to work release or parole programs in those thirty-six states, we have found that they can be categorized into two general types of constitutional provisions, both of which can be distinguished from the Nebraska constitutional provision. The majority of the constitutional provisions (found in twenty-eight states) provide for types of executive clemency, but do not include parole. These provisions, in effect, give the executive the power to grant pardons, reprieves, commutations, and to remit fines and forfeitures. The procedure and exceptions to this grant of power differ within the twenty-eight states, but the executive power to grant parole is not included in any of these twenty-eight Constitutions nor is the power to grant paroles placed in a different branch of government. It appears, therefore, that since the Constitutions of the twenty-eight states grant only the powers of "pardons, reprieves and commutations" and do not include parole, it could be concluded that regulation of the system of parole is a legislative function in those states. As such, the Legislature in those states has discretion to grant the power to any board or commission to administer the parole system or work release program in that state. With this in mind, it is quite clear that the constitutional provisions of these twenty-eight states can be clearly distinguished from the provision of the Nebraska Constitution which specifically gives the discretion of granting paroles to the Parole Board.

The second type of constitutional provision which is found in six states specifically grants to the Legislature the power to provide for a system of parole. It appears clear that in these six states the Legislature may exercise its discretion in providing for the administration of the parole or work release programs. This type of provision is quite readily distinguishable from that in the Nebraska Constitution which grants the Board of Parole the power to grant paroles.

There are two states with constitutional provisions which do not neatly fit within the two types of constitutional provisions discussed previously. The Florida Constitution, Article IV, Section 8, provides that a parole and probation commission may be created by law and empowered to supervise persons on probation and to grant paroles or conditional releases. It is arguable that because of the word "may" is used, the Legislature in Florida still has the discretion to create the commission, and thus it is distinguishable from the provision in the Nebraska Constitution. The Idaho Constitution, Article X, Section 5, provides for a board of corrections to control, direct and manage adult probation and parole. According to the Idaho Code, section 20-242(Supp. 1975), which is cited in the memorandum prepared by the Committee on Correctional Law and Practice, this board of corrections administers the furlough program. However, since this board of corrections is established by the Idaho Constitution, it stands on the same constitutional basis as does the Nebraska Board of Parole which likewise finds its authority in the Constitution of the state.

In summing up the Constitutions of the thirty-six states which we have found to have work release programs, it seems that they may all be readily distinguished from the provisions of Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska. With this in mind, it appears that the argument that Nebraska's work release program should be administered by the Department of Correctional Services because the majority of other states with work release programs provide for its administration by a department of corrections seems to be without merit when an examination of the provisions of the other states' Constitutions is undertaken. Attached hereto and made a part of this opinion is a list of the states with work release programs. The list of states are grouped according to the type of constitutional provision that state has relating to parole and work release programs.

In affirming our previous two opinions on this subject, we would reiterate that furloughs and work and educational training programs fit within the definition of "parole." The power to grant paroles after conviction and judgment, regardless of whether it is called a furlough, work release, or educational training program, is granted to the Board of Parole by Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska. That constitutional provision clearly provides that the board, or a majority thereof, shall have the power to grant paroles. The language and phrasing of that constitutional provision amply demonstrates that the power of parole is a discretionary matter and lies with the Parole Board. This power cannot be delegated to the Department of Correctional Services or any other administrative body without first involving the Board of Parole as is provided for in the present statutes. It is a common maxim of constitutional law that unless a different intention is apparent, the enumeration of specific matters in a constitutional provision usually is construed as an exclusion of matters not enumerated. This being the case, the power to grant paroles granted to the Board of Parole by the Constitution of this state is the sole grant of authority concerning paroles and other temporary releases from custody.

Opinion No. 254
September 30, 1976

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have submitted to us a rough draft of a proposed bill, and have asked us for our opinion as to whether the bill would be constitutional. Inasmuch as this is a six page bill, and you have directed our attention to no particular provision upon which you request enlightenment, we will examine only the broad purposes of the bill, and the means used to accomplish them.

The bill provides for a tax of 2 cents per bushel upon all wheat, corn, and milo grown in this state and sold through commercial channels. It is imposed on the grower, and is to be collected by the first purchaser. No wheat, corn, or milo is to be subject to such tax more than once. It is not entirely clear whether the tax would be payable if the grower shipped the grain out of the state for sale in another state. It is clear that grain shipped into this state, even by a grower, and sold for the first time in this state, would not be subject to the tax.

The proceeds of the tax would be used to pay for land acquisition, construction and initial operating expenses of a grain alcohol manufacturing plant, the alcohol to be used in alcohol-blended fuels. The plant would initially be operated by the Agricultural Products Industrial Utilization Committee, which has been established by sec. 66-468, R.S. Supp., 1976. After the plant has been in operation for five years, the committee, with the approval of the Governor, would be authorized to sell the plant if it is in the best interests of the state to do so.

The basic question, we suppose, is whether it is proper for the state to engage in what would normally be considered a purely private enterprise, that of manufacturing alcohol for sale. This sort of business would not normally be thought of as a governmental function, and there may be some challenge to the state's becoming involved in a commercial venture of this sort.

However, we are inclined to believe the statute would be upheld in this regard. Section 1 of the bill states that it is the public policy of the state to provide a new domestic source of energy, and to stimulate the agriculture industry of Nebraska. The accomplishment of such purposes is within the police power of the state. Given the presumption of constitutionality which attaches to bills passed by the Legislature, we believe the court would uphold the exercise of such powers by the state.

We must also keep in mind that our Constitution is a limitation on the powers of the state, and not a grant thereof. In order to find that the exercise of power by the state is in violation of the Constitution, a specific provision prohibiting the activity must be found. It is not necessary to find a provision authorizing it. Broadly speaking, the power of the state is unlimited, except as prohibited by the state or federal Constitutions.

We find this discussion of what constitutes a public purpose in 63 Am.Jur. 2d 447, Public Funds, Section 59:

> "A strict formula to determine public purposes for all time cannot be formulated, since the concept expands with the population, economy, scientific knowledge, and changing conditions. As people are brought closer together in congested areas, the public welfare requires governmental operation of facilities which were once considered exclusively private enterprises, and necessitates the expenditure of tax funds for purposes which, in an earlier day, were not classified as public. What is a public purpose for which public funds may be expended is not a matter of exact definition, and the line of demarcation is not immutable or incapable of adjustment to changing social and economic conditions that are properly of public and governmental concern."

In 81 C.J.S. 926, States, Section 26, this discusion appears:

"According to some authority the state may, in a proper case, be authorized to engage in an enterprise not essentially governmental in nature, that is, the state and its political subdivisions have authority to engage in enterprises usually owned and operated by private individuals, provided the public interest requires public ownership or operation. So the state may engage in business pursuant to a valid exercise of the police power, as where it conducts the sale of intoxicating liquors in the state, or engages in the manufacture of goods by convict labor, or sells, at the market price, fish taken from state waters; and, in the absence of constitutional restriction, the state may operate an inclined railroad which was in operation on land acquired by the state as a park at the time of its acquisition."

In Gripentrog v. City of Wahpeton, 126 N.W.2d 230 (N.D. 1964), the court held that it was not a violation of either the state or federal Constitution for a city to acquire a site and to construct a sugar beet processing plant near the city, for the purpose of encouraging industrial activity, and to lease the plant to a private company. In that case there was a specific state constitutional provision empowering the state to engage in any industry, enterprise, or business, except the traffic of liquor, but in view of the principle discussed above, that grants of power are, in general, unnecessary, we believe this distinction is of little importance.

In State, ex rel. Loseke v. Fricke, 126 Neb. 736, 254 N.W. 409 (1934), the act providing for public power districts was challenged. With respect to the argument that this was an improper governmental activity, the court said:

"Chapter 86 is assailed because it permits the district to come into competition with municipally and privately owned and operated electric light and power plants, and, by such competition, may render such privately and municipally owned plants valueless, to the great injury of the owners. This goes only to the wisdom of the legislation, and not to its validity. That was a matter solely for the legislature to determine. Its action in that respect is not subject to review by this court." (126 Neb. at 743 and 744.)

As previously stated, the bill would provide for a tax of two cents per bushel on wheat, corn, and milo. Challenges may be made on this on the basis of improper classification. We know practically nothing about the manufacture of alcohol, but we assume that these three grains are used. If so, this would seem to provide a rational basis for taxing these grains, and not other crops, which would derive no benefit from the operation of the plant. If a rational basis for a different treatment can be found, the court will not find an unconstitutional classification.

While we believe that the flat two cents per bushel tax on all three grains would be upheld, we point out that a claim of discrimination could be argued. The three grains are not, of course, sold at the same price. A per-bushel tax on all three grains necessarily represents a higher proportionate tax on the cheaper grains. An alternative would be to base the tax on the price paid for the grain. However, since this is not an ad valorem tax, we do not believe the court would strike it down for failure to be proportionate to value.

We therefore conclude that a bill such as this could be sustained. If you have specific questions about particular provisions of the bill, we will be glad to consider them.

Opinion No. 255
October 4, 1976

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of September 20, 1976, you submitted to us a copy of a bill which you are considering introducing at the next legislative session, and you ask us for an opinion as to its constitutionality. You have directed our attention to no particular provisions which you have questions about, so we will look only at the broad purposes of the bill.

The bill would impose a lodging tax of five per cent upon the gross receipts of persons renting or furnishing, for periods of fifteen days or less, any campgrounds, rooms, lodgings, or accommodations. The tax would be imposed each year for the period from May 15 to September 15. The tax would be in addition to the sales tax imposed under the provisions of sections 77-2701 to 77-27,135, R.R.S. 1943.

As to the general power of the Legislature to impose a tax upon transient lodging, we believe there is no constitutional problem. The taxing power of the Legislature is very broad. In Evans v. Metropolitan Utilities District, 187 Neb. 261, 188 N.W.2d 851 (1971), the court said:

> "It is important to remember that the state Constitution is not a grant but rather a restriction of legislative power. The taxing power vested in the Legislature is without limit, except as it may be prescribed by the Constitution itself. State v. Cheyenne County, 127 Neb. 619, 256 N.W. 67. Consequently, courts can enforce only those limitations which the Constitution itself clearly imposes. Elmen v. State Board of Equalization & Assessment, 120 Neb. 141, 231 N.W. 772. In the proper construction of constitutional provisions, limitations or restrictions upon the power of taxation can never be raised by implication, but the intention to impose them must be expressed in clear, unambiguous language. State v. Cheyenne County, supra."

In assessing the validity of a tax, the first question that we normally consider is whether the taxing statute creates an unreasonable classification, in violation of Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution. We see no basis for saying that it is improper to make a special class of persons renting transient lodging. There may possibly be some attack made on the bill because the tax is imposed only from May 15 to September 15 of each year. The logic of imposing the tax during the tourist season, and not at other times of the year, is somewhat obscure. However, the court gives the Legislature broad leeway in determining matters of this sort, and we are not prepared to say that the court would find this unconstitutional.

While it does not go to the issue of constitutionality, we point out that there is a difference between the persons upon whom the tax will be imposed by this bill and those upon whom the sales tax is imposed. Under section 77-2702(12) (a) (iii), a retailer includes persons engaged in renting or furnishing rooms, lodging, etc. for periods of less than thirty days. In the bill you have submitted, this period is fifteen days. We do not believe that affects the validity of the bill, and perhaps it was done advisedly. However, it conceivably could cause some confusion in the administration of the taxation of lodgings.

We also point out that section 2 of the bill you have submitted appears to be completely surplusage, and to have no legal effect. Section 1(4) of the bill provides that the proceeds of the tax shall be placed in the General Fund. Section 2 provides:

> "The Legislature shall appropriate money in the General Fund received under the provisions of this act to the Tourist Promotion Fund in such amounts as it deems necessary."

The Legislature always has authority to appropriate money from the General Fund for such purposes and in such amounts as it deems appropriate. On the other hand, section 2 does not purport to, and could not, force the Legislature to appropriate money from the General Fund to the Tourist Promotion Fund if it saw fit not to do so. Section 2 is, therefore, meaningless. This, of course, does not have any effect on the constitutionality of the bill.

Opinion No. 267
November 24, 1976

Dear Senator Schmit:

In your letter of November 23, 1976 you ask whether a county which had reached its statutory mill levy limit of 14.28 mills could reduce the appropriation authorized by sec. 2-1604 to the county extension board. You ask this question in connection with a proposal being considered by the Committee on Agriculture and Environment to amend this section of the statutes by increasing the amount which may be appropriated under that section.

This section provides that the county board shall annually set aside in the general fund of the county an amount equal to the county extension budget, but not to exceed $15,000.00 or an amount equal to a 6/10th mill levy on the dollar upon the assessed valuation of all the taxable property in the county, whichever is greater. We point out that this is not a specific mill levy for the county extension board, but comes out of the county general fund. The 6/10th mill reference is simply a limitation upon the amount to be appropriated to this work.

The precise question which you asked was answered in State ex rel. Agricultural Extension Service v. Miller, 182 Neb. 285, 154 N.W.2d 469 (1967). The court said:

> " . . . No argument is made, nor could one be made, that the Legislature has not manifested its intent in clear, unambiguous, and mandatory language. By its terms the county board is required to set aside in the general fund of the county an amount equal to the county extension budget. No authority is granted to reduce, alter, or amend the county extension budget. It is elementary that a county board has only such powers as the Legislature grants, and its power herein is therefore restricted, as it is authorized and required only to set aside in the general fund the amount of the county extension budget. By the express terms of section 2-1606, R.R.S. 1943, the county extension budget is that budget which is prepared and submitted by the president and secretary of the extension service to the county. . . ."

It therefore appears that the county board has no discretion whatever in the matter, and that if the constitutional mill levy is insufficient to raise enough money to make the appropriation mandated by sec. 2-1604, as well as other county expenses, the cuts in expenditures will have to be made in other areas in the county budget.

Opinion No 269
December 1, 1976

Dear Senator Barnett:

This letter is in response to your inquiry concerning proposed legislation involving unemployment compensation.

The legislation you propose would provide that military retirement payments would be deductible from the amount of unemployment compensation to the individual only if the individual left his job voluntarily without good reason or was discharged from his work for misconduct. You question whether this legislation would be necessary in light of the passage of L.B. 819, Eighty-Fourth Legislature, Second Session, and whether the proposed legislation would be constitutionally sound.

We have reviewed the provisions of L.B. 819, Eighty-Fourth Legislature, Second Session, and must indicate that your proposal would be in direct conflict with the previous actions of the Legislature. L.B. 819 amended section 48-628, R.S. Supp., 1975, which statute contained language which permitted the joint receipt of payments made by the United States to veterans for retirement or retainer benefits and unemployment compensation. Thus, your proposal would necessitate amending section 48-628, R.S. Supp., 1975, to reincorporate the language which was repealed by L.B. 819.

Your proposal would provide for special classification of military personnel receiving unemployment benefits and military retirement benefits. Such classification would always raise the potential for constitutional challenges based upon violation of equal protection in that retired military personnel would receive special benefits via the statute. It is of interest to note that section 48-628, R.R.S. 1943, was amended in 1967 by the Seventy-Seventh Legislature with the enactment of L.B. 888 to allow joint payments of unemployment compensation and military retirement benefits. In 1976 the Legislature then passed L.B. 819 which repealed the precise language, "or for retirement or retainer benefits," enacted by the Legislature in 1967. From 1967 until 1976 the joint payment of military retirement benefits and unemployment compensation to veterans was not challenged.

Our research does not disclose any reported cases wherein the courts have held that payment of full unemployment benefits to individuals receiving government pensions, military or otherwise, created an arbitrary and unreasonable classification violative of a state constitution or the Federal Constitution Equal Protection Clause. It would appear that such classification could be reasonable in view of the normal benefits afforded by society to individuals who have served in the Armed Forces.

The constitutionality of a special classification for payment of unemployment benefits to individuals receiving military retirement benefits does not appear to be defective.

Opinion No. 270
December 2, 1976

Dear Senator Keyes:

You have submitted to us a proposed bill, and have asked our opinion as to its constitutional validity. We believe that it may conflict with provisions of both the state and federal Constitutions.

The bill would provide for a "severance tax" on the taxable income derived by certain name types of financial institutions from loans made to individuals and businesses located outside the state. While it does not go to the validity of the act, we point out the term "severance tax," as used in this proposed bill, is a misnomer. A severance tax is a tax levied on natural resources, such as oil and gas, severed from the soil. The tax we are considering is not such a tax.

The most obvious problem with this bill is that it appears to unduly burden interstate commerce. It is well established that dealing in intangibles can constitute engaging in interstate commerce. See, Department of Financial Institutions v. General Finance Corporation, 227 Ind. 373, 86 N.E.2d 444, 10 A.L.R.2d 436 (1949), and United States v. South-Eastern Underwriters Association, 322 U.S. 533, 88 L.Ed. 1440, 64 S.Ct. 1162 (1944). Quite obviously, the financial institutions to be taxed under the bill in question would be engaged in interstate commerce.

Under the commerce clause of the federal Constitution, the states are prohibited from unduly burdening interstate commerce. The courts are particularly prone to find an undue burden when the statute discriminates in favor of the residents of one state as opposed to those of other states. For example, in Polar Ice Cream and Creamery Co. v. Andrews, 375 U.S. 361, 11 L.Ed.2d 389, 84 S.Ct. 378 (1964), the court struck down a Florida statute which had the effect of protecting Florida milk producers from price competition from out-of-state producers, holding that it unduly burdened interstate commerce.

The bill in question would impose the tax only on interest received from out-of-state borrowers. Even if it were not passed on to such borrowers, it would make loans to such borrowers less desirable, putting them at a competitive disadvantage with Nebraska borrowers. It would be difficult to defend such a system.

The bill is also subject to attack as being in violation of the Nebraska Constitution. Article III, Section 18 of that Constitution prohibits unreasonable class legislation. The bill in question creates two suspect classes. In the first place, it enumerates seven types of financial institutions whose interest income would be subject to this tax, but omits other types of institutions for no discernable reason. To take the most obvious examples, banks and insurance companies are not taxed. The reason for the omission is not apparent to us.

Furthermore, the justification for treating loans to persons outside the state differently from those to persons inside the state has not been made clear. This, also, constitutes the creation of classes, which must be justified to pass muster under the Nebraska Constitution. In a somewhat similar situation the court, in Continental Insurance Co. v. Smrha, 131 Neb. 791, 270 N.W. 122 (1936), struck down as invalid class legislation a tax on insurance companies imposed on premiums collected on fire insurance policies on property situated in incorporated cities and villages, but not on properties outside such cities and villages.

There are several other minor problems with the bill, as now written, but we feel that what we have already said will suffice. It would be most difficult to defend this bill from constitutional attack.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 272
December 13, 1976

Dear Senator Schmit:

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding the propriety of the action taken by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council in hiring Jules Burbach as Executive Director of the Legislative Council.

We note first that under section 50-401.02, R.S. Supp., 1976, either the Legislature or the Executive Board of the Legislative Council may appoint a Legislative Council Executive Director. The motion made by Senator Kelly, seconded by Senator Savage, was:

> ". . . that the name of Speaker Jules Burbach to fill the position of Executive Director of the Legislature.

That motion, as stated, leaves some doubt regarding whether the action to be taken was to actually hire Jules Burbach to the position, or merely to submit his name as a candidate for the position. However, it appears certain that the intent was the former, so we shall proceed under that assumption.

Essentially two questions have been raised concerning the propriety of the hiring of Jules Burbach for the position of Executive Director. The first concerns whether Mr. Burbach was disqualified from receiving such a position by Section 9, Article III, Constitution of Nebraska, and the second concerns whether the acceptance of such a position constitutes a conflict of interest.

Section 9, Article III, of the Constitution provides, in pertinent part, as follows:

> ". . . No person elected or appointed to the Legislature shall receive any civil appointment to a state office while holding membership in the Legislature or while the Legislature is in session, and all such appointments shall be void."

From the facts you have related to us, there is little doubt but that Mr. Burbach was hired for the position while he was a member of the Legislature, as he was hired on November 23, 1976, to commence employment on December 1, 1976, but his resignation from the Legislature did not become effective until November 30, 1976. That leaves the question of whether the hiring of Mr. Burbach as Executive Director constituted a "civil appointment to a state office" within the meaning of the Constitution. In our opinion, it did not.

It is the opinion of this office that the Executive Director of the Legislative Council is an employee of the Legislative Council rather than a state officer. Home Savings & Loan Ass'n v. Carrico, 123 Neb. 25, 241 N.W. 763 (1932), defined both employee and officer as follows:

> "An employee is one bound, in some degree, to the duty of service, and who is subject to the master's command as to how to do the work. The word 'employ' carries with it the idea of a contract of employment. Therefore, strictly speaking, an employee includes only such persons, engaged in the service of another, as are under contract for hire, express or implied oral or written. . . . And, on the other hand, a public officer is an incumbent of a public office, which is the right, duty and authority conferred by law, by which, for a given period, an individual is invested with some portion of the sovereign functions of government for the benefit of the public." Id., p. 765.

We note that under section 50-401.03, R.R.S. 1943, the performance of all duties of the Executive Director is ' subject to the direction of the Executive Board of the Legislative Council,' which is more in line with the position as employee rather than as a state officer.

Several other reasons persuade us that the Legislature only intended to authorize an employment rather than create a new state office when it authorized the appointment of an Executive Director by either the Legislature or the Executive Board. (Section 50-401.02.) The first and most persuasive reason is that Section 10, Article IV, of the Constitution prohibits the Legislature from appointing or electing any state officer. See Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W.2d 62 (1966); Neeman v. Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, 191 Neb. 672, 217 N.W.2d 166 (1974). Therefore, if the position of Executive Director were determined to be a state office, section 50-401.02 would be unconstitutional on its face. It is a principle of law, however, that statutes should be construed so as to be constitutional if at all possible. Therefore, section 50-401.02 should be construed as authorizing an employment, rather than as creating and authorizing the filling of a state office.

In addition, it is obvious from the motions made before the Executive Board that that body was merely hiring an employee rather than appointing a state officer. Motion number 2, which you provided us, reads as follows:

> "2. Motion was made by Senator Cavanaugh, seconded by Senator Schmit, that the Executive Board fill the position of Executive Director of the Legislative Council to fulfill the duties and responsibilities described in Section 50-401.03, to commence employment on December 1, 1976, at an annual rate salary of $25,000." (Emphasis added.)

Finally, we also note that a characterization of an office is that it carries a term, as described in the definition of "office" in the quote above from Home Savings & Loan Ass'n v. Carrico, supra. There is no term of office set for the position of Executive Director, but rather he apparently serves at the pleasure of the Legislature and Executive Board of the Legislative Council.

For the reasons expressed above, we conclude that the Executive Director is an employee of the Legislative Council rather than a state officer. Therefore, Section 9, Article III, is not applicable to the hiring of Mr. Burbach to the position of Executive Director of the Legislative Council.

The second question presented by the hiring of Mr. Burbach concerns whether a conflict of interest situation is presented. Section 16, Article III, prohibits any members of the Legislature from having a conflict of interest, as defined by the Legislature, and states the Legislature shall prescribe standards as well as provide for enforcement. This the Legislature has done by setting out prohibited acts of members of the Legislature in section 49-1103, R.R.S. 1943, and establishing a Conflicts of Interest Committee, section 49-1105, R.R.S. 1943. Both of those sections were repealed by the Legislature in 1976; however, the repealer does not become effective until July 1, 1977. Therefore, any question concerning conflicts of interest should be presented to the Conflicts of Interest Committee for determination.

Yours very truly,

Opinion No. 273
December 13, 1976

Dear Senator DeCamp:

We have your letter of December 9, 1976. You first ask whether there is any language in the Constitution that dictates that ground water would not be owned by the owner of the land and his lessees or assignees. We cannot answer this question without knowing what you are considering by your use of the term "own." Whether you are referring to the term as you would to describe a fee interest in a tract of real estate or whether you mean some type of right or interest in the use of ground water could effect our response considerably. Possibly you are referring to an entirely different concept of ownership or interest.

Next you ask whether legislation providing for private ' ownership" of ground water, subject to regulation by the Legislature, may be prepared without a constitutional amendment. Besides the general vagueness of the term "ownership" as noted above, your phrase "subject to regulation by the Legislature" includes a veritable infinite number of possibilities. Without knowing the exact nature of the particular type of regulation you wish to incorporate into your proposed bill, we are unable to determine whether it would require a constitutional amendment or meet present constitutional requirements.

Sincerely yours,

Opinion No. 3
December 23, 1976

Dear Senator Savage:

You have requested our opinion on the constitutionality of a proposed piece of legislation regulating the charges for legal advertising. The proposed legislation would amend section 33-141, R.R.S. 1943. Section 33-141, R.R.S. 1943, presently provides that the legal rate for publication of all legal notices is 24 cents a line. For the first insertion and 20 cents a line for subsequent insertions. This present statute regulates all areas of the state with regard to publication of legal fees and is in direct line from a statute enacted in 1871 which provided "for printing and publishing legal advertisement in newspapers as follows: Each square, of ten lines, for the first insertion one dollar. Each subsequent insertion, for each square of ten lines, fifty cents. Each legal advertisement under ten lines shall be deemed a square, and each fractional part of a square shall be counted as a full square. For publishing lists of lands upon which taxes are delinquent, each description twenty cents. For publishing list of town lots on which taxes are delinquent, each description ten cents; provided, that the County Commissioners of Otto County have control of printing the delinquent tax list in said county." Chapter 28, section 17, Compiled Statutes, 1875.

From time to time the statutes regulating the rate at which legal notices are to be published has been amended. However, from the earliest days of the state there has been a statute which regulated the rate at which publishers were to be paid for the publication of legal notices. The Supreme Court considered the effect of such statutes in Wisner v. Morrill County, 117 Neb. 324, 220 N.W. 280 (1928). In that case the Supreme Court stated that the rate specified by statute was the maximum rate that may be paid. However, if a contract could be negotiated providing for publication at a lower rate, the county was free to do that.

No case has directly considered the constitutionality of statutes regulating the cost of advertising that may be paid in Nebraska. However, other statutes have construed such statutes and found them to be constitutional. See, Record Publishing Company v. Monson, 213 P. 13, 215 P. 71, 123 Wash. 569.

The proposed legislation about which you raise a question provides that counties having a population of more than 275,000 may pay a maximum rate for the publication of legal notices equal to the publisher's standard rate for classified advertising. Several cases in Nebraska have considered classifications based on population totals. In some cases such classifications have been upheld. See, Dorrance v. Douglas County, 149 Neb. 685, 32 N.W.2d 202. In other cases such classifications have been struck down. The classification made must bear some reasonable relationship to the proper exercise of the police powers of the state. In our view the classification here proposed is of questionable validity. See Opinions of the Attorney General, 1959-1960, March 20, 1959, Opinion No. 46.

A question may also be raised in authorizing a maximum rate to be the standard rate for classified advertisements. This arguably could be an improper delegation of authority to a private citizen to determine the maximum rate for legal publications. Where that determination is made by a single entity in circumstances not significantly different from all other legal newspapers within the state, some difficulty is presented.

Thus, our opinion is that the Legislature has in the past and may continue to regulate the maximum rate to be paid for legal advertising within the State of Nebraska. However, where classifications are to be made, they must be reasonable and properly related to a valid exercise of legislative authority. Thus, the classification proposed in the proposal you have provided to us is of questionable constitutional validity.

Sincerely yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 4
December 27, 1976

Dear Senator Maresh:

This is in response to your inquiry of December 8, 1976, as to the constitutionality of a proposed legislative bill, the first two sections of which would, in certain instances, authorize the transfers of roads from the State to counties or vice versa without first hard surfacing them, and which would also provide a monetary payment from the transferor to transferee. Section 3 of the proposed bill would amend Section 39-2402, R.R.S. 1943, to effect preservation of the makeup fund in the event of a gas tax increase, and Sections 4 to 6 of the bill would amend various sections so as to increase the gasoline tax.

We concern ourselves, in this opinion, only with the constitutional questions raised by the aforesaid proposed bill. And the question presented would appear to pertain to Article 3, Section 14, which prohibits a plurality of subjects in a legislative bill.

The test whether a statute is unconstitutional as containing two subjects, is a subjective one. Therefore, a review of past court decisions is not terribly helpful in determining whether two matters contained in a particular bill are sufficiently similar and germane as to constitute one subject of legislation, or whether they constitute two subjects, making the bill unconstitutional.

It would seem that the matter of the makeup fund, which is directly affected by an increase in the gasoline tax, is sufficiently germane to the tax increase itself, as probably to be permissible in the same bill. The matter of transferring roads between the State and County, and vice versa, is, however, not so clear. While, because of the subjective nature of the test, we are unable to say definitely that the inclusion of the three aforesaid subjects in the same bill would render the bill unconstitutional, we feel that there may be sufficient doubt so as to make it advisable, at this point, to separate out the road transfer provisions in Section 1 and 2 of the proposed bill, and make them a separate legislative bill.

You also inquire as to a substitute proposed amendment to Section 39-2402, R.R.S. 1943. This proposal would also have the effect of preserving the makeup fund in the face of a gasoline tax increase, and appears to be virtually the same, in effect, as the one contained in Section 3 of the proposed bill.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION AND ASSESSMENT

August 25, 1976

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

The State Board of Equalization and Assessment met on August 12, 1976, for the purpose of raising the State sales and income tax rates in order that future revenues could meet legislative appropriations. During that meeting the enclosed resolution was passed unanimously by the members of the Board.

As you will note, the Board has requested that copies of this resolution be tendered to the members of the Legislature through the Clerk's office. Please use the appropriate procedure to distribute the resolution among the State senators.

RESOLUTION OF THE STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION AND ASSESSMENT

August 12, 1976

Whereas the Nebraska State Board of Equalization and Assessment recognizes its responsibility under Nebraska State law to set the sales and income tax rate so that revenues produced meet legislative appropriations;

Whereas the Nebraska State Board of Equalization and Assessment has been called into special session because revenues produced on existing tax rates are not meeting projected revenues and therefore, will not be sufficient to meet legislative appropriations;

Whereas the Nebraska State Board of Equalization and Assessment recognizes that continuing appropriations and spending increases at the State level will mean continuing tax increases;

Therefore, be it resolved by the Nebraska State Board of Equalization and Assessment that the members of the said Board jointly express these concerns to both the agencies of State government and to the Nebraska Unicameral that all agencies of State government take all steps possible to reduce their level of expenditures so that as much of existing appropriations as possible will be lapsed into the general fund on June 30, 1977, and that the Nebraska Unicameral be urged during its 1977 Legislative Session to exhibit fiscal restraint so that spending levels can be held to a minimum to insure that tax rates will not have to be further increased and if the Legislature acts as requested, hopefully the rates that this Board is setting can be reduced.

Copies of this resolution shall be duly tendered to the Legislature and its appropriate committees through the Clerk of the Legislature.

I certify that this resolution was passed by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment on August 12, 1976. Dated this 26 day of August, 1976.

NATURAL RESOURCE DISTRICT REPORTS

October 26, 1976

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
Room 2018, State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Vince:

Section 2-3265, of the Nebraska Resources Development Fund Act (Legislative Bill 975), requires that the Natural Resources Commission submit an annual report to the Governor and the Legislature describing the work accomplished by the Development Fund.

The Fund is now slightly over two years old. Project fund requests and fund disbursements are now proceeding according to project readiness. The Fund is becoming more than just another state program, it is a highly functional, working aspect of the state and local partnership which aids the proper development, conservation and maintenance of our land and water resources.

Project proposals and applications submitted under the Fund and the status thereof are submitted in the enclosed report. It is, therefore, with a great deal of pleasure that I submit this second functional report of the Development Fund. I sincerely hope that the report will aid you in monitoring the progress of the Fund in its role of expanding Nebraska's natural land and water resources.

I have also taken the liberty of providing each of Nebraska's Senators with a copy of the 1976 Report. If you have further questions concerning the Development Fund, please do not hesitate to request assistance from this office.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Dayle E. Williamson
Executive Secretary

NEBRASKA RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT FUND
ANNUAL REPORT TO THE
GOVERNOR AND THE LEGISLATURE
OCTOBER, 1976

The Nebraska Resources Development Fund Act of 1974 created a fund to assist in the wise development of Nebraska's land and water resources. The Act delegates responsibilities to the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission and to an Advisory Board, composed of state agency representatives from eight state agencies. Those agencies are:

Department of Economic Development
State Office of Planning & Programming
Department of Water Resources
Game & Parks Commission
Conservation and Survey Division, UNL
Department of Agriculture
Department of Environmental Control
Nebraska Natural Resources Commission

Advisory Board & Commission Activities

The prime function of the Advisory Board is to determine project eligibility for Resource Development Fund assistance. The Board has also been delegated to determine the type of project assistance appropriate for specific projects, grants, loans, or a combination thereof. To aid in accomplishing these tasks, the Advisory Board has adopted Rules and Regulations and project completion guidelines.

Since the initial progress report of August 26, 1974, the Advisory Board has held six public informational meetings throughout the state. In order to arrive at state-wide input to the Rules and Regulations, meetings were held at Ogallala, Bassett, Scottsbluff, Hastings, Norfolk and Lincoln.

On December 17, 1974, the Advisory Board and the Natural Resources Commission held a joint public hearing on the Rules and Regulations of the Development Fund in the Lincoln Center Building, 5th Floor, Lincoln, Nebraska. The hearing was held open, to receive comments from the public, until January 15, 1975. On January 22, 1975, in joint session at North Platte, Nebraska, the Advisory Board and the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission adopted the Rules and Regulations of the Nebraska Resources Development Fund. The Rules and Regulations were approved by the Attorney General on February 24, 1975 and were filed on February 25, 1975.

In order to make the Rules and Regulations more compatible with the Law, they were revised in July, 1975, and a joint public hearing between the Advisory Board and the Natural Resources Commission was held on August 21, 1975. The changes were adopted and filed with the Attorney General on August 25, 1975.

Since the Development Fund has been operating as a fund, the following project proposals and applications have been received and action taken:

PROJECTS SUBMITTED TO THE DEVELOPMENT FUND FOR ASSISTANCE

BUFFALO CREEK PROJECT PROPOSAL

Project is sponsored by the Central Platte Natural Resources District. The proposal was received on January 26, 1976 and requested 75% of total estimated cost of $1,370,000 or a request of $1,027,500. The project, as envisioned, will control runoff from uplands (approximately 75,000 acres) of the watershed by the installation of floodwater retarding structures. The Advisory Board has advised the applicant to proceed with application and feasibility report.

CRYSTAL LAKE PROJECT APPLICATION

Sponsored by Adams County Board of Supervisors. The project application was received on December 9, 1975, and requested $80,625 of Development Fund assistance. The project involves re-development of a recreation lake and construction of a levee to protect it from flooding. The Advisory Board recommended funding of the project. The Natural Resources Commission accepted that recommendation. In so doing, the Commission allocated seventy-five percent or up to $80,625 for the construction of the Crystal Lake Project. Total project cost of $215,000 is to be provided by the Development Fund, $107,500 from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and $26,875 from the combined efforts of Adams County, the Little Blue NRD, Ayr Bicentennial Committee and local contributions.

CUB CREEK PROJECT APPLICATION

Sponsored by the Middle Niobrara Natural Resources District. Application was received on May 12, 1976 and requested $67,575 from the Fund. Further finding involves $147,000 from the State Department of Roads, $22,525 of NRD and local funds. The project consists of a re-location of Highway 12 and includes a road structure with a permanent recreation pool of about 35 acres. The Advisory Board recommended funding and the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission allocated the amount requested for the project.

DAVID CITY PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the Lower Platte North Natural Resources District. The project proposal was received May 3, 1976, and requests $982,162. The project principally consists of stormwater drainage for David City and flood control for those areas downstream. At this time the District is re-evaluating the project at the recommendation of the Advisory Board.

MASKENTHINE PROJECT APPLICATION

In the 1975 Report, it was noted that the project had been allocated funds up to $300,000. The project was completed in September of this year. Grass seedings are complete, the arboretum is established with about thirty-five different species of trees (to be expanded), the lake contains about fifteen feet of water and is stocked with Fingerling Bass, Catfish and Bluegill. Habitat development is outstanding. Final payment will be made in the near future. Funding involved the Development Fund, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Funds, NRD and local contributions.

MC COOK PROJECT APPLICATION

Sponsored by the Middle Republican Natural Resources District. The Application was received on October 18, 1976 and requests $489,774 from the Fund. The remainder of the total $653,032 will be made up by the NRD, Red Willow County and the City of McCook. The project involves construction of two dry structures above the City of McCook, on the drainage from the northeast and northwest, for the purpose of flood control. Action by the Advisory Board is scheduled for November.

MISSOURI RIVER LEVEE - R-616 PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the Papio Natural Resources District. The proposal was received on February 18, 1975, and requested $180,000 in the form of a grant. The project is to construct a levee from Bellevue to the Platte River along the Missouri River on the Nebraska boundary. Because of the land acquisition aspect of the project, the Advisory Board referred the sponsors to the Small Watersheds Flood Control Fund. They were also notified that an application could follow after going through that fund. There has been no further action since May, 1975, except that the project was deemed eligible under the Small Watersheds Flood Control Fund.

OLIVER DAM PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the South Platte Natural Resources District. The project proposal was received on December 15, 1975 and has requested $275,000 from the Development Fund. The project will reconstruct the structure at Oliver Reservoir and insure recreation in that area. The Advisory Board has recommended that the sponsor proceed with the application and feasibility report. An engineering firm has been acquired and is presently working on that application.

RAWHIDE CREEK PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the Lower Platte North Natural Resources District. The proposal was received on July 8, 1976 and has requested $584,500. The project presently includes a flood water structure and channelization for diversion of flood waters from the City of Fremont. The Advisory Board has recommended that the sponsor proceed with application and feasibility report. An engineering firm is presently working on the application.

SARGENT IRRIGATION PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the Sargent Irrigation District. The proposal was received on October 13, 1976, and requests $77,775 from the Development Fund. The project consists of construction of a holding pond designed to furnish water to downstream users by storage and release. The Advisory Board has not taken action other than to distribute the proposal to the committee for review.

SILVER CREEK PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the Central Platte Natural Resources District. The proposal was received January 26, 1976 and requests an estimated $1,987,500. The project is for flood control in a multi-purpose project to develop water conservation, pollution and siltation control, drainage, and wildlife habitat enhancement. The Advisory Board has advised the applicant to proceed with application and feasibility report.

SUMMIT LAKE PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the Middle Missouri Tribs Natural Resources District. The proposal was received April 23, 1976 and requests $331,687. Summit Lake (Tekamah-Mud Creek Watershed Structure 5-A) is a portion of the watershed project; it will create flood control, erosion and sediment control and will provide recreation facilities. The Advisory Board has recommended that the sponsor proceed with application and feasibility report.

WALNUT CREEK PROJECT APPLICATION

Sponsored by the Lower Big Blue Natural Resources District. The application was received on January 7, 1976 and requests $230,817. The project consists of five watershed structures designed for flood control and provide limited recreation. The sponsor is presently updating the project.

WATER SUPPLY PROJECT PROPOSAL (Douglas & Washington Co.)

Sponsored by the Papio Natural Resources District. The proposal was received on February 18, 1975 and requested $647,350 in the form of a loan and/or a grant. The project is to provide a drinking water supply system to areas just north of Omaha and possibly to the Village of Fort Calhoun. The Advisory Board has recommended that the sponsors obtain full F.H.A. funding prior to submitting a final application. The Board has also determined that the project is eligible for a loan, but not a grant. There has been no further action since May 16, 1975.

WILLOW CREEK PROJECT PROPOSAL

Sponsored by the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District. The proposal was received on July 15, 1975, and actual amount of funds have not been requested. The project proposal is for the construction of a flood control and recreation structure and area on Willow Creek in Pierce County. The Advisory Board has recommended that the sponsor proceed with Phase II of project proposal steps. At completion of Phase II, the Board will receive a report of project progress.

PROJECTS NOT FUNDED BY THE NEBRASKA RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT FUND

CENTRAL PLATTE GROUND WATER/NITRATE PROJECT PROPOSAL AND APPLICATION

Sponsored by the Central Platte Natural Resources District. The project proposal was received April 3, 1975 and requested $96,350 in the form of a grant. The project proposal is to provide funds to advance a study of the high nitrate problems along the Platte Valley. Application of the study and its findings are assumed to be state-wide in scope, especially with the new emphasis on ground water drinking supplies. Funding for the project will be via the Section 208 (P.L. 92-500) Non-Point Source Planning for Water Quality Control Program. Project was withdrawn from the Development Fund by the sponsor.

HANSON'S LAKE INQUIRY

Submitted by Sarpy County Board of Commissioners. The inquiry was requesting funds to strengthen a dike adjacent to the Platte River; no funds actually requested; the Advisory Board recommended that the sponsor submit a proposal. The sponsor was cautioned that no funds could be allocated or committed unless the project was in conformance with L.B. 108, the Flood Plain Law of 1967 and the Corps of Engineers dredging and filling permit qualifications. No further action has been directed to the Development Fund.

WATER SUPPLY PROJECT APPLICATION (THAYER & JEFFERSON CO.)

Sponsored by the Little Blue Natural Resources District. The project application was received on April 4, 1975 and requested $137,000 in the form of a grant. The project is to supply a rural water system for 130 benefit users. The Advisory Board recommended to the Commission that the project was eligible for a loan and not a grant. The Commission voted to uphold that recommendation and the applicant sponsor was so informed. The sponsor reapplied to Fm.H.A. and received the necessary funding in the form of a grant and has withdrawn the application.

WHITNEY WATER IRRIGATION SUPPLY LINE PROJECT PROPASAL

Sponsored by the Whitney Irrigation District. The project proposal was received on April 7, 1975 and requested $19,500 in the form of a grant. The project is to fund a feasibility study for future application to the Bureau of Reclamation to refurbish the Whitney Irrigation Project. The Advisory Board advised the Commission that a feasibility study of this nature is ineligible for funding under the Rules and Regulations of the Development Fund. However, after the total project is funded, those costs not federally supported may be eligible for Development Fund assistance. The Commission voted to disapprove eligibility at that time, and the sponsors were so notified. No further action through the Development Fund has occurred on this project to date.

WINTERS CREEK PROJECT APPLICATION

Sponsored by the North Platte Natural Resources District and Scotts Bluff County. The proposal was received on October 31, 1975, and requested $375,000 in the form of a grant. The project was for construction of a dry dam on Winters Creek for flood control and for construction of a drainage bypass ditch around the north fringe of Scottsbluff. Due to lack of public support for the project, the sponsors have withdrawn the project from the Development Fund.

FUNDING EXPENDITURES

Three Projects: Maskenthine--$300,000; Cub Creek--67,575; Crystal Lake--80,625 have been allocated funds. Disbursement of funds will follow completion of work elements as performed.

CODE OF ETHICS BOARD

December 14, 1976

Hon. Vincent Brown, Clerk
State Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

SUMMARY REPORT OF ACTIVITIES 49-1115

Friend Vince,

As chairman of the Code of Ethics Board this letter is a summary report of the Boards activities covering the years 1975 and 1976.

The Board held two called meetings in 1975 and issued two advisory opinions under Section 49-1114.

In 1976 the Board held three regularly called meetings and issued seven advisory opinions.

Much of the work of the Board was done by correspondence and telephone. Minutes of all meetings were kept and approved at the next meeting and the record is in my possession.

Due to the different times that various sections of LB987 (1976 Legislature) were to become operative, a request for an opinion from the Department of Justice was made and received. This opinion stated that the Code of Ethics Board will exist until June 30, 1977. Under 49-1108 the terms of the members of this Board shall terminate on January 6, 1977.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Donald R. Treadway, Chairman
Code of Ethics Board

STATE TORT CLAIMS

December 23, 1976

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Brown:

In conformity with the provisions of Section 81-8,226, R.S.Supp., 1976, the following report is made on behalf of the Attorney General to the Legislature for all claims and judgments made under the State Tort Claims Act since the start of the last regular legislative session. In order to avoid repetition with the report made by the Secretary of the State Claims Board only claims appealed to the courts are herein mentioned, the same not being covered by the Secretary. Of those tort claims which were denied by the State Claims Board, a considerable number have been appealed to the district courts and are still pending therein. Some nineteen cases which were appealed have been disposed of during the past biennium. Each of these cases now disposed of are as follows:

Tort Claim No. 0010 - Roy Williams - District Court of Lancaster County - $26,164.66 - For death of son by drowning in a state lake near Hickman. Case dismissed by Court on its own motion for want of prosecution. Similar case decided by Nebraska Supreme Court in the State's favor after this case was filed probably discouraging to plaintiff.

The agency involved was the Game and Parks Commission.

Tort Claim No. 1020 - Lowell Inselman - District Court of Lancaster County - $71,500 - For death by drowning in a state lake northwest of Lincoln. Trial to the Court, who found for the State. The agency involved was the Game and Parks Commission.

Tort Claim No. 1040 - Maxine Novak - District Court of Lancaster County - $25,000 - Injuries suffered in fall on polished floor of Nebraska Center for Continuing Education. University had insurance and case was defended by lawyer for insurance company. Judgment for plaintiff in the amount of $18,500 was paid by the insurance company for the University. The agency involved was the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Tort Claim No.'s 2025 and 2026 - John Hernandez - Dictict Court of Douglas County-$35,000 and $4,195.10 - For burns suffered by premature birth of claimant's son after birth using rubber gloves filled with very hot water in incubator. Claim was defended by attorneys for insurance company and settlement entered into and paid by insurance company for $6,500 and $1,000, respectively on claims, to guardian of minor, and to parents. The agency involved was the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

Tort Claim No. 2039 - Reformed Church in America - District Court of Thurston County - $682.18 - For damage to automobile in collision with State owned vehicle. Defended by State's motor vehicle insurance company. Settled by payment in full by insurance company. The agency involved was the Department of Agriculture.

Tort Claim No. 2040 - Donald McCauley, Sr. - District Court of Thurston County - $54,012.10 - Companion case to No. 2039. Settled and paid by insurance company for $10,000. The agency involved was the Department of Agriculture.

Tort Claim No. 2042 - Joseph Branstatter - District Court of Kearney County - $877.76 - Damage to motor vehicle which went out of control upon traversing newly oiled and graveled road repair section of highway. Trial was had to the Court with the Court finding for the defendant State and dismissing the action. The agency involved was the Department of Roads.

Tort Claim No. 2048 - James McNally - District Court of Holt County - $25,000 - Damage to truck and loss of eye of driver when truck skidded after rain on slippery newly-repaired highway. Settlement for $5,000 paid by State. The agency involved was the Department of Roads.

Tort Claim No. 3003 - Jerry Cossaart - District Court of Lancaster County - $19,139.78 - Injury of inmate of Penal Complex while using bench saw not equipped with required safety devices. Trial to Court with judgment for plaintiff of $6,875.00, paid by State. The agency involved was the Department of Correctional Services.

Tort Claim No. 3046 - Clark Huff - District Court of Kimball County - $4,039 - Claim for loss of cattle by drowning and slipping on ice resulting in alleged improper construction of combination cattle pass and culvert under Interstate highway. Trial to Court with finding for defendant and dismissal of action. The agency involved was the Department of Roads.

Tort Claim No. 4026 - Mary Pangle - District Court of Douglas County - $26,339.20 - Claimant was injured in fall from swing on State recreation grounds when an S clamp holding the swing apparently opened. Plaintiff claimed negligence of State under legal doctrine of res ipsa loquitur. Court found for the State and dismissed the action. The agency involved was the Game and Parks Commission.

Tort Claim No. 4032 - Mid States Sales Co. - District Court of Dawson County - $4,000 - Claimant alleged improper action of brand inspector in releasing funds on sale of cattle which were under security agreement. Other defendants were made parties. State filed demurrer which was sustained by Court. The agency involved was the Brand Commission.

Tort Claim No. 4061 - Leota Solick - District Court of Lancaster County - $27,735.61 - Claimant assaulted a victim of attempted rape resulting in various physical and mental injuries including knife wounds. Assault made by escaped prisoner of Penal Complex who had been released with others under custody of two guards to attend an Indian powwow held in vicinity of claimant's home. After escape quards did not promptly notify Penal Complex of escape and Lincoln Police were not notified until considerably later. Settlement made by State in amount of $17,735.61. The agency involved was the Department of Correctional Services.

Tort Claim No. 4064 - Stanley Hogle - District Court of Lancaster County - $4,500 - Claimant was employee of contractor repairing bridge but using State's special equipment and operators. He fell from movable scaffold and claimed negligence on part of State employees. Court held for defendant as contractor's men gave word that attached line was clear when it was not. The agency involved was the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Tort Claim No. 5053 - Darlene Kinser - District Court of Douglas County - General damages. Claimant fell on broken step of building owned by City of Omaha but used by State. Settled for $7,200, half paid by City, half by State. The agency involved was the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Tort Claim No. 5056 - Stanley Peniska - District Court of Douglas County - $50,000 - Mr. Peniska was delivering shipment to University Medical Center warehouse and slipped on dock which he claimed was too smooth and poorly lighted. Insurance carrier for University settled case for $3,500. The agency involved was the University Medical Center.

Tort Claim No. 5067 - Richard Johnson - District Court of Adams County - $2,350.35 - Claimant's car was taken and wrecked by inmate of Hastings Regional Center who escaped from custody. He had gotten away before and was recognized as likely to cause trouble. Settled for $1,566.90 or two-thirds of claim. The agency involved was the Department of Public Institutions.

In addition to the above the following is included as being inadvertently omitted from the report made last biennium:

Tort Claim No. 0016 - Lloyd Oman - District Court of Dawson County - $236.81 - Damage to vehicle in accident with another vehicle when being driven on Highway U.S. 30 but through smoke caused by Department of Roads maintenance forces burning weeds, flagman waved claimant on just before wind shifted sending smoke back across highway. Settled for $100. The agency involved was the Department of Roads.

There are a considerable number of claims, some of the same being in large amounts, which are now pending in various district courts of the state awaiting action in said courts.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Paul L. Douglas
Attorney General

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

THIRD DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, January 10, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Dear God, our source of power on a cold day like this, may this moment of prayer be like a jumper cable from you to us giving us fresh power and as a battery is recharged without sound or motion, so wilt thou, in this moment of quiet, send thy spirit into the hearts and minds of each one here. With newness of life, with spiritual power, vision, and lively faith, enable them to meet all the demands which lie before them with glad anticipation, and then give them peace for the night. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Duis, Kelly, Kremer, R. Lewis, and Murphy who were excused; and Mr. Merz who was excused until he arrives.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 1.

Introduced by Marsh, 29th District; Maxey, 46th District.

WHEREAS, the art of quilting was an art form brought to Nebraska by our early settlers; and

WHEREAS, this art form has been preserved and passed on even to the present generation; and

WHEREAS, The Lincoln Quilter's Guild is dedicated to preserving and promoting the art of quilting, and in so doing has sponsored the "Quilts from Nebraska" exhibition which drew an all-time record attendance at the Sheldon Gallery, and was subsequently acclaimed when shown throughout the area of Mid America, thus reflecting great credit upon the State of Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, The Lincoln Quilter's Guild designed and constructed a Bicentennial Quilt, using colors native to Nebraska, and incorporating designs from the State Capitol and from the heritage of Nebraska, and such quilt was not only acclaimed when first exhibited at the Nebraska Center, but was selected as "Best in the Show" at the National Quilting Association exhibition of 1976, thereby conferring significant credit upon the State of Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, The Lincoln Quilter's Guild has now sponsored a contest to select a quilt block of original design to honor the State of Nebraska.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

That the selected quilt block shall be known as THE OFFICIAL NEBRASKA BLOCK, and the original entry shall be placed in the Archives of the State of Nebraska, and be appropriately displayed at the State Historical Society.

Laid over.

FOURTH DAY—JANUARY 11, 1977

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FOURTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 11, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:01 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Our heavenly Father, in this moment of prayer, when there is silence in this senate chamber, may there not be silence in Thy presence. May our prayers be heard.
> May no short circuits be made by our lack of faith, our high professions joined to low attainments, our fine words hiding shabby thoughts, or friendly faces masking cold hearts.
> Out of the same old needs, conscious of the same old faults, we pray on the same old terms for new mercies and new blessings. In the name of Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Clark, Duis, George, Kelly, Kremer, R. Lewis, Mills, Moylan, Murphy, Nichol, and Rasmussen who were excused.

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FIFTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, January 17, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Reverend Lee Van Ham from Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> Thank you, God, for entrusting the governance of your creation to people. Knowing how cautious we are with the products of our own creativity, it often surprises us that you have trusted us with what you have made, and with enabling what your creation can become.
> May we today make your risk a good one. And when we make your trust in us look like a mistake, we pray we will not rationalize our error.
> Thank you for being present here today, to be present in our choices and beyond them. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. F. Lewis who was excused until he arrives, and Mr. Newell who was absent until 9:25 a.m.

REPORTS

State of Nebraska
STATE CLAIMS BOARD
Capitol Building–Box 94819
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509
January 11, 1977

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Brown:

In conformity with the provisions of Section 81-8,226, R.S. Supp., 1976, the following report is made on behalf of the State Claims Board to the Legislature for all claims processed and paid under the State Tort Claims Act since the start of the last regular legislative session.

It should be noted that some of the disallowed tort claims were later appealed to the district courts and are either included in the report submitted by Paul Douglas, Attorney General, or are pending at the present time.

In conformity with the provisions of Section 48-1,104, R.S. Supp., 1976, the following report is made on behalf of the State Claims Board to the Legislature for all claims paid under the Workmen's Compensation Laws on behalf of the State of Nebraska. This report is submitted in the form of a computer (year-end) printout. It would be greatly appreciated if this office could have this printout returned when the Legislature has completed its study of it.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Janet Shepard
Secretary

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS INDUSTRIAL UTILIZATION COMMITTEE

January 11, 1977

Mr. Vincent Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
Room 2020, State Capitol

Dear Mr. Brown:

I am submitting this letter to be inserted into the Committee's First Annual Report submitted to you on March 8, 1976 as required by state statute. An error was made when the cash carry-over was reported as $235,007.37 instead of $135,687.88 from the fiscal year of 1974-75 on page 1 of the report. So the amount of $135,687.88 was available for the fiscal year of 1974-75 and not the higher figure. The higher figure was also reported on page 12 of the annual report. All other information has been reexamined and is found to be in order.

The total cash available to A.P.I.U.C. on June 30, 1975 to carry-over into the fiscal year 1975-76 was $122,268.00. This information should have been reported on page 12.

This letter contains any or all corrections to the First Annual Report submitted on March 8, 1976.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Charles R. Fricke Administrator

FIRST SESSION

SIXTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 18, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Reverend Lee Van Ham from Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> God, we gather for the task of this body. We have an agenda, we have on-going committee work, we have appointments to meet.
> We come to our tasks not only with skills, competence, and a deep desire to be effective, but also with our personal human agendas – a need to be loved, a need to be appreciated, and a residue of disappointments from our yesterdays.
> As we are aware of both our legislative agenda and our personal agendas, we pray that we can participate in them both, in ways that are effective and healing. Especially we pray for relationships that are strong and life-giving, so that we may be personally nourished as we work on our corporate agenda and our personal agendas. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Cope and Newell who were excused until they arrive.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Fifth Day was approved.

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

SEVENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, January 19, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Reverend Lee Van Ham from Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> God, we dedicate ourselves anew to justice. Yet we also readily acknowledge that in many situations we are personally unsure of what would be just. So we bend our minds and hearts to learning justice so our commitment to it can be better informed.
> As we listen to concerns of people of this state, open our ears and hearts to their needs, yet also empower our minds and our intuitions to sort out self-interest that is benevolent and enables people, from self-interest that is narrow, selfish, and oppressive.
> In the process of this session of legislation, we pray that we may so study the issues, formulate the laws, interact with one another, the people, and the interest groups, so that the final votes, whether individually we voted with the majority or minority, will enable rather than impede justice and righteousness in our society.
> To that end we dedicate ourselves this day. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. F. Lewis and Newell who were excused and Messrs. Chambers, Koch, and Venditte who were excused until they arrive.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Sixth Day was approved.

EIGHTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, January 20, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Reverend Lee Van Ham from Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> God, we are people who have power - power of position and power within our own personhood. We have records of both rising and abusing our power.
> The shapes of power are so many - committee structures, position, coalition, experience, personal integrity, reputation, knowledge, prejudice, money - and many more, including some we probably don't even recognize.
> As each of us tries to arrange the components of power according to our convictions, either for or against various issues, we want to choose to act with integrity and openness.
> Because we disagree, we will compete for power. But may we also be eager to empower one another. May we respect power as a force that can destroy us as well as help us.
> We pray especially that we will not just seek power because our own ego needs require it. Rather, let the shapes of power be transformed into the shapes of love, justice, and righteousness for all.
> Thank you, God, for sharing with us the spirit of power, love, and self-responsibility. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. F. Lewis who was excused, and Mr. Nichol who was excused until he arrives.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 3.

Introduced by Mills, 44th District.

WHEREAS, the energy needs of the United States and of the State of Nebraska are growing daily, making this nation and state increasingly dependent on foreign sources of fuel for energy production; and

WHEREAS, this dependency on foreign sources of fuel for energy production is placing a greater financial burden on this nation and state as consumers and upon each citizen as a consumer; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States, recognizing that alternative sources of energy production must be promoted, has determined that a National Solar Energy Research Institute be established to further the development of solar energy as a means for relieving the growing energy shortage which faces our nation and has assigned responsibility for the creation of this institute to the Energy Research and Development Administration; and

WHEREAS, the people of the State of Nebraska, through their elected representatives have introduced and will discuss legislation giving preferential tax treatment to people and businesses utilizing solar energy systems; and

WHEREAS, solar energy development, although a limitless source of energy for the needs of all people, has received little attention.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Executive Board of the Legislative Council appoint a special interim study committee to study the various features and developments of solar energy, and review the market-ability of solar energy systems.

2. That this committee solicit the assistance of and work together with the Dean of the Architecture College, the Dean of the Engineering College, and all architects and engineers in this state who exhibit knowledge and understanding of the problems and potentials of solar energy.

3. That this committee hold public hearings for the purpose of obtaining a better understanding of the feasibility of solar energy as a source of heating and cooling residential and public buildings.

4. That this committee, with the advice and assistance of the Dean of the Architecture College and the Dean of the Engineering College, develop a program of education and examination to qualify architects and engineers to develop and promote efficient solar energy systems.

5. That this committee should investigate all reasonable avenues of interest and concern in the area of developing, promoting, and marketing solar energy systems for residential and public buildings.

6. That, at the next regular session of the Legislature, this committee make any recommendations for legislation which are deemed rational and necessary in the area of solar energy.

Referrred to the Executive Board.

Friday, January 21, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

Whatever of the past or the future must pre-occupy our minds as we stand by our desks just now, O Lord, our God: enable us to become fully sensitive to the larger dimensions of the present moment. Prevent us from wasting the wonderful gift of time. Challenge us with an awareness of the potential for creativity and productivity with which every hour of life is endowed. So may we be recognized by our constituents as worthy representatives, and by our God as faithful servants. Amen.

COMMUNICATION

Department of Revenue

January 17, 1977

President of the Legislature
State of Nebraska State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Mr. President:

Pursuant to LB 684, Eighty-fourth Legislature, Second Session, I am hereby certifying to the members of the Legislature the amounts to be distributed to the counties for purposes of refunding technical community college taxes collected unlawfully. This revenue is necessary to reimburse property owners entitled to a refund or refunds of taxes collected and distributed to technical community colleges, pursuant to Section 79-2626, R.S.Supp., 1974. This statute was declared unconstitutional in the case of State ex. rel. Western Nebraska Technical Community College Area v. Tallon, 192 Neb. 201, 219 N.W.2d 454 (1974).

These amounts were certified to me by the county assessor and county treasurer of each county.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Sincerely,

(Signed) William E. Peters
State Tax Commissioner

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 4.

Introduced by Labedz, 5th District.

WHEREAS, the Legislature has taken the position that there should be protection for the life of the unborn child whenever possible; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature expressly deplores the destruction of unborn human lives which has and will occur in Nebraska and throughout the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Governor of this state has proclaimed the week of January seventeenth through the twenty-second of this year of nineteen hundred and seventy-seven, as RESPECT FOR ALL HUMAN LIFE WEEK; and

WHEREAS, there is a pitiful lack of legal protection for the right to life of the unborn child in Nebraska and throughout the United States as a result of the United States Supreme Court decision of January 22, 1973.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature of the State of Nebraska hereby request the Congress of the United States to hold hearings on proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States protecting the right to life of the unborn child.

2. That Congress be urged to submit the best such proposed amendment protecting the right to life of the unborn child to the legislatures of the several states for the purposes of ratification.

3. That such hearings and submission of the proposed amendment to the legislatures of the several states for the purposes of ratification.

4. That copies of this resolution duly certified by the Secretary of State with the Great Seal of Nebraska attached to thereto be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the Administrator of General Services, Washington, D.C. and to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Laid over.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Chambers requested a point of personal privilege on the policy by the Executive Board on the hiring of relatives. Mr. Marvel discussed the policy with the members.

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

TENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, January 24, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Dr. Robert B. Ohman from Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> Father, give to the members of this body a moment of quiet before they take up their duties for this day. Turn their thoughts to you, and open their hearts to your spirit, that they may have wisdom in their decisions, understanding in their thinking, love in their attitudes and mercy in their judgements. Let them not think, when this prayer is said, that their dependence upon You is over, and forget You the rest of the day.
> So help us all this day, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Ninth Day was approved.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Members Excused

Mr. Fitzgerald asked unanimous consent to be excused Tuesday, January 25. No objections. So ordered.

Mr. Maresh asked unanimous consent to be excused from 9:30 to 11:00 this morning. No objections. So ordered.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 8
January 20, 1977

Dear Senator Reutzel:

You have sent us a copy of L.B. 140, and have asked us about the constitutional validity of two provisions of the statute which would be amended by this bill. Ordinarily, in accordance with the policy outlined in the letter from Mr. Clarence A. H. Meyer, then Attorney General, to the Clerk of the Legislature, dated December 28, 1972, and found on page 36 of Volume 1 of the 1973 Legislative Journal, we do not give opinions to individual senators as to the constitutionality of bills which have already become law.

On the surface, it would appear that we would be precluded from giving you an opinion on the matters you ask about because of this policy. However, we have discussed this matter with you verbally, and we understand that one of the purposes of the bill is to repeal a possibly unconstitutional provision, and that you therefore need this opinion to determine the necessity of the passage of the bill.

Section 77-303.01, R.R.S. 1943, as it now reads, provides for hearings before the Tax Commissioner to determine whether county officials have violated rules, regulations, or directives of the Tax Commissioner, or any of the revenue laws of the State of Nebraska. The statute then provides that in the event it is found that a violation has occurred, the State Treasurer shall withhold distribution of all money to which the county may be entitled under the provisions of Chapter 66, article 4. After corrective action has been taken, the State Treasurer is directed to distribute 80 percent of the monies so withheld to the county in the event the violation has not been corrected before the hearing, and 90 percent in the event that corrective measures have been completed by the date of the hearing. The balance of 10 or 20 percent of the withheld distributions are to be forfeited by the county, and transferred to the state general fund.

After examining Chapter 6, article 4 of the statutes, we have concluded that it is not necessary for us to render an opinion as to the constitutionality of this provision, because it appears to be inoperative.

We have gone through all of Chapter 66, article 4 of the statutes, as amended, and find no provision therein for the transfer of any funds by the State Treasurer to the counties. At one time, section 66-421 provided for a fund to be known as the Gasoline Tax Fund. Sections 66-422 and 66-423 provided that a portion of the Gasoline Tax Fund should be transferred monthly to the various county treasurers on a basis set out in section 66-422, and allocated by the county treasurers on a basis set forth in section 66-423. However, section 66-421 was amended in 1969 to provide for a fund to be known as the Highway Trust Fund. At the same time, sections 66-422 and 66-423 were repealed. Distribution of the Highway Allocation Fund is made pursuant to section 39-2402, R, R. S. 1943. It therefore appears that no funds are distributed to the counties under the provisions of Chapter 66, article 4, and that a discussion of the constitutionality of section 77-303.01 involving this matter would be purely academic.

You also ask about the constitutionality of having an appointed official such as the Tax Commissioner removing or suspending an elected official. We gather that you are referring to the portion of section 77-303.01 which provides:

> "... Failure or refusal by any county officer to take the necessary corrective action according to law shall in and of itself be deemed grounds for suspension and removal of such officer in accordance with the procedure outlined in sections 25-21,147 and 25-21,148...."

We will discuss this question with the same understanding that we had with respect to your first question, that the purpose of your asking is to determine the necessity of repealing a possibly unconstitutional provision.

We believe your question involves a misunderstanding of the procedure authorized by section 77-303.01. This section does not authorize the removal or suspension of an elected official by the Tax Commissioner. Sections 25-21,147 and 25-21,148 provide that public officers who willfully fail, neglect or refuse to enforce any law which it is made their duty to enforce shall forfeit their offices and may be removed therefrom. The procedure for removal is set forth in section 25-21,148. It provides that the Attorney General or a special attorney designated by the Governor shall institute and prosecute a quo warranto proceeding in the Supreme Court against such officer. During the pendency of such proceedings the officer may be suspended by the Governor. If the court finds that the officer has willfully failed or refused to enforce the law, the court shall oust him from office. As you can see, section 77-303.01, read in pari materia with sections 25-21,147 and 25-21,148, do not provide for removal by the Tax Commissioner. You have suggested no constitutional problems with the quo warranto proceedings which are authorized.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

(a) The defendant, by the duties of his office or by his position, was obliged to prevent the particular offenses committed or to bring the offenders committing it to justice;

(b) The defendant held public office at the time of the offense, and the offense related to the conduct of that office; or

(c) The defendant utilized his professional reputation or position in the community to commit the offense, or to afford him or her an easier means of committing it, in circumstances when his or her example probably would influence the conduct of others; or

(6) The defendant was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of the offense.

Sec. 10. The following factors shall be accorded weight in favor of mitigating a sentence of imprisonment:

(1) The defendant's criminal conduct neither caused nor threatened serious harm;

(2) The defendant did not contemplate that his criminal conduct would cause or threaten serious harm;

(3) The defendant acted under a strong provocation;

(4) There were substantial grounds tending to excuse or justify the defendant's criminal conduct, though failing to establish a defense;

(5) The victim of the defendant's criminal conduct induced or facilitated its commission;

(6) The defendant has compensated or will compensate the victim of his criminal conduct for the damage or injury that he or she sustained;

(7) The defendant has no history of prior delinquency or criminal activity or has led a law-abiding life for a substantial period of time before the present crime;

(8) The defendant's criminal conduct was the result of circumstances unlikely to recur;

(9) The character and attitudes of the defendant indicate that he is unlikely to commit another crime;

(10) The defendant is particularly likely to comply with the terms of a period of probation; or

(11) The imprisonment of the defendant would entail excessive hardship to the defendant or the defendant's family or dependants. (sic)

Sec. 11. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, when any person is convicted of two or more felonies, whether in the same proceeding or court or in different proceedings or courts, and whether by judgment rendered by the same judge or by different judges, and the second or other subsequent judgment imposes a consecutive term of imprisonment, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all such convictions shall be the greatest term of imprisonment imposed by the judge for any of the crimes, including any increases which are imposed pursuant to section 9 of this act, plus one-third of the imprisonment prescribed for each other felony convictions for which a consecutive term of imprisonment is imposed without such enhancements.

(2) In the case of any person convicted of one felony which is committed while such person is confined in a state prison and the law either requires the sentences to be served consecutively or the judge imposes a consecutive sentence, the aggregate term of imprisonment for all convictions which such person is required to serve consecutively shall be the remainder of the term for which he was confined plus the term of imprisonment specified by the judge for the crime committed while confined in a state prison. If such person is convicted of more than one such felony in the same proceeding, and the law either requires each sentence to be served consecutively or the judge imposes a consecutive sentence, the aggregate term for all convictions which the person is required to serve consecutively shall be the remainder of the term for which he was confined plus the greatest term of imprisonment specified by the judge for any of such felonies plus one-third of the sentence prescribed for each other such felony conviction. The provisions of this subsection shall be applicable in cases of convictions of more than one offense in different proceedings, and convictions of more than one offense in the same or different proceedings.

(3) When the court imposes a prison sentence for a felony pursuant to this code, the court shall also impose the additional sentences, pursuant to section 13 of this act, for each prior prison term charged and proved in the instant case and for any other increases in sentence which the court determines in its discretion, or as required by law shall run consecutive to the sentence imposed. If the court determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the punishment prescribed, the court may strike the additional punishment; Provided, that reasons therefor are stated on the record.

Sec. 12. (1) Any person, who commits or attempts to commit any felony within this state while personally armed with any deadly weapon, upon conviction of such felony or of an attempt to commit such felony, shall in addition to the punishment prescribed for the crime of which he has been convicted, be punished by additional imprisonment for one year.

(2) Any person who uses a deadly weapon in the commission or attempted commission of a felony, upon conviction of such crime, shall, in addition to the punishment prescribed for the felony of which he has been convicted, be punished by additional imprisonment for a period of two years.

(3) In any case, except a homicide case, in which the defendant is convicted of a felony in which the infliction of serious bodily injury is not an element of the crime but in the course of the commission of such crime and with the intent to inflict such injury, the defendant inflicts such injury upon any rson other than accomplices, such fact may be charged in the indictment or information and if found to be true by the jury upon a jury trial, or if found to be true by the court upon a court trial, or if admitted by the defendant, defendant shall, in addition to the punishment prescribed for the felony of which he has been convicted, be punished by imprisonment in an institution under the jurisdiction of the Department of Correctional Services for a period of three years.

(4) Such additional period of imprisonment shall commence upon the expiration or other termination of the sentence imposed for the crime of which he or she is convicted and shall not run concurrently with such sentence; Provided, that if the court determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the punishment prescribed, the court may strike the additional punishment, and the reasons therefore shall be stated on the record.

Sec. 13. Additional prison terms for new offenses because of prior prison terms shall be imposed as follows:

(1) If the new offense is one of the violent felonies specified in subsection (3) of this section and the defendant is sentenced to prison therefor, in addition and consecutive to any other prison terms, the trial court shall impose a three-year term for each prior separate prison term served by the defendant when the prior felony was one of the violent felonies specified in subsection (3) of this act; Provided, that no additional term shall be imposed under this subdivision in any case in which the defendant has remained free of prison custody and free of felony conviction for ten years immediately preceeding the filing of an accusatory pleading that results in such felony conviction. If the court determines that there are circumstances in mitigation of the additional punishment prescribed, the court may strike the additional punishment, and the reasons therefor shall be stated on the record;

(2) Except when the provisions of subsection (1) apply, when the new offense is any felony for which a prison sentence is imposed, in addition and consecutive to any other prison term therefor, the trial court shall, unless specifically not ordered by the court with reasons therefor stated on the record, impose a one-year term for each prior separate prison term served for any felony; Provided, that no additional term shall be imposed under this subdivision in any case in which the defendant has remained free of prison custody five years immediately preceding the filing of an accusatory pleading that results in a new felony conviction. For the purposes of this subsection the defendant shall be deemed to remain in prison custody for an offense until the official discharge from such custody or until release on parole, whichever occurs first, including any time during which the defendant remains subject to arrest for escape from such costody;

(3) For the purpose of this section violent felony shall mean any of the following crimes for which the defendant served a separate prison term:

(a) Murder or voluntary manslaughter;

(b) Sexual assault;

(c) Child abuse;

(d) Kidnapping; or

(e) Any other felony in which the defendant inflicts serious bodily injury on persons, other than accomplices, and such has been alleged and proved;

(4) In no case shall the aggregate term for enhancement for prior terms exceed five years.".

7. Renumber original sections 9 through 342 as sections 14 through 347, respectively.

8. On page 245 after line 12 insert new sections as follows:

"Sec. 348. (1) Except where specifically prohibited by subsection (2) of this section the court may stay imposition or execution of sentence and place the defendant on probation, whether with or without supervision, and on such terms as the court may prescribe. The court shall stay imposition or execution of sentence and place the defendant on probation when the offense committed was a first offense involving fraud as set out in Article 6 of this code and did not involve in excess of five thousand dollars.

(2) The execution or imposition of sentence may not be stayed upon the conviction for a felony offense (a) involving death, or serious bodily injury, (b) during the commission of which felony, the offender was armed with a deadly weapon, (c) involving sexual assault, (d) in any case in which the defendant is convicted of a third felony offense within a ten year period, or (e) involving the unlawful manufacture or sale of drugs.

Sec. 349. As used in this code, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Board shall mean the Board of Parole;

(2) Committed offender shall mean any person who, under any provision of law, is sentenced or committed to a facility operated by the Department of Correctional Services or is sentenced or committed to the department, other than a person adjudged delinquent or in need of special supervision by a juvenile court;

(3) Facility shall mean any prison, reformatory, training school, reception center, community guidance center, group home, or other institution operated by the Department of Correctional Services;

(4) Maximum term shall mean the maximum sentence provided by law or the maximum sentence imposed by a court, whichever is shorter;

(5) Minimum term shall mean the minimum sentence provided by law or the minimum sentence imposed by a court, whichever is longer;

(6) Pardon authority shall mean the power to remit fines and forfeitures and to grant respites, reprieves, pardons, or commutations;

(7) Parole term shall mean the time from release on parole to the completion of the maximum term, reduced by parole time granted pursuant to section 83-1,108 and good behavior good time granted under the provisions of sections 83-1,107 and 83-1,107.01;

(8) Person committed to the department shall mean any person sentenced or committed to a facility within the department;

(9) Department shall mean the Department of Correctional Services;

(10) Director shall mean the Director of Correctional Serivces(sic);

(11) Good time shall mean any reduction of sentence granted pursuant to sections 83-1,107, 83-1,107.01, and 83-1,108; and

(12) Determinate sentence shall mean a sentence established and fixed by law, in proportion to the seriousness of the offense, to be imposed by the trial court within specified discretionary limits.

Sec. 350. (1) The chief executive officer of each facility shall establish and maintain, in accordance with the regulations of the Division of Corrections, an individual file for each person committed to the division. Each file shall include where available and appropriate:

(a) His admission summary;

(b) His presentence investigation report;

(c) His classification report and recommendation;

(d) Official records of his conviction and commitment as well as any earlier criminal records;

(e) Progress reports and admission-orientation reports;

(f) Reports of any disciplinary infractions and of their disposition;

(g) His parole plan for all persons committed under indeterminate sentencing provisions; and

(h) Other pertinent data concerning his background, conduct, associations, and family relationships.

(2) Any decision concerning the classification, reclassification, transfer to another facility, preparole preparation, or parole release of a person committed to the division shall be made only after his file has been reviewed. The content of the file shall be confidential and shall not be subject to public inspection except by court order for good cause shown and shall not be accessible to any person committed to the division.

(3) The program of each person committed to the division shall be reviewed at regular intervals and recommendations shall be made to the chief executive officer concerning changes in such person's program of treatment, training, employment, care and custody as are considered necessary or desirable.

(4) The chief executive officer of the facility shall have final authority to determine matters of treatment classification within his facility and to recommend to the Director of Corrections the transfer of any person committed to the division who is in his custody.

(5) The Director of Corrections may at any time order a person committed to the division to undergo further examination and study for additional recommendations concerning his classification, custodial control, and rehabilitative treatment.

Sec. 351. The Board of Parole shall:

(1) Determine the time of release on parole of committed offenders eligible for such release;

(2) Fix the conditions of parole, revoke parole, issue or authorize the issuance of warrants for the arrest of parole violators, and impose other sanctions short of revocation for violation of conditions of parole for those persons committed under indeterminate sentencing provisions;

(3) Determine the time of discharge from parole;

(4) Visit and inspect any facility, state or local, for the detention of persons charged with or convicted of an offense, and for the safekeeping of such other persons as may be remanded thereto in accordance with law;

(5) Serve in an advisory capacity to the Director of Corrections in administering parole services within any facility and in the community;

(6) Interpret the parole program to the public with a view toward developing a broad base of public support;

(7) Conduct research for the purpose of evaluating and improving the effectiveness of the parole system;

(8) Recommend parole legislation to the Governor;

(9) Review the record of every committed offender, whether or not eligible for parole, not less than once each year. Such review shall include the circumstances of the offender's offense, the presentence investigation report, his previous social history and criminal record, his conduct, employment, and attitute (sic) during commitment, and the reports of such physical and mental examinations as have been made. The board shall meet with such offender and counsel him concerning his progress and his prospects for future parole;

(10) Make rules and regulations for its own administration and operation;

(11) Appoint and remove all employees of the board and delegate appropriate powers and duties to them;

(12) Transmit annually to the Governor a report of its work for the preceding calendar year, which report shall be transmitted by the Governor to the Legislature;

(13) Exercise all powers and perform all duties necessary and proper in carrying out its responsibilities under the provisions of this act;

(14) Be the releasing authority for all persons committed to the Department of Correctional Services under determinate sentencing provisions; and

(15) Hear appeals, on a quarterly basis, of any denials or reductions of earned good time.

Sec. 352. (1) Credit against any term may be given to an offender for time spent in custody as a result of the criminal charge for which a prison sentence is imposed or as a result of the conduct on which such a charge is based. This shall specifically include, but shall not be limited to, time spent in custody prior to trial, during trial, pending sentence, pending the resolution of an appeal, and prior to delivery of the offender to the custody of the Department of Correctional Services.

(2) Credit against any term may be given to an offender for time spent in custody under a prior sentence if he is later reprosecuted and resentenced for the same offense or for another offense based on the same conduct. In the case of such a reprosecution, this may include credit in accordance with subsection (1) of this section for time spent in custody as a result of both the original charge and any subsequent charge for the same offense or for another offense based on the same conduct.

(3) If an offender is serving consecutive or concurrent sentences, or both, and if one of the sentences is set aside as the result of a direct or collateral proceeding, credit against any term of the remaining sentences may be given for all time served since the commission of the offenses on which the sentences set aside were based.

(4) If the offender is arrested on one charge and prosecuted on another charge growing out of conduct which occurred prior to his arrest, credit against any term of any sentence resulting from such prosecution may be given for all time spent in custody under the former charge which has not been credited against another sentence.

(5) Credit for time served may only be given in accordance with the procedure specified in this subsection:

(a) Credit to an offender who may be eligible therefor under subsections (1), (2), and (4) of this section shall be set forth as a part of the sentence; or

(b) Credit to an offender who may be eligible therefor under subsection (3) of this section may only be given by the court in which such sentence was set aside by entering such credit in the fianl(sic) order setting aside such sentence.

Sec. 353. (1) The chief executive officer of a facility shall reduce for good behavior the term of a committed offender as follows: Two months on the first year, two months on the second year, three months on the third year, four months for each succeeding year of his term and pro rata for any part thereof which is less than a year. The total of all such reductions shall be credited from the date of sentence, which shall include any term of confinement prior to sentence and commitment as provided pursuant to section 352 of this act, and shall be deducted:

(a) From his minimum term, to determine the date of his eligibility for release on parole;

(b) From his maximum term, to determine the date when his discharge from the custody of the state becomes mandatory; and

(c) From his definite term, if committed under determinate sentencing, to determine the date when his discharge from the custody of the state becomes mandatory.

(2) While the offender is in the custody of the Department of Correctional Services or the Board of Parole, reductions in such terms of imprisonment shall be certified monthly by the chief executive officer of the facility, and such reductions shall be irrevocable once certified. Denial of good time reductions shall be limited to the month during which the cause for such denial took place.

(3) Appeals concerning denial of such reductions in any term of imprisonment shall be to the Board of Parole and shall be heard quarterly.

(4) Good time or other reductions of sentence granted under the provisions of any law prior to the effective date of this code, may be forfeited, withheld, or restored in accordance with the terms of this code.

Sec. 354. (1) In addition to the reductions provided in section 353 of this act, an offender shall receive, for participation in educational or employment programs, sociological development programs, or rehabilitation opportunities, a further reduction of five days for each month of his term. The total of all such reductions shall be deducted from his maximum term to determine the date when his discharge from the custody of the state becomes mandatory.

(2) While the offender is in the custody of the Department of Correctional Services or the Board of Parole, reductions in such terms of imprisonment shall be certified monthly by the chief executive officer of the facility, and such reductions shall be irrevocable once certified. Denial of good time reductions shall be limited to the momth during which the cause for such denial took place.

Sec. 355. (1) The Board of Parole shall reduce for good conduct in conformity with the conditions of his parole, a parolee's parole term by two days for each month of such term. The total of such reductions shall be deducted from his maximum term, less good time reductions granted under the provisions of sections 353 and 354 of this act, to determine the date when his discharge from parole becomes mandatory.

(2) Reductions of parole terms may be forfeited, withheld, and restored by the Board of Parole after the parolee has been consulted regarding any charge of misconduct or breach of the conditions of his parole.

Sec. 356. The Board of Parole shall take into consideration the sentence terms and sentence reductions provided in this code and the penal philosophy embodied therein, in its deliberations relative to parole, probation, release, or other disposition of persons committed to the custody of the Department of Correctional Services who have been sentenced under indeterminate sentencing provisions.

Sec. 357. The Provisions of sections 83-1,112 to 83-1,117, 83-1,121, and 83-1,122 to 83-1,126, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and sections 83-1,110, 83-1,111, 83-1,118, 83-1,119, 83-1,120, 83-1,123, and 83-1,126.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, shall apply only to persons committed to the custody of the Department of Correctional Services under indeterminate sentencing provisions prior to the effective date of this code.".

9. Renumber original sections 343 through 346 as sections 358 through 361, respectively.

10. On page 246, line 7 after the comma insert "sections 83-178 and 83-192, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and sections 83-170 and 83-1,105 to 83-1,108, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976,".

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

ELEVENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 25, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was given by Dr. Robert B. Ohman, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> Our Father, as we continue with You this day, we thank You for lessons to learn and for work to do. May we apply ourselves to both. As our representatives from our state here sincerely seek to do right, make it plain to them. Knowing that criticism will come, help them to take from it what is helpful, and to forgive what is unjust and unkind. Amid all the pressures brought upon them, may they still hear Your voice, and follow Your guidance for the good of all the people, that Your Will may be done in this state, through these servants. We also ask that You will support our U.S. Representative John Cavanaugh and his family in the death of his father. Heal their source of loss and grief. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all the members were present except Messrs Brennan, Fitzgerald and Luedtke who were excused.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Tenth Day was approved.

MOTION–Rule Change

Mr. Barnett offered the following rule change:

Rule 1 – Officers and Employees
Sec. 12. President Decide Order of Speaking. The President may speak to a point of order in preference to members, and shall decide the questions or order, subject to ~~an appeal~~ a challenge to the Legislature by any member, on which ~~appeal~~ challenge no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the Legislature. A majority of the elected members ~~may overrule the Chair.~~ shall be required to sustain the chair at any time the chair is challenged by a member of the Legislature. The chair shall state the subject of the challenge clearly prior to putting the matter to a vote and shall phrase the question as follows:

CHAIR: The question is, "Shall the decision of the chair be sustained?"

Referred to the Rules Committee.

ADJOURNMENT

At 9:19 a.m., on a motion by Speaker Luedtke, the Legislature adjourned until 9:00 a.m., Thursday, January 27, 1977.

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

THIRTEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, January 27, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Dr. Robert B. Ohman from Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> Our Father, in the middle of the complicated situations of life and the unsolved problems of the world, deliver these elected representatives from any sense of futility. Enable them to understand that God's power has never been obstructed by difficulties, nor has love been limited by the confusion of human plans. May the very failure of our best resources and ideas impel us toward the resources of God. Grant that all questions immediately before us may be made so plain that we shall have no doubts as we make our decision, or regrets after it is made. For Jesus's sake. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Koch and Kremer who were excused, and Mr. Newell who was absent until 9:40 a.m.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

A STATEMENT OF POLICIES ESTABLISHED BY THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL EXECUTIVE BOARD 1977

BILL REFERRAL

Bill Referral Policies Established by the Legislative Council Executive Board
1977

January 11, 1977:

Motion was made by Senator Jack Mills, seconded by Senator Roland Luedtke, that the following policy be established relative to the procedure of receiving objections to the referral of bills: The protest must be received from either the introducer of the legislation, the Chairman of the committee to which the bill was originally referred, or the Chairman of the committee to which the bill is reassigned. Motion carried by a vote of seven ayes and two absent and not voting.

Motion was made by Senator Stoney, seconded by Senator Luedtke, that the members of the Legislature be duly notified by entering into the Daily Legislative Journal the following policy which the Executive Board has adopted regarding the reference of bills. The motion was adopted by a vote of seven ayes and two absent and not voting.

> Any protest regarding the referral of bills must be received from either the introducer of the legislation, the Chairman of the committee to which the bill was originally referred, or the Chairman of the committee to which the bill is reassigned".

A motion was made by Senator Mills, seconded by Senator Savage, that if an appeal in the matter of bill referral is brought before the Executive Board in the proper manner, said appeal must be acted upon either affirmatively or negatively. Motion was adopted by a vote of seven ayes and two absent and not voting.

PERSONNEL

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 6, 1977

A motion was made by a Senator Savage, seconded by Senator R. Lewis, that the Chairman of the Executive Board be authorized to appoint a Task Force consisting of three members of the Board to commence to gather whatever information is available on employee policy and related areas, and report back to the Executive Board on Monday, January 10, 1977. The function of this Task Force would be to bring to the Board some recommendations as to future employee policy. Motion carried.

Appointed to the Task Force were: Senator Jack Mills, Senator Steve Fowler, and Senator William Nichol.

Personnel Policies Established by the Legislative Council Executive Board 1977

January 11, 1977

A motion was made by Senator Steve Fowler, seconded by Senator John Savage, that the following personnel policy be established by the Executive Board pertaining to all standing committees, with the exception of the Appropriations Committee. The motion was adopted by a vote of six ayes and three absent and not voting.

"Research staff up to one fulltime annual position. Person will be co-assigned to Dr. Rodger's office, especially during the interim. Staff available to both committee members and to the full Legislature. Priority for research requests shall be the chairman first, committee second, and the full Legislature third. Committee may request additional research assistance from the Executive Board. (Includes special studies and grants.)

"Committee Clerk - up to one fulltime secretary/administrative assistant.

"For the committee chairman - up to one fulltime secretary/administrative assistant."

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 17, 1977

A motion was made by Senator Richard Lewis, seconded by Senator Larry Stoney, that Option 1a of the attached be accepted with the stipulation that Dr. Jack Rodgers, Director of Research, be given sufficient latitude in hiring procedures to take care of the demands of legislators for research assistance. Motion carried.

1a. One fulltime annual position administrative assistant/secretary. Rely on student interns and committee staff for research information.

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 18, 1977

A motion was made by Senator William Nichol, seconded by Senator Richard Lewis, that the Executive Board continue the present agency policy of not paying overtime to the Senator's secretaries. Motion carried by a unanimous vote of the Board.

A motion was made by Senator Steve Fowler, seconded by Senator Douglas Bereuter, that the Executive Board approve the practice of the carry-over of unused vacation time by legislative employees for the present year, and that this policy be thoroughly reviewed by the Task Force on Personnel for a decision on recommendations for ensuing years. Motion carried unanimously.

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 19, 1977

A motion was made by Senator Savage, seconded by Senator R. Lewis, that the Executive Board allow Senator Pat Venditte to continue to have his wife as his secretary until the end of the present 90-day legislative session.

A motion was made by Senator Bereuter, seconded by Senator Fowler, to amend the Savage motion to read "furthermore, it should be the policy of the Legislature not to permit immediate members of the family of senators to be employed by the Legislature effective July 1, 1977." Motion carried by a vote of 7 ayes and 2 nays. The Savage motion, as amended, carried by a unanimous vote of the Board.

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 25, 1977

A motion was made by Senator Bereuter, seconded by Senator Savage, that the Mills Task Force proceed with the review of salaries and report back to the Board with recommendation on minimums and maximums for the various types of legislative personnel, including research, counsel, administrative assistants/secretaries, committee clerks, and the Assistant to the Speaker. Motion carried by a vote of 9 ayes.

TRAVEL

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 6, 1977

A motion was made by Senator Jack Mills, seconded by Senator John Savage, that a Task Force of three members of the Board be appointed to formulate a travel policy for the Legislature and for legislative staff. Motion carried.

Appointed to the Task Force were: Senators Larry Stoney, (Chairman, Intergovernmental Cooperation); Doug Bereuter, and Richard Lewis.

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 17, 1977

A motion was made by Senator Savage, seconded by Senator Luedtke, that the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee continue using the guidelines as set out in the Stoney letter of January 10, 1977. Motion carried. (Copy of letter attached).

Motion was made by Senator Fowler, seconded by Senator Lewis, that the Savage motion be amended to read that such travel limitation include that a legislator may travel on a subject related to legislation that they have introduced or are considering introducing. Motion carried.

January 10, 1977

TO: EXECUTIVE BOARD, LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

FROM: Larry D. Stoney, Chairman, Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee

As Chairman of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee, I would ask for confirmation of the Executive Board to either retain, implement, or refine the following practices and procedures:

1. Travel Authorization – Guidelines for travel by designated personnel have been established and confirmed by the Executive Board. All travel requests must be submitted to the Chairman of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee in writing no later than one week prior to anticipated travel. The person requesting travel will be notified as promptly as possible as to whether the request has been approved or denied. When travel requests are approved, the Legislative Council and Accounting Office will be notified so that necessary reservations can be made and debits made to the proper accounts.

2. Expense Vouchers – It is imperative that vouchers for expenses for authorized travel be submitted within thirty days after return.

3. Interim Committees – Interim study committees are authorized to incur normal expenses on instate travel. Extraordinary expenses anticipated to be incurred for week long trips within the state as well as all travel outside the state must have prior approval by the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee. Committee Chairmen are asked to seek approval by request for themselves, committee members, and staff who will be participating.

4. Individual travel during interim – Senators requesting expenses for individual in-state, and out of state travel must obtain prior approval. This can be obtained through the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee Chairman.

5. Senatorial staff and secretaries – Travel by such persons will be prohibited except in extraordinary cases. In these extraordinary cases, prior approval must be obtained by the requesting senator through the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee. In those cases where approval is obtained, the staff expense vouchers must be countersigned by the requesting senator.

6. State owned or privately chartered aircraft – All such requests must be made and approved by the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee. The request must be in writing and signed by the senator making the request before the trip is made.

7. Committee Staff Travel – All requests for committee staff travel in accompaniment or in lieu of committee chairman or committee member must have the majority approval of the appropriate committee. All requests meeting the above criteria must then be made and approved by the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee before the trip is made.

8. Travel Report Requirements – In addition to senators providing agendas for meetings attended prior to travel where applicable, each will be required to submit upon return, a brief report covering the meeting. Copies of these reports will then be distributed to the Committee responsible for subject matter, or the Legislature collectively. Subsequent trips will not be approved unless there is strict adherence to this practice.

9. Travel Limitations – Travel will be limited to those making requests to their individual areas of responsibility. As an example, legislators will be limited in traveling on subjects relating directly to their individual committee assignments. To be approved, travel must relate to legislative rather than personal responsibilities.

10. Travel disapproval appeals procedure – Any person requesting travel which is denied by the Intergovernmental Cooperation Committee will have an opportunity to appeal. That appeal can be made by petitioning the Executive Board of the Legislature. The decision of the Executive Board will be final.

COFFEE

Legislative Council Executive Board

January 10, 1977

A motion was made by Senator Bereuter, seconded by Senator Stoney, that the Legislature continue the procedure established during the 1976 session, of allowing each member, employee, etc., to contribute to the coffee fund (each person to furnish his or her own cup), and the fees assessed be in accordance with costs. Motion carried.

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FOURTEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, January 31, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Our Father, before we become involved in the routine of another day, we stop to seek Thy help. Experienced in the ways of men so well, we know all too little of the ways of God. But Thou knowest each one of us, by name and by need. Therefore, turn our wayward minds and hearts to Thee. Forgive our faults and failures that we have committed in the past and set us free from them. Forgive our failure to apply to ourselves the standards of conduct we demand of others. Forgive our slowness to see the good in others or to see the evil in ourselves. In our differences may we be kind; in our agreements may we be humble, that Thy will be done in us and through us in our beloved State. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mrs. Marsh who was excused; Mr. Kremer who was excused until he arrives; and Mr. Chambers who was excused until he arrives.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Thirteenth Day was approved.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Member Excused

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 7. By Venditte, 7th District.

I move the adoption of a resolution that we as a Legislative body, being fully aware of our National energy crisis and the impact it will undoubtedly have on the State of Nebraska, refer this problem to the proper Committee for immediate study and action.

If Legislation needs to be drafted this committee would give this action highest priority as we must do something now about the energy crisis before Nebraska begins to feel its affects as much of the rest of the Country already has. Our reserves will probably be taken if President Carter has his way in mandating that the distribution of energy be equally shared throughout the Country.

I respectfully request and recommend that as a part of this resolution we request the Governor to declare a state of emergency and that through the power vested in him that he order the closing on Sundays of all retail stores throughout the State effective immediately; and that he order all public buildings closed except during regular hours. I respectfully request that this resolution be adopted so as to prevent the closing of our state schools at all levels and the closing of industry which would force unemployment.

The correct path is by no means obvious. But one thing is clear: Making the decisions cannot be avoided, or very long postponed. And it is one of the hallmarks of this technological age that not to decide is to decide by default.

It has been extravagant use of energy that has pushed man toward heavy exploitation of his natural resources.

In closing, I quote the great Ralph Waldo Emerson who said, "Nature never gives anything away. Everthing is sold at a price. It is only in the ideals of abstraction that choice comes without consequence."

Mr. Venditte moved to suspend the rules, Rule 4, Sec. 6, to consider LR 7 today.

Mr. Venditte moved for a Call of the House. The motion prevailed with 21 ayes, 1 nay, 24 present and not voting, and 3 absent and not voting.

The Call showed 46 members present.

Mr. Venditte requested a roll call vote.

Voting in the affirmative, 35:

Barnett	Bereuter	Boughn	Brennan	Burrows
Carsten	Clark	Cope	Cullan	Duis
Fitzgerald	Fowler	George	Kahle	Keyes
Labedz	Lamb	F. Lewis	Luedtke	Maresh

The motion to suspend the rules prevailed with 35 ayes, 7 nays, 4 present and not voting, and 3 absent and not voting.

Mr. Savage moved the Call be raised. The motion prevailed with 40 ayes, 0 nays, 6 present and not voting, and 3 absent and not voting.

Mr. Koch moved the previous question. The question is, "Shall the debate now close?" The motion prevailed with 25 ayes, 13 nays, 8 present and not voting, and 3 absent and not voting.

LR 7 failed with 15 ayes, 21 nays, 10 present and not voting, and 3 absent and not voting.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> We know, our Father, that there is a time to speak and a time to keep silent. Help us to tell the one from the other. When we should speak, give us the courage of our convictions. When we should keep silent, restrain us from speaking, lest, in our desire to appear wise, we give ourselves away. REPORT OF CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Summary Report of Activities for the Years 1975-1976
To be Filed with the Legislature
Filed January 31, 1977

During the preceeding two-year period the Conflicts of Interest Committee of the State of Nebraska conducted a total of two (2) official hearings as a result of complaints brought before the Committee by members of the public. The more significant of these was pertaining to alleged improper activities of members of the Public Service Commission. A report of the Committee's findings as to this matter were made public upon completion of the official hearing.

In addition to the above official hearings, the Committee issued three (3) advisory opinions in response to valid requests for such advisory opinions.

The remaining activities of the Committee were confined to general daily business operations and procedures.

This report is filed in accordance with statutory provisions of LB 75, Nebraska's Conflicts of Interest Law.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 11
January 28, 1977

Dear Senator Bereuter:

You have asked that we review LB 172. LB 172 establishes building height restrictions within specified areas of the City of Lincoln adjacent to the State Capitol Building. These defined areas are denominated the Capitol Environs District. The restrictions set forth in LB 172 apply to all real estate owned by private, quasi-public or local governmental units. The City of Lincoln is directed to "insure through its inspection and permit process that the maximum height restrictions prescribed by this section for the Nebraska Capitol Environs District are enforced." Section 3(6) provides that the City of Lincoln may impose lower height restrictions than required by LB 172. Section 4 authorizes the state, city and county to participate in landscaping, special lighting, decorative walkway, fountain, and other beautification projects within the Capitol Environs District. Section 5 authorizes those three governmental units to enter into joint financing of such activities. You specifically raise the question of whether the state may enact such legislation in view of the general zoning authority granted to the City of Lincoln.

The power to zone arises by virtue of the sovereignty of the state. In Nebraska it has been determined that municipalities and counties may enact zoning legislation only as authorized by statute or the Constitution. Peterson v. Vasak, 162 Neb. 498, 76 N.W.2d 420. Such regulations may only be exercised as provided for by the statutes conferring the zoning power. Some states have held that where a zoning statute supersedes an existing local zoning ordinance or regulation, the statute is paramount and controls. Texas Co. v. City of Tampa, 100 F.2d 347, and Attorney General v. Inhabitants of the Town of Dover, 327 Mass. 601, 100 N.E.2d 1. Thus, as a general proposition the state, through the Legislature, has the ultimate authority in determining the manner and method of exercising the power to zone.

LB 172, however, does not specify the manner in which the city is to zone; rather, it creates zoning areas and restrictions relating to one aspect of zoning within defined areas. However, we find no constitutional prohibition on such action. A similar question arose in City of Grand Island v. Ehlers, 180 Neb. 331, 142 N.W.2d 770. Legislation was enacted authorizing the creation of industrial area zones outside the boundaries of incorporated cities. Cities were authorized to extend their zoning regulations to the area one mile beyond their boundaries by other enactments. Our Supreme Court said:

> ". . . To a large degree, the position is premised on the rule that there cannot be at the same time within the same territory two distinct municipal corporations exercising the same powers, jurisdiction, and privileges. This rule applies in a territory in which two municipal corporations of like kind and powers attempt to function coincidentally. However, this inhibition is limited to a situation where the jurisdiction, powers, and privileges conferred on the conflicting governmental agencies are substantially coextensive in scope and objective, and no objection exists to the power of the Legislature to authorize the formation of two municipal corporations in the same territory at the same time for different purposes. . . ."
> 180 Neb. at 336.

Thus, it is our opinion that the Legislature may create such zones as proposed by LB 172.

We have not overlooked the provisions of Article III, section 18, of the Constitution. It may be argued that LB 172 constitutes local or special legislation restricted to a particular area within the City of Lincoln. While some merit may be attached to such argument, it may also be argued that a unique situation exists with respect to the State Capitol and its immediately surrounding area. Therefore, a general law is not required.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

MOTION – Rule Change

Mr. Warner offered the following rule change:

Amend Rule 5, Section 6 (g) to read as follows: When any bill proposes adoption of a new program or change of an existing program either of which would require an appropriation of $50,000 or more to implement in the ensuing fiscal year an appropriation bill for the purposes of funding the provisions of such bill shall be prepared from the information contained in the fiscal note. Such appropriation bill shall be prepared ~~by the Fiscal Analyst and~~ at the direction of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Such bill shall be placed on General File and considered as introduced by the introducer of the original bill at the time the original bill is reported to General File, shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "A" added (for example LB 1A), and shall accompany the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. However, if the original bill is reported by committee to General File with committee amendments, the "A" bill shall be introduced by the committee which is reporting the original bill to the floor and placed on General File. The "A" bill accompanying the original shall include the funding required by the committee recommended amendments. No vote, suspension of the rules, or unanimous consent shall be required for the introduction of an "A" bill. All bills for which an "A" bill is prepared shall be bracketed on Final Reading until the "A" bill is advanced to Final Reading. The authorization bill shall first be considered and if it should be passed on Final Reading then the "A" bill shall be read and voted on for final passage.

Referred to the Rules Committee.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 12
January 31, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of January 26, 1977, you ask if the provisions of Legislative Bill 50 eliminating the prohibition against public office holders and public employees from qualifying for the office of city councilman in cities under the city manager plan of government will be retroactive if enacted.

The Nebraska Supreme Court in Housand v. Sigler, 186 Neb. 414, 183 N.W.2d 493, has held that legislation operates prospectively only unless it clearly indicates retrospective operation. Legislative Bill 50 contains no language of any kind indicating an intent to make its provisions retroactive.

Therefore we would be of the opinion that Legislative Bill 50 would not be retroactive in its application in the event it is enacted by the Legislature.

Sincerely,

Paul L. Douglas
Attorney General

MOTION—Escort Governor

Speaker Luedtke moved a committee be appointed to escort the Governor to the Chamber.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Warner, Hasebroock, Bereuter, Savage, and R. Lewis.

The committee returned and excorted the Governor J. James Exon to the rostrum.

The Governor delivered the following address on the National Energy Crisis:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, and citizens of the State of Nebraska.

"We have a very immediate serious situation confronting us in the United States. . . .I address myself to the power shortage in terms of energy, energy of all kinds.

Here in Nebraska today, we have a serious shortage of natural gas availability. . .electrical power. . .and our national resources. . . .are being depleted at an alarming rate. . . .let me emphasize that I am not talking just about industrial expansion, but heat and lights for people's homes."

Those words that I have just spoken are not new words for today's special message on energy. Rather they are from a talk I gave nearly four years ago, on March 14, 1972, to the Conference on World Affairs at Kearney State College. They are as true today as they were then and points up the cruel and devastating circumstances this nation finds itself in now because of the lack of establishment of a viable national energy plan during the last four years.

Unfortunately, America is in a dire emergency in the winter of 1976-77, and there is no chance whatsoever that the overall emergency will end this year or next, or the year after that unless the United States of America wishes to enslave itself further to foreign governments.

Oil imports are now approaching 50% of our present demands, this is devastating to our balance of payments making our nation an overall importer rather than our traditional role as an exporter. If oil imports are allowed to continue their upward expansion unabated, the industrial might of America is threatened and our defense posture itself could be crippled.

Imagine our situation if we woke up one morning to find that half our oil supplies had been cancelled.

These considerations may not be important as we face the present energy crisis. Nevertheless, the people must be informed on all phases of the energy problems if government expects their full cooperation on conservation and sacrifice which is the only possible course of action now.

There can be no legitimate quarrel for us to share any natural gas that we can spare to temporarily assist other Americans in the east whose homes are cold.

President Carter will probably sign into law today strictly temporary energy legislation nearly unanimously passed by the Congress. This special presidential authority, good for only a few months, essentially will allow three actions.

1. Transfer of natural gas from one section of the nation to another.

2. Full presidential authority to employ both interstate and intrastate pipelines to accomplish necessary reallocations.

3. Gives the President the authority to set prices on natural gas as he deems appropriate in the transfer process.

I have indicated Nebraska cooperation to these temporary procedures so long as the federal authorities recognize that we are sharing only for purpose of heating homes as opposed to furnishing fuel for industrial usage.

The office of the President's Energy Advisor, Dr. James Schlesinger, has assured me this is their only intention.

All should be alert to the total problems that any shift in one energy supply, in this instance natural gas, has to the corresponding deteriorating effect on other fuel sources, particularly diesel supplies, heating oils, and propane.

Many natural gas users with interruptable contracts from suppliers have standby alternative heating sources such as propane and heating oil. We must realize that any natural gas reassignments can have a "domino" effect on other fuel sources.

Weather is the largest unknown factor we face. If weather predictions are accurate, we can anticipate continuance of the unusually cold winter east of the Rocky Mountains.

In Nebraska, the energy picture is tight and could get tighter. While we do not anticipate, at this time, the serious consequences being experienced in the eastern section of the United States, conservation is a must and we once again call upon the people for voluntary sacrifices. The Nebraska people are, as always, our greatest source of strength, and I know they will respond positively once again.

Conservation of electric power is also vital. There have been excessive demands in this area that caused a serious near breakdown of a multistate grid network last week. In addition, many of Nebraska's municipal power plants are extensive users of fuel oils for their generating capabilities.

We are taking action at the state level. Last week, at my direction, we temporarily waved weight limit restrictions on large truck transports to expedite fuel deliveries. The Department of Environmental Control authorized the temporary burning of coal at a Lincoln generating plant that was using oil fuels.

I am today declaring by proclamation a Special Energy Emergency for 60 days. This will request all users, including public utilities, to take whatever steps are necessary to curtail use of oil products to protect dwindling supplies.

The Nebraska Public Power District will temporarily waive rate schedules and wheeling tariffs which will facilitate the sale and exchange of electricity.

I am requesting that all business establishments, plants, government buildings, schools, and others where practical, reduce heating over weekends to a maintenance level of 45 degrees or less.

To recap, I am proposing a six point program for at least a 60-day period to help assure Nebraska its jobs and its minimum heat and power needs:

1. The Governor's proclamation for conservation in homes by reducing thermostats to a level between 55 to 58 degrees at night and between 65 to 68 degrees other times. Government, business and industry are requested to do likewise.

2. Electric power conservation to help reduce fuel consumption by generating facilities.

3. Temporary conversion from fuel to coal by industry or others where possible.

4. Reductions of all buildings including plants and schools to at least 45 degrees over weekends where reasonable.

5. Cooperation of jobbers and dispensers of fuel to carefully allocate supplies to customers.

6. Creation of a Legislative Subcommittee, possibly of the Legislative Council, to work closely with the State Energy Office and the Governor.

At this time, I see no need for specific legislation since I believe voluntary actions will suffice. Still, over the long pull, there may be a necessity for some new laws. Legislative hearings to help develop constructive proposals when and if necessary could be helpful.

Working together in understanding, and depending primarily on the good sense and dedication of the Nebraska people, we will solve this latest challenge to "Nebraska, The Good Life."

The Committee escorted the Governor from the Chamber.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 193. Title read. Considered.

Standing Committee amendments found in the Journal on page 308 for the Thirteenth Day were adopted with 36 ayes, 0 nays, 9 present and not voting, and 4 excused and not voting.

Mr. Bereuter offered the following amendment:
Amendment to LB 193

After "Council," on line 18 of page 3, insert the following sentence:

Furthermore, it is recognized that the State Department of Education has been and is the agency given the primary responsibility for assisting the Legislature review the performance of elementary and secondary schools in the use of state aid funds; therefore, the Legislative Fiscal Analyst will, whenever possible, work through the State Department of Education if a performance review is conducted on state aid programs for elementary and secondary education.

Mr. F. Lewis offered the following amendment to the Bereuter amendment:

To strike "whenever possible" line 5 from the Bereuter amendment.

The F. Lewis amendment lost with 12 ayes, 23 nays, 11 present and not voting, and 3 excused and not voting.

Mr. DeCamp asked unanimous consent to bracket LB 193 until February 20.

Mr. Bereuter objected.

Mr. DeCamp moved to bracket LB 193 until February 20. Motion pending.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 13
February 1, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

On January 26, 1977, you requested the opinion of this office concerning the constitutional validity of L.B. 36, which allows the merger of municipal and county governments in a county containing a city of the primary class. In our opinion, L.B. 36 is constitutionally questionable.

L.B. 36 allows the merger of the county and the primary class city into a single municipal government which shall perform all, or substantially all, of the governmental and corporate functions previously performed by the county and municipality. Such would appear to implicitly dissolve the governments of both the county and the municipality.

As a general principal, both municipal corporations (cities) and quasi-municipal corporations (counties) are creatures of the Legislature and as such are subject to the plenary power of the Legislature, subject only to restrictions contained in the Constitution. The Nebraska Supreme Court, in City of Milford v. City of Omaha, 185 Neb. 617, 177 N.W.2d 576 (1970), held that the Legislature may provide for the dissolution of a municipal corporation even though the municipal corporation had adopted a home rule charter. It therefore appears clear that the Legislature may provide for the dissolution of the primary class city. A question arises, however, whether the same is true concerning the dissolution of the county.

Counties appear to enjoy a somewhat unique position in the State of Nebraska. The Nebraska Supreme Court early recognized this in State ex rel. Hart v. Morehead, 99 Neb. 527, 156 N.W. 1067 (1916). In that case, the Court recognized that county governments are local in their nature and that the Constitution protects them in their right of local self-government, citing the predecessor of Article IX, Section 4. The court stated that when the Constitution of 1875 was adopted county government had been given the right to legislate upon certain local matters; such a condition was assumed in the Constitution. That same analysis would apply today since, like then, the Constitution appears to assume the existence of a county government. The Constitution, in Article IX, protects the territorial integrity of all counties and compels the Legislature to provide for the election of such county officers as may be necessary; Article VIII,Section 5 places a taxing limitation on county authority; and throughout the Constitution, reference is made to counties in miscellaneous provisions. In Dwyer v. Omaha-Douglas Public Building Commission, 188 Neb. 30, 195 N.W.2d 236 (1972), the Supreme Court in dicta stressed this unique character of county government and stated that the Legislature probably lacks the power to dissolve the county. The court stated as follows beginning on page 43:

> "It does appear that counties as subdivisions of government did and do occupy a unique place in the eyes of the drafters and the people, the ratifiers, of the Constitution. See Article IX. It would appear the Legislature probably cannot substantially destroy the counties by removing all or substantially all of their functions while merely respecting their territorial integrity as required by Article IX. . . ."

L.B. 36 does "substantially destroy the counties by removing all or substantially all of their functions," or at least it authorizes the same to be done by authorizing the functions of the county to be performed by the new consolidated government. It certainly seems apparent that the Legislature cannot delegate the decision to dissolve county governments if it cannot itself make that determination. For that reason, it is our opinion that L.B. 36 is of questionable constitutionality.

In addition to the constitutional question pointed out above, other constitutional questions may arise depending upon the content of the charter which would be drafted for the single municipal government. For example, a potential problem could be raised by Article IX, Section 4, if a "necessary" county officer were appointed rather than elected. See, State ex rel. O'Connor v. Tusa, 130 Neb. 528, 265 N.W. 524 (1936).

For the reasons stated above, it is our opinion that the constitutional validity of L.B. 36 is questionable.

Yours very truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 14
February 2, 1977

Dear Senator Lamb:

You have asked if LB 339 of the Eighty-Fifth Legislature, First Session (1977) is constitutional. Consequently we have reviewed LB 339 and the same is hereinafter discussed.

If enacted into operative law, LB 339 would ipso facto repeal the statutory power whereby the technical community college board of governors for a technical community college area may certify to the county board of equalization of each county within the area a mill levy of not to exceed two mills, uniform throughout such area, for the purpose of supporting operating expenditures of that technical community college. Until June 30, 1980, said boards would be able to certify to the county board of equalization of each county within the area a mill levy of not to exceed one mill for the purpose of establishing a capital improvement fund, a bond sinking fund, or for the retirement of general obligation bonds. However, commencing on the effective date of LB 339, no tax levied pursuant to subsection (1) of Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-2650, as amended, could be used for new capital construction except for those projects where actual construction contracts have been let. Thus LB 339 would eliminate property taxes as a source of revenue to operate the technical community colleges. That, however, does not necessarily raise a constitutional issue. Nor do we find any such issues in LB 339. Thus on its face, we are of the opinion that LB 339 is constitutional.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOULGAS

REPORT OF PLANNING AND PROGRAMMING

January 31, 1977

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
Room 2018, State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

As required by Section 84-156 R.S., 1976 Supp., I am submitting the enclosed report to the Legislature concerning the State Office of Planning and Programming's review of county and municipal land use regulations under Laws 1975, LB 317. The report includes the nature and extent of our findings and the extent that procedural corrections were made or not made by the counties and municipalities.

Sincerely,

(Signed) W. Don Nelson

WDN/klf
Enclosure

Report to the Legislature on Laws 1975, LB 317
by the State Office of Planning and Programming

In 1975, the Nebraska Legislature enacted LB 317 (84-151 to 84-160, R.S., 1976 Supp.) which gave certain duties to the State Office of Planning and Programming (SOPP) in the area of land use planning and regulation. The SOPP is required to annually examine the land use regulatory programs of all counties and municipalities in the state to insure that the procedures, practices, and related actions of these local programs are consistent with state law. The initial review was to be completed by January 1, 1977. The existing programs are to be reexamined and new regulatory programs are to be examined annually thereafter.

Under the procedures set by section 84-156, R.S. 1976 Supp., a confidential letter is to be sent to each municipality or county examined listing the procedures, practices, and actions that were found to be inconsistent with state law and a corresponding list of suggestions for correcting the deficiencies. After one hundred twenty days of the delivery of the letter, the SOPP is to publish a report in the newspaper of general circulation in the municipality or county involved which describes any deficiencies which remain uncorrected.

Pursuant to the law, the SOPP drafted a set of rules to implement the review program. Notice of the hearing on the rules was placed in the Omaha World-Herald, the Lincoln Star and Lincoln Evening Journal, the Scotts Bluff Star-Herald, and the North Platte Telegraph. Notice was also sent to all counties and municipalities, several agricultural organizations, the League of Nebraska Municipalities, the Nebraska Association of County Officials, the Nebraska Association of Resource Districts, the Nebraska Public Power District, the Nebraska Legislative Council, the Senators on the Agricultural and Environment Committee, the Public Health Committee and the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature, the Councils of Government in Nebraska, and ten agencies of the State of Nebraska and the University of Nebraska. A hearing on the rules was held on November 3, 1975, in the State Capitol, Lincoln, Nebraska, and shortly thereafter the rules were officially adopted. A copy of the rules and a letter explaining the law was then sent to all counties and municipalities in the state. Each county and municipality was asked to submit a copy of their land use regulations to the SOPP.

The review of the land use regulations began shortly after January 1, 1976, and continued throughout the year. Each of the county and municipal zoning and subdivision regulations submitted was compared to existing state law and any inconsistencies were noted. If inconsistencies were found, a certified letter was sent to the county or municipality listing the inconsistencies and suggesting how they could be corrected. If no inconsistencies were found, a letter to that effect was sent to the county or municipality.

A majority of the inconsistencies found in the zoning and subdivision regulations fell within four major categories. The largest number of inconsistencies had to do with boards of adjustment. The law on the boards of adjustment were amended in 1975 and many counties and municipalites failed to amend their regulations to comply. Another frequent inconsistency was the failure to follow the statutory definition of subdivision containing the size of the parcels that were exempt from the local subdivision regulations. This law had also been amended in 1975. Other inconsistencies included failure to hold the required public hearings or failure to give proper notice when the zoning regulations were adopted. Several local governments failed to meet the requirement that a comprehensive development plan as defined by statutes be adopted before they could enforce the zoning regulations. Chart No. 1 is a summary of the findings. The Local governments are grouped by class and the inconsistencies described above are each listed. Some counties and municipalities were found to have more than one deficiency in their zoning and subdivision regulations.

Findings of Review of Local Land Use Regulations under Laws 1975, LB 317

	County	Metropolitan Primary and First Class Cities	Second Class Cities	Villages
Number Reviewed	21	21	42	33
No Inconsistencies Found	5	11	12	7
Inconsistent with State Law on Board of Adjustment	15	1	16	22
Inconsistent with State Law on Definition of Subdivision	9	7	11	4
Improper Hearing or Notice	1	4	6	5
Insufficient Comprehensive Development Plan	4	0	2	2
Other Inconsistency	1	0	2	2

Upon receiving the certified letter listing the areas where the land use regulations were inconsistent with state law, a county or municipality was given one hundred twenty days to make corrections. Most local governments corrected the deficiencies found in their zoning and subdivision regulations. The SOPP staff made several trips to communities around the state to give assistance and also wrote several sample ordinances to help the local governments comply with the law.

If the deficiencies are not corrected within one hundred twenty days, section 84-156, R.S 1976 Supp., requires the SOPP to publish a list of the deficiencies in the local newspaper. Publication of such lists was done in several instances where the local government had taken no action during the one hundred twenty day period and indicated that they intended to take no action in the future. Chart No. 2 summarizes the status of the corrections made by the local governments.

Reactions of Local Government to Results of Review

	Corrections Completed	Corrections In Progress	No Corrections Made (Published in Newspaper)
County	10	6	0
Metropolitan Primary and First Class Cities	9	1	0
Second Class Cities	17	11	2
Villages	18	8	2

A total of twenty three thousand, eight hundred dollars was budgeted for the implementation of LB 317 for the year. This includes fifteen thousand dollars for personnel and eight thousand eight hundred dollars for other expenses. Major expenses include printing costs for the printing of rules, questionnaires, and memos to local governments; mailing costs for sending information to local governments and for normal correspondence including the certified letters; travel expenses for trips to assist local governments; and other administrative expenses.

The annual review process has begun for 1977. Counties and municipalities were notified and have begun to submit their land use materials. The regulations to be reviewed in 1977 include the amendments made to the land use regulations reviewed in 1976; the land use regulations adopted by counties or municipalities in 1976; and the land use regulations of counties and municipalities which did not submit any information during 1976.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 16
February 7, 1977

Dear Senator Rasmussen:

You have requested the opinion of this office concerning what state employees would be covered by the authorization for time and one-half overtime under LB 88. For clarification, in this opinion we concern ourselves only with the purported scope of the legislation, not with its propriety or validity.

LB 88, as introduced and read on January 6, 1977, amends section 81-117, R.R.S. 1943. Section 81-117 is part of the civil code of the State of Nebraska. The departments and the department heads to which the civil code applies are enumerated in sections 81-101, R.S.Supp., 1976, and 81-102, R.S.Supp., 1976. It is therefore our opinion that section 81-117, as amended by LB 88, would apply only to the employees of the departments enumerated in section 81-101.

You have also requested the opinion of this office concerning the effect that a proposed amendment to LB 88 would have on the same question. The amendment you have proposed defines "employee" as used in section 81-117, and thereby expands the coverage of that section accordingly.

> "Section 1. As used in section 81-117, unless the context otherwise requires, employee shall mean an employee of any state agency, department, commission, board, or office, except (1) state employees who hold a publicly-elected office of the State of Nebraska, (2) state employees who serve as a chief administrative officer for a state agency, department, commission, board, or office, and (3) all academic personnel of the University of Nebraska and the state colleges."

The proposed amendment broadens the application of section 81-117 beyond merely the code departments to those agencies, departments, commissions, boards, and officers listed in section 1 of the proposed amendment.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 17
February 7, 1977

Dear Senator Boughn:

You have requested an opinion from this office regarding which state employees would be covered under the overtime provisions outlined in LB 88 and LB 235, respectively. For clarification, in this opinion we concern ourselves only with the purported scope of the respective pieces of legislation, not with their propriety or validity.

It is our opinion that LB 88, as introduced and read on January 6, 1977, would apply only to employees of the departments listed in section 81-101, R.S.Supp., 1976. LB 88 amends section 81-117, which is a portion of the civil code of the State of Nebraska. Sections 81-101 and 81-102, R.S.Supp., 1976, respectively enumerate the departments and the department heads which are referred to in section 81-117.

LB 235 defines, in section 1(2), employee as follows:

"(2) Employee shall mean any individual employed by a state agency, department, commission, board, or office other than an individual who holds a publicly-elected office of the State of Nebraska or who serves as a chief administrative officer for a state agency, department, commission, board, or office, specifically including all non-academic personnel of the University of Nebraska and the state colleges;"

LB 235 then excludes certain persons from the operation of the act, i.e. professionals, and provides special provisions or others, i.e. firemen and policemen. The employees to whom the overtime provisions would apply under LB 235 are considerably broader than those contained in LB 88 as it applies to the agencies, departments, commissions, boards, or offices referred to above rather than merely to the code departments.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 8.

Introduced by Warner, 25th District; Dworak, 22nd District; F. Lewis, 45th District; Marvel, 33rd District; Stoney, 4th District; Savage, 10th District; Murphy, 17th District.

WHEREAS, postsecondary education has made a significant contribution to the successful growth and development of the State of Nebraska for more than 100 years; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska's future success requires a coordinated, statewide system of postsecondary educational services; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes the importance of providing reasonable access to postsecondary educational opportunities at an acceptable cost to citizens; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature bears the primary and continuing responsibility for insuring the achievement of statewide postsecondary educational goals and objectives; and

WHEREAS, the existing statutory role and mission statements for the respective postsecondary educational institutions and systems are general and lack specificity; and

WHEREAS, the coordination of postsecondary education requires the development of clear statewide educational policies and the redefinition of institutional and system roles and missions; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes the necessity for citizen, student, institutional, and system participation in developing clear and specific role and mission statements for the institutions of postsecondary education.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Nebraska Postsecondary Education Advisory Committee, upon the enactment of LB 459 (1977), institute a process for the redefinition of the roles missions of Nebraska's public institutions and systems of postsecondary education.

2. That the Nebraska Postsecondary Education Advisory Committee be charged with the responsibility for directing the role and mission redefinition process and to issue guidelines for institutional and system role and mission development not later than May 1, 1977.

3. That the Nebraska Postsecondary Education Advisory Committee issue role and mission development guidelines that provide for the following:

a. A report from each public postsecondary institution and system and their governing board to the Nebraska Postsecondary Education Advisory Committee of its current role and mission and academic program plans not later than June 1, 1977;

b. Definitions of the terms role and mission to be used by the state's public postsecondary institutions and systems in preparing their proposed role and mission statements for review and approval by the Nebraska Postsecondary Education Advisory Committee; and

c. A clear statement of the process that each public postsecondary institution, system, and governing board will utilize in the development of their proposed role and mission statements including provisions for faculty, student, and citizen involvement in role and mission development.

4. That each of the state's public postsecondary institutions and their governing board submit to the Nebraska Postsecondary Education Advisory Committee proposed role and mission statements for their review and approval by September 1, 1977. The proposed role and mission statements to include recognition of the following:

a. That current role and mission statements are inadequate and unacceptable as a framework for future program and service development and review. It should be understood that current institutional and system programs are not necessarily considered to be part of an institution's role and mission and are subject to review and modification;

b. Role and mission statements must clearly identify the institution's program and services priorities in the areas of instruction, research, and public service;

c. Each institution must identify its primary program and service emphasis at the vocational, technical, baccalaureate, masters, doctoral, and professional level;

d. Each institution must indicate and clearly reveal those programs and service areas it intends to pursue and develop independently, those areas it will not develop, and those areas that will be developed in cooperation with other secondary and postsecondary institutions; and

e. Each institution must identify its role and mission within the context of all postsecondary institutions operating within its service region and within the state.

5. That the Nebraska Postsecondary Edcuation Advisory Committee will review and modify, as appropriate, the role and mission statements submitted by the public postsecondary institutions and their governing boards and present these role and mission statements for public hearing by November 1, 1977.

6. That the Nebraska Postsecondary Education Advisory Committee will present to the 1978 regular session of the Legislature recommended role and mission statements for each public postsecondary institution, system, and their governing boards and such other recommendations as may be related to role and mission identification and development.

Mr. Warner moved that LR 8 be referred to the Education Committee for public hearing. The motion prevailed with 30 ayes, 0 nays, 15 present and not voting and 4 excused and not voting.

GENERAL FILE

LEGISLATIVE BILL 220. Title read. Considered.

Standing Committee amendments found in the Journal on page 329 for the Fifteenth Day were adopted with 28 ayes, 0 nays, 17 present and not voting, and 4 excused and not voting.

Mr. Dworak raised a point of order on whether an "A" bill is needed on this bill.

FIRST SESSION

TWENTIETH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, February 9, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Almighty Father, in decisions before us which effect the lives of human beings, give us an equation between the telescopic and the microscopic view of life. May we endeavor to see issues in their minute details and also from a long range perspective. May we not be adsorbed in the tyranny of trifles and lose the meaning of the larger issues. Give us clear minds. May we not be submerged in indecisions which multiply our problems, divide our worth, add to our sleeplessness, and subtract from our value to the people of our state. In our Lord's name. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 18
February 7, 1977

Dear Senator Warner:

You have requested the opinion of this office concerning the constitutionality of the passage of LB 76 as passed by the 1976 Session of the Legislature. You have asked this question in light of the opinion of Federal District Judge Denney in the case, Nebraskans for Independent Banking, Inc. v. Omaha National Bank, decided on November 30, 1976.

Ordinarily in accordance with the policy outlined in the letter from Mr. Clarence A. H. Meyer, then Attorney General, to the Clerk of the Legislature, dated December 28, 1972, and found on page 36 of Volume 1 of the 1973 Legislative Journal, we do not give opinions to individual senators as to the constitutionality of bills which have already become law. However, it is our understanding that you are asking this question in order to determine the necessity of taking appropriate action to cure a possible constitutional defect. For the reason that we are therefore dealing with proposed legislation to cure a possible defect, we will render an opinion.

Judge Denney's opinion in Nebraskans for Independent Banking, Inc. v. Omaha National Bank, held unconstitutional LB 763 of 1976 as having been enacted in contravention of Article III, section 14 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska. LB 763 originally related to building and loan associations and to the providing of the same advantages of federal savings and loan associations to them. On March 1, 1976 LB 763 was amended so as to relate to financial institutions and providing for attached auxiliary teller offices. The bill was then expedited and adopted on March 4, 1976. Judge Denney made the factual determination that the amendment relating to commercial banking was not germane to the original bill concerning building and loan associations so that under the Constitution of the State of Nebraska the amendment should be treated essentially as a new bill and may not be passed until five legislative days after its introduction under Article III, section 14. For the reason that the required 5 days was not complied with, Judge Denney held that LB 763, as relating to commercial banking, was passed in an unconstitutional manner.

LB 76 was originally introduced in 1975 as a bill relating to school retirement systems and providing that deposits in the school employees' savings fund may be made by the school district. On March 25, 1976, the fifty-sixth legislative day, LB 76 was substantially amended so as to delete all provisions concerning the school retirement fund and to provide for the increase in judges' salaries. LB 76, as amended, was passed by the Legislature on April 7, 1976, the sixtieth legislative day. Upon first blush it would appear that LB 76 encounters the same constitutional difficulty as LB 763. However, we believe that there is a substantial difference which adequately distinguishes it from LB 763. The amendment to LB 763 was apparently a new subject introduced before the Legislature only on March 1, 1976. The amendment to LB 76, however, was not a new subject. LB 697, which dealt with the increase in judges' salaries, was initially read on January 8, 1976, and was placed on General File on February 4, 1976. The subject of LB 697 was essentially the same as the subject contained in the amendment to LB 76. We therefore believe it can be successfully argued that the amendment to LB 76 had been before the Legislature for in excess of the five required days before final passage, although not under the same legislative bill number. We note that the Constitution does not require either that legislative bills have numbers or that if numbers are assigned that a legislative bill carry the same number through the entire process. We also note an additional fact which serves to distinguish the amendment to LB 76 from the amendment to LB 763. On March 25, after LB 76 was returned to Select File for the amendment noted above, the Chair upon request, ruled that the amendment was germane. A court would have to determine that the ruling of the Chair was erroneous in order to determine that the amendment was not germane. This a court would normally be somewhat reluctant to do.

In summary, although a substantial question is presented concerning the constitutionality of the method by which LB 76 was passed, it is the opinion of this office that the method used in passing LB 76 is sufficiently distinguishable from that method used to pass LB 763 for the reasons expressed above so that the constitutionality of LB 76 could be successfully defended.

Yours very truly,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 9.

Introduced by Dworak, 22nd District.

WHEREAS, the State Board of Nursing is the agency of state government responsible for the licensing and supervision of Nebraska's registered nurses and licensed practical nurses; and

WHEREAS, effective monitoring and supervising of the nursing profession is necessary for the protection of the public health, safety, and welfare of the people of Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the delivery of quality health care services on a statewide basis depends in large measure on the continued availability of quality nursing personnel in all areas of Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the State Board of Nursing must carefully balance the needs and desires of all segments of the nursing profession, as well as the health care delivery system and the general public; and

WHEREAS, some controversy has developed regarding the State Board of Nursing's responsiveness to those whom it serves.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Committee on Public Health and Welfare conduct an interim study of the State Board of Nursing, its functions and operations.

2. That the committee examine the Board of Nursing's licensure and examination process, as well as methods by which it promulgates and adopts policies, rules and regulations.

3. That the committee study the manner in which individuals are appointed to the State Board of Nursing, the organization of the board, its administrative placement within Nebraska state government, and the manner in which it balances the wide variety of interests which it must serve.

4. That the committee conduct such public hearings in such locations as it deems necessary to receive cross section of testimony and opinion regarding the State Board of Nursing and its operations, and that the committee make a report of its findings together with any recommendations it may have for possible legislative action to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

MOTION—Fiscal Bills Policy

Mr. DeCamp moved that the following policy and procedure be adopted by the Nebraska Legislature and put into effect by the Speaker:

(1) That all legislative bills reaching final reading which establish or create a new tax be bracketed on final reading and held there until such time as the appropriation bills are ready to be dealt with by the Nebraska Legislature on final reading. (2) That all legislative bills reaching final reading having a fiscal impact of $50,000 or more be bracketed on final reading until such time as the Legislature's appropriation bills are ready to be dealt with on final reading. (3) That a daily record of the total fiscal impact of legislative proposals passed off general file be kept track of and reported in total each day by the Speaker to the Legislature so that the Legislature will have full knowledge of the tax consequences of any proposals made by the Governor which would result in tax increases or by any individual Senator which would do the same. (4) That the Legislature adopts this motion and procedure with the understanding that the impact of any new programs or new taxes proposed by the Governor and any tax increases or consequences resulting from the Governor's proposed budget and any new taxes or tax increases or consequences resulting from legislative proposals should be understood by the Legislature prior to enacting any piecemeal legislative programs, new taxes or tax increases.

Laid over.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Withdraw Objection on LB 220

Mr. Dworak asked unanimous consent to withdraw his objection to LB 220 of yesterday. No objections. So ordered.

Thursday, February 10, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> In this prayer, O God, we come to Thee as children to a loving father. We pray that thou wilt help our Senators to face the problems that confront them, not alone by giving them wisdom greater than their own, but also by relieving their minds of all other anxieties.
> May they now turn over to Thee loved ones who need the healing touch of the great physician, with every confidence that thou wilt hear our prayer of intercession, and as we do the work that is before us, that thou wilt do thy work of healing in those whom we love. May thy help be so plain and practical in our family affairs that we shall come to believe strongly in the help that thou dost offer in our state affairs. Deliver thy servants from personal worries, that they may be able to give themselves wholly to the challenge of this hour. In Jesus' name. Amen.

MOTION – Escort Governor

Speaker Luedtke moved a committee be appointed to escort the Governor to the rostrum. The motion prevailed.

The Committee escorted Governor J. James Exon to the rostrum where he delivered the following State of the State and Budget Address.

State of the State and Budget Address
Governor J. James Exon
February 10, 1977

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Thank you for allowing me to appear before you today for the purpose of delivering the annual message on two vital subjects, the State of the State and presentation of the Governor's Budget for Fiscal 1977-78.

I am pleased to report that the State of the State is good, and the overall economy continues its growth.

Holding the line on the sales and income tax rates again is a principal consideration of my budget recommendations. I earnestly appeal to the Legislature to accept that concept above all others. My budget is tight, but prudent, and will insure the further sound development of our state and meet state government's realistic financial needs.

During 1976 the expansion of our economy did not fully recover from the 1975 nationwide recession, and this caused reductions in anticipated state revenues. Present indicators show that Nebraska's overall economic recovery is now occurring at a somewhat faster pace than the nation as a whole, but I urge caution on spending.

During 1976, we experienced a 3% increase in the total number employed over 1975. Personal income for the first three quarters of 1976 was 10% higher than the same period a year earlier. Manufacturing employment at the end of last year exceed 90,000 which was 7% above the same figure for 1975. That is twice the percentage increase for the nation as a whole in this category.

Expansion of industrial plants and new locations last year will generate 3,700 new jobs, an approximate 50% expansion over 1975. The 61 new manufacturing investments announced in 1976 is a ten-year high. While the unemployment rate has been reduced somewhat, any dramatic change this year will depend primarily on the success of federal pump priming efforts.

Nebraska was up one third in new housing permits the first three quarters in 1976 over the previous year. Our tourism industry had its best summer, when over seven and a half million non-residents visited all parts of our state. Tourism receipts to our economy approached nearly a half billion dollars.

Recent studies reflect that our population has grown faster than our neighboring states. We desire to continue to increase in this category, but at a measured rate.

While the overall picture for 1976 was good and predicted to improve this year, there is a most serious question mark about our number one industry, agriculture. The past year was not a good one for our farmers and ranchers, agriculture has been hit by three maladies simultaneously: drought, low prices, and steadily increasing costs of production essentials. A healthy Nebraska economy cannot be sustained unless there is an equalization of these three serious problems facing our agricultural producers. New and improved federal agricultural policies have been promised.

We have had three years of some degree of drought. Last summer, I found it necessary to declare half of our counties disaster areas.

There is scientific evidence that supports concerns that we may be in a severe drought cycle, the type that has economically devastated the midwest previously.

As we proceed, we must be aware of this primary threat to our farmers and ranchers and the possible detrimental effect on our economy. To do otherwise would be irresponsible.

This does not mean that we should proceed with trepidation as we face the most important consideration of this or any other legislative session.. . .the building of a prudent and workable budget, based upon balancing income with outgo.

This is February 10. Ninety days from now we will have a much clearer picture of the extent of the drought and three additional months of actual revenue receipts. By that time we will also have a better understanding of how the energy crisis will affect Nebraska. By May 10, then, probably about the time your honorable body will be making your final budget determinations, the Nebraska economic situation will be in clearer focus. By that date, if there are substantial changes not currently predictable, I shall advise you of any necessary alterations in my budget recommendations. I emphasize now that if revenue predictions are not holding then, further painful reductions might be necessary in capital construction and other areas.

By careful planning and employing a businesslike approach to the state's resources and obligations, in full cooperation with the State Treasurer, we will continue to manage any temporary cash flow problems that may occur during the last five months of this fiscal year by temporarily calling on, if necessary, some future obligated but currently available funds which are not a part of the General Fund. We have always kept the state in the black. We have been operating a multi-million dollar business with less than desirable working capital. We need at least a 6% overlevy next year to guard against possible drought connected revenue losses and to assist in any cash flow problems.

Unlike subdivisions of state government, who know almost precisely what their income will be when preparing budgets for the next year, we at the state level do not enjoy that dollar income guarantee. We must rely on "estimates" of how much will be received from sales and income taxes. It is well known that revenue projecting is an inexact science because of the unknown variables affected by the uncertainty of economic conditions across the state and the health of the national economy which also affects Nebraska. That is why the state law requires a "reserve," or "overlevy," after total appropriations are set. Our Department of Revenue has done a good job over the years on estimates, missing by only 5% of their projections last year; but that left a shortfall of $21 million in anticipated receipts. Coupled with minimum reserves allowed by law and excessive expenditures, a problem developed. For the first seven months of this year, primarily because of low farm prices, drought, and the unfavorable national economic picture, we are now approximately $13 million below expectations. The first five months of this fiscal year were below estimates while the last two months have been right on projections, or slightly improved. However, the June 30 year-end balance will be low - just one more reason demanding spending restraints.

The executive budget represents a sound and solid work product completed after extensive and time consuming deliberations. No decisions were easy. I have reduced by $37 million agency requests to bring the budget within the framework where we can hold the line on sales and income tax rates and still meet essential needs.

Despite the $37 million reductions I have made from agency and department requests for operations and state aid next year, total general fund expenditures are recommended at $473 million, up $36 million or 8% from the current year. To that recommended expenditure, we must add $29 million for the 6% reserve, $7.3 million for minimum capital expenditures, and $6 million for increased food tax exemptions which all appear to accept as fair and necessary. This brings total general fund obligations and reserves to $515 million, the same figure estimated in total receipts and carry-over funds at the fiscal year. The executive budget is therefore balanced and based upon no increase in sales and income tax rates.

All revenue sharing and cigarette tax funds are obligated for capital construction, most of which have been previously appropriated by the Legislature.

As stated, my suggestions include an additional $6 million necessary to raise the food tax credit from $16 to $20 per person. If the Legislature can make reductions in my budget to cover the additional multimillion dollars necessary to eliminate the sales tax on food at the grocery counter altogether, I would agree, provided other necessary functions are not eliminated in the process. A better method of finally eliminating completely the sales tax on food at the grocery counter which I have always supported, might be the suggested phased plan over two years on raised credits then elimination of this tax. However, you struck that idea yesterday.

Because of my budget reductions as to requests and rejection of new spending programs already introduced in this body, there will be heard howls of anguish minutes or seconds after I have finished here this morning. That will be nothing, however, and I warn the Legislature accordingly, to the outpouring you will hear if you, by your actions, cause raises in the state sales and income tax rates. I urge you to accept the fact now that you have only essentially $473 million to appropriate. You have the prerogative of changing my specific recommendations within that total, make reductions and additions where you think best, as my recommendations are not considered infallible. But please, again I urge, accept the fact first that you have only that $473 million to spend. There are areas that I also would have liked to recognize, but budget restraints dictated by priorities prevented that.

A case in point can be made in how well we have done for university financing when we consider that just three years ago the University General Fund Budget was only approximately half of what I am recommending next year.

I urge once again that the Legislature set up a proper display in this chamber that will show daily your maximum $473 million spending limit and reduce that amount accordingly each time you authorize expenditures.

I recommend once again that all nonessential "A" Bills be held in your Appropriations Committee to be brought forth by that committee with its final total recommendations so that you may have an accurate figure on total appropriations before you act.

The Legislature should be alerted to the fact that already there has been introduced new spending measures in this body this year totaling over $80 million. That figure, coupled with the $37 million I have recommended for elimination from agency requests shows that you have a total of at least $117 million to reduce. The Legislature must now begin its job to set priorities on spending and establish limits. You have a lot of "No" saying to do to many, including some of your own.

Forty percent of the increase in General Funds over last year is necessary because of long-range legislative predetermined commitments. While I have disagreed with some, I bow to past legislative dictates and have funded all your previous ongoing decisions including an additional $13 million for personal property relief, which will bring that single reimbursement to subdivisions of the state to $53 million next year.

Another additional $1.3 million is required for homestead exemptions.

The breakdown of state spending under my budget matched against total anticipated state dollar receipts shows the following percentage allocation for next year:

52.3% in aid to subdivisions of state government (primarily counties, municipalities, and school districts) and individuals.

24.4% to higher education (the university and the four state colleges).

23.3% to all other services and operations of the state.

With the bills presented here this morning, we have developed a new format. All state generated funds that are paid out to subdivisions of state government and not spent by the state itself are in the form of separate bills so that all may clearly understand where the money goes.

Hopefully, this might help quell the great hue and cry that fills these halls each year at this time with trumpeted demands that state coffers must be tapped again and again, more and more, from the magnificent and mysteriously endless pot of gold that majestically pours forth from the big tall building in Lincoln.

Many new spending demands for more state aid are usually cloaked in the familiar and near sacred garb of providing tax relief. We have had nearly ten years of the sales and income taxes and hundreds of millions of dollars of expenditures for tax reduction schemes, and yet, no meaningful tax relief. For example, when the Legislature passed the "tax relief" bill for business inventory over my veto in 1972, it set in motion a phased program that has so far cost the General Fund a total of $88 million, and that total will grow to $141 million next year.

The time has come to call a halt, or at least a long pause and careful reconsideration, before we plunge down the same spending road that has proven only thus far that it leads to a black bottomless spending pit from whose bourn no traveler or dollar ever returns.

We will now turn to some specific agencies and my recommendations.

The new capital construction budget is extremely limited. We have funded all necessary and requested funds for maintenance repairs and renovations as first priority. This carries a cost figure of $7 million. There are only three new structures recommended, all items that have been long delayed because of budget restraints.

First, is a needed tractor testing facility for the agricultural campus at $1 million. Second, is the long delayed health, physical education and recreational building at the Omaha campus at $4 million, reduced from their request of $7.3 million. There will be claims that the Governor's recommendations are not sufficient. We have checked recent costs of similar facilities at other campuses, and are convinced that amount is adequate. Third, a badly needed physical education facility at Peru State College at $1.7 million, reduced from the requested figure of $2.8 million.

The University of Nebraska, and education in general, has always received my strong support and will in the future. We can all be proud of our great university and its excellence and must assure its viable future.

Yet, I have strenuously objected to what I consider some excessive appropriations and the general feeling by some that the substantial increase I have recommended each year was just a starting point for bargaining with the Legislature for even more additional spending. The university has been amazingly successful in lobbying the Legislature even over my vetoes. Nevertheless, I shall persist in doing what I believe to be right and reasonable.

By most standards of measurement, the University of Nebraska and higher education in general in Nebraska is financially supported near the top in any state-by-state comparison. The "chronicle of higher education" and other nationally recognized studies show that higher education in Nebraska is prospering. In the latest standings among states, we rank fifth from the top in the past two years of percentage of increased tax funds for higher education, up 43%. We also rank fourth from the top in this category for the past ten years, up 457%. Only three other states in the nation share the distinction with Nebraska of ranking in the top ten states in both the last two and ten year categories of increased percentage spending of tax dollars for higher education. Those other three states with us in this elite category are Alaska, Idaho and Texas.

A case in point can be made in how well we have done for university financing when we consider that just three years ago the University General Fund budget was only approximately half of what I am recommending next year.

I was astounded when the university requested a further General Fund increase for operations of 18% for fiscal year 1977-78, after receiving increases of 23% in 1976-77, 20% for 1975-76, and 25% for 1974-75, remember this is a compounding increase each year, building and building as the years go by.

Depite the mammoth capital construction increased authroizations each year, the university has requested new monies totaling over $52 million primarily for construction and renovations in the next two to three years. Included in that figure was preliminary planning and the development of cost estimates for at least eight new structures planned for construction in the near future. We cannot afford that and maintain operation funds to guarantee quality education at Nebraska.

During all of this period of startling increased tax dollars appropriations for operations, we have also seen vast new construction expenditures and plans for more, while student full-time equivalent enrollment has been static or declining.

The requested 18% increase for next year of $112 million for operations is far in excess of real need, and I am recommending an overall 6.5% addition for the university system for a figure of $100.8 million, up from $94.6 million this year. My recommendation is in line with recent suggestions by some members of the Board of Regents. In capital construction, I have allowed essentially only maintenance and repair requests, in addition to the tractor testing and HPER construction.

I again call for allowing great flexibility for the Regents in carrying out their management duties and allotment of expenditures.

There has been created a Regent's Discretionary Fund, and I recommend at least $700,000 from that source go to further improve the institute of agriculture.

I am providing the Regents the opportunity to reduce the central administration to half its present size, to convert employees into staff for the Regents, to reallocate resultant savings of approximately half a million dollars to program improvements at the campuses, and to restore the three Chancellors to more traditional roles of leadership in and for their academic communities.

While ultimate decisions should be made by the Regents, I have some firm recommendations on the medical school. Our medical college has developed into a highly regarded facility with expertly qualified faculty and a good physical plant for medical teaching and research. Nebraska taxpayers have handsomely expanded funding for our medical college in recent years with the hope and promise that more general practice physicians would be available for rural practice. I have not been satisfied with the results.

The State Department of Health has accumulated some rather alarming statistics that prove my point. In the first half of the 1960's, the medical school graduated 382 physicians and 22 of those are practicing in rural Nebraska; in the last half of the sixties, the graduates totaled 419, but only 11 are in rural practice; in the first half of the 1970's, there were 683 graduates, but only 7 are currently in rural practice. The higher the total graduates, the less we find locating in areas of primary concern. We do not wish to place a damper on research or those seeking training in any area of medicine. Rather, we insist on more concentration on family practice as a better recognized specialty. Most recently the medical school added on one extra year of training for graduates, a move that unquestionably will deter us further in meeting our urgent need, unless we can integrate that extra year into the present residency program.

It is obvious that a strong message must be sent, one that cannot be misunderstood, through the Regents and to the medical college. I am suggesting a three-point program to solve this problem.

First, I am recommending placing $1 million of the Medical School's budget request in the hands of the Regents to be expended only upon satisfactory demonstration by the school to the Regents that current trends will be reversed and how they propose to accomplish same. The age-old professional excuses and jargon will not suffice.

Secondly, I am suggesting a relatively small amount of funds to support the Nebraska Health Manpower Referral Office, headed by your former colleague, Senator Tom Kennedy, in support of his ongoing efforts to recruit more qualified physicians from whatever the source.

Thirdly, I am recommending by a bill introduced here this morning for your approval to create a commission on Rural Health Manpower. The purpose would be to advise the Governor, the Legislature, and the Regents and through them the medical college on rural health needs and how to best accomplish correction of the present course. The commission would be created for only three years and would end then unless renewed by the Legislature. The seven member commission would be appointed by the Governor, confirmed by the Legislature, and would consist of a medical student primarily concerned with family practice, the Director of Health, three rural physicians, and two lay representatives of rural Nebraska.

Notwithstanding the the Regent's high priority approval accordingly, I am unalterably opposed to the multi-million dollar request, at least at this time, for a new cardiovascular facility on the college of medicine campus. It would be nice, I concur, but priority considerations do not allow such a capital expenditure now, to say nothing of future staggering outlays required for new staff.

I hope that this will not be construed in such a manner as to suggest that the Governor is for heart disease or heart attacks. Many highly respectable heart specialists and other physicians have advised me that they are dubious of the critical need of such a program in Nebraska and question if the proposal would not expensively and unnecessarily duplicate existing facilities and research currently available in Nebraska and elsewhere. At best this idea deserves more study, and we should not be stampeded into such an undertaking.

The state colleges carry on an important role in our overall higher education programs. For next year, I have suggested a percentage increase of 6.8% for $1 million additional funding over last year.

Our community technical colleges are doing an excellent job in meeting educational requirements in their field of higher education. In my budget, I have provided an additional $600,000 over last year in state aid to these locally controlled colleges.

The State of Nebraska is privileged to have hardworking and dedicated public servants who carry out their assigned duties with responsibility. They are struggling, like others, to meet their obligations and raise their families under economic pressures. They are entitled to a raise in salary next year of 4% on July 1, 1977 and an additional 3% on the anniversary date of their joining government service. This is equivalent to a yearly increase cost to the General Fund of 5½%.

Human services and their necessary increased funding are a priority consideration in the executive budget. You will find $1.2 million to maintain aid to local transit authorities, primarily to assist senior citizens; increased rates for foster care homes for children; needed improved funding for the aged, blind and disabled services including foster care, board and room, setting rental rates and state supplemental programs for alternatives to institutional living; $1 million additional for the Veterans' Trust Fund; increases for aid to dependent children of $1 million, to cope with steadily mounting costs of fuel and other necessities; and funds to assist in improving collections of child support payments.

In the area of mental retardation, the Governor's budget calls for $750,000 in new funds plus reappropriation of any carryover not expended this year to further assist community based programs to assume clients from the Beatrice Home. For the Beatrice Home itself, my recommendations provide for full support in meeting national accreditation standards for that institution, making it one of the first larger multi-purpose institutions in the nation to be so accredited and necessary capital construction to meet new federal medicaid requirements.

I am requesting an increase in special education funding of nearly $2 million over this year for a total of $15.4 million in fiscal 1977-78.

Alcoholism continues to be a serious problem, and in my recommendation is $1.1 million from the Department of Institutions Alcoholism Cash Funds to be distributed to the six regional mental health boards to be combined with matching funds. The funding for this is made possible by LB 293, that was introduced at my request, to raise taxes on alcoholic beverages.

In the field of corrections, it has been found that the 1973 legislative professional study predicting a yearly 6% growth in inmate population was far short of the actual situation. Instead, we have been increasing at the overall rate of 15% per year. Since fiscal year 1974-75, the Penal Complex in Lincoln, which comprises the penitentiary and the reformatory, has increased from 1,030 to the current population of 1,329. In my budget, we are suggesting to raise funding to a base of 1,500 on average monthly population at the two Lincoln facilities and 100 at the Women's Institution at York.

In the Lincoln institutions, the budget provides for further upgrading of medical staff which has been already vastly improved to 29 at present. That represents a doubling of professionals in this area in the last four years.

In penal capital construction, we have recognized the third-year phased funding for the Lincoln medium-minimum facility and provided for 64 needed additional beds to be employed as a chemical dependency unit and additional residential areas.

For the Omaha reformatory-type unit, we have provided for the second year appropriation as planned as well as an additional $504,000 required to overcome foundation problems and other heretofore unknown costs.

To move ahead and expedite our overall penal capital construction needs, I have recommended $2.3 million for the initial construction and renovation of the maximum security facility which is estimated to cost a total of $16.8 million for this project alone before completion. Yes, that is a lot of money, but unfortunately, there are no alternatives. These kinds of required state expenditures now and in the immediate future should be a further sober warning when we consider our expenditure patterns and review ever-increasing demands of subdivisions for further commitments of state revenue.

To meet the ever-growing needs for recreation and improvements in our state park systems, I have approved a 10% increase over last in General Fund support for the Game and Parks Commission. In addition, $350,000 in Public Works Employment Funds have been delegated to that agency for park improvements. This program should be sufficient, and I wish to declare my opposition to the proposed tax on soda pop. If there are additional needs in this area, why should not the Legislature address the problem as I have from the General Fund this year and next. I do not see the reason or need for this new tax.

Nebraska's water resources is a most important subject of this session, and I suspect the next one.

There is no easy solution to this pressing problem. The Governor generally agrees with the solutions suggested by the chairman and vice chairman of your Public Works Committee, whom I consider two of the best informed and trustworthy experts on water related matters in the state. I am sure that this committee will not be stampeded into any overt action and will carefully and thoughtfully consider all aspects of this important issue.

Provided for in the executive budget are funds to expand the field staff of the Department of Water Resources to meet growing needs in this area and funds to institute a five-year expansion plan of the department's stream gauging program

Again this year, I am recommending another $1 million for a natural resources development fund to be employed by the Natural Resources Commission. With this addition, the fund will reach nearly $4 million which can be well used in many resource development projects.

This, then, is a general overview of my budget recommendations to the Legislature. It is now "open season" on this yearly proposal that always infuriates some and satisfies none. I assure you that it is an entirely workable document and was completed only after hours, days, weeks, and months of intensive study, consultation, objective criticism, negotiations and renegotiations, and I particularly thank the hardworking Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services for their efforts. In preparation of the budget recommendations, we do not claim exact perfection. It is introduced for your consideration and hopeful approval in general.

The executive budget is now in your hands for help in performing your yearly most important duty, the authorizing of expenditures of state government for the next fiscal year.

Thank you for your attention.

The committee escorted the Governor from the Chamber.

SELECT COMMITTEE REPORT Rules

Mr. President,

The Rules Committee met February 9, 1977 at 12 noon and acted favorably on the attached rule changes.

(Signed) John DeCamp, Chairman

Amend the DeCamp proposed rule change to Rule 7, Section 2 (d), found in the Journal on Pages 339 and 340, to read as follows:

(d) Whenever the "ayes" and "nays" are taken by machine vote no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote the clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, ~~and~~ those absent and not voting, and those excused and not voting, and on any action to advance or amend bills, these totals shall be set forth in the Journal. Voice votes shall be accepted on roll call or record votes.

Amend the Barnett proposed rule change to Rule 1, Section 12, found in the Journal on Page 289, to read as follows:

Rule 1 – Officers and Employees
Sec. 12. President Decide Order of Speaking. The President may speak to a point of order in preference to members, and shall decide the questions or order, subject to ~~an appeal~~ a challenge to the Legislature by any member, on which ~~appeal~~ challenge no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the Legislature. ~~A majority of the elected members may overrule the Chair~~. In the event of a challenge to a ruling of the chair, the ruling shall be restated and the question shall be phrased: "Shall the chair be sustained?". A majority of the elected members shall be required to sustain the chair.

Amend Rule 7, Sec. 2(c) to read:

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the electric roll call system shall be used. Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading.

Amend Rule 5, Section 6 (g) to read as follows:

When any bill proposes adoption of a new program or change of an existing program either of which would require an appropriation of $50,000 or more to implement in the ensuing fiscal year an appropriation bill for the purposes of funding the provisions of such bill shall be prepared from the information contained in the fiscal note. Such appropriation bill shall be prepared ~~by the Fiscal Analyst and~~ at the direction of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Such bill shall be placed on General File and considered as introduced by the introducer of the original bill ~~at the time the original bill is reported to General File~~ or by the committee which offered the amendments creating the expenditure, and shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "A" added ~~(for example LB 1A),~~ and shall accompany the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. ~~However, if the original bill is reported by committee to General File with committee amendments, the "A" bill shall be introduced by the committee which is reporting the original bill to the floor and placed on General File. The "A" bill accompanying the original shall include the funding required by the committee recommended amendments. No vote, suspension of the rules, or unanimous consent shall be required for the introduction of an "A" bill.~~

(h) All bills for which an "A" bill is prepared or required, shall be considered in their usual order, and no bill shall be delayed because of a need for an "A" bill, provided that the bill shall be bracketed on Final Reading until the "A" bill is advanced to Final Reading.

(i) The authorization bill shall first be considered and if it should be passed on Final Reading then the "A" bill shall be read and voted on for final passage.

(j) ~~(h)~~ The note shall be factual in nature, as brief and concise as may be, and shall if possible provide a reliable estimate in dollars and, in addition, it shall include both the immediate effect and, if determinable or reasonably foreseeable, the long range effect of the measure. If, after investigation, it is determined that no dollar estimate is possible, the note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given.

(k) ~~(i)~~ No comment or opinion shall be included in the fiscal note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared, however, technical or mechanical defects may be noted.

(l) ~~(j)~~ The subject matter of bills submitted to boards, commissions, departments, agencies, or other entities of the state by the Fiscal Analyst shall be kept in strict confidence by said agencies and by the office of Fiscal Analyst together with the content of the fiscal note itself and no information relating thereto shall be divulged by any official or employee prior to its introduction in the Legislature.

(m) To implement the provisions of and assure compliance with Art. III, Sec. 22, of the Nebraska Constitution (deficiency appropriations), and Art. IV, Sec. 7 of the Nebraska Constitution (appropriations in excess of Governor's request), the Appropriations Committee shall advise the Legislature of the number of votes required to assure passage of the same.

Mr. Mills offered the following amendment to the DeCamp rule change on page 432 of todays Journal.

Rule 1, Sec. 12 – Strike "Shall the Chair be sustained?"
and insert "Shall the Chair be overruled?"

TWENTY-SECOND DAY—FEBRUARY 11, 1977

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-SECOND DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Friday, February 11, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Guide Nebraska Representatives in their crucial work today, as they consider momentous issues, O Lord our God. Continue to inspire them both by an understanding of the power for good which is theirs to use, and the hope for the good life which so many feel is theirs to dispense.
> May they not become too dismayed by the barbs of their critics, nor deluded by the praise of their admirers.
> May they realize that they are, even in the midst of personal frustration and partisan attack, among the most respected of Nebraska citizens.
> Bless in special measure the members of this Legislature who are fulfilling roles of special responsibility; and those who are at this time experiencing special physical or spiritual need. So guide Nebraska Representatives, O God, and may their work become a blessing to many. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Barnett, Koch, R. Lewis, and Venditte who were excused and Mr. Goodrich who was absent until 9:20 a.m.

"Sec. 3. The clerk of any city or village shall issue a permit to physically handicapped persons who have reached school age and persons who drive a motor vehicle for a visually handicapped person, which will entitle the holder thereof to park in those spaces provided by section 1 of this act. For the purpose of this section, a physically handicapped person shall mean those physically handicapped persons using crutches, canes, walkers, wheelchairs, or having definite walking problems, including but not limited to amputees, and those persons who have respiratory problems which incapacitate their walking. Visually handicapped persons shall mean those persons using the white cane or seeing eye dog.

Sec. 4. The permit shall be a suitable card containing the letter H and an identifying number on the front of the card. The name, address, phone number, date of birth, and age of the party to whom issued shall appear on the reverse side.

Sec. 5. All permits authorized under this section shall be issued for a period of one year. Permits shall be renewable yearly. A permit may be reissued upon a change of address by the holder. A permit fee of one dollar shall be charged for each permit, except the fee for reissuance upon a change of address shall be fifty cents.

Sec. 6. Permits issued hereunder shall not be transferable and shall be used only by the party to whom issued. Use by any other party shall be cause for suspension of such permit for a period of six months. At the expiration of such period, a suspended permit may be renewed upon the payment of the one dollar fee.

Sec. 7. The Department of Motor Vehicles shall issue rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this act relating to the issuance of permits for handicapped persons.".

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-THIRD DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, February 14, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord our God, as we assemble today for another week of work together, we ask Thee to look down with thy love upon this our senate family. Bless him who presides over us with the virtue of patience, bless the Senators with uprightness, the secretaries and stenographers with clear minds, the staff members with perseverance, the counsels and clerks with understanding, the doorkeepers with discernment, those in the gallery with dignity and those at the desk with zeal.
> Give to each of us who serve in this house, we pray, some of that wisdom which cometh only from Thee so that we may be enabled to understand the problems that confront us before we even attempt to deal with them.
> Many of us, O Lord, have loved ones who are far from us this day. Bless our dear wives, our children and all those for whom we would especially pray in our hearts. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. F. Lewis who was excused until he arrives and Mr. Chambers who was absent until 10:30 a.m.

MOTION–Rule Change

Mr. DeCamp offered the following rule change:
Amend Rule 6, Sec. 2(e) to read:
(e) At any stage of consideration of a bill, a motion to bracket or to bracket to a day certain or to unbracket shall, if made by the primary introducer of the bill, require a majority of those voting. If made by other than the primary introducer, there shall then be required a majority vote of the elected membership. In any event such motions ~~shall~~ may alternatively be passed by unanimous consent of the body. When a motion to bracket has been made only the mover of said motion and the principal introducer of said bill may speak. Neither shall speak for more than three minutes on said motion to bracket, and then the vote shall be taken.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 19
February 10, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutional validity of LB 131. We have examined the bill, and conclude that it is of doubtful constitutionality in several respects.

Section 1 of the bill provides that taxing districts shall adjust their property tax mill levies so that the anticipated yield from any tax levy shall not exceed one hundred six per cent of the property tax revenue of the taxing district for the previous fiscal year for operating and maintenance purposes.

The Legislature has the right to limit the amount of money a taxing district may raise by taxation, by a mill levy limitation, or by a dollar limitation. However, we see a classification problem with respect to the first section of the bill. Were the Legislature to put a certain mill levy limitation on each taxing district, or even a dollar limitation on budgets, based upon some rational basis such as population, assessed valuation of property in the district, or something of that sort, it would probably be upheld.

However, this section of the bill would create the situation where two identical taxing districts would have different budget limitations, based upon what appear to be irrelevant consideration. The amount of the budget for a taxing district on the effective date of the act might have no relation whatever to its needs in the future. As a matter of fact, an abnormally low budget in one year might dictate an increased budget for ensuing years, to make up for past neglects. Yet this section would require, in perpetuity, that the various taxing districts have their budgets limited by the budgets in effect on the effective date of this bill, in spite of any changing circumstances, needs, or hardships. On the other hand, taxing districts which had high budgets on the effective date of the act could continue to do so.

In City of Scottsbluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256, 175 N.W.2d 83 (1970), the court struck down a statute as constituting special legislation because it created a permanently closed class of cities, and because it was totally arbitrary and unreasonable in its method of classification. The court cited in support of its holding the case of State v. Scott, 70 Neb. 685, 100 N.W. 812 (1904), in which it held that a classification of counties according to the census of 1900 was local and special in its application, since it could apply only to the counties which were in the class at the time of the passage of the act. See also State ex rel. Conkling v. Kelso, 92 Neb. 628, 139 N.W. 226 (1912). The court has held that such classification violates Article III, Section 19, of the Nebraska Constitution.

We believe that the court might find the same deficiencies in section 1 of LB 131. According to that section, each taxing district would be permanently limited by the budget that it happened to have on the effective date of the act. Besides the question of the permanent nature of the classification, we question the reasonableness of it. The purpose of budgets for taxing districts is to provide funds needed in the ensuing year for the purposes of the district. There is no logical relationship between the budget adopted, perhaps, many years ago, and the needs of that particular district for the next year. Yet that old budget would constitute the basis of an absolute limitation indefinitely into the future. We believe this constitutes suspect classification.

Section 2 of the bill provides:

> "Commencing fiscal year 1977-78 each county and each taxing district within a county shall impose property tax levies based upon the assessed valuation of property for the year 1975, until such time as each county in the state has new assessed values incorporated onto the tax rolls as a result of a reassessment program concluded subsequent to 1975."

The exact meaning of this section is not entirely clear to us, but we construe it to mean that the assessed valuations are not to be increased until all the counties in the state have reassessed their properties subsequent to 1975, when all the increased values all over the state would go into effect at the same time.

Such a provision appears to clearly violate several constitutional provisions. The assessed valuations referred to are, of course, the valuations of real estate. Obviously the freezing of assessed valuations could not apply to motor vehicles or to other personal property. Therefore, real estate might be assessed below its actual value, and be required to remain there, whereas personal property would be assessed at actual value. Article VIII, Section 1, of the Constitution requires taxes to be levied by valuation uniformly and proportionately upon all tangible property. The case of Homan v. Board of Equalization, 141 Neb. 400, 3 N.W. 2d 650 (1942), held that providing a method for fixing the valuation of real estate different from that provided for other tangible property violated Article VIII, Section 1, of the Constitution. It could also be argued that it violated Article III, Section 19, by creating unreasonable classification and granting special or exclusive privileges and immunities.

Article IV, Section 28, of the Constitution gives the State Board of Equalization and Assessment the duty of reviewing and equalizing assessments of property for taxation. As we understand section 2 of the bill, the board would be precluded from performing its duty, in the event it discovered that there was a lack of uniformity of assessment among the counties. The Legislature cannot prevent the board from exercising duties imposed upon it by the Constitution.

Section 3 of the bill provides that a taxing district which receives from any tax levy more than one hundred six per cent of its previous years budget shall place such excess in a fund to be "used to reduce taxes owed for the following fiscal year." This language does not make clear what is intended. It may be that it means that this fund shall be taken into account in setting the ensuing year's levy. However, in speaking of reducing taxes owed for the following fiscal year, the impression is given that the fund shall be used as some sort of credit given to individual taxpayers against the tax they owe. If so, the basis of allocating such credit has not been made clear.

We believe it would be very difficult to sustain this bill against constitutional attack.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 21
February 14, 1977

Re: L.B. 218

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your correspondence of January 31, 1977, you indicated a concern over the last sentence of a synopsis of L.B. 218. The sentence underlined in your correspondence read as follows:

> "The law, especially because no notice of the lien is required to the farmer, seems to be of questionable constitutionality."

Assuming that your question to us is simply whether the limited notice provisions of L.B. 218 render the proposed legislation unconstitutional, it is our opinion that L.B. 218 does not contravene any provision of the Nebraska Constitution.

L.B. 218 simply allows the creditor who has provided fertilizers, farm equipment, or labor to a farmer-debtor to obtain a lien upon the machinery or equipment supplied, or upon the crops produced or the proceeds from the sale of the crops produced on the debtor's land. The lien must be filed with the County Clerk of the county where the land is located, and must contain a listing of the names and addresses of the parties to the sales transaction giving rise to the lien, the last date upon which the products or labor was furnished to the debtor, and a legal description of the land upon which the crops are located. The new law also provides that such a lien may be foreclosed in the manner and form provided for the foreclosure of secured transactions as set out in Article 9 of the Nebraska Uniform Commercial Code.

A lien may be created either by legislation or by an agreement with the owner of the property thought to be subjected to the lien. See, General Motors Acceptance Corporation v. Southerland, 122 Neb. 720, 241 N.W. 281 (1932). A lien upon chattel property or personalty is not evidence of ownership of the property by the lien holder; it is simply a claim by the lien holder of an interest in the property. Mapledge Corporation v. Coker, 167 Neb. 420, 93 N.W.2d 369 (1958). To foreclose upon a lien, a lien holder may be required to demonstrate in a proceeding at law that the amount claimed by the lien is the amount actually due for the labor or materials provided, and further that the property against which the lien is claimed is actually owned by the debtor named in the lien. See, for example, section 52-103, R.S.Supp., 1976; section 52-104, R.R.S. 1943.

Inasmuch as L.B. 218 provides that the lien must be foreclosed pursuant to Article 9 of the Nebraska Uniform Commercial Code, which article provides for adequate notice provisions to the debtor-farmer, we find no problems of constitutionality in the proposed legislation. We would note, parenthetically, that the mechanic's lien provisions of section 52-103, R.S.Supp., 1976, provide that notice be given to the owner of the property at the time the lien is first filed. Beyond this observation, we would make no further comment on the wisdom of the legislation in question.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

LEGISLATIVE BILL 83. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendment to LB 83:
1. Insert a new section to read:
"Section 1. That section 54-101, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:
54-101. As used in sections 28-509, 28-510, 54-101.01 to 54-156, 54-415, and 54-1183 to 54-1186, unless the context otherwise requires:
(1) A brand shall mean an identification mark that is burned into the hide of a live animal by a hot iron on either side in any one of three locations, the shoulder, ribs, or hip, and is recorded in the office of the Nebraska Brand Committee as provided by law;
(2) Certificate of inspection shall mean the official document as issued and signed by a brand inspector authorizing movement of livestock from a point of origin within the brand inspection area to a destination either in or out of the brand inspection area or out of state, or authorizing slaughter of livestock as specified on such certificate. Such certificate of inspection shall ~~when available~~ designate and require the name of consignor or seller of livestock, the purchaser of such livestock, the destination of livestock, the method of transportation, the vehicle license number or railroad car number when available, the miles driven by brand inspector to perform inspection, the amount of brand inspection fees collected, the number and sex of livestock to be moved or slaughtered, the brands, if any, on the animal or animals and the brand owner. A certificate of inspection shall be construed and intended to be documentary evidence of ownership on all cattle covered by such document;

(3) Brand clearance shall mean the documentary evidence of ownership that is issued and signed by a brand inspector and given to persons who have legally purchased cattle at a livestock auction or sale where a brand inspection service is provided. Such brand clearance shall give the name and address of sale or auction where issued, the name of purchaser, the number and sex of cattle, the brands, if any, and the location on the animal or animals;

(4) Brand committee shall mean the governing body and administrative agency as established under sections 54-135 and 54-136;

(5) Brand inspection agency shall mean an agency of a state, or a duly organized livestock association of a state, authorized by state and federal law to charge and collect at designated stockyards, packing plants, sales barns, or farm and ranch loading points, a reasonable and nondiscriminatory fee for the inspection of brands, marks, and other identifying characteristics of livestock originating in or shipped from such state for the purpose of determining the ownership of such livestock;

(6) Brand inspector shall mean a person employed by the Nebraska Brand Committee, or some other brand inspection agency, within or without the State of Nebraska, for the purpose of identifying brands or marks, or other identifying characteristics of livestock, to determine the existence of such brands or marks or identifying characteristics and from such determinations attempt to establish correct and true ownership of such livestock, and generally carry out the provisions and enforcement of all laws pertaining to brands, brand inspection and associated livestock laws;

(7) Stockyard shall mean any place, establishment, or facility commonly known as stockyards conducted or operated for compensation or profit as a public market, consisting of pens or other enclosures, and their appurtenances, in which live cattle, sheep, swine, horses, mules, or goats are received, held, or kept for sale or shipment in commerce;

(8) Stockyard owner shall mean any person engaged in the business of owning or conducting or operating a stockyard;

(9) Stockyard services shall mean services or facilities furnished at a stockyard in connection with the receiving, buying, or selling on a commission basis or otherwise, marketing, feeding, watering, holding, delivering, shipping, weighing, or handling, in commerce, of livestock;

(10) Sales ring shall mean any place, establishment, or facility conducted or operated for compensation or profit as a public market, consisting of pens or other enclosures, barns, stables, sheds, and their appurtenances, including saddle and work stock, and vehicles used in connection therewith or in the operation thereof, where livestock not owned by the owner or operator is received, held or kept for any purpose other than (a) immediate shipment by rail, or immediate slaughter, (b) for grazing, feeding or breeding, or (c) for the sale and exchange of breeding stock by a bona fide livestock association;

(11) Sales ring operator shall mean any person in control of the management or operation of a sales ring;

(12) Open market shall mean a sales barn, market agency, stockyard, or packing plant located out of the Nebraska brand inspection area as defined in section 54-134, or out of the confines and boundaries of the State of Nebraska, declared as such by the Nebraska Brand Committee under section 54-142, where brand inspection is maintained either by the Nebraska Brand Committee employees or by some other state under a reciprocal agreement as allowed under the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended;

(13) Market agency shall mean any person engaged in the business of (a) buying or selling in commerce livestock on a commission basis, or (b) furnishing stockyard services;

(14) Cattle shall mean bovine cattle only, and shall not relate to or include any other kind of domestic animal;

(15) Livestock shall mean any domestic neat cattle, horses, mules, donkeys, sheep, or swine;

(16) Hide shall mean the skin or outer covering of an animal whether raw or dressed, alive or dead;

(17) Carcasses shall mean the body or bodies, or part thereof but not less than one-fourth of a body of any dead or slaughtered domestic neat cattle, horses, mules, donkeys, sheep, or swine;

(18) Slaughterhouse shall mean an establishment that slaughters, kills, or butchers livestock, either for itself or for others, for compensation or otherwise disposes of such livestock in a processed or semiprocessed manner;

(19) Packing plant or packing house shall mean an establishment for slaughtering, processing, and packing livestock into meat, meat products, and by-products or for processing and packing other foodstuffs;

(20) Dealer shall mean any person, not a market agency, engaged in the business of buying or selling in commerce livestock either on his own account or as the employee or agent of the vendor of purchaser;

(21) Estray shall mean any neat cattle, horse, mule, donkey, sheep, or swine, found running at large upon public or private lands, either fenced or unfenced, in the State of Nebraska, whose owner is unknown in the area where found, or is branded with a brand which is not on record in the office of the Nebraska Brand Committee;

(22) Interstate shall mean from or between points in one state and points in another state;

(23) Intrastate shall mean within the state;

(24) Moved or movement shall mean, as applied to livestock, transported, shipped, delivered, or received for transportation, driven on foot or caused to be driven on foot by any person, or shipped or delivered or received for transportation by any person;

(25) Brand inspection area shall mean that portion of the State of Nebraska designated by the Legislature as a brand area as set forth in section 54-134, where brand inspection shall be mandatory and performed on all cattle sold at auction markets, packing plants, slaughterhouses, or farm or ranch sales within such area, and on all other cattle prior to leaving such brand inspection area, unless destined for an open market designated as such by the Nebraska Brand Committee;

(26) Investigators shall mean such employees of the Nebraska Brand Committee as are commissioned deputy state sheriffs and shall have the duty, responsibility and authority to enforce all state statutes pertaining to brands, brand inspection, and associated livestock laws, whether civil or criminal. Such investigators shall also be responsible for the investigation of all problems associated with brands, brand inspection and associated livestock enforcement problems;

(27) Satisfactory evidence of ownership shall consist of the brands, tattoos, or marks on the livestock; point of origin of livestock; the physical description of the livestock; the documentary evidence, such as bills of sale, brand clearance, certificates of brand inspection, breed registration certificates, animal health or testing certificates, brand recording certificates, purchase sheets, scale tickets, disclaimers of interest, affidavits, court orders, security agreements, powers of attorney, canceled checks, bills of landing or tags; and such other facts, statements or circumstances that taken in whole or in part cause a brand inspector to believe that proof of ownership is established;

(28) Bill of sale shall mean a formal instrument for the conveyance or transfer of title to livestock or other goods and chattels;

(29) Estray fund shall mean the fund that the Nebraska Brand Committee receives from the sale of any estray livestock. Such fund shall be disposed of in the manner provided in section 54-415;

(30) Daylight hours shall mean from sunrise to sunset;

(31) Acid brand shall mean any such mark or brand that has been applied by use of a chemical compound and when so used causes a scar-like tissue to form on the hide of a live animal;

(32) Freeze brand shall mean any such mark or brand that is created on a live animal in a depigmentation technique, whereby the pigment producing cells in the skin of an animal are destroyed by the application of intense cold to the skin area;

(33) Chairman shall mean the presiding officer of the Nebraska Brand Committee;

(34) Unbranded shall mean that any such designated livestock does not carry a brand of any kind;

(35) Branded shall mean any such designated livestock carries a brand of any kind defined in this section; Provided, a legal brand for identification in Nebraska shall be as defined in subdivision (1) of this section;

(36) Registered feedlot shall mean but not be limited to any permanent, fenced, drylot status area where cattle are fed and finished for slaughter purposes, which lot has been inspected and registered and for which a permit has been issued;

(37) Brand Recorder shall mean a person employed by the Nebraska Brand Committee who shall be responsible for the processing of all applications for the recording of new livestock brands, the transfer of ownership of existing livestock brands, maintenance of accurate and permanent records relating to each and every livestock brand of record, and such other duties as may be required by the Nebraska Brand Committee to satisfactorily carry out the provisions of sections 54-101 to 54-156; and

(38) In subdivisions (1) to (37) of this section, when the context or the circumstances so require, words importing a singular number may be expanded to several persons or things, and words importing the plural number may be applied to one person or thing, and words importing the masculine gender only may be expanded to the feminine or neuter gender.

All subdivisions of this section shall apply to sections 54-133.01 to 54-133.03 with the exception of the manner in which a year brand or production recording brand may be applied.

It shall be permissible to use a freeze brand, but only for the year brand or the production recording brand.".

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, February 16, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Gathered here this morning are a very special group of men and women who make laws - men who make decisions that affect the lives of millions of people. They are men who have pledged to be responsive to the needs of the people - men who have committed themselves to represent the best interests of their constituents. Like all of us, God, these men need your guidance. They need you to look over their shoulder - and sometimes they need you to remind them that you are looking over their shoulder. These are good men, God, and don't let them forget it!
> We live in a big state - in a state that has a tradition of greatness. And just as our aspirations are great - so are our problems. We have all the problems of a great state: Crime, drugs, problems with our youth, misunderstanding of our minorities, and a host of other problems that these men have long wrestled with. We have big problems, God, and we need big help from you. There are many people in our state - and faced with all these problems there are times when we are tempted to treat them like things - like mere numbers. But this is the great lesson that you have taught us, God - that we cannot solve human problems - unless we treat people like human beings. Dear God, very often we are tempted to forget this most important principle. God help us. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Schmit and Venditte who were excused until they arrive.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 11.

Introduced by Boughn, 21st District; DeCamp, 40th District.

WHEREAS, a memorandum from Jack M. Cleavenger, Director of Public Institutions, dated January 14, 1977 and issued to employees of the state directs that employees of the state are not allowed to attend committee hearings of the Legislature unless they are invited by a committee; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of the public hearings of the Nebraska Legislature is to afford all citizens, regardless of whether they are state employees or not, the opportunity to express their ideas and opinions on matters affecting Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, this Legislature wishes all citizens of Nebraska to know that they are all equal and that this state does not have any policy of imposing censorship upon citizens providing information to the Nebraska Unicameral.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby advises all citizens of Nebraska including public employees, that they have a right to appear at public committee meetings and hearings of the Legislature without any formal invitation from a committee.

2. That no state official may deny any citizen the right to appear before legislative committees and committee hearings.

3. That any directive or order contrary to the provisions of this resolution is contradictory to the policy and attitude of the Nebraska Legislature.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, February 17, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Lord God of all good life: we remember in prayer today the districts of Nebraska which we represent in this house. We are thankful for all the good things that are found back home: the community spirit, the churches, schools, courts of justice, the homes, hospitals, offices and factories.
> And we would remember also the special needs of our districts for employment, for recreation, for housing, welfare, safe streets, good highways.
> Give us the vision and wisdom to surround our districts and our state with the safeguards of sound laws which will preserve the good life for those who now enjoy it, and make it available to all.
> We are bold to offer such a prayer, for we are those who believe that with God all things are possible. Amen.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Friday, February 18, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Dr. Robert B. Ohman, Associate Pastor, Westminster Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Nebraska.

> Our Father, as we pray for Your guidance and help, we know that You did not intend prayer to be a substitute for work. We know that we are expected to do our part for You have made us, not puppets, but persons with minds to think and wills to do. Make us willing to think, and think hard, clearly, and honestly, guided by Your voice within us, and in accordance with the light You have given us. May we never fail to do the very best we can. We pray in the knowledge that it all depends upon You. Help us then to work as if it all depended on us, that together we may do that which is pleasing in Your sight. For Jesus' sake, Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mrs. Labedz and Messrs. DeCamp and Murphy who were excused; and Mr. Newell who was excused until he arrives; and Mrs. Marsh and Messrs. Chambers and Fowler who were absent until 9:10 a.m.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> If we have been guilty at times of looking backward in anger, or forward to revenge, forgive us, O Lord our God.
> And if there have been moments when we have looked at one another in disgust or distrust, and have been selfish in motivation, and careless in action, forgive us.
> If, in the midst of the many things that happen in this legislature, we tend to grow skeptical about your presence here, no longer remembering that our work is really your work, forgive us.
> In our finer moments, we know better. Help us to overcome those interludes of weakness when we know better than we do. Amen.

The Journal for the Twenty-Seventh Day was approved.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 22
February 15, 1977

Dear Senator Kremer:

In your letter of February 11, 1977, you ask our opinion as to the constitutional validity of LB 373. This bill would amend section 45-335, R.R.S. 1943, by amending subsection (5) thereof. Subsection (5) defines the term "installment sale." As the law now reads, an installment sale must provide for payment of the sale price in one or more installments and within 145 months. LB 373 would amend this subsection by providing that installment contracts for the purchase of mobile homes may exceed the 145 months limitation.

The only constitutional problem we can see with respect to this bill is whether or not it provides for unreasonable class legislation, in violation of Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution. We have concluded that it does not.

The Installment Sales Act, sections 45-334 to 45-353, deals with installment sales of personal property. Subsection (1) of section 45-335 provides that goods shall mean all personal property except money or things in action, and shall include goods which, at the time of sale or subsequently are so affixed to realty as to become a part thereof whether or not severable therefrom. This definition would, of course, include mobile homes. The proposed amendment would not eliminate mobile homes from the definition of "goods," and installment sales of mobile homes would still be subject to the Installment Sales Act. However, installment sales of mobile homes could provide for repayment of the purchase price in more than 145 months, while all other installment sales subject to the act would be required to provide for repayment in not more than 145 months.

The rules with respect to proper and improper class legislation have been frequently stated by our Supreme Court. In Bridgeford v. U-Haul Company, 195 Neb. 308, 238 N.W.2d 443 (1976), the court said:

> ". . . An excellent discussion with reference to the problem of classification under the equal protection clause not involving suspect classifications or fundamental rights, is found in Schwartz, Constitutional Law (1972), Section 153, p. 289, where that authority states: 'Judicial review determines only whether there was a reasonable basis for the particular classification, from the point of view of the legislators who adopted it. The test is whether legislators could in reason have acted upon the classification A classification having some reasonable basis does not offend merely because it is not made with mathematical nicety. We have to consider not whether the legislator acted with the exactness of a geometric equation, but only whether, though the law bear hard upon some particular class, the class itself is differentiated upon some rational basis. Judicial review of classifications is not exercise in logical abstractions. Legislatures are presumed to have acted within their constitutional power despite the fact that their laws result in some inequality.' See, also, Botsch v. Reisdorff, 193 Neb. 165, 226 N.W. 2d 121 (1975)."

Appraised in the light dictated by the Nebraska Supreme Court, we certainly cannot say that no rational basis exists for differentiating in this manner between the installment sales of mobile homes and the installment sales of other types of personal property. We do not know all of the considerations which the Legislature may have in mind in considering this bill, but some occur to us. In the first place, the purchase price of a mobile home is likely to be higher than the purchase price of most other types of personal property which would be brought under an installment sales contract. This might, in the view of the Legislature, indicate the necessity for a longer period of time in which to pay the purchase price. It is true, of course, that sometimes the purchase price of other types of personal property might be greater than that for a mobile home. But, as the above quotation from Bridgeford indicates, the classification need not be made with mathematical nicety.

Furthermore, the Legislature may be taking into consideration the fact that other types of homes are usually purchased subject to a real estate mortgage, which often provides for repayment over a period of much more than 145 months. The Legislature may be attempting to make the purchase of a mobile home comparable to the purchase of a conventional home, while still leaving the purchase subject to the Installment Sales Act. We cannot say that such considerations are wholly irrational. We are therefore of the opinion that the classification made by LB 373 can be sustained in the courts.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

COMMUNICATIONS
Attorney General

February 17, 1977

Dear Senator Luedtke:

We wish to advise you that representatives of the Nebraska Department of Labor and representatives of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees have met and now agree to a contract in substance and form which is to be submitted to your honorable body for approval as required by Section 48-837, R.R.S. 1943.

We believe that it would be appropriate for representatives of both sides to appear before such members of the Legislature as you deem appropriate for the purpose of answering any questions which might exist with regard to the agreement. We would appreciate your advising us as to the time and place for such meeting.

We enclose, for your initial examination, two copies of the agreement and we will be glad to provide you with such additional copies as you require.

We particularly call your attention to the fact that with regard to the matter of salary and similar fringe benefits, the parties have agreed to abide by the budget eventually passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor. For that reason, this contract may be considered by the Legislature prior to the adoption of the budget.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Paul L. Douglas
Attorney General

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-NINTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, February 23, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Father of all mankind, who has given us the commandment to love one another - give us also, we ask, the grace to fulfill it. Make us to be courteous, patient, forbearing. So direct our lives that we may look each to the good of the other, and together, to the good of all. May nothing this day obstruct the blessings of love from flowing through us here, to the benefit of many far beyond these hallowed chambers. O Lord our God. Amen.

Sec. 7. That section 1-124, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

1-124. The board may, in its discretion, waive the examination under the provisions of subdivision ~~(5)~~ (4) of section 1-114, and may issue a certificate as a certified public accountant to any person possessing the qualifications specified in subdivisions (1), (2), and (3) of section 1-114 and what the board determines to be substantially the equivalent of the applicable qualifications under ~~the provisions of subdivision (4) of section 1-114~~ section 8 of this act, who is the holder of a certificate as a certified public accountant, then in full force and effect, issued under the laws of any state, or is the holder of a certificate, license, or degree in a foreign country constituting a recognized qualification for the practice of public accounting in such country, comparable to that of a certified public accountant of this state, which is then in full force and effect. The board shall charge each person obtaining a certificate under this section a fee to be determined by the board, but such fee shall not be in excess of one hundred dollars.

Sec. 8. The board shall not issue a permit under section 1-136 to any holder of a certificate of certified public accountant until such holder has had four years of public accounting experience, satisfactory to the board, in any state, in practice as a certified public accountant or as a public accountant, or, in any state, in employment as a staff accountant by anyone practicing public accounting, or any combination of either of such types of experience; Provided, that graduation from a college or university of recognized standing shall be considered as the equivalent of two years of the public accounting experience required by this section, or who has had experience gained through employment by the federal government as a special agent or an internal revenue agent in the Internal Revenue Service and who holds a degree from a college or university of recognized standing and is certified by a District Director of Internal Revenue as having at least three and one half years of field experience as a special agent or internal revenue agent.

Sec. 9. That section 1-136, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

1-136. Permits to engage in the practice of public accounting in this state shall be issued by the board to persons who are holders of the certificate of certified public accountant issued under the provisions of section 1-114 to 1-124 and who have met the experience requirement of section 8 of this act and to persons and partnerships registered under the provisions of sections 1-125 to 1-133 and the corporations registered under the provisions of section 1-134; Provided, all offices of such certificate holder or registrant are maintained and registered as required under the provisions of Section 1-135. There shall be an annual permit fee in an amount to be determined, from time to time, by the board, not to exceed fifty dollars. All permits shall expire on the last day of December of each year and may be renewed annually for a period of one year by certificate holders and registrants in good standing upon payment of an annual renewal fee of not to exceed fifty dollars. Failure of a certificate holder or registrant to apply for such annual permit to practice within (1) three years from the expiration date of the permit to practice last obtained or renewed or (2) three years from the date upon which the certificate holder or registrant was granted his certificate or registration if no permit was ever issued to him, shall deprive him of the right to renewal, unless the board, in its discretion, determines such failure to have been due to excusable neglect. In such case the renewal fee or the fee for the issuance of the original permit as the case may be shall be such amount as the board shall from time to time determine, but not in excess of fifty dollars. Any certificate holder or registrant, who has not lost his right to issuance or renewal and who is not actively engaged in the practice of public accounting in this state, may file a written application with the board to be classified as inactive. A person so classified shall not be issued a permit to engage in public accounting, nor be deemed the holder of a live permit as defined in section 1-151, but shall be carried upon an inactive roll to be maintained by the board, upon the payment of an annual inactive fee of one half the fee charged persons actively engaged in the practice of public accounting as provided in this section. A person so classified shall not be deprived of the right to issuance or renewal of permit and may, upon application to the board, and upon payment of the current annual permit fee, be granted a current annual permit. Every permitholder shall furnish a corporate bond in the amount of fifty thousand dollars, conditioned for the payment of any judgment or judgments which may be assessed against such person because of any act of negligence or any incompetency of such person occurring while he is the holder of such permit; Provided, that the aggregate liability of the surety for all such judgments shall in no event exceed the amount of such bond. In lieu of such fifty thousand dollar bond, such permitholder may file a certification from an insurance carrier that such permitholder is insured, as an individual or a member of a partnership, under an accountancy liability policy in an equal or greater amount, except that any such insurance policy may provide for a deductible clause not exceeding one thousand dollars. If any such bond or insurance shall by its terms expire, or if it is canceled by the surety or insurer, the surety or insurer shall within ten days thereafter give notice of such cancellation to the official issuing such permits, who shall thereupon notify, by mail, the holder of such permit whose bond or insurance has so expired or been canceled, that he may no longer act under the authority of such permit.

Sec. 10. That original section 1-114, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and sections 1-115, 1-117, 1-118, 1-119, 1-120, 1-124, and 1-136, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, are repealed.".

THIRTIETH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, February 24, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord our God: we pray once more - but sometimes we wonder what's left to pray for, because we've said it all so many times before, and we don't want to wear thin our welcome.
> And sometimes we are unwilling to accept the answer to our prayer, because it is not what we have been expecting.
> Yet we continue in this legislature to feel the burden of being the few who act for the many on matters of importance, and we do need to have our spirits uplifted and held close to the heart of the eternal, if only for a brief moment each day.
> We have been aware of your presence, O God, even though we may not always have acted as if you were here.
> Continue with us - we ask it once more: help us today, and stay with us to the end, O Lord our God. Amen.

ROLL CALL

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 13.

Introduced by Carsten, 2nd District.

WHEREAS, the distressed agricultural industry of Cass and Otoe County has suffered from 3 years of drought; and

WHEREAS, ample supplies of water in the adjacent Missouri River are not being utilized for agriculture; and

WHEREAS, many acres of irrigable lands in Cass and Otoe Counties would benefit from such unused water; and

WHEREAS, there is strong local support for the creation of an irrigation district and the development of a project to pump water from the Missouri River; and

WHEREAS, the Bureau of Reclamation must have authorization and funding to conduct an appraisal study of an irrigation project; and

WHEREAS, the Congress will consider the USDI, Bureau of Reclamation budget forthwith.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature supports the development of an irrigation project in Cass and Otoe Counties.

2. That the Legislature urges the Congress of the United States and the respective Appropriations Committees thereof to authorize the Bureau of Reclamation to conduct an appraisal study of such irrigation project and appropriate sufficient funds therefore.

Laid over.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS

Opinion No. 23
February 22, 1977

Dear Senator Simon:

You have asked our opinion on the constitutionality of your amendments to LB 64. LB 64, in its original form, would repeal the death penalty provisions of Nebraska statutes. In its place it substitutes life imprisonment. Your amendments to LB 64 would provide for a sentence of not less than thirty years nor more than ninety years for each count and would provide that there would be no provision for parole. We find no constitutional infirmatives in such a proposal.

Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska, provides for the establishment of a Parole Board. That constitutional provision reads in part:

> "... Said board, or a majority thereof, shall have power to grant paroles after conviction and judgment, under such conditions as may be prescribed by law, for any offenses committed against the criminal laws of this state except treason and cases of impeachment. ..."

The clear import of that constitutional provision is that the Board of Parole, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by law, has the sole constitutional authority to grant paroles. Your amendment to LB 64, if passed, would constitute a valid condition or restriction placed upon the granting of a parole. We would point out that the effect of your amendment would not change a convicted first degree murderer's parole eligibility status from that which he holds under the current law. Under current law, a first degree murderer, upon conviction, will receive either the death penalty or a sentence of life imprisonment. A person receiving a life sentence for first degree murder is not eligible for parole until such time as the Board of Pardons, in exercising its constitutional authority, commutes his life sentence to either a determinate number of years or an indeterminate sentence, the minimum of which may be used to calculate his parole eligibility. Your amendment to LB 64 would, therefore, not change a convicted first degree murderer's parole eligibility status.

We feel it necessary to point out that LB 64, in either its original form or your amended form, could not affect or eliminate the exercise of the pardoning power held by the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General as granted in Article IV, Section 13, Constitution of Nebraska. A life sentence or a sentence of thirty to ninety years without parole would not and could not prevent the Board of Pardons from commuting such sentence to a certain term of years. Because the Board of Pardons is granted the power to grant pardons and commutations by the Constitution, legislation cannot impair the exercise of that power, either directly or indirectly, and therefore LB 64, were it to be enacted into law either in its original form or its amended form, could not restrict the pardoning power of the board over the class of offenders to which it applies. In our opinion, the language of the constitutional provision relating to the Board of Pardons fixes absolute the power to pardon in the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Attorney General. Except for the express restriction concerning treason and impeachment, the grant of pardoning power to the board is absolute, and such unlimited language has been historically so construed.

One final legal question which we feel we must address is whether or not the establishment of a thirty to ninety year sentence without parole for persons convicted of first degree murder only is class legislation and therefore invalid. We believe that it is not. The general test of the validity of class legislation is whether or not the class against which the legislation is directed is an arbitrarily and capriciously selected class and therefore unfairly discriminated against. We believe that in the case of LB 64 that the class of persons constituting convicted first degree murderers can easily and readily be distinguished from all other classes of convicted murderers and felons. The offensive and reprehensive nature of the acts committed by first degree murderers and the societal need to deter and have retribution for such conduct would appear to be sufficient and justifiable reason for treating that class of convicted felons differently.

It is our conclusion, therefore, that should LB 64 be enacted into law, either in its original form or your amended form, it would be valid.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Clerk of the Legislature

Opinion No. 24
February 22, 1977

Dear Senator Duis:

You have asked us for our opinion as to the constitutional validity of Legislative Bills 44 and 229. These bills, in the aspects which we will discuss, are so similar that a separate opinion for each is not indicated, but we will discuss both herein.

Both bills provide for a committee of the Legislature to excercise what amounts to a veto power over rules and regulations promulgated by state administrative agencies. In L.B. 44 the committee is called the Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee, and in LB 229 it is the Legislature's Committee on Administrative Agency Rules and Regulations, created by section 84-908, R.S.Supp., 1976.

Both bills provide that the committee may hold public hearings to investigate complaints about such rules and regulations, and may, on the basis of such complaints, suspend any rule complained of on the vote of the specified number of members of the committee. L.B. 229, but not L.B. 44, also provides that the committee may suspend a rule or regulation if it concludes that the rule or regulation is inconsistent with or exceeds the authority granted to the agency by law or the intent of the Legislature in enacting the law.

If such a rule or regulation is suspended, both bills require the committee to place before the Legislature a bill to repeal the rule or regulation involved. If such bill passes, the rule or regulation shall not again be adopted unless a bill is passed by the Legislature authorizing it. If the bill is defeated, the rule or regulation shall be reinstated, and the committee shall not suspend it again, under L.B. 229, or for 12 months, under L.B. 44.

We believe both of these bills present very serious questions involving the separation of powers. Article II, Section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution provides:

> "The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the Legislative, Executive and Judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted."

Obviously, the committees created by these two bills are legislative committees, and are a part of the Legislative Branch. The Constitution specifically forbids the Legislative Branch to exercise administrative or judicial powers.

Rules and regulations of administrative agencies are promulgated pursuant to statutory authority. The statute must contain standards governing the agency in the exercise of its rule-making authority, but when an agency adopts rules and regulations in accordance with statutory guidelines, it is performing an administrative function, in accordance with powers given to it by the Legislature. Indeed, if the adoption of rules and regulations were a legislative function, an agency could not do so, as this would constitute a violation of Article II, Section 1 of the Constitution. It appears axiomatic that the revision, repeal, or suspension of such rules and regulations are also administrative functions.

Let us discuss first the provision in L.B. 229 that the committee may suspend a rule or regulation if it concludes that it is inconsistent with or exceeds the authority granted the agency by law or the intent of the Legislature in enacting the law. In 2 Am.Jur.2d 517, Administrative Law Section 656, we find:

> "The interpretation of a statute or regulation involves a question of law, and statutory construction is the function of the courts, which, it is held in some cases, the legislative branch cannot restrict. Since the statutes under which administrative agencies act contain the policy which the legislature desires to be pursued and the standards which are to control the pursuit of that policy, and judicial review is an additional assurance that the legislative policies will be executed, the matter of statutory construction is not finally entrusted to administrative agencies, but is determinable ultimately by the courts. The scope of review provision of the Federal Administrative Procedure Act declares generally that the reviewing court shall interpret constitutional and statutory provisions, and determine the meaning or applicability of the terms of any agency action."

We therefore conclude that L.B. 229 attempts, by this provision, to vest in the legislative committee the judicial function of determing whether or not the action of the administrative agency was authorized by the statute. In Davis v. General Motors Acceptance Corporation, 176 Neb. 865, 127 N.W.2d 907 (1964), the court struck down a statute which it held constituted a legislative invasion of judicial powers. Section 84-911, R.R.S. 1943 makes provision for judicial review of the validity of rules. The provision in question violates Article II, Section 1 of the Constitution by vesting this judicial power in a legislative committee.

Let us now consider the provision in both bills to provide for the suspension of rules and regulations on the basis of complaints, and after hearings. We are assuming in this discussion that the rules were authorized by statute, were not in excess of the authority granted by the statute, and were therefore in all respects valid and enforceable, but that the committee concluded that they were unduly harsh, or that for some other reason, political or otherwise, they should not be enforced.

In this connection we think the language found in State ex rel. Meyer v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 185 Neb. 490, 176 N.W.2d 920 (1970) is pertinent. While finding the particular provision under discussion valid, the court said:

> The Legislature has plenary or absolute power over appropriations. It may make them upon such conditions and with such restrictions as it pleases within constitutional limits. There is one thing, however, which it cannot do, and this is inherent in Article II, section 1, Constitution of Nebraska. It cannot through the power of appropriation exercise or invade the constitutional rights and powers of the executive branch of the government. It cannot administer the appropriation once it has been made. When the appropriation is made, its work is complete and the executive authority takes over to administer the appropriation to accomplish its purpose, subject to the limitations imposed. . . ."

The court said the Legislature cannot administer an appropriation once it is made. In the same vein, once the Legislature has passed a bill giving an administrative agency power to administer a statute, including the power to adopt rules and regulations, the function of the Legislature is complete, and the administrative branch takes over. In giving the committee the power to suspend rules and regulations, these bills would give the Legislative Branch administrative functions. We believe the court would hold this to be an invasion of the power of the Executive Branch.

We also point out that the function of the committee would necessarily have to be administrative or judicial, as it clearly could not be legislative. Legislative powers can only be exercised by the Legislature itself, and not by committees thereof. The Constitution provides for the manner of exercising legislative powers, and further provides that every bill passed by the Legislature shall be presented to the Governor, for his signature or veto. See Article IV, Section 15. If the suspension of rules were thought to be a legislative function, the procedure prescribed would deny the Governor his veto right.

The bills further provide for the submission of bills to the Legislature for the repeal or suspension of rules and regulations. As we have previously said, we believe the repeal of rules and regulations, like their adoption, is an administrative function, and cannot be exercised even by the Legislature itself. Without question the Legislature could, if it saw fit, accomplish the invalidation of almost any rule or regulation by amending the statute under which it was promulgated, removing the foundation upon which the rule or regulation was based. But to simply "repeal" the rule or regulation (which was not "passed" by the Legislature in the first place) would create an anomaly. The basic statute would continue to authorize the rule or regulation, but the "repealer" would forbid it. In any event, we believe it would be difficult to sustain such an action against an attack based upon Article II, Section 1.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 15.

Introduced by Stoney, 4th District.

WHEREAS, Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (Crib Death) herein referred to as SIDS has become a primary cause of deaths nationally in children below the age of three years; and

WHEREAS, SIDS is recognized as an unpredictable, unpreventable disease which often causes unique emotional and legal problems for parents and other family members of SIDS victims; and

WHEREAS, implementation of current procedures in reporting, investigation and recording of sudden unexplained deaths seem inappropriate when used to deal with SIDS cases; and

WHEREAS, there were fifty-two reported incidents of SIDS in Nebraska during 1976; and

WHEREAS, a noncriminal approach in autopsy procedures assists in removing the burden of parental and community uncertainty in SIDS cases; and

WHEREAS, the SIDS crisis is a public health problem which demands immediate medicolegal attention.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee conduct an interim study of laws and procedures within Nebraska for the reporting, investigating and recording of unexplained sudden deaths and the applicability of such laws and procedures to SIDS cases.

2. That the Committee shall review laws adopted or proposed in other states to cope with SIDS cases as well as any other data considered helpful for purposes of this study.

3. That the Committee shall reports its findings together with any recommended changes in state law to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS
Judiciary

LEGISLATIVE BILL 204. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 204:

1. On page 3, line 9 after "Nebraska", insert "Advisory".

2. Strike sections 17 to 42, and insert a new section as follows:

"Sec. 17. The director shall (1) provide a comprehensive and integrated statewide plan for alcoholism services, (2) establish minimum standards for the operation of any facility or program providing services funded in whole or in part under the provisions of this act, (3) provide such assistance as may be necessary to place a person suffering from alcoholism in an appropriate facility or program, (4) encourage research by public and private agencies, institutions of higher learning, and hospitals in the interest of the elimination and amelioration of alcoholism and of the care and treatment of alcoholic persons, (5) require budgets to be submitted by each region, which budgets shall detail expected expenditures and projected levels of services and revenue, (6) evaluate submitted budgets to determine the state's share of funding requirements and the services to be rendered, and (7) promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. In adopting such rules and regulations, the director shall be governed by the provisions of Chapter 84, article 9. Any standards, rules, and regulations shall be adopted only after consultation with the committee provided for in this act.

The director may enter into agreements with other departments or agencies of the State of Nebraska that provide alcoholism facilities, programs, or services. Contracts may be made with those organizations designated by the regional boards described herein to assist in the administration or supervision of all alcoholism services and programs provided for by the provisions of this act within the region. The director shall provide necessary limitations on payment for inpatient services. Programs or services may be provided if community-based programs are not available and the director determines that such programs or services cannot reasonably be provided locally where such services are necessary.

The director shall take whatever actions as are lawfully required to assure the coordination of the facilities, programs, and services of the various agencies of the State of Nebraska and those in the regions and communities, whether they be public or private, which are supported in whole or in part by state funds provided by the provisions of this act.".

3. Strike original sections 77 to 79 and insert two new sections as follows:

"Sec. 52. The six regional governing boards shall offer comprehensive community alcoholism programs, services and facilities. The boards shall provide funds for such community-based projects. Federal funding, private sources, third party payments, and fees collected may be used as sources of necessary funds. The state shall provide seventy-five per cent of the funds required to provide the services for each region, exclusive of federal funding, private sources, third party payments, and fees collected under the provisions of this act. Local, county, and other tax-generated sources shall account for at least ten per cent of the funds. Private sources, third party payments, and fees collected shall account for no more than fifteen per cent of the funds. The regional governing boards shall account for all sources and expenditure of funds for any agency receiving any state funds under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 53. Allocation of state matching funds shall be limited to employment of staff personnel, technical assistance, operation of programs, leasing, renting, maintenance of facilities, and for the initiation and continuation of programs and services. State matching funds shall not be used for capital construction. Federal matching funds or other federal funding sources shall not be considered a part of local or state matching.

It shall be the responsibility of the department to require annual audits and reports as it deems necessary to supervise and monitor the provisions of this act. It shall be the further responsibility of the department to provide accountability for all sources of funds and all expenditure of funds for all agencies receiving any funds under the provisions of this act.".

4. Strike sections 87 and 90 and insert three new sections as follows:

"Sec. 63. The provisions of the Alcoholism and Intoxication Treatment Act shall cease to exist on July 1, 1979, unless otherwise provided for by the Legislature pursuant to its review of the administration and development of alcoholism services.

Sec. 64. This act shall become operative on the first day of the month following the effective date of this act.

Sec. 65. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and take effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.".

5. Renumber original sections 43 to 76 as sections 18 to 51 respectively, renumber original sections 80 to 86 as sections 54 to 60 respectively, renumber original sections 88 and 89 as sections 61 and 62 respectively, and renumber original section 91 as section 66.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

February 25, 1977

Mr. President:

I voted for LB 66 with understanding of its monumental impact and effects and with the desire that all other members of the Legislature also should understand them. My affirmative vote was given after the bill had already received overwhelming passage by the votes on the board with no opposition. The bill, in my opinion, did not receive adequate research or explanation as to what I believe its incredible impacts are.

I, among others, have sometimes received criticism for debating too long and raising too many questions -- frequently at the last minute.

My vote, then, was rendered affirmatively in hopes of highlighting what can happen when no opposition or questions or debate are raised on an issue.

The bill, though noble in its goals, is, in my humble opinion, probably unworkable and possibly unconstitutional.

My affirmative vote was given in this context and with the desire that from this example the value and need for adequate research, adequate debate and adequate understanding of legislation might be highlighted and affirmed.

Respectfully,

(Signed) John W. DeCamp

THIRTY-SECOND DAY–FEBRUARY 28, 1977

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

THIRTY-SECOND DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, February 28, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Reverand Lee Van Ham, Associate Pastor, Westminster Presbyterian Church.

> Lord, help us today in one of our recurring dilemmas - the dilemma of being people who have given our word and publicly stated our position, but then in recent weeks or days have come to a new position and need to change our agreements and our public stance. How can we do this and maintain trust with constituents, with one another in this Senate Chamber, and even with ourselves?
> Guide us, Lord, because we want our promises to be trustworthy, and our word to have integrity. Yet, we need the freedom to change our minds. When in our journey we move beyond a position we formerly held, help us to see ways to still be responsible to those who are disappointed and even hurt by our change in perspective.
> Our Father, we eschew being evasive, two-faced, or double-tongued, yet we also need the gracious permission from one another, from those we represent, and even from ourselves to change. May we experience such grace as this legislative session continues.
> Balance then our courage to risk the freedom to change with the courage to continue to make commitments and promises on the basis of the knowledge we have at that time. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Burrows and Koch who were excused.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 25
February 23, 1977

Re: Inquiry concerning possible legislative need for enforcement of Section 39-6,185, 1976 Supp.

Dear Senator Luedtke:

Your inquiry concerning the need for legislative clarification of the provisions of Section 39-6,185 R.S. Supp. 1976, raises the following questions:

1. Can the shifting of the weight on certain axles or groups of axles be accomplished by mechanically moving the 5th wheel positioning or altering any other configuration that an individual vehicle might be capable of doing, and therefore, bringing the unit in total conformity with the requirements on the weight restrictions on individual axles?

2. Can the shifting of the weight be accomplished by a combination of actually moving a part of the load being transported from one portion of the vehicle to another and changing the configuration to be utilized to meet the statutory requirements of Section 39-6,180?

The answer to both questions is "yes", however, the shifting of weight described in both cases is not exempt from the penalty provisions of 39-6,184, R.S. Supp. 1976. The movement of the fifth wheel or the alteration of the configuration of the vehicle is not a "shift of the load" permitted by 39-6,185.

The word "load" is not defined in the statutes which regulate size, weight, and load of vehicles using public roads. However, where a term is not otherwise defined in a statute, "courts should give statutory language its plain and ordinary meaning". State v. One 1970 2-Door Sedan Rambler, 191 Neb. 462, 215 NW2d 849 (1974). "Load" has been defined as follows:

> "Ordinarily, when mention is made of a load, reference is had only to the material placed upon the carriage, and which is designed for removal from one place to another, not to the carriage itself, or to anything used or employed simply as means by which the removal or transportation of that material is effected. . . ." 25A Words and Phrases, "LOAD", p. 68.

Section 39-6,185 R.S. Supp. 1976, provides in part:

> "When any motor vehicle, motor truck, truck tractor, or trailer is operated upon the public highways of this state carrying a load in excess of the maximum weight permitted by Section 39-6,180 or the maximum tolerance permitted in subdivision (1) or (2) of 39-6,182 the load shall be reduced or shifted to within such maximum tolerance before being permitted to operate on any public highway of this state." (emphasis added)

The load by definition being that which is being transported on the vehicle, must be shifted or removed to comply with 39-6,180, and 39-6,182 in order to operate on Nebraska highways.

Section 39-6,185 allows the shifting of a load without penalty if a vehicle is overweight on only one axle or group of axles, if that vehicle conforms to specified measurements and if:

(1) the load on such vehicle is such that it can be shifted, and,

(2) the excess load is caused by the shifting of the weight of livestock by the livestock.

In each situation, the load on the vehicle is determinant of whether a shift may be made without penalty. It plainly follows that movement of a fifth wheel would not move the "load" on the vehicle, and therefore, a "shift" of this type would not escape the penalty provisions of Section 39-6,184.

Very truly yours,

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 17.

Introduced by Kremer, 34th District.

WHEREAS, the State of South Dakota is asserting ownership of and jurisdiction over land lying north of the stabilized channel of the Missouri River, which lands have always been treated as being within the jurisdiction of the State of Nebraska, and,

WHEREAS, the State of South Dakota has initiated an original action in the Supreme Court of the United States against the State of Nebraska challenging the right of the State of Nebraska to continue asserting jurisdiction over and collecting taxes from such lands, and demanding that the State of Nebraska pay over all taxes it has collected in the past, and,

WHEREAS, it is in the best interest of the State of Nebraska to see that the location of such boundaries is properly determined and the interest of its citizens protected.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE IN EIGHTY-FIFTH SESSION ASSEMBLED:

1. That the State of Nebraska is deeply concerned on behalf of its citizens with the policies pursued by officers of the State of South Dakota and the claim of right by that state of certain lands along the Missouri River;

2. That within the limits of appropriations, the State Surveyor may make or cause to be made such surveys and may do such other work of such nature as may be necessary or helpful in determining and defending the boundary of this state where the same is formed by the Missouri River or as may be necessary or helpful in protecting the interests of this state or the citizens thereof from the direct or indirect claims of the State of South Dakota to lands along the Missouri River;

3. That within limits of appropriations, all state departments and agencies should cooperate with the Attorney General in defending the integrity of the borders and boundaries of the State of Nebraska.

Laid over.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORT
Judiciary

LEGISLATIVE BILL 65. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 65:

1. Strike sections 1 to 16 and insert:

"Section 1. The Legislature finds and declares that the law should permit necessary escalation of force directed against an offender to effect his apprehension so long as it is the minimum force reasonably necessary to overcome his efforts either to evade apprehension or to cause harm to others.

The Legislature further declares that negligent or reckless actions committed by law enforcement officers during their efforts in pursuit of actual or suspected violators or in responding to emergencies which damage or injure innocent persons are hereby prohibited and that the duty to avoid damage or injury to innocent third parties is superior to that of pursuit or emergency response.

The Legislature declares to be the policy of this state that, although law enforcement officers are not responsible for damage or injury caused solely by the acts of violators themselves, policy considerations require that such officers balance the necessity for pursuit or apprehension against the probability and severity of damage or injury. The provisions of this act shall be subject to the privileges and conditions stated in section 39-608, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943.

Sec. 2. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) High speed shall mean seventy-five to one hundred per cent of the maximum speed at which a vehicle may be safely operated considering the nature, condition and type of roadway, volume and direction of flow of traffic, presence of intersections, visibility and weather conditions;

(2) Overtake shall mean pursuit of a motorist, who is not yet aware that he is being pursued, in order to (a) position the police vehicle so that audible or visual signals to halt can effectively be communicated to the motorist, (b) continuously communicate audible or visual signals to the motorist until he becomes aware of them, and (c) position the police vehicle so that the officer may more effectively observe the motorist, his vehicle, or his passengers or load;

(3) Officer or police officer shall mean any member of a police department of law enforcement agency of any city, village, county, or other political subdivision of this state or any member of the Nebraska State Patrol;

(4) Police vehicle or unit shall mean any motor vehicle owned by any political subdivision of this state or owned by this state and used in connection with police or law enforcement activities and appropriately marked indicating it to be an official police vehicle or unit;

(5) Pursuit shall mean an active attempt by a law enforcement officer on duty in a patrol car to apprehend one or more occupants of a moving motor vehicle, providing the driver of such vehicle is aware of the attempt and is resisting apprehension by maintaining or increasing his speed or ignoring the attempt of a law enforcement officer to stop him;

(6) Evader shall mean a driver who continues to drive his vehicle, refusing to pull to the right and stop, when he knows or should know of the audible or visual signals to do so directed to him by an officer, but who does not attempt to escape by driving recklessly or at high speeds. The officer shall be in uniform prominently displaying his badge of office and his vehicle shall be appropriately marked indicating it to be an official police vehicle;

(7) Reckless evader shall mean a driver who, in order to escape or avoid apprehension by a police officer, drives his vehicle recklessly or at speeds which are so extreme under the conditions prevailing that his involvement in a collision is probable should he continue; and

(8) Initial pursuing vehicle shall mean the police vehicle which initiates a pursuit or any vehicle which assumes control of the pursuit.

Sec. 3. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, an officer operating a police vehicle shall not move, turn, disregard stop signs or signals, or exceed maximum speed limits unless he is sounding a siren as reasonably necessary to warn other highway users and is displaying a lighted red lamp if his vehicle is so equipped with such lamp.

(2) If the officer operates his vehicle with due care for the safety of all persons and not in reckless disregard for the safety of others, such officer engaged in pursuit of another vehicle or responding to an emergency call for service may, without operating his emergency warning devices, (a) exceed maximum speed limits or disregard regulations governing the turning in specified directions, if he has reason to believe that, if his presence is discovered, (i) evidence of a suspected felony or other serious offense may be destroyed or lost, (ii) the suspect may cease a suspected continuing offense before the officer has acquired sufficient evidence to establish grounds for arrest, or (iii) the suspect may attempt to evade apprehension before the officer is sufficiently close to assure an apprehension or an identification of the violator or his vehicle, or (b) exceed maximum speed limits where the pursuit is conducted in his direction of travel on a multilaned roadway when he has reason to believe that the traffic conditions are such that movements of motorists in response to the warning devices would increase the potential for collision or unreasonably extend the duration of the pursuit.

(3) An officer engaged in overtaking shall not exceed the maximum speed limit by more than twenty miles per hour unless such a rate would unreasonably extend the pursuit or the matter involves one or more of the exceptions stated in subsection (2) of this section and a higher speed is therefore necessary.

(4) An officer engaged in responding to a call for emergency service may not exceed the speed limit by more than twenty miles per hour unless a life-threatening situation exists and traffic conditions permit a higher speed.

Sec. 4. In case of death, injury or property damage to any innocent third party as a result of action taken by an officer under the provisions of this act, damages shall be paid to such third party by the state or political subdivision employing the officer. Payment of such damages by the state or political subdivision shall not relieve the officer from any liability which may attach for violating any provisions of this act.

Sec. 5. No officer shall, for the purpose of restricting or blocking the path of a reckless evader, hold at a standstill, stop, or slow all traffic upon a highway or elsewhere with vehicles operated and occupied by innocent third parties.

Sec. 6. (1) The officer in the initial pursuing police vehicle of a high-speed pursuit may request radio silence to be observed by all units and the base station whenever it is necessary to the proper conduct of the pursuit. The base station operator shall immediately repeat that request to all units on the frequency used by the initial pursuing vehicle. Thereafter, until the high-speed pursuit is ended, only messages involving the high-speed pursuit or those of superior urgency shall be transmitted.

(2) Only the initial pursuing police vehicle shall engage in high-speed pursuit, except that nearby units may move to intercept the fleeing vehicle.

(3) Intercepting police vehicles shall, at all cost, avoid intersecting the path of an oncoming high-speed vehicle. No assisting police vehicle shall move toward the route of a high-speed pursuit without notifying the pursuing officer or the dispatcher of his movement.

(4) If the initial pursuing unit is a motorcycle unit, such unit shall abandon a high-speed pursuit when a four-wheel police vehicle has joined the pursuit and is in contact with the violator.

(5) When an air unit establishes visual contact with the violator's vehicle, the ground units shall be notified of that contact; the air unit shall direct the movement of the initial pursuing unitand all ground units.

Sec. 7. The high-speed pursuit of a reckless evader by ground units, through heavy traffic or densely populated areas, shall be abandoned when:

(1) The original violation was a traffic offense;

(2) No felony has been comitted during the pursuit;

(3) There is no reason to believe that the reckless evader is attempting escape from apprehension for any felony; or

(4) It is reasonable to believe that the evader will discontinue his reckless and high-speed vehicle operation if the pursuit is abandoned. If at any point the identity of the driver of the pursued vehicle becomes known, and the reason for the pursuit is a traffic violation or the commission of a misdemeanor, the pursuit shall terminate and the driver of the pursued vehicle shall be apprehended at a later time.

Sec. 8. Except when directed otherwise by a supervising officer, the officer in the initial pursuing unit of a high-speed pursuit is authorized to abandon that pursuit in the interest of safety, and his decision to do so shall be immediately communicated by him or the base station to all other units involved. Thereafter, all police vehicles shall abandon that high-speed pursuit.

Sec. 9. An officer shall use emergency warning equipment in responding to calls for service only when specifically authorized to do so by the person authorized to assign him to the call, as provided in this act. An officer may obtain authorization to respond in a different mode if circumstances warrant.

Sec. 10. An authorized person acting as a radio dispatcher or in any other way assigning a police officer in a vehicle to respond to a call for service shall, in addition to all other pertinent information, designate the response mode to be used by the assigned officer.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

February 25, 1977

The Honorable Roland Luedtke
Speaker of the House
Member of the Unicameral
Room 2022 – State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Senator Luedtke:

In the 1976 Legislature, Legislative Bill 987 was adopted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor. This law is known as the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act. Among its provisions is the establishment of the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission. Various provisions of this bill call for the appointment of commission members by the Governor and myself. The Governor and I were to each appoint three members; I have now completed the appointment of my three members and I now call to your attention sections 108 and 109 of the bill. These provisions call for legislative confirmation on, or before March 15, 1977. Therefore, I submit to you with this letter copies of my appointments, resumes of the appointees and a copy of LB 987 for your quick reference.

I trust you will submit these appointments to the proper committee for their legislative confirmation prior to March 15, 1977.

Thank you for your kind attention to this request and its details.

One further request, so that my files will be complete – when legislative confirmation is completed on my three appointees would you and/or the committee chairman please notify my office, in writing, so that I can make it a part of the record in my office and a part of the record for this new commission when it is established and operating.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALLEN J. BEERMANN
Secretary of State

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 26
February 25, 1977

Dear Senator Barnett:

You have requested the opinion of this office concerning whether the titles to LBs 39, 40 and 41 adequately express the subject contained in those bills within the meaning of Article III, Section 14 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Section 14 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska requires in part that:

> ". . .No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title. . . ."

The Nebraska Supreme Court in Duerfeldt v. State, 184 Neb. 242, 166 N.W.2d 737 (1969) stated:

> "... 'Where the title of an act fairly gives expression to the general subject-matter contained in the act, such act will not be held invalid as being broader than its title.' ... 'The provisions of the Constitution relating to titles are to be liberally construed so as to admit of the insertion in a legislative act of all provisions which, although not specifically expressed in the title, are comprehended within the objects and purposes of the act as expressed in the title, ... ' ..."

The Supreme Court furthermore stated the purpose of said constitutional provision to be in Blackledge v. Richards, 194 Neb. 188, 231 N.W.2d 319:

> "...The purpose of Article III, section 14, of the Nebraska Constitution, is to prevent surreptitious legislation. This court will not strike down an act of the Legislature under this provision of the Constitution if it can be said that the title calls attention to the subject matter of the bill. ..."

The court then proceeds to hold that the challenged section was germane to the purpose announced in the title to the act and therefore the challenged section was not enacted in violation of the Nebraska Constitution.

The title to all three legislative bills reads in part as follows:

> "For an act relating to crimes and punishments; to harmonize provisions with the Nebraska Criminal Code; to provide an operative date; to amend sections ..."

Your question is essentially whether the title of the act is broad enough to encompass within its meaning changes in penalties including those instances wherein the penalty is increased. In light of the liberal interpretations historically given section 14 of Article III, we are of the opinion that the titles to the bills in question are valid and not in conflict with the Nebraska Constitution. It is our opinion that if the court were presented with such a question it would hold that a change in penalty, whether an increase or decrease, incidental to the assignment of various violations into classes of criminal behavior under the proposed Nebraska Criminal Code, is germane to the purpose expressed in the titles of the bills in question.

Yours very truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 27
February 24, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the disposition of part of the funds collected as a result of the issuance of parking tickets for administrative and other costs.

Article VII, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution provides as follows:

> "All fines, penalties, and license money, arising under the general laws of the state, . . . shall belong and be paid over to the counties respectively, where the same may be levied or imposed, and all fines, penalties, and license money arising under the rules, by-laws, or ordinances of cities, villages, precincts, or other municipal subdivision less than a county, shall belong and be paid over to the same respectively. All such fines, penalties, and license money shall be appropriated exclusively to the use and support of the common schools in the respective subdivisions where the same may accrue, . . ."

In School District of McCook v. City of McCook, 163 Neb. 317, 81 N.W.2d 224, an action was brought to determine who was entitled to the monies received under the city's parking meter ordinance. The ordinance provided that if a violator of the ordinance appeared at the police station within 24 hours he should pay 25 cents, 10 cents of the amount to be deemed payment of the parking privilege not previously paid and 15 cents as payment of operation and administration expenses. If the violator appeared after 24 hours but within 72 hours, he should pay $1.25, 10 cents for the unpaid parking privilege and the balance for operation and administrative expenses. If failure to appear within 72 hours subjected the violator to a complaint and warrant of arrest for violation of the ordinance.

In reversing the trial court, which had held that the school district had no right to the funds allocated by the ordinance for operation and administrative expenses, our Supreme Court said:

> ". . The Constitution having provided that such penalties shall be paid over to the common schools, the city may not divert them to any other purpose. The fact that the ordinance of the city may designate a portion as compensatory and the balance for the cost of operation and administration cannot have the effect of changing the true character of these funds. If they be penalties under the constitutional provision, as they are, the city cannot change their character by giving them a name inconsistent with their true character. Since the Constitution is the supreme law of the state, any attempt by a city to make a distribution of funds contrary to its provisions is ineffectual and void."

More recently in School District of Omaha v. City of Omaha, 175 Neb. 21, 120 N.W.2d 267, our Supreme Court reaffirmed the decision in the McCook case and added that neither the Legislature nor the city may divert penalties to any other purpose than the support of the common schools.

In the Omaha case the court held that forfeited recognizance and cash bonds could not, pursuant to city ordinance, be diverted to a police relief and pension fund.

It is therefore very clear that there is no authority to authorize the deduction of administrative costs from monies collected as a result of the issuance of parking tickets.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, March 2, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord and Saviour of us all: We need Your help to take resentment out of our thoughts and meditations - sometimes more than others, but never, it seems, are we completely free of this need - for things happen if life generally and in the life of this Legislature, of course, which annoy and hurt us.
> Words are spoken which we sometimes feel to be personally unkind or unnecessary; and we feel ourselves to be misjudged when we should be congratulated, or overlooked when we should be recognized.
> Save us from inner rebellion and bitterness and moodiness, for such things can succeed only in destroying our souls.
> Help us today by reminding us of that perfect one who tread these paths before us in the fullness of time; and may the way the Master went be the way the servant travels still. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. F. Lewis, Hefner, and Mrs. Marsh who were excused; Messrs. Brennan, Venditte, Stoney, Murphy, Mills, Simon, and R. Lewis who were excused until they arrive; and Mrs. Labedz who was absent until 10:30 a.m.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 30
March 1, 1977

Dear Senator Warner:

This is in reply to your inquiry which pertains to an appropriation for public radio. Specifically, does the current law governing the Educational Television Commission permit the establishment of public radio to be operated by that Commission or would enabling legislation be necessary before an appropriation could be spent for the purpose of establishing a public radio net work?

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission was created "for the purpose of promoting and establishing noncommercial educational television facilities within the State of Nebraska and providing noncommercial educational television programs throughout the State of Nebraska by standard broadcast or by closed curcuit transmission." Neb. Rev. Stat. Section 79-2101 (Reissue 1971). We are therefore of the opinion that the current law governing the Nebraska Educational Television Commission would not authorize or permit the Commission to establish a public radio network. If a public radio network is to be established, enabling legislation, in our opinion, would be necessary.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS
Public Works

LEGISLATIVE BILL 228. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 228:

1. Insert a new section 1 as follows:
"Section 1. That section 31-727, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:
31-727. (1) A majority of the owners having an interest in the real property within the limits of a proposed sanitary and improvement district, situated in one or more counties in this state, may form a sanitary and improvement district for the purpose of installing electric service lines and conduits, a sewer system, a water system, a civil defense warning system, a system of sidewalks, public roads, streets, and highways, public waterways, docks or wharfs, and related appurtenances, to contract for water for fire protection and for resale to residents of the district, to contract for police protection and security services, and to contract for gas and for electricity for street lighting for the public streets and highways within said proposed district, to construct and to contract for the construction of dikes and levees for flood protection for the district, and to acquire, improve and operate public parks, playgrounds and recreational facilities; Provided, that sanitary and improvement districts located in any county which has a city of the metropolitan class within its boundaries or in any adjacent county which has adopted a comprehensive plan may contract with other sanitary and improvement districts to acquire, build, improve, and operate public parks, playgrounds, and recreational facilities for the joint use of the residents of the contracting districts. Nothing in this section shall authorize districts to purchase electric service and resell the same. The district, in lieu of establishing its own water system, may contract with any utilities district, municipality or corporation for the installation of a water system and to provide water service for fire protection and for the use of the residents of the district. For that purpose said majority of the owners may make and sign articles of association in which shall be stated (a) the name of the district, (b) that same shall have perpetual existence, (c) the limits of the district, (d) the names and places of residence of the owners of the land in the proposed district, (e) the description of the several tracts of land situated in the district owned by those who may organize the district, (f) the name or names and the description of the real estate owned by such owners as do not join in the organization of the district, but who will be benefited thereby, and (g) whether the purpose of the corporation shall be installing gas and electric service lines and conduits, installing a sewer system, installing a water system, installing a system of public roads, streets, and highways, public waterways, docks or wharfs, and related appurtenances, contracting for water for fire protection and for resale to residents of the district, or contracting for street lighting for the public streets and highways within the proposed district, constructing or contracting for the construction of dikes and levees for flood protection of the proposed district, or acquiring, improving and operating public parks, playgrounds and recreational facilities, or, where permitted by this section, contracting with other sanitary and improvement districts to acquire, build, improve, and operate public parks, playgrounds, and recreational facilities for the joint use of the residents of the contracting districts, or a combination of any one or more of such purposes, or all of such purposes. Such owners of real estate as are unknown may also be set out in said articles as such. No sanitary and improvement district may own or hold land in excess of ten acres, unless such land so owned and held by such district is actually used for a public purpose, as provided in this section, within three years of its acquisition. Any sanitary and improvement district which has heretofore acquired land in excess of ten acres in area and has not devoted the same to a public purpose, as set forth in this section, within three years of the date of its acquisition, shall devote the same to a use set forth in this section, or shall divest itself of such land. When a district divests itself of land pursuant to this section, it shall do so by sale at public auction to the highest bidder after notice of such sale has been given by publication at least three times for three consecutive weeks prior to the date of sale in a legal newspaper of general circulation within the area of the district.

(2) The articles of association, referred to in subsections (1), (3), and (4) of this section, shall further state that the owners of real estate so forming the district for such purposes are willing and obligate themselves to pay the tax or taxes which may be levied against all the property in the district and special assessments against the real property benefited which may be assessed against them, to pay the expenses that may be necessary to install a sewer, or water system, or both a sewer and water system, the cost of water for fire protection, the cost of grading, changing grade, paving, repairing, graveling, regraveling, widening, or narrowing sidewalks and roads, resurfacing or relaying existing pavement, or otherwise improving any public roads, streets, or highways within the district, the cost of constructing public waterways, docks or wharfs, and related appurtenances, the cost of constructing or contracting for the construction of dikes and levees for flood protection for the district, and the cost of electricity for street lighting for the public streets and highways within the district, the cost of installing gas and electric service lines and conduits, the cost of acquiring, improving and operating public parks, playgrounds, and recreational facilities, and, where permitted by this section, the cost of contracting for building, acquiring, improving, and operating public parks, playgrounds, and recreational facilities, as provided by law.

(3) The articles, referred to in subsections (1), (2), and (4) of this section, shall propose the names of five or more trustees, who shall be owners of real estate located in the proposed district, to serve as a board of trustees until their successors are elected and qualified, should said district be organized. No corporation formed or hereafter formed shall perform any new functions, other than those for which the corporation was formed, without amending its articles of association to include the new function or functions.

(4) After the articles referred to in subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section are signed, the same shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which such sanitary and improvement district is located or, if such sanitary and improvement district is composed of tracts or parcels of land in two or moe different counties, in the office of the clerk of the district court for the county in which the greater portion of such proposed sanitary and improvement district is located, together with a petition praying that the same may be declared a sanitary and improvement district under sections 31-727 to 31-762.

(5) For the purposes of sections 31-727 to 31-762, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) Public waterways shall mean artificially created boat channels dedicated to public use and providing access to navigable rivers or streams;

(b) Operation and maintenance expenses shall mean and include, but not be limited to, salaries, cost of materials and supplies for operation and maintenance of the district's facilities, cost of ordinary repairs, replacements, and alterations, cost of surety bonds and insurance, cost of audits and other fees, and taxes;

(c) Capital outlay shall mean expenditures for construction or reconstruction of major permanent facilities having an expected long life, including, but not limited to, street paying and curbs, storm and sanitary sewers, and other utilities;

(d) Warrant shall mean a short-term interest-bearing order payable on a specified date issued by the board of trustees of a sanitary and improvement district to be paid from funds expected to be received in the future, including, but not limited to, property tax collections, special assessment collections, and proceeds of sale of general obligation bonds; and

(e) General obligation bond shall mean a long-term written promise to pay a specified sum of money, referred to as the face value or principal amount, at a specified maturity date or dates in the future, plus periodic interest at a specified rate.".

2. Insert a new section 3 as follows:

"Sec. 3. That section 31-735.02, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

31-735.02. The county clerk or election commissioner shall certify the results of the election to the district. The board shall also certify to the district the number of hours worked by the election board. Payment shall be made by the district directly to election board members within forty-five days following such certification. Upon completion of the canvass, the county clerk or election commissioner shall turn all supplies, ballots, and books over to the district for which the election was held.".

3. On page 2, line 23, after the period, insert "In those districts where either two or three trustees are to be elected by the legal property owners of such district, a person filing for the office of trustee shall designate whether he is a candidate for election by the resident owners of such district, or whether he is a candidate for election by the resident and nonresident owners within such district. The name of such candidate shall appear on only one ballot.".

4. On page 3, line 15, after the period, insert "Notice of the time and place of the election shall also be mailed by the clerk of the district to the county clerk of election commissioner at least forty-five days prior to the election.".

5. On page 4, line 10, after "second", insert ", seasonal or recreational"; and in line 12, after the underscored period, insert "If the number of trustees required by this section are not elected, such offices shall be filled by the person receiving the next largest number of votes to those candidates declared elected to the office.".

6. On page 5, line 8, after the period, insert "When ownership of a platted lot or unplatted land is held jointly by two or more persons, whether as joint tenants, tenants in common, limited partners, or any other form of joint ownership, only one person shall be entitled to cast the vote of such property.".

7. Renumber original sections 1 and 2 as sections 2 and 4 respectively.

8. On page 5, line 19, strike "section 31-735," and insert "sections 31-727, 31-735, and 31-735.02,"; and in line 20, strike "is" and insert "are".

LEGISLATIVE BILL 420. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendment to LB 420:

1. On page 2, line 5 strike "twenty" and insert "twenty-five".

Thursday, March 3, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Almighty and merciful God; source of all life; Father of all spirits; author of all good: we begin this important day in prayer - not because we are worthy, but because we are needy. We confess that the problems we have come to consider are ours - they are man-made; but whatever the ability we have to solve them, it is not ours; it must be God-given!
> Somehow make us equal to the large demands of the present hour. Lest we become timid in the face of criticism, remind us that our citizens don't sit in the seats of responsibility which have been assigned to us. Lest we become complacent in the face of our authority, remind us that if anything we decide here is in fact to happen, it is the tax-payer who must do it. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mrs. Marsh and Messrs. F. Lewis and Venditte who were excused; Messrs. Mills and Stoney who were excused until they arrive; Mrs. Maxey who was absent until 9:15 a.m.; and Messrs. Swigart absent until 9:40 a.m., Kelly, Kremer, R. Lewis and Moylan absent until 10:30 a.m.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Thirty-Fourth Day was approved.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 31

March 2, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have asked for our comments on a variety of questions relating to ground water, several of which have been historically perplexing. Apparently you are interested in obtaining a general legal background on ground water issues as you ask no specific questions concerning any particular bill. For this reason, in addition to our following general analysis of the questions you have raised, we refer you to two sources: First, general background information on ground water laws and problems in Nebraska, along with recommendations, is contained in the Platte River Basin-Nebraska Level B Study (Missouri River Basin Commission, March 1975), and secondly, a legal study of the issues relating to ground water in this state is found in Harnsberger, 52 Neb. L.Rev. 179 (1973). The latter article contains many citations to other sources if you are interested in further inquiry.

You first ask about the interest an individual has in water underlying his land. We will assume for the present that you are referring to ground water as described in section 46-635, R.R.S. 1943, and section 46-657 (2), R.S.Supp., 1976, which define the term as "that water which occurs or moves, seeps, filters, or percolates through ground under the surface of the land." In Olson v. City of Wahoo, 124 Neb. 802, 248 N.W. 304 (1933), our court stated:

> "...(T)he owner of land is entitled to appropriate subterranean waters found under his land, but he cannot extract and appropriate them in excess of a reasonable and beneficial use upon the land which he owns, especially if such use is injurious to others who have substantial rights to the waters, and if the natural underground supply is insufficient for all owners, each is entitled to a reasonable proportion of the whole, and while a lesser number of states have adopted this rule, it is, in our opinion, supported by the better reasoning."

This proposition has apparently been adopted by our Supreme Court as the rule in this state by subsequent decisions. See, e.g., Luchsinger v. Loup River Public Power Dist., 140 Neb. 179, 299 N.W. 549 (1941); Metropolitan Utilities Dist. of Omaha v. Merritt Beach Co., 179 Neb. 783, 140 N.W.2d 626 (1966). (The latter case did not mention the apportionment in times of insufficient supply portion of the rule.) The above cited rule, however, may not apply to underground streams as noted in the Olson decision.

Under the Supreme Court decisions it is virtually impossible to ascertain with certainty the exact nature of the proprietary interest, if any, an individual has to water under his land. Generally, the water is not "owned" as one would own a parcel of real estate, but a right to use the water may be acquired. Whether an individual who actually withdraws ground water and applies it to a reasonable and beneficial use thereby acquires a vested property right requiring just compensation under Article I, Section 21, of the Nebraska Constitution when the use of the water is taken or restricted for a public purpose is a perplexing question. This is largely due to the fact that the Olson rule seems to be a hybrid of two other rules: The American Rule and the California Correlative Rights Rule. Under the American Rule, a landowner can withdraw all the water beneath his land as long as it is applied to a beneficial and reasonable use of his land. The needs of other users or the amount of injury they sustain is irrelevant under this rule. The California Correlative Rights doctrine provides that each landowner has an equal and reciprocal right to apply ground water beneath his land to a beneficial use. The water is apportioned between the overlying landowners on the basis of their comparative reasonable needs when there is an insufficient supply. The former rule contemplates a proprietary interest while the latter does not. (See, Harnsberger, supra, at 204 through 210.) Thus, the individual's proprietary status under the Olson rule remains a question mark. Whatever the nature of the individual's right under Nebraska case law, it is generally agreed that such right does not attach unless and until the individual actually withdraws the water and applies it to a reasonable beneficial use. (See, Harnsberger, supra, at 267.)

Aside from the murky issue of whether current users of ground water have a vested property right in that water, the Legislature has broad authority to regulate the use of ground water. It is a basic tenant of our form of government that the Legislature has plenary legislative authority except as otherwise limited by state or federal Constitutions. Orleans Education Association v. School Dist. of Orleans, 193 Neb. 675, 229 N.W. 2d 172 (1975). The general police powers of the state would provide a basis for such an exercise of legislative authority. The language in Olson referring to apportionment in times of insufficient water supply may also provide a basis for state regulation and restriction of the use of ground water in times of shortage. Likewise, the Legislature may define and regulate what uses are not reasonable and beneficial under the Olson rule and protect other water users from injurious uses by ground water users. In Metrolpolitan Utilities Dist. of Omaha v. Merritt Beach Co., supra, the court, recognizing the need for control and regulation of ground water, stated that it was "preserving the right of the Legislature, unimpaired, to determine the policy of the state as to underground waters and the rights of persons in their use." This may indicate the court's view that the Legislature has virtually unfettered authority to define rights and regulate use in this area.

Your next question concerns the origin of the individual's and the state's respective rights to ground water. As noted above, the landowner's right to ground water has been defined and established by the courts. The state's authority stems in large part from its inherent police powers and its general grant of legislating authority under Article III, Section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution. There are few constitutional or statutory provisions relating to ground water. Article XV, Section 4, of our Constitution states:

> "The necessity of water for domestic use and for irrigation purposes in the State of Nebraska is hereby declared to be a natural want."

This section applies to ground water but its meaning is unclear. At most, it may be argued that it merely implies that ground water "must be reasonably used for a beneficial purpose without waste." See, Metropolitan Utilities Dist. of Omaha v. Merritt Beach Co., supra. No "rights" to the use of ground water by an individual have thus far been established by statute in this state other than a preference statute establishing a priority for domestic, agricultural and manufacturing or industrial uses. Section 46-613, R.R.S. 1943. The Legislature has, however, enacted some legislation enabling the state to regulate the spacing, location and registration of certain wells, a permit system for city ground water supplies, and a procedure for the natural resource districts and the state to establish control areas with powers to restrict or deny further use of ground water in times of insufficient water supplies. You may find these provisions in Article 6, Chapter 46, of the Revised Statutes of Nebraska, as amended to date.

You further inquire as to whether there is any ambiguity in the law on ground water in this state and if so, from whence it originates. As noted above, the questions of whether, under what circumstances and to what extent an individual may have a vested property right in the use of ground water which he applies to a beneficial and reasonable use remains unresolved. This may be relevant in the event the Legislature chooses to restrict these rights. There are, of course, other areas of uncertainty such as the relative rights of ground water users compared to appropriators and riparians, but due to time and resource limitations it would be virtually impossible to provide you with a complete analysis of these problems in the reasonably near future. In any event, it is our policy to confine our comments to specific questions raised by particular provisions of proposed legislation.

You next inquire whether a change in the proprietary interest of the individual could be done statutorily or constitutionally. As noted above, the Legislature has full authority to regulate this area within constitutional limitations. A constitutional provision could also properly produce a change of this nature. Again, compensation may be required under Article I, Section 21, of the Constitution. Similarly, ground water could be dedicated to the public use either by statute or by constitutional amendment within existing constitutional limitations. What has been said in response to this question should not be construed to mean that any statute or constitutional amendment defining the rights of ground water users or regulating the use of such water will necessarily pass constitutional muster. We will address in more detail any specific questions you have concering the legal problems involved in any particular piece of proposed legislation.

Your last question involving the comparative rights of individuals in the event of "state ownership in toto" is impossible to answer at this time since our response would depend entirely upon the provisions of law which established such state "ownership." The comparative rights of individuals in such a situation would be a proper subject for the Legislature to address.

Sincerely,
PAUL L. DOULGAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 30
March 1, 1977

Dear Senator Warner:

This is in reply to your inquiry which pertains to an appropriation for public radio. Specifically, does the current law governing the Educational Television Commission permit the establishment of public radio to be operated by that Commission or would enabling legislation be necessary before an appropriation could be spent for the purpose of establishing a public radio network?

The Nebraska EducationalTelevision Commission was created "for the purpose of promoting and establishing noncommercial educational television facilities within the State of Nebraska and providing noncommercial educational television programs throughout the State of Nebraska by standard broadcast or by closed circuit transmission." Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-2101 (Reissue 1971). We are therefore of the opinion that the current law governing the Nebraska Educational Television Commission would not authorize or permit the Commission to establish a public radio network. If a public radio network is to be established, enabling legislation, in our opinion, would be necessary.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

cc Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature

Opinion No. 32
March 2, 1977

Dear Senator Schmit:

In your letter of February 23, 1977 you ask whether the federal government or, more prescisely, the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, has the authority, under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act to establish a certification program for certification of applicators of pesticides, if Nebraska's plan is not approved by October 21, 1977. We conclude that the administrator has such authority. 7 U.S.C.A. Section 136b provides for certification of applicators. Subsection (a)(1) of that section provides:

> "Subject to paragraph (2), the Administrator shall prescribe standards for the certification of applicators of pesticides. Such standards shall provide that to be certified an individual must be determined to be competent with respect to the use and handling of pesticides, or to the use and handling of the pesticide or class of pesticides covered by such individual's certification."

Paragraph (2) referred to in the above quotation, then provides for state certification. It provides that a state may submit to the administrator a state plan for certification, which the administrator shall approve if it meets certain criteria. Provision is also made for withdrawal of approval if the administrator determines, after a hearing, that the state is not administering the program in accordance with the plan.

On the surface, it would appear that the act contemplates federal certification as the norm, with the state certification as a permissable alternative. You have, however, submitted to us with your letter a copy of an opinion from an Associate Deputy General Counsel in the Environmental Protection Agency, dated November 15, 1976. He makes it clear that this is not what EPA itself contemplates, but that it is expected that the states will submit acceptable plans, and administer them, with EPA exercising a supervisory role of requiring a state plan which meets the requirements of the federal act, and making sure that the states administer their programs in accordance with the plans approved. We have read that opinion, and, so far as we can tell, it correctly analyzes the federal act. Certainly the writer of that opinion is far more knowledgeable than we are as to the plans of EPA in the administration of the act.

In any event, as a legal proposition, in our opinion the act gives EPA the authority to establish and administer a certification program of its own, in the event of the failure of the state to submit a plan which will be approved by the administrator by October 21, 1977.

Very truly yours,

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY—MARCH 4, 1977

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Friday, March 4, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:01 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Hurried affairs of the day with all the demands and pressures that come upon us we forget Thee, and in our forgetfulness we are successful in denying Thy will.
> Watch over us then, we pray, especially in these sessions of our legislative session. Guide us through each day as pressures increase, as obligations multiply, as voices conflict with voices, urging us to do this or that, and grant that somehow inside each of our lives there shall be a central place of calm and quietness where we can turn and listen to a voice which is like a sound of gentle stillness a still, small voice that guides and directs our lives, infallibly.
> Help us to do Thy will in this house and in this Legislature through this and every year, we ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Bereuter, Burrows, DeCamp, Fowler, Lamb, Luedtke, F. Lewis, Nichol, and Venditte who were excused; and Mr. Boughn and Mrs. Maxey who were excused until they arrive.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

Standing Committee amendments to LB 365:

1. Strike sections 1 and 2 and insert:

"Section 1. That section 84-306.01, Reissued Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

84-306.01. Whenever any state officer, ~~or~~ employee, or member of any commission, council, committee, or board of the state is entitled to be reimbursed for expenses incurred by him in the line of duty provided for in sections 2, 3, and 4 of this act, he shall be required to present a claim each month therefor to the Director of Administrative Services, which claim shall be fully itemized as to each charge, showing the date, name of the hotel, if any, location of the expense, and the necessity therefor. When mileage by automobile is claimed, the points between which said mileage accrued, the time of arrival and departure, the necessity and purpose therefor, the license number and owner of the automobile so used, and the rate per mile shall be shown on such claim. When reimbursement for expenses incurred in air travel by commercial carrier is claimed, the points between which such travel occurred, the time of arrival and departure, the necessity and purpose of such travel, and the actual expense of such travel shall be shown on such claim. When reimbursement for expense incurred in air travel in airplanes chartered by the department or agency is claimed, the points between which such travel occurred, the time of arrival and departure, the necessity and purpose of such travel, and the actual expense of such travel shall be shown on such claim. When reimbursement for expenses incurred in air travel by personally-rented airplane is claimed, the points between which such travel occurred, the time of arrival and departure, the necessity and purpose of such travel, and the actual expense of such travel shall be shown on such claim. No claim shall be submitted by a ~~state officer or employee~~ an individual including the cost of air transportation when such cost has been paid by direct voucher from the agency or department concerned. When such cost of air transportation has been paid by the individual and is submitted for reimbursement, a receipt for the amount of the expenditure for the cost of air transportation shall be attached to the voucher. When reimbursement for expenses incurred in air travel by privately-owned airplane is claimed, the points between which such travel occurred, the time of arrival and departure, the necessity and purpose of such travel, the cost of operating the airplane not to exceed fourteen cents per mile, and the actual expense of such travel shall be shown on such claim. The statement of expenses shall be duly verified and supported by receipts for all of such expenditures, except meals, for which reimbursement is claimed. No charge for mileage shall be allowed when such mileage accrues while using an automobile owned by the State of Nebraska. No personal maintenance expenses shall be allowed to any state officer, ~~or~~ employee, or member of any commission, council, committee, or board of the state when such expenses are incurred in the city or town wherein the residence or headquarters of such ~~officer or employee~~ individual is located.

Sec. 2. Any member of any commission, council, committee, or board which has been created by statute shall be entitled to be reimbursed for expenses in the same manner as provided in section 84-306.01.

Sec. 3. If the creation of a commission, council, committee, or board is necessary for purpose of compliance with acts of congress, or federal rules and regulations resulting from such acts, such members shall be reimbursed for expenses incurred from federal funds available to pay such expenses.

Sec. 4. Any member of any commission, council, committee, or board which exists, but is not entitled to reimbursement of the provisions of section 2 or 3 of this act shall be entitled to reimbursement for necessary and actual expenses incurred by such board member in the line of duty if approved by the Governor and an appropriation is made for such purpose.

Sec. 5. That original section 84-306.01, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, is repealed.".

2. Renumber original section 3 as section 6.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord our God: by now it seems so very familiar to us all - the dash back to the statehouse for the tasks of another week; the rap of the speaker's gavel; the prayer of the Chaplain; the pile of unopened letters on our desks from those who see so clearly what we should be doing here; the guests in the gallery who are trying to see what we are doing here; the reporters who will tell the folks back home what they believe we have been doing here; and beyond all these, the things which we have convinced ourselves that we are in fact doing here; by now it seems so very familiar to us all - we've been down this road so many times before.
> But the more familiar the way, the more treacherous the detours. Keep us on course, we pray!
> Save us from the sin of over-familiarity with public trust.
> May our accomplishments for Nebraska be so significant that even we, when we describe them, may not be guilty of bragging - nor when we accept our checks, guilty of sponging. Amen.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 353: Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 353:

1. Strike original sections 1 and 2 and insert five new sections as follows:

"Section 1. That section 77-3001, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

77-3001. As used in sections 77-3001 to 77-3011, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Person shall mean and include an individual, partnership, society, association, joint stock company, corporation, estate, receiver, lessee, trustee, assignee, referee, or any other person acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity, whether appointed by a court or otherwise, and any combination of individuals;

(2) Mechanical amusement device shall mean and include any machine which, upon insertion of a coin, or substitute therefor, operates or may be operated or used for a game, contest or amusement of any description, such as, by way of example, but not by way of limitation, pinball games, shuffleboard, bowling games, radio-ray rifle games, baseball, football, racing, boxing games, and coin-operated pool tables; and mechanical amusement device shall also include game and draw lotteries and coin-operated automatic musical devices; Provided, that it shall not mean and include vending machines which dispense tangible personal property, ~~coin-operated automatic musical devices,~~ devices located in private homes for private use, or devices which are mechanically constructed in a manner that would render their operation illegal under the laws of the State of Nebraska;

(3) Operator shall mean and include any person who operates a place of business in which a machine or device owned by him is physically located or any person who places and who either directly or indirectly controls or manages any machine or device;

(4) Distributor shall mean and include any person who sells, leases, or delivers possession or custody of a machine or mechanical device to operators thereof for a consideration either directly or indirectly received;

(5) Whenever in sections 77-3001 to 77-3011 the words machine or device are used they refer to mechanical amusement device; and

(6) Whenever in sections 77-3001 to 77-3011, the words machine, device, person, operator, or distributor are used, the words in the singular include the plural, and the plural include the singular.

Sec. 2. That section 77-3004, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

77-3004. (1) An occupation tax is hereby imposed and levied, in the amount and in accordance with the terms and conditions hereafter stated, upon the business of operating mechanical amusement devices within the State of Nebraska for profit or gain either directly or indirectly received. Every person who now or hereafter engages in the business of operating such devices in the State of Nebraska shall pay such tax in the amount and manner specified in this section.

(2) Any operator of a mechanical amusement device within the State of Nebraska shall pay an occupation tax in the amount of ~~ten~~ fifteen dollars for each machine or device which he operates during all of the taxable year. The tax shall be due and payable on July 1 of each year, on each machine or device in operation on that date; Provided, that it shall be unlawful to pay any such occupation tax unless the operator has actual ownership of the mechanical amusement devices being taxed and unless the sales or use tax has been paid on such mechanical amusement devices. For every machine or device put into operation on a date subsequent to July 1, and which has not been included in computing the tax imposed and levied by the provisions of sections 77-3001 to 77-3011, the tax shall be due and payable therefor prior to the time the machine or device is placed in operation; Provided, a tax in the amount of ~~five~~ seven dollars and fifty cents shall be due and payable on each machine placed into operation after January 1 of each tax year but prior to July 1.

Sec. 3. That section 77-3007, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

77-3007. (1) The payment of the tax imposed by the provisions of sections 77-3001 to 77-3011 shall be evidenced by a separate ~~certificate~~ decal for each device, ~~or other document~~ signifying payment of the tax, in a form prescribed by the Tax Commissioner.

(2) Every operator shall place such decal in a conspicuous place on each device to denote ~~and keep conspicuously posted on or about each device a~~

~~certificate or other document denoting~~ payment of the tax ~~on one~~ for each device for the current year.

~~(3) The certificate or other document required by this section shall be general in form and assignable to any device; Provided, that one certificate or other document signifying payment of the tax shall be posted for each device present.~~

Sec. 4. That section 77-3009, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

77-3009. (1) Any person who has placed a mechanical amusement device in operation in the State of Nebraska without the necessary decal being placed conspicuously upon it, is subject to an administrative penalty of thirty dollars for each violation.

(2) Any mechanical amusement device which does not have the necessary decal conspicuously displayed upon it, is subject to being sealed by the State Tax Commissioner or his delegate. If such seal is broken prior to payment of the occupation tax upon such device, the device shall be subject to forfeiture and sale by the State Tax Commissioner.

(3) Any person violating any of the provisions of sections 77-3001 to 77-3011 shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in an amount not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned for a period not exceeding six months, or both, in the discretion of the court. Each day on which any person shall engage in or conduct the business of operating or distributing the machines or devices subject to the provisions of sections 77-3001 to 77-3011, without having paid the tax as provided, shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 5. That original sections 77-3001, 77-3004, 77-3007, and 77-3009, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.".

PRESIDENT SIGNED

While the Legislature was in session and capable of transacting business, the President signed the following resolution: LR 17.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 19.

Introduced by Kelly, 35th District.

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes that alcohol abuse has caused an incalculable amount of pain, suffering, and damage to the citizens; and

WHEREAS, this abuse also is widespread among teenage minors who have not attained the legal drinking age of nineteen years; and

WHEREAS, there is great disregard by minors for the current liquor laws; and

WHEREAS, the reported violations of liquor laws by minors have increased significantly since the legal drinking age was lowered from twenty-one to nineteen years in 1972; and

WHEREAS, the enforcement of the liquor laws as they apply to minors is quite ineffective; and

WHEREAS, the prosecutors are extremely lenient in filing complaints against minors who violate the liquor laws; and

WHEREAS, plea-bargaining in these cases is rampant; and

WHEREAS, the courts are overly lenient in the processing, handling, and disposition of those cases which are filed; and

WHEREAS, those students from the University of Nebraska who testified in opposition to LB 369 did favor and call for stricter enforcement of the current liquor laws; and

WHEREAS, there is a great problem on the part of liquor retailers in determining the exact age of prospective purchasers of alcoholic liquor; and

WHEREAS, the highway fatalities of teenagers in the State of Nebraska in which there was alcohol involvement has increased significantly over the past five years; and

WHEREAS, the young people in the State of Nebraska are insufficiently educated as to the possible dangers and the potential abuse of alcoholic liquor.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee of the Legislature shall study and examine the problems of teenage alcohol abuse.

2. That this study shall include a specific examination of all aspects of the enforcement of the current liquor laws as they apply to minors under the age of nineteen years, and to those adults over nineteen years who supply, or aid in the supply of alcoholic liquors to such minors.

3. That at the conclusion of the study such committee shall submit a report of its findings, together with any legislative recommendations which would curb the widespread abuse by teenagers, and prevent its further proliferation, to the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 411. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 411:

1. Strike original sections 1 through 4 and insert the following:

"Section 1. That section 46-618, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

46-618. The county board shall examine the petition and, if it appears that the petition contains the signatures of at least ten per cent of ~~resident owners of land~~ the registered voters in the proposed district, the board shall call a public hearing. The county board shall fix a date, hour, and place for hearing upon such petition and shall cause notice of such hearing to be given by publication once each week for two consecutive weeks in the legal newspaper published or of general circulation in the county or counties within the proposed district, the last publication of which shall be not less than ten days prior to the hearing. The three state agencies shall also be notified of the time and place of such hearing by regular mail.

Sec. 2. That section 46-619, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

46-619. At the time set for such hearing, the county board shall examine the petition and hear objections thereto and may order changes in the boundaries thereof by the inclusion or removal of land therefrom upon finding that such change would be hydrologically and geographically sound.

(1) If the county board finds that the petition contains the signatures of sixty per cent of the ~~resident owners of land of legal voting age~~ registered voters within the proposed district the county board shall enter an order declaring the ground water conservation district fully organized; or

(2) If the county board finds that the petition contains the signatures of more than ten per cent but less than sixty per cent of the ~~resident owners of land~~

~~of legal voting age~~ registered voters within the proposed district an election shall be held as provided in section 46-620 on the question of the organization of such district.

The action of the county board may be reviewed by the district court in error proceedings.

Sec. 3. That section 46-620, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

46-620. The election referred to in subdivision (2) of section 46-619 shall observe the following procedure: If no proceedings for review have been instituted within ten days after the county board has announced its action, such action shall be certified to the election commissioner or county clerk who shall order that the question of the organization of such district be submitted to a vote of the electors ~~as defined in section 46-102~~ in the proposed district, and shall fix the date of such election, which may be held either as a special election or at any general election, and which shall be so scheduled that the notices required by sections 46-621 and 46-622 can be given.

Sec. 4. That section 46-623, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

46-623. The ballots cast at such election shall be counted and canvassed as nearly as practicable in the same manner as for elections generally. Not later than one week after the holding of such election, each election commissioner or county clerk shall certify the results thereof to the election commissioner or county clerk with whom such petition was filed, who shall tabulate the results so certified to him, and if he finds that fifty-five per cent of those voting in such election voted in favor of the organization of the proposed district, he shall so certify to the three state agencies and the election commissioner or county clerk in each of the other counties lying in whole or in part within such district, and the district shall thereupon be fully organized. If the proposition to form such district is defeated at the election, the proposition may again be submitted to the ~~landowners~~ registered voters in the proposed district after the lapse of one year from the rejection thereof upon the filing of a new petition therefor.

Sec. 5. That section 46-626, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

46-626. As the terms of the original members of the board of directors expire, their successors shall be nominated and elected for terms of six years by a majority vote of the ~~landowners of legal voting age~~ registered voters of the division of the district which they represent. Such elections shall be held on the first Tuesday in February preceding the expiration of such terms and shall be conducted in the manner provided for election of directors of irrigation districts as provided in sections 46-115 to 46-118. No filing fee shall be required of candidates filing for the office of director of a ground water conservation district.

Sec. 6. That original sections 46-618, 46-619, 46-620, 46-623, and 46-626, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.".

1. On page 3, line 5, strike "and approval".
2. On page 6, line 17, after "fees" insert ", when such funds are used for the purpose of supporting existing or establishing new programs within the institution"; and in line 21 after "activities" insert "dealing with program support".
3. Strike original sections 11, 12, and 13 and insert the following:

"Sec. 11. That section 79-2644, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

79-2644. In addition to any other powers and duties imposed upon the board by sections 79-2636 to 79-2662, each board shall be charged with the following powers, duties, and responsibilities:

(1) To have general supervision, control, and operation of each technical community college within its jurisdiction;

(2) To develop and offer programs of vocational and technical education, academic courses which are supportive of the vocational and technical programs, and such other programs and courses as the needs of the area served may require. The board shall avoid unnecessary duplication of existing programs and courses in meeting the needs of the students and area;

(3) To employ, for a period to be fixed by the board, executive officers and members of the faculty and such other administrative officers and employees as may be necessary or appropriate and fix their salaries and duties;

(4) To construct, lease, purchase, purchase on contract, operate, equip, and maintain facilities and contract for services connected with the operation of the technical community college area as needs and interest demand;

(5) To cause an examination and comprehensive audit of the books, accounts, records and affairs, including full-time equivalent student enrollment total as defined in sections 79-2636 to 79-2662, to be made annually covering the most recently completed fiscal year. Such examination and audit of the books, accounts, records, and affairs shall be completed and filed with the Auditor of Public Accounts~~,~~ and the Department of Administrative Services~~, and the commission~~ on or before ~~August~~ October 15 of each year. The examination and audit of the full-time equivalent student enrollment total shall be completed and filed with the Auditor of Public Accounts and the Department of Administrative Services on or before August 15 of each year;

(6) To establish fees and charges for the facilities authorized by sections 79-2636 to 79-2662. Each board of a technical community college area may enter into agreements with owners of facilities to be used for housing regarding the management, operation, and government of such facilities and may employ necessary employees to govern, manage, and operate such facilities;

(7) To receive such gifts, grants, conveyances, and bequests of real and personal property from public or private sources as may be made from time to time, in trust or otherwise, whenever the terms and conditions thereof will aid in carrying out the technical community college programs as specified by law. Each board may sell, lease, exchange, invest, or expend such gifts, grants, conveyances, and bequests or the proceeds, rents, profits, and income therefrom according to the terms and conditions thereof and adopt regulations governing the receipt and expenditure of such proceeds, rents, profits, and income, except that acceptance of such gifts, grants, or conveyances shall not be conditioned on matching state or local funds;

(8) To prescribe the courses of study for any technical community college under its control, and publish such catalogs and bulletins as may be necessary;

(9) To grant to every student upon graduation or completion of a course of study a suitable diploma, associate degree, or certificate;

(10) To promulgate such rules and regulations and perform all other acts as the board may deem necessary or appropriate to the administration of the technical community college area. Such rules and regulations shall include but not be limited to rules and regulations relating to facilities, housing, scholarships, discipline, and pedestrian and vehicular traffic on property owned, operated, or maintained by the technical community college area;

(11) To employ, for a period to be fixed by the board, an executive officer for the technical community college area and, by written order filed in its office, delegate to such executive officer any of the powers and duties vested in or imposed upon it by sections 79-2636 to 79-2662. Such delegated powers and duties may be exercised in the name of the board;

(12) To acquire real property by eminent domain pursuant to Chapter 76, article 7;

(13) To acquire real and personal property and sell, convey, or lease such property whenever the technical community college area will be benefited thereby. The sale, conveyance, or lease of any real estate owned by a technical community college area shall be effective only when authorized by an affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of all the members of the board;

(14) To enter into agreements for services, facilities, or equipment and for the presentation of courses for students when such agreements are deemed to be in the best interests of the education of the students involved;

(15) To invest, after proper consideration of the requirements for the availability of money, funds of the college in those types of securities set forth in subdivisions (1) to (10) of section 72-1246;

(16) To establish tuition rates for courses of instruction offered by each college within its area. Separate tuition rates shall be established for students who are nonresidents of the State of Nebraska;

(17) To establish a fiscal year for the area which conforms to the fiscal year of the state; and

(18) To exercise any other powers, duties, and responsibilities necessary to carry out the provisions of sections 79-2636 to 79-2662.

Sec. 12. That section 79-2651, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

79-2651. The Legislature, in an effort to promote quality postsecondary education and to avoid excessive taxation upon the taxable property of each area, may appropriate each year from such funds as may be available an amount for the aid and assistance of the technical community colleges. Such funds so appropriated by the Legislature shall be distributed by the Department of Administrative Services in ~~twelve~~ ten as nearly as possible equal monthly payments between the fifth and twentieth day of each month beginning ~~July, 1976~~ September, 1977, and each September thereafter. Such funds shall be distributed to the technical community colleges in the same proportion as the full-time equivalent student enrollment total for each college for the immediately preceding fiscal year is to the full-time equivalent enrollment total of all technical community colleges combined for such fiscal year.

Sec. 13. That section 79-2652, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

79-2652. A technical community college may estimate its full-time equivalent student enrollment total for the 1975-76 fiscal year and certify such estimate to the Auditor of Public Accounts~~,~~ and the Department of Administrative Services~~, and the commission~~ on or before August 15, 1975. Such certified estimate shall be used for the purpose of determining the ratio for distribution of funds to the technical community colleges set forth in section 79-2651. Any college which has estimated its full-time equivalent student enrollment total shall, on or before May 1, 1976, certify to the Auditor of Public Accounts~~,~~ and the Department of Administrative Services~~, and the commission~~ its actual full-time equivalent student enrollment total for July 1, 1975 to April 15, 1976. If such certification discloses that the estimated full-time equivalent student enrollment total exceeds the actual full-time equivalent student enrollment total by more than five per cent, the Department of Administrative Services shall redetermine the original distribution of funds ratio set forth in section 79-2651 based on the actual full-time equivalent student enrollment total. The Department of Administrative Services shall then make the necessary adjustment in the June 1, 1976 payment to cause each technical community college to receive a total distribution of funds for the 1975-76 fiscal year based upon the readjusted ratio.".

4. On page 14, lines 23 and 24 strike ", 79-2642, 79-2660, 79-2661" and insert ", 79-2644, 79-2651, 79-2652"; and in line 25 after "sections" insert "79-2642 and" and strike "79-2659" and insert "79-2661".

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Print in Journal

Speaker Luedtke asked unanimous consent to have the following printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

Department of Revenue

March 8, 1977

Senator Roland Luedtke
Speaker of the House
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Senator Luedtke:

Enclosed are comparisons of actual and projected receipts for fiscal year 1976-1977 to date. These are shown on a monthly basis and by major source.

Our projections as well as the report on receipts is based upon validation by the Department of Revenue through the last working day of the month. The projected figures are those from the last rate setting meeting of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment which was November, 1976.

With the results of February collections, we have continuing concerns about receipts as the Governor made warning of in his budget message at pages 3 through 5. I would call your attention to the fact that the fiscal year to date receipts are short of projections by 17 million dollars, which amount is in excess of our present overlevy.

Sincerely,

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

THIRTY-NINTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, March 9, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Almighty God, first lawgiver and final judge, in this brief moment of recollection before the beginning of today's session, may we all remember that you have made man alone among an infinitude of wonderful creatures with the power to know your laws, to fashion others of his own. May this August senate be wise in its proceedings, just in its judgments, a reflection of your eternal wisdom in its programs for the welfare of the state.
> O Lord of all, stand beside the senators at their Legislative desks so that they may strive avidly for the enactment of just laws for the common good, welcome vigorously the challenge of honest debate, accept graciously the trial of committee hangups, conform heartily to the discipline of parliamentary procedures, represent candidly the wishes of their constituents, acknowledge sincerely the biting criticism of partisan or foe, uphold humbly the dignity of their serious and sacred office.
> Above all else, O Supreme Legislator, let each Senator also seek the approving vote of his own conscience, a conscience formed by strict study, accurate analyses, able arguments and persistent prayer.
> Finally, may the final roll call at the awesome adjournment of earthly affairs find each one recognized by the Infinite President of the Heavenly Senate with these victorious words: well done, good and faithful servant of my people. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Koch who was excused until he arrives.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Print Amendments to LB 177 in the Journal

Mr. Dworak asked unanimous consent to print the following amendments to LB 177 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AMENDMENTS TO LB 177

1. Strike original sections 1 through 3 and insert the following:

"Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Nebraska Wage Payment and Collection Act.

Sec. 2. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Employer shall mean any individual, partnership, association, joint stock company, trust, corporation, the administrator or executor of the estate of a deceased individual, or the receiver, trustee, or successor thereof, employing any person as an employee, except that employer shall not be construed to include the state;

(2) Employee shall mean any individual permitted to work by an employer; and

(3) Wages shall mean compensation for labor or services rendered by an employee, including fringe benefits, when previously agreed to and conditions stipulated have been met by the employee, whether the amount is determined on a time, task, fee, commission, or other basis.

Sec. 3. Except as otherwise provided in this section, each employer shall pay all wages due its employees on regular days designated by the employer or agreed upon by the employer and employee. Thirty days' written notice shall be given to an employee before regular paydays are altered by an employer. An employer may deduct, withhold, or divert a portion of an employee's wages only when the employer is required to or may do so by state or federal law or by order of a court of competent jurisdiction or the employer has written agreement with the employee to deduct, withhold, or divert. Whenever an employer separates an employee from the payroll, the unpaid wages shall become due on the next regular pay period or within two weeks of the date of termination, whichever is sooner.

Sec. 4. An employee having a claim for wages which are not paid within thirty days of the regular payday designated or agreed upon may institute suit for such unpaid wages in the proper court. If an employee shall establish a claim and secure judgment on the claim, such employee shall be entitled to recover (1) the full amount of the judgment and all costs of such suit, and

(2) if such employee has employed an attorney in the case, an amount for attorney fees assessed by the court which fees shall not be less than twenty-five per cent of the unpaid wages. If the cause is taken to an appellate court and plaintiff shall recover judgment, the appellate court shall tax as costs in the action, to be paid to the plaintiff, an additional amount for attorney fees in such appellate court which fees shall not be less than twenty-five per cent of the unpaid wages. If the employee shall fail to recover a judgment in excess of the amount that may have been tendered within thirty days of the regular payday by an employer, then such employee shall not recover the attorney fees provided by this section and shall pay the employer's attorney fees and costs of the action as assessed by the court.

Sec. 5. If an employee shall establish a claim and secure judgment on such claim under section 4 of this act, an amount equal to the judgment shall be recovered from the employer, if ordered by the court, and shall be placed in a fund to be distributed to the common schools of this state.".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 33
March 4, 1977

Dear Senator Dworak:

You have forwarded to our office for review proposed amendments to LB 104. LB 104 may be generally described as a bill to provide a procedure whereby the Department of Labor will assist individuals in collecting wages from employers where a dispute exists over the liability for payment or where the employer refuses to pay wages due.

In earlier hearings on this bill Mr. Vitamvas of our office raised certain questions regarding the constitutionality of LB 104. These questions related to the assignment to the Department of Labor of wage claims, the payment of such penalties to the general fund, and the giving or pledging of the credit of the state to private individuals. We would note that while the amendments proposed in most cases delete any provision for the assignment of claims by private individuals, section 11 still contains a reference to claims assigned to the Commissioner, we view this as an oversight. The amendments further provide that penalties or forfeitures be paid into the school fund of the state. While these changes meet some of the objections previously raised, the remaining objections still exist. Additionally, a question exists regarding the validity of the power granted the Commissioner under section 9, subsection 2 wherein he is apparently authorized to conduct searches or seizures in businesses without first having secured a warrant from an appropriate court. It is generally the law that administratiive (sic) inspections require a warrant. Only significant reasons such as an emergency, would make unnecessary the issuance of a warrant based upon an affidavit showing probable cause.

The most important constitutional problem relating to LB 104 is based upon Article XIII, Section 3 which in relevant part provides:

> "The credit of the state shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association, or corporation, . . ."

In LB 104 section 9, subsection 1 authorizes the Commissioner to hold hearings and investigation charges of violations of the act. Section 10 authorizes the Commissioner to determine whether wages have been paid or not and whether an enforceable claim exists. Subsection 2 of section 10 authorizes the Commissioner with the assistance of the Attorney General to commence a lawsuit in court to recover for the benefit of the employee any wages or interest due.

In the first instance the Commissioner is performing administrative acts that aid an individual in violation of Article XIII, section 3. He is making a determination that certain sums are due form (sic) an employer to an employee. This requires that he perform specific acts requiring the expenditure of money, the employment of personnel and the utilization of state owned property. While we do not suggest that such a procedure at all times violates this constitutional prohibition, when it is coupled with the authorization to commence a lawsuit to collect a private judgment, it is our view that Article XIII, section 3 has been violated.

In State ex rel. Beck v. the City of York, 164 Neb. 223, 82 N.W.2d 269 (1957), the Supreme Court was faced with a question involving an attempt by the City of York to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of financing the construction of an industrial facility to be rented to a private corporation. The court held:

> ". . . It is clear that the framers of our Constitution had in mind a prohibition against giving or loaning the credit of the State or any subdivision thereof for a purely private purpose. . . ."

The court further pointed out that while the revenue bonds under consideration in Beck were not general obligations of the city that the provision was still violated because:

> ". . . [T]hey do cast burdens upon the city with reference to their issuance and payment. The city and its officers are charged with the duty of fixing and collecting the rentals from which the revenue bonds are to be paid. This necessitates the execution of leases, the fixing of rentals, the taking of chattel mortgages on equipment to secure the payment of rent, the providing of insurance coverage, and the determination of payments to be made in lieu of taxes. It imposes duties and responsibilities upon the city and its officers on matters which are private rather than public in character. . . ." (Emphasis added).

We believe that the same situation exists under the proposed legislation and the amendments proposed to LB 104. Duties and responsibilities are cast upon the Department of Labor and the Office of Attorney General which are private rather than public in character. They are required under the act to collect moneys from one private party for another private party. Thus the effect is to subsidize private lawsuits by the expenditure of public revenue this in our opinion violates the provisions of Article XIII, section 3.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 34
March 4, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You state that you are in receipt of our opinion of 24 February 1977 and numbered 27 which pertains to the legality of deducting administrative costs from monies collected as a result of the issuance of parking tickets under rules,by-laws or ordinance of municipal subdivisions less than a county. You further state that if these municipal subdivisions are required to pay over these administrative costs to the common schools, there are other problems and issues raised, to-wit:

> "The fines levied and now turned over to the school, going back years and years, would be an accountable receipt under the Nebraska laws and thus would be a factor in determining state aid payments. Under these circumstances, because the amount is substantial, it would appear that this would dramatically alter the amount properly owed by the State under state aid to various school districts, particularly in the Omaha/Bellevue area, and thus these school districts might be indebted to the State for overpayments of state aid in past years. Please advise as to this matter."

This office, of course, has no data from which we can determine the amount of fines, penalties, and license money, if any, that would be appropriated to each of the common schools as a result of our opinion described above and therefore we obviously cannot make any specific comments pertaining thereto. We can tell you that the amount of each equalization grant that each school district receives in a given year under the School Foundation and Equalization Act is limited, in part, by the amount of fines and license monies which a school district has received in the year prior thereto. Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-1333 (Reissue 1971) and Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-1338 (1976 Supp.). Thus, the problem you pose may be self-correcting.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 35
March 4, 1977

Dear Senator Maresh:

In connection with the School Foundation and Equalization Act you have inquired if the qualifying mill levy in the equalization formula is constitutional. You state that LB 33 of the Eighty-Fifth Legislature, First Session (1977), is on the floor of the Legislature and therefore you request an expedited reply.

Subject to certain conditions, school districts are entitled to several basic grants under the School Foundation and Equalization Act, including incentive, foundation, and equalization. Each basic grant is based upon different criteria and each is designed to serve a specific purpose. As a condition precedent to an equalization grant, school districts are required to levy, in the manner prescribed by law, a tax of a stated number of mills on the valuation of all taxable property within the district for the preceding year. Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-1335 (Reissue 1971); Section 3 of LB 33, supra. The computation of an equalization grant takes into account the number of students and the grades in which they are enrolled plus the number of students in certain special programs (if offered) plus population density of the county plus the number of students eligible to be transported by bus less certain stated operating funds. The formula, in statutes, may be stated as follows:

> The qualifying mill levy in 79-1335 is a condition precedent. If properly levied, the equalization grant is computed by adding 79-1336 plus 79-1333.01 (if applicable) plus 79-1337 less 79-1338. The difference, if any, is the equalization grant, assuming the act is fully funded.

Thus, the equalization grant tends to equalize property taxes between school districts. It also takes into account the financial strength of local school districts.

In McInnis v. Shapiro, 293 F.Supp. 327 (N.D. Ill. 1968), aff'd. per curiam sub nom McInnis v. Ogilvie, 394 U.S. 322 (1969), the court stated:

> "There is no constitutional requirement that public school expenditures be made only on the basis of pupils' educational needs without regard to the financial strength of local school districts. Nor does the Constitution establish the rigid guidelines of equal dollar expenditures for each student."

It is therefore clear that the qualifying mill levy in the School Foundation and Equalization Act bears a rational relationship to a legitimate state purpose. Consequently, we are of the opinion that it is not unconstitutional per se.

March 7, 1977

Dear Senator R. Lewis:

In a recent inquiry you note that Section 1 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Nebraska "sets forth the requirements for uniform classification and valuation of property for tax purposes." You then state as follows:

> ". . . Recognizing the constitutional denial of using appraised values that are unequal across taxing jurisdictions, my question is: Does not this same prohibition exist for the utilization of appraised valuation in the determination of eligibility in the formula for the distribution of state aid to schools under the equalization provisions of section 79-1335, R.R.S. 1943, and proposed amendments thereto under Legislative Bill 33 of the 1977 Legislature."

We think not. As a condition precedent to an equalization grant, school districts are required to levy, in the manner prescribed by law, a tax of not less than a stated number of mills on the valuation of all taxable property within the district for the preceding year. Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-1335 (Reissue 1971); Section 3 of LB 33 of the Eighty-Fifth Legislature, First Session (1977). It is to be observed that the sections of the statutes cited do not authorize different valuations of property between school districts in the same county nor different valuations of property between school districts in different counties. Hence, it would appear that a court would not have any basis to declare that equalization grants under the School Foundation and Equalization Act are unconstitutional even if the assessment of property among counties were unequal. In connection therewith the law requires the assessments to be reviewed and equalized annually. Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 77-1514, 77511, 77-506 and 77-507 (Reissue 1971); Fromkin v. State, 158 Neb. 377, 63 N.W.2d 332 (1954); and Laflin v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 156 Neb. 427, 56 N.W.2d 469 (1953). A fortiori, the assessment of property between counties is presumably equalized.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 37
March 8, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of March 3 you refer to a practice of keeping a large portion of the monies paid as a result of the issuance of parking tickets as administrative costs, and ask if labeling a part of these funds as court costs would authorize the cities to keep a part of these funds rather than turning them over to the schools.

In our opinion of February 24, 1977, we referred to the decision in School District of Omaha v. City of Omaha in which the Supreme Court held that a city may not divert penalties to any other purpose and more specifically that forfeited recognizances could not be diverted to a fund other than the schools.

It is our conclusion, from reading both the McCook and Omaha school district cases together, that the Supreme Court is saying that none of the money paid as a result of the issuance of a parking ticket may be diverted to any other purpose, however designated, than the support of the common schools.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 38
March 7, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in reply to your inquiry as to whether or not L.B. 204 violates the provisions of Article III, Section 14 of the Nebraska Constitution, pertaining to containing more than one subject.

As you know, the applicable portion of said constitutional provision provides:

> ". . .No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title. . . ."

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has construed this provision liberally in a number of cases. For example in Midwest Popcorn Co. v. Johnson, 152 Neb. 867, that court stated:

> ". . .An act, no matter how comprehensive, is valid as containing but one subject if a single main purpose is within its purview and nothing is included within it except that which is naturally connected with and incidental to that main purpose. Van Horn v. State, supra. . . ."

There are a number of Supreme Court of Nebraska cases of the same general effect.

However, while L.B. 204 is a broad general act relating to the treatment, detection, etc. of alcoholism and intoxication to which the voluminous sections thereof could be said to generally relate, we specifically call your attention to section 76 which purports to amend section 53-160, R.R.S. 1943, by raising the tax on alcohol as therein provided. The last sentence of said section 53-160, which is not changed by section 76 of L.B. 204, provides:

> ". . .The net proceeds of all revenue arising hereunder shall inure to the state General Fund."

Since the proceeds of the tax are in no way connected or earmarked for the support of alcohol treatment, detection, etc. which appear to be the broad general subject of the act otherwise, it would be impossible for us to establish that the section raising the tax on alcoholic beverages is germane to the rest of the act.

For these reasons, it is our opinion that L.B. 204 contains more than one subject in violation of the above constitutional provision.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 20.

Introduced by Urban Affairs Committee: George, 16th District, Chairman; Duis, 39th District; DeCamp, 40th District; Schmit, 23rd District; Maxey, 46th District.

WHEREAS, Government officials in city, county and school government in the State of Nebraska appear, on the basis of the recent Nebraska Attorney General's opinion, to be acting in direct contravention and defiance of the constitution of the State of Nebraska, and

WHEREAS, this violation of the Constitution may be withholding from schools in the State millions of dollars of parking meter penalties, and

WHEREAS, public statements by public officials involved indicate that there is no intent to alter the present course of conduct in withholding these funds.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That the Attorney General of the State of Nebraska be requested and directed to investigate whether criminal sanctions are appropriate to force officials to comply with the Constitution with respect to the proper use of parking meter penalties.

2. That the Legislature, through its Urban Affairs Committee, be directed to investigate the issue of the application of parking meter penalties to determine what legislative action may be proper or necessary to enforce the Constitution with respect to parking meter penalties or to enact legislative or constitutional changes with respect to this subject.

3. That the Urban Affairs Committee be authorized and directed to obtain adequate counsel and assistance to fully explore all implications, financial, legal or otherwise, of possible or probable violations by public officials of the Constitution of Nebraska.

Laid over.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 21.

Introduced by Barnett, 26th District.

WHEREAS, assault and battery by one marital partner upon the other within the home is a form of violence referred by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as exhibiting a frequency of occurance three times greater than the crime of rape in the United States; and

WHEREAS, such spouse assault is no less likely to occur in rural than urban area, and cannot be related to any single class or occupational group of citizens; and

WHEREAS, current procedures of law enforcement agencies and our judiciary seem to be of little aid in fully bringing incidents of spouse assault to light, fully protecting its victims or bringing violators to justice; and

WHEREAS, an increasing portion of Nebraska community resources are now needed to cope with the legal, emotional and financial problem, for Nebraskans brought about by incidences of spouse assault; and

WHEREAS, our government at all levels should work toward the most fair and reasonable treatment possible of all individuals effected by spouse assault acts.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Judiciary committee perform an interim study of spouse assault and related matters. Such study shall include the following elements:

a. The Committee shall survey current state law relating to spouse assault examining its content and actual effectiveness of enforcement;

b. The Committee shall consider and evaluate techniques and procedures for reporting incidents of spouse assault with the purpose of finding feasible and potentially effective guidelines for use in Nebraska law;

c. The Committee shall examine the effectiveness of current practice and procedures in law enforcement relating to enforcement of court issued protective orders and classification and handling of alleged offenders;

d. The Committee shall consider alternative sentencing procedures which may better assist and direct the judiciary in the disposition of matters relating to convicted offenders; and

e. The Committee shall determine the feasibility and workability of establishing a pilot program of marital violence treatment centers in Nebraska.

2. That the Committee shall hold public hearings in at least three communities outside of and in addition to the areas of Lincoln and Omaha to gather citizen imput on matters germane to this study.

3. That the Committee shall consider in its process of study and evaluation the legislation proposed or enacted in other states specifically dealing with matters of spouse assault.

4. That the Committee shall solicit imput from, but not be limited to, the following organizations:

a. the Lincoln-Lancaster Commission on the Status of Women;

b. the Nebraska Task Force on Abused Women (Nebraska Commission);

c. the Omaha Commission on the Status of Women; and

d. any other organizations interest in legislation against home violence.

5. That the Committee shall make a report of its findings together with any recommendations for legislative action to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 22.

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District; Kremer, 34th District.

WHEREAS, the Norden Dam Project has involved countless man-hours and several decades of planning and development; and

WHEREAS, this project is anticipated to be a source of irrigation water for seventy-seven thousand acres of farmland and encourage many recreational opportunities for Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the invaluable advantages of ground water recharge and retention of pure water which would otherwise flow to the sea will be lost to a large segment of the Great Plains, including Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the Norden Dam Project is one of those being reviewed for possible deauthorization by representatives of President Carter; and

WHEREAS, a recent ruling of the U. S. District Court has temporarily halted progress on this project due to certain defects in the environmental impact statement as prepared by the Bureau of Reclamation.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That Nebraska Senators Carl T. Curtis and Edward Zorinsky as well as Representatives John Cavanaugh, Virginia Smith and Charles Thone are urged and admonished by the members of the Nebraska Legislature to publicly commit themselves to the support of the Norden Dam Project and aggressively work to forward this project in Congress.

2. That all proponents of the project and the Bureau of Reclamation complete work on the revisions in the defective environmental impact statement at once to expedite continued progress of the project.

3. That the Legislature requests that the Carter Administration complete its review of the status of the Norden Dam Project as quickly as possible.

4. That copies of this resolution be sent to the Congressional Delegation of Nebraska and President Carter with the expressed wish that work on the Norden Dam Project may continue without further delay.

Laid over.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 24.

Introduced by Rasmussen, 41st District.

WHEREAS, the North Loup Division, Pick-Sloan Missouri Basin Program, Nebraska, was authorized by the Congress of the United States in October 1972; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has appropriated funds for the construction in fiscal year 1977 for this project; and

WHEREAS, the North Loup Division has strong local support from the owners of irrigable land to be served by each of the projects, and from the communities which will benefit from the construction of these projects; and

WHEREAS, there is and will continue to be strong need to maintain, strengthen and enhance Nebraska's basic industry, agriculture; and

WHEREAS, there is a definite need in these project areas for surface irrigation water to help the ground water recharge which shows signs of very serious depletion; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska's people need the fish and wildlife and recreational opportunities that can be provided by the North Loup developments; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States will conduct hearings on appropriations for the North Loup Division forthwith.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY–FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the First Session of the Eighty-Fifth Legislature of Nebraska strongly supports the continued funding of the uninterrupted construction and development of the North Loup Division.

2. That the Legislature memorializes Congress and the respective Appropriation Committees thereof to support the appropriations of $7,015,000 for the continuation of construction for the North Loup Division which would start actual construction of the Kalmus Damn for fiscal year 1978.

3. That copies of this Resolution, suitably engrossed, be transmitted by the Clerk of the Legislature to the United States Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress, to Honorable John L. McClellan, Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and Honorable George H. Mahon, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and to each member from Nebraska in the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FORTY-SECOND DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, March 14, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Rev. A. J. McMahon from St. Frances Cabrini Church, Omaha, Nebraska.

> Father, You have given all peoples one common origin, and your will is to gather them as one family in yourself. Fill the hearts of all men, especially our Governor, Jim Exon, and this Legislature with the fire of your love and the desire to ensure justice for all their brothers and sisters.
> Let the light of Thy divine wisdom direct the deliberations of this august assembly, and shine forth in all the proceedings and laws framed for our rule and government, so that they may tend to the preservation of peace, the promotion of happiness, the increase of industry, sobriety, and useful knowledge; and may perpetuate to us the blessings of equal liberty.
> Finally, dear God, teach this Legislature to be generous: teach them to serve You as you deserve: to give and not to count the cost, to fight and not to heed the wounds, to toil and not to seek for rest, to labor and not to ask for reward save that of knowing they are doing Your will. We ask this through Our Lord Jesus Christ, Your Son, Who lives and reigns with the Holy Spirit. World without end. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 26.

Introduced by Venditte, 7th District.

WHEREAS, continued research related to effects of marijuana on humans has not conclusively established this substance as being totally harmless; and

WHEREAS, those who proclaim the use of marijuana as harmless cannot be certain that this assertion is true; and

WHEREAS, no legislative action should be taken relating to the issues of use and possession of marijuana without a firm grasp of scientific and sociological facts about such a substance; and

WHEREAS, until such an understanding is achieved the Legislature should promote policies which do not encourage the use of marijuana in the face of great uncertainty.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Judiciary Committee perform an interim study of the ability and feasibility of making the following acts unlawful in Nebraska:

(a) Possession of marijuana in any amount;

(b) Any sale or distribution of marijuana and other possibly harmful substances; and

(c) Dissemination of false information about the effects of marijuana on humans.

2. That the Committee consider the feasibility of enacting the above enumerated offenses as a part of Nebraska law with a view toward providing penalties which may deter such conduct.

3. That the committee shall examine the laws of other states relating to these matters and seek input from a broad range of sources to assure a comprehensive view of what legal changes are feasible as well as desirable.

4. That the committee make a report of its findings together with any drafts of possible legislation it may develop to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 27.

Introduced by Venditte, 7th District.

WHEREAS, the greater metropolitan area of Omaha has its electricity needs provided by the separate and autonomous power companies, the Omaha Public Power District and the Metropolitan Public Power District; and

WHEREAS, the duality of service is observed to have created a strong potential for duplication of function in providing service; and

WHEREAS, such duplication of function compels both organizations to maintain high levels of expenditures in an effort to provide a high standard of service; and

WHEREAS, such high levels of expenditures are recovered through higher costs passed along to consumers; and

WHEREAS, there is strong doubt that average residential consumers can bear further cost increases; and

WHEREAS, it is believed that great advantage may accrue to consumers as well as the power companies if a merger of these entities was permitted and encouraged by law.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Public Works Committee conduct an interim study of the feasibility, advisability and ramifications of an authorized merger of the Omaha Public Power District and the Metropolitan Utilities District.

2. That the committee shall include in its study, but not be limited to a probe of the potential for savings to consumers and the resulting levels of quality in service affected by such a merger.

3. That the committee present a report of its findings together with its conclusions and drafts of any legislative action deemed advisable to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FORTY-THIRD DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, March 15, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Father Almighty from all Eternity: In whose eyes a thousand years are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night, guide and direct the Nebraska Legislature as we prepare now to invest yet another of the segments of time entrusted to our use.
> The needs of the moment are many and pressing, and we may be inclined to forget that current needs seem always of such magnitude; therefore we would ask that they might not seem so overwhelming in our thoughts as to obscure the more distant goals toward which we should be advancing.
> We feel that we might become better equipped to handle the pressures of the present, if our roots are sent deep into the soil of eternal values.
> This is why we pray just now. Not because of any worthiness on our part; not because of any inherent right to special privilege or favor; but simply because we want to do our part to improve the allotment of time which is uniquely our own.
> So hear us, and help us today - and throughout this week. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Murphy who was excused and Messrs. Rasmussen and Stoney who were excused until they arrive.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Forty-Second Day was approved.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 40
March 11, 1977

Dear Senator Rasmussen:

LB 388 would amend section 12-101 designating additional powers for the Board of Trustees of Wyuka Cemetery. You have asked whether the Board already possesses inherent power to do those things necessary to maintain a cemetery or if specific legislation setting out the powers of the Board is necessary to avoid litigation charging the Board with exceeding its power.

Wyuka Cemetery, consisting of three trustees, is a public charitable corporation. Express powers for the general control and management of the affairs of the cemetery are given to them not only by sections 12-101 to 12-105, but also by sections 12-201, 12-301, 12-606, 12-613 to 12-616, and 12-801.

The powers of a public corporation have been held to be limited to those the statutes confer. See Omaha National Bank v. West Lawn Mausoleum Ass'n, 158 Neb. 412, 63 N.W.2d 504 (1954), Drainage Dist. No. 1 v. Surburban Irrigation Dist., 139 Neb. 333, 297 N.W. 641 (1941), and State ex rel. Leese v. Atchison and Nebraska R.R. Co., 24 Neb. 143, 162, 38 N.W. 43 (1888). However, in Lang v. Sanitary Dist. of Norfolk, 160 Neb. 754, 763, 71 N.W. 2d 608 (1955), sanitary districts were characterized as "municipal, public, or quasi-public corporations" having the following powers: those granted in express words, those necessarily or fairly implied in or incident to the powers expressly granted and those indispensable to the declared objects and purposes of the corporation. In Dries v. Charles Evans Cemetery Co., 109 Pa.S. 498, 167 A. 237 (1933), where the cemetery was a nonprofit corporation, the court held it had a right, without profit, to transact subordinate and connected matters, such as selling stone vaults to its lot owners at cost, which fit in essentially or at least conveniently with the chartered purposes. The court in People ex rel. Guettler v. Mt. Olive Cemetery Ass'n., 26 Ill.2d 156, 186 N.E.2d 39 (1962), cited cases holding that cemetery corporations organized under a special charter had no implied power to sell monuments in competition with private enterprise. Although the court in Thomas v. West Jersey R.R.Co., 101 U.S. 71 (1879), conceded that what is fairly implied is as much granted as what is expressed, it insisted "that the charter of a corporation is the measure of powers, and that the enumeration of these powers implies the exclusion of all others."

In conclusion, if the trustees of Wyuka Cemetery were charged with exceeding their power because they had done something not expressly authorized by statute, they might successfully defend themselves if the act charged was incidental to the powers granted or indispensable to the declared purposes of the corporation. But they can act with less fear of litigation if their acts are expressly authorized in the statutes.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Dear God, give these men who direct this great State the patience to be understanding, and the understanding to be patient.
> May their enormous energy sharpen their intellect so that they may render justice to all men.
> May their courage be of such a nature that they will allow every man to find his place in life without losing his dignity. May they not be obsessed with assembling endless concerns of making this world a Utopia, for we know, as You have said, the wheat and weeds shall grow together, good and evil will be intermingled and live side-by-side.
> However, let us not be overcome by evil, but let us overcome evil with goodness.
> Only at the end will there by a lasting decision between good and evil.
> In the meantime, let us adopt an attitude to help every man, but every man must first find his own dignity. For each man has to pick his own fate so no motter what this great assembly does, some men will be failures by their own choice.
> But many will succeed because the Senators. have been an instrument of justice and hope, peace and charity, patience and understanding. Amen.

AMENDMENTS TO LB 210

1. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 2. That section 49-14,119, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

49-14,119. The commission shall ~~meet~~ hold four meetings once each calendar quarter at such times and places as shall be determined by the commission and shall keep a record of its proceedings. Special meetings may be called by the chairperson. Such special meetings shall be called by such chairperson upon receipt of a written request signed by ~~three~~ five or more members of the commission. Written notice of the time and place of all meetings shall be mailed in advance to each member of the commission by the secretary.

Sec. 3. That section 49-14,121, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

49-14,121. The commission shall employ an executive director, and ~~may employ a general counsel and~~ such other staff as ~~are~~ is necessary to carry out its duties pursuant to sections 49-1401 to 49-14,138. The executive director shall serve at the pleasure of the commission, shall be solely responsible to it, and shall not be paid in excess of eighteen thousand dollars per annum. The executive director shall be responsible for the administrative operations of the commission and shall perform such other duties as may be delegated or assigned to him by the commission, except that the commission shall not delegate the making of regulations to the executive director. The commission may obtain the services of experts and consultants as necessary to carry out its duties pursuant to sections 49-1401 to 49-14,138. Unless prohibited by law, the Tax Commissioner, the Auditor of Public Accounts, the Attorney General, and the county attorneys shall make available to the commission such personnel, facilities and other assistance as the commission may request. The commission may employ a general counsel if the Attorney General or any county attorney is unable to provide the commission with necessary assistance. Members of the commission and employees of the commission shall be exempted from the provisions of Chapter 81, article 13, except that they may be covered by the state personnel system through specific agreement between the commission and the Department of Personnel.

Sec. 4. That section 49-14,124, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

49-14,124. (1) Upon a complaint signed under oath by any person~~, upon the recommendation of the executive director~~, or upon its own motion, the commission shall, by way of preliminary investigation, investigate any alleged violation of sections 49-1401 to 49-14,138 or any rule or regulation adopted and promulgated thereunder. Prior to the commission investigating any alleged violation of sections 49-1401 to 49-14,138 on its own motion, the commission must have reasonable grounds, based upon actual knowledge of fact and circumstances, to believe that a violation has occurred. Each governmental body shall cooperate with the commission in the conduct of its investigations. All commission proceedings and records relating to preliminary investigations shall be confidential until a final determination is made by the commission unless the person alleged to be in violation of sections 49-1401 to 49-14,138 requests that the proceedings be public. The executive director shall notify any person under investigation by the commission of the investigation and of the nature of the alleged violation within five days of the commencement of the investigation. Within fifteen days of the filing of a sworn complaint by a person alleging a violation, and every thirty days thereafter until the matter is terminated, the executive director shall notify the complainant and the alleged violator of the action taken to date by the commission together with the reasons for such action or for nonaction.

Sec. 5. In order to protect the rights and interests of persons, if the court finds that any civil or criminal action instigated against a person by the commission was without reasonable cause, (1) the court may order the commission to pay reasonable attorney fees and court costs incurred by the defendant, and (2) the person injured by such action may bring a claim for damages against the commission in the same manner and procedure as is now provided by law for bringing such suits against corporations and individuals.".

2. On page 4, line 11, strike "section" and insert "sections" and after "49-1496," insert "49-14,119, 49-14,121, and 49-14,124,"; and in line 12 strike "is" and insert "are".

LEGISLATIVE BILL 131. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 131:

1. Strike original sections 1 to 3 and insert nine new sections as follows:

"Section 1. The Nebraska Legislature hereby determines that ad valorem taxes are important to the effectiveness of all levels of local government. There are many and varied districts levying ad valorem taxes which overlap assessment districts. The effective administration of ad valorem taxes necessitates equality of assessment in various counties which are the assessment districts. The purpose of this act is to achieve equalization between the several counties while not causing undue fluctuations in valuation and taxes.

Sec. 2. Each county assessor shall, on or before July 1, 1977, and each year thereafter on that date, notify the county board of such county in writing of the assessor's plans for determining the county's values for the coming assessment year. Such notification shall contain such information as may be required by rules and regulations of the Tax Commissioner which shall include information regarding the level of values for all classes of taxable property.

Sec. 3. Each county board shall review the statement of the county assessor and shall on or before August 15, 1977, and each year thereafter on that date report to the Tax Commissioner transmitting a copy of the assessor's notification of plans as required by section 2 of this act, the opinion of the county board as to those recommendations, and a report as to the budget of the assessor's office to accomplish the duties of the assessor.

Sec. 4. The Tax Commissioner on or before November 1, 1977, and each year thereafter on or before that date shall cause to be analyzed the report from each county and shall notify each county board and assessor of the opinion of the Tax Commissioner as to what must be done for the coming year's valuation for that county to maintain the property level of values.

Sec. 5. The Tax Commissioner shall transmit copies of his actions required by section 4 of this act to each member of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment. Such board shall at its next meeting held pursuant to section 77-505, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, consider such information, along with a report of the Tax Commissioner of the extent of compliance with his suggestions and such other information as may be relevant.

Sec. 6. No higher level of real estate values shall be used by any county for 1977 than was used in 1976 and for the year 1978 all counties shall use a new level of values which shall reflect current actual values and if any county cannot justify or refuses to use a new level of value, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment shall equalize such counties based upon the levels of value in surrounding counties. No higher level of values of real estate shall mean that the total real estate values in any county shall not exceed those values determined by the county for the previous tax year except for the values attributed to changes in use and new improvements.

Sec. 7. Prior to the first imposition of property tax levies against new assessed values incorporated onto the tax rolls of any county as the result of a countywide reappraisal or revaluation, every taxing district which causes a tax to be levied against such reassessed or revalued property shall adjust that portion of its budget for operating and maintenance purposes for the upcoming fiscal year so as not to exceed seven per cent of the previous year's budget funded by ad valorem taxes or the average increase by percentage for the three such preceding budgets, whichever is greater. When determining the budget to be funded by ad valorem taxes pursuant to this section, every taxing district (1) may increase such budget limit otherwise established pursuant to this section by the amount of receipts lost or to be lost from any state sources and (2) shall reduce such budget limitation established pursuant to this section by the amount of increased receipts from state sources. Any school district or other taxing districts may, in lieu of complying with the limitations on increasing that portion of the budget funded by ad valorem taxes as set forth herein, increase such budget by the same proportion as the average daily membership or population of the district increased the prior year.

Sec. 8. The budget limitation in section 7 of this act shall not apply to: (1) Those taxing districts which are exercising their levying authority for the first time; (2) those taxing districts which have been authorized by law, during the preceeding fiscal year to have a higher maximum mill levy, to the extent that the increase in mill levy authority will generate no more than such increased authority to levy would have generated on the prior year's taxable value; (3) to that portion of any budget necessary for the payment of bonded indebtedness; and (4) those taxing districts which are levying a tax on property which has increased in value less than ten per cent from the preceding year.

Sec. 9. (1) If the governing body of any taxing district determines that a budget funded from ad valorem taxes higher than is permitted by sections 7 and 8 of this act is needed, it shall after completing the budget process required by statute hold a public meeting to receive input from the public regarding the advisability of exceeding the limits prescribed by sections 7 and 8 of this act. Such public meeting shall be advertised and conducted in the same manner as public hearings required for the adoption of the budget.

(2) Following such public hearing the governing board of such district shall have the authority to reduce any item of the budget for the purpose of bringing the proposed budget within or closer to the limits set by sections 7 and 8 of this act. Such reduction shall be permitted without further hearing required by any other law relating to changing the budgets.

(3) The hearing and decisions required by this section shall be held during the month of August in the year in which the budget is to be adopted.".

2. Renumber original section 4 as section 10.

(Signed) Orval Keyes, Chairman

Keyes amendment No. 3 to LB 360

1. Strike the original sections and insert the following:

"Section 1. That section 77-202.30, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

77-202.30. Beginning January 1, 1976, and each year thereafter, the Legislature shall appropriate so much of all funds collected by a general sales tax and income tax to a special fund, to be known as the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund which is hereby created. ~~, as shall equal the total tax revenue lost to all taxing agencies within the county from taxes levied and assessed in the preceding year because of exemptions allowed under the provisions of sections 77-202.25 to 77-202.33 as certified each year by the county assessor of each county to the Tax Commissioner on or before November 1 of each year beginning November 1, 1976.~~ Such fund shall be used to replace some of the revenue lost because of exemption allowed under sections 77-202.25 to 77-202.29 and section 2 of this act. The money in the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund shall be distributed to the counties in seven as nearly as possible equal monthly payments, between the fifth and twentieth day of each month beginning December, 1976, and each year thereafter. The State Treasurer shall, between the fifth and twentieth day of each month, notify the Director of Administrative Services of the amount of funds available in the General Fund for payment purposes. The Director of Administrative Services shall, upon receipt of such notification, draw warrants against funds appropriated. Out of the amount so received, the county treasurer shall retain one per cent thereof and ~~then shall distribute the remainder to each of the taxing agencies within his county~~ distribute the money as follows: (1) Twenty per cent to the county; (2) twenty per cent to cities and villages within the county; and (3) sixty per cent to the school districts within the county. Out of the amount of the fund to be received by the cities and villages, fifty per cent shall be distributed in the same proportion as the total population of each city or village is to the total population of all cities and villages within the county; and fifty per cent shall be distributed in the same proportion as the total assessed valuation of each city or village within the county is to the total assessed valuation of all cities or villages within the county. Out of the amount of the fund to be received by the school districts, fifty per cent shall be distributed in the same proportion as the average daily membership of resident and nonresident pupils for the preceding school year of each school district within the county is to the total average daily membership of resident and nonresident pupils for the preceding school year for all school districts within the county; and fifty per cent shall be distributed in the same proportion as the total assessed valuation of each school district within the county is to the total assessed valuation of all school districts within the county.

Each ~~taxing agency~~ county, city, village, and school district shall, in preparing its annual budget, take into account the revenue to be received under the provisions of this section.

Sec. 2. Effective January 1, 1978, an additional thirty-seven and one half per cent exemption from actual values to those totals already provided in sections 77-202.25 to 77-202.29 shall be allowed for the classes of property provided in section 77-202.25.

Sec. 3. Beginning January 1, 1978, and each year thereafter, the Legislature shall appropriate eighty million dollars from funds collected by a general sales tax and income tax to the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund.

Sec. 4. The money in the Personal Property Tax Relief Fund shall be annually distributed to the county treasurers on a prorated basis. Forty million dollars of the fund shall be distributed to the counties in the same proportion as the total population of each county is to the total population of all counties; and forty million dollars from the fund shall be distributed to the counties in the same proportion as the total assessed valuation of each county is to the total assessed valuation of all counties.

Sec. 5. That original section 77-202.30, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, is repealed.".

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 32.

Introduced by the Appropriations Committee: Warner, 25th District, Chairman; Bereuter, 24th District; Cope, 36th District; Marsh, 29th District; Goodrich, 20th District; Savage, 10th District; Fowler, 27th District; Hasebroock, 18th District; Rumery, 42nd District.

WHEREAS, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska has requested funds for faculty salary parity with comparable institutions in other states; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska has in the past requested funds to provide salary equity for faculty members of the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources with faculty in other disciplines within the University of Nebraska, Lincoln campus, and whereby a portion of the 1976-77 salary dollars were allocated on the basis of internal equity between disciplines; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska has requested funds to provide comparable support to comparable instructional programs between the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, and the University of Nebraska at Omaha campuses; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska has selected the Land Grant Institutions in the AAU as the comparison institutions for the determination of faculty salary parity and questions have been raised regarding the validity of these comparisons; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska has declared its intention of adopting a formula as the means for a parity level of support between the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, and the University of Nebraska at Omaha campuses and questions have arisen as to the validity of the formula selected and the formula approach, in general, in light of the different missions of the two campuses.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Appropriations Committee of the Legislature serve as an interim study committee on the University of Nebraska parity and equity concerns.

2. That this committee is directed to investigate the following topics:

(a) The salary comparison studies developed by the University of Nebraska and the question of faculty salary parity with comparable institutions;

(b) The salary levels between disciplines within the various campuses of the University of Nebraska;

(c) The salary levels between disciplines among the various campuses of the University of Nebraska;

(d) The question of the desirability and feasibility of a formula approach for achieving parity between the two campuses and the validity of the formula selected by the Board of Regents; and

(e) The factors, other than salary and financial support, which could or should be included when considering the parity of educational offerings and opportunities between the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, and University of Nebraska at Omaha.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 33.

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges has requested funds for faculty salary parity with similar institutions in other states; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges has selected for salary comparison a group of institutions similar to the State Colleges in role and mission from the Association of Central States Colleges and Universities; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges has declared their intention of adopting a salary policy as the means for achieving salary parity between the State Colleges and other institutions, and questions have arisen as to the validity of the salary policy.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Appropriations Committee be appointed to serve as an interim study committee on the salary policy and formula concerns of the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges.

2. That this committee is directed to investigate the following topics:

(a) The salary comparison study developed by the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges;

(b) The validity of the existing and proposed salary policy comparison and support assumptions;

(c) A determination of which postsecondary institutions, both interstate and intrastate that are similarily situated and could be used appropriately for salary comparison and parity purposes;

(d) The question of the desirability and feasibility of comparison approach for achieving salary parity;

(e) The factors, other than salary and financial support, that could or should be included in considering the salary parity policy of the Board of Trustees of the State Colleges.

Referred to the Executive Board.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 42
March 15, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have requested the opinion of this office concerning the constitutionality of section 34(1) (c) of LB 38. That section provides as follows:

> "Sec. 34. (1) Any person who subjects another person to sexual penetration and . . . (c) the actor is more than eighteen years of age and the victim is less than sixteen years of age is guilty of sexual assault in the first degree."

The elements which are defined for the crime are as follows: (1) sexual penetration, (2) by an actor more then eighteen years of age and (3) upon a victim less than sixteen years of age. Elements (2) and (3) are relatively self-explanatory. Element (1), sexual penetration, requires greater scrutiny, however.

Section 33(5) of LB 38 defines sexual penetration as follows, as used in sections 32 to 38:

> "(5) Sexual penetration shall mean sexual intercourse in its ordinary meaning, cunnilingus, fellatio, anal intercourse, or any intrusion, however slight, of any part of the actor's body or any object manipulated by the actor into the genital or anal openings of the victim's body. Sexual penetration shall not require emission of semen; . . ."

The definition of sexual penetration, as contained in section 33(5), describes simply a physical act. The definition does not require the act to be performed with any particular intent, such as the intent to produce sexual arousal or gratification as is found in the definition of sexual contact in section 33 (4). Neither do we at any place find any exemptions or exceptions to the operation of section 34(1)(c). We therefore must conclude that, on its face, section 34(1)(c) would render the situations you describe to be criminal offenses, i.e., a doctor over the age of eighteen would violate the terms of the section by giving a gynecological examination to a patient under the age of sixteen, and a parent over the age of eighteen would violate the terms of the section by administering an enema to a child under the age of sixteen.

State v. Adkins, 196 Neb. 76, _____ N.W.2d _____ (1976), and State v. Shiffbauer, 197 Neb. 805, _____N.W.2d _____ (1977), are two very recent cases dealing with the question of whether particular statutes are vague and overbroad, contrary to the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

State v. Adkins, supra, dealt with the constitutionality of section 28-4,127(1)(g), R.R.S. 1943, being in a place where controlled substances are being used. The Supreme Court there noted that the elements of that crime were broad enough to encompass entirely innocent behavior as well as behavior which the Legislature had obviously intended to encompass. The court utilized the following test in determining that the statute defining the offense was viod for uncertainty:

> ". . . 'The test to determine whether a statute defining an offense is void for uncertainty (1) is whether the language may apply not only to a particular act about which there can be little or no difference of opinion, but equally to other acts about which there may be radical differences, thereby devolving on the court the exercise of arbitrary power of discriminating between the several classes of acts. (Citing case.) (2) The dividing line between what is lawful and what is unlawful cannot be left to conjecture.' . . ." Id. at 82.

The court also found that the statute was:

> ". . . vulnerable to attack on the ground that the language employed therein is so general and indefinite as to embrace not only acts commonly recognized as reprehensible, but also others which it is unreasonable to presume were intended to be made criminal. . . ." Id. at 82.

The court then determined that the application of the statute should not be limited through interpretation, but that that is properly the function of the Legislature. The court concluded by holding the statute in question to be unconstitutional on its face due to vagueness and overbreadth.

State v. Shiffbauer, supra, dealt with the constitutional validity of section 28-4,125(7), R.R.S. 1943, knowingly or intentionally delivering a substance represented to be a controlled substance but which in fact was not such a substance. The statute was questioned on the basis that it was vague and overbroad since it could apply to innocent conduct as well as conduct intended to be forbidden, i.e., a doctor prescribing a placebo. The court held, however, that the conduct of the particular defendant was within that clearly intended to be forbidden, and that the statute provided the defendant adequate notice that the conduct he was engaging in was forbidden. The court furthermore held that the defendant therein lacked standing to challenge the constitutionality of the statute since it could constitutionally be applied to him. In essence, the court held that the statute was not unconstitutional on its face, but conceded the statute may be unconstitutional as applied to certain innocent conduct, i.e., the dispensing of an uncontrolled substance by a physician or pharmacist. Justice McCown, joined by Justice Brodkey, wrote a vigorous dissenting opinion in which he expressed his opinion that the statute should have been held to be unconstitutional on its face based essentially on the same reasoning expressed in State v. Adkins, supra.

Upon first blush it appears very difficult to reconcile the Shiffbauer and Adkins cases. However, the two cases can be reconciled on the basis that the statute held unconstitutional on its face in Adkins affected and would tend to inhibit the First Amendment freedom of association, whereas the statute in Shiffbauer does not affect or tend to inhibit a First Amendment freedom. This is in accordance with the principal that statutes affecting a First Amendment right require a closer scrutiny. State v. Guy, 196 Neb. 308, ___ N.W.2d ___ (1976); Broadrick v. Oklahoma, 413 U.S. 601, 37 L.Ed.2d 830, 93 S.Ct. 2908 (1973).

It is the opinion of this office that if section 34(1)(c) were to be utilized in a situation such as you presented, i.e., a doctor's examination or a parent's administration of an enema, which are normally thought to be innocent conduct, that the section would be held to be unconstitutional as applied. However, since section 34(1)(c) does not appear to substantially affect First Amendment rights, it is our opinion that, as in Shiffbauer, the statute would not be held to be unconstitutional on its face, but its constitutionality would be measured as applied in individual cases.

Yours very truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FORTY-SIXTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Friday, March 18, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., Speaker Luedtke presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Meet with us as we meet once more, O Lord our God, for we do need help. Even our small mistakes become obvious, and our proudest accomplishment but temporary. . .
> Our little bills seem so trivial beside the great, breaking events of these times, and so uncertain in response to voices which urge: "do something about this," "do nothing about that". . .
> And those which complain: "Too little;" "Too much;" "Too soon;" "Too late."
> We do need help. Lobby within our hearts and minds, O God, for everything that is right, lest we give in to anything that is easy. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Brennan and Mrs. Labedz who were excused; and Mr. Fowler and Mrs. Maxey who were excused until they arrive; and Mr. Chambers who was absent until 9:15 a.m.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

Page 901, line 35, delete "20 present" and insert "10 present".
Page 908, line 13, correct spelling of "appropriated".
The Journal for the Forty-Fifth Day was approved as corrected.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT–Member Excused

Mr. Rumery asked unanimous consent to be excused at 10:30 a.m. for the remainder of the day. No objections. So ordered.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 44
March 16, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of February 16, 1977, you asked our office to review LB 130 in light of ". . . any problem with constitutionality." LB 130 creates and defines an "integrated corporation" as a corporation where (1) the corporate stock has majority ownership by another corporation, or (2) the corporation owns the majority stock in another corporation, or (3) the corporation processes, sells at wholesale or sells at retail more agricultural products, except lumber and poultry, than it produces.

LB 130 defines and limits the ability of an integrated corporation to own or control Nebraska real estate. The proposed law amends sections 76-402, and 76-413, R.R.S. 1943, and generally treats integrated corporations like foreign corporations for the purposes of acquiring or owning any real estate situated in Nebraska. These limitations on "integrated corporations" must be read to apply only to Nebraska corporations because any corporation organized under laws other than the laws of this state is considered a foreign corporation, which is already limited by virtue of existing law in its ability to own real estate in Nebraska.

Therefore, the primary constitutional question raised by LB 130 is whether the Legislature may limit the ability of a certain type of Nebraska corporation to acquire and hold real estate situated in this state.

A corporation is an artificial person, created by and deriving its powers from legislative enactment. Nebraska Wheat Growers' Association v. Smith, 115 Neb. 177, 212 N.W. 39 (1927). The ability of a corporation to hold and acquire real estate was discussed in Tash v. Ludden, 88 Neb. 292, 129 N.W. 417 (1911), where the court noted:

> "All corporations capable of taking and holding property have the jus disponendi as fully as natural persons, except so far as they are restrained by statute, or are prohibited by their articles of incorporation or outstanding contracts; and under this general power a corporation may dispose of the whole of its property for any lawful purpose." Id.; Price v. Fraser, 119 Neb. 806, 809, 231 N.W.2d 18, 21 (1930).

The Nebraska Constitution sets out the procedure for the Legislature to follow in granting certain powers to corporations. At Article XII, Section 1, the Constitution provides, in pertinent part:

> "The Legislature shall provide by general law for the organization, regulation, supervision and general control of all corporations, . . . No corporations shall be created by special law, . . . , except those corporations organized for charitable, educational, penal or reformatory purposes, which are to be and remain under the patronage and control of the state. . . ." (Emphasis added)

The Nebraska Constitution further provides, at Article III, Section 18, that the Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following cases:

> ". . . . Granting to any corporation, association, or individual any special or exclusive privileges, . . . In all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, no special law shall be enacted."

It is our opinion that LB 130 attempts to regulate a certain type of Nebraska corporation by special, as opposed to general law. The proposed legislation appears to be in contravention of the Nebraska constitutional provisions set out above. The general law currently applicable to all Nebraska private corporations is the Nebraska Business Corporation Act, section 21-2001 et seq., R.R.S. 1943. This law provides at section 21-2004(4) that every domestic corporation shall have power:

> "To purchase, take, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, use and otherwise deal in and with real or personal property, or any interest therein, . . ."

The rationale underpinning the constitutional prohibition against special legislation for the regulation of corporations is set out in Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W.2d 62 (1966), where the court said:

> ". . .: 'The legislature may legislate in regard to a class of persons, but they cannot take what may be termed a natural class of persons, split that class in two, and then arbitrarily designate the dissevered fractions of the original unit as two classes, and enact different rules for the government of each.' . . ." 180 Neb. at 457; see also City of Scottsbluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256, 266, 175 N.W.2d 74 (1970).

LB 130 attempts to regulate integrated corporations in the same way the existing law already regulates foreign corporations. However, our conclusions in regard to this legislation do not mean that the Legislature cannot similarly regulate a foreign corporation. Foreign corporations are separately treated in respect to the general law of the Nebraska Business Corporation Act. See section 21-2,120, R.R.S. 1943. Foreign corporations are separately addressed in Article XII, Section 1 of the Nebraska

Constitution. More importantly, the Nebraska Supreme Court has recognized that the public policy of this state directs against the acquisition of title to Nebraska real estate by foreign corporations. In Re Estate of Robinson, 138 Neb. 101, 292 N.W. 48 (1940).

These distinctions in the regulation of domestic and foreign corporations, as set out in the general and constitutional laws of Nebraska, underscore the reason we believe that LB 130 is constitutionally suspect. Existing constitutional and general law, as outlined above, already regulates all Nebraska corporations, whether integrated or not. LB 130 attempts to change that general law in regard to a specific type of Nebraska corporation. Neither the state Constitution nor the Nebraska Business Corporation Act make any reference to separate legislative treatment of "integrated corporations." Therefore, it is our opinion that LB 130 would be regarded as special legislation in regard to the regulation of a domestic corporation, and in violation of Nebraska constitutional law.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 45
March 15, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:
Re: L.B. 466

In your February 23, 1977 letter you requested an opinion with respect to the constitutionality of the proposed amendments to L.B. 466. We understand the amendments have been drafted to overcome the serious constitutional questions concerning the original bill.

The language of the amendments is somewhat confusing as to the determination of weekly retirement benefits of totally disabled state employees. For purposes of this response we assume it is intended such an employee would receive such benefits as the contributions to his account would produce or the minimum determined by these amendments, whichever is greater. It further appears that those who are receiving benefits based on the minimum would receive increases as the average wage level increases while others would not. The provisions would apply to all such employees now retired or who retire in the future.

Article III, Section 19, of the Nebraska Constitution prohibits the Legislature from granting additional compensation to public officers and employees after the services have been performed but permits the adjustment of retirement benefits for retired public officers and employees to reflect changes in the cost of living and wage levels that have occurred subsequent to the date of retirement.

It appears the above provision was intended to permit proportionate adjustments in retirement benefits to offset the effects of inflation. The Committee on Constitutional Revision of the Legislature said in its statement on L.B. 1414 proposing the amendment to Article III, Section 19, that:

> "LB 1414 would submit to the voters a constitutional amendment that would, if approved, permit the Legislature to adjust retirement benefits to retired public officers and employees periodically to reflect the changes that occur in the cost of living and wage levels being paid after an officer or employee retires. Because of inflation, retirement benefits that were intended to give an officer or employee a certain standard of living at the time he retired are no longer adequate for him to maintain that standard."

The proposed amendments to L.B. 466, however, would raise the minimum benefits for past service of some of the retired totally disabled state employees to twice the average wage in the state. Raising such benefits to twice the average wage would appear to increase benefits for past service beyond that which would be required to reflect changes in the cost of living or the wage level. In our opinion, this would be difficult to sustain against a constitutional challenge.

Another possible difficulty is whether the classification of employees who receive the increased benefits under the proposed amendments is class legislation in violation of Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution. Whether the classification is reasonable depends on whether it rests on real differences in situation and circumstances of the class and whether the law operates uniformly on every member of the designated class. State v. Hall, 129 Neb. 669, 262 N.W. 835; U. S. Cold Storage Corp. v. Stolinski, 168 Neb. 513, 96 N.W.2d 408. In this situation it is questionable whether the classification could be sustained.

It may be difficult to show a reasonable basis for increasing benefits to state employees who retired as a result of disability but not those who retired at normal retirement age. It may be equally difficult to find a reasonable basis for increasing benefits to some of the totally disabled retired state employees but not those whose benefits exceed the minimum, particularly since the exception in Article III, Section 19, of the Constitution authorizes adjustments in retirement benefits retroactively only to reflect changes in the cost of living and wage levels. All retired employees would suffer the ravages of inflation and any distinction among them in granting these special benefits must be based on some reasonable distinction.

In conclusion, we believe L.B. 466 as proposed to be amended is constitutionally suspect and we would experience considerable difficulty sustaining its validity against a challenge in court.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 34.

Introduced by Public Works Committee: Kremer, 34th District, Chairman; Kelly, 35th District; Moylan, 6th District; Merz, 1st District; R. Lewis, 38th District; Boughn, 21st District; Mills, 44th District; Swigart, 8th District.

WHEREAS, the energy management crisis has created numerous complex issues which need to be addressed; and

WHEREAS, it is desirable that the Legislature periodically undertake a detailed study and analysis of the public power entities and problems related thereto as an aid to the enactment of possible legislation; and

WHEREAS, seasonal demands for electricity to drive irrigation equipment have greatly increased in the last ten years, placing large seasonal loads on Nebraska's electrical power entities; and

WHEREAS, conflicts are occuring among and between public power entities in Nebraska, including generators, transmitters, wholesalers, retailers, suppliers, distributors, public power districts, rural power districts and municipalities; and

WHEREAS, the costs for generation, transmission and distribution of electricity are constantly escalating; and

WHEREAS, disagreements and problems have developed between electrical wholesalers and retailers in regard to service contracts; and

WHEREAS, territorial disputes have again erupted between and among electrical distributors and retailers in Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature has the responsibility to ultimately see that the public power entities provide the citizens of the State of Nebraska with an efficient and economical power supply; and

WHEREAS, recent activities of several public power entities indicate that joint long-range planning is of utmost importance to electric power users; and

WHEREAS, some irrigators are required to wait ten years to have an electrical pump hooked up; and

WHEREAS, electric power is the basis of our employment and our economy; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska's public power entities make individual decisions, the effect or results of which may not be in the best public interest of Nebraska.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Public Works Committee of the Legislature shall study various responsibilities of the public power entities.

2. That this study include an analysis of rate charges and the formula used to compute such rates.

3. That this study also include an examination of continued ratchet charges, irrigation allowances, and the related formula for setting those charges; and also, the feasibility of alternate methods.

4. That the committee make an analysis of wheeling charges and resulting determination of how maximum wheeling capacities are defined.

5. The committee make a survey of the grid transmission facilities and their completeness and ability to service all areas of the state.

6. The committee review power supply planning in the state and region relating to an optimum mix of fuels in the future, proper attention to plant siting, and best utilization of state and regional resources.

7. That the committee study existing sources of electricity on a state and regional level.

8. That the committee study the lines of authority and organization for providing power in this state.

9. That procedures and the authority of Nebraska public power entities to extend public credit to private industry be investigated.

10. That the mission, authority, and performance of Nebraska Public Power Review Board be reviewed.

11. That the mission, authority, and performance of all public power entities be examined.

12. That the advisability of a continuing role of the Legislature in the coordination of public power be considered.

13. That all actual and proposed contractual agreements and compacts of all public power entities be studied. This study shall include local, statewide, regional, national and international agreements.

14. That the committee shall make progress reports to the Legislature, Governor and the public power entities.

15. That at the conclusion of the study such committee shall submit a report of its findings, together with any recommendations, to the Legislature.

Referred to Executive Board.

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, March 21, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The members stood for a moment of silence in memory of Sen. DeCamp's mother and Sen. Carsten's mother-in-law.
The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord, our God: whose work is never done, but ever advanced by the faithful service of men and women: meet with us as we begin another week.
> Now that committees are meeting, and bills are being considered, and the form of legislation is being fashioned, steer us in the proper direction!
> Our thoughts, our aspirations, our weaknesses, our abilities, we would dare to dedicate to purposes far larger than ourselves. Share with us in the duties we take up once more that together we may make this a good week for Nebraska. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Carsten and Warner who were excused; and Messrs. George, F. Lewis, and Schmit who were excused until they arrive; and Messrs. Burrows and Stoney who were absent until 10:30 a.m. and Mr. Chambers who was absent until 11:15 a.m.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

The Journal for the Forty-Sixth Day was approved.

PRESIDENT WHELAN PRESIDING

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 44
March 16, 1977

Dear Senator Keyes:

In your letter of March 9, 1977, you ask our opinion as to whether or not an industrial loan and investment company can be chartered to be located outside the confines of a city or village. Your inquiry is triggered by section 8-403.02, R.R.S. 1943, which specifies the required paid-up capital stock for such a company. This section provides that such capital for such a company shall be not less than $50,000.00 in cities and villages having less than 2500 inhabitants, with increasing amounts in various sized larger municipalities. You have informed us that if we construe the statute to require industrial loan and investment companies to be located in municipalites, (sic) you intend to offer an amendment to a pending bill, to correct the situation.

In failing to make provision for the amount of capital for a corporation not located in any city of village, the statute makes possible an argument that the corporation must be located in a city or village. We do not, however, believe this conclusion is required, and are of the opinion that the history of the entire act fails to disclose a legislative intention for such a requirement. We are inclined to take the view that no such requirement is intended, because no readily apparent reason occurs to us why such a corporationshould be located inside the boundaries of a municipality. Were the court to conclude that no valid reason exists, such a requirement might be held to be unreasonable classification. We avoid such constructions, if possible.

The Industrial Loan and Investment Act was adopted in 1941. Sections 8-403 and 8-403.01 provide for the procedure for applying for a charter, and the findings which must be made by the Department of Banking before a charter may be granted. Neither of these sections, nor any other section of the act except section 8-403.02, contain any hint that the corporation must be located in any municipality. Section 8-403.02 was not a part of the original act, but was adopted in 1959.

It is therefore clear that from 1941 until 1959 nothing in the law suggested that an industrial loan and investment company could not be located anywhere in the state, subject to the approval of the Department of Banking. Section 8-403.02 was a part of LB 284, passed in 1959. Nothing in the title or the body of LB 284, except section 8-402.02, even hinted that the bill was intended to limit the permissible locations of such corporations. Had the Legislature intended to change existing law in such a way, we would expect it to do so in a straightforward, unambiguous way, instead of in a backhanded way by failing to provide for capitalization outside municipalties. (sic)

There is not much doubt that the Legislature assumed that such companies would be located in cities and villages, but we do not construe an assumption as a requirement. We believe, rather, that the question did not occur to the members of the Legislature, so they failed to provide for the eventuality.

This leaves us, of course, with the question of what capitalization is required of a corporation which is not located in any municipality.

Obviously, some amount must be required. To determine what that amount is necessarily requires, to a certain extent, that we, or the court, add language which was omitted by the Legislature. However, the lowest amout mentioned in the statutes is $50,000.00. We believe the court would say that the Legislature intended that no such corporation should be chartered with less capitalization than that. On the other hand, the higher requirements prescribed are not applicable, because the corporation will not be located in municipalities having the populations making such higher capitalization mandatory. We therefore conclude taht (sic) the $50,000.00 figure is the one applicable in this situation.

While we believe that the above discussion represents the conclusion a court would reach on this queston, this is not to say that a clarifying amendment would not be desirable. As we have indicated, the statute, as it now reads, leaves room for controversy.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 35.

Introduced by Koch, 12th District.

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act was passed by the Nebraska Legislature in 1976; and

WHEREAS, there is being raised an increasing amount of concern over actual and potential conflicts within that act; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature has indicated that the intent of this act is the proper operation of democratic government; and

WHEREAS, both the act and the intent of the act are subject to great misinterpretation; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature should have the authority and the responsibility to specifically determine (1) which elected officials and other public officials and employees ought to be subject to the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act, and (2) to what degree accountability and disclosure ought to attach to such individuals.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Executive Board of the Legislative Council conduct an interim study on the specific purposes for and ramifications of the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Act.

2. That the Executive Board of the Legislative Council submit a report of its study and findings, along with any recommendations for corrective legislation to rid the act of inconsistent, inappropriate, or unnecessary language thereby rendering the act more responsive to its declared intent.

Referred to the Executive Board.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 21, 1977

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Nebraska Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I return herewith LB 179 and its accompanying funding legislation, LB 179A, without my signature and with my objections.

Those objections include my pleadings with the Legislature in my budget address of February 10, 1977 when I specifically referred to measures such as this, and I quote: "I urge you to accept the fact now that you have only essentially $473 million to appropriate. You have the prerogative of changing my specific recommendations within that total, make reductions and additions, where you think best, as my recommendations are not considered infallible. But please, again I urge, accept the fact first that you have only that $473 million to spend. . . .There are areas that I also would have liked to recognize, but budget restraints dictated by priorities prevented that.

"I urge once again the (sic) the Legislature set up a proper display in this chamber that will show daily your maximum $473 million spending limit and reduce that amount accordingly each time you authorize expenditures. I recommend once again that all nonessential "A" bills be held in your appropriations committee to be brought forth by that committee with its final total recommendations so that you may have an accurate figure on total appropriations before you act."

Regardless of your good intentions, you have passed these bills without consideration as to the state's ability to meet these additional expenditures.

Your actions, if they become law, would require an additional $3.0 million in general funds, and an additional $3.5 million in Federal funds, for a total additional yearly increase of $6.5 million for ADC payments. Such changes in the ADC program will cause an additional increase of $.5 million in Medicaid expenditures. We are currently supplying $12.7 million in general funds and $14.9 million Federal funds for this program for a total of $27.5 million yearly. Your action would increase the total to $34.5 million.

In my budget message, I suggested an additional $1.2 million in general funds and $1.4 million in Federal funds to specifically assist those mothers and their totally dependent children most in need with a companion increase of $.3 million in the Medicaid program. This was within our budget restraints that I have referred to earlier.

I request that you sustain my veto and bring forth from your committee LB 496 for consideration by your body.

Until you forthrightly address yourselves to the issue of the $473 million spending limit to prevent tax increases, you leave me no choice but to reject your large increased spending proposals.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

Amendments to LB 257

1. On page 2, line 12 of the DeCamp amendments, after the period, insert "The evaluation of each agency shall be placed on a priority schedule determined by the committee to which it is assigned.".

Amendments to LB 257

1. Strike sections 1 to 9, 11, and 14 and insert five new sections as follows:

"Section 1. The Legislature finds that:

(1) The state's present organizational structure is complex, with numerous similar or allied functions interwoven throughout several offices, departments, divisions, agencies, boards, and commissions;

(2) Effective and economical state government is often disregarded or relegated to a secondary position because of increasing demand by citizens for more and better governmental services and public assistance;

(3) There is a division of public opinion as to whether or not the current scope, rate of growth, and unprecedented expenditure for government is justified; and

(4) In order to improve the effectiveness of government without curtailing necessary services required by the public, the programs and operations of state government must be carefully examined, analyzed, and evaluated to insure competence, economy, and accountability.

Sec. 2. Commencing July 1, 1977, the Executive Board of the Legislative Council shall be responsible for establishing a procedure whereby the programs, operations, and organizational structure of each agency of the state shall be reviewed, analyzed, and evaluated by the standing committees of the Legislature prior to July 1, 1984.

Sec. 3. The Executive Board of the Legislative Council shall assign to the various standing committees of the Legislature, except the Appropriations Committee, those agencies which are within each committee's general subject area and jurisdiction. Each committee shall undertake a complete and systematic review of those agencies assigned to it by the board as part of its interim assignment for the next seven years. For the purposes of this act, agency shall mean any department, division, office, commission, board, or any other unit or body, however designated, of the state government.

Sec. 4. Each standing committee in reviewing the functions performed and services provided by agencies assigned to them by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council shall:

(1) Gather data which accurately reflects the services provided by such agencies;

(2) Examine, analyze, and evaluate the data gathered pursuant to subdivision (1) of this section by:

(a) Identifying major programs and related costs;

(b) Determining program relationships and dependencies;

(c) Isolating duplicate or redundant programs;

(d) Examining management practices and administrative effectiveness; and

(e) Holding hearings and conducting interviews to allow for both agency and citizen input, reactions, and expectations relative to the functions and services provided by the various agencies; and

(3) On or before January 1, 1984 document its findings and recommednations in the form of a report to be submitted to the board. Such report shall place special emphasis on simplifying and condensing administrative powers and duties for the purpose of eliminating duplication and providing greater efficiency in government. Each standing committee shall include in its report proposed legislation to implement its findings and recommendations.

Sec. 5. Commencing July 1, 1984, the powers, duties, and responsibilities of each agency of the State of Nebraska, other than those agencies created by the Constitution, shall expire, unless the services, functions, and programs provided by such agency shall have been approved by the Legislature prior to such date.".

2. On page 6, line 24 after "The" insert "Executive Board of the"; and strike beginning with "scheduled" in line 26 through "act" in line 27.

3. On page 7, strike beginning with "in" in line 1 through "commission" in line 3.

4. Renumber original sections 10, 12, and 13 as sections 6, 7, and 8 respectively.

5. Insert a new section 9 as follows:

"Sec. 9. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and take effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.".

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 36.

Introduced by Schmit, 23rd District.

WHEREAS, Blanche DeCamp was a Nebraska resident for more than 50 years; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. DeCamp struggled with many adversities in her devoted efforts to assure her five sons and two daughters a loving home and proper education; and

WHEREAS, she took great pride in the reflected successes of her children which included one son's election as a member of the Nebraska Legislature and two sons proclaimed as Outstanding Young Men of America by the National Chamber of Commerce; and

WHEREAS, Blanche DeCamp spent her last hours in the dawning of Spring which was her favorite time of the year.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the members of the Legislature express their sympathy to the family of Blanche DeCamp.

2. That a copy of this resolution be presented to her son, State Senator John DeCamp, on behalf of his family as a tangible symbol of the best wishes for the DeCamp family by the Nebraska Legislature.

Mr. Schmit moved to suspend Rule 4, Sec. 6 to consider LR 36 today. The motion prevailed with 30 ayes, 0 nays, and 19 not voting.

LR 36 was adopted with 30 ayes, 0 nays, and 19 not voting.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 37.

Introduced by Speaker Luedtke, 28th District.

WHEREAS, Martha Ruge was a citizen of Nebraska since her birth on August 23, 1890; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Ruge was a homemaker and active participant in the rural life of Avoca, Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, she contributed to the well-being of her community through membership in her local extension club and church organization; and

WHEREAS, Martha Ruge passed from this life on March 20, 1977.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature extend its sympathy to the survivors of Martha Ruge and that a copy of this resolution be presented to her daughter, Mrs. Calvin (Ruth) Carsten on behalf of her family.

Speaker Luedtke moved to suspend Rule 4, Sec. 6 to consider LR 37 today. The motion prevailed with 32 ayes, 0 nays, and 17 not voting.

LR 37 was adopted with 32 ayes, 0 nays, and 17 not voting.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 38.

Introduced by Stoney, 4th District and Brennan, 9th District.

WHEREAS, illegal aliens are members of the labor force of several states in the Great Plains; and

WHEREAS, a growing number of these aliens may seek to join the Nebraska labor force as employment opportunities in neighboring states dwindle; and

WHEREAS, such persons contribute little to the economic health of Nebraska by sending most of their earnings out of the United States and returning very little in taxes or consumer spending to local economies; and

WHEREAS, other states such as Kansas have enacted legislation to prohibit hiring of illegal aliens.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Committee on Business and Labor perform an interim study to determine the feasibility and desirability of establishing a state prohibition against knowingly hiring an illegal alien.

2. That the committee shall examine and consider such laws as they exist in other states as a reference for developing any proposed legislative changes.

3. That the committee make a report of its findings together with its recommendations for proposed legislation to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 39.

Introduced by R. Lewis, 38th District; Mills, 44th District, and Fowler, 27th District.

WHEREAS, petroleum heating fuels are in short supply and known reserves are rapidly diminishing; and

WHEREAS, alternative energy research and development should coincide with energy conservation measures; and

WHEREAS, use of solar energy to heat domestic hot water can be cost effective; and

WHEREAS, the development of domestic hot water solar systems may lead to cost effective solar space heating; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska cannot afford to wait for federal initiatives in alternative energy development.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature encourage all state officials responsible for public buildings to review their existing or planned domestic hot water systems to ascertain the feasibility of using alternative energy sources and report their findings to the Governor and the Legislature.

2. That the special Energy Task Force of the Legislature investigate these findings and prepare for consideration any legislation necessary to cause cost effective alternative energy use.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, March 22, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:02 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O God, prepare our hearts and minds for the business of this day that we may throughout behave with genuine courtesy and honor before our colleagues. Help us to be just and honest in all our dealings. May we listen to those who have something to say but never lose our own capacity to discriminate between right and wrong. Save us from the fallacy of depending upon our personality or ingenuity to solve our problems, and make us more willing to do the hard work that is necessary to be well informed. Since we believe Thou art the source of truth, may we listen to Thee at the beginning of this day so that at the end we may hear Thy blessing, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Carsten who was excused; and Messrs. Koch and F. Lewis who were excused until they arrive.

CORRECTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL

LEGISLATIVE BILL 142. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 142:

1. Strike original section 1 and insert the following:

"Section 1. No action against a seller of a product which is based upon the theory of strict liability in tort may be commenced more than four years after the product was first sold to any person not engaged in the business of selling the product. Nothing contained in this section shall bar an action against a product seller brought on a theory of negligence if such action is timely commenced within the limitation prescribed by section 25-207. Nothing contained in this section shall affect the right of any person found liable to seek and obtain indemnity or contribution from any other person whose actual fault caused a product to be defective or contributed to a product being defective.".

2. On page 2, strike the second "the" and insert "a"; in line 19 strike "primary" and insert "proximate or contributing"; in line 23 after "brought" insert a period and strike the remainder of the line; and strike lines 24 through 27.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 40.

Introduced by Agriculture and Environment Committee: Schmit, 23rd District, Chairman; Hefner, 19th District; Lamb, 43rd District; Kahle, 37th District; Maresh, 32nd District; DeCamp, 40th District; Venditte, 7th District.

WHEREAS, the Agriculture and Environment Committee of the Nebraska Legislature has for the past four years intensely studied the question of the needs of Nebraska agriculture relative to veterinarians; and

WHEREAS, the Agriculture and Environment Committee has at this time compiled additional information, data and recommendations and programs some of which if implemented, may resolve short term or long term veterinary problems that Nebraska has or might experience in the foreseeable future; and

WHEREAS, in recent months reports in the news media indicate that the Governors of the states involved in the Old West Regional Commission are still attempting to determine if it is feasible for the five states to jointly construct and operate a veterinary college; and

WHEREAS, as of March 21, 1977, the members of the Legislature have received no further information from the Old West Regional Commission relative to recommendations, desires, or beliefs relating to procedures Nebraska should follow in the matter of developing a veterinary college; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature's Agriculture and Environment Committee is ready, willing and able to propose and implement whatever measures are necessary to provide an adequate supply of veterinarians to Nebraska for the foreseeable future; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature's Agriculture and Environment Committee wishes to afford the Governor, the Old West Regional Commission and the University of Nebraska, or any representative of those three parties, the opportunity to present any and all information or recommendations or program plans they may have relative to Nebraska veterinary needs.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Governor, the Old West Regional Commission and the University of Nebraska be specifically requested by this Legislature to provide to the Agriculture and Environment Committee any information or recommendations they may have relative to the establishment of a veterinary college or any alternative proposals to resolve a potential veterinary shortage problem.

2. That the Governor be specifically requested to provide to the Agriculture and Environment Committee or the Legislature any legislative proposals he has this year for establishment of any veterinary college or other veterinary programs.

3. That the Governor be requested to provide to the Legislature any requests or recommendations he has on financing such programs which shall specifically include the cost requirements and the amounts of money requested by the Governor for such programs.

Laid over.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 22, 1977

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I herewith return LB 389 and LB 389A without my signature and with my objections.

This measure would create just one more layer of bureaucracy and needless duplication. While the merits and goals of LB 389 are laudatory, the duplication of administration and services created by its provisions is not.

At best, LB 389 will provide for a very limited outreach and referral program directed solely at one group of persons, displaced homemakers, thereby duplicating services currently available through the Department of Labor's CETA program and the Department of Welfare's work incentive and related programs. The potential exists, however, for LB 389 to become a very expensive bureaucracy demanding more and more tax money for the establishment of separate delivery systems designed specifically for the displaced homemaker.

I am convinced that the needs of the displaced homemaker can be addressed through the existing agencies of government which are providing the types of services called for under LB 389. Towards this end, I have directed the Commissioner of Labor and the Director of Welfare to review the services they are providing to displaced homemakers to insure that those in need are being identified and referred to the appropriate programs and adequately served. I believe this is the appropriate manner to adequately address the needs of displaced homemakers. The creation of another bureaucracy is not the answer.

The Legislature here has authorized an additional $94,000 over my recommendations for just a start-up. It provides services for the Omaha and Scottsbluff area only. Can you imagine what will happen next year, and the year after that.

I urge your body to sustain my veto.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

FORTY-NINTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, March 23, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> We feel a sense of the history and heritage of this House each time we stand for prayer, O Lord our God: so many others have stood here where we now stand. So much has transpired here before we came along. And we know that some of the things we now do will also become a part of that continuing stream of history - destined, perhaps, to be remembered even when our names are long since forgotten. Inspire us day by day, O God, by an understanding of the history of which we are a part. Amen.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 23, 1977

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

Attached herewith you will find two bills that address themselves to appropriations matters for the current fiscal year.

These matters have been discussed with the Appropriations Committee, and input has been made from the Department of Administrative Services to the Legislative fiscal staff and the Chairman of your Appropriations Committee.

Addressed are such matters as required appropriations for increased judges' salaries that were passed by the Legislature last year, the appropriations necessary to begin staffing and organization of the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission, technical amendments to the cash, revolving, and Federal funds for the State Colleges, and funds to finish repairing the fire damage to the Plant Industry Building.

The most important matter that these bills address is the requested increase in cash and revolving funds from the University of Nebraska, which the University refers to as "technical amendments."

Almost every year these matters are required to be addressed by the Legislature since it is customary for the University to "find" additional cash funds that were discovered "after the fact." You will remember that just prior to your appropriation for the University of Nebraska last year there was discussion regarding what the actual cash fund picture was with regard to the University. Our administration maintained that the University's cash fund estimates were too low, and that General Fund was being appropriated where there should have been additional cash fund appropriations estimated.

While the two bills that I am introducing today will give the University considerable leeway in some cash and revolving funds, I am opposed to a substantial portion of their request, which I consider excessive, in the amount of approximately $2.5 million.

Should the Legislature approve their entire request, the effect would be to further increase their total operational expenditures over the authorized figure of $228 million that the Legislature authorized for the 1976-77 fiscal year. It will be argued by the University that the general fund is not affected. This is not accurate. The added expenditure, if authorized, will be added into this year's budget, which will become the base for an even larger budget next year, which will require more tax support.

It is my suggestion, which can be accomplished with the bills attached, that rather than allowing increased operational expenditures, excess University cash funds be used to replace General Fund in the amount of $2,024,030 in the operational budget, and that this amount be authorized only to advance payment for accelerated construction on the plant science building that otherwise would not have been paid out until July 1, 1977, and to complete recovery from the plant industry fire of last year.

The basic effect of this suggestion is to deny many unjustified University expenditures for the current fiscal year above your previous authorizations, and conserve total funds to assist in cash flow problems.

I urge your favorable action accordingly.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

BILLS ON FIRST READING

The following bills were read for the first time by title:

LEGISLATIVE BILL 521. By Speaker Luedtke, at request of Governor.

A BILL FOR AN ACT to amend section 1, Legislative Bill 743, Eighty-fourth Legislature, Second Session, 1976, relating to appropriations; to increase appropriations; to repeal the original section; and to declare an emergency.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 522. By Speaker Luedtke, at request of Governor.

A BILL FOR AN ACT to amend sections 3 to 10, Legislative Bill 690, Eighty-fourth Legislature, Second Session, 1976, section 2, Legislative Bill 691, Eighty-fourth Legislature, Second Session, 1976, with appropriations reduced by line-item vetoes, section 34, Legislative Bill 691, Eighty-fourth Legislature, Second Session, 1976, and sections 28 and 39, Legislative Bill 984, Eighty-fourth Legislature, Second Session, 1976, relating to appropriations; to increase and shift appropriations; to make appropriations; to repeal the original sections; and to declare an emergency.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 49
March 22, 1977

Dear Senator Koch:

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutional validity of the Standing Committee amendments to L.B. 131. These amendments have stricken the first three sections of the original bill, and substituted nine new sections.

The first section is simply a statement of the purpose of the act, and presents no constitutional question. Section 2 requires the county assessor each year to notify the county board of his plans for determining the county's values for the coming assessment year. Section 3 requires the county board to review the assessor's plans, and to forward a copy to the tax commissioner, together with the comments of the county board and a report as to the assessor's budget to accomplish his duties. Section 4 requires the tax commissioner to analyze the reports from the counties, and to notify each county board and assessor as to the tax commissioner's opinion as to what must be done to maintain the property (sic) level of values. Section 5 requires the tax commissioner to transmit copies of his actions to each member of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, and requires the Board to consider such information, together with a report by the tax commissioner as to the extent of compliance. We see no constitutional difficulties with these sections.

Section 6 provides that for the year 1977 the total real estate values in any county shall not exceed those used in 1976, except for values attributed to changes in new and used improvements. For the year 1978, all counties are to use new values reflecting current actual values, and if any county refuses, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment shall equalize such county based upon the level of values in surrounding counties.

This section appears to clearly violate the provisions of Article VIII, Section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution, which requires taxes to be levied by valuation uniformly and proportionately upon all tangible property, with certain exceptions. Section 6 of the bill in question would authorize a county to continue to use 1976 valuations of real estate, in spite of the fact that such valuations might not reflect actual values in 1977. Section 77-201, R.R.S. 1943 requires all tangible property to be valued at its actual value. Obviously, other types of taxable property would continue to be assessed at actual values, creating an automatic lack of uniformity. Homan v. Board of Equalization, 141 Neb. 400, 3 N.W.2d 650 (1942) held that providing a method for fixing the valuation of real estate different from that provided for other tangible property violated Article VIII, Section 1. We believe the court would reach the same conclusion with respect to this provision.

As we pointed out in our opinion of February 10, 1977, with respect to the original version of L.B. 131, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment is required by Article IV, Section 28 to review and equalize assessments of property for taxation. This bill, like the original, would prohibit the Board from doing so. The Legislature cannot prevent the Board from performing duties imposed upon it by the Constitution.

In providing that in 1978 the State Board of Equalization and Assessment shall equalize counties based upon the levels of value in surrounding counties, the bill seems to authorize a standard of assessment different from that specified by section 77-201, and, again, could result in a lack of uniformity, since other property, particularly centrally assessed property, would be valued on a different basis.

Sections 7, 8, and 9 of the bill are too long to be set out in detail herein, but, in summary, they attempt to limit increases in budgets of taxing districts. Section 7 provides that at the time of the first levy against new valuations resulting from a county-wide reappraisal, the budget for each taxing district shall not exceed 7% of the previous year's budget funded by ad valorem taxes or the average increase by percentage for the three preceding budgets, whichever is greater. This provision does not appear to us to say what is intended. Clearly, it is the increase in the budget which is not to exceed 7%, or the average increase for the preceding three budgets, not the budget itself. We will construe it to mean what we believe was intended, but call attention to the ambiguous language. The balance of section 7 deals with certain adjustments and exceptions to the limitations set out in the first part of the section.

Section 8 deals with other exceptions to the limitations set out in section 7. We particularly note the fourth of these, which excepts from the limitations those taxing districts which are levying a tax on property which has increased in value less than 10% from the preceding year.

Questions of classification arise with respect to these sections. We pointed out in our previous opinion regarding this bill that the court might find unreasonable classification with respect to a provision that would give two identical taxing districts different budget limitations, based upon what appear to be irrelevant considerations. Past budgets may have no relation to a district's need in the future, but would amount to arbitrary limitations.

In addition to what we said in our previous opinion, we point out that the amendments create other classification questions. Section 7 appears to impose the limitation only when a county-wide reappraisal is about to be put into effect. We do not understand what relationship a reappraisal has to the size of budgets, except for taxing districts which have a fixed mill levy. For a taxing district which submits a fixed dollar figure to the county board, it is completely irrelevant, assuming that the dollar figure can be raised within the statutory mill levy limitations. The board makes the levy to raise that amount of money. If the assessed valuations are high, the levy will be low, and if the valuations are low, the levy will be proportionately higher. We have difficulty seeing why the budget limitations are necessary when a reappraisal goes into effect, but not before.

The same question arises with respect to the fourth exception contained in section 8, previously mentioned. If the assessed value of property in the district has increased less than 10% from the preceding year, the limitations on budget are off. We are unable to understand the rationale of this provision, and, unless it could be explained to the court, it might be found to be unreasonable classification, in violation of Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution.

Section 9 of the bill is confusing. It provides that if the governing body of a taxing district determines that a budget higher than permitted by section 7 and 8 is needed, it shall hold a public meeting to receive input from the public as to the advisability of exceeding the limits prescribed by sections 7 and 8. Subsection (2) of section 9 permits the governing body, following the public meeting, to reduce any item of the budget to bring it closer to the limits set by sections 7 and 8 of the act. We find nothing in section 9 which authorizes the governing body to exceed the limitations of sections 7 and 8, although it is difficult to see the reason for the public meeting if these limits are not be be exceeded.

We believe, in view of the matters discussed above, that it would be very difficult to sustain the constitutional validity of the amended bill in its present form.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

AMENDMENTS TO LB 220

1. Strike original sections 1 to 31 and all amendments thereto and insert three new sections as follows:

"Section 1. That section 28-4,125, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-4,125. (1) Except as authorized by sections 28-459 and 28-4,115 to 28-4,142, it shall be unlawful for any person knowingly or intentionally: (a) To manufacture, distribute, deliver, dispense, or possess with intent to manufacture, distribute, deliver, or dispense, a controlled substance; or (b) to create, distribute, or possess with intent to distribute, a counterfeit controlled substance.

(2) Any person who violates subsection (1) of this section with respect to: (a) A controlled substance classified in Schedule I or II of section 28-4,117 which is a narcotic drug shall be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex for a minimum of one year and not more than ten years upon the first felony conviction, for a minimum of five years and not more than twenty years upon the second felony conviction, and for a mandatory fifty years upon the third felony conviction; (b) any other controlled substance classified in Schedule I, II, or III of section 28-4,117, shall, upon conviction thereof, be sentenced to a term of imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than five years in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, or a fine of not more than two thousand dollars, or to a term of imprisonment in the county jail of not more than six months, or be both so fined and imprisoned; or (c) a controlled substance classified in Schedule IV or V of section 28-4,117 shall, upon conviction thereof, be sentenced to a term of imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than two years in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, or a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or to a term of imprisonment in the county jail of not more than six months, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

(3) A person knowingly or intentionally possessing a controlled substance, except marijuana, unless such substance was obtained directly, or pursuant to a valid prescription or order from a practitioner, while acting in the course of his professional practice, or except as otherwise authorized by sections 28-459 and 28-4,115 to 28-4,142, shall, upon conviction thereof, be sentenced to a term of imprisonment not less than one year nor more than two years in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, or a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or to a term of imprisonment in the county jail of not more than six months, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

(4) (a) Any person knowingly and unlawfully possessing marijuana weighing more than one avoirdupois ounce but not more than one pound ~~or less~~ shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than five hundred dollars or shall be sentenced to a term of imprisonment in the county jail of not more than seven days, and shall be held separate and apart from other prisoners, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

(b) Any person knowingly and unlawfully possessing marijuana weighing one avoirdupois ounce or less shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than one hundred dollars.

(c) Whenever a person is arrested for a violation of subdivision (4) (b) of this section, the arresting officer shall prepare a written summons to appear in court. Such summons shall contain the name and address of the arrested person, the time and place where such person shall appear, and a place for such person to execute his or her written promise to appear at the time and place indicated on the summons. One copy of such summons shall be given to the person arrested, one copy shall be sent to the court where the arrested person is to appear, and such other copies as may be required by the law enforcement department or agency shall be sent to places designated by such law enforcement department or agency. The time specified in such notice to appear shall be at least five days after such arrest unless the person arrested shall demand an earlier hearing. The place specified in such notice to appear must be before a judge within the county in which the violation charged is alleged to have been committed and who has jurisdiction of such violation. The arrested person, in order to secure release from arrest, must give his written promise to appear in court by signing the summons prepared by the arresting officer. A warrant shall be issued for the arrest of any person who fails to appear in court. The summons may be waived by payment of the fine prior to hearing.

(5) Any person knowingly and unlawfully possessing marijuana weighing more than one pound shall, upon conviction thereof, be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of one year in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, or shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or shall be sentenced to a term of imprisonment in the county jail of not more than six months, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

(6) If a person is convicted of a violation under this section, as a part of the sentence he shall be required during the period of confinement to complete a confidential interview on drug abuse conducted by one of the community mental health facilities as provided by Chapter 71, article 50, or other licensed drug treatment facility for the purpose of obtaining information on the extent of drug misuse and, when appropriate, to discuss possible rehabilitation. If a person is placed on probation, as a condition of probation he shall satisfactorily attend and complete appropriate treatment and counseling on drug abuse conducted by one of the community mental health facilities as provided by Chapter 71, article 50, or other licensed drug treatment facility.

(7) It shall be unlawful for any person to knowingly or intentionally deliver, distribute, or dispense a substance that such person expressly or implicitly represents to be a controlled substance but which is not in fact such a substance. Any person violating the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a felony and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex for not less than one year nor more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 2. Any person convicted of the possession of one avoirdupois ounce or less of marijuana who is fined may elect in lieu of payment of such fine, to serve without pay for a sixteen-hour to thirty-two hour period, dependent upon the amount of the fine, picking up and disposing of litter in public areas and on roadsides.

Such service shall be under the supervision of the sheriff of the county in which the defendant was charged.

Sec. 3. That original section 28-4,125, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, is repealed.".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 50
March 23, 1977

Dear Senator Clark:

In a letter to this office you state that you are contemplating an amendment to the Technical Community College law but before you do so you would like to know if it is constitutional for a technical community college to admit a nonresident student at a rate that is less than compensatory. The same is hereinafter discussed.

Technical community colleges are educational institutions operating and offering programs pursuant to the provisions of Neb. Rev. Stat. Sections 79-2636 to 79-2662 (Supp. 1976). The seminal statute whereby the governing board of each technical community college area is granted the power, duty, and responsibility to establish tuition rates is Neb. Rev. Stat. Section 79-2644(16) (Supp. 1976). That portion of the statute cited states as follows:

> "To establish tuition rates for courses of instruction offered by each college within its area. Separate tuition rates shall be established for students who are nonresidents of the State of Nebraska;"

It is therefore clear that the applicable statutes do not authorize the board of a technical community college area to admit nonresidents for instruction at any such college at a rate that is less than compensatory. Nor would the Constitution of Nebraska permit the same. It is well settled law that:

> "[a] state cannot tax itself for the benefit of the people of another state. So the imposing a tax on one municipality or part of the state, for the purpose of benefiting another municipality or part, violates the rule as to uniformity. No taxing district can be taxed for the exclusive benefit of another district."

See, Peterson v. Hancock, 155 Neb. 801, 817, 54 N.W.2d 85 (1952). We are therefore of the opinion that it would not be constitutional for the board of a technical community college to admit nonresidents to courses of instruction at a rate that is less than compensatory.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 51
March 23, 1977

Dear Senator Maxey:

You have made inquiry about L.B. 441 of the Eighty-fifth Legislature, First Session (1977). As you know, that legislative bill, if enacted into operative law, would repeal Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-1705 (Supp. 1976). In connection therewith, you have asked five questions, each of which is hereinafter stated and discussed.

I.

"Would the repeal of 79-1705 eliminate the power of county superintendents, superintendents of the schools and designees of the Commissioner of Education or the School Board of Education to inspect private, denominational, and parochial schools to assess compliance with the provisions of 79-1701 to 79-1707 and the applicable general school laws of the State?"

It would eliminate the county superintendents. It would also eliminate the superintendents of public school districts and designees of local boards of education to assess compliance with the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 79-1701 to 79-1707 (Reissue 1971). Pursuant to the "applicable general school laws of the State" it might be necessary for the secretary of the school district or some person appointed by the governing board of the school district to inspect private, denominational and parochial schools located therein for the purpose of taking the school census. See, Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 43-646 and 43-646.01 (Supp. 1976); Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 77-1406 (Reissue 1971); Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-451 (Reissue 1971); Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-458 (Supp. 1976); and Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-1006 (Reissue 1971). It would not eliminate designees of the Commissioner of Education pursuant to the "applicable general school laws of the State." See, Neb.Rev.Stat. Section 79-328 (Supp. 1976).

II.

"If repeal of 79-1705 affects such power to inspect private, denominational, and parochial schools for compliance with the provisions of 79-1701 to 79-1707, what power to inspect would remain and in what person, persons, body or bodies would it lie?"

See answer to question I above.

III.

"Would the repeal of 79-1705 and its inspection provisions have the effect of eliminating the power to enforce the provisions of 79-1701 to 1701?"

In legal theory, no. In actual practice, however, there would be no governmental officer or agency with either the duty or the authority to inspect the private, denominational, or parochial schools and thereby enforce the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 79-1701 to 79-1707 (Reissue 1971), as amended. Consequently the repeal of Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 79-1705 (Supp. 1976) would at the very least minimize the enforcement of the statutes cited.

IV.

"Would the repeal of 79-1705 have the effect of placing private, denominational, and parochial schools beyond the enforcement of applicable general school laws of the state?"

Our response to the questions stated above are obviously also applicable here. In addition we call your attention to Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 79-328(5) (c) (Supp. 1976) which grants the State Board of Education the power and duty to establish rules and regulations for "approving" schools and for "the continued legal operation of all schools." The State Board of Education has adopted administrative rules pursuant thereto and staff members of the State Department of Education can and do inspect private, denominational, and parochial schools to assess compliance with said administrative rules.

V.

"Should LB 443 be enacted, would the repeal of 79-1705 eliminate the State Department of Education's power to inspect non-public programs for the education of the handicapped to determine whether such programs warranted approval or continued to meet the standards for approval established by the State Department of Education?"

No. This is convered (sic) by State Board of Education Rule 14-(11) and 14-(47).

Thursday, March 24, 1977

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord, let us never be afraid of a new idea or unreceptive to a new thought, lest we pull down the shades of our minds and exclude thy holy light. When confronted by mystery, help us to remember that we do not have to explain all we know or understand all we believe. But give us the grace of humility and the spirit of the open mind, the courage to persist in face of difficulties, and a steady confidence in the power of truth.
> Help us to learn something this day, that we shall be wise at its close and more ready for our eternal home when we are one step nearer. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

ROLL CALL

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Whelan presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Take resentment out of our thoughts and actions today, O Lord our God, even though things may occur which annoy or hurt us. . .even though we may feel ourselves being misjudged or overlooked or under-estimated.
> Too often our speech and actions come as the release of pent-up emotions which burst out uncontrolled - and how can we be right in our actions when we are not right in our attitudes? Prove to us the foolishness of resentment, and the wisdom of forgiveness. Help us to understand that if we can be proud of our innermost motives and attitudes, we will have no reason to be ashamed of the record of this Legislature. Amen.

"(4) Any new rules and regulations adopted by the district in accordance with this section shall recognize the necessity of properly managed return flows.".

2. Insert two new sections as follows:

"Sec. 2. That section 46-666, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

46-666. (1) The district shall by order, after a hearing conducted pursuant to section 46-665, the record of which shall include the testimony of a representative of the Conservation and Survey Division of the University of Nebraska and the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, adopt one or more of the following controls, which shall be subject to approval by the director:

(a) It may determine the permissible total withdrawal of ground water in the designated control area for each day, month, or year, and allocate such withdrawal among the ground water users within the area;

(b) It may adopt and enforce a system of rotation for use of ground water in the control area;

(c) It may adopt well-spacing requirements more restrictive than those found in Chapter 46, article 6; and

(d) It may adopt such other reasonable regulations as are necessary to carry out the intent of this act.

(2) If because of varying hydrologic or geologic conditions existing within the control area, the uniform application throughout such area of one or more controls would fail to carry out the intent of this act in a reasonably effective and equitable manner, the controls adopted by the district pursuant to subsection (1) of this section may contain different provisions for different portions of the control area. Any differences in such provisions shall recognize and be directed toward such varying conditions. The provisions of all controls shall be uniform for all portions of the control area which have substantially similar hydrologic and geologic conditions.

~~(2)~~ (3) If the district determines, following a public hearing conducted pursuant to section 46-665, that depletion of the ground water supply in the control area or any portion thereof is so excessive that the public interest cannot be protected solely through implementation of reasonable controls adopted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, it may, with the approval of the director, close the control area or portion thereof to the issuance of any additional permits for a period of one calendar year. Such areas may be further closed thereafter by a similar procedure for additional one-year periods. Any such area may be reopened at any time the district shall determine that conditions warrant new permits, at which time the director shall consider all previously submitted applications for permits in the order in which they were received.

~~(3)~~ (4) The district shall cause a copy of each order adopted pursuant to this section to be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in a local newspaper published or of general circulation in the area involved, the last publication of which shall be not less than ten days prior to the date set for the effective date of such order.

~~(4)~~ (5) Whenever a control area, designated pursuant to section 46-658, encompasses portions of two or more districts, the responsibilities and authorities delegated in this section and section 46-665 shall be exercised jointly and uniformly by agreement of the respective boards of directors of all districts so affected.

~~(5)~~ (6) If, at the end of one year following a hearing conducted pursuant to section 46-665, the district or districts conducting such hearing have not adopted a specific control or controls pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the power to specify such controls shall vest in the director who shall, within ninety days thereafter, adopt by rule and regulation such control or controls as he shall deem necessary for carrying out the intent of this act. Subject to section 46-667, the enforcement of controls adopted pursuant to this section shall be the responsibility of the district or districts involved.

~~(6)~~ (7) If the power to adopt a control or controls shall be vested in the director, he shall be provided with a copy of all information, testimony, and data available to the district or districts as a result of the public hearing for the adoption of a control or controls. At his discretion, the director may conduct one or more additional public hearings prior to making his determination or selection of controls. Notice of any such additional hearings shall be given in the manner provided in section 46-658.

Sec. 3. (1) In order to conserve surface water supplies and to prevent the inefficient or improper runoff of surface water, after the effective date of this act, each person who uses surface water irrigation in the state shall take action to control or prevent the runoff of water used in such irrigation.

(2) Within ninety days after the effective date of this act, each natural resources district shall adopt, following public hearing, notice of which shall be given in the manner provided in section 46-658, rules and regulations necessary to prohibit surface runoff of water derived from surface water irrigation. Such rules and regulations shall prescribe (a) standards and criteria delineating what constitutes the inefficient or improper runoff of surface water used in irrigation, (b) procedures to prevent, control, and abate such runoff, (c) measures for the construction, modification, extension, or operation of remedial measures to prevent, control, or abate runoff of surface water used in irrigation, and (d) procedures for the enforcement of this section.

(3) Each district may issue cease and desist orders to enforce any of the provisions of this section or rules and regulations issued pursuant to this section.".

3. On page 3, line 1, strike "section 46-664", and insert "sections 46-664 and 46-666"; and in line 2, strike "is" and insert "are".

4. Renumber original section 2 as section 4.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS
Government, Military and Veterans Affairs

LEGISLATIVE BILL 44. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 44:

1. Strike original sections 1 to 10 and insert the following:

"Section 1. That section 84-901, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

84-901. As used in sections 84-901 to 84-916:

(1) Agency ~~means~~ shall mean each board, commission, department, officer, division, or other administrative office or unit of the state government authorized by law to make rules, except the Adjutant General's office as provided in Chapter 55, the courts, including the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court, the Court of Industrial Relations, and the Legislature;

(2) Rule ~~means~~ shall mean any rule, regulation, or standard issued by an agency, including the amendment or repeal thereof whether with or without prior hearing and designed to implement, interpret, or make specific the law enforced or administered by it or governing its organization or procedure but not including regulations concerning the internal management of the agency not affecting priviate rights, private interests, or procedures available to the public, and not including permits, certificates of public convenience and necessity, franchises, rate orders, and rate tariffs, and any rules of interpretation thereof, and for the purpose of this act every rule which shall prescribe a penalty shall be presumed to have general applicability or to affect private rights and interests; ~~and~~

(3) Contested case ~~means~~ shall mean a proceeding before an agency in which the legal rights, duties, or privileges of specific parties are required by law or constitutional right to be determined after an agency hearing; and.

(4) Committee shall mean the Legislature's Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee, which shall be a standing committee.

Sec. 2. (1) There is hereby created and established the Legislature's standing committee to be known as the Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee, to be composed of seven members of the Legislature, who shall be nominated and elected, as members and officers thereof, in the same manner as other standing committees of the Legislature.

(2) The committee shall meet (a) at the call of the chairperson, (b) upon a call signed by any two members of the committee, or (c) upon a call signed by any five members of the Legislature.

Sec. 3. (1) The committee shall promote the adoption and promulgation of adequate and proper rules and regulations by agencies, and an understanding upon the part of the public respecting such rules and regulations.

(2) In carrying out its powers and duties under this act, the committee shall:

(a) Determine whether the administration of programs, created by the Legislature, are consistent with legislative intent;

(b) Inquire and determine whether legislation which created a particular program is meeting the needs that existed at the time of enactment;

(c) Recommend new legislation to correct deficiencies in law disclosed by program evaluation; and

(d) Review agency operations to determine if they are efficient, honest, and responsive to the needs of the people of this state.

Sec. 4. (1) The powers and duties conferred upon the Legislature's Committee on Administrative Agency Rules and Regulations shall be conferred upon the Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee on January 4, 1978. On January 4, 1978, the Legislature's Committee on Administrative Agency Rules and Regulations shall be terminated and the Administrative Rules and Regulations Review Committee shall have its membership filled and shall begin its duties.

(2) The committee shall have the authority to receive and investigate complaints and to hold public hearings on such complaints with respect to rules and regulations if it considers such complaints meritorious and worthy of attention. The committee may, on the basis of testimony and other evidence received at such public hearings, and upon an affirmative vote of a majority of its members, recommend to the respective agency that it either amend the rule complained of to conform to the needs of the people affected by such rule, or repeal the rule as not being consistent with legislative intent or responsive to the issue addressed by the enabling legislation.

Sec. 5. If an agency shall not have amended or repealed a rule or regulation complained of within thirty days after such recommendation of the committee, pursuant to section 4 of this act, and after notice and hearing, pursuant to section 84-907, the committee may, upon an affirmative vote of at least five members, suspend such rule or regulation.

Sec. 6. If any rule or regulation is suspended, the committee shall place before the Legislature, at the next regular session or at the next special session upon the consent of the Governor, a bill to repeal such suspended rule or regulation. Such legislative bill shall contain precisely and exclusively the subject matter or, whenever practicable, the text of the suspended rule or regulation and shall not be amendable.

Sec. 7. If such legislative bill is defeated or fails in enactment in any other manner, the rule or regulation shall stand and the committee shall not suspend it for at least twelve calendar months. If such legislative bill is enacted into law, the rule or regulation shall be repealed and shall not be adopted again unless a properly enacted law specifically authorizes the adoption of such rule or regulation.

Sec. 8. That section 84-902, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

84-902. (1) Each agency shall file with the Revisor of Regulations, no sooner than June 30, 1975, nor later than August 31, 1975, two certified copies of the rules in force and effect for such agency on that date. Thereafter, each agency shall file annually with the Revisor of Regulations two certified copies of any amendments or modifications to the rules in force and effect for such agency no later than June 30 of each year. The Revisor of Regulations shall place and keep one of the certified copies in a permanent file and shall file the remaining certified copy as a library copy to be used by the Legislature.

(2) Each agency shall file forthwith in the office of the Secretary of State a certified copy of the rules in force and effect in such agency on August 10, 1945. A certified copy of any rule adopted after August 10, 1945 shall likewise be so filed. The Secretary of State shall keep a permanent file of all such rules, which shall be open to public inspection during regular business hours of his office. The Secretary of State, in order to maintain and keep such files current, shall be empowered to require new and amended rules to be filed as complete file pages and to remove all superseded pages to a separate file. Each agency shall file with the Secretary of State, no sooner than June 30, 1975, nor later than August 31, 1975, a certified copy of the rules in force and effect for such agency on that date. Each agency shall annually file with the Secretary of State a certified copy of any amendments or modifications to rules in force and effect for such agency no later than June 30 of each year.

(3) Rules filed with the Revisor of Regulations and the Secretary of State pursuant to this section shall be filed in the manner and form prescribed by the Revisor of Regulations. The Revisor of Regulations shall, no later than January 1, 1975, issue instructions to all state agencies setting forth the format to be followed by all agencies in submitting regulations to the Revisor of Regulations and the Secretary of State. Such instructions shall provide for a uniform page size, a generally uniform and clear indexing system, and annotations including designation of enabling legislation and court or agency decisions interpreting the particular rule or regulation. For good cause shown, the Revisor of Regulations, with the consent of the chairman of the ~~Legislature's Committee on~~ Administrative ~~Agency~~ Rules and Regulations Review Committee ~~established under section 84-908,~~ may grant exceptions to the uniform page size requirement and the general indexing instructions for any agency.

(4) Prior to June 30, 1975, each agency shall undertake a complete and thorough review of rules in force and effect for such agency. Regulations that are outdated, inadequate, and repetitions shall be deleted or modified and all of the rules shall be recodified in conformity with instructions issued by the Revisor of Regulations. All modifications to agency rules shall be made in conformity with section 84-907 far enough in advance of the filing deadline to insure that a final revised copy of the agency rules may be certified and filed with both the Revisor of Regulations and the Secretary of State by the filing deadline.

(5) The Clerk of the Legislature shall deliver to the Revisor of Regulations all records and materials pertaining to administrative rules and regulations on file in the clerk's office.

Sec. 9. That section 84-904, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

84-904. (1) The Revisor of Regulations shall file with the ~~Legislature's Committee on~~ Administrative ~~Agency~~ Rules and Regulations Review Committee, ~~established under section 84-908,~~ no sooner that June 30, 1975, nor later than August 31, 1975, and thereafter annually no later than January 1 a certified copy of the rules in force and effect for each agency on that date.

(2) The ~~Legislature's Committee on~~ Administrative ~~Agency~~ Rules and Regulations Review Committee shall review such agency rules and regulations and shall have the power to exercise its authority and procedures pursuant to sections 3 to 7 of this act and may recommend to the Legislature that the original enabling legislation serving as authority for promulgation of such ruls be repealed, changed, altered, amended, or modified in such manner as it deems advisable. Any agency rule or regulation promulgated under a statutory grant of authority shall become null and void upon the effective date of any statute which repeals, changes, alters, amends, or modifies such statutory grant of authority.

Sec. 10. That section 84-908, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

84-908. ~~No~~ Except as otherwise provided in sections 3 to 7 of this act, no adoption, amendment, or repeal of any rule shall become effective until the same shall have been approved by the Governor and filed with the Revisor of Regulations after a hearing has been set on such rule pursuant to section 84-907. ~~After such hearing, any~~ Any rule properly adopted by any agency shall be filed with the Revisor of Regulations and by that office referred to ~~a committee of nine members of the Legislature to be known as~~ the ~~Legislature's Committee on~~ Administrative Agency Rules and Regulations Review Committee. ~~which is hereby created. At the commencement of each regular session in odd-numbered years the Legislature shall elect to the committee three members from each of the three congressional districts as such districts are constituted on August 24, 1975. Nominations for membership on such committee shall be made by the caucus for each congressional district. The committee shall organize by selecting a chairman and such officer or officers as it may deem necessary. Any vacancy on such committee occasioned by the fact that any~~

~~member thereof is not a member of the next session of the Legislature shall be filled by appointment of the Executive Board from among members of the Legislature.~~

Sec. 11. That section 84-908.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

84-908.01. (1) The committee ~~created by section 84-908~~ shall maintain a continuous study to evaluate the rules adopted by agencies, shall make recommendations to aid public understanding of rules and regulations, and shall make an annual report to the Legislature and the Governor of its activities during the past year, and shall include therein its recommendations for legislative action pursuant to sections 3 to 7 of this act and section 84-904., ~~at the beginning of each session of the Legislature.~~

(2) The committee may meet and employ such personnel as may be necessary to perform its duties.

Sec. 12. This act shall become operative on January 4, 1978.

Sec. 13. That original sections 84-901, 84-902, 84-904, 84-908, and 84-908.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, are repealed.".

AMENDMENTS TO LB 283

1. Insert a new section to read as follows:

"Section 1. That section 25-1601, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

25-1601. (1) All citizens of the United States residing in any of the counties of this state and having the qualifications of electors in such counties, who are over the age of ~~twenty-one~~ eighteen years and under the age of seventy years and who are intelligent, of fair character, of approved integrity, well informed, able to read, write, and understand the English language, of sound mind and discretion, and free from all disqualifications herein set forth and from all other legal exceptions, are and shall be competent persons to serve on all grand and petit juries in their respective counties. Persons disqualified to serve as either grand or petit jurors are: Judges of any court, clerks of the Supreme or district courts, sheriffs, jailers, persons who have served either as petit or grand jurors in any court of record within two years previous to the time their names are drawn as jurors, either as petit or grand jurors, persons, or the wife or husband of any such person, who are parties to suits pending in the district court of the county of his, her, or their then residence for trial at that jury panel, persons who have been convicted of a criminal offense punishable by imprisonment in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, and persons who are subject to liability for the commission of any offense which by special provision of law does and shall disqualify them. Persons who are husband and wife shall not be jurors on the same panel.

(2) Any persons belonging to any of the following classes, who shall make such request to the court, shall be exempt from serving on grand and petit juries: (a) Coroners; (b) ministers of the gospel; (c) county commissioners or supervisors; (d) practicing attorneys; (e) practicing physicians; (f) practicing dentists; (g) druggists; (h) postmasters; (i) carriers of the United States mail; (j) licensed embalmers; (k) members of a fire department or company of any city or village or any member of any such company who has retired after ten years or more of service; (l) members of the national or state guard; (m) clerks of any court other than Supreme or district courts; (n) persons subject to a bodily infirmity amounting to a disability; (o) members of the Legislature during the term for which elected; and (p) public and parochial school teachers during the term of school.

Nothing in this section set forth shall be deemed to prohibit the district court or any judge thereof, from exercising, in its or his sound discretion, the power of excusing any grand or petit juror or any person summoned for grand or petit jury service, for any disclosed reason or cause which is deemed good and sufficient by such court or judge; Provided, in districts having more than one judge of the district court, the court may by rule or order assign or delegate to the presiding judge or any one or more judges the sole authority to grant such excuses.".

Mr. DeCamp asked unanimous consent to withdraw his pending amendment found in the Journal on page 574. No objections. So ordered.

Mr. Venditte renewed his pending amendment found in the Journal on page 561.

The Venditte amendment was adopted with 26 ayes, 3 nays, 17 present and not voting, and 3 excused and not voting.

Mr. Goodrich moved to indefinitely postpone.

Mr. Goodrich asked unanimous consent to withdraw his motion to indefinitely postpone. No objections. So ordered.

Messrs. DeCamp and Simon offered the following amendment:

AMENDMENTS TO LB 182

1. Strike sections 1 to 3 and insert new sections as follows:

"Section 1. The Legislature finds that the use of balefill sites and bales refuse as a method of waste disposal is important to all Nebraskans. The purpose of this act is to allow and control the use of baled refuse and balefill sites for the protection of public health and the environment.

Sec. 2. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Baled refuse shall mean garbage, rubbish, and other discarded solid or semisolid materials which are compacted by a compacting machine for the purpose of being disposed of at a balefill sight; and

(2) Balefill disposal site shall mean dumps, dump sites, landfills, landfill sites, transfer stations, and waste compactor stations.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this act shall be interpreted as prohibiting the use of dirt, stone, brick, or some inorganic material for landfill, landscaping, evacuation, or grading.

Sec. 4. City shall mean any city of the metropolitan, primary and first class.

Sec. 5. After the effective date of this act, the following criteria shall be analyzed and considered prior to the construction and establishment of any balefill disposal site.

(1) Current and projected use of water resources in the potential zone of influence of the balefill disposal site;

(2) Groundwater elevation and proposed separation between the lowest point of the lowest cell and the predicted maximum water table elevation;

(3) Potential interrelationship of the balefill disposal site, local aquifers, and surface waters based on historical records or other sources of information;

(4) Background and initial quality of water resources in the potential zone of influence of the balefill disposal site;

(5) Proposed location and design of observation wells, sampling stations, and testing program planned;

(6) Description of soil and bedrock to a depth adequate to allow evaluation of the water quality protection provided by the soil and bedrock;

(7) Provisions for surface water runoff control to minimize infiltration and erosion of cover material.

On-site drainage structures and channels should be designed for at least twenty-year rainfall frequency; and

(8) Potential of leachate generation and proposed control systems, where necessary, for the protection of ground and surface water resources. Where a leachate treatment system is designed to have a discharge to the waters of this state, the plans for the leachate treatment system must be submitted to the Department of Environmental Control for review and approval. Any required discharge permits must be obtained from the Department of Environmental Control. An operation and maintenance program including the administration and financing of the leachate treatment system during and following the balefill disposal operation shall be provided to the Department of Environmental Control.

Sec. 6. A site shall be located at least one thousand five hundred feet from any public or domestic water supply or well, any public water supply water intake from a body of static water, or one mile upstream or one thousand feet downstream from a river intake.

Sec. 7. A balefill disposal site shall be located at least one quarter mile from any well in existence at the time of application with the governing body of the county or city for the construction of such facility, which well draws, for human or livestock consumption, from an acquirer that underlies the balefill disposal site.

Sec. 8. (1) Surface water courses and runoff shall be diverted from the balefill disposal site, especially from the working face, by devises such as trenches, conduits, and proper grading. The balefill disposal site shall be constructed and graded so as to promote rapid surface water runoff without excessive erosion. Regrading shall be done as required during construction and after completion to avoid ponding of precipitation and to maintain cover material integrity.

(2) Leachate collection and treatment systems are to be used where necessary to protect ground and surface water resources. This shall apply for as long a period as necessary during and following the active operation.

(3) Ground or surface water shall not be allowed to come in contact with solid wastes so as to impair the water's use.

Sec. 9. A balefill disposal site shall be located at least one thousand feet from the nearest edge of the right-of-way of any state, interstate, or federal highway at the time of commencment of construction of the facility.

Sec. 10. The design, construction, and operation of the balefill disposal site shall minimize environmental hazards and shall conform to applicable ambient air quality and source control regulations.

Sec. 11. The operation of a balefill disposal site shall include an effective dust control program.

Sec. 12. The operation of a balefill disposal site shall include effective noise control and odor control programs.

Sec. 13. The operation of a balefill disposal site shall include programs and plans for the control of rodents. Such programs and plans shall be implemented when necessary to control rodents.

Sec. 14. Open burning of solid waste shall be prohibited unless a variance or exception is obtained from the Department of Environmental Control permitting the open burning of tree trunks, tree limbs, vegetation, and untreated waste lumber. In areas operating under exemption certificates from the Department of Environmental Control, approval shall be obtained from the local pollution control agency. The operating procedures and location for such open burning practices must be submitted to the Department of Environmental Control for review and written approval.

Sec. 15. Decomposition gases generated within the balefill disposal site shall be controlled on-site, as necessary, to avoid posing a hazard to occupants of adjacent property.

Sec. 16. Plans for the construction of a balefill site shall assess the need for gas control and indicate the location and design of any vents, barriers, or other control measures to be provided.

Sec. 17. (1) Decomposition gases shall not be allowed to migrate laterally from the balefill disposal site to endanger occupants of adjacent properties. They shall be vented to the atmosphere directly through the cover material, cut-off trenches, or ventilation systems in such a way that they do not accumulate in explosive or toxic concentrations, especially within structures.

(2) Decomposition gases shall not be allowed to concentrate in a manner that will pose an explosion or toxicity hazard.

Sec. 18. The balefill disposal site shall be designed and operated at all times in an aesthetically acceptable manner.

Sec. 19. (1) Portable litter fences or other devices shall be used in the immediate vicinity of the working face and at other appropriate locations to control blowing litter. At the end of each operating day, or more often as required, litter shall be removed from the fences and the grounds and incorporated into the area being used. Alternatively, the litter may be containerized for disposal on the next operating day.

(2) Wastes that are easily moved by wind shall be covered, as necessary, to prevent their becoming airborne and scattered.

(3) On-site vegetation should be cleared only as necessary. Natural windbreaks, such as green belts, should be maintained where they will improve the appearance and operation of the balefill disposal site.

(4) Salvage operations shall be conducted in such a manner as to not detract from the appearance of the balefill disposal site. Salvaged materials shall be removed from the balefill disposal site daily or stored in aesthetically acceptable containers or enclosures.

Sec. 20. Plans for the construction of a balefill disposal site shall include specifications as to surface grades and side slopes needed to promote maximum runoff, without excessive erosion, to minimize infiltration. Final side slopes shall not exceed thirty-three and one third per cent.

Sec. 21. In the event the Director of the Department of Environmental Control determines that any provision of this act or any standard, rule, regulation, final order or approved plan promulgated pursuant thereto is being, was, or is in imminent danger of being violated, the director may institute a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction for injunctive relief to prevent any such violation or further violation and for the assessment of a penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, the violation occurred and continues to occur, or both, as the court deems proper. Suit can be brought in any county where the defendant's principal place of business is located or where the violation occurred.

Sec. 22. In addition to the procedures provided by section 21 of this act, an individual may bring an action for injunctive relief and damages against the operation of a balefill disposal site.

Sec. 23. Any balefill disposal site in operation as of the effective date of this act which does not comply with the provisions of this act shall cease operations until such facility complies with such provisions.

Sec. 24. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.".

Mr. Goodrich offered the following amendment to the DeCamp-Simon amendment:

Amendments to White Copy Amendments to LB 182

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 42.

Introduced by Business and Labor Committee: Maresh, 32nd District, Chairman; F. Lewis, 45th District; Brennan, 9th District; Fitzgerald, 14th District.

WHEREAS, agreement has been reached on a contract between the Department of Labor and Locals 35 and 58, Council 32 of the American Federation of State, County & Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, concerning many aspects of employment with a department; and

WHEREAS, section 48-837, Reissued Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, requires legislative approval of such contract.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

That the Legislature approves such contract.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 43.

Introduced by Cope, 36th District.

WHEREAS, cancer is the common foe of all mankind and will strike 690,000 Americans this year, 5,300 of which will be Nebraskans; and

WHEREAS, many forms of cancer are curable if detected early and treated properly; and

WHEREAS, one of three who now get cancer is being cured but at least half of those who get cancer could and should be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment; and

WHEREAS, the American Cancer Society, in addition to support of vital research, alerts the public to cancer's warning signals, and conducts other programs of public and professional education; and

WHEREAS, many cancers can be prevented, such as lung cancer, mainly caused by cigarette smoking, and most skin cancers, caused by frequent exposure to direct sunlight; and

WHEREAS, the medical profession is kept informed by the American Cancer Society of the latest advances in the treatment of cancer and nurses are informed how best to care for cancer patients; and

WHEREAS, the American Cancer Society provides useful and compassionate aid to women who have had breast surgery, through its Reach to Recovery program, and conducts other rehabilitation programs seeking to improve the quality of survival; and

WHEREAS, April is Cancer Control Month, by Presidential Proclamation and Congressional Resolution; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of the State of Nebraska and the Nebraska State Legislature have a vested interest in continuing their support of the fight against cancer.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the month of April be declared Cancer Control Month.

2. That all citizens of the State of Nebraska be urged to support the educational and fund-raising efforts of the American Cancer Society as part of Cancer Control Month in April.

Laid over.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Print Amendment to LB 100

Mr. R. Lewis asked unanimous consent to print the following amendments to LB 100 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

Amendments to LB 100

1. Strike the original sections and insert the following:

"Section 1. It is hereby declared to be the public policy of this state that existing retail service area boundaries established in accordance with Chapter 70, article 10, shall remain fixed and stable until January 1, 1980.

Sec. 2. That section 70-1008, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

70-1008. In the absence of an agreement between the suppliers affected and notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions (1) to (5) of section 70-1007:

(1) In the zoning area surrounding any municipality and outside the corporate limits thereof, if such municipality operates a retail system, it shall have the right to serve such zoning area at retail except as to such customers as are presently served by other suppliers. Such a municipality may acquire the facilities of other suppliers in such zoning area by negotiation.

(2) In determining the service area of a municipally-owned electric system, there shall be included, as a maximum, the corporate area of the municipality, the zoning area outside the corporate limits of such municipality, and the area beyond the zoning area which is presently being served by such municipality, including not more than the area one half mile on each side of the line presently used by such municipality to serve its existing customers, except for customers presently served by other suppliers. When any new customer outside the corporate limits of any municipality and outside the zoning limits surrounding such municipality locates closer to electric lines owned by other suppliers in the municipal service area as provided for in this section, in case of disagreement, the question of which supplier shall serve such new customer shall be submitted to the Nebraska Power Review Board for determination under the standards set forth in section 70-1007.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, until January 1, 1980, the Nebraska Power Review Board shall not have authority to modify retail service areas and no supplier of electricity shall offer or provide electric service to additional ultimate users outside of the presently existing service area of such supplier, except (a) suppliers shall have authority by express written agreement and waiver to change service areas or customers to be served with the approval of the Nebraska Power Review Board, and (b) a municipality shall be entitled, with approval of the board, to extension of service area to include areas within the corporate limits of a municipality, which have actually in place, extended and available to those desiring such service, sewer service, water service, and police and fire protection.

Sec. 3. That section 70-1009, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

70-1009. If two or more suppliers, one of which is municipally owned, serve the same municipality at retail, the municipally-owned supplier shall have first preference to acquire the service area, customers, and facilities of any other supplier providing service at retail within such part of the zoning area surrounding such municipality as becomes annexed to such municipality, except that until January 1, 1980, any revision of service area boundaries or customers to be served shall be subject to subsection (3) of section 70-1008.

Sec. 4. That section 70-1010, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

70-1010. The board shall have authority upon application by a supplier at any time to modify service areas or customers to be served as previously established. The same procedures as to notice, hearing, and decision shall be followed as in the case of an original application. Suppliers shall have authority by agreement to change service areas or customers to be served with the approval of the board. This section shall not apply to agreements referred to in subsection (2) of section 70-1002, except that until January 1, 1980, any revision of service area boundaries or customers to be served shall be subject to subsection (3) of section 70-1008.

Sec. 5. That section 70-1011, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

70-1011. Except by agreement of the suppliers involved, no supplier shall offer electric service to additional ultimate users outside its service area or construct a new electric line or extend an existing line into the service area of another supplier for the purpose of furnishing service to ultimate users therein without first applying to the board and receiving approval thereof, after due notice and hearing under rules and regulations of the board. Such approval shall be granted only if the board finds that the customer or customers proposed to be served cannot or will not be furnished adequate electric service by the supplier in whose service area the customer is located, or that the provision thereof by such supplier would involve wasteful and unwarranted duplication of facilities. This section shall not apply to agreements referred to in subsection (2) of section 70-1002, except that until January 1, 1980, any revision of service area boundaries or customers to be served shall be subject to subsection (3) of section 70-1008.

Sec. 6. That original sections 70-1008, 70-1009, 70-1010, and 70-1011, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.

Sec. 7. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and take effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.".

MOTION—Introduce Bill

Mr. DeCamp moved the introduction of a new bill by the Committee on Banking, Commerce, and Insurance. (Req. No. 834).

The motion prevailed with 31 ayes, 0 nays, and 18 not voting.

BILL ON FINAL READING

The following bill was read for the first time by title:

LEGISLATIVE BILL 524. By Banking, Commerce, and Insurance Committee: DeCamp, 40th District, Chairman; Mills, 44th District; Merz, 1st District; Swigart, 8th District; Schmit, 23rd District; Duis, 39th District; Murphy, 17th District.

A BILL FOR AN ACT relating to monopolies and unlawful combinations; to limit the bringing of certain actions; and to state legislative policy.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Schmit announced an executive session of the Agriculture and Environment Committee at 9:45 a.m., Monday, March 28, 1977.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 44.

Introduced by Chambers, 11th District.

WHEREAS, the laws of Nebraska specify limitations on actions which are time limits beyond which civil actions may not be taken against offending parties; and

WHEREAS, such statutes of limitation are intended as a safeguard of our legal system which precludes the working of inequities which could result from pressing claims long after they first develop; and

WHEREAS, these statutes on the limitations on actions have been the object of many arbitrary and piecemeal changes without thorough consideration of the total effect such changes may have on the system of justice the limitations on actions are intended to serve.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Judiciary Committee conduct an interim study of all civil statutes concerning limitations on actions in an effort to determine the current reasonableness and acceptability of each.

2. That the committee make a report of its findings together with any recommendations for comprehensive legislative action to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

MOTION–Return LB 355 to Select File

Mr. R. Lewis moved to return LB 355 to Select File for the following specific amendment:

AMENDMENTS TO LB 355

1. Insert a new section 1 to read as follows:

"Section 1. That section 77-2715, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

77-2715. (1) A tax is hereby imposed for each taxable year on the entire income of every resident individual of this state and on the income of every nonresident individual of this state which is derived from sources within this state. The tax shall be a flat percentage of, for each resident individual, the taxpayer's adjusted federal income tax liability for the taxable year, and for each nonresident individual, the taxpayer's adjusted federal income tax liability for the taxable year which is attributable to income derived from sources within this state.

The taxpayer's adjusted federal income tax liability shall be the amount of federal income tax, as determined under Subtitle A, Chapter I, subchapter A, Parts I, V, and VI of the Internal Revenue Code, for which the taxpayer would have been liable if such taxpayer had paid federal income tax based on federal taxable income as adjusted by the modifications provided in section 77-2716 without any allowance for credits against such tax permitted under the Internal Revenue Code.

The adjusted federal income tax liability of each nonresident individual taxpayer which is attributable to income derived from sources within this state shall be determined by multiplying his adjusted federal income tax liability by a fraction, the numerator of which is his taxable income derived from sources within this state as determined by section 77-2733, and the denominator of which is his total federal taxable income, after first subtracting from each the amounts provided in subsection (1) of section 77-2716; Provided, that if the above determination attributes more or less federal income tax than is reasonably attributable to income derived from sources within this state, the taxpayer may petition for, of the Tax Commissioner may require, the employment of any other method to attribute an amount of federal income tax which is reasonable and equitable in the circumstances.

(2) (a) A resident of this state shall mean an individual who is domiciled in Nebraska or who maintains a permanent place of abode in this state and spends in the aggregate more than six months of the taxable year in this state; ~~and~~

(b) A nonresident shall mean an individual who is not a resident of this state; and~~.~~

(c) An individual serving on active duty in the armed forces of the United States who is outside the State of Nebraska for more than one taxable year shall be considered to be a nonresident of Nebraska for purposes of the state income tax under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) (a) There shall also be allowed to resident individuals as a credit against the tax imposed by sections 77-2714 to 77-27,135, a food sales tax credit equal to sixteen dollars multiplied by the number of allowable personal exemptions claimed for individuals who are residents, exclusive of the extra exemptions allowable for age or blindness. A refund shall be allowed to the extent that the food sales tax credit exceeds the income tax payable by the resident individual for the taxable year but no refund shall be made in any amount less than two dollars.

(b) No individual who may be claimed as a personal exemption on another individual's return shall be entitled to a food sales tax credit or refund for himself. If a food sales tax credit or refund is claimed on more than one return for the same individual, the Tax Commissioner is authorized to determine the individual entitled to claim the credit or refund provided herein.

(c) Any individual, other than a person who for more than six months of the taxable year is a resident patient or inmate of a public institution or an organization exempt from tax as a charitable institution, who maintains a permanent place of abode within this state, spending in the aggregate more than six months of the taxable year within this state, shall be conclusively presumed to have paid or paid with respect to such personal exemptions retail sales and use taxes imposed by this state equal to the maximum food sales tax credit allowable.

(d) The credits or refunds for sales taxes allowed by this subsection shall be claimed on income tax returns or in the case of an individual not having tax liability in this state on such forms or claims for refunds as the Tax Commissioner shall prescribe.

(4) Credits to minors, including any child whose parent or guardian is a recipient of aid to dependent children, shall be claimed by the parent or guardian.".

2. On page 3, line 17 after "1943," insert "and section 77-2715, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976,"; and in line 17 strike "is" and insert "are".

3. Renumber original sections 1 and 2 as sections 2 and 3 repectively.

Motion pending.

MOTION—Return LB 365 to Select File

Mr. Barnett moved to return LB 365 to Select File for the following specific amendment:

Amendment to LB 365 Final Reading

1. Insert a new section 5 to read as follows:

"Sec. 5. The reimbursement of expenses before July 1, 1976, authorized by this act, are hereby ratified and shall not be subject to attack for the sole reason that they were not authorized at the time. All expenses authorized by this act which were incurred by a member of any state commission, council, committee, or board after July 1, 1976, for which reimbursement has not been made, shall be paid to such member pursuant to this act.".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 52
March 24, 1977

Dear Senator Warner:

In reply to your inquiry concerning the proposed amendment to L.B. 460, which would create a cash fund out of which the Board of Educational Lands and Funds would pay the cost of administering school lands, this is to advise that the Constitution specifically authorizes the use of funds for such purposes. Article VII, section 9b. of the Constitution provides:

> "Sec. 9. The following funds shall be exclusively used for the support and maintenance of the common schools in each school district in the state as the Legislature shall provide:
> " . . . .
> "b. The income from the unsold school lands, except that costs of administration shall be deducted from the income before it is so applied;

As you can see, the Legislature also has the authority to provide the manner in which the funds shall be used.

REPORT OF NEBRASKA CAPITOL ENVIRONS ADVISORY PLANNING COMMITTEE

March 22, 1977

Senator Roland A. Luedtke, Speaker
Eighty-Fifth Legislature
State of Nebraska
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Senator Luedtke,

As Chairman of the Capitol Environs Advisory Planning Committee I recently discovered that the Committee had not complied with one of the requirements the Eighty-Fourth Legislature had set out in LB 103 when they established the Committee. This stipulation charged the group to "undertake a comprehensive study of the feasibility and need for action to promote the intent of this resolution" and to request that this report be forwarded to the Legislature on or before 1 January 1977. We were not able to respond on that date. Our inability to respond on schedule was discussed with the Committee at their last meeting. Following this discussion the Chairman was authorized to write you and indicate that the Committee is active, to suggest that the task given to the Committee may have been greater than the time allocated, to report on certain accomplishments and to share with you our plans for further meeting the intent of the Resolution.

The Committee believes that it's accomplishments during the past year have been associated with the following matters:

1. Apartment Building, 17th and J Streets, Lincoln.
The activity of the Committee in this matter was in support of Mr. Marvin Kivett, in his role as State Historic Preservation Officer, (and a member of the Committee) in objecting to both the construction of the building on the grounds that it violated the Capitol Environs area and that the Federal review procedure, established for structures located in the area of properties on the National Register, had been ignored. It was the contention of the Committee that had the established review procedure been followed the building in its present form would not have been built.

2. Building height restriction in the Capitol Environs Area.
Following the Committee's experience with the Apartment Building at 17th and J Streets, the Committee approached the City Council of Lincoln with the request that the Council establish a temporary restriction on building heights in an established area termed the Capitol Environs. The Council acted favorably on this proposal and this restriction is in effect today. At a later time Senator Bereuter placed a similiar (sic) proposal (LB 172) before the Eighty-Fifth Legislature which also acted favorably on this matter.

3. Development of the Capitol grounds and immediate adjacent areas.
It was the Committee's opinion that further development of the grounds and adjacent areas to the Capitol Building would benefit the community and enhance the Building. This position has been forwarded to Governor. The Capitol Building Commission, the Building Division of D.A.S. and the Legislature's Appropriations Committee. The Committee has joined with others to promote the idea that the first step in a project of this type is the development of a plan and has urged State Government to appropriate the necessary funds for such an activity.

4. Comprehensive Study of the Capitol and Environs.
In addition to concern about the height of buildings and the general development of the Capitol area including landscape, the Committee desires to study a number of additional matters which affect the Capitol Building. These are the general land use of the area which may include a study of vehicular traffic and parking, open space and pedestrian activities; the visual aspect of the area which may include a study of the use of signs, lighting, the approaches to the Capitol - the short and long distance views; the historical aspect which may include a study of the area which would develope (sic) an inventory of the architectural and historical structures worthy of preservation; and a future needs assessment which would make a determination of the future space requirements of State Government in the immediate area of the Building. In order to review these matters indicated the Committee has requested the State Office of Planning and the Planning Department of the City of Lincoln to explore the possibility of developing a working unit which would be available to the Committee for study purposes. If this arrangement can be accomplished the work of the Committee would progress more rapidly. It is anticipated that the two groups will report favorably to the Committee at the March meeting.

Please accept our apologies for not complying with the time schedule indicated by the Law establishing the Committee. Be assured also of our interest in this assignment and our desire to be of service to the Legislature and the people of this State.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Arthur Duerschner, Chairman
Nebraska Capitol Environs Advisory Planning Committee

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 53
March 24, 1977

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have requested our opinion on the constitutionality of LB 109, Eighty-Fifth Legislature, First Session, as currently amended. We have examined LB 109, particularly with reference to sections 21 and 22. Section 21 creates the Nebraska Outdoor Recreation Development Cash Fund and the Nebraska Habitat Fund. Section 21 also allocates the money collected under LB 109 by virtue of a tax to be imposed upon soft drinks to these two funds in a ratio of 80 to 20. Section 22 provides:

> "No expenditure shall be made from the Nebraska Outdoor Recreation Development Cash Fund until the Game and Parks Commission has presented a recreational development plan to the Committee on Appropriations of the Legislature for its approval. The money in such fund shall be administered by the Game and Parks Commission for the development, operation, and maintenance of areas of the state park system. . . ."

The question that you raise is whether the approval of the Appropriations Committee required by this act violates any constitutional prohibition. We understand that you have an additional concern with the provisions of the bill which limit the approval required to a single committee rather than the entire Legislature.

It is not clear in reading the statute what effect, if any, disapproval by the Committee on Appropriations would have on a planned expenditure by the Game and Parks Commission of funds raised under the act. Arguably, the position could be taken that if the committee disapproved a particular expenditure, the Game and Parks Commission would be precluded from making that expenditure. Article II, Section 1, of the Constitution prohibits such acts. It provides:

> "The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the Legislative, Executive and Judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted."

An attempt to authorize a legislative veto of executive judgment would violate this section.

If the construction suggested above were adopted, it would be an attempt to administer an executive function by a committee of the Legislature. The committee would be empowered to review and reject executive decisions regarding particular expenditures. While the Legislature is fully authorized to limit executive choices by appropriate restrictions through enactment of statutes, once a statute is enacted or an appropriation made the Legislature has no further authority. This rule of law was most clearly expressed by the Supreme Court in the case of State ex rel. Meyer v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 185 Neb. 490, 176 N.W.2d 920. In this case the Supreme Court considered certain legislative acts appropriating money for biennial expenditures. As a part of these acts the Legislature limited the expenditure of sums for personal services in each of the two years of the biennium. The Supreme Bourt upheld that limitation but said:

> "The Legislature has plenary or absolute power over appropriations. It may make them upon such conditions and with such restrictions as it pleases within constitutional limits. There is one thing, however, which it cannot do, and this is inherent in Article II, section 1, Constitution of Nebraska. It cannot through the power of appropriation exercise or invade the constitutional rights and powers of the executive branch of the government. It cannot administer the appropriation once it has been made. When the appropriation is made, its work is complete and the executive authority takes over to administer the appropriation to accomplish its purpose, subject to the limitations imposed. . . . ." Id. at 499-500.

Thus, it is clear that if this provision is intended to give the Appropriations Committee the authority to veto executive decisions, then it is unconstitutional. We are unable to say with certainty from the language of the enactment in its present form that it is the intent to so limit executive decisions.

It may be argued that the language of section 22 simply requires that the Game and Parks Commission file what amounts to a report with the Commitee (sic) on Appropriations prior to expending money for the purposes authorized under the act. Subsequent disapproval by that committee would not preclude the expenditures of those sums by the Game and Parks Commission. Such a construction would meet the constitutional objection discussed above. The Supreme Court, in numerous cases, has indicated that a statute which is susceptible to two constructions, one of which would clearly make the statute valid, while the other would make the validity of the statute doubtful, that construction which makes the statute valid will ordinarily be adopted. See Belgum v. City of Kimball, 163 Neb. 774, 81N.W.2d 205 (1957). Thus, we conclude that while a question exists as to the constitutionality of section 22, it is possible to read it in a constitutional manner. However, it would be appropriate to use more specific language so the intent would be clear.

You have also raised the question of whether if such a requirement could be instituted, should it require full legislative approval. We believe that the comments we have made above disposes of this question. Whether legislative approval as a full body is required is not relevant to the question of whether or not the separation of powers provision of the Constitution has been violated. Thus, if the bill is construed to reflect an intention by the Legislature to pass on each item of expenditure, either by the body as a whole or by a committee of the Legislature, Article II, Section 1, the separation of powers provision, is violated and the act would be unconstitutional.

Sincerely,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 54
March 24, 1977

Dear Senator Warner:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning LB92 which would strike from secton (sic) 68-1022, R.R.S. 1943, the beginning words "Except for care in a state instituion."

The effect of the present language of section 68-1022 is that the county of legal settlement of a recipient of aid to the aged, blind and disabled must pay twenty per cent of the cost of medical assistance except for care in a state institution and other exceptions not applicable here.

The effect of LB92 is to strike all language concerning payment by the county and to require that medical assistance shall be paid on behalf of eligible recipients from state and federal funds.

Thus, insofar as persons in state institutions are concerned, there is no change as to county responsibility since the county does not presently pay the twenty per cent for those persons.

In view of the foregoing, it does not appear to us that passage of LB 92 would effectively improve the position of a county over what it now has under the provisions of section 68-1022 in claiming that it is not liable for its proportionate share of the costs of care, etc. under section 83-376, R.R.S. 1943, when the patient and his relatives have not paid the full cost.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 55
March 24, 1977

Dear Senator Koch:

You have requested the opinion of this office concerning the constitutionality of sections 42, 48, 49 and 50 as they originally appear in L.B. 38. In addition, you have asked whether proposed amendments which you have enclosed are in conformity with the Constitution.

Sections 42, 48, 49 and 50 as they originally appear in L.B. 38 are as follows:

> "Sec. 42. Every physician consulted about abortion by an expectant mother shall inform her of agencies and services available to assist her to carry the pregnancy to natural term, and shall further inform the expectant mother as to all reasonably possible medical and mental consequences resulting from the performance of an abortion.
> ". . . .
> "Sec. 48. No abortion shall be performed or prescribed on any minor child in the State of Nebraska without her written consent and the consent of the parent or guardian of such minor child.
> "Sec. 49. No abortion shall be performed or prescribed on any woman, except when necessary to preserve the woman from an imminent peril that substantially endangers her life or health, who has not previously submitted to the physician in attendance a written statement by the father of the unborn human life, if the father is known, affirming his consent to the performance of the abortion. If the father is unknown, the woman requesting the abortion shall so affirm in writing to the physician in attendance.
> "Sec. 50. The performance or prescribing of an abortion without the consent required in section 48 or 49 of this act is a class I misdemeanor."

Section 42 essentially requires the physician consulted to inform the expectant mother of available alternatives to abortion and of possible medical and mental consequences of an abortion. The United States Supreme Court in the case Planned Parenthood of Central Missouri v. Danforth, ____ U.S. ____, 49 L.Ed.2d 788, 96 S.Ct. 2831 (1976), dealt in part with a similar, though less restrictive, statutory requirement of the State of Missouri. Missouri required that in order for an abortion to be performed before the end of the first twelve weeks of pregnancy, the woman must certify in writing her consent and that her consent is informed and freely given. The statute, however, did not specify of what she must be informed before her consent would be considered "informed". The Court recognized that the state does have a valid interest in insuring that the woman's decision to abort is made only with full knowledge of its nature and consequences, even during the first stage of pregnancy which the Court had earlier held in Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113 (1973), could not be regulated by the state. The Court in Danforth held that:

> "...The woman is the one primarily concerned, and her awareness of the decision and its significance may be assured, constitutionally, by the State to the extent of requiring her prior written consent." Id., p. 803.

Section 42, although broader because it specifies that the woman must be informed by her physician of alternatives and consequences, also serves the valid state interest of insuring that the decision is made with full knowledge of its nature and consequences. Although it certainly is not clearly constitutional since it involves somewhat more state regulation than the Missouri statute, we believe the constitutionality of section 42 could be upheld since it does promote a recognized state interest and does not, we believe, present an undue burden upon the decision to be made by the woman and her physician.

Section 48 prohibits any abortion to be performed upon a minor without her written consent as well as the parent or guardian of the minor. Requiring parental consent for the performance of an abortion on a minor was expressly held unconstitutional in Danforth, supra, as well as in Doe v. Exon, 75-L-146 (D.Neb. 1976), involving section 28-4,151, R.R.S. 1943, which is identical to section 48. We can therefore say with a degree of certainty that section 48 could not be constitutionally defended.

Section 49 prohibits any abortion to be performed unless the woman has first submitted to the physician a certificate of consent of the father, if known, or a certificate of the woman that the father is unknown. Requiring spousal consent for the performance of an abortion was expressly held unconstitutional in Danforth, supra. We therefore can again say with some degree of certainty that section 49, wherein the consent of the father of the unborn is required, could not be successfully defended against constitutional attack.

The proposed amendment which you provided to this office concerning section 42 strikes "all" from line 10, page 27, and adds the following at the end of section 42:

> "The expectant mother shall certify in writing that she has been so informed, and the written certification shall be signed by the expectant mother and by her attending physician and shall be sent to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Department of Health, as an attachment to the abortion reporting form required under section 59 of this act. The written certification shall be in the following form:
> "I,_____ have been informed that the following agencies and services are among those available in Nebraska to assist me to carry my pregnancy to natural term: Birthright, and Emergency Pregency Service.
> "I have also been informed of all the reasonably possible medical and mental consequences resulting from an abortion.
> "Date _____
> Signed_____
> Signed _____
> Attending Physician"

Essentially, the amendment merely requires the expectant mother to certify that she has been informed of what the prior portion of section 42 requires, and that the certification be made a portion of the permanent record of the attending physician. We believe the same reasoning as used for the original section 42 applies herein. However it is our opinion that section 42 does contain another significant constitutional question which renders at least the specified wording of the certificate constitutionally suspect. The certificate requires the woman to certify that she has been advised of services offered by Birthright and Emergency Pregnancy Service, apparently referring to Birthright, Inc., and Emergency Pregnancy Services of Omaha, Inc., both private, nonprofit corporations. It is our opinion that specifying a woman must be informed of these particular private, nonprofit corporations before being allowed an abortion is constitutionally questionable as granting those corporations "special or exclusive privileges, immunity, or franchise" contrary to Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution. A constitutional problem may also be encountered with Article XIII, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution in this same regard.

The proposed amendment you have enclosed would alter section 48 in the following respects: (1) it would prohibit all abortions on a minor child 16 years of age or younger without the written consent of the parent or guardian; (2) it would prohibit abortions to be performed upon any minor without a certification in writing by the expectant mother that she has consulted with her parent or guardian concerning the performance of an abortion; and (3) it would require the attending physician to retain said written statements as part of his permanent record. As was noted above, Danforth held that granting a minor's parents veto power over their minor daughter's abortion decision was unconstitutional. However, the Missouri statute with which they were dealing prohibited abortions without parental consent for unmarried minors under the age of 18. However, the Supreme Court reserved the following question:

> "We emphasize that our holding that Section 3(4) is invalid does not suggest that every minor, regardless of age or maturity, may give effective consent for termination of her pregnancy. See Bellotti v. Baird,_____US_____, 49 L Ed 2d 844, 96 S Ct_____. The fault with Section 3(4) is that it imposes a special consent provision, exercisable by a person other than the woman and her physician, as a prerequisite to a minor's termination of her pregnancy and does so without a sufficient justification for the restriction. It violates the strictures of Roe and Doe." Id., p. 808.

Essentially, reading Danforth together with Bellotti v. Baird,_____ U.S._____, 49 L.Ed.2d 844, 96 S.Ct._____ (1976), it appears that the Supreme Court is saying that it is impermissible for the state to create an irrebuttable presumption that a girl 18 years or younger is incapable of giving an informed consent. However they have specifically left open the question concerning whether the state may create a rebuttable presumption. The amendment you have prepared creates an irrebuttable presumption that a girl 16 years or younger is incapable of informed consent. Althought it is probably true that at some point of declining age, it is permissible for the state to create such an irrebuttable presumption, we cannot predict what age would be determined permissible. Therefore we can only conlude(sic) that creating that irrebuttable presumption at the age of 16 raises a substantial constitutional question and it is questionable whether it could be defended.

The proposed amendment to section 48 also requires that a minor, e.g. an unmarried person under the age of 19 (section 38-101, R.R.S. 1943), must certify that she has consulted with her parent or guardian before she may obtain an abortion. This does not constitute a parental "veto power" as did the statute found unconstitutional in Danforth. The question is therefore whether the state has sufficient justification for such a requirement. In our opinion, the constitutionality of the provision requiring parental consultation could be successfully defended against constitutional attack. In the Danforth case, Justices White, Rehnquist, Stevens and Chief Justice Burger dissented from the decision of the majority holding the parental consent provisions unconstitutional. In the dissenting opinions thereon, it is made quite clear that those four Justices would hold that a state may constitutionally require parental consent or consultation. Justices Stewart and Powell, in their concurring opinion, state as follows:

> "...I think it clear that its primary constitutional deficiency lies in its imposition of an absolute limitation on the minor's right to obtain an abortion....
> "There can be little doubt that the State furthers a constitutionally permissible end by encouraging an unmarried pregnant minor to seek the help and advice of her parents in making the very important decision whether or not to bear a child...." Id., p. 817.

It therefore appears that although they feel the absolute limitation posed by the Missouri consent statute is unconstitutional, a provision requiring only parental consultation would pass constitutional muster as promoting a valid state interest without being unduly burdensome on the individual rights of the unmarried pregnant minor.

Finally, section 49 would be altered by the proposed amendment by requiring consultation with the father of the unborn fetus, as opposed to requiring his consent. As mentioned above, the Supreme Court in Danforth struck down the Missouri law which required the consent of the spouse. It should be noted that in the sections we are dealing with herein, the consultation requirement is with the father of the unborn fetus as opposed to the spouse of the woman. Therefore, somewhat different interests may be involved. The state interest considered in Danforth was that of preserving and promoting the marital relationship as well as the presumed father's interest in the growth and development of the fetus being carried. Nebraska, in requiring consultation with the father, would not necessarily be protecting an existing marital relationship, since the father is not necessarily married to the mother, and there is no presumption that they would be married. However, the state would at least be protecting and promoting a potenital marital relationship. Although the constitutionality of the proposed amendment is certainly questionable, it is our opinion that the constitutionality of the requirement of consultation with the father could probably be successfully defended. Requiring consultation with the father does not grant to the father a "veto power" such as that condemned in Danforth. Since the father has a recognized constitutional interest (see Stanley v. Illinois, 405 U.S. 645, 31 L.Ed.2d 551, 92 S.Ct. 1208), which must be weighed against the interests of the mother, we believe it could successfully be agrued that requiring a mere certification of consultation, as opposed to consent, does not represent an arbitrary or unreasonable accommodation of the individual rights involved.

If you have any further questions or desire any clarification, please do not hesitate to contact this office, as we realize that the questions concerning what the state may do concerning the regulation of abortions is a very complicated one, and many questions remain unanswered by Planned Parenthood v. Danforth, supra.

Yours very truly,

Opinion No. 56
March 23, 1977

Re: Constitutionality of L.B. 480.

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have asked whether L. B. 480 is constitutional. It would make assistance for the aged, blind or disabled available only to residents and provide that a resident of another state who enters this state solely for the purpose of receiving care in a home licensed by the Department of Health will not be deemed a resident here while such care is being provided. The intent is to relieve the burden on Nebraska taxpayers.

In Thompson v. Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, 187 Neb. 252, 188 N.W.2d 840 (1971), Thompson challenged the statute charging a higher college tuition fee to nonresidents and requiring four months of continuous residence independent of attendance at an institution of learning in this state in order to be classified as a resident for tuition purposes. The court held the entire statute constitutional because it had a reasonable relationship to a proper legislative purpose of distributing more evenly between residents and nonresidents attending those institutions the cost of operating and supporting the state educational institutions.

In Shapiro v. Thompson, 394 U.S. 618, 22 L.Ed.2d 600, 89 S.Ct. 1322 (1969), denial of welfare benefits to those who had lived in a state for less than a year was found to interfere with the constitutional right to interstate travel. The test of its constitutionality was whether the statute met a compelling state need. The court held that it was not a compelling state need to discourage indigents from entering the state solely to obtain higher benefits, to distinguish between old and new residents on the basis of the contribution each had made to the community through payment of taxes or otherwise, or to save welfare costs. In dealing with a similar issue in Memorial Hospital v. Maricopa County, 415 U.S. 250, 39 L.Ed.2d 306, 94 S.Ct. 1076 (1974), the court pointed out in a footnote that the question of the rights of transients to medical care was not presented by the case. However, in Edwards v. California, 314 U.S. 160, 86 L.Ed. 119, 62 S.Ct. 164 (1941), the court had held unconstitutional a law which made it a misdemeanor to bring a nonresident indigent into the state. Such a barrier to interstate commerce, it said, was not justified by the attempt of the state to "gain a momentary respite from the pressure of events by the simple expedient of shutting its gates to the outside world. . . .[T]he notion that each community should care for its own indigent that relief is solely the responsibility of local government. . . .no longer fits the facts. . . .[T]he relief of the needy has become the common responsibility and concern of the whole nation."

Unlike the persons seeking welfare benefits in Shapiro and Memorial Hospital, above, the persons excluded from benefits by L.B. 480 are those who come to Nebraska without the intention of making it their home. Their status is more like that of the nonresident students in Thompson, above, who come to Nebraska to enjoy the benefits of our tax supported schools. The fact that they are nonresidents in respects other than their presence in Nebraska may save the constitutionality of L.B. 480. However, as we've pointed out above, we cannot say with certainty that L.B. 480 is constitutional.

Sincerely yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 28, 1977

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

This is to inform your honorable body that I have appointed Mr. Wallace Peterson of Lincoln to serve in the vacant citizen-at-large position on the Nebraska Political Accountability and Disclosure Commission.

I would ask your speedy approval of Mr. Peterson's appointment, as well as the approval of Mr. Davis and Mr. Slocum whose names are still before the Committee on Committees. It is time that the Commission get on with its responsibilities, and, therefore, prompt legislative action is required.

In addition, I would ask that your Miscellaneous Subjects Committee accept my recommendations to remove the Governor and Secretary of State from the Commission to eliminate an obvious potential for a conflict of interest. I would ask that if this will not be done in the near future that I be quickly notified so that I might introduce a bill to accomplish this needed change.

Yours truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon

LEGISLATIVE BILL 246. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 246:

1. On page 2, line 12, strike "eighteen" and insert "fourteen".
2. On page 4, line 7, reinstate the stricken matter; and in line 23, strike the new matter.
3. Insert a new section 5 as follows:

"Sec. 5. That section 21-17,105, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

21-17,105. (1) Every credit union shall be required, at least annually, to transfer the residue of earnings, after paying expenses and setting aside a sum for the reserve funds as provided in section 21-17,104, to undivided earnings and may declare a dividend to members holding share accounts, except that the board of directors by resolution may establish additional reserves not inconsistent with the statutes of the State of Nebraska nor the best interests of the membership, and shall designate such reserves as special reserves. All such members shall participate in earnings pro rata to the withdrawal or share value of their respective accounts, except that a credit union may classify its share accounts according to the character, amount, or duration thereof, or regularity of additions thereto, and may agree in advance to pay an additional rate of earnings, over and above the minimum rate of earnings paid on share accounts, on accounts based on such classifications, and shall regulate such earnings in such manner that each share account in the same classification shall receive the same ratable portion of such additional earnings. No credit union shall pay a rate of earnings greater than seven per cent on share accounts of any classification. Earnings may be declared on the withdrawal or share value of each share account at the beginning of the accounting period, plus additions thereto made during the period, less amounts previously withdrawn and amounts covered by notice for withdrawal which for earnings purposes shall be deducted from the latest previous additions thereto, computed at the declared rate for the time the funds have been invested determined as next provided. The date of investment shall be the date of actual receipt by the credit union of an account or an addition to an account, except that if the board of directors shall so determine, accounts in one or more classifications or additions thereto received by the credit union on or before a date not later than the twentieth day of the month, unless the day determined is not a business day and in such case it may be the next succeeding business day, shall receive earnings as if invested on the first day of the month in which such payments were received; and if the board shall make such determination, it also shall determine that payments received subsequent to such determination date shall either (a) receive earnings as if invested on the first day of the next succeeding month, or (b) receive earnings from the date of actual receipt by the credit union. The directors shall determine by resolution the method of calculating the amount of any earnings on share accounts as provided in this subsection, and the time or times when earnings are to be declared, paid, or credited.

(2) When the amount of delinquent loans, at the end of any dividend period, is so large in the opinion of either the board of directors or the Department of Banking and Finance that it is not covered by the reserve fund as required by sections 21-1760 to 21-17,126, a special reserve for delinquent loans shall be established before the credit union may pay any dividend. Such reserve shall not be less than the following:

(a) Loans delinquent less than six months -- ten per cent of the unpaid balance;

(b) Loans delinquent six months but less than twelve months -- twenty-five per cent of the unpaid balance; and

(c) Loans delinquent twelve months and over -- eighty per cent of the unpaid balance.".

4. On page 7, line 5, after "original" insert "section 21-17,105, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and".

5. Renumber original section 5 as section 6.

LEGISLATIVE BILL 217. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 217:

1. On page 2, line 13, after "to" insert "control or".

2. Insert two new sections as follows:

"Sec. 2. That section 46-666, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1976, be amended to read as follows:

46-666. (1) The district shall by order, after a hearing conducted pursuant to section 46-665, the record of which shall include the testimony of a respresentative of the Conservation and Survey Division of the University of Nebraska and the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, adopt one or more of the following controls, which shall be subject to approval by the director:

(a) It may determine the permissible total withdrawal of ground water in the designated control area for each day, month, or year, and allocate such withdrawal among the ground water users within the area;

(b) It may adopt and enforce a system of rotation for use of ground water in the control area;

(c) It may adopt well-spacing requirements more restrictive than those found in Chapter 46, article 6; and

(d) It may adopt such other reasonable regulations as are necessary to carry out the intent of this act.

(2) If because of varying hydrologic or geologic conditions existing within the control area, the uniform application throughout such area of one or more controls would fail to carry out the intent of this act in a reasonably effective and equitable manner, the controls adopted by the district pursuant to subsection (1) of this section may contain different provisions for different portions of the control area. Any differences in such provisions shall recognize and be directed toward such varying conditions. The provisions of all controls shall be uniform for all portions of the control area which have substantially similar hydrologic and geologic conditions.

~~(2)~~ (3) If the district determines, following a public hearing conducted pursuant to section 46-665, that depletion of the ground water supply in the control area or any portion thereof is so excessive that the public interest cannot be protected solely through implementation of reasonable controls adopted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, it may, with the approval of the director, close the control area or portion thereof to the issuance of any additional permits for a period of one calendar year. Such areas may be further closed thereafter by a similar procedure for additional one-year periods. Any such area may be reopened at any time the district shall determine that conditions warrant new permits, at which time the director shall consider all previously submitted applications for permits in the order in which they were received.

~~(3)~~ (4) The district shall cause a copy of each order adopted pursuant to this section to be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in a local newspaper published or of general circulation in the area involved, the last publication of which shall be not less than ten days prior to the date set for the effective date of such order.

~~(4)~~ (5) Whenever a control area, designated pursuant to section 46-658, encompasses portions of two or more districts, the responsibilities and authorities delegated in this section and section 46-665 shall be exercised jointly and uniformly by agreement of the respective boards of directors of all districts so affected.

~~(5)~~ (6) If, at the end of one year following a hearing conducted pursuant to section 46-665, the district or districts conducting such hearing have not adopted a specific control or controls pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the power to specify such controls shall vest in the director who shall, within ninety days thereafter, adopt by rule and regulation such control or controls as he shall deem necessary for carrying out the intent of this act. Subject to section 46-667, the enforcement of controls adopted pursuant to this section shall be the responsibility of the district or districts involved.

~~(6)~~ (7) If the power to adopt a control or controls shall be vested in the director, he shall be provided with a copy of all information, testimony, and data available to the district or districts as a result of the public hearing for the adoption of a control or controls. At his discretion, the director may conduct one or more additional public hearings prior to making his determination or selection of controls. Notice of any such additional hearings shall be given in the manner provided in section 46-658.

Sec. 3. (1) In order to conserve surface water supplies and to prevent the inefficient or improper runoff of surface water, after the effective date of this act, each person who uses surface water irrigation in the state shall take action to control or prevent the runoff of water used in such irrigation.

(2) Within ninety days after the effective date of this act, each natural resources district shall adopt, following public hearing, notice of which shall be given in the manner provided in section 46-658, rules and regulations necessary to control or prohibit surface runoff of water derived from surface water irrigation. Such rules and regulations shall prescribe (a) standards and criteria delineating what constitutes the inefficient or improper runoff of surface water used in irrigation, (b) procedures to prevent, control, and abate such runoff, (c) measures for the construction, modification, extension, or operation of remedial measures to prevent, control, or abate runoff of surface water used in irrigation, and (d) procedures for the enforcement of this section.

(3) Each district may issue cease and desist orders to enforce any of the provisions of this section or rules and regulations issued pursuant to this section.

Any such order may be issued against an individual, partnership, association, corporation, company, cooperative, irrigation district, or irrigation company.

(4) Any new rules and regulations adopted by the district in accordance with this section shall recognize the necessity of properly managed return flows.".

3. On page 3, line 1, strike "section 46-664", and insert "sections 46-664 and 46-666"; and in line 2, strike "is" and insert "are".
