

interesting situation. Aside from the merits if the Governor were to adhere to the advice given by the Attorney General first of all, let me back up. The Legislature is going to pass this bill no matter what. Because the Legislature knew those other bills were unconstitutional and passed them anyway. But because of political consideration the integrity of the legislative process meant nothing. It went by the boards. That is what will happen in the case of this bill. But, now instead of the bills introducer being the loveable, charming, Mother Labeledz, it is now being sponsored primarily by a potential gubernatorial opponent. Now, Senator Labeledz, you have the Governor between a rock and a hard place. If he signs this unconstitutional bill he gives his opponent a double victory. She gets a bill through the Legislature which a certain group of vocal people would like to see passed and she also has an arguing point to show that he disregards the Constitution and the advice of the Attorney General. Now if he vetoes the bill, what does he get out of that, Senator Labeledz? He can show that he respects the Constitution and he also gives his opponent a legislative set back. So what will the Governor take? The lady or the tiger? He is astride the tiger now. It is difficult when a tiger is stirred up to hold on. But there might be more hazard if he gets off. So, what I think I'm going to do this morning, to save myself time and to save the Legislature heart ache and pain, is to ask unanimous consent to withdraw this motion to indefinitely postpone the bill.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Senator Labeledz. Go ahead, Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: Mr. President, I have an amendment from Senator Cullan to add the emergency clause and the severability clause.

SENATOR LABEDZ: (mike not activated) drawn.

CLERK: He did?

SENATOR LABEDZ: Yes, because my amendment coming up has the same thing and he is not here today.

CLERK: Okay. Mr. President, Senator Labeledz moves to amend the bill.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Senator Labeledz, do you want to explain the amendment.

SENATOR LABEDZ: Thank you I will. I believe that is the one where we have the per week, Pat, is that the one where we are correcting the during any one calendar week?

CLERK: Yes.
