SENATOR WARNER: As I understand what the Department is doing is modifying some of the...a portion of the structure of the facility, the structure itself, to accommodate some vocational programs. I think what the committee was concerned with, as you know the design for the Omaha facility was identical to the one currently under construction at Lincoln. We already had a request for $260,000 roughly for an addition to that facility to provide for location for vocational training and it appeared obvious, particularly if this becomes an emphasis for a medium-minimum facility, that additional facilities for vocational training should be available. As I understand the facility will contain both medium as well as or rather medium-minimum as well as minimum classification of prisoners though.

SENATOR GOODRICH: Now can you tell me the percentages of the inmates accommodated under the medium security portion and that in the minimum security portion?

SENATOR WARNER: Took the wrong paper out of my pocket, Senator Goodrich.

SENATOR GOODRICH: Okay, maybe I can rephrase the question, Jerry.

SENATOR WARNER: I know what you are asking.

SENATOR GOODRICH: The question in my mind is if we build this the way the Corrections Department is proposing and they have talked about, we are emphasizing minimum security. The question in my mind is if we get five to ten years down the road and we have adopted some more programs whereby minimum security people, this is the bad check artist, the young people in the reformatory type people are on work release, education release, various other rehabilitation programs and not incarcerated even, are we going to have sufficient quality of construction left in this building up there so that we can accommodate a switch to medium security prisoners?

SENATOR WARNER: Okay, Senator, specifically then, Senator Goodrich, the outer wall which is the real security aspects are being built to the medium-minimum security level which I think would be the prime thing that you would be concerned with. In addition as I understand it, a portion of the....
