LB 619

SPEAKER MARVEL: Okay, Senator Reutzel, do you wish to be recognized on the....Senator Newell.

SENATOR NEWELL: Yes, Senator Beutler withdrew his amendment.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Yes.

SENATOR NEWELL: Okay.

CLERK: Mr. President, the next amendment is offered by Senator Newell. Would you like me to read it, Senator? Is that necessary?

SENATOR NEWELL: Why don't you read it and I may have to withdraw this one too, and try to work....

CLERK: (Commenced reading Newell amendment.)

SPEAKER MARVEL: Before we get to this, the Government Committee is scheduled to have a meeting underneath the north balcony at 11:30. All members of the Government Committee need to report underneath the north balcony. Okay, Clerk will read.

CLERK: Mr. President, the amendment reads as follows: (Read Newell amendment.)

SENATOR NEWELL: All right, Mr. President and members of the body, I think that maybe at this point I will withdraw this amendment. It basically is to clarify the penalty sections and to make them a little lighter. The purpose here for withdrawing it is only to try to work with Senator Beutler and Senator Maresh and offer a comprehensive amendment on Select File. With that I would offer to withdraw the amendment temporarily.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Okay, what is before the....

CLERK: I have another amendment, Mr. President. Senator Haberman now moves to amend the bill to allow for studded horseshoes.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Mr. President and fellow senators, if you remember correctly last year I lost a pony because he stepped in a badger hole and I had to shoot him, and this year Senator Feutzel wants to put badgers on the protected list. Now I have another problem and you all saw that I sent a picture around of my new pony, and I ask you please
