thin, through everything, has stuck together as close or closer than any committee of the Legislature I have ever seen since I have been here, and as I left yesterday I got thinking of that. I got thinking about it all the way home. Last night when I laid down in my bed I was still thinking about it and I got thinking if there is any comparison, any analogy, and it started coming to me. They are kind of like the "family". Do you know what I mean? The "family", and then I went to sleep and I had one of the most exciting interesting dreams I ever did, and since we are on kind of a light vein, nobody to be offended, I want to tell you the dream. There was the Godfather. Well, it deals with the very issue here so you will see when I get to the end it does.

SPEAKER MARVEL: As long as it is pertinent to the subject....

SENATOR DeCAMP: It is.

SPEAKER MARVEL: ...and the Chair will not....

SENATOR DeCAMP: Completely pertinent. Jerry, Jerry "Mumbles" Warner. More money has ridden on a single mumble than on other people's entire speeches. Next to him with a stern face was "Ma Barker" Labeledz. Ma knows the children are all spending in there and building new buildings and so on and so forth but she is part of the family and she has got to go along. Next to her was Myron "The Gentleman" Rumery from the western branch of the family. Myron, quiet, doesn't ask for much, but when he does, it is there. Next to him was Ron "The Straight Man" Cope representing the Kearney branch of the family. The Kearney branch, of course, we don't really know what all happens out there, buildings spring up, new libraries, one thing or another. We just know it happens. Then, of course, there was Shirley "Tough Mama" Marsh. Shirley has been there from the beginning. She knows the rules of the game. The rules are simple. What Lincoln wants, Lincoln gets. What the University wants, the University gets, and then, of course, there was Steve "Big Dipper" Fowler. Nobody really knows how deep that dipper goes or what all is in it. All we do know for sure is in every dip out of the big bucket you can bet there is a new art school, a new this, a...Steve will probably be in time to come one of the most venerable members, maybe a Godfather himself some day. Sitting next to Steve, in this dream, of course, was Peter "The Concierge" Hoagland. This mild mannered Clark Kent appearance is all thrown
