aside when he walks into the appropriations room and he becomes superspender, $20,000 appropriations, appear to be $20,000 appropriations but behind them is a $10 million building program for UN-O in the very immediate future, next year and the next year and the next year, just the $20,000 door opener. Then finally Don "The Dealer" Dworak. Don, they weren't going to bring him into the family because he had been rattling that conservative saber up here so long he got to believing himself but then they brought him into the family to try him out and Don discovered, like the young missionary that was sent to the foreign land to cure the heathens from those sins, that sinning was more fun than saving so he joined the family. Finally, Ralph "The Plumber" Kelly. Now Ralph is the newest member. He didn't ask for much. All Ralph said was, hey, look, I have done everything for everybody. All I want is $7,500 for some UFOs. How could the family say no? This will be the test. This will be the test here as to whether we are ever going to crack the family's allegiance to each other and whether the family is ever going to consider that there could be places to cut, there could be things you could change, there could be expenditures that are unnecessary. We will all watch to see whether the family sticks together. I am betting they will.

Now, Senator Warner, the Chair recognizes you.

SENATOR WARNER: Speaking on the amendment, I would only like to comment that one of the lessons I recall that I was taught, I did not say "learned". One of the lessons I was taught when I took public speaking that it was not so important what you say as it is how...mumbles. The effect of the amendment, just very briefly, I think perhaps one of the...sometimes there is little things that we perhaps do that we kind of make fun of and maybe it is a little more important than we think. You know, Senator Schmit indicated he had a collection of things in his office, I believe he said, he thought was unusual and of interest. I am sure all of us do, and what the amendment really does, you know, it places a...it is called a research but a place to record those things that have particularly occurred in Nebraska for posterity and once in awhile, not too often, I guess maybe it is important to
