

May 2, 1979

LB 594

parliamentary inquiry. Will it be the ruling of the Chair that we will vote individually on each of these issues and then vote in total on the entire package?

SPEAKER MARVEL: No.

SENATOR LEWIS: We will vote individually on each of these and adopt them as separate amendments?

SPEAKER MARVEL: Yes.

SENATOR LEWIS: That will be the ruling of the Chair.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Yes.

SENATOR LEWIS: Thank you very much.

SPEAKER MARVEL: We have already voted on yours but we are going to vote on it again. The motion is the striking of Section 27 to LB 594. Now I have four lights on and I would appreciate it if you're not going to speak if you would turn your light off. Senator Schmit, do you wish to speak to the...? Okay, Senator Cope, do you wish to speak to the striking of Section 27? There are six parts to this. Senator Cope. Do you have a copy of the bill, 594?

SENATOR COPE: Well we are speaking just to the first...?

SPEAKER MARVEL: Yes, sir.

SENATOR COPE: Concerning the library?

SPEAKER MARVEL: The request was to divide the question and that is what I am trying to do.

SENATOR COPE: All right. Mr. President, members, I certainly do want to and I will repeat what I said a bit ago. It is unfair for, I believe, to be voting on any of these because generally the members of the Legislature are not well enough informed and I am not being critical but let's face it. The Appropriations Committee spent long, long, long hours on capital construction. We visited many of these different construction possibilities. The members of the Appropriations Committee are aware and we come up with what we thought and certainly, right or wrong, what was the way to spend the money. This one I certainly know about because I live in Kearney and I am going to repeat this in case people were not here. Kearney State College enrolls more than half