do that, preserve some things of mankind, whether it is folklore or the kind of things that Senator Kelly has mentioned here. The amount is not that great and I would hope that the body would not take this out because I think it is a symbol that more than just the nuts and bolts of operations of government that once in awhile we take the time to preserve some things of history that some future Nebraskan may want to know and I would hope that we would not strike this relatively insignificant amount compared to the total budget from the appropriations bill.

SPEAKER MARVEL: The motion is the Schmit amendment. I have three lights on and it is about two minutes to twelve so I guess we are going to have to recess. Okay, I see five hands. State your point.

SENATOR BEUTLER: The question cannot be called from the floor, Mr. Speaker, under our new rules.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Senator Kremer, would you like to recess us until one-thirty. The Chair has the list of people who have indicated they want to talk and you can talk right after lunch.

SENATOR KREMER: Mr. Speaker, your question was, do I want to? Not really, I am having a lot of fun but I will move that we recess until one-thirty this afternoon.

SPEAKER MARVEL: The motion is that we recess until one-thirty. All those in favor say aye, opposed no. (End of recording.)
