ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

November 19, 1982

Re: Application of Neb.Rev.Stat §71-1342 (Supp. 1982)

Dear Senator Hoagland:

You have asked whether persons who sell personal property which has as its sole use the burial of deceased human remains are required to escrow the proceeds of such sales as provided in Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-1342 (Supp. 1982). If not, you may want to consider new legislation to cover such sales.

Section 71-1342 provides in part:

Whenever any person . . . makes an agreement with a funeral director, funeral firm, cemetery organization, or any person or organization . . . for the final disposition of the body of a person . . . wherein the use of personal property, under a prearranged funeral plan . . . , all payments made under the agreement, including interest and dividends, if any, shall be and remain trust funds until occurrence of the death of the potential decedent, unless the funds are sooner released upon demand to the depositor [buyer], after written notice to the beneficiary [seller].

(Emphasis added.) There is an exemption in subsection (e) for certain real and personal property, if delivered, and for prepayment of cremation or interment fees. This is discussed in our recent letter to the Department of Health, a copy of which is attached.

A "prearranged funeral plan" is not defined in the statute so it is to be given its usual and ordinary meaning. Ragland v. Norris Public Power Dist., 208 Neb. 492, 304 N.W.2d 55 (1981). The Nebraska Supreme Court has not defined the term, but The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language defines each word separately. "Prearranged" means to plan or prepare for or to agree about at an earlier or prior time. A "plan" is a detailed scheme, program or method worked out beforehand for the accomplishment of an object. A "funeral" is the ceremonies held in connection with the burial or cremation of the dead.

Elements of a funeral were identified in Caswell v. Harry Miller Excavating Company, et al., 246 N.E.2d 921 (Ohio 1969), when the court had to determine whether given expenses were allowable as "funeral expenses." Elements identified were embalming, purchase of a coffin, burial or cremation, customary rites or ceremonies attendant on disposition of remains, burial lots and vaults, and reasonable expenditures for flowers and a tombstone or marker. Supra at 924.

An Oklahoma statute did define a "prearranged funeral service or plan for any person" in a statute prohibiting any licensed funeral home from acting as the principal in any contract for such a plan, i.e., "any funeral service or plan which is arranged, planned, or determined prior to the demise of the person" for whom the funeral service is to be performed. "Funeral service" was not defined.

That statute was interpreted in State ex rel. Oklahoma Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors, et al., v. Guardian Funeral Home, 429 P.2d 732, (Oklahoma 1967). The court held that the funeral home had not violated that statute by entering into a contract whereby for $36.00 the funeral home agreed that on the death of the purchaser or anyone for whom she was legally or morally responsible it would furnish a standard funeral service and merchandise at a price not to exceed cost plus 10 percent. The court found such a plan was not a prearranged funeral service or plan because there was "no provision regarding selection and agreement as to the funeral merchandise (casket and accessories), or disposition of the remains, or as to any other parts of the service, and no agreement as to price (as distinguished from a very general method of determining the amount of charge.)" Supra, at 735.

From the above we have concluded that when a buyer enters an agreement with any person or organization for furnishing at an agreed price any of the personal property or services associated with a funeral for the disposition of the body of a person not yet deceased, except delivered property and services itemized in Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-1342(1) (e), any payment made by the buyer must go into an escrow fund as provided in Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-1342(2) (Supp. 1982).

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 288
November 24, 1982

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have submitted a legislative proposal which would base state aid to counties, municipalities, and natural resources districts entirely on population, as determined by the latest federal census. You say that this would lock the population statistics upon which the formula relies at a figure representing population as it existed in 1980, which could not be changed until the 1990 census is completed. You ask whether such a formula would clash with the prohibition against closed classification, and call our attention to State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, 207 Neb. 598, 300 N.W.2d 181 (1980).

We believe there are two answers to the problems you present. First, we think it is by no means certain that no changes in the figures can be made before the 1990 census. Your proposed legislation speaks of "the latest federal census," not "the latest decennial federal census." A special census of a particular locality is authorized by 13 U.S.C. 8. If a particular political subdivision felt that its population had grown, it could get such a special census, and our court might well permit its use.

We have discussed a similar question in at least two opinions, Report of the Attorney General 1965-66, No. 184, and Report of the Attorney General 1969-70, No. 7. In the latter opinion we pointed out that our court had not decided the question, and cited diametrically opposed opinions from Arizona and Wyoming. We felt that the case most nearly in point was the Arizona case, City of Bisbee v. Williams, 83 Ariz. 141, 317 P.2d 567 (1957). That case involved a distribution of a certain percentage of a tax to municipalities in proportion to their population, as shown by the most recent federal census. In permitting use of a special census, the court said:

While the desirability of the utilization by the state treasurer of a fixed base, such as the most recent decennial census, in his allocations to the several municipalities of the state of their proportion of this tax is apparent, we cannot substitute our judgment for that of the people who adopted this initiated measure and say as a matter of law that the "most recent" census must mean the "most recent decennial" census. Had it been intended that only the decennial census be utilized, it would have been very easy for the framers of the legislation to have said so.

In our Opinion No. 7 we pointed out that §66-424.01 (which has since been repealed), provided for the use of "the most recent decennial census," and felt that the use of different language in another statute manifested an intent that a different result should be reached. We point out that the term "decennial census" is used in Neb.Rev.Stat. §8-116 (Supp. 1982), §32-4,147 (Reissue 1978), §54-614 (Reissue 1978), §70-610 (Supp. 1982), §79-902.01 (Supp. 1982), §79-1003 (Supp. 1982), and §79-2646.01 (Reissue 1981). Failure to use that term in the bill you present would indicate an intent to authorize use of other than decennial censuses.

In Pelzer v. City of Bellevue, 198 Neb. 19, 251 N.W.2d 662 (1977), the court cited City of Bisbee v. Williams, in holding that the "most recent federal census" referred to the most recent federal census available to the community, either the regular decennial one or a special census. We therefore feel that it is at least doubtful that it can be said, as a matter of law, that no change could be made in the allocation until the release of the next decennial census.

Even if the court should hold that only the decennial census can be used, we do not believe that State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, supra, would prohibit it. The classification involved in that case was permanently frozen. The cases we have read with respect to frozen classification have dealt with legislation that made no provision for changes in the future. That is not the case with respect to the legislation you inquire about, even if "latest federal census" were construed to mean "latest federal decennial census."

Population is a very common basis for classification, and it has always been upheld, if it has any relevance to the purpose of the legislation. All cities and villages in the state are classified according to population. Article III, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution requires the legislative districts to be established after each federal decennial census. Congressional districts are, of course, fixed until the next decennial census.

We are not suggesting that the court might not strike down legislation which froze classification less than permanently. It is a question of reasonableness, and probably each situation must be judged in view of its own peculiar circumstances, and movement from one class to another permitted as often as circumstances reasonably permit.

Population has regularly been used, by this and other states, for distribution of state aid to political subdivisions. We do not believe any constitutional attacks have been made on this method, even if only decennial censuses are used.

Opinion No. 290
December 14, 1982

Dear Senator Goll:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the constitutionality of a proposed bill relating to guardianships which you state you are considering introducing in the 1983 Legislative Session.

You have asked for our opinion as to the constitutionality of the proposal.

It is a well established rule of construction, stated by the Supreme Court of Nebraska in Anderson v. Carlson, 171 Neb. 741, 107 N.W.2d 535 (1961) that: "The constitutionality of a law is to be tested by what the act authorizes and what may be accomplished by it." Stated another way, "the constitutionality of a legislative act is determined, not from what has been done under it, but from what may be done under it." State v. Cavitt, 182 Neb. 712, 157 N.W.2d 171 (1968).

Your proposed bill under Section 1, would authorize the appointment of a temporary guardian for a person 18 or more years of age who has undergone "a substantial behavioral change" and "lacks substantial capacity to make independent and informed decisions" if: It could reasonably be expected to result from exposure to a systematic course of coercive persuasion which undermines a person's capacity to make informed or independent judgments, and the person conducting the course of persuasion regularly and systematically commits deceitful acts with respect to the nature of the activities in which one will participate with the person, and the deceitful acts could reasonably be expected to have misled the person on whom practiced regarding the nature of the activities.

The foregoing paragraph is a summation of only a part of the alternatives authorized by the act for the appointment of a guardian over a person 18 years of age or older.

Under Section 2 of the proposal, if a temporary guardian is appointed, a plan shall be established which must be under the supervision of a licensed psychologist, a psychiatrist or social worker with at least three years clinical experience in an area of mental health. The order could be in force for a total period of 75 days. There is no question but that the liberty of the person under the order may be infringed.

Section 3 provides that in determining whether a person has undergone a substantial behavioral change which would warrant the appointment of a guardian, the court may consider, among others:

- (a) Abrupt and drastic alteration of basic values and lifestyle;
- (b) Blunted emotional responses;
- (c) Regression to child-like levels of behavior;
- (d) Physical changes, including, drastic weight change, cessation of menstruation, diminished rate of facial hair growth, and cessation of perspiration.

In determining whether a systematic course of coercive persuasion exists which would warrant the appointment of a guardian under the act, the court may consider, among others:

- (1) Isolation from family and friends;
- (2) Control over information and channels of communications;
- (3) Physical debilitation through such means as sleep deprivation, inadequate diet, unreasonably long work hours, or inadequate medical care.

While the act undoubtedly encompasses the circumstances which you desire to control and remedy by this legislation, which we have no doubt, are prompted by laudable motives, that is not the test; the language is so broad that it could be construed to authorize the limitation of other activities and callings, which, although they may not accord with the views of the majority, may nevertheless be recognized as activities which are proper to engage in without interference under the recognized freedoms under our state and federal Constitutions.

For example, there are undoubtedly many religious groups whose practices could be found by a county court to come within the broad language of your proposal authorizing the appointment of a guardian over an adult member of one of such religious groups.

In Meyer v. Nebraska, the United States Supreme Court was called upon to examine legislation which prohibited the teaching in a private, parochial or public school any subject in any language other than English and permitted the teaching of other languages than English, only after a pupil had successfully passed the eighth grade. The United States Supreme Court stated in regard thereto:

While this court has not attempted to define with exactness the liberty thus guaranteed [by the Fourteenth Amendment], the term has received much consideration, and some of the included things have been definitely stated. Without doubt, it denotes not merely freedom from bodily restraint, but also the right of the individual to contract, to engage in any of the common occupations of life, to acquire useful knowledge, to marry, establish a home and bring up children, to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and, generally, to enjoy those privileges long recognized at common law as essential to the orderly pursuit of happiness by free men.

Id. at 399. (Emphasis added.)

In the case of Pierce v. Society of Sisters of Holy Names, 268 U.S. 510 (1924) the Supreme Court of the United States was called upon to examine a compulsory attendance law of Oregon, which required every child between the ages of 8 and 16 years to attend a public school for the period of time held during the current year.

Some of the religious organizations of the day, which also conducted schools, brought an action to test the constitutionality of the act. While the court recognized the power of the state to reasonably regulate all schools, it said that the state could not cause the closing or destruction of private schools which were otherwise in compliance. In arriving at this decision the court stated:

Under the doctrine of Meyer v. Nebraska, 262 U.S. 390, 67 L.ed. 1042, 29 A.L.R. 1446, Sup.Ct.Rep. 625, we think it entirely plain that the Act of 1922 unreasonably interferes with the liberty of parents and guardians to direct the upbringing and education of children under their control. As often heretofore pointed out, rights guaranteed by the Constitution may not be abridged by legislation which has no reasonable relation to some purpose within the competency of the state. The fundamental theory of liberty upon which all governments in this Union repose excludes any general power of the state to standardize its children by forcing them to accept instruction from public teachers only.

Id. at 534-535. (Emphasis added.)

When the divergent views and practices are considered of each individual claiming to be worshipping God "according to the dictates of his own conscience" within such known groups in this country as the many Christian denominations, Islam, Judaism, agnostics and Buddhism, only to mention some, it is obvious that there could be a wide range of opinion and viewpoint as to whether someone lacks "substantial capacity to make independent and informed decisions" or "to understand a person's conduct" or what constitutes "coercive persuasion" or "deceitful acts"-- to merely highlight a few of the key words from your proposal.

There are undoubtedly other callings or practices in the field of education, recreation, leisure time, and other areas which could be said to come within the terms of said proposal which have been recognized as forms of protected liberty within the meaning of the Constitution.

Like the provision of the Fourteenth Amendment considered by the United States Supreme Court in Meyer v. Nebraska, supra, the Nebraska Constitution carries similar language in Article I, Section 3. The Supreme Court of Nebraska has likewise relied upon the authority of both Pierce v. Society of Sisters of Holy Names, supra and Meyer v. Nebraska, supra.

For the foregoing reasons, we are of the opinion that we would have difficulty defending the constitutionality of your proposal described herein.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 291
December 14, 1982

Dear Senator Nichol:

This is in response to your letter of November 8, 1982, in which you state that you are preparing legislation to clarify Nebraska Revised Statute, Section 70-655. In that letter you ask whether Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) has statutory authority to charge different rates among cities within the District, depending upon whether or not capitol improvements are made to the particular city's electrical distribution system.

We have concluded that NPPD could, under Neb.Rev.Stat. §70-655 (Reissue 1981), vary its rates among cities within the District if there is a just and reasonable basis for doing so.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §70-655 (Reissue 1981) provides that:

The board of directors of any district organized under or subject to Chapter 70, article 6, shall have the power and be required to fix, establish, and collect adequate rates, tolls, rents, and other charges, for electrical energy, water service, water storage, and for any and all other commodities, services, or facilities sold, furnished, or supplied by the district, which rates, tolls, rents, and charges shall be fair, reasonable, nondiscriminatory, and so adjusted as in a fair and equitable manner to confer upon and distribute among the users and consumers of commodities and services furnished or sold by the district the benefits of a successful and profitable operation and conduct of the business of the district.

Although §70-655 requires rates to be "nondiscriminatory," that statute would not absolutely prohibit variable rates among different users, or consumers, within the Nebraska Public Power District.

As our Supreme Court pointed out in the case of Erickson v. Metro Utilities District, 171 Neb. 654, 107 N.W.2d 324 (1961):

"[T]hose engaged in serving the public cannot make unreasonable and unjust discrimination, either in service or rates, among their patrons.

Discriminations between patrons by a public service company, including discriminations as to rates, are invalid, provided the discrimination is an unjust one. . . ."

The charges must be equal to all for the same service under like circumstances.

The public duty of a municipal corporation is to furnish a service at reasonable rates to all the inhabitants of the municipal corporation, and to charge each inhabitant the same price it charges every other inhabitant for the same service under the same or similar conditions. American Water Works Company v. State ex rel. Walker, 46 Neb. 194 (1895).

Of course, whether or not cities within the district are sufficiently dissimilar with respect to their power requirements to justify a selective rate, or classification, by NPPD is subject to a case-by-case determination. Nevertheless, such classification would be permissible under the circumstances described above, and under §70-655.

Until such time as we might have an opportunity to review legislation which you may propose pertaining to the herein matter, we are unable to comment regarding the constitutional sufficiency of such legislation, or to determine whether such legislation conflicts with §70-655.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Governor Kerrey delivered the following Inaugural Address:

Chief Justice Krivosha, Senators Exon and Zorinsky, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, Distinguished Guests:

I don't believe anyone can read a newspaper or newsmagazine today and not be struck by the sheer number and variety of important issues crying out for resolution. The crisis in state finances, low commodity prices, increasing unemployment and energy costs, rapid technological change, the burgeoning federal budget deficit, and decreasing federal assistance to the states are but a few of the areas currently competing for our attention. It is not surprising that we sometimes feel overwhelmed. The job almost seems too big to begin. Still, I think the words of Thomas Paine offer us a healthy, helpful perspective. Paine once proclaimed... "You don't build new worlds in an afternoon. Brick must be placed upon brick". Mindful of Paine's words, it is with enthusiasm and a spirit of dedication that I accept the challenge the Oath of Office places on me and the Kerry/McGinley Administration.

Today, we Nebraskans face a future fraught with uncertainty, yet filled also with hope and wonder. To lay uncertainty to rest will be a strenuous task. It will demand commitments of time, energy, and creativity. It will demand that we accept the risks which may inhere in fresh ideas. It will demand that we face the future squarely, without flinching or hedging. Be confident that the directives emanating from my office will be grounded in those principles and in the knowledge that we will succeed.

We are only recently emerging from two decades of great, often tumultuous, changes. Now, we are required to reconsider our priorities and restructure many of our policies in light of those changes. The "Information Age" predicted by social scientists twenty years ago has arrived, and with it has arrived a profound alteration of our economy.

Automation and increased production efficiencies offered by new technology have permanently changed America's employment needs. The Congressional Budget Office, for example, estimates that micro-electronic technology will eliminate 3 million jobs by 1990. That constitutes 15% of manufacturing workers. Yet we need not despair. The information explosion has also created a world of new job opportunities - which are ours for the willingness to learn and to adapt. and to adapt.

Similarly, the world's economy has undergone sweeping change. Today, the worth of the Mexican peso or the relative instability of the Saudi Arabian government dramatically impacts our industries and consumer goods prices.

We have become economically interdependent with the remainder of the world. Nowhere is this linkage more apparent than in the food and energy industries. Sixty percent of American wheat and soybeans are shipped abroad at present. And we cannot ignore the economic crisis started by OPEC in 1973 and which continues to affect all of our lives.

Closer to home, the texture of American life has been rewoven by shifting patterns of demographics. The post-World War II baby boom generation has matured. The birth rate has declined. And, thankfully, life expectancy has increased. This so-called "Greying of America" has far-reaching implications for government as the demand for services such as child care, nursing homes, health care, and Social Security increases. Government must, therefore, be aware of demographic information in its long-term planning.

Nebraskans are blessed with a natural resource base which we have used to create a strong agricultural economy. We have come to see that the security of that resource base and our way of life depends on our ability and willingness to manage our water and soil.

A consensus is building for a balanced program of resource management directed whenever possible at the local level. The Legislature has already taken steps in this direction. However, more work is needed. This will not be an easy task, but the future of Nebraska is at stake.

Finally, we face a grave, immediate fiscal situation. Although serious in nature, the problem is painfully simple. For the last two years, this state's government has spent more money than it has collected for its coffers. As a result we have exhausted an enormous state general fund surplus. We have been forced to use a number of measures including the lapsing of cash funds, and interfund borrowing.

These actions were taken in the belief that the economy would suddenly turn around. The economy has not turned around and this fact only compounds our commitment in the next fiscal year to expenditures which far exceed revenues generated by either existing or any reasonable tax rate increases.

But, like any other problem, this one can be remedied, if we work together. Initially, we must prioritize the functions of this state government, making more efficient and effective those functions to which we ascribe primary importance and reducing or eliminating those to which we assign a lower priority. In this way, we will pay only for those necessary facets of government which we can afford under realistic tax rates.

I believe we should view this fiscal situation not as an overwhelming or overriding preoccupation, but as a golden opportunity to streamline and strengthen state government. It will take a good deal of hard work and cooperation, but together we can meet the challenge.

But while we pay attention to the business at hand, that is our own state's financial problems, we will not ignore the financial problems of our federal government. The financing of our nation's well-being is now at critical ... and perhaps an historic ... point. The enormous federal deficit is devouring private investment, keeping interest rates high, and depressing farm prices.

It is clear that our appetite for federal spending must be curbed. Simply reducing the size of government operations, federal aid to state and local governments, and need related entitlements while hoping that we will grow out of this crisis is clearly not the answer.

While none of us want to permit the erosion of vital defense programs, we can no longer afford to short-change those strategies that are essential to our economic recovery. Billions of dollars in the defense budget can be cut without harming our national security. Indeed prudent reductions will improve our posture.

As Governor I intend to insist that our national leaders get tough and pay for only those things we genuinely need for a lean, modern and professional defense. This country is in economic trouble and getting tough is the only way we can get out.

Clearly, we cannot afford to ignore the forces of change or the myriad issues they present. Problems do not solve themselves. Nor are they solved by inaction. Nor will they subside if we simply wait. In the absence of concern, commitment, and action, problems thrive. They need not. By marshalling the considerable resources Nebraskans possess, we can lead the nation-wide battle to restore prosperity and renew hope.

I will begin to wage that battle in my office. If we are to maintain control of our state government, we must have the tools to effectively manage this 1.7 billion dollar entity. My administration will be characterized by its use of top talent and management tools, building on the strong base provided by our outstanding state employees and supplementing when necessary from business and other states. I have already called upon our state's business leaders to assist us in bringing new management ideas to state government.

Accessibility and public accountability will be trademarks of this administration. We will present issues to the people of Nebraska, and seek their advice on directions we should take. To facilitate this process, I have visited with representatives of both the private media and the Nebraska Educational Television Network regarding ways this medium can be used to provide information on state government, and to establish a dialogue on contemporary issues, such as soil and water policy, education, affirmative action, and state finances.

Moreover, I will ask that the awesome human resources of this state be diligently applied to the following agenda of needs.

1. First, we face a compelling crisis in agriculture. Farmers have already planted their wheat and in five months will be planting corn and other feed grains knowing that the current value will not cover operating costs. Our existing stocks of inventory and the strong dollar threaten to keep commodity prices and farm income depressed throughout 1983.

In this State agriculture provides the fuel for economic growth. Farm and ranch income provides a large portion of the income base in our economy. The purchases of farm and ranch income begin a cycle of economic activity which provides more jobs than any other industry.

Many people have said to me that the Governor has little influence over farm prices. They feel a sense of hopelessness and worry that nothing can be done to help.

But though I know that I can't magically increase agricultural income, I believe passionately that it can be done and that we can do it.

It is my belief that in order to want to solve this problem Nebraskans are going to have to continue to work towards a better understanding of the connection between the prosperity of farmers and ranchers and their own prosperity. When the price of food increases our state's standard of living will increase. This is much the same as the standard of living in Texas and Oklahoma increasing when the price of a barrel of crude oil increases. It troubles me when there are Nebraskans who know the current price of a barrel of oil but do not know the price for a bushel of corn.

I intend to work hard to help Nebraskans--urban and rural alike, understand the connections between higher commodity prices and better schools, between profitable agriculture and property tax relief, between strong farms and strong communities. I also intend to work with the official representatives of farm states and farm groups to unite and deliver a clear, resounding message to Washington: That profits must return to the farmers and ranchers of Nebraska if we are to be a truly secure Nation in the future.

My offices and the resources of this administration will be placed squarely behind the goal of raising farm income in Nebraska. Working with our Congressional delegation, farm organizations, commodity groups, business leaders, and the University of Nebraska, we will achieve that goal.

I also intend to remind Nebraskans that we cannot permit the current economic crisis to detract us from our long standing and desperately needed commitment to soil conservation and water management.

2. Secondly, this administration intends to aggressively pursue economic development in our State. My strong sense of urgency to pursue this goal is based upon two things:

A. At least 50,000 Nebraskans are currently without work. Many of the trades have been unemployed for over two years. There are several thousand meat cutters recently laid off who may never be rehired. These people expect and deserve our attention.

B. Practically every other state has begun to compete for new industry. Practically every other state which cares about its people is wrestling with the dilemma of structural unemployment.

I intend to accomplish the goal of increased employment by targeting and recruiting food processing and communications/information industry for Nebraska.

I also intend to achieve this goal by recognizing and responding to the crucial elements of any relocation or expansion decision. These elements will include the availability and affordability of financing, the potential for profit, and the likelihood of growth. These decisions will also be influenced by the quality of life in Nebraska. Which means the quality of our schools, our roads, our recreation, and our arts, just to name a few.

3. Third, the agenda I set forth today is a rigorous one which demands not only good intentions but considerable skill and expertise. We would therefore be remiss to reduce our investment in education. A short-term cost savings would be repaid with lower productivity and a declining standard of living.

Education is the conservative commitment of those of us who believe that it is people who solve our problems. Minimal government begins with education because we are giving people the tools to do the job themselves.

Education is also the means by which we pursue equality. Through universal education we are attempting to give all people equal opportunity for the pursuit of happiness.

I will also ask that our educational institutions and businesses develop plans to stimulate public interest in and use of the computer. As this valuable tool moves from the corporate inner-sanctum to the homes and workplaces of America, knowledge of data processing - in short, computer literacy - becomes essential. By 1985, more than half of our jobs will use computers in some way. Properly used, that can increase the efficiency and potential of our lives.

At the same time, I will encourage our learning institutions in their efforts to heighten appreciation and understanding of the rich cultural, literary, and artistic heritage we Nebraskans share. As the future rushes towards us, an understanding of the roots from which we grew is indeed valuable.

4. Finally, I intend to assist Nebraskans in preparing for and living with our energy dependency. The most substantive response to the energy crisis of the 1970's occurred at the local level, with consumers, producers, and government providing a base for action. Those efforts have been aided by this Legislature, I intend to vigorously support programs designed to reduce Nebraska's energy dependence.

Our state must become a leader in practical directions for new energy sources and greater efficiency. We must continue to weatherize public buildings. We must continue to assist low-income and elderly citizens in efforts to reduce their energy use. We must continue to support development of alternative fuels ranging from solar to grain alcohol.

As part of this drive, I intend to work with our Congressional delegation and surrounding states to effect changes in ever-escalating natural gas contracts. It is foolish to expect public support for energy conservation when the only reward is higher prices.

As technological and political changes have swept over us, I have also witnessed a disturbing trend. People in this State and in our Nation feel an increasing sense of helplessness. They do not feel a part of their Government. They wonder what difference one person and one vote can make.

But I tell you that one person can with facts, with force and with conviction have a tremendous impact upon the course of events. As it is chiseled into the granite on the north face of the Capitol as a reminder to all of us, "The salvation of the State is watchfulness in the citizen."

I look forward to the next four years, confident that we will succeed in addressing these issues and more, I mark today not as merely a new beginning, but as a bold step forward for the state. Let us remember in the months ahead that compromise is not a sign of weakness, but of constructive cooperation. Let us remember that commitment must be demonstrated by action and not by words alone. And, as we move forward, let us recall the words of Hannibal as he prepared to cross the Swiss Alps: "We will either find a way or make one".

The Governor, Chief Justice, associate Justices, newly elected state officials, Congressional delegation and families were escorted from the Chamber.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

December 30, 1982

Dear Senator Fenger:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the application of the pawn brokers law, and more specifically as to whether or not it applies to dealers who take trade-ins, such as those who sell new and used automobiles or guns.

Section 69-201 (Reissue 1981) defines pawn brokers as: "Any person engaged in the business of lending money upon chattle property for security and requiring possession of the property so mortgaged on condition of returning the same upon payment of a stipulated amount of money, or purchasing property on condition of selling it back at a stipulated price."

Unless a merchant falls within this definition, the pawn broker law would not apply. If, for example, an automobile dealer loaned money and retained possession of the borrower's automobile as security, or purchased an automobile from an individual on the condition of selling it back at a stipulated price, the dealer would then fall within the provisions of the pawn broker law.

Unless there is need for changing the overall meaning or coverage of the pawn brokers law, we see no present need for clarification or refinement.

Very truly yours,

Dear Senator Vickers:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning proposed amendments to the Weed Eradication and Control Act.

Specifically you have asked how far a local administrative agency, such as a weed control authority, may go in assessment and collection of fines.

From our examination of your proposed amendments, your intent appears to be to make the failure to control noxious weed a continuing misdemeanor, subject to a fine of up to $50.00 per day. This provision for a penalty appears to be not withstanding, and in addition to, the penalty provided in §2-963.

In answer to your specific question, we are not aware of any authority for an administrative agency to assess and collect fines for the violation of provision of our laws. When a violation of provisions of our statutes occur, it is the responsibility of the county attorneys to initiate a complaint and only the courts have authority to impose fines and penalties, as provided by law.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 1
January 6, 1983

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have inquired whether a bill containing the following language would relieve counties and municipalities of liability due to the negligent or intentional acts of their prisoners assigned to community service projects during their incarceration. "No prisoner who works on a community service related project shall be deemed an agent, employee, or servant of the city, county, or court having jurisdiction over the prisoner." At the outset we must note that there are numerous potential theories of political subdivision liability which come to mind which would not be avoided by the language you propose, e.g., negligent supervision of prisoners, federal civil rights liability for acts of prisoners. There may well be other theories of potential liability which do not occur to us absent a specific set of facts and we do not presume to encompass them in this opinion.

It is our opinion, however, that the language you propose, if incorporated as a part of the Political Subdivisions Tort Claims Act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-2401 et seq. (Reissue 1977), could protect political subdivisions from a portion of their potential liability under a correctional program such as you have described. We cannot, however, based on the information presently before us, give you a comprehensive assurance that political subdivision liability can be avoided by the enactment of the language you propose.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 2
January 6, 1983

Dear Senator Vickers:

This is in reply to your inquiry, together with a rough draft of a bill to substantially eliminate "insanity" as a defense. We assume you are contemplating introducing similar legislation.

Enclosed is a copy of a previous opinion of this office concerning a bill similar to yours, which was not intended to eliminate the requirement of the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt the mental element, or mens rea, required of a particular crime. We think this opinion remains valid and is applicable to your proposal.

We have also studied the procedural requirements, as you requested, and do not feel we would have any difficulty defending the constitutionality of such procedures.

The problems of holding a person beyond the statutory term provided for a conviction, or the failure to impose a sentence indefinitely until after mental treatment such as condemned in State v. Shaw, 202 Neb. 766 (1979), are not present in your bill.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

January 10, 1983

Patrick J. O'Donnell
Clerk of the Legislature

Re: Board of Public Roads, Classifications & Standards

Dear Mr. Clerk:

I am writing this letter to you, hoping you will forward it to the appropriate committee who will be handling legislative confirmation for members of the Board of Public Roads, Classifications & Standards. In addition, I am sending to you a certification with various attachments.

The reason for my letter appears on page 24 of the legislative journal for the second day, January 6, 1983. In the journal there was a letter under the signature of Charles Thone addressed to the President, Speaker and the Members dated May 20, 1982. The last sentence of that letter indicates that the expiration date for all appointees is November 3, 1983. This is incorrect. The terms for Lillian Haggart and Richard Erixson do in fact expire November 3, 1983. However, the terms for the appointments of David O. Coolidge, Heasty W. Reesman, Marvin Athey and Bill Lindholm all expire November 3, 1985.

In that regard I have prepared the certification with attending documents such as copies of the statute and actual appointment forms.

Thank you for your help in getting this matter corrected with the appropriate legislative committee.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) ALLEN J. BEERMANN
Secretary of State

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Member Excused

Mr. Clark asked unanimous consent to be excused for the remainder of the day. No objections. So ordered.

MOTION - Adopt Rules

Mr. Hoagland moved to adopt the permanent rules.

Mr. Wesely offered the following rule changes:

1. Bills returned from the Governor. Amend Rule 7, Sec. 7 by adding new subsection as follows:

(e) Whenever a bill is returned from the Governor for further action pursuant to the Legislature's request for such return, motions for reconsideration necessarily incident to opening a bill for further action shall be admitted regardless of the time limitation otherwise imposed by this rule.

Explanation: Clarifies that the Legislature may request that a bill be returned from the Governor for technical corrections at any time before the Governor takes action.

2. Clarify Final Committee Action. Amend Rule 3, Sec. 16 as follows:

Sec. 16. Indefinitely Postponed Bills. If the committee ~~report~~ report action on a bill be to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed.

Explanation: This change makes it consistent in the rules that a bill is considered indefinitely postponed when the committee votes (unless later reconsidered by the committee), rather than when the committee report is filed.

3. Germaneness. Amend Rule 7, Sec. 3(d) as follows:

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment. Any amendment that is not germane is out of order. Germane amendments relate only to details of the specific subject of the bill and must be in a natural and logical sequence to the subject matter of the original proposal. A nongermane amendment includes one that relates to a substantially different subject or accomplishes substantially different purpose than that of the original bill to which it is proposed.

And amend Rule 1, Sec. 12 as follows:

~~Sec. 12. President Decide Order of Speaking.~~ Challenge of Ruling of the Chair. The President may speak to a point of order in preference to members, and shall decide the questions or order, subject to a challenge to the Legislature by any member, on which challenge no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the Legislature. In the event of a challenge to a ruling of the Chair, the ruling shall be restated and the question shall be phrased: "Shall the chair be overruled?". A majority of those present shall be required to overrule the Chair, except that if the Chair is challenged on the question of germaneness, a three-fifths majority shall be required to overrule the Chair.

Explanation: This rule change first provides a definition of germaneness and second, provides that a challenge to the chair's decision on germaneness requires a 3/5 vote instead of a majority of those present.

4. Explanation of Votes. Amend Rule 2, Sec. 5 as follows:

Sec. 5. Absent Members, Explanation of Vote. ~~Absent Members who are shown as excused and not voting~~ may have inserted into the Journal how they would have voted had they been present.

Explanation: Requires that senators be recorded as excused to insert an explanation of how they would have voted into the Journal.

5. Priority Bills. Amend Rule 5, Sec. 6 as follows:

(b) Each ~~standing committee~~ chairperson of those committees which are authorized to hold public hearings on bills may designate two of the committee's bills as priority bills.

(c) The Speaker may designate ~~any~~ up to 25 additional ~~number of~~ priority bills.

(h) Priority bills shall generally be considered ahead of all other bills at each stage of debate, except that priority bills requiring the expenditure of appropriated funds ~~may shall~~ be held on final reading until such time as the annual appropriations bills have been passed. A priority bill which fails to advance after two votes on general file, or after one vote on select file, shall return to nonpriority status.

Explanation: These changes (1) broaden the committees which may designate priority bills; (2) limit the Speaker to 25 priority bills; and (3) require that all A-bills must be held for final passage until after the annual appropriations bills have passed.

8. Public Hearings. Amend Rule 3, Sec. 12 as follows:

Sec. 12. Public Hearing, Notice. Before taking final action on a bill or resolution, a committee shall hold a public hearing thereon and shall give at least seven calendar days' notice, after the bill shall have been printed, by publication in the Legislative Journal. No bill having been set for public hearing shall be withdrawn nor the hearing cancelled within seven calendar days of the date set for public hearing, ~~except for hearings set during the first 20 legislative days of each session, there shall be required only five calendar days' notice of said hearing or withdrawal of said bill.~~

Amend Rule 7, Sec. 1 as follows:

...The Legislature shall in odd-numbered years, after the period allowed for the introduction of bills, recess for five (5) calendar days. During such recess committees shall prepare, for public distribution, a calendar of hearing dates. No committee hearings shall be held ~~during~~ until after the recess provided for in this section....

Explanation: The first part of this rule change standardizes hearing notice provisions to require 7 calendar days notice throughout the session. The second part clarifies that no hearings may be held until after the 5 day recess following the introduction of bills during the odd-numbered years. The intent of this rule change is to allow legislators and the public adequate time to familiarize themselves with legislation introduced at the beginning of the session.

10. Referencing of Resolutions. Amend Rule 4, Sec. 8 as follows:

Sec. 8. Reference to Committee. Resolutions other than those covered by Secs. 2 and 3 of this rule ~~shall may~~ be referred to the Executive Board for referencing to the appropriate committee upon a written request signed by 10 members of the Legislature ~~a committee if a motion to do so is adopted by a majority of the elected members.~~

Explanation: This rule change permits resolutions to be referred to a committee at the request of 10 senators, rather than by a majority vote.

Mr. Chambers offered the following amendment:

Amend proposal No. 3 (Germaneness):

Sec. 12 - strike new language in last 3 lines beginning with "except".

The Chambers amendment was adopted with 33 ayes, 7 nays, 8 present and not voting, and 1 excused and not voting.

Mr. Chambers offered the following amendment:

Amend proposal #10: Strike new language.

Mr. Chambers requested a ruling of the Chair on the number of votes required to adopt an amendment to the Wesley amendment.

The Chair ruled that Rule 2, Section 1 requires twenty-five votes on the adoption.

The Chambers amendment was adopted with 25 ayes, 14 nays, 9 present and not voting, and 1 excused and not voting.

(e) No change.

(f) New section: The introducers of all bills must submit a statement of intent for each bill to the appropriate committee chairperson at least 24 hours prior to the bill's hearing. The statement of intent should discuss clearly and completely the purposes and effects of the bill.

Explanation: Rule 5 has been re-written to clarify several sections; no substantive changes are made. Section (d) removes ineffective language requiring a 4/5 vote, since this rule could be suspended with 30 votes anyway.

Mr. Lamb offered the following amendment to the Wesely proposed rule change:

Amend Rule 5, sec. 5(d) as follows:

~~(d) Individual members shall not be limited as to bill introduction.~~

For the 1984 Legislative Session and all subsequent Legislative Sessions each member shall be limited as an introducer to a total of 10 bills for each session. Each committee shall be limited as an introducer to a total of ~~8~~ 10 bills for each regular session of the Legislature. Bills introduced as a result of an interim study of the Legislative Council shall be included within the limitations prescribed by this section. Provided, to suspend the rules to allow a committee to exceed the ~~8~~ 10 bill limit a four-fifths vote shall be required. Bills introduced under Rule 5, Sec. 3(a) and bills introduced at the request of the Governor will not be included in this limitation.

Mrs. Marsh moved the previous question. The question is, "Shall the debate now close?"

Mr. Wesely offered the following proposed rule change:

7. Revised Committee Statements. Amend Rule 3, Sec. 17 by adding a new subsection as follows:

(d) When a bill is advanced to E & R for engrossment and it has been significantly amended on General File or Select File, then the chairperson of the committee which heard the bill shall direct staff to prepare a revised committee statement summarizing the bill as amended, and to file the statement with the Clerk of the Legislature within 2 legislative days for distribution to each senator.

Explanation: Committee statements are prepared when a bill is advanced to the floor of the Legislature but are never changed even when a bill is significantly amended on General File or Select File. This rule change would require that just as fiscal notes are updated to reflect changes in a bill's fiscal impact, committee statements must be updated to reflect changes in a bill's impact.

Explanation: This changes the votes required to suspend the rules from 30 to 33 votes.

Mr. Wesely asked unanimous consent to withdraw his proposed rule change. No objections. So ordered.

Mr. Nichol offered the following proposed rule change:

Amend Rule 7, Section 1 to read as follows:

Section 1. Meeting Time, Restrictions.(a) The Legislature shall meet annually at 10:00 a.m. on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January of each year and thereafter on each legislative day at 9:00 a.m., and adjourn not later than 1:00 p.m., unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote of its members present and voting thereon. #### ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 4

Dear Senator Pappas:

You have inquired whether, in our opinion, new legislation would be appropriate to allow records of the State of Nebraska Department of Correctional Services (DCS) to be made available to local school districts for the purposes of ascertaining what testing, training and education have been made available to a juvenile while in DCS custody. We believe that such legislation would certainly clarify the situation and therefore be appropriate.

Your letter calls our attention to an informal opinion of this office dated August 19, 1977, concerning an interpretation of Neb.Rev.Stat. §83-178 (Reissue 1981). That opinion concludes that "other state agencies having a legitimate interest in an inmate file" can have access under §83-178 to information contained in DCS files. However, since your area of concern does not involve state agencies but local political subdivisions and further involves, we assume, only juveniles, we believe it would be best to contemplate the enactment of new legislation or the amendment of present legislation to obtain the goals you have expressed.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 5
January 10, 1983

Dear Senator Wiitala:

This will acknowledge our receipt of your letter of January 5, 1983. In that letter you ask if a proposed legislative bill which you contemplate introducing this legislative session is constitutional. The same is hereinafter discussed.

We note that the proposed legislative bill described above would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §85-902(2) (b) (iv) (Reissue 1981) and thus change the composition of the Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education as follows:

... one member from ~~the a governing board of an independent college and university sector of this state~~ appointed by the Governor ~~from an association of independent, degree-granting, regionally accredited colleges and universities in Nebraska, with the advice of the independent colleges, and ...~~

It is, of course, well settled law that a statute is open to construction only where the language used therein requires interpretation or may be reasonably considered ambiguous. The fact, alone, that a legislative act is open to the criticism that it is uncertain or indefinite in some of its provisions does not ipso facto render it unconstitutional. If, however, the uncertain or indefinite portion of a statute is essential to, or connected with, the statute as a whole, it may, of course, render the entire statute invalid. See, State ex rel. Holloran v. Hawes, 203 Neb. 405, 279 N.W.2d 96 (1979).

Applying the above-stated legal principles to the above-quoted amendment to Neb.Rev.Stat. §85-902(2) (b) (iv) (Reissue 1981), we find that we are unable to discern the meaning to be subscribed to the words "association of independent, degree-granting, regionally accredited colleges and universities in Nebraska." Indeed, there could even be two or more of said associations in which case the question would be from which association could the Governor appoint the member. Moreover, the uncertain or indefinite meaning of the words "association of independent, degree-granting, regionally accredited colleges and universities in Nebraska" is connected with the statute as a whole for the reason that the member to be appointed from this group is one of twelve persons which comprise the membership of the Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education. It is therefore our opinion that the proposed legislative bill described above is ambiguous and therefore a court would find it unconstitutional.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 6
January 7, 1983

Dear Senator Vickers:

This is in response to your letter of December 16, 1982, wherein you state that you are seriously contemplating the introduction of legislation which would regulate interstate pipelines.

You have asked whether the Legislature could, consistent with the federal Constitution Interstate Commerce Clause, give Natural Resource Districts (NRDs) authority to monitor soil erosion activities of an interstate pipeline in order to assure compliance with federally imposed soil erosion standards; and whether the Legislature could delegate to the NRDs authority to establish minimum standards for soil erosion prevention which would apply to interstate pipelines.

We conclude that regulation of interstate pipelines which carry natural gas, oil (under most circumstances), and commodities has been pre-empted by Congress, so that any state law which conflicts with the federal law governing regulation of the aforesaid substances must give way to the federal law by virtue of the Supremacy Clause, United States Constitution, Article VI.

The Interstate Commerce Act was amended by the Hepburn Act of 1906, and applies to regulate common carriers engaged in the transportation of oil or other commodities. 49 U.S.C.A., §1(1)(b), §1(3)(a).

The intent of the Act was to prevent carriers of interstate oil from dictating payment of excessive rates before they would accept oil from sellers for transportation. United States v. Ohio Oil Company, 34 S.Ct. 956, 234 U.S. 548, 58 L.Ed. 1459 (1913). But, in keeping with the intent stated, it has been held that a company transporting oil interstate from its own wells is not within the Act or jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission. United States v. Ohio Oil Company, supra. Consequently, under circumstances where interstate oil only is being transported from the pipeline company's oil field, there would appear to be little question that the state may regulate the pipeline transporting that oil.

Nevertheless, and with regard to all other oil transported by interstate pipelines, it has been held that the field of interstate commerce has been pre-empted by Congress, and legislation arising therefrom in that regard is the supreme law of the land. Valvoline Oil Company v. United States, 60 S.Ct. 160, 308 U.S. 141, 84 L.Ed. 151 (Penn. 1939). And, in reviewing 49 U.S.C.A. §1 et seq., we note that the federal regulatory scheme contained therein is relatively complete, which would indicate an intent by the federal government, as pointed out by the Valvoline case, to pre-empt regulation of interstate transportation of oil, other than oil originating at the pipeline company's own field.

With regard to interstate gas pipelines, the construction, installation, maintenance, and operation of the line is subject to the provisions of the Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Act (NGPSA) of 1968 (49 U.S.C. §1671 et seq.). The provisions and legislative history of the NGPSA "indicate quite clearly that federal legislation has pre-empted the entire field of gas pipeline safety," which would include aspects of construction in the interest of "uniformity of regulation." Northern Border Pipeline Company v. Jackson County, 512 F.Supp. 1261 (1981).

Even though a law which you might introduce in Nebraska would be drafted in terms of natural resource protection, such fact would still not be sufficient to remove the subject matter of the law from the pre-empted field of interstate commerce because the issue of whether federal legislation pre-empts state and local regulation "rests on the effect rather than the stated purposes of the legislation." Northern Border Pipeline Company v. Jackson County, Id., 1265. To be more specific,

When Congress has unmistakably ordained that its enactments alone are to regulate a part of commerce, state laws regulating that aspect of commerce must fall. This result is compelled whether Congress' command is explicitly stated in the statute's language or implicitly contained in its structure and purpose.

Florida Lime and Avocado Growers Inc. v. Paul, 373 U.S. 132, 142, 10 L.Ed. 2d 248, 83 S.Ct. 1210 (1963); City of Burbank v. Lockheed Air Terminal, Inc., 411 U.S. 624, 36 L.Ed.2d 547, 93 S.Ct. 1854 (1973); Rice v. Santa Fe Elevator Corporation, 331 U.S. at 230, 91 L.Ed. 1447, 67 S.Ct. 1146.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 7

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This letter is in response to your correspondence of January 11, 1983, in which you inquired as to any changes which this office might suggest in connection with the statutes governing bid rigging or similar antitrust violations. We do have several suggestions for possible changes in our state's antitrust laws.

First of all, our state criminal sanctions for antitrust violations which parallel the federal Sherman Antitrust Act and which are contained in the Junkin Act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-801, et seq. (Reissue 1978), make violation of the antitrust laws a misdemeanor in Nebraska. Similar violations of the federal laws are a felony under the federal statutes. We suggest that it would not be inappropriate if our criminal sanctions were to track the corresponding federal statutes and if our criminal statutes were to make violation of the antitrust laws a felony.

Second, we suggest a possible change in §59-1608 of the Nebraska Consumer Protection Act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1601 et seq. (Reissue 1978). That particular section allows this office to bring an enforcement action to restrain or prevent violation of the antitrust laws in instances where individual consumers, rather than the state, have been damaged by antitrust violations. Under the terms of §59-1608, the "prevailing party" in such an action may recover the costs of the action including attorney's fees. In some enforcement actions initiated by this office under this section, defendants have argued that they were entitled to attorney's fees under this section should they prevail in the action. This possibility of an award of attorney's fees against the state in instances when we are acting in a good-faith prosecutorial function can seriously affect the enforcement decisions of this office. For example, when we are faced with an ongoing violation which requires immediate action, we may well be forced to delay filing a lawsuit until we have obtained absolutely clear cut evidence. Obviously, such evidence in an antitrust action is often very difficult to obtain. Therefore, we suggest that §59-1608 be amended in such a way that only the state may recover costs and attorney's fees should it prevail in an enforcement action. This is consistent with §59-1609, which allows the state to recover attorney's fees when it is successful in an action for antitrust damages. Alternatively, §59-1608 could be amended in such a way as to allow defendants to obtain attorney's fees against the state upon a showing of bad faith enforcement by the prosecuting entity.

Third, we note that the Consumer Protection Act contains no specific venue provisions for actions by this office under §§59-1608, 59-1609, 59-1614, and 59-1615. In the past we have brought such actions in the county where the defendants were located and where the antitrust violation occurred. In connection with our investigation of collusive bidding activities, some of the possible defendants are out-of-state companies and under the current status of the statutes, it is unclear as to the proper venue for such defendants. We suggest that some form of general venue statute similar to that contained in §59-1610 be added to the Consumer Protection Act so that the state may bring an enforcement action or sue for damages in either the district court of the county in which the alleged violator resides or has his principle place of business, or in the district court of Lancaster County.

Finally, in regard to your question concerning funds or resources for our investigation of collusive bidding, we note that the antitrust division of this office currently has no full time investigator to conduct antitrust investigations. Appropriate funding for such a full time investigator position would be helpful to us in connection with our investigation of collusive bidding and also in our investigation of other antitrust violations.

Very truly yours,

Section 1. That at the general election in November 1984 there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval the following amendment to add a new section to Article VIII, of the Constitution of Nebraska, which is hereby proposed by the Legislature:

"Section 1C. (1) The Legislature shall designate by statute the fiscal year for the State of Nebraska.

The Legislature may provide that the increase allowed or decrease mandated by this subsection be at least one per cent.

(10) The limits on aggregate revenue provided in subsections (7) to (10) of this section may be exceeded for a period of one fiscal year only upon a declaration of an emergency made by a four-fifths vote of the Legislature, following a public hearing, and approved by the Governor.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 9
January 17, 1983

Dear Senator Wagner:

You have requested an opinion of this office concerning whether an ambiguity exists which might require corrective legislation in regard to vehicle width restrictions on farm equipment dealers hauling or transporting combines. Specifically, you have asked if a farm equipment dealer hauling a combine must be within the fifteen foot width limit of subsection (5) of Neb.Rev.Stat. §39-6,177, (1982 Supp.), if such dealer is transporting the combine from factory to shop for repair; transporting the combine from factory to shop for sale or lease; delivering the combine to a buyer or lessee from the factory or shop; or delivering the combine after repair. Further, you have asked to whom does the limitations of subsection (5) of section 39-6,177 apply if subsection (6) of section 39-6,177 applies to the above situations.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §39-6,177 (1982 Supp.) provides in pertinent part:

“No vehicle shall exceed a total outside width, including any load thereon, of eight feet, except that such prohibition shall not apply to . . . (5) combines and vehicles used in transporting combines, and only when transporting combines, to be engaged in harvesting, while being transported into or through the state during daylight hours, when the total width, including the width of the combine being transported does not exceed fifteen feet, except that vehicles used in transporting combines may, when necessary to the harvesting operation, travel unloaded for distances not exceed twenty five miles, while the combine to be transported is engaged in a harvesting operation, (6) farm equipment dealers hauling, driving, delivering, or picking up farm equipment, including portable livestock buildings not exceeding fourteen feet in width, or implements of husbandry during daylight hours, . . .”

We are of the opinion that a farm equipment dealer, transporting a combine under all of the circumstances you have suggested, does so under subsection (6) of section 39-6,177, and accordingly, is exempt from width restrictions during daylight hours. In fact, all movements of farm equipment by farm equipment dealers during daylight hours fall within the terms of subsection (6), that is “hauling”, “driving”, “delivering”, or “picking up” farm equipment. In our opinion, subsection (5) of section 39-6,177 applies to those persons other than equipment dealers and farmers in the normal course of their farming operations, who are transporting combines, the most obvious member of that group of persons being custom combiners who travel through the state during the harvest season.

In conclusion, we find no ambiguity existing in Neb.Rev.Stat. §39-6,177 (1982 Supp.) regarding width restrictions on farm equipment dealers hauling or transporting combines.

Very truly yours,

RESOLUTION*LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 23.

Introduced by Haberman, 44th District.

WHEREAS, a decision to take bold, aggressive action to chart a new course for agriculture and the economy is essential; and

WHEREAS, section 2554 of the Surplus Agriculture Commodities Disposal Act of 1982 gives the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to contract for the conversion of commodities owned by the Commodities Credit Corporation into liquid fuels and agricultural commodity byproducts; and

WHEREAS, President Reagan in publicly signing the Surplus Agriculture Commodities Disposal Act of 1982 into law while in Omaha in October of 1982 realizes that surplus commodities and their conversion to liquid fuels is in the best interests of the public and the economy; and

WHEREAS, using reserve grain and converting stocks owned by the Commodities Credit Corporation to liquid fuels can only speed the recovery of the United States economy and provide an impetus to the alcohol fuels industry, while helping the federal budget, since there is approximately seventy-six million bushels of Commodity Credit Corporation wheat, corn, and sorghum in Nebraska which could be contracted out for conversion to grain alcohol.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA,

FIRST SESSION:

1. The Legislature of Nebraska requests that the Secretary of Agriculture, John Block, immediately launch a special project to begin working with Nebraska's grain and alcohol leaders and experts as well as state government leaders, to enact a new and creative state-federal project to convert Commodity Credit Corporation grain to liquid fuel.

2. That a copy of this resolution be presented to the Secretary of Agriculture, John Block, and the Nebraska congressional delegation.

Laid over.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 10
January 20, 1983

Dear Senator H. Peterson:

You have inquired whether any problems could arise because of the differences in the "good time credits" contemplated by the current LB 180 and those enacted by Laws 1982, LB 231 which are presently found at Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-2810 and §23-2811 (1982 Cum. Supp.).

Initially, we call to your attention the fact that we entertain substantial concerns as to the constitutionality of §23-2810 and §23-2811, and that LB 180 suffers, in our opinion, from the same constitutional defects. Section 23-2811 and Secs. 2-4 of LB 180 may well represent areas of legitimate legislative action. However, §23-2810 and Sec. 1 of LB 180 which hinge the availability of good time credits to prisoners upon the population of the county within which the prisoner is housed, we believe violates the equal protection clauses of both the federal and our state's constitution. This conclusion is based upon the premise that any attempt to provide significantly different benefits to prisoners held in the various counties of this state where the only distinguishing feature is the population of the county in which that prisoner is held, violates the concept of equal protection of the law. We are aware of no rational basis by which one could vary the amount or availability of good time credit to the prisoners of political subdivisions of this state based solely upon the population of the county in which that prisoner is housed.

Specifically, we do not believe that prisoners in less populous counties can appropriately be granted greater amounts of good time credit than prisoners housed in more populous counties. We also note that §23-2811 applies to "any person sentenced to a city or county jail." LB 180 applies, as we understand it, only to persons committed to county jails. Section 23-2811 grants good time to any prisoner sentenced in a city or county facility who does not violate rules of discipline or refuse a work assignment. LB 180 appears to limit the availability of good time to prisoners who have "met the required work evaluation procedures" and desire to participate in the work force program. Also, prisoners in more populous counties, as we understand it, would not have available to them the "work force program" contemplated by LB 180.

Each of the distinctions between LB 180 and §23-2810 and §23-2811 noted above raise significant equal protection questions which in our opinion would render such legislation unconstitutional. The simplest and possibly only way to avoid the equal protection problems we have discussed would be to create a uniform good time credit system or work force program applicable to all counties of this state without reference to the population of those counties. As an example, the present equal protection problems that we perceive with regard to §23-2810 and §23-2811 could, in our opinion, be resolved by repealing the provisions of §23-2810 and making the good time credits provided by §23-2811 available uniformly throughout the state.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Clerk of the Legislature

Opinion No. 12
January 21, 1983

Dear Senator Haberman:

This is in reply to your letter in which you state you are considering introducing legislation pertaining to the responsibilities of county attorneys.

You first ask:

1. It is (sic) [Is it] the responsibility of a county attorney to prosecute crimes when such crimes would be a violation of a state statute and a village ordinance.

The duty of the county attorney in this regard is set forth in Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-1201 (Supp. 1982) which provides in part:

Except as provided in section 29-3602, it shall be the duty of the county attorney, when in possession of sufficient evidence to warrant the belief that a person is guilty and can be convicted of a felony or misdemeanor, to prepare, sign, verify, and file the proper complaint against such person and to appear in the several courts of the county and prosecute the appropriate criminal proceeding on behalf of the state and county.

From the foregoing you can see that the duty to prosecute depends upon whether or not the county attorney is in possession of sufficient evidence to warrant the belief that a person is guilty and can be convicted of a felony or misdemeanor. (Section 29-3602—excepted in the foregoing—relates to pretrial diversion cases.)

In the event someone thought the county attorney was abusing the discretion given him in the above statute, the remedy would be an action for removal from office or removal by recall petition and election.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-2001 (Reissue 1977) in regard to removal, provides:

All county officers may be charged, tried, and removed from office, in the manner hereinafter provided, for (1) habitual or willful neglect of duty, (2) gross partiality, (3) oppression, (4) extortion, (5) corruption, (6) willful maladministration in office, (7) conviction of a felony, or (8) habitual drunkenness.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska in Hiatt v. Tomlinson, 100 Neb. 51, 158 N.W. 363 (1916), construed a similar statute and concluded:

To wilfully fail, neglect or refuse to enforce a law involves more than oversight or carelessness or voluntary neglect. It must be prompted by some evil intent, or legal malice, or at least be without sufficient grounds to believe that he is performing his duty. This holding is well sustained by authority.

Thus, under this procedure it would be quite difficult to sustain a charge.

The procedure for removal by recall petition and election is set forth in Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-2010 et seq. (Supp. 1982) and does not require any grounds.

Your first question couples together “a state statute and a village ordinance.” The criminal code passed by the Legislature in 1977 classifies various crimes into felonies and misdemeanors of different degrees which apply to that code and any statute passed thereafter by the Legislature. Village ordinances would not fall within the duty of the county attorney to prosecute.

You next ask:

2. What is the proper course of action for a county attorney to pursue in a situation in which he has acknowledged a conflict of interest and chooses not to prosecute a criminal act because of such conflict of interest.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-1205 (Reissue 1977) provides:

In the absence, sickness or disability of the county attorney and his deputies, or upon request of the county attorney for good cause, the court may appoint an attorney to act as county attorney in any investigation, appearance, or trial, by an order to be entered upon the minutes of the court, but who shall receive no compensation from the county except as provided for in section 23-1204.01.

In Stewart v. McCauley, 178 Neb. 412, 133 N.W.2d 921 (1965), the Supreme Court of Nebraska in interpreting this section stated:

Section 23-1205, R.R.S. 1943, gives the district court the authority to appoint an acting county attorney in the absence, sickness, or disability of the county attorney. As early as Gandy v. State, 27 Neb. 707, 43 N.W. 747, the word "disability" was interpreted to cover situations where the county attorney by reason of prior employment disqualified himself to act in the new case. . . . The purpose of sections 23-1205 and 23-1206, R.R.S. 1943, is the protection of the public by making certain that a county attorney's duties shall not be influenced by private interests. See Ress v. Shepherd, 84 Neb. 268, 120 N.W. 1132.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska previously held in the case of Spaulding v. State, 61 Neb. 289, 85 N.W. 80 (1901), that it was proper for the district court, on its own motion, to appoint an acting county attorney to prosecute a case which the county attorney had refused to prosecute. The evidence relied on by the court to support the district judge does not appear in that case.

Under the interpretation of the above statute, the proper course of action, assuming it is a case which should be prosecuted under §23-1201 (Supp. 1982) (the statute first quoted in part under question 1), the county attorney should request the appointment of an acting county attorney or the court, if in possession of sufficient facts to do so, could appoint one on its own motion.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 13
January 25, 1983

Dear Senator Kilgarin:

This is in response to your letter of January 20, 1983, wherein you state that you have submitted legislation in the form of LB 15 to amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §70-619 (Cum.Supp. 1982). In your letter you ask whether certain provisions presently contained in §70-619, and which LB 15 would amend, are constitutional. To be specific, the portion of §70-619 which concerned you is that part which states: “. . . No person who acquires any interest in any pension plan, retirement plan, or similar plan or contract of any district shall be eligible to hold office as a member of the board of directors. . . .” Your stated concern is that a certain segment of the population may be deprived of their “full electoral rights" as a result of the quoted provision.

Article I, Section 22, of the Nebraska Constitution provides that "all elections shall be free; and there shall be no hindrance or impediment to the right of a qualified voter to exercise the elective franchise."

Other than the general language contained in Article I, Section 22, there is apparently no Nebraska Constitutional provision expressly limiting or expanding the "elective franchise of Nebraska voters, and defining qualifications for public office.

As the court stated in State ex rel. Quinn v. Marsh, 141 Neb. 436, 3 N.W.2d 892 (1942), citing Mechem Public Officers, page 22, section 66, " 'Where . . . the Constitution does not prescribe the qualifications (for public office), it is the province and right of the legislature to declare upon what terms and subject to what conditions the right shall be conferred.' " Ibid., page 442. Consequently, there can be little doubt that the Nebraska Legislature could impose statutory conditions which a person would have to meet in order to become an elected director of a public power and irrigation district.

The question therefore becomes whether the legislative restrictions which might be imposed upon such directors are unreasonable; and the question of reasonableness is generally regarded as a proper subject of judicial review, which may include inquiry into such matter as the duties of the body to which the candidate seeks election. Id. p. 446-447.

An examination of the powers and duties of public power district directors indicates that, among other duties, a director is required to ". . . impartially . . . perform the duties of his office." Neb.Rev.Stat. §70-616 (Reissue 1981). The requirement of impartiality would apply to all funds expended by the directors, as well as to contracts which might be entered into by the directors on behalf of the district. Neb.Rev.Stat. §70-619, 70-642.02, 70-643 (Reissue 1981). In fact, it would appear that the language you seek to amend in §70-619 is directed toward the preservation of impartiality as required by §70-616, by providing that "no person who acquires any interest in any pension plan, retirement plan, or similar plan or contract of any district shall be eligible to hold office as a member of the board of directors."

Insofar as §70-619 would prohibit a director from having an interest in an item about which the director must decide, and given the requirement of §70-616 that a director act impartially in making board decisions, it is likely that the restrictions imposed by §70-619 would be regarded by a court as a reasonable exercise of the legislative power, and therefore constitutional.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 14
January 25, 1983

Dear Senator Warner:

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutional validity of section 5 of LB 26. We have reservations about the validity of the amendment to be effected by that section, as it appears to involve unreasonable class legislation.

LB 26 amends Neb.Rev.Stat. §§77-1343, 77-1345, 77-1347, and 77-1348 (Reissue 1981), which are portions of the so-called "greenbelt law" providing for special assessment of certain lands used for agricultural purposes. In general, it provides that land in an agricultural use zone and used exclusively for agricultural purposes, shall, upon application, be assessed at its value for agricultural use and not at the value it would have if devoted to other than agricultural uses.

Sections 1 through 4 of the bill would further define what is meant by "agricultural use" and "agricultural use zone," so that, presumably, some property which had previously qualified for the special assessment would no longer do so, and would, after the effective date of the act, be assessed at its actual value for other than agricultural uses.

Section 77-1348 now provides that when land that has received the special assessment becomes disqualified for such assessment, the amount the taxes on the land would have been increased during the last five years, but for the special assessment, shall be added back to the taxes due on the land, together with interest at the rate of six percent from the dates such additional taxes would have been payable if no special assessment had been in effect.

Section 5 of LB 26 amends §77-1348 to provide that where land which has been receiving the special assessment becomes disqualified on the effective date of the act solely because of the amendment of §§77-1343, 77-1344, and 77-1347 by LB 26, the additional taxes which would have been payable shall not be collected. This, in our opinion, raises serious classification problems.

Section 77-1347, as amended by LB 26, specifies the situations under which land receiving the special assessment shall become disqualified. They include notification by the taxpayer to the assessor to remove the special assessment, sale to a new owner who does not make a new application within sixty days, transfer by reason of death to a new owner who does not make a new application within 120 days, sale or transfer to an ownership making the land exempt from ad valorem taxation, the occurrence of an event which would prevent the application of the special assessment, or the land not being in an agricultural use zone.

Now let us consider two pieces of real estate, across the road from each other, both of which have been receiving the special assessment for more than five years. A zoning boundary runs down the middle of the road, and tract A is in a zoning area which qualified it for the special assessment under the old law, but not under the law as amended by LB 26. Tract B is in a zoning area which qualified for such special assessment under the old law, and also under LB 26.

Now let us assume that one week after the effective date of LB 26 both tracts of land are sold, and are devoted to residential, industrial, or commercial purposes. As to tract B, the assessor clearly has the duty to go back five years, calculate the additional taxes which would have been due, and add such additional taxes, plus interest, to the taxes due on such land.

As to tract A, however, it became disqualified because of the operation of LB 26, not because of the sale or change of use. Therefore, under section 5 of LB 26, there would be no recovery of the additional taxes. This constitutes putting the owners of tract A in a different class from the owners of tract B, with tract A being in the more favorable position. We are unable to discern any logical justification for such a result.

Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution forbids unreasonable class legislation. Our court has again and again said that a legislative classification, in order to be valid, must be based upon some reason of public policy, some substantial difference of situation or circumstances, that would naturally suggest the justice or expediency of diverse legislation with respect to the objects to be classified. See, e.g., City of Scottsbluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256, 175 N.W.2d 74 (1970), and State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, 207 Neb. 598, 300 N.W.2d 181 (1980).

Here we have one class, composed of tracts of land qualifying for the special assessment under the law in effect before the effective date of LB 26. Both tract A and tract B are in that class. Their utilization of that treatment carries with it the obligation to pay the tax saved during the five years preceding the termination of such special treatment, with interest, at the time of such termination. Now, suddenly, LB 26 would relieve the tract which was least qualified for such special treatment in the first place from the obligation to repay such additional taxes, while leaving the other tract saddled with the obligation. We fail to see the logic or justice of it.

Perhaps we could defend a provision that the passage of LB 26 would not, by itself, trigger an obligation to repay the additional taxes, so long as the actual use or ownership of the land had not changed. We might argue that in that situation, where the status of the land was changed solely by legislative action, it was not unreasonable to not require the immediate payment of the taxes saved during the preceding five years.

Where, however, after the effective date of LB 26 some event takes place, such as a change in the use of the property, which would require the payment of taxes saved during the preceding five years on property still receiving the special treatment, that event must also require the payment of taxes saved during the preceding five years on property disqualified by LB 26.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 15
January 26, 1983

Dear Senator Landis:

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutional validity of a proposed bill that would provide for a five percent discount on real estate taxes if paid on or before April 1 in counties having a population of more than 100,000 and less than 200,000, or on or before May 1 in all other counties. The April 1 and May 1 dates are apparently taken from Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-204 (Reissue 1981), and are intended to represent the first delinquent dates for real estate taxes. We note, however, that the proposed bill apparently overlooks the fact that the delinquency dates for real estate taxes in counties having a population of more than 200,000 is also April 1.

In our opinion the proposed bill would violate Article VIII, Section 4, of the Nebraska Constitution, which provides, with the exceptions not relevant here, that the Legislature shall have no power to release or discharge any county, city, township, town, or district whatever, or the inhabitants thereof, from their proportionate share of taxes due any municipal corporation, "nor shall commutation of such taxes be authorized in any form whatever."

The case of Steinacher v. Swanson, 131 Neb. 439, 268 N.W. 317 (1936), contains a discussion of the word "commutation," as used in Article VIII, Section 4, and this language:

From an examination of the definitions of the word "commutation" hereinbefore set out, and the use of the words "in any form whatever," contained in our constitutional provision, it is quite apparent that the legislature is prohibited by the Constitution from changing the method of payment of any tax once levied.

Clearly, under this constitutional provision, the legislature cannot reduce the amount of the tax, extend the time of payment, or in any manner change the method of payment.

The proposed bill would reduce the amount of the tax, and so would, in our opinion, come squarely within the language of the above case. We therefore do not believe such a provision could be successfully defended against constitutional attack.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

2        "Sec. 4. Whenever the Department of Banking

4 institutions under its supervision is necessary because
5 its capital is impaired, it is conducting its business
6 in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, or it is 7 endangering the interest of depositors or savers, the 8 Director of Banking and Finance may take immediate 9 action in the case of an emergency so declared by the 10 Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Director of 11 Banking and Finance, without the benefit of a hearing, 12 to take possession of and convert the charter, form of 13 ownership, or operating powers of any institution under 14 the department's supervision into the charter, form of 15 ownership, or operating powers of a bank to facilitate 16 the acquisition.

17        Sec. 5. The Department of Banking and Finance
18 may permit cross-industry acquisition of any failing
19 institution under its supervision or permit acquisition
20 and operation of such institutions as a bank subsidiary 21 by a bank holding company when the department determines 22 the acquisition of any of the institutions under its 23 supervision is necessary because its capital is 1 impaired, it is conducting its business in an unsafe or
2 unauthorized manner, or it is endangering the interests
3 of depositors or savers. The acquiring institution may 4 continue to operate such institution as a state
5 institution under the respective Nebraska statutes
6 notwithstanding its denomination as a bank subsidiary.
7 Acquisitions under sections 4 to 8 of this act shall be
8 deemed to be of the same nature as an acquisition of a 9 state chartered bank and shall follow such rules or 10 regulations established by the Director of Banking and 11 Finance for acquisition of state chartered banks by a 12 bank holding company.

13        Sec. 6. Whenever an application is received
14 by the Department of Banking and Finance to acquire any 15 other financial institution, the following terms and 16 conditions shall be met and such acquisitions shall be 17 valid only when and for as long as these conditions are 18 satisfied:

19        (1) The acquiring bank holding company may not

20 apply for, nor shall it operate, such a state chartered 21 institution as a nonbank subsidiary under section 4 of 22 the Federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as 23 amended;

24 (2) The state chartered institution to be 25 acquired by a bank holding company shall be subject to 26 the conditions upon which a bank incorporated under the 1 laws of this state may establish, maintain, relocate, or
2 close any of its offices pursuant to the Nebraska
3 Banking Act, but nothing in sections 4 to 8 of this act
4 shall require such an association to divest itself of 5 any branch office in operation at the time of 6 acquisition; and

7 (3) A state chartered institution to be
8 acquired by a bank holding company shall be subject to 9 the provisions of section 3 of the Federal Bank Holding 10 Company Act of 1956, as amended, and those rules and 11 regulations that apply to bank subsidiaries of bank
12 holding companies as are or may be established by both 13 the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and 14 the Director of Banking and Finance.

15 Sec. 7. A bank holding company shall not 16 acquire, hold, or operate a state chartered institution
17 acquired under sections 4 to 8 of this act located in 18 this state as a nonbank subsidiary under section 4 of 19 the Federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as 20 amended, nor shall the Director of Banking and Finance
21 either accept or approve an application for acquisition
22 under sections 4 to 8 of this act which contains as a 23 term or condition thereof the approval of the Board of 24 Governors of the Federal Reserve System under section
25 4(c)(8) of the Federal Bank Holding Act.

26 Sec. 8. The Director of Banking and Finance
1 may permit cross-industry acquisition or merger of 2 institutions under its supervision upon the application
3 of such institutions to the department. The application
4 shall be made on forms prescribed by the department.
5 When an application is made for such an acquisition or 6 merger, notice of the filing of the application shall be 7 published by the Department of Banking and Finance three 8 weeks in a legal newspaper in or of general circulation
9 in the county where the applicant proposes to operate
10 the institution. The expense of the publication shall 11 be paid by the applicant. A public hearing shall be 12 held on each application. The date for hearing the 13 application shall be not more than ninety days after the 14 filing of the application and not less than thirty days
15 after the last publication of notice after the 16 examination and approval by the department of the 17 application. If the department, upon investigation and 18 after public hearing on the application, shall be 19 satisfied that the stockholders and officers of the 20 institution applying for such acquisition or merger are 21 parties of integrity and responsibility, that the 22 requirements of section 8-702 have been met or some 23 alternate form of protection for depositors has been 24 met, and that the public necessity, convenience, and 25 advantage will be promoted by permitting such 26 acquisition or merger, the department shall, upon

1 payment of the required fees, issue to such institution
2 an order of approval for the acquisition or merger. In 3 the case of an acquisition or merger of an institution
4 into a bank or bank holding company, such acquisition or 5 merger shall be subject to sections 6 and 7 of this act.
6 Sec. 11. Since an emergency exists, this act
7 shall be in full force and take effect, from and after
8 its passage and approval, according to law.”
9 2. Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

Speaker Nichol moved that a committee of 5 be appointed to escort the Governor to the Chamber to deliver his State of the State and Budget Message.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Carsten, Hefner, Warner, Mesdames

Higgins, and Labeledz to serve on said Committee.

The Committee returned and escorted Governor Robert Kerrey to the Rostrum where he delivered the following State of the State and Budget Address.

Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen,

All too often, I believe, we view budgets as morasses of figures and decimal points, completely divorced from the people and legitimate needs they serve. I characterize this budget as a symptom of and response to a series of pressing problems and needs. It is not accidental that the demands for various forms of public assistance have increased; the economy currently warrants those demands. It is not by coincidence that education requires more resources; the information explosion and a renewed commitment to serve special education students are but two reasons. It is not by some quirk of fate that agriculture needs assistance; it is by virtue of continually depressed commodity prices and vigorous domestic and international competition. It is not without reason that energy specialists call for funding; the spectre of energy dependence looms large. I could continue with this list. However, my point is simple. We must not allow ourselves to become frustrated with this budget's complexity. Great needs demand a commensurate response. And sometimes that response must be reflected in a budget.

While delivery of a budget message by the Governor of this State is prescribed, the form of the message is not. Today, I will depart from merely enumerating dry facts and figures. Although I cannot abide by the old speaking advice "Be brief and be seated", it is my hope that after this message you will have gained an understanding of the chronology of events culminated today, and the rationales behind them.

First, let me review the budget history which has led to current conditions. The original General Fund Budget proposed for fiscal year 82-83 was $756 million. During the 1982 regular session, and the November, 1982 special session, sweeping across-the-board reductions and one-time savings measures cut the budget to its present level: $718.3 million.

Last year, Nebraska had to supplement the General Fund using interfund borrowing to maintain a workable cash flow. Similarly, state employee salary increases - generally effective July 1 - were postponed until January 1, and capital construction expenditures were delayed until the next year.

In spite of these efforts, our revenue situation deteriorated. A number of plausible explanations exist, chief among them the failing health of the economy, federal tax cuts which slashed Nebraska's revenue base by over $100 million, and suspect economic assumptions by the previous administration leading to questionable financial planning.

Unfortunately, many of the actions taken were not in fact reductions. They were merely stop-gap deferrals. These deferrals, in combination with the inception of new programs and unruly, uncontrollable growth in existing programs, presented my office with fiscal year 1983-84 commitments in excess of $810 million, excluding salary increases for state employees. The single largest new program was the proposed state takeover of County Welfare - amounting to an additional $22 million - slated for July 1st.

This was the revenue and budgetary situation which greeted my administration as I took office less than one month ago. It was a situation greatly changed from that which normally greets a new governor. Now, I want to familiarize you with the process we used to arrive at the conservative budget I present today.

The process, as I'm sure you will note, was not one of facile answers, easy maneuvers, or evasions. Instead, it was a process of learning, searching, and realistically evaluating. Aware of this task's magnitude, I selected a budget team of dedicated and hard-working individuals, each of whom contributed considerable knowledge and expertise.

We began this difficult and strenuous task immediately after the election. And, although we certainly approached the job with gusto, we did not, as the saying goes, "only go around once". We went around at my office, at the Department of Administrative Services, and at the Governor's Mansion. We met during the morning, afternoon, evenings, and weekends.

I began by looking at the revenue situation. The budget cutting action taken by the Legislature at the November special session was based on the assumption that the State Board of Equalization would set the income tax rate at 20% of Federal liability starting January 1, 1983.

As we know, the Board failed to set the income tax rate at 20% and failed as well to adopt one set of revenue projections which could guide us in clear, sound budgetary decision making.

My first directive to the new Tax Commissioner was to develop one set of revenue guidelines using the best professional judgement of the Department. It is upon these revenue estimates that I have based my recommendations to you today.

The 20% income tax rate assumed by the special session appears to me to be a ceiling above which we should not go. We cannot tax our way out of this problem. My budget recommendations are based on the passage of LB 59, which I support and which I will sign, and the maintenance of the current sales tax rate of 3 1/2%.

The revenue generated from these tax rates using the best professional judgement of the Department of Revenue is $748,853,241. The budget I present today will fit within these revenue constraints, assuming a June 30, 1983 unobligated balance of $13,962,000 and a limited number of cash lapses.

The job of revenue analysis does not end with the presentation of this budget, however. I have directed the Tax Commissioner to continually review and examine the economic trends in our State in order to determine at the earliest point if actual revenue receipts will not meet these projections.

This is necessary because these revenue projections are based upon current economic conditions and the hope that our economy will be somewhat improved in 1983-84.

But we should be prepared for further deterioration. This is not a budget to build on; if anything I urge you to look for additional reductions.

The PIK program could adversely affect 1983 revenue. Farm income could stay low, and unemployment could get worse.

I am, therefore, asking that you do the following:

1. Extend the authority for Interfund borrowing to June 30, 1984.
2. Be prepared for further reductions in appropriations if our revenue declines sharply.

Looking at the budget side, we began after the special session by constructing a background, using in-depth briefings on each state agency and program. Conversant with information and cognizant that we were squarely facing a possible budget commitment of $810 million and realizing that Nebraskans will not accept a tax rate in excess of 20%, I set out to identify programs and services which could be cut back or cut out.

I must point out that I was guided in this matter by some very practical principles. To put it succinctly, easy is not necessarily better. The illusion of the relatively simple "across the board" method has been exhausted because it has not been able to withstand the acid test of reality.

With that philosophy in mind, lists of possible reductions were prepared by the Budget Office staff. The goal was to bring our 83-84 budget to a level which could be supported by a reasonable tax rate and realistic revenue projections. No item escaped review; no sources of ideas - inside and outside state government - went untouched.

After engaging in the schedule of meetings I mentioned earlier, the Budget Office staff and I again reviewed every agency, every request, and every funding level recommendation. In so doing, we achieved our goal. We brought the budget to a level which can be maintained by estimated available revenue and still provide for a modest salary increase to our State Employees.

This budget contains total appropriations of $746,997,608. The estimated revenue, after allowing a 3% reserve, is $748,853,241. This leaves $1,855,633 for funds to cover increased health insurance costs, claims against the state, "A" bills, and budget adjustments.

It is a lean budget; it is a realistic budget. It takes into account certain commitments and certain limitations. But most importantly, it is a forward-looking budget we can all live with. I am convinced that an austere budget today will accrue for us great benefits tomorrow.

To develop a supportable budget and to produce a salary increase required that we pare over $63 million from the $810 million base for fiscal year 1983-84.

I very much wanted to offer a full year pay increase to State Employees. As you know, a greater percentage increase could be achieved by delaying the effective date. However, this approach would only postpone the full funding until the next budget year. I was determined to locate funds for a salary increase which would go into effect July 1. I am still not completely satisfied, but I know I have recommended a fiscally prudent amount - an amount that will not present funding problems for the next budget year. We must recognize that secure jobs and salaries in the future hinge on the creation of financial security today.

Let me add that our State Employees possess skills and knowledge we cannot afford to lose. They make State Government work, with their dedication, professionalism, willingness to improve skills, and genuine desire to serve Nebraskans. We must encourage them to stay and persevere.

In my quest to trim 63 million from the budget I first examined programs which could achieve their goals or deliver their services without a separate staff or agency. For instance, the Forms Management Program can and will be implemented at the agency level. The State Safety Program can operate under the auspices of each agency, whose responsibility it is to provide safe working conditions. The Risk Management Program can and will be assigned to the Department of Administrative Services and the Department of Personnel. The newly-created Foster Care Review Board's responsibilities can be assumed by a responsive Department of Welfare. The Cancer Registry can be handled on a volunteer basis by our hospitals.

Second, I examined programs or forms of aid which are not based on an identified need standard. This review resulted in a call to eliminate the general Homestead exemption, aid to the Civil Air Patrol, and grasshopper control aid in the Department of Agriculture.

Third, I examined programs which might be practicable given improved economic conditions, but which cannot be accomplished under existing financial constraints. This entailed a review of the take-over of county welfare, new construction slated for the coming fiscal year, increasing state aid to schools, cities, and counties, issuance of new license plates, and general fund support for local school driver's education. My review took me even to small budget items like the gift shop in the State Capitol.

I discovered that it is impossible to fund state assumption of county welfare in the 83-84 budget year. Thus I am introducing legislation to defer such a take over for one year. Of course, we all realize that this move is only a hiatus and not an efficacious solution. Put briefly, we face a void in terms of funding this change. Simply increasing the sales and income tax is unacceptable as these moves would further erode Nebraska's ability to adequately support other obligations.

For these reasons, I am calling for the formation of a Special Task Force to address the matter of funding this change. The task force will consist of representatives from this Legislature, County Government, the State Department of Welfare, and the general public. I will request that this task force develop a funding plan for LB 522 other than raising sales and income tax rates. This plan could be an amalgamation of additional state revenue, achieved through the closing of tax gaps identified by review of refund, exemption, and collection fees policies, and a reduction in state support for programs administered primarily at the county level. Such programs include community mental health, alcoholism, mental retardation, and aging services, as well as the county road program.

I will expect a report from this task force on or before March 15. If a reasonable, responsible funding plan has not been developed by that time, it may be necessary to seek repeal of LB 522. But let me emphasize that I will continue constructive efforts toward compromise which can make possible an equitable implementation of this transfer for all.

My review led me to a variety of other programs and projects.

I discovered that implementation of a new welfare computer system will have to wait until a more complete picture of long term costs as opposed to potential savings is available.

I found that field staff in revenue and economic development must be reduced, with more of these services being provided by central staff.

I found that 1983-84 is not the year for the Family Support Program. It will not be funded in the next budget year.

I found that the size of the Commission on the Status of Women should be reduced from 30 to 12, saving revenue, and bringing the Commission in line with the size of similar commissions.

I found that the State Wayside Areas should be supported by the Department of Roads rather than the Game and Parks Commission. These areas are used most frequently by the traveling public, and seldom as recreation areas.

And I support repealing the dedication of one cent of the cigarette tax for cancer research. Although important, this program must compete on its own worth with other needs rather than relying upon earmarking for its funding.

Finally, although this budget appears abstemious in its adjustments for aid to local governments and individuals, half of the total increase is in aid. I ask supporters of these programs to be patient and understanding. We need time to restore our state fiscal house to order without damaging vital state services. With cooperation, we will succeed.

Still, additional funds are provided in some cases. For example, I added over $7.5 million to pay the full FY 83-84 cost of the 5% salary increase made in January. Likewise, approximately $9 million was added for a 3.5% salary increase effective July 1. The Department of Education Budget was hiked $6 million to fulfill our commitment to special education students and over $1 million to serve wards of the court. The penitentiary in Omaha will open at an additional cost of roughly $3 million. Public assistance in the Welfare Department will increase over $10 million. And a $1.0 million increase will be provided to Aid to Aging Programs.

Clearly, while all programs were thoroughly scrutinized, some received less money and some received more money. These are areas in which we have commitments to fulfill - in which we must at least maintain and, in some cases enhance, the quality of service. These priority areas include the Departments of Agriculture and Economic Development, Higher Education, Corrections, Special Education, Public Assistance, and such community based services as Aging.

In my inaugural address I indicated that economic development was a priority of this administration. In kind with other state economies, ours has been pinched by a national recession. At the same time, we are witnessing a realignment of the U.S. and the world economy. Other states and communities are responding with zeal as they launch competitive drives to attract vital new industries. Nebraska must respond with the same enthusiasm. The Arthur D. Little report to our Department of Economic Development suggests several priorities: We must establish that the manufacturing labor force is available in adequate numbers with adequate skills. We must statistically demonstrate our fine labor/management climate. We must illustrate for industry our productivity and strong state work ethic.

This budget can do much for economic development. To that end, we have concentrated funds on the industrial development division of our Department of Economic Development. To maintain our industrial development marketing effort, the deficiency bill will appropriate an additional $138,903 for FY 82-83. The 83-84 budget reallocates an additional $125,000 for this important budget program.

Also, this budget provides $50,000 for a Food Research Center, which can assist us in advancing the food processing industry in Nebraska.

We must also implement the Constitutional Amendment which allows special development financing for commercial developments in blighted areas. Additional legislative proposals will be forwarded to you by the end of this month as part of a legislative package designed to improve the state's economy.

One key to developing this plan is to put to work as soon as possible a new Director of Economic Development. As I have told the Economic Development Advisory Committee, we cannot delay in this matter. I sincerely hope that we will have a new director within 10 days, so that he can meet with Rob Raun, the Director of Agriculture; Paul Amen, the Director of Banking; and representatives of business, labor, and the University. We must begin a dialogue on proposals to move this state forward.

Building a trained workforce is key to any economic development plan. The Federal Jobs Partnership Training Act can assist us in our endeavors by forging a strong relationship between business, government, labor, and education with a view to training and placing economically disadvantaged and dislocated workers.

It is also critical that we give attention to our corrections system. Continued growth in State prison populations has put a tremendous burden on existing facilities. The budget for corrections reflects this strain.

In addition to providing the necessary funds for food and utilities, we will this year see the new Minimum-Medium Security Facility in Omaha go into operation. The 240 new beds it houses will help alleviate overcrowding in other institutions. However, first year operating costs at the facility will add over 3 million dollars to this department's budget. We cannot ignore this need.

We have similarly assigned considerable importance to education in this state. Demands on our Technical Community Colleges, State Colleges, and University have increased in proportion to the information explosion and rapid rate of social change. This budget provides 9.1 million additional dollars for higher education, corresponding to a 5.8% increase to State Colleges, a 4.8% increase to the University, and a 4.3% increase to Technical Community Colleges. I think you realize that these increases, occurring in a very tight budget, represent my strong commitment to education. I have simultaneously called for a Budget increase of $6,341,575 for special education so that we can further our state reputation as a leader in innovative special education services to elementary and secondary school students.

We also have an abiding commitment to community based aging services. That commitment assumes even greater significance when we realize that the number of elderly in our population is increasing. We now seek ways to avoid costly institutionalization and to promote services which keep our elderly active and productive.

Last year, this Unicameral - to its credit - overwhelmingly passed landmark legislation for our elderly: LB 404. As a result, we have finally defined in Statute the structure for community senior citizen programs. State support for these services was increased last year and a goal of an additional $2 million for 83-84 was set. I had hoped to meet that goal but could not within the terms of this tight budget. I have, however, included an additional $1 million for these services and I will ask Helen Boosalis, the next Director of the Department of Aging, to make optimal use of these monies.

There are still other areas which require a strong budgetary commitment. We are blessed with a bountiful natural resource base. We have developed those resources to build and maintain a strong agricultural economy. In 1966, for example, we irrigated 3.6 million acres in this state. In 1981, we irrigated nearly 8 million acres. Today, we rank third nationally in total irrigated acres.

Clearly, water development will continue to play a pivotal role in our economic development. There is a need, I believe, for additional irrigation projects. However, as the federal government shrugs its commitment to water resource development, the state must intervene and fill the gap. We must carefully plan our water development, arrive at a proper course of action, and then move to fund and execute our plan.

Of course, water and soil conservation must be considered. Our natural resource districts have made a substantial commitment in this regard, and our Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources is a bold leader in conservation technology. Unfortunately, while the NRD's expend approximately $11 million every year on soil and water conservation, the State responds with only $1 million. I am asking that the Unicameral begin to address this disparity by providing an additional $400,000 to conservation practices for FY 1983-84.

This represents only a small step in the proper direction. We must prepare to commit still larger amounts during the next four years to the proper utilization and management of our precious natural resources. Our future may well depend upon that commitment.

Agriculture will be equally challenged in the next year, evidenced in part by the crisis now facing our sugar beet industry. At present, one of every four employed Nebraskans owes his or her job to agriculture - from Omaha to Scottsbluff; from the Missouri River to the Panhandle. That fact makes our obligation to agriculture even more critical.

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture will take an active role in shaping state agriculture policy. We have sufficient human and institutional resources to turn the 1980's into years of opportunity rather than defeat for all Nebraskans.

To that end, I will ask our Director of Agriculture to work closely with the commodity groups and the check off boards to develop our international markets and respond to national farm programs. The Director will work closely with the University and Agribusiness. He will be an important advisor on natural resource development and will work with the appropriate agencies and organizations in this area. In fact, this month I will send him to Washington to testify on the Federal Budget and make certain that Nebraska's agricultural concerns are heard.

Roads and capital construction warrant our consideration as well. To continue agricultural and economic development requires aggressive programs of road construction. I am therefore supporting the continuation of the road program anticipated when the variable gas tax was adopted in addition to utilizing increased federal aid gained by a 5" increase in the gas tax.

In terms of capital construction, we must maintain our existing buildings and upgrade older buildings with a view to greater energy efficiency. Thus I am requesting $2 million for the LB 309 Task Force, and proposing that $1 of the $2 million come from the severance tax. These monies will be used for building maintenance and energy conservation. Additionally, the capital construction budget contains $50,000 of state General Funds for regional veterinary school planning. Of course, we will need a firm federal commitment coupled with long-term regional support in order to proceed with this project.

As difficult economic times dictate, I have seen a need to increase dollars for public assistance through the Department of Welfare. We must ensure that the needs of the elderly, blind and disabled are met by the State Supplement Program, for example. We must guarantee that some 4,500 children receive treatment for crippling conditions through services for crippled children. Our responsibility to the recipients of public assistance must not be taken lightly. It is an obligation which must be met.

Finally, we must attend to the ever-present issue of our energy situation. We cannot become complacent, despite current supply gluts and price decreases. These are temporary. We cannot be deterred from our goal of energy independence founded on conservation of conventional sources and exploration of new alternatives.

My budget will reflect strong support for energy conservation. It is a potent weapon - and one we can strengthen through a variety of means. At the same time, we will continue to encourage exploration of new alternatives. Fortunately, much can be accomplished with the Solar Bank Grant, oil overcharge settlement money, and a reasonable appropriation.

Finally, be assured that this is an ongoing, dynamic budget process. I have already asked my agency directors to engage in further study of their programs so that additional proposals may be developed by April. Furthermore, on January 17th, I placed administrative restrictions on this year's expenditures. There will be more administrative actions designed to restore public trust in this state's government. This government must earn public respect and support. We can accomplish that in part by spending every state dollar as if it were our own.

I will continue to review our efforts. When faced with a spending decision, I will ask the difficult but necessary questions:

Can we afford it?

Can we improve it?

Can we better utilize resources?

And I will persist in answering those questions for the next four years. It is my intention to invest public funds in those programs and services which deliver the maximum benefits to the maximum number of Nebraskans. That is a goal to which I am unequivocally committed.

As we begin this new phase of the budget process, I ask that you remember several things. First, our pledge to a specific service or program is not measured by the application of funds alone but by our desire to improve, maintain, and enhance using a variety of resources.

Our desire for this state's betterment can be demonstrated by advocacy - which costs virtually nothing but gains so much. We can speak out on behalf of the farmers and ranchers. We can speak out on behalf of those seeking employment. We can speak out for those who are strapped by high energy prices. We can be a voice for the disadvantaged. We can contribute our time, energy, and knowledge for the sake of improving life in this state. To paraphrase Samuel Johnson, to do nothing is in every person's power; to do something for the good of all sets us apart.

Second, we have already made a start. I have asked for the suggestions of state employees as to how we may save dollars. I have asked Agency Heads to review their expenditures. I have implemented a $500 cost item review, a merit increase freeze, and a hiring review which must be completed before any job vacancy is filled. The task need not overwhelm us. We are already moving in the appropriate direction.

Third, this task will demand of all of us courage to act decisively, cooperation to achieve what is best for the state as a whole, and candor to view our economic condition realistically. As I scan the faces in this chamber today, I know that few individual's programs have been spared. I may well have reduced programs you consider vital. But I ask that we move on to the most important business of all - assisting the people of this state.

I strongly urge you to accept my premise of a 20% income tax rate. The public will not support more, and this budget is designed accordingly. I encourage you to develop a budget which stays within that tax rate. I am confident that this Legislature will approach the budget with courage, candor, and a spirit of cooperation. Our task now is to fix a smooth course for Nebraska's future.

The Committee escorted the Governor from the Chamber.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 17

February 2, 1983

Dear Senator H. Peterson:

This is in reply to your inquiry which pertains to LB 46 of the Eighty-eighth Legislature, First Session (1983). In connection therewith you ask if this legislative bill were to become operative law "and parents receive poor test scores from their childrens teacher, and they continue to leave the child in the school, is there any way for the state to force the parents of children attending exempted schools to be more responsible consumers of education opportunities for their children?"

LB 46 would amend several statutes. For example, it would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-201 (Reissue 1981), the compulsory school attendance statute, to provide that "For the purposes of the attendance requirements of this section, a weekday church educational ministry and a home study program shall be considered a private school." Section 1 of LB 46 states that a weekday church educational ministry "shall not be subject to the provisions of the Nebraska statutes relating to schools, teachers, and administrators or to any rules and regulations of the State Department of Education . . . unless there is a letter on file with the State Board of Education from the head of the school officially granting the department or board such power."

Section 5 of LB 46 makes it a duty of all parents who choose to enroll their children in a weekday church educational ministry which does not have a letter on file with the State Board of Education as specified in section 1 of this legislative bill, to enroll them in one which provides instruction at the elementary and secondary level in the common branches of learning.

It also provides that pupil achievement and competency shall be tested through the employment of nationally standardized achievement tests to be selected by the leadership of the weekday church educational ministry. In the event a child receives poor test scores on such a test, this legislative bill does not provide a way for the state to force the parents of such children "to be more responsible consumers of educational opportunities."

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 19
February 1, 1983

Dear Senator V. Johnson:

You have pointed out to us that Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-1250 (Reissue 1981) distributes the tax on air flight equipment collected pursuant to §77-1249 to the counties for credit to the county general fund proportionate to the total actual valuation of each county. You point out that we successfully challenged in the District Court of Lancaster County a distribution of state aid proportionate to valuation of taxable property in the counties, and ask whether the distribution pursuant to §77-1250 is subject to the same attack. You ask this for the reason that if it is, you may submit an amendment to a pending bill to correct any constitutional infirmity.

It is difficult to give you a categorical answer to your question, as there is very little precedent to guide us except the district court case you referred to, State ex rel. Douglas v. Stevenson, and the case of State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, 207 Neb. 598, 300 N.W.2d 181 (1980). Marsh established that formulas for granting state aid to political subdivisions must have some rational justification, and cannot be wholly arbitrary and unreasonable. The district court in Stevenson held that a formula for distributing such aid proportionate to assessed valuations operated to give the most aid to counties needing it least, and was irrational.

However, the distribution we are concerned with is not state aid, and that may make a crucial difference.

The standard rule with respect to classification is that in order for it to be valid, it must be based upon some reason of public policy, some substantial difference of situation or circumstances, that would naturally suggest the justice or expediency of diverse legislation with respect to the objects to be classified. See, City of Scottsbluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256, 175 N.W.2d 74 (1970). When state money, which has been raised by taxation, is to be distributed to aid political subdivisions, this, in our opinion, requires either that it be based on the proportionate needs of the various political subdivisions, or upon their entitlement to it because of their contributions to the state coffers. Various attempts to measure need have been used, the simplest of which is probably population. Losses suffered by reason of exemptions is another. In some states, state aid has been used to return state money to its source, as, for example, measuring state aid by the income tax or sales tax collected in the various counties.

Here, however, we are not dealing with state aid. Neb.Rev.Stat. §§77-1247 to 77-1250 (Reissue 1981) deal with the taxation of the flight equipment of air carriers. As we understand it, "flight equipment" means airplanes of air carriers which fly in this and other states, so that they do not have permanent situs in this state, which would give the taxing entities of that situs authority to tax the planes at their full value.

The case of Mid-Continent Airlines v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 157 Neb. 425, 59 N.W.2d 746 (1953) held that in the situation where a fleet of planes had no taxable situs in any one state where the full value could be taxed, each state in which the planes land and engage in interstate business could tax a part of their value. This is what §§77-1247 to 77-1250 do.

The problem is what rate of tax to apply, and what to do with the proceeds. The state itself, of course, cannot levy a property tax for state purposes. The proceeds of the tax must go to its political subdivisions.

Presumably, the statute could simply assign a proportion of the value allocated to Nebraska to the airports at which the planes land, the proportion to be based upon the number of landings, revenue generated, or some such basis. The taxing entities having jurisdiction over such airports could then apply their levies to the values assigned. However, the Legislature obviously felt that, since the air carriers serve the entire state, it would be unfair to assign all of the value to the situs of the few airports, and felt that this additional value should be spread around the entire state.

The problem then remained of how this additional value should be allocated, and what rate of tax should be applied. To assign a part of the value to all the taxing entities in the state would mean that every carrier would be subject to the hundreds of levies made in the state, and would have to pay taxes in all 93 counties. The Legislature therefore provided that the Tax Commissioner should calculate an average mill levy, and collect it from the carriers.

Then, how should it be distributed? This is, essentially, simply additional taxable value allocated to the state. It could be allocated on a number of different bases, including population or taxes levied. However, to assign additional taxable value in proportion to the taxable value of other property in the taxing entity does not appear to us to be wholly irrational. This is what has been done, although, of course, the mill levy applied is the average mill levy, rather than the mill levy of each county.

The Legislature has broad discretion in these matters, and the court will not interfere unless the discretion has been exercised in a wholly irrational manner. It does not appear to us to have been so exercised in this situation, and we believe we can successfully defend the distribution formula involved.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

26 such date not less than fifty persons in this state in 1 its business; and

2 (4) The bank whose stock is to be acquired is 3 operating in a manner and at a location that is not
4 likely to attract customers from the general public in 5 this state to the substantial detriment of existing 6 banking institutions located in this state, except that

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 20
February 8, 1983

Dear Senator Vickers:

This is in response to your inquiry of January 31, 1983, in which you ask whether the Legislature may constitutionally direct and limit the sale or rental of school lands to a specific group of potential buyers or renters as proposed by Sections 8, 9, and 10 of LB 339.

To the extent that Sections 8, 9, and 10 of LB 339 would assume direct control over the public school lands and remove the control of the Nebraska State Board of Educational Lands and Funds, said Sections would be unconstitutional.

The Nebraska Constitution provides that public school lands and the income therefrom are held in trust for educational purposes. State ex rel. Ebke v. Board of Educational Lands and Funds, 159 Neb. 79, 65 N.W.2d 392 (1954).

The designation of the public school lands as a trust in the Constitution has the effect of incorporating into the constitutional provisions the rules of law regulating the administration of trusts and the conduct and duties of trustees. State ex rel. Belker v. Board of Educational Lands and Funds, 184 Neb. 621, 171 N.W.2d 156 (1969).

Consequently, the state "as trustee of the lands and of the income therefrom, is required to administer the trust estate under the rules of law applicable to trustees acting in a fiduciary capacity." Probst v. Board of Educational Lands and Funds, 156 Neb. 226, 55 N.W.2d 653 (1952); See, also, State ex rel. Ebke, Id., and Banks v. State, 181 Neb. 106, 147 N.W.2d 132 (1966).

One aspect of the trustee's duty to act in a fiduciary capacity is summarized in relatively absolute terms by the Nebraska Supreme Court in the case of State v. Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, 143 Neb. 661, 10 N.W.2d 631 (1943). There the court said:

The state as trustee of public school lands is without power through legislative means or otherwise to bestow a special benefit upon any person or corporation, public or private, at the expense of the cestui que trust, the public school system of the state.

To the extent that Sections 8, 9, and 10 of LB 339 would "assume direct control over the public school lands and remove the control of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds," said Sections would be "unconstitutional, null and void." State v. Central Nebraska Public

Power and Irrigation District, 143 Neb. 153, 8 N.W.2d 841 (1943).

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 21
February 2, 1983

Dear Senator Warner:

We have examined the statutes to determine what legislation may be proposed in order to correct deficiencies within the antitrust section, and more especially, that of the payment of sums collected under antitrust violation to the respective agencies when they can be defined.

The Constitution of Nebraska holds that any "penalty" or "fine" shall be paid to the school fund. Therefore, on this issue only, a constitutional amendment may affect this payment.

We do, however, recognize where "damages" are collected, as in bid rigging contractor cases, a provision may be made for reimbursement or return of payment to the agency from which the money was wrongfully taken.

Therefore, we suggest either an addition to Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1614 making provision for repayment, or an additional section, Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1614.01, be added. In any case, the language treating this damage payment may be substantially in the form as follows:

When the Attorney General, on behalf of a State agency or a political subdivision is authorized to investigate, file suit, or otherwise take action in connection with violations under the Consumer Protection Act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1601 through 59-1623, any recovery of damages or costs by judgment, court decree, settlement in or out of court, or by other final result, such investigations, suit or recovery shall be subject to the following:

All State agencies or political subdivisions of this State are authorized by this act to make payment to the Attorney General of the costs, expenses or billings as they occur and are incurred by the Attorney General in any investigations, filing suit, taking action, seeking judgment, final decree, settlement in or out of court, or other final result arising out of violation under Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1601 through 59-1623, which may be retained on the Attorney General for the operation of his office. Upon recovery of damages or any monetary payment except criminal penalties, the costs incurred by the State agency or political subdivision shall be sought in any judgment, final decree, settlement in or out of court, or final result and returned by the Attorney General to the State agency or political subdivision for whom such recovery was made where such is capable of recovery.

When the Attorney General, pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1601 to 59-1623 (Reissue 1978) makes recovery of any moneys, funds, securities, or other thing of value in the nature of civil damages, or other, except criminal penalties, whether such recovery shall be by way of verdict, judgment, compromise or settlement in or out of court, or other final disposition of any case or controversy, such moneys, funds, securities or other things of value shall be transferred or paid by the Attorney General to the State agency or political subdivision for which recovery is sought from the wrongdoer. Where such State agency or political subdivision has a dedicated fund, and such recovery is paid to that fund, such returned moneys, funds, securities, or thing of value shall be used only for the purposes intended by the fund.

We trust the above language will assist you in drafting language correcting the consumer protection statutes. We do recommend an emergency clause to this legislation.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 22
February 9, 1983

Dear Senator Wesely:

You have furnished us a copy of LB 338 which would authorize the Department of Public Institutions to convey certain real estate located in the City of Lincoln to the County of Lancaster.

You have suggested that there are two proposed alternative methods of accomplishing this, one being a sale by land contract, and the other being a lease with an option to purchase arrangement. With respect to each of these alternatives, you ask our opinion as to their constitutionality given the requirements of Article XIII, Sections 1 and 3 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

The provisions of Article XIII, Section 1, limit the indebtedness of the State of Nebraska to $100,000, and Section 3 prohibits the state from giving or loaning its credit.

In a situation where the State of Nebraska would be the potential seller and the County of Lancaster would be the potential buyer, we cannot envision a situation where the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1, dealing with a limitation on the indebtedness would arise.

With respect to the potential of a land contract conveyance, normally in such conveyances the seller contracts with the buyer for the sale of real property, the title remaining in the hands of the seller until the buyer has completed the periodic payments he has agreed to make in the land contract. There is no question in our minds that such a contractual arrangement would involve the lending of credit. The more specific question, however, is whether or not the prohibitions contained in Article XIII, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution apply to arrangements between the State of Nebraska and one of its political subdivisions, i.e., Lancaster County.

This constitutional provision provides as is pertinent "the credit of the state shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association, or corporation, . . ." The question then becomes whether or not the County of Lancaster is an individual association or corporation. Constitutionally speaking, the County of Lancaster is a political subdivision of the State of Nebraska and it would appear as though a plain reading of Article XIII, Section 3 would not apply to the lending of the credit by the state to one of its own political subdivisions.

However, to avoid all questions on the matter we suggest strong consideration being given to entering into a lease arrangement with an option to purchase with the county. We believe that there could be no question that such an arrangement would violate Article XIII, Section 3 inasmuch as such an arrangement would involve Lancaster County paying periodic rental payments and being given an option to purchase the property for a prearranged price. In such an arrangement it could not be argued that the credit of the state would be extended, such rental payments being paid in advance and the giving of an option to purchase being nothing more than a contractual benefit for which consideration was given.

Therefore we would be of the opinion that while a land contract arrangement would raise certain questions in our mind as to its constitutional validity, we do not believe that such would be the case where the sale were accomplished by a lease with option to purchase and we suggest that such would be the more prudent arrangement. If we can be of further assistance to you on this matter, please let us know.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 23
February 9, 1983

Dear Senator Sieck:

This is in reply to your request for an opinion interpreting Neb.Rev.Stat. §§23-148 and 23-149 (Reissue 1977) and particularly whether under said sections a county less than 10,000 population may legally vote to have five county commissioners instead of three. You state that you are considering legislation to permit such action, if our interpretation is in the negative.

As we conveyed to you earlier, from a brief look at the legislative history, in 1891 the portions which now constitute §§23-148 and 23-149 were all part of the same statute. What is now §23-148 had no minimum on the size of counties which could vote to change from a three-commissioner to a five-commissioner county and what is now §23-149 set forth the procedure for putting the issue on the ballot.

We have researched the legislative history further and find the following: Some time prior to 1943, the portion which is now §23-148 was amended. The revised statutes of 1943 provided as to §23-148 that in counties having not more than 125,000 inhabitants, the Board of County Commissioners should consist of three persons but the electors could vote to increase it to five; in other words, there was no bottom limit on the population as to counties which could vote to switch to five. The portion which is now §23-149 remained the same as to the procedure as it was in 1891, providing that the question would be put on the ballot by a petition signed by not less than 200 electors.

By the laws of 1947, Chapter 62, Section 2, Page 197, §23-148 was again amended to provide that "the electors in any county containing more than 60,000 inhabitants and not more than 200,000 inhabitants, may vote at any general election as to whether the county board shall consist of three or five commissioners."

In 1957, by LB 337, Laws of 1957, Chapter 60, Section 1, Page 278, the wording in the present statute was added to §23-148 that "Provided, the electors in any county containing more than 10,000 inhabitants and not more than 200,000 inhabitants, may vote at any general election as to whether their county board shall consist of three or five commissioners."

The title to said act provided, "to provide that in counties containing more than 10,000 inhabitants and not more than 200,000 inhabitants, the electors therein may vote at a general election as to whether their county board shall consist of three or five commissioners as prescribed; and to repeal the original section."

During all of this time, the provision of the portion which is now §23-149 as to the procedure for putting the question on the ballot by 200 signatures has never been amended.

Significant also, is that the procedure outlined at the beginning of §23-149 merely refers to "the question" and "said question" which obviously, in the light of the history, refers to the question of changing from three to five commissioners as provided in §23-148 with its limitations, and is not an independent provision as it might appear at first glance.

It is therefore our opinion that the Legislature has clearly intended that the electors in counties having not more than 10,000 inhabitants may not legally vote to change from three to five commissioners.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

A BILL FOR AN ACT to appropriate funds to aid in carrying out the provisions of Legislative Bill 466, Eighty-eighth Legislature, First Session, 1983.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 24
 February 14, 1983

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in reply to your letter of January 28, 1983. In that letter you ask two questions, each of which are hereafter discussed.

1. Are the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1229 (Reissue 1981) applicable to administrators and supervisors of both public and nonpublic schools?

Yes, See generally, State ex rel. Douglas v. Faith Baptist Church, 207 Neb. 802, 301 N.W.2d 571 (1981).

2. Is Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1229 (Reissue 1981) being enforced at the present time and has it been enforced in the past to insure that all non-public schools have properly certified administrators and supervisors?

Generally speaking, enforcement of Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1229 (Reissue 1981) has never been a problem. It has been a problem in certain instances during the last several years. As a result, there are a number of cases which are currently in litigation which involve, inter alia, Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1229 (Reissue 1981).

3. Where can you get reports on exactly which non public schools are in compliance or non compliance, if any are in non compliance, with Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1229 (Reissue 1981)?

This question obviously contains a typographical error. Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1229 (Reissue 1981) does not apply to schools but applies to individuals.

Very truly yours,
 PAUL L. DOUGLAS
 Attorney General

17 subject to the provisions of section 57-1102, the title
18 of which is vested in the State of Nebraska, shall have 19 the right to acquire the same for such purpose by filing
20 with the other governing body having title or 21 supervision thereof, a plat describing the portion or 22 portions of land, real estate, or right-of-way necessary
23 for the laying, relaying, operating, and maintaining of 24 any such ~~pipe-line~~ pipeline, and the governing body
25 shall direct the county commissioners of the county or 26 counties through which such ~~pipe-line~~ pipeline

1 right-of-way is desired, shown by petitioners'
 2 application and maps, to appraise and fix the amount to 3 be paid by such person, company, corporation, or 4 association for such right-of-way, and assess the 5 damages therefor. Before making the assessment, the 6 governing body shall notify the applicant of the time
 7 and place of such hearing by either certified or 8 registered mail, to be mailed at least ten days prior to 9 the hearing.

10 Sec. 3. The Legislature determines and 11 declares that:

12 (1) Coal slurry pipelines are a reasonable,
 13 cost efficient, competitive means of transporting coal
 14 and will be built over the next decade as one of the 15 methods of transporting energy at a rate competitive
 16 with that charged by railroads;

17 (2) The environment, including water, land,
 18 and other resources, must be accorded special attention
 19 and protection in the areas where coal slurry pipelines
 20 are built;

21 (3) Construction of a coal slurry pipeline
 22 provides hundreds of millions of dollars of economic 23 activity and employment both initially in the 24 construction phase and over the long term during the 25 life of the project;

26 (4) The locating of a pipeline through
 1 Nebraska will benefit the state in a variety of ways
 2 including the ability to control and supervise the 3 environmental effects and the providing of a long-term
 4 tax base which could be used for property tax relief in 5 the area where the pipeline is located;

6 (5) A coal slurry pipeline benefits all
 7 residents in the area where the pipeline is located by 8 providing a stable, permanent use of energy rather than 9 a high peak load without a corresponding permanent base
 10 load; and

11 (6) Sections 3 to 8 of this act are designed 12 to provide for supervision and control of any coal
 13 slurry pipeline constructed in this state as well as 14 significant amounts of money for development and 15 portection of our natural resources, in particular our 16 water resources.

17 Sec. 4. Any person engaged in, and any 18 company, corporation, or association formed or created
 19 for the purpose of transporting or conveying mineral,
 20 chemical, or other products through or into the State of 21 Nebraska by pipeline and using water as a medium of 22 transportation for such mineral, chemical, or other

23 product shall, prior to the construction of such 24 pipeline in the State of Nebraska, file an application
25 with the Department of Water Resources.

26 Sec. 5. Within fifteen days after the filing
1 of an application under section 4 of this act, the
2 Director of Water Resources shall set a date for a
3 hearing thereon. Notice of the hearing shall be given
4 for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general
5 circulation in each county traversed by the proposed 6 pipeline and in a newspaper of general circulation in 7 the state. The hearing on the application shall not be 8 held earlier than thirty days following the date of the 9 first publication of notice. At the hearing the burden
10 shall rest with the applicant to prove, by competent,
11 material, and substantial evidence, that no Nebraska
12 surface or ground water will be used in the pipeline.

13 Sec. 6. After the hearing and in no event
14 more than one hundred eighty days following the filing
15 of the application pursuant to section 4 of this act,
16 the Director of Water Resources shall issue an order
17 approving or denying such application. The application
18 shall be approved only if:

19 (1) The director finds that no Nebraska
20 surface or ground water will be used in the pipeline;
21 and

22 (2) The applicant pays to the Department of 23 Water Resources a fee of fifteen million dollars, to be 24 deposited in the Nebraska Resources Development Fund
25 created in section 2-3265.

26 An order approving an application shall
1 contain the power to terminate or suspend such order as 2 provided in section 8 of this act.

3 Sec. 7. The Director of Water Resource's
4 findings of fact and conclusions of law shall be reduced
5 to writing, and the hearing held on the application
6 pursuant to section 4 of this act shall be recorded.
7 The director shall adopt and promulgate such rules and 8 regulations as he or she shall deem necessary for such 9 hearings pursuant to Chapter 84, article 9. Any party
10 aggrieved by the findings and order of the director may 11 appeal as provided in Chapter 84, article 9.

12 Sec. 8. As a condition to approving an 13 application pursuant to section 6 of this act, the 14 director may require that monitoring wells be 15 established in Nebraska, at locations and depths that 16 the director determines are necessary to adequately 17 monitor the water bearing aquifer supplying the 18 transportation medium of the applicant, in order to 19 determine that there is no Nebraska ground water used in 20 such pipeline. The cost of such wells shall be paid for 21 by the applicant. The director may require that a bond

 22 be posted or a line of credit established by the 23 applicant to guarantee that sufficient money is 24 available to finance such monitoring wells.

25 If the director finds reasonable cause to 26 believe the applicant has endangered or is about to 1 endanger the existing water table, an order to show
 2 cause why the order approving such application should 3 not be terminated or suspended may be issued. Any 4 hearing held under this section shall conform with 5 Chapter 84, article 9.

6 As a condition to approving the application,
 7 the director may also require the applicant to enter
 8 into a contract with the State of Nebraska agreeing to 9 comply with sections 3 to 8 of this act.

10 Sec. 9. That section 75-501, Reissue Revised
 11 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
 12 follows:

13 75-501. Any person, company, corporation, or 14 association transporting, transmitting, conveying, or 15 storing any liquid, slurry mixture, or gas by pipeline
 16 for hire in Nebraska intrastate commerce, is hereby 17 declared to be a common carrier and subject to 18 commission regulation. The commission shall promulgate,
 19 adopt, and enforce reasonable rules and regulations
 20 establishing minimum state safety standards for the 21 design, construction, maintenance, or operation of all 22 pipelines transporting liquefied petroleum gas or 23 anhydrous ammonia operated in intrastate commerce by 24 common carriers. Such rules and regulations, and the 25 interpretations thereof, shall conform to the rules,
 26 regulations, and interpretations of the appropriate
 1 federal agencies with authority to regulate pipeline
 2 common carriers in interstate commerce.

3 Sec. 10. That section 75-502, Reissue Revised
 4 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
 5 follows:

6 75-502. Such pipeline carriers shall have
 7 power to store, transport, or convey any liquid, slurry
 8 mixture, or gas, or the products thereof, and to make 9 reasonable charges therefor; to lay down, construct,
 10 maintain, and operate pipelines, tanks, pump stations,
 11 connections, fixtures, storage plants, and such 12 machinery, apparatus, devices, and arrangement as may be 13 necessary to operate such pipes or pipelines between 14 different points in this state; and to use and occupy

15 such lands, rights-of-way, easements, franchises, 16 buildings, and structures as may be necessary to 17 construct and maintain same.

18 Sec. 11. If any section in this act or any 19 part of any section shall be declared invalid or 20 unconstitutional, such declaration shall not affect the 21 validity or constitutionality of the remaining portions
22 thereof.

23 Sec. 12. That original sections 57-1101,
24 57-1103, 75-501, and 75-502, Reissue Revised Statutes of

MOTION - Escort Chief Justice

Speaker Nichol moved that a committee of five be appointed to escort the Chief Justice for the purpose of delivering the State of the Judiciary address.

The motion prevailed.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Beutler, Jacobson, Mesdames Pirsch, Morehead, and Miss Kilgarin to serve on said committee.

The committee escorted Chief Justice Krivosha to the rostrum where he delivered the following message:

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY MESSAGE
Presented by Chief Justice Norman Krivosha

Before beginning to present to you the state of the Nebraska Judiciary, may I take a moment to once again, on behalf of the entire judiciary, thank you for your very kind invitation to appear before this body and present to you a report on the State of the Judiciary. The opportunity to do so has become what we hope is an important tradition within our State. We should, however, emphasize that we view the presentation as much more than mere tradition. Those of us in the judicial branch of government view this as an important and vital part of government, both for us and for you, for it is an opportunity to share with each of you the condition of the judicial branch of government and what, if any, changes need to be made. We are hopeful, therefore, that this invitation will be more than just a tradition for you as well. By sharing with you these matters, we are hopeful that both branches of government can better fulfill their constitutional responsibility. For, as the late President Kennedy observed: "The task of government is not to fix the blame for the past, but to fix the course for the future." That is undoubtedly what our founders had in mind when adopting Article V, Section 25, of our State Constitution.

Were I to share with you all of the details concerning the State Judiciary, I would quickly overstay my welcome. For that reason I have selected particular aspects which I believe should be of particular interest to you. Keep in mind, however, we are talking about a branch of state government given the direct responsibility for 120 judges and some 500 employees in 96 offices throughout the State, as well as the indirect effect on hundreds of other persons involved in some manner in the justice system in Nebraska.

One matter of national concern is the problem of docket control in the courts. In a number of states, intermediate courts of appeal have been created in an effort to try and handle the docket problem at the appellate court level. Chief Justice Warren Burger, in his recent State of the Judiciary Message presented at the mid-year meeting of the American Bar Association, suggested the creation of a new national court of appeal to assist the United States Supreme Court. While all of those devices may ultimately be required here in Nebraska, for the moment, with your help, we at the Court have looked in another direction. Rather than attempting to solve the problem by creating more costly procedures, we have attempted to turn the tide by having the present system work even harder than it has in the past. There are some early signs which are extremely encouraging and, if continued, may indeed prove to be a better solution to the extremely difficult problem than those tried by other states.

With your assistance and by reason of your amending several statutes at our request, the Court has been able to expand its court schedule. The Court is now sitting 30% more than it was two years ago. While that expanded program has imposed greater burdens upon an already burdened court and staff, the results have been rewarding. For the 12-month period ending August 30, 1982, the Supreme Court disposed of 940 cases as opposed to 786 disposed of during the previous 12-month period. Of that number, 459 were decided by full opinion. This constituted an increase of 109 more full opinions for the 12-month period.

By any standards known throughout the country those numbers indicate the efforts of a court working far beyond its ideal numbers and perhaps even beyond numbers which are realistic. I believe that I can say that it is not possible for the Court to realistically handle any greater volume than it is now handling without making some significant changes, including sacrificing some of the quality of its opinions. I might even suggest that attempting to handle the volume we are presently handling strains the Court in its desire to produce carefully considered and well written opinions. We have, in my view, reached the maximum level of production and perhaps have even exceeded it. If we are to continue addressing the problems of an ever expanding docket we cannot hope to solve the problems by hearing more arguments or writing more opinions but, instead, must seek other solutions.

One of those solutions we have turned to has been the Preargument Settlement Conference. This is a procedure, as you know, where retired judges of the court are employed by the Supreme Court. Their function is to meet with lawyers and, in some cases, their clients, and review cases which are on appeal to this Court. This procedure was first instituted in 1981 and has continued to prove successful.

Figures maintained by the Settlement Conference Officers disclose that for the period from July 1, 1981, to June 30, 1982, conferences were held in 407 cases resulting in 267 of those cases settling without any further action required by the Court. This amounts to a success rate in excess of 65%. That number becomes even more significant when you recognize that one of the parties to that conference has already obtained a successful verdict. Even with regard to those cases which do not settle, something is to be gained. In a number of the cases the issues are narrowed, thereby reducing the cost of the appeal and assisting the Court in addressing the unanswered questions. Prior to January 1, 1983, only a limited number of cases were required to be submitted to Settlement Conference while a host of others came only on a voluntary basis. Because of the success of the program, the Court determined that beginning January 1, 1983, all cases appealed to the Supreme Court would first be reviewed through the Settlement Conference. While we are hopeful that this procedure will continue to assist the Court and therefore the State in addressing the workload of the Court, we must solicit your support in permitting us to continue using retired judges to carry out this very important and worthwhile project. The cost is minimal when compared to the benefits realized. While there are similar programs throughout the United States, few, if any, seem to have enjoyed the success of our program. For that reason we continue to monitor the program closely to be certain that the maximum benefit of the program can be realized.

The matter of workload at the appellate court level is only one of many issues facing an ever expanding court system. The proper utilization of court personnel, including judges, is another important issue. For that reason, we have proposed to you the adoption of expanded in-chambers jurisdiction for judges. This is found in the current L.B. 272, heard on Tuesday by the Judiciary Committee. We ask your support for that bill. Outside of Lincoln and Omaha, our judges are principally circuit-riders, often times required to drive long distances for relatively brief hearings. By adopting L.B. 272 greater utilization of the telephone would come about, thereby permitting matters to be handled by conference call, even though the judge may be in one county and the lawyers in two others. We believe that this will be significant in helping hold down both the cost of litigation and the waste of a judge's time, needlessly driving all over the State, when the matter could just as well be handled by telephone. It is the use of such systems that offer to us the greatest hope for success.

There are, of course, those who suggest that too many things are litigated today. While it may be desirable to encourage people to get along better; if, indeed, disputes do arise, there appears to be no better way to resolve them than through the peaceful process of the courtroom. Consider, if you can, what a society without an independent legal system would be like. Experience has taught that when individuals cannot bring their disputes to the courtroom and resolve them in calm, they are inclined to take their disputes to the streets and seek to resolve them in anger. For that reason, if for no other reason, we must continue to make the courts available to all. It was on that basis that the framers of our State Constitution included Article I, Section 13, which provides that: "All courts shall be open, and every person, for any injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have a remedy by due course of law, and justice administered without denial or delay." Our desire to improve the administration of justice is not motivated alone by personal views but as well due to our mutual constitutional obligation to bring it about.

It is for that reason that the Court has continued to concern itself with preventing court delay at all levels even before a problem develops. We are extremely fortunate in this State that delay at the trial level has not generally been a serious problem nor has it posed the difficulties which many states now face. In an effort, however, to insure that we keep on top of that situation, a special committee appointed by the Court and headed by Justice William Hastings during the past year, drafted rules concerning the operation of courts. These rules were submitted to the Supreme Court and by the Court adopted. Under these rules, all judges at every level must file a certificate with the Supreme Court each month advising the Court of any case which that judge has had under advisement for more than 90 days since the taking of evidence. The purpose of the rule is obviously to prevent cases from being held under advisement for inordinate periods of time. The rule seems to be accomplishing its purpose in that few cases are now held under advisement for more than 90 days. In addition, guidelines have further been developed for the courts which provide that cases must be heard on the merits within prescribed periods of time, varying depending upon the nature of the case, but in no event more than 18 months after the date of filing. The obvious purpose of this rule is to prevent long delays between the filing of a case and the trial of the case as is so common in other states. While the rules do provide that longer intervals may be approved when deemed necessary because of extraordinary eventualities, such as exceptionally complicated discovery, stabilization of injury in a personal injury case or settlement of financial affairs, nevertheless, the guidelines are intended to generally be followed. The Court is firm in its belief that justice delayed is justice denied and steps must be taken to avoid that situation whenever possible.

I should further report to you that we have carried out the mandate given to us by you during the last session of the Legislature. You may recall that the discovery rules in Nebraska provided by statute were repealed and in its place authority was given to the Supreme Court to promulgate rules for discovery. Appropriate rules were developed and distributed to interested groups. Thereafter a public hearing was held and comments were received. Following all of that, the rules were adopted effective January 1, 1983, and are now in place.

Turning then to another subject, the Court, in its continuing effort to provide the general public with a better understanding of the judicial branch of government, has amended its previous Canon 35 so as to permit cameras and recording devices in the Supreme Court. Beginning October 1, 1982, cameras and recording devices, in a limited manner and pursuant to rules promulgated by the Court, have been permitted during oral argument in the Supreme Court. This modification and waiver applies only to the Supreme Court and does not, at this time, apply to any other courts in Nebraska. It is yet too early to determine whether the experiment has been successful except to say that the use of the devices to date appears to have caused no significant disruption in either the operation of the Court or the administration of justice. Whether the public has gained sufficiently by reason of the press being permitted to bring cameras and recording devices into the courtroom is yet unknown. We will continue to monitor that procedure in our effort to find further ways of permitting the public to be aware of what transpires at the Court.

Another matter which may be of particular interest to you concerns the retention of judges under the merit selection system. Because we firmly believe that the public should be given every opportunity to participate in this process in a knowledgeable and meaningful way, we have requested the State Bar Association to develop a meaningful system of evaluating judges who are subject to retention. By that we do not mean simply a polling system which reflects whether an individual lawyer has had a successful experience or an unsuccessful experience with a judge but, rather, whether a judge displays the characteristics important for a judge, such as whether the judge displays judicial temperament, is industrious, knows the law, is impartial, and is punctual. In my view, the public is deserving of such assistance from the Bar and I am pleased that the Bar has agreed to undertake such a project. I believe that when that program is completed and in place, the merit selection system will be greatly enhanced and will continue to fulfill the purposes for which it was intended.

Having now shared with you some of the results of the past, let me now share with you some of the concerns of the future. For, indeed, if government, regardless of the branch, is to thoughtfully serve the public, not only must it look back to see where it has been, but it must likewise look forward to see where it must go. It was Abraham Lincoln who observed that the legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done, but cannot do at all in their separate and individual capacities. And Edmund Burke who noted that government is a contrivance of human wisdom to provide for human wants.

The first matter which I wish to discuss with you concerns what I shall describe as the need for the preparation of a legal impact statement in connection with proposed legislation. After many years of being able to disregard the fiscal impact that proposed legislation might have upon the public, this body, a number of years ago, carefully and thoughtfully instituted a procedure which now produces a fiscal impact statement in connection with proposed legislation. As you know, all legislation is required to be examined by various governmental agencies who must advise you as to their best estimate of the fiscal impact the adoption of legislation will have. That fiscal impact is generally directed to the immediate or near immediate time. There is, of course, another effect brought about by the passage of legislation which, though it may not be as immediate, is as important. This is what I refer to as the legal impact. Passing a statute may not require you to appropriate funds immediately. Nevertheless, the passage of that statute may result in so significantly increasing the workload of the courts, or the law enforcement agencies, or the probation department so as to either effect the agency's ability to carry out the mandate of the specific legislation or, in any event, divert its attention from fulfilling other previously imposed duties. I believe we need to begin giving such matters more careful consideration. We must start looking a little further down the road to see just where we are going and what it will really cost, not only in money but in time and effort as well. I am not prepared this morning to suggest to you how that should be done but only that we should begin, at the earliest possible moment, to consider that fact and begin to develop appropriate procedures for providing the necessary information. In order to do so we must determine, among other questions, what should be the proper scope of the statement, who should prepare the statement, what unit of government should be responsible for preparing the statement, and when should a statement be prepared.

As but a brief example of the importance of a legal impact statement, let me share with you for a moment a California experience.

Beginning January 1, 1976, California reduced the penalty for simple possession of not more than 1 ounce of marijuana from a felony to a misdemeanor, punishable by not more than a $100 fine. Everyone assumed the passage of the bill would reduce the criminal workload in California because the processing of misdemeanors was less difficult and less time-consuming than felonies. What California did not know was that local law enforcement personnel in one of the communities had not been actively pursuing cases involving less than 1 ounce of marijuana. The officers and those with whom they coordinated their activities believed that the chances of obtaining a conviction under the former felony statute did not justify the required amount of justice system resources, including time. As a result, law enforcement officials simply used their authority to confiscate the drugs and then screened the cases from the justice system. Once, however, the crime was reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor, law enforcement officials more vigorously enforced the law. Instead of reducing the workload as had been previously anticipated, the workload was significantly increased resulting in greater filings in the municipal court, a fact which no one had considered possible when considering the legislation. There are many other examples such as this, both outside our State and even within our State. I firmly believe that some of the disappointment experienced by this body initially and by the public subsequently in connection with legislation adopted by this body could be minimized if a meaningful system for preparing a legal impact statements could be devised. In this way you could know whether the bill is likely to produce the result desired or was only cosmetic.

And as I share with you my thoughts concerning the development of a legal impact system, I am again reminded of what I see as the development of an unfortunate practice. I refer to the practice of introducing legislation directly affecting the operation of the court system without first seeking suggestions from the judicial branch of government. I do not, for a moment, mean to diminish the authority of the Legislature to initiate any bill it desires nor to dim the constitutionally created separation of powers. I mean to only suggest that you are missing the availability of a valuable resource when you fail to use the office of the Court Administrator. I regret that we have failed, over the years, to develop some system whereby the three branches of government might have an exchange of ideas on a regular basis. I remain firmly convinced that, just as this has been done between the legislative and executive branches of government without sacrificing any authority, so too could it be done between the three branches of government. I again offer to participate in such a program if one can be developed. I believe the people of Nebraska will better be served by reason of our undertaking such an endeavor. It was Samuel Johnson who once said, "Knowledge is of two kinds. We know a subject ourselves, or we know where we can find information upon it." In an ever expanding and complex society, we must expand our knowledge by expanding our sources of knowledge.

As I conclude my report to you this morning let me touch on one other general subject of great concern to all of us. I speak, of course, of the matter of crime generally and the role which the courts must play in addressing that issue. Contrary to public slogan, the courts are not to blame for today's incidents of crime any more than firemen are to blame for fires or raincoats for rain. It is not the firemen who create the fires nor the raincoats that cause the rain and it is not the courts that create crime. In order for that to be true, one must assume that those who ascend to the bench do not come from the general population nor do they have family or property requiring protection. Moreover, for the slogan to be true, it must be assumed that, for reasons no one seems able to explain, the judges have taken up with the criminal element rather than with the public generally. The difficulty with that belief is not only that it treats the judiciary unfairly, but it likewise blinds us so that we are unable to find real solutions to these difficult problems. We must first of all recognize that courts are not unlimited in either their authority or their ability to deal with crime. Courts are not at liberty to disregard constitutional prohibitions nor statutory requirements. Simply suggesting that such matters can be interpreted away is simply to fail to understand the American legal system. It was Woodrow Wilson who said: "Unless justice be done to others, it will not be done to us." And Gladstone who observed that national injustice is the surest road to national downfall. Nor should we disregard Alexander Hamilton's admonition that the first duty of society is justice. Doing away with justice will not do away with crime.

I believe the problem may be caused more by two other beliefs firmly held by the public but which time and experience have proven untrue. They are that irrational behavior present during the commission of a crime can be deterred by the threat of punishment and that punishment itself, absent anything else, will subsequently produce a law-abiding citizen. Neither of those notions are supported in fact. Yet, to a large extent, the actions we take in addressing crime today are based upon the truth of those beliefs. I believe that it is because of our failure to recognize the fallacy in those beliefs that we have thus far been unsuccessful in our fight against crime. It is true that some people are deterred in committing some crimes in face of some punishment; but no one must believe that the majority of those who commit crimes are deterred by the threat of punishment. One need only look at the rate of recidivism among previously convicted felons to recognize that even after an individual has experienced prison, he or she may be inclined to commit another felony. Therefore, to simply adopt more laws prescribing longer sentences will not reduce crime and those who believe that are destined to be disappointed. Such laws may produce longer jail sentences but those sentences can be imposed only after a crime has been committed. The judicial system has no way of directing its forces toward individuals unless and until a crime has been committed. Therefore, the adoption of longer sentences, without anything else, will only produce larger prisons that may satisfy our desire for revenge, but it will not result in significantly reducing the incidents of crime.

It therefore occurs to me, as I hope to you, that we could better use our time and our resources working with those whom we have identified as criminals in an effort to change their ways as opposed to simply continuing to declare more acts criminal, imposing longer sentences, and walking away.

Unless we are prepared to impose life sentences for all crimes (a fact I take we are not prepared to do), we must recognize that at some point everyone we send to prison is likely to be released; and, unless we are prepared to use the time we have them imprisoned and spend the money necessary to change their attitudes before we release them back into society, we cannot expect much by way of an improved population. If, for 8 or 9 years, we teach an individual not to be responsible, not to work, not to make decisions, and not to follow the same rules by which the outside world lives, we should not be surprised if upon return to society he or she fails to live up either to our rules or our expectations.

Preliminary studies indicate that as much as 30% of the Nebraska prison population is illiterate, in a country in which the illiteracy rate is minimal. Should that not tell us something about the basic characteristics of the criminal and what one of the serious problems with crime is? And should it not further encourage us to try and remove that illiteracy while we have them incarcerated so that the individual, upon returning to society, may have at least the same minimal tools to work with which the rest of us have? The question is no longer whether we can afford to change to such programs but, only whether we can afford not to change to such programs. Unless and until the criminal element is exposed to appropriate role models who can convince the criminal about the joy of lawfulness, nothing we do in building larger facilities nor imposing longer sentences is likely to prove effective.

I recognize that programs such as education, vocational training, and psychological counseling will not eradicate crime. But we should not be looking for a Salk-like vaccine for crime. These problems have taken years to develop and will, likewise, take years to resolve. But we must start somewhere.

Probation poses the same type problem. While, on the one hand, we are encouraged to extend to the first-time offender another chance and place him on probation, we are, at the same time, unable to provide that individual with either meaningful supervision or appropriate direction. At the present time, those in charge of probation are both too few in number and too poorly paid to perform the full functions they need to perform. Yet, every individual who is saved through probation is one less individual whom we must later provide for in the penitentiary. We must give more thought to what we can do with the first-time offender placed on probation. The necessary programs now available are simply too few. We must begin to look at the real causes of crime and criminal behavior and enlist not only government but all of society in combating this difficult and never-ending problem. We will not, of course, eliminate crime. It has been with us since the very beginning. That should not be our goal. But if, in fact, we can establish clear and concise objectives which are designed to change the criminal behavior, we may be able to yet turn the tide. We will not be successful in every case and, to be sure, we will fail with some. But if we can develop an understanding program brought about through the joint efforts of all three branches of government and the public generally, we may yet be able to save this great country.

The one general consensus growing out of the Court's recent symposium on crime held last fall was the need for better communication, understanding, and cooperation between the various branches of government and their many agencies involved in the criminal justice system. And yet, while the suggestion seems so simple and so obvious, little if anything has been done toward bringing it about. I again invite and urge this body to join with us in addressing this very important issue.

One need only examine events in various parts of the world to realize the value and importance of a free and independent legal system such as that which exists in America. In order for that system to continue to fulfill its function it must adjust with the times. Those adjustments cannot be made without your help and cooperation though, to be sure, those adjustments should not be made in such manner as to cause erratic and constant changes of course. The change will cause some pain, that is natural. Yet, we must not be afraid of either the pain or the change. As E. B. White noted: "The only sense that is common in the long run is the sense of change—and we all instinctively avoid it." We must no longer instinctively avoid change with regard to our fight against crime. We must not insist on retaining the status quo simply because it provides us with comfort, but must be willing to adjust as times and needs require while recognizing that merely making adjustments may not bring about change but may only make waves. For a nation which can, at will, move people and equipment in and out of space, who can design machines to nearly think like a human, and who can replace nearly every vital organ of the human body, one must believe that the solutions to crime are available. We of the Judiciary wish to join with you in that endeavor and we solicit your invitation to permit us to join with you.

In conclusion, let me therefore report that the Judiciary of Nebraska is alive and well and anxiously looking forward to the challenges ahead.

Thank you very much.

The Committee escorted Chief Justice Krivosha from the Chamber.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 31.

Introduced by Wesely, 26th District; DeCamp, 40th District.

Private Sector Financing of State Weatherization

WHEREAS, Nebraska imports over 95 percent of its primary energy needs which cost Nebraska businesses, households, farms, and industries nearly $3 billion in 1982;

WHEREAS, Nebraska's imported energy bill between 1981 and 1982 grew by about $300 million and energy inflation has become one of the most inflationary items in local and state governments' budgets;

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature in 1981 enacted LB 158 which provided for energy audits to be performed on Nebraska's state buildings by the Nebraska Energy Office and this program has resulted in about 650 state buildings being audited by the end of 1982;

WHEREAS, these state building audit recommendations estimate that the State of Nebraska could reduce its annual utility costs by over $1 million if these recommendations were implemented;

WHEREAS, based on these audit findings and other state agency investigations, over $17 million worth of energy conservation projects have been submitted to the Nebraska Building Renewal Task Force for funding for the next fiscal year;

WHEREAS, undertaking and completing these energy conservation projects is financially prudent and in the best interest of the taxpayers of the state;

WHEREAS, individuals, organizations, businesses, and corporations in the private sector of the Nebraska and U.S. economies do have available investment capital for this type of secure, high yielding, short term investments; and

WHEREAS, government bodies in other parts of the United States are using private sector third party financing for such projects;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE, 88th LEGISLATIVE SESSION:

A. The Nebraska Energy Office, the Department of Administrative Services, and other appropriate state agencies assess the feasibility of permitting and encouraging private sector third party financing of energy conservation projects in state buildings.

B. That these agencies submit their findings to the Legislature's Appropriations Committee by no later than May 1, 1983.

Laid over.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 25
February 16, 1983

Dear Senator Newell:

In your letter of February 3, 1983, you ask whether Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-151 (1982 Supp.) mandates, in counties having a population in excess of 300,000 inhabitants, the nomination of county commissioners by district and their election at large or whether it mandates both their nomination and election at large.

We understand the purpose of your making this inquiry is that you have introduced Legislative Bill 493 which would require the nomination of such commissioners by district and their election at large and the basis of your question is whether or not such legislation is needed or whether that currently is the state of the law as set forth in Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-151 (1982 Supp.).

There are three references to this situation within this overall section, two of which would appear to clearly require nomination by district and election at large and a third which is somewhat ambiguous.

The ambiguous language is as follows: "In counties having more than 300,000 inhabitants, and in counties where a majority have voted for five commissioners, (1) counties which elect members of the board on an at large basis shall continue to appoint and elect additional members at large, . . ." If the word "appoint" is synonymous with the word "nominate" then this exception, which would apply as we understand it to Douglas County, would require the nomination and appointment of such commissioners at large which would be inconsistent with the remainder of the statutory language contained in this section.

To summarize if the word "appoint" as set forth above is construed to mean "nominate" then this sentence is inconsistent with the remainder of the body of Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-151 (1982 Supp.). On the other hand if the word "appoint" is construed to mean to fill a vacancy, then these sections would be consistent.

The word "appoint" as defined by Black's Law Dictionary is to "designate, ordain, prescribe, nominate". Additionally from Volume 6 of Corpus Juris Secundum, the word "appoint" is defined as meaning "allot, set apart, or designate; to choose or select; to nominate or authoritatively assign."

It would therefore appear to us that at best, the language of this section is ambiguous and at worst, inconsistent. We would be therefore of the opinion that if it is your desire to clarify the legislative direction to counties having in excess of 300,000 in population as to how their county commissioners are to be nominated and elected, it would be helpful to enact clarifying legislation at this time.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 26
February 16, 1983

Dear Senator Lamb:

This is in response to your letter of February 4, 1983, in which you request our opinion regarding whether there is a conflict between Article V, Section 21, of the Nebraska Constitution, and language in LB 422 which would allow the Supreme Court to provide for the appointment of an additional judge in a judicial district other than that in which a judicial vacancy has occurred.

LB 422 provides, insofar as relevant here, that: "Whenever a vacancy occurs in one district, the Supreme Court may provide for the appointment of an additional judge in another district in lieu of filling the vacancy."

We believe that such provision would violate Article V, Section 21 of the Nebraska Constitution because the provision attempts to confer authority on the Supreme Court which belongs primarily to the Governor, and secondarily to the Chief Justice, by declaration of the people in the Nebraska Constitution.

Specifically, Article V, Section 21 of the Nebraska Constitution provides that:

(1) In the case of any vacancy in the Supreme Court or in any district court or in such other court or courts made subject to this provision by law, such vacancy shall be filled by the Governor from a list of at least two nominees presented to him by the appropriate judicial nominating commission. If the Governor shall fail to make an appointment from the list within sixty days from the date it is presented to him, the appointment shall be made by the Chief Justice or the acting Chief Justice of the Supreme Court from the same list.

When the words of the Constitution are plain, direct and unambiguous, no interpretation is needed to ascertain their meaning, and a mere reading will suffice. State ex rel. Caldwell v. Peterson, 153 Neb. 402, 45 N.W.2d 122 (1951).

The language of Article V, Section 21, is clear: The Governor or, if the Governor fails to act, the Chief Justice, shall make the appointment in the event of a judicial vacancy. To the extent that the language in LB 422 would conflict with the language in Article V, Section 21, of the Nebraska Constitution, the Article would control and the language of the act would be invalid. Consumers Coal Company v. City of Lincoln, 109 Neb. 51, 65, 189 N.W. 643 (1922); School District No. 54 v. School District of Omaha, 171 Neb. 769, 107 N.W.2d 744 (1961).

Opinion No. 27

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in response to your letter of January 29, 1983, in which you ask whether the last paragraph of Initiative 300 (Article XII, Nebraska Constitution) would allow the Legislature to sell school land under "favorable conditions."

The paragraph in question provides that "The Nebraska

Legislature may enact, by general law, further restrictions prohibiting certain agricultural operations that the Legislature deems contrary to the intent of this section.”

Where the words of a constitutional provision are plain, direct and unambiguous, no interpretation is needed to ascertain their meaning, and a mere reading will suffice. State ex rel. Caldwell v. Peterson, 153 Neb. 402, 45 N.W.2d 122 (1951).

We believe that the language of the paragraph in question is clear. The terms “this section” as contained in said paragraph refer to Section 8 of Article XII.

Section 8 imposes certain restrictions on specified corporation and syndicate activities with regard to acquisition of agricultural interests in Nebraska real property by those business entities. The section does not impose restrictions on the Nebraska State Board of Educational Lands and Funds in the administration of the state’s school lands, nor should it be reasonably construed to authorize the sale of school land in contravention of Nebraska constitutional provisions pertaining to the management and control of Nebraska school lands. Such management, including the responsibility for deciding whether or not school lands should be sold, is vested in the Nebraska State Board of Educational Lands and Funds. Article VII, Section 6, Nebraska State Constitution; State ex rel. Ebke v. Board of Educational Lands and Funds, 159 Neb. 79, 65 N.W.2d 392 (1954); State ex rel. Belker v. Board of Educational Lands and Funds, 184 Neb. 621, 171 N.W.2d 156 (1969); Probst v. Board of Educational Lands and Funds, 156 Neb. 226, 55 N.W.2d 653 (1952).

To the extent that the paragraph in question here might be regarded as conflicting with Article VII, Section 6 of the Nebraska Constitution, Article VII would properly be regarded as controlling because of its specific application to school lands, and because specific provisions of the Constitution should be given effect in case of conflict with general provisions of the Constitution. Elmen v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 120 Neb. 141, 231 N.W. 772 (1930); Swanson v. State, 132 Neb. 82, 271 N.W. 264 (1937).

Dear Senator Kilgarin:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning LB 13.

You have inquired about the effect of an amendment to section 61 of that bill which, with the amended portion underlined, would read as follows:

Any separate juvenile court probation position or related position exclusively associated with probation services and existing within a separate juvenile court juvenile court existing on or before January 1, 1983, shall, after July 1, 1984, be deemed a part of the Field Probation Service. The positions shall exist under the office of Probation Administration, and juvenile probation officers and employees in such related positions shall serve under the same conditions as other comparable service personnel.

You inquire if this would have the desired effect of preventing the transfer of personnel working for a separate juvenile court or in administrative support functions for a separate juvenile court when such functions are completely unrelated to probation services or probation support services.

The effect of the bill would depend upon the meaning of the words "exclusively associated" in your amendment. Webster's New World Dictionary, College Edition, defines "exclusive" as "excluding all others; shutting out other considerations, happenings, existences, occupations, etc." It defines "exclusively" as "with all others excluded; only."

It defines "associate" in part as "to connect; combine; join...anything joined with another thing or things."

With these definitions in mind, we would have to say that only probation positions and related positions concerned only with probation services to the exclusion on any services not related to probation would be transferred, provided they are within a separate juvenile court on the date in question.

If the "related position" associated with probation services also contains work in other areas not connected with probation services, even though a very small portion of the time, it would not be transferred because it would not be "exclusively" associated with probation services. Thus, administrative support functions for the separate juvenile court would not have to be "completely unrelated" to probation services (as stated in your letter) to avoid transfer, but merely a small portion of such administrative support functions would have to be unrelated to probation services.

If we can be of further assistance to you, please contact us.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. DeCamp asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 59 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0414

1 1. Strike the original sections and insert

2 the following new sections:

3 "Section 1. That section 77-2715.01, Revised
4 Statutes Supplement, 1982, be amended to read as
5 follows:

6 77-2715.01. (1) (a) Commencing in 1983 the
7 Legislature shall annually On or before November 15 of
8 each year, the State Board of Equalization and
9 Assessment shall set the rate of the income tax imposed
10 by section 77-2715 for the taxable year beginning in
11 the subsequent calendar year, and the rate of the sales
12 tax imposed by subsection (1) of section 77-2703 which 13 will be effective from January 1 through December 31 of
14 the succeeding year, except that for the period May 1
15 through December 31, 1982, the rate of the sales tax
16 shall be three and one-half per cent. calendar year
17 1983 the Legislature shall also set such rates for the 18 current calendar year. The Legislature shall use the 19 procedures provided in this section in setting such 20 rates.

21 (b) The Revenue Committee of the Legislature
22 shall introduce a bill proposing the rate of the income
23 tax imposed by section 77-2715 and the rate of the sales
1 tax imposed by subsection (1) of section 77-2703. The
2 committee shall hold a public hearing on such bill.

3 Recognizing that an adequate cash flow is
4 necessary to maintain the orderly implementation of
5 various legislative acts, it is mandatory that the
6 funding of those acts which have a fiscal impact beyond
7 a current appropriations year be considered when setting
8 the sales and income tax rates. Accordingly, the
9 purpose of this subsection is to provide that the State
10 Board of Equalization and Assessment shall set rates
11 based on appropriations and the express obligations of
12 the Legislature for the two succeeding calendar years
13 following the rate-setting date. Such action will
14 provide an adequate cash flow, the orderly
15 implementation of the funding of acts as intended by the 16 Legislature, and eliminate drastic fluctuations in the
17 state sales and income tax rates.

18 (a) In fixing the rates, the State Board of 19 Equalization and Assessment shall first determine the 20 status of all appropriations and express obligations for 21 the next two succeeding calendar years following the
22 rate-setting date which must be financed from the
23 receipts from the sales and use taxes, the individual
24 and corporation income and franchise taxes and other
25 miscellaneous receipts to the General Fund, from a
26 certified statement of all appropriations and express

1 obligations for the next two succeeding calendar years
2 following the rate-setting date made by the most recent
3 regular session of the Legislature, which statement the
4 Director of Administrative Services shall prepare and
5 furnish prior to the convening of such board.

6 (b) If the Legislature should meet in a
7 special session during any year, the board shall add to
8 the appropriations and express obligations as certified
9 pursuant to subdivision (a) of this subsection, the
10 appropriation for the legislative session, all
11 miscellaneous claims, deficiency bills, and all
12 emergency appropriations and express obligations.

13 (c) The board shall then determine the balance
14 of the General Fund at the beginning of the period under 15 consideration and the estimated receipts to the General
16 Fund from all sources other than the sales, use, income,
17 and franchise taxes for this period.

18 (d) (c) The Legislature board shall then set
19 the rates of the sales tax and income tax so that the
20 estimated funds available pursuant to subdivision (c) of
21 this subsection plus estimated receipts from the sales,
22 use, income, and franchise taxes will be not less than
23 two three per cent nor more than seven per cent in 24 excess of the appropriations and express obligations for
25 the next two succeeding calendar years, following the
26 rate-setting date as determined pursuant to subdivisions

1 (a) and (b) of this subsection. The purpose of this
2 subdivision is to insure that there shall be maintained
3 in the state treasury an adequate General Fund balance,
4 considering cash flow, to meet the appropriations and
5 express obligations as certified as provided in
6 subdivision (a) of this subsection of the state.

7 (d) (e) The rates of the sales and income
8 taxes shall be fixed so that the total sales and use
9 taxes levied will as nearly as possible equal the total
10 individual income tax levied for the calendar year for 11 which the rates so fixed will be effective, except when
12 a change in the sales and use tax rate or individual
13 income tax rate would be required solely to meet the
14 provisions of this subdivision. The Legislature board
15 shall set the rates in such a manner that total sales
16 and use tax revenue should not exceed total individual
17 income tax revenue in any particular year.

18 (e) (f) For purposes of this subsection, total
19 sales and use taxes levied shall mean the total state
20 sales and use tax liability of all taxpayers for the
21 calendar year minus total food sales tax credits

22 attributable to the same period. Total income and
23 franchise taxes levied shall mean the total state income
24 and franchise tax liability of all taxpayers for the 25 calendar year, before deduction of food sales tax
26 credits.

1 (f) ~~(g)~~ The sales tax rate so fixed by the
2 Legislature ~~board~~ shall be an increment of ~~one half~~
3 ~~one-fourth~~ of one per cent, and the income tax rate so
4 fixed shall be an increment of ~~one half of one~~ per cent.

5 (g) ~~(h)~~ For purposes of this section, express
6 obligation shall mean an obligation which has fiscal
7 impact identifiable by a sum certain or by an
8 established percentage or other determinative factor or
9 factors.

10 (2) The board shall meet (a) within fifteen
11 days after the adjournment of each regular session of 12 the Legislature, (b) within thirty days after each
13 special session of the Legislature, and (c) not later
14 than the later of (i) sixty days after passage and
15 approval or (ii) fifteen days prior to the effective
16 date of any changes in the provisions of the Internal
17 Revenue Code of 1954 and amendments thereto, other
18 provisions of the laws of the United States relating to
19 federal income taxes, or the rules and regulations
20 issued under such laws, if such federal changes would 21 increase or decrease the total projected income and
22 franchise taxes levied for any twelve-month period by an
23 amount equal to or greater than the amount of revenue
24 raised from such sources by a one-half per cent tax rate
25 increment and shall determine whether the rates for 26 sales tax and income tax must be changed. At any
1 meeting of the board held due to changes in federal law,
2 the board shall adjust the income tax rate so that the
3 total income and franchise taxes levied shall as nearly
4 as possible equal the income and franchise taxes which
5 would have been levied if there had been no change in
6 the federal law. The chairperson of the Legislature's
7 Revenue Committee shall meet with the Tax Commissioner
8 within ten days after the fifteenth of November of each
9 year and shall determine whether the rates for sales tax
10 and income tax should be changed. In making such 11 determination the board they shall recalculate the
12 requirements pursuant to the formula set forth in 13 subsection (1) of this section, taking into
14 consideration the appropriations and express obligations
15 for any such special session, all miscellaneous claims,
16 deficiency bills, and all emergency appropriations.
17 In the event it is determined by the Revenue

18 ~~Committee that the board determines~~ the rates must be
19 changed as a result of a such regular or special session
20 or as a result of a change in the provisions of the
21 Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and amendments thereto,
22 other provisions of the laws of the United States
23 relating to federal income taxes, and the rules and
24 regulations issued under such laws, the committee shall
25 petition the Governor to call a special session of the 26 Legislature to make whatever rate changes may be
1 necessary. such sales tax rate shall be made effective
2 at the beginning of any calendar month within the
3 current calendar year and such income tax rate shall be
4 effective for the current taxable year.

5 (3) Public notice of any meeting of the board
6 at which sales and income tax rates are to be considered
7 shall be given at least ten days prior to the meeting,
8 by a news release for statewide distribution, by
9 publication in a legal newspaper of general circulation
10 in the state, and in such other forms as the Tax
11 Commissioner shall deem appropriate. The notice shall

23      as follows:

1       29-1804.03. (1) It shall be the duty of the 2       public defender to represent all indigent persons who
3       are charged by complaint, information, or indictment
4       with, or under arrest for investigation or on suspicion
5       that they may have committed, any criminal offense

11      all critical stages of felony proceedings against them
12      through the stage of sentencing. Sentencing shall 13      include hearings on charges of violation of felony
14      probation. Following the sentencing of any indigent
15      defendant represented by him or her, the public defender
16      may take any direct, collateral, or post-conviction

17 appeals to state or federal courts which he or she 18 considers to be meritorious and in the interest of 19 justice, and shall file a notice of appeal and proceed
20 with one direct appeal to the Supreme Court of Nebraska
21 upon a timely request after sentencing from any such 22 convicted felony defendant, subject to the public
23 defender's right to apply to the court to withdraw from 24 representation in any appeal which he or she deems to be 25 wholly frivolous.

26 (2) It shall also be the duty of the public
1 defender to represent all indigent persons against whom 2 informations of mental illness have been filed with the 3 county boards of mental health, to the extent required
4 by sections 83-325.01 to 83-325.04.

5 (3) It shall also be the duty of the public
6 defender to represent all indigent persons charged with 7 misdemeanor offenses punishable by imprisonment, when 8 appointed by the court.

9 (4) Appointment of a public defender shall be 10 by the court in accordance with sections 29-1804.05 and 11 29-1804.07. A public defender shall not represent an 12 indigent person prior to appointment by the court,
13 except that a public defender may represent a person
14 under arrest for investigation or on suspicion without 15 appointment if the person executes a statement of 16 indigency. A public defender shall not inquire into a 17 defendant's financial condition for purposes of 18 indigency determination except to provide a statement of 19 indigency to a person under arrest for investigation or 20 on suspicion. A public defender shall not make a 21 determination of a defendant's indigency, nor recommend 22 to a court that a defendant be determined or not 23 determined as indigent.

24 Sec. 3. That section 29-1804.05, Reissue
25 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
26 as follows:

1 29-1804.05. At a felony defendant's first
2 appearance before a court, ~~without retained counsel~~, the 3 court shall advise him or her of his or her right to 4 court-appointed counsel if he or she is indigent.

5 If he or she asserts his or her indigency, the 6 court shall make a reasonable inquiry to determine his 7 or her financial condition, and may require him or her
8 to execute an affidavit of his indigency. If the court
9 determines him or her to be indigent, it shall formally 10 appoint the public defender to represent him or her in 11 all proceedings before the court, and shall make a 12 notation of such appointment and appearances of the 13 public defender upon the felony complaint. The same

14 procedure shall be followed by the court in misdemeanor
15 cases punishable by imprisonment.

16 Sec. 4. That section 29-1804.07, Reissue
17 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
18 as follows:

19 29-1804.07. At a felony defendant's first
20 appearance before a judge, ~~without retained counsel~~, the 21 judge shall advise him or her of his or her right to 22 court-appointed counsel if such person is indigent. If 23 he or she asserts his or her indigency, the court shall 24 make a reasonable inquiry to determine such person's 25 financial condition, and shall require him or her to 26 execute an affidavit of indigency for filing with the 1 clerk of the court. If the court determines the 2 defendant to be indigent, it shall formally appoint the 3 public defender, or in counties not having a public
4 defender, an attorney or attorneys licensed to practice
5 law in this state, not exceeding two, to represent the 6 indigent felony defendant at all future critical stages
7 of the criminal proceedings against such defendant,
8 consistent with the provisions of section 29-1804.03,
9 but appointed counsel other than the public defender
10 must obtain leave of court before being authorized to 11 proceed beyond an initial direct appeal to the Supreme 12 Court of Nebraska, to any further direct, collateral, or 13 post-conviction appeals to state or federal courts. A 14 felony defendant who is not indigent at the time of his 15 or her first appearance before a judge may nevertheless 16 assert his or her indigency at any subsequent stage of 17 felony proceedings, at which time the judge shall 18 consider appointing counsel as otherwise provided in 19 this section. The judge shall make a notation of such 20 appointment and all appearances of appointed counsel
21 upon the court's docket. If at the time of appointment
22 of counsel the indigent felony defendant and appointed
23 counsel have not had a reasonable opportunity to consult 24 concerning the prosecution, the judge shall continue the 25 arraignment, trial, or other next stage of the felony
26 proceedings for a reasonable period of time to allow for 1 such consultation.

2 Sec. 5. That original sections 29-1804,
3 29-1804.03, 29-1804.05, and 29-1804.07, Reissue Revised
4 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.”.

COMMUNICATION

February 23, 1983

Dear Senator Wagner:

I have reviewed LB 36 and LB 37 which both amend section 2-1504, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1982, and have concluded that the amendments to this section are reconcilable and do not conflict with each other. While each bill addresses different parts of this section, I feel the intent and action of the Legislature can be given effect by combining the individual changes made by these two bills.

I am enclosing a copy of section 49-769, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1982, which makes it the duty of the Revisor of Statutes to correlate statutes amended in two or more bills which have not been correlated as a part of the normal legislative process. It appears to me that section 2-1504 as amended by LB 36 and LB 37 falls within the provisions of section 49-769.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

(Signed) Sincerely,
Joanne M. Pepperl
Revisor of Statutes

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 29
February 24, 1983

Dear Senator DeCamp:

For the purpose of determining whether corrective legislation is necessary, you ask our opinion as to whether the case of Memphis Bank and Trust Company v. Garner, decided by the United States Supreme Court, January 24, 1983, casts doubt on the validity of any of Nebraska's taxing statutes. It is our conclusion that it does.

31 U.S.C. §742 provides:

Except as otherwise provided by law, all stocks, bonds, Treasury notes, and other obligations of the United States, shall be exempt from taxation by or under State or municipal or local authority. This exemption extends to every form of taxation that would require that either the obligations or the interest thereon, or both, be considered, directly or indirectly, in the computation of the tax, except nondiscriminatory franchise or other nonproperty taxes in lieu thereof imposed on corporations and except estate taxes or inheritance taxes.

Memphis Bank and Trust Company involved a Tennessee tax on banks based upon their "federal taxable income." Under 26 U.S.C. §103, "federal taxable income," includes interest on obligations of the United States and its instrumentalities, but does not include interest on state or municipal obligations. The Tennessee statute included in the taxable net earnings interest on obligations of states other than Tennessee, but not those of Tennessee or its political subdivisions. The court held that the tax could not be characterized as nondiscriminatory under 31 U.S.C. §742, and therefore it violated that section.

Our individual income tax is, of course, based upon the taxpayer's adjusted federal income tax liability. See, Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2715 (Supp. 1982). However, Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2716 (Reissue 1981) provides that there shall be subtracted from federal taxable income interest or dividends on obligations of the United States and its instrumentalities to the extent includable in gross income for federal tax purposes, but exempt from state income taxes under the laws of the United States. Therefore, we have no problem with respect to individual income taxes.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2734(1) imposes an income tax on corporations whose business within the state consists exclusively of foreign commerce, interstate commerce, or both. Section 77-2716 applies to such tax, so, again, we have no problem.

Section 77-2734(2), however, imposes a franchise tax on all other corporations doing business in the state. It is measured by the corporation's entire net income. "Entire net income" is defined as federal taxable income derived from sources within this state" without regard to the modification referred to in §77-2741. Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2741 (Reissue 1981) provides, "Interest and dividends are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state, subject to the modifications provided by section 77-2716."

Therefore, §77-2734(2) imposes the franchise tax expressly excluding a deduction for interest or dividends on obligations of the United States or its instrumentalities, while 26 U.S.C. §103 expressly excludes interest on state or municipal obligations. We are unable to see how it can be argued that Memphis Bank and Trust Company does not apply. It appears that the franchise tax imposed by §77-2734(2) is discriminatory against the United States and its instrumentalities, and is forbidden by 31 U.S.C. §742.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 32.

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District; Chronister, 18th District.

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes the importance of labor organizations and labor unions in contracting with employers with respect to working conditions, wages, benefits and the duration and content of labor agreements, and

WHEREAS, the Legislature also recognizes the importance of having employees fairly and adequately represented by any labor organization or labor union of which they are a member and

WHEREAS, the Legislature also recognizes that changes in the national, state and local economy may affect the desire of members of labor organization to propose changes to contract provisions they have entered into with their employer, and

WHEREAS, the current condition existing with the Land O Lakes located in Schuyler, Nebraska suggest that arbitrary and possibly unreasonable actions, attitudes and union rules may be preventing the will of the majority of the labor union members at the Land O Lakes plant from expressing their willingness to accept a changed contract or different employment conditions which would cause immediate reopening of the plant and the immediate reemployment of approximately 1,000 now unemployed workers, and

WHEREAS, the Legislature of the State of Nebraska is the representative of the people of Nebraska and has a vested interest in trying to effect a settlement of this unemployment situation and a return to productivity of the plant as soon as possible, and

WHEREAS, it is fit and proper for the Legislature to investigate and determine whether the existing laws of the State with respect to the rights of union members adequately protect the union members majority right to make decisions with respect to contracts which affect or will affect them, and

WHEREAS, conflicting information received in the Schuyler dispute suggests that if an absolute offer were available from the Land O Lakes plant to the union members and a vote by the Union members on the contract was possible that the union members might well vote to accept the proposed contract thereby causing the reopening of the plant.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature's Business and Labor Committee immediately be authorized and directed to investigate all facts and circumstances surrounding the Schuyler plant closing.

2. That the Committee be authorized and directed to cooperate immediately with the Governor, the Land O Lakes representatives and the Union representatives in amicably bringing a settlement to the Schuyler situation and a reopening of the plant.

3. That the Business and Labor Committee be further authorized and directed to immediately determine if changes are needed in the State's labor laws as exemplified by the Schuyler situation. Be further resolved that Senator Harry Chronister, whose legislative district the plant is located, as well as Senator John DeCamp who has worked actively on this issue and has interest also located in Schuyler, be made voting members of the special committee set up and created to look into this matter. Be it further resolved that the committee issue a report with as much information and detail to the Legislature every seven days until the situation is resolved one way or another.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 36.

Introduced by Carsten, 2nd District.

WHEREAS, The U. S. Supreme Court has recently declared unconstitutional the State of Tennessee's tax on the net earnings of banks in Memphis State Bank & Trust Company v. Garner; and

WHEREAS, there are similarities between portions of the State of Tennessee's bank tax and portions of the State of Nebraska's corporate income and franchise tax; and

WHEREAS, there currently are legal questions being raised about the constitutionality of Nebraska's corporate income and franchise tax; and

WHEREAS, some taxpayers have begun to file claims for refunds for Nebraska taxes based on the U. S. Supreme Court decision in the Tennessee case; and

WHEREAS, the possibilities are raised that a large number of refunds may eventually be required to be allowed and, in addition, the state will experience a continuing revenue loss in the future; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska revenue officials and the Nebraska Legislature need to have an immediate court determination on whether Nebraska's law is constitutionally defective in order to be able to timely remedy any problems and prevent any potential crises from worsening.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature requests that the Attorney General of the State of Nebraska cause to be brought an appropriate legal action for the purpose of determining the validity of Nebraska's corporate income and franchise tax in light of the U. S. Supreme Court decision in the Tennessee case;

2. That such action be brought as soon as possible and in such a manner so that a determination of the issues involved will be available as soon as possible.

STATEHOOD DAY CEREMONY

Awards were presented by Acting Governor McGinley to the following people:

Statehood Day 1983 gives us a fine opportunity to reflect on Nebraska's growth and directions of growth occurring over the past 116 years. Our economy has grown in a way unimagined by our grandfathers, based on a remarkable set of values that existed long before we became the State of Nebraska. An agrarian background, a strong work ethic, an entrepreneur's attitude towards business and industry, and a willingness to work together have all contributed to a growing Nebraska economy.

A century ago, our forefathers learned that work was essential to survival in a land where nature's whims were hostile, and the native Americans were unfriendly. A strong work ethic developed as they endeavored to establish a way of life in a new land. 116 years after the territory became a state, other forces threaten our "good life". The world economy has become a dominating influence to slow our growing quality of life. But the pioneer spirit, responsible for the development of a most productive and dependable modern work force, and a super efficient agricultural industry, have blunted the serious economic recession which has caused critical problems in other states.

On this celebration of our State's birthday, we want to emphasize the forces at work in the spirit of the pioneers...encouraging expansion to today's business in Nebraska, and developing programs designed to build a better business climate. Nebraska's economic growth and quality of life have been the envy of all the country. Governor Kerrey and our state Legislature have given a high priority to continuing the growth of Nebraska's economy with the enhancement of a business climate that is conducive of job development and business expansion. With the spirit of workmanship developed through these 116 years, and the pioneer years before Statehood, the growth of our economy, the continued development of our standard of living, and the image of the "good life" have a solid foundation on which to build.

So on this March 1, 1983, I ask you to reflect on how this state has grown along the path of the future established by those wagonmasters, trailblazers, and pioneers more than 116 years ago, and with those modern day leaders we honor today. With this foundation, the security of our future is assured.

We are pleased that Betty Abbott and the Nebraskaland Foundation have arranged this opportunity to pause and reflect on our statehood and to honor those who have done more than their share for the great State of Nebraska.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 37.

Introduced by Landis, 46th District; Kilgarin, 7th District; Fowler, 27th District; Wesely, 26th District; DeCamp, 40th District.

WHEREAS, President Ronald Reagan on Saturday, February 26, 1983 announced that he is planning to ask the U.S. Congress to enact federal legislation to provide for the immediate decontrol of the natural gas industry;

WHEREAS, Nebraska is a natural gas importing state and would stand to be harmed by this action;

WHEREAS, immediate decontrol by the federal government of natural gas would add next year about 24¢ per bushel to the cost of production for corn and about 19¢ per bushel for the cost of production for wheat according to the U.S. Congressional Research Service;

WHEREAS, immediate decontrol of natural gas would cost all Nebraska natural gas consumers over $1.5 billion in higher gas prices than we are expected to pay during the next five years - over $300 million more per year than would probably occur under the current federal policy;

WHEREAS, over 75 percent of Nebraska's current supply of natural gas is contracted for "old gas" (i.e., discovered and developed prior to 1977) which is priced at about $1.00 per 1000 cubic feet;

WHEREAS, immediate decontrol of natural gas would allow old gas prices to rise to the average wellhead price of nearly $3.00 per 1000 cubic feet — immediate decontrol could mean a doubling to tripling in the wellhead price of gas entering Nebraska;

WHEREAS, the current federal policy of partial decontrol provided for in the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 has provided gas producers significantly higher prices and greater incentives to develop new gas supplies;

WHEREAS, additional decontrol and the resulting higher prices would not provide any additional incentive for gas reserve development due to the current U.S. glut of gas supplies;

WHEREAS, the natural gas industry is a monopolistic industry and if fully deregulated would not function as a free market were the market forces of supply and demand would result in the most reasonable prices for consumers;

WHEREAS, the current problem with "take or pay contracts" often cited as a major reason for immediate decontrol can be resolved by the U.S. Congress without immediate decontrol and through alterations in the current Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE, 88TH LEGISLATIVE SESSION:

1. That this Legislature finds the immediate decontrol of natural gas as proposed by President Reagan would unduely cause natural gas prices to rise without the benefits of enhanced supplies or the development of a free market;

2. That this Legislature is opposed to the Congression enactment of the immediate decontrol of natural gas as proposed by the Reagan Administration; and

3. That the Clerk of the Legislature send copies of this resolution to President of the United States, the Nebraska Congressional Delegation, and the Speaker of the United State House of Representatives, and the President of the United States Senate

Laid over.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 30

March 1, 1983

Dear Senator Beutler:

This is in response to your request for an opinion concerning portions of LB 215. You specifically inquire whether the state is preempted from enacting legislation which would prohibit federal savings and loan associations from ownership of title insurance agency interests as provided for in LB 215, since such companies are regulated by federal law.

As you know, LB 215 is a general exercise of the police power of the state in the regulation of title insurance. It generally attempts to regulate the producers of such insurance, as defined in the act, from doing business with a controlled company or agency in the title insurance business. The act applies generally to all individuals and corporations involved in buying or selling interest in real estate or making loans secured by interests in real estate, and does not specifically mention federal savings and loan associations or banks.

It has long been recognized that insurance is a proper subject of regulation by the state police power. As far back as 1914 our State Supreme Court in approving in its entirety our state insurance code stated in part:

The police power of the state may be employed as said in Noble State Bank v. Haskell, supra, "in aid of what is sanctioned by usage, or held by the prevailing morality or strong and preponderant opinion to be greatly and immediately necessary to the public welfare."

We are convinced that, in the light of the case referred to, there is doubt as to whether the legislature had exceeded its constitutional limitations. In such case the lawmaking body is entitled to the benefit of the doubt; only a clear case of violation will justify the court in interfering, and this has not been shown.

State, ex rel. Martin, v. Howard, 96 Neb. 278 at 294.

This view has, of course, been strengthened many times since. Classifications of various businesses for the purpose of regulation have long been the established practice of the Legislature and are routinely held proper provided that they rest upon some reason of public policy or some substantial difference of situation or circumstances, and cannot be interfered with unless it is clearly apparent that the Legislature has made an artificial or baseless classification. Metropolitan Utilities District v. City of Omaha, 171 Neb. 609; City of Scottsbluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256.

We have not been informed as to the stated purposes for this particular act but, for the purposes of your question, assume that the Legislature has a sound basis for the particular regulations of the title insurance business contained in the act. This being so, the fact that it may interfere with the operation of a particular type business is of no consequence to the validity of the act, since the act applies to all businesses and individuals uniformly who come within its provisions.

Should there be some conflict between the act and the authority granted by federal law to federal savings and loan associations, the extent of the conflict between the two statutes would have to be examined to determine if one or the other prevailed. We have not been able to find any such federal provisions.

The fact that the federal government generally regulated federal savings and loan associations would not of itself affect this bill since, as mentioned before, the bill applies uniformly to all individuals and corporations who wish to produce business as defined in the act and does not attempt to regulate savings and loan associations.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 31
February 28, 1983

Re: LB 117

Dear Senator Sieck:

By letter dated February 17, 1983, you asked whether LB 117, a bill which would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §9-307 of the Uniform Commercial Code, would allow a full-time farmer who purchased a "piece of machinery" from another full-time farmer to take the item of equipment free of a security interest.

UCC §9-307(1), as it presently reads, and as it would read should LB 117 pass in the form which we have in front of us, does not provide for a buyer to take free of a security interest in every case. There are limitations on the basis of who the buyer is, what he is buying, how much he actually knows about the provisions of the security interest, who the seller is, and who created the security interest in the property. We assume that you have made your inquiry with an understanding of most of the limitations and that you are primarily interested in the limitations relating to the identities of the buyer and seller. We also assume that when you refer to a "piece of machinery" you are referring to an item that would qualify as farm equipment which, incidentally is not defined in the Code. (Is a pick-up used in farming operations "farm equipment?”)

LB 117, insofar as it is relevant to our discussion, provides:

A buyer in ordinary course of business (subsection (9) of section 1-201) including other than a person buying farm products or farm equipment from a person engaged in farming operations takes free of a security interest. . . .

This language is somewhat confusing because it appears to indicate that a person buying farm equipment from a person engaged in farming operations fits within the definition of a buyer in ordinary course of business. However, a “buyer in ordinary course of business” is “a person who in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to him is in violation of the ownership rights or security interest of a third party in the goods buys in ordinary course from the person in the business of selling goods of that kind but does not include a pawn broker.” (Emphasis added). UCC §1-201(9). A person engaged in farming operations would generally be understood to mean a farmer. It also is generally understood that a farmer is not one who is in the business of selling farm equipment. Consequently, it does not seem to be consistent to say that a person who buys farm equipment from a farmer is one who has bought goods from a person in the business of selling goods of that kind.

Because of the inconsistency an argument could be made that one who buys farm equipment from a farmer would only take free of a security interest in such equipment if the farmer was also a dealer in farm equipment or, alternatively, if the farmer-seller had a significant volume of turnover in the same type of farm equipment.

However, it is probable that the word “including,” which would be added to Neb.Rev.Stat. §9-307 by LB 117 would be read as an “and” in order to harmonize the seeming inconsistency. This interpretation would result in a secured party not being permitted to enforce a security interest in farm equipment after the property was sold by the farmer who had created the security interest. Whether the enforcement of the security interest will be foreclosed does not depend upon the identity of the buyer. The proposed legislation makes no distinction between a buyer who is a farmer or a buyer who is a farm implement dealer.

We would also point out that reading the word “including” as an “and” may result in the requirements that a buyer be in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to him is in violation of a security interest of a third party, which requirements are written into the definition of “buyer in ordinary course of business,” being inapplicable to a buyer of farm products or farm equipment. In other words, any person buying farm products or farm equipment from a farmer, even though the buyer was aware that the sale was in violation of a secured party’s interest in the property, may be able to take the property free of that interest.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Barrett announced the Business and Labor Committee will meet in Executive Session on Wednesday, March 9, at 1:30 p.m. in room 1019.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 38.

Introduced by Wesely, 26th District.

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, through the issuance of tax-exempt single family mortgage revenue bonds, has made it possible for nearly six thousand low- and moderate-income families in Nebraska to realize the American dream of home ownership and for over five hundred low- and moderate-income families in Nebraska to improve and make energy efficient their existing single family homes; and

WHEREAS, realization of home ownership and home and energy conservation improvements would otherwise have been denied those families because of their inability to meet the high down payment requirements and high monthly mortgage payments of conventional financing; and

WHEREAS, the housing industry in Nebraska, beleaguered by high interest rates and the high cost of housing, fueled by runaway inflation, has been materially benefited by the additional financing provided by the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund; and

WHEREAS, the 96th Congress enacted the Mortgage Subsidy Bond Tax Act of 1980, which was signed into law on December 5, 1980, as Public Law 96-499, and which provides that no such tax-exempt single family mortgage revenue bonds may be issued after December 31, 1983; and

WHEREAS, such provision of the Mortgage Subsidy Bond Tax Act of 1980 nullifies the action of the Nebraska Legislature in creating the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund with respect to the financing of the ownership and improvement of single family homes through the issuance of tax-exempt obligations.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

(1) That the 98th Congress be urged to take prompt action in amending the Mortgage Subsidy Bond Tax Act of 1980 to extend the sunset date of December 31, 1983 to permit the issuance of tax-exempt single family mortgage revenue bonds subsequent to December 31, 1983.

(2) That each member of the Nebraska Congressional delegation be urged to support such amendment in order that the fine record of the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund may be continued.

(3) That the Clerk of the Legislature forward a copy of this resolution to the Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives, the President of the U.S. Senate and each member of the Nebraska Congressional delegation.

Laid over.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 35
March 3, 1983

Dear Senator Beutler:

This is in response to your letter of March 1, 1983, in which you requested our opinion as to the constitutionality of LB 44. Your concern was whether there was a violation of the prohibition against a bill containing more than one subject.

Article III, Section 14, of the Constitution of Nebraska provides in part: "No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title." The title of LB 44 states that it is an act relating to obsolete sections. It states that it repeals Neb.Rev.Stat.

§15-267, §15-755 to §15-759 (provisions relating to street sprinkling and off street parking), repeals §50-501 to §50-520 (The Nebraska Legislative Emergency Succession and Procedures Act), that it removes §71-507 to §71-515 (certain bedding requirements, that is, provisions for the manufacture, renovation and use of bedding material under Article 5 on contagious diseases. It should be noted that the title made reference to "bidding" but review of the statute indicates that "bedding" was intended). Further, the title notes that it removes §70-4,161, §70-4,162, §70-4,164 to §70-4,169, §79-1409, §79-1413, §79-1414 (the establishment of a school for the deaf), and that it repeals §83-482 (relating to sentencing to the Department of Correctional Services).

It is well established that "if an act has but one general object, and contains no matter not germane thereto, and the title fairly expresses the subject of the bill, it does not violate Article III, Section 14, of the Constitution." Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 155 N.W.2d 322 (1967); Yellow Cab Co. v. Nebraska, 175 Neb. 150, 120 N.W.2d 922 (1963); Rein v. Johnson, 149 Neb. 67, 30 N.W.2d 548 (1947); Beisner v. Cochran, 138 Neb. 445, 293 N.W.2d 289 (1940).

It is necessary to look at the bill and determine if the amendatory sections or repealing sections are part of the subject matter of the bill. According to Van Horn v. State, 46 Neb. 62, 74 (1895), legislation is "single" in subject matter so long as the act has but a single main purpose and object." In determining what that main object is, we must look to the bill itself to ascertain whether or not it contains more than one subject. Id. at 72; and Midwest Popcorn Co. v. Johnson, 152 Neb. 867, 871-72 (1950).

The repeal of obsolete sections is the purpose set out in the title, but a review of the repealed sections fails to show any common thread of a single main purpose other than the elimination of purportedly obsolete programs. The programs eliminated by repeal of the statutes would appear to make up more than one comprehensive subject. It is our opinion that the possibility of obsolescence does not create subject matter commonality among otherwise unrelated statutes. We therefore conclude that there is a question as to the constitutionality of LB 44.

Although your request for an opinion was confined to the issue of subject matter, the fact that there was an error in the spelling of "bedding" in the repeal of §71-507 to §71-715 also causes us some concern. One of the purposes of the title is notice and the connotation of the word "bidding" as compared to the word "bedding" is significantly different. The purpose of the constitutional provision that the subject shall be clearly expressed in the title is to provide that notice of the subject matter of the projected law, through the title to the bill, is given to members of the Legislature and the public. State v. Levell, 181 Neb. 401, 407 (1967). Such an error in the title could result in misunderstanding as to the contents of the bill.

Very truly yours,

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

 RE: Priority Bill Designation

Pursuant to Rule 5, Section 6, the priority bills must be designated by members, committees and the Speaker, prior to the forty-fifth (45th) legislative day. The Rule also states that the Speaker may designate the annual designation deadline for submission of priority bill requests. This year, the forty-fifth (45th) legislative day will fall on March 16, 1983; consequently, I would request that the Committee Chairpersons submit the Committee priority bills (2), and each Senator submit his individual priority bill designation to my office by noon, Monday, March 14, 1983. This will afford me, as Speaker, twenty-four (24) hours to review the remaining bills for possible designation as Speaker priority bills by the required time period which, of course, is noon, Tuesday, March 15, 1983 (forty-fourth (44th) legislative day).

Please visit with me should you have questions about other bills being designated as priority bills. Of course, I'll be happy to visit with any of you regarding this procedure. Should you have any questions please don't hesitate to contact me.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 33
February 25, 1983

Dear Senator H. Peterson:

This is in response to your letter of February 24, 1982, in which you ask whether Gerald Koch is eligible for appointment as a board member to the Nebraska State Board of Educational Lands and Funds, given provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. §72-201(2) (Reissue 1981), which prohibit appointment of persons to that board who are "actively engaged in the teaching profession."

You have informed us that your question is based upon the fact that the Legislature will be asked to decide whether to confirm the proposed appointment of Mr. Koch to the Nebraska State Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

We conclude that Neb.Rev.Stat. §72-201(2) could apply to make Mr. Koch ineligible for appointment as a board member to the Nebraska State Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §72-201(2) provides, insofar as relevant here, that "no person shall be eligible to membership on the board who is actively engaged in the teaching profession."

The task is therefore to identify the class defined by the terms "engaged in the teaching profession." If Mr. Koch falls within that classification, he should be regarded as ineligible for appointment according to the provisions of §72-201(1).

In defining said terms, the intent of the Legislature is paramount and may be determined by reference to the history of the legislation, as well as to other statutes pertaining to the same subject matter as the legislation in question. State v. Opela, 108 Neb. 821, 189 N.W. 159 (1922), Hergott v. Nebraska State Railway Commission, 145 Neb. 100, 15 N.W.2d 418 (1944).

Although the legislative history of §72-201(2) offers no insight regarding the legislative intent in defining the class of persons "engaged in the teaching profession," we do find that the Legislature has declared the teaching profession to include "... related services including administrative and supervisory services." Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1280 (Reissue 1981).

By reading §72-201(2) with reference to §79-1280, it is apparent that persons "engaged in the teaching profession," as used in §72-201(2), would include persons engaged in providing services directly to teaching, including administrative and supervisory services.

The issue is therefore whether Mr. Koch is engaged in such services to an extent which would require him to be regarded as directly involved in services related to teaching, including administrative and supervisory services. The answer to such question would depend upon the facts of Mr. Koch's employment with reference to the applicable law which we have cited.

The facts are:

1. Gerald Koch is presently employed as Secretary/Treasurer, and lobbyist, for a Nebraska non-profit corporation known as the Omaha Suburban Area Council of Schools (OSAC) (according to the corporation's Biennial Report for 1982 and 1983). The responsibilities of his position require him to be actively engaged in achieving the objectives and purposes of the corporation.

2. The objectives and purposes of the OSAC are: a) to maintain liaison with the several governmental agencies providing funds for educational purposes; b) to maintain a liaison with the various legislative bodies whose acts affect the members of the corporation; and c) to enter into all contracts necessary to the attainment of the corporate objectives. (OSAC Nebraska Articles of Incorporation, filed January 6, 1967.)

3. The school districts represented by the OSAC are members of the corporation. (OSAC Nebraska Articles of Incorporation, filed January 6, 1967.)

Given that the school districts represented by OSAC are part of that corporation, and further given that Mr. Koch is employed by OSAC as an officer of that corporation who is actively engaged in the furtherance of the corporation's goals, he could properly be regarded as an administrator who is actively employed by the districts which the corporation represents.

Such conclusion is not inconsistent with Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-441 (Reissue 1981), which would allow the district board to hire "necessary personnel;" and is further consistent with the fact that members of a school district act in a representative capacity, not as individuals, when transacting the business of a school district. Greer v. Chelewski, 162 Neb. 450, 76 N.W.2d 438 (1956).

In the language of §72-201 and §79-1280, Mr. Koch's duties as Secretary/Treasurer of OSAC and as lobbyist for that organization could properly be regarded as a "related service," if not "administrative service," which require him to be engaged in the teaching profession.

The foregoing analysis would indicate that Gerald Koch is probably ineligible for appointment as a board member to the Nebraska State Board of Educational Lands and Funds. However, the final determination of whether Mr. Koch should be appointed is a question of fact to be determined by the Legislature.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 34
February 28, 1983

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in response to your letter of February 8, 1983, in which you requested our opinion as to the constitutionality of LB 606 and 603. Your concern was whether there was a violation of the prohibition against a bill containing more than one subject. In this letter we address LB 603 first because it is a longer and more complicated bill.

Article III, Section 14, of the Constitution of Nebraska provides in part: "No bill shall contain more than one subject, and the same shall be clearly expressed in the title." The title of LB 603 states that it is an act relating to state administrative departments.

It is necessary to look at the bill and determine if the amendatory sections are part of the subject matter of the bill. According to Van Horn v. State, 46 Neb. 62, 74 (1895), legislation is "single" in subject matter "so long as the act has but a single main purpose and object." In determining what that main object is we must look to the bill itself to ascertain whether or not it contains more than one subject. Id. at 72; and Midwest Popcorn Co. v. Johnson, 152 Neb. 867, 871-72 (1950).

Sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 amends §11-201 et seq., to transfer the duties of the Risk Manager to the Director of Administrative Services. Sections 5, 6 and 7 amends §44-1622 et seq., to authorize the Director of the Department of Administrative Services to carry out insurance duties formerly handled by the Risk Manager. Sections 8 through 13 amends §48-194 et seq., to provide for the Secretary of the State Claims Board on the advice of the Attorney General to investigate, administer, pay and settle Workmen's Compensation Claims. Section 14 amends §60-1008 to provide that the Director of Administrative Services (rather than Risk Manager) shall purchase liability for state vehicles. Sections 15 through 21 of §81-173 et seq., provides for the establishment of a Task Force for building renewal in the Department of Administrative Services. Section 22 amends §81-8,212 to provide that all tort claims shall be filed with the secretary of the State Claims Board rather than with the Risk Manager. Section 23 amends §81-8,220 to provide that the Director of Administrative Services shall be the chairperson of the board. Sections 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28 provides that the Secretary of the State Claims Board and the Attorney General shall administer the judgments under the Tort Claim Act and report to the Legislature. Section 29 amends §81-8,239.01 et seq., to provide that the Director of the Department of Administrative Services shall administer the Risk Management Program by identifying exposure to the risk of loss, determine the appropriate method of dealing with the exposure, and negotiate and contract the insurance which is necessary.

Each of the provisions in LB 603 addresses the transfer of certain duties and authority to the Department of Administrative Services, and it may, therefore be said that the act has a single main purpose and object.

It is well established that "if an act has but one general object, no matter how broad that object may be, and contains no matter not germane thereto, and the title fairly expresses the subject of the bill, it does not violate Article III, Section 14, of the Constitution." (Emphasis added). Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 155 N.W.2d 322 (1967); Yellow Cab Co. v. Nebraska, 175 Neb. 150, 120 N.W.2d 922 (1963); Rein v. Johnson, 149 Neb. 67, 30 N.W.2d 548 (1947); Beisner v.

Cochran, 138 Neb. 445, 293 N.W. 289 (1940).

Although regulation of state administrative departments is a broad legislative object, that object is not so broadly defined as to fall outside the purview of Article III, Section 14, of the Nebraska Constitution. The Supreme Court of Nebraska has defined the single object of a legislative bill as broadly as simply "taxation." Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 155 N.W.2d 322 (1967).

Given the Nebraska Supreme Court's consistently broad interpretation of legislative language, when combined with general rules of statutory construction, the conclusion must be that LB 603 should be construed to contain solely one comprehensive subject.

Each of the provisions of LB 603 is included within the general subject, "state administrative departments" and is consistent with the intent of the bill which is to transfer duties and authority to the Department of Administrative Services. It is axiomatic that "(w)here a statute is susceptible of two constructions, one of which renders it constitutional and the other unconstitutional, it is the duty of the court to adopt the construction which, without doing violence to the fair meaning of the statute, will render it valid." Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 155 N.W.2d 322 (1967); State ex rel. Meyer v. County of Lancaster, 173 Neb. 195, 113 N.W.2d 63 (1962); Beisner v. Cochran, 138 Neb. 45, 293 N.W.289 (1940). Where reasonable doubts exist with regard to the manner in which a statute is construed, such doubts must be resolved in favor of constitutionality. Peterson v. Hancock, 155 Neb. 167, 30 N.W.2d 85 (1952); Sommerville v. Johnson, 149 Neb. 167, 30 N.W.2d 577 (1948); Nelson v. Tilley, 137 Neb. 327, 289 N.W. 388 (1939).

LB 603 should be found constitutionally valid as it solely addresses matters germane to the transfer of duties and authority to the Department of Administrative Services in the operation of state administrative departments.

Whether provisions of proposed legislation are germane to the statutes they seek to amend must be investigated in addition to examining whether the sections of a particular bill relate to one general topic. LB 603 bears the same relationship to the amended statutes as it does to the other provisions of LB 603 because in each instance only one general topic, "Operation of State Administrative Departments" is addressed.

In view of the above it is the opinion of this office that LB 603 addresses one subject, that the requirements of Article III, Section 14 of the Nebraska Constitution have sufficiently been met, and the bill should be upheld as valid and enforceable.

In regard to LB 606, an application of the basic principles set out above lead us to have some concern about the constitutionality of the bill.

Section 1 of LB 606 amends §81-8,2555, which establishes the Nebraska Commission of the Status of Women. Section 3 of the bill provides for the repeal of §§81-1162 to 81-1169 which is the Forms

Management Program Act providing for the establishment of a forms management center within the Department of Administrative Services for the coordination, orderly design, implementation, and maintenance of a state agency forms management program. Section 3 also repeals §§81-1346 to 81-1348, which is the Employee suggestion system program implemented by the Director of Personnel. Further it repeals §§43-1301 to 43-1318 which established the State Foster Care Review Board for the purpose of reviewing all Foster Care placements by any child placing agency or court.

The first consideration is whether the subject matter of Section 3 (the repealing section) is part of the subject matter of the bill. In essence the bill amends the composition of the Commission on the Status of Women and eliminates three other programs. The programs eliminated by the repeal of the statutes would appear to make up more than one comprehensive subject. Although each of the programs provide for a board with membership (with the exception of the Forms Management Program) the substance of each is different and not germane to the subject set out in the title. A reading of the repealed statutes in terms of the act fails to show any common thread of single main purpose, other than the elimination of programs. In view of the above, it is our opinion that LB 606 is constitutionally suspect.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 36
February 28, 1983

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have submitted to us a copy of a proposed bill to amend the Nebraska Franchise Tax imposed on corporations, and have asked our opinion as to its constitutional validity. The obvious purpose of the bill is to correct the probable invalidity of the present law, in light of the January 24, 1983 decision of the United States Supreme Court in Memphis Bank & Trust Company v. Garner, and, at the same time, to minimize the effect of that case on the state revenues.

Memphis Bank & Trust Company held that a state tax which imposes a greater burden on the holders of federal securities than on the holders of similar state securities discriminated against the federal securities, and was forbidden by 31 U.S.C. §742. In our Opinion No. 29, dated February 24, 1983, we reached the conclusion that our franchise tax on corporations apparently involved such discrimination.

Section 2(1) (a) of your proposed bill would eliminate this discrimination by subtracting from federal taxable income, for the purpose of the franchise tax, interest earned on obligations of the United States, its agencies and instrumentalities. This would, in our opinion, clearly eliminate the discrimination held to be impermissible by Memphis Bank & Trust Company.

The attempt to minimize the revenue loss is found in Section 2(1) (b) of the bill. This subsection provides that there shall be added back to the federal taxable income 100 percent of the investment interest expense incurred by the taxpayer to purchase and maintain securities exempt from taxation.

Section 2(2) and (3) provide the method for determining the investment interest expense incurred to purchase and maintain securities exempt from taxation. We will not set these provisions forth in full, but briefly, the expense is determined by calculating the ratio of exempt securities to total assets of the corporation, and multiplying that ratio by the taxpayer's total annual interest expense. The resultant figure is then added back to the taxpayer's taxable income.

The rationale of the system seems to be supportable. If the taxpayer holds exempt securities, and at the same time has obligations upon which it pays interest, it seems reasonable to say that a proportionate share of those obligations were incurred or maintained to acquire or hold the exempt securities. Interest paid is ordinarily an expense, reducing taxable income. If that expense is incurred to hold exempt securities, which do not add to taxable income, it is reasonable to disallow the interest expense required to hold them. Since that interest expense has already been deducted, it is "disallowed" by adding it back in.

The Legislature has broad discretion in fashioning its tax laws, so long as unreasonable class legislation is not involved. As the court said in Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393, 155 N.W.2d 322 (1967), the wisdom of legislative policies is a matter for legislation rather than judicial decision. We would be prepared to defend such a policy, if enacted by the Legislature.

It cannot be said to be discriminatory against federal securities, since the ratio is calculated using all exempt securities, not just federal securities.

We believe a couple of changes would clarify the bill, and perhaps avoid attacks based on lack of clarity or unreasonable classification. Section 2(3)(a) defines securities exempt from taxation as obligations specified in subdivision (1) (a) of Section 2 and "securities exempt from gross income under 26 U.S.C. section 103." We believe the quoted portion should read "securities the interest on which is excluded from gross income under 26 U.S.C. section 103," since the securities themselves, of course, could never be included in gross income.

Section 2(3)(b) of the proposed bill provides for calculation of the average annual investment in exempt securities and average total assets. It provides a normal method of calculating these amounts, and then provides "the average amounts may be determined based on interim balance sheets during the year if more frequent measurement can be shown by the Tax Commissioner or the taxpayer to more clearly reflect the investment in exempt securities." We point out that the ratio to be determined is the ratio between exempt securities and total assets. It might be that the total assets, as well as exempt securities, might be more clearly reflected by more frequent measurement, but the bill does not provide for alternate determination to correct inaccuracies in the calculation of total assets. We believe a possible classification argument might be avoided by adding "or total assets" at the end of the sentence in question.

With these minor corrections, we believe the bill, if enacted, would be defensible.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

- 9 be added thereto, as declared by ordinances to be
- 10 boundaries of such city or village, having a population
- 11 of more than one thousand and less than one hundred
- 12 thousand inhabitants, including such adjacent territory
- 13 as now is or hereafter may be attached for school
- 14 purposes, shall constitute a school district of the
- 15 third class and be known by the name of The School

- 11 the question as to which district the annexed territory
- 12 shall be part of shall be negotiated by the school
- 13 boards of the school districts involved. If the

14 majority of the members of each school board cannot
15 reach agreement on such question within ninety days
16 after the effective date of the city annexation
17 ordinance, the question shall be submitted for binding

14 binding upon the districts involved in the dispute. The 15 districts or any person adversely affected by the 16 decision of the board may appeal to the district court
17 in the county in which the annexed territory is located.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 37
March 4, 1983

Dear Senator Kilgarin:

You have submitted to us a copy of LB 89, and asked us for our opinion as to the constitutionality of the provision that the speaker of the Legislature and the chairmen of the Legislature's Appropriation and Revenue Committees should be members of the State Tax Board, which would be created by that bill, and which would take the place of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment in setting sales and income tax rates.

The bill has been indefinitely postponed, but you inform us that you need the opinion, because its provisions may be used as an amendment to another bill.

The State Tax Board, under the bill, would be composed of the three designated members of the Legislature, plus the Governor and the Tax Commissioner. The board would set the tax rates under the same standards now specified for the State Board of Equalization and Assessment by Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2715.01 (Supp. 1982).

Two provisions of the Nebraska Constitution must be considered. The first is Article II, Section 1, which provides:

The powers of the government of this state are divided into three distinct departments, the Legislative, Executive and Judicial, and no person or collection of persons being one of these departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except as hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.

While the setting of tax rates might normally be considered a legislative function, when it is delegated to an administrative body, under proper standards, as it has been here, it becomes an administrative function. Clearly, the State Tax Board would be a part of the executive branch of government, and its powers should not be exercised by members of the Legislature.

The second constitutional provision we must consider is Article III, Section 9, which provides:

No person holding office under the authority of the United States, or any lucrative office under the authority of this state, shall be eligible to, or have a seat in the Legislature. No person elected or appointed to the Legislature shall receive any civil appointment to a state office while holding membership in the Legislature or while the Legislature is in session, and all such appointments shall be void.

Membership of the board would be holding of a state office, and would apparently be void under the above provision. We considered a similar question in an opinion dated July 7, 1967, Report of the Attorney General 1967-1968, pg. 120, a copy of which is enclosed herewith. We concluded that members of the Legislature could not be appointed to the Nebraska Coordinating Council for Higher Education because of the above constitutional provision, which was then found in Article III, Section 16 of the Constitution.

We have not found a Nebraska case directly in point on this issue, but the discussion in Searle v. Yensen, 118 Neb. 835, 226 N.W. 464 (1929), is instructive. The court said:

The power of the legislature to delegate a part of its legislative functions to municipal corporations or other governmental subdivisions, boards, commissions, and tribunals, to be exercised within their respective jurisdictions, cannot be denied; but the recipient of such powers must be members of the same governmental department as that of the grantor. Otherwise a confusion and duplication of powers would result, against which the section of the Constitution above quoted is directed. The legislature may not impose upon the judiciary or the executive the performance of acts or duties not properly belonging to those departments respectively.

Under the same reasoning, we believe the Legislature cannot delegate to members of the legislative branch duties which are administrative in nature. We therefore conclude that it would be difficult to defend the provisions you inquire about.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 38

March 4, 1983

Dear Senator Beutler:

You have asked for our opinion concerning LB 358, before the judiciary committee. That bill would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §29-2001 (Reissue 1979) by adding the following language: "Cases required to be tried by jury shall be so tried unless the defendant waives a jury trial in writing with approval of the court and consent of the County Attorney."

Your question is whether or not this amendment would violate Article I, Section 6 of the Nebraska Constitution, particularly with reference to the qualifiers restricting the right to waive jury trial. This question has been decided by both the United States and the State of Nebraska Supreme Courts.

The proposed amendment is identical to Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 23(a), except for the word "government," in its place, the words "County Attorney" are used. The United States Supreme Court considered a challenge to this rule in Singer v. United States, 380 U.S.

24. In that case the Supreme Court said:

Petitioner further urges that since a defendant can waive other constitutional rights without the consent of the Government, he must necessarily have a similar right to waive a jury trial and that the Constitution's guarantee of a fair trial gives defendants the right to safeguard themselves against possible jury prejudice by insisting on a trial before a judge alone. Turning his attention to Rule 23(a), petitioner claims that the Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, and Tenth Amendments are violated by placing conditions on the ability to waive trial by jury.

We have examined petitioner's arguments and find them to be without merit.

Thus, in terms of the Federal Constitution, it is clear that such a rule does not offend Article III, Section 2 of the United States Constitution which provides for a right to jury trials.

The Nebraska Supreme Court has on several occasions considered this question in light of Article I, Section 6 of the Nebraska Constitution. See, Johnson v. State, 169 Neb. 783, 100 N.W.2d 844 (1960) and State v. Carpenter, 181 Neb. 639, 150 N.W.2d 129 (1967). In State v. Carpenter, the Nebraska Supreme Court had overruled an earlier Nebraska case in the following language:

That case held in essence that the right to a trial by jury, as encompassed by Article I, sections 6 and 11, of the Constitution of Nebraska, was designed for the protection of the state as well as the defendant, and may not be waived. We now determine that holding was made under a misapprehension of the nature of the right involved. The right to a jury trial is personal to the defendant, and the state is without power to require one if the defendant wishes to waive it.

In the above quote, the Nebraska Supreme Court was referring to the case of Michaelson v. Beemer, 72 Neb. 761, 101 N.W. 1001 (1904). No mention was made in State v. Carpenter of Singer v. United States. In fact, the issue came up at the request of the defendant with respect to the existence of Michaelson v. Beemer, and whether or not the defendant had the right to waive a jury trial. The language utilized in Carpenter was not directly concerned with the question of whether or not reasonable rules and regulations could be imposed on the waiver of the right. However, at the very next term the Nebraska Supreme Court had before it the case of State v. Godfrey, 182 Neb. 451, 155 N.W.2d 438 (1968). In that case the defendant, after the jury had been impaneled but before opening statements, sought to waive his right to trial by jury. The district court refused to allow him to waive the right and trial proceeded to the jury. The court said:

Under such circumstances, the trial court exercised proper judicial discretion in denying the motion. We hold that the court may reasonably require that a motion to waive a jury trial be made or filed within a reasonable time prior to trial as a condition to the consent of the court. The court, of course, may grant such a motion at any time and should do so whenever it will promote the fair, reasonable, and efficient administration of justice.

The remaining question, which has not been resolved by our Nebraska Supreme Court, is whether or not the County Attorney may constitutionally be given the right to refuse to consent to the waiver of a jury trial.

While there is dicta in the Nebraska cases cited above which would tend to indicate that the State may not refuse to allow waiver of a jury trial in these circumstances, the specific question has not been addressed by the Nebraska Supreme Court. We can perceive no substantial difference between Article I, Section 6 and Section 11 of the Nebraska Constitution, and Article III, Section 2 and of the Sixth Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

The Supreme Court in Singer reviewed the preconstitution history of jury trials and the right thereto, and also, generally, the waiver rights of defendants in other criminal proceedings. That court said:

A defendant's only constitutional right concerning the method of trial is to an impartial trial by jury. We find no constitutional impediment to conditioning a waiver of this right on the consent of the prosecuting attorney and the trial judge when, if either refuses to consent, the result is simply that the defendant is subject to an impartial trial by jury—the very thing that the Constitution guarantees him.

We believe that the considerations which prompted the enactment of the Nebraska constitutional provisions referred to above are similar to, and in concert with, the federal constitutional provisions. While the Nebraska Supreme Court could construe the Nebraska Constitution more narrowly and strictly than the United States Supreme Court has the Federal Constitution, we can find no basis for predicting that they would do so.

Such a rule would not violate the Federal Constitution. We can perceive nothing in the wording of the Nebraska Constitution which would suggest a contrary conclusion should be reached. We therefore believe that such a statute would be constitutional.

Very truly yours,

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 39
March 3, 1983

Dear Senator Vickers:

This in response to your inquiry pertaining to LB 45 of the Eighty-Eighth Legislature, First Session (1983). In that letter you ask if this legislative bill, as amended, is constitutional.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1701 (Reissue 1981) provides, in part, “{a}ll private, denominational, and parochial schools in the State of Nebraska, and all teachers employed or giving instruction therein, shall be subject to and governed by the provisions of the general school laws of the state so far as the same apply to grades, qualifications, and certification of teachers and promotion of pupils.” That statute, however, is currently qualified by Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1703 (Reissue 1981) which provides “{n}othing in sections 79-1701 to 79-1704 contained shall be so construed as to interfere with religious instruction in any private, denominational, or parochial school.”

LB 45, as amended, would strike the original sections in this legislative bill and insert a new section which would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1703 (Reissue 1981) to read as follows:

79-1703. (1) Nothing in sections 79-1701 to ~~79-1704~~ contained 79-1705 shall be so construed as to interfere with religious instruction in any private, denominational, or parochial school.

(2) If the chief administrative officer of any nonpublic elementary school offering instruction through the eighth grade and the parents or guardians of all pupils enrolled therein file a statement with the Commissioner of Education declaring that the requirements of sections 79-1233 and 79-1701 to 79-1705 constitute such interference with regard to them, the commissioner shall waive the requirements of such sections and all rules and regulations relating thereto, as they apply to such school, its teachers, and pupils.

(3) Any waiver granted pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall not excuse compliance with Chapter 79, article 2, with regard to attendance, and reporting of attendance, at such nonpublic elementary schools, nor shall such waiver excuse compliance with any requirements relating to health, safety, and fire hazards. For purposes of this section and section 79-201 attendance at a nonpublic elementary school which has a waiver pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall constitute attendance at a private denominational or parochial school.

(4) Any waiver granted pursuant to subsection (2) of this section to any nonpublic elementary school may be revoked by the commissioner, following notice and opportunity for public hearing before the State Board of Education, if it is determined that children attending such nonpublic elementary school are not progressing academically based on the results of nationally recognized achievement tests to be selected and administered by the commissioner. Such tests shall not be given more often than annually. The commissioner shall adopt rules and regulations for the purpose of establishing standards for the determination of when children attending nonpublic elementary schools which have received a waiver pursuant to subsection (2) of this section are progressing academically. In selecting the test to be administered and in promulgating the rules and regulations which establish acceptable academic progress the commissioner shall consider:

(a) Prevalent usage {sic} of achievement tests in the public, private, denominational, or parochial schools of this state;

(b) Current levels of achievement on tests prevalently used by public, private, denominational, and parochial schools of this state; and

(c) The extent to which the results of any test selected by the commissioner may be subject to error or statistical deviation.

Reasonable costs incurred by the commissioner in the administration of such testing shall be chargeable to the nonpublic elementary schools which file a statement for a waiver pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The testing shall be administered within the county in which the county in which the nonpublic school is located at locations to be determined by the commissioner having due regard for the cost and convenience of the parties involved and assurance of an impartial, controlled, testing atmosphere.

The above-quoted amendment appears to be somewhat uncertain or indefinite in some of its provisions which are essential to or connected with the statute as a whole. For example, section 2 of the amendment would permit the chief administrative officer of any nonpublic elementary school offering instruction through the eighth grade and the parents or guardians of all pupils enrolled therein to file a statement with the Commissioner of Education declaring that certain statutes constitute an interference with regard to them, but it does not state the frequency that such filing must be made. The question immediately arises as to whether one such filing would cover all period of time in perpetuity? Or must the filing be made annually or perhaps semiannually to coincide with the fall and spring semesters? If not, what is the frequency of such filings. There is another uncertainty associated therewith. Must a new or an amended statement be filed in the event that a child enrolls in such a school after the Commissioner of Education has granted a waiver pursuant to subsection 2 of this amendment?

There are other uncertainties. Subsection 4 of this amendment would grant the Commissioner of Education the authority to revoke a waiver granted pursuant to subsection 2 "if it is determined that children attending such nonpublic elementary school are not progressing academically based on the results of nationally recognized achievement tests." Query—may the Commissioner of Education revoke the waiver any time it comes to his or her attention that two or more children enrolled in such a school are not progressing academically? Or does this mean that the Commissioner of Education may revoke the waiver only when it is determined that all the children enrolled in such a school are not progressing academically? If the waiver is revoked by the Commissioner of Education, the question arises whether the revocation is permanent. If not, what is the period of time? At least equally important, what happens to the children who have attended a nonpublic school which has been granted a waiver when it is determined by the Commissioner of Education that they or some of their classmates are not "progressing academically based on the results of nationally recognized achievement tests?" Must the children be enrolled in a public school? Or may the children be enrolled in another nonpublic school in which a waiver has been granted? Or may the children be enrolled in a legally approved nonpublic school which has not requested a waiver?

The above are just a few of the uncertainties associated with this amendment. It is, of course, a basic principle of due process that an enactment is void for vagueness if its prohibitions are not clearly defined. Grayned v. City of Rockford, 408 U.S. 104 (1972). Vague laws offend several important values. First, man is free to steer between lawful and unlawful conduct. Consequently, courts quite properly insist that laws give the person of ordinary intelligence a reasonable opportunity to know what is prohibited so that he may act accordingly. Second, if arbitrary and discriminatory enforcement is to be prevented, laws must provide explicit standards for those who apply them. Third, where a vague statute abuts upon sensitive areas of basic First Amendment freedoms, it operates to inhibit the exercise of those freedoms. Where, as here, a section of a legislative bill contains a number of uncertainties which are connected with the legislative bill as a whole, we can only conclude that it is void for vagueness. It is therefore our opinion that the above-quoted amendment is unconstitutional.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Beyer asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 26 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0632

- 1 1. Insert the following new section:
- 2 "Section 1. The Legislature recognizes the
- 3 fact that urban development, industrial development, and
- 4 development along major transportation arterials has an
- 5 economic impact on adjoining properties which remain in
- 6 agricultural use. The Legislature further recognizes
- 7 that land specifically devoted to agricultural use may
- 8 become inaccurately valued for tax purposes and the
- 9 value does not reflect the agricultural use of the land.
- 10 The Legislature also recognizes that land in
- 11 agricultural use may become a burden on the owner when
- 12 the land has become inaccurately valued because of the
- 13 development of adjoining land.
- 14 The Legislature intends through sections
- 15 77-1343 to 77-1348 to allow land that is in agricultural
- 16 use, and could have a burdensome valuation placed upon
- 17 it, to be valued solely for its agricultural use. The

LEGISLATIVE BILL 342. Placed on General File as amended.

Standing Committee amendments to LB 342:

AM0606

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert
- 2 the following:
- 3 "Section 1. (1) The Legislature finds that

4 the production and marketing of agricultural commodities
5 provide the basic foundation of the economy of the State
6 of Nebraska and that maintaining and enhancing the 7 stability of such foundation is essential to the general
8 welfare of the citizens of this state and is therefore a
9 proper and necessary function of state government.

10 The Legislature further finds that a
11 substantial majority of the agricultural commodities
12 produced in this state move in or impact upon the 13 international market. Therefore, any trade barriers,
14 such as embargoes, import quotas or other limitations,
15 that are imposed by foreign countries on agricultural 16 commodities which are produced in this state have a
17 direct, detrimental impact on the economy of this state
18 and on the general well-being of it's citizens.

19 (2) It is therefore the intent of the 20 Legislature that a program be implemented, as provided 21 in sections 1 to 5 of this act, to alleviate the 22 hardships arising as a result of the imposition of 23 foreign trade restrictions on agricultural commodities
1 which are produced in Nebraska.

2 Sec. 2. (1) On all passenger motor vehicles
3 of ten passenger capacity or less and not used for hire,
4 and all motorcycles, as defined in subdivision (21) of 5 section 60-301, there shall be assessed additional 6 registration fees of five hundred dollars for such 7 passenger motor vehicle and one hundred dollars for such 8 motorcycles which have never been registered in this or 9 any other state and which are manufactured in foreign 10 countries that impose trade embargoes, import quotas, or 11 other quantity limitations on agricultural commodities,
12 as defined in section 2-3804, which are produced in this 13 state and move in international commerce.

14 (2) The Director of Agriculture shall identify 15 those agricultural commodities which are produced in 16 this state.

17 (3) The Secretary of State shall compile and 18 make available a list of those foreign countries which 19 are described in subsection (1) of this section.

20 Sec. 3. No agency of the State of Nebraska
21 shall purchase any motor vehicle which is manufactured
22 in any foreign country identified pursuant to subsection
23 (3) of section 2 of this act.

24 Sec. 4. After the operative date of this act,
25 any governmental subdivision that purchases any motor
26 vehicle which is manufactured in a foreign country
1 identified in subsection (3) of section 2 of this act
2 shall be assessed, at the next distribution following

3 such purchase, a reduction of ten per cent from the 4 total funds distributed to the subdivision pursuant to 5 sections 77-27,136 to 77-27,137.01.

6 Sec. 5. Funds collected pursuant to section 2
7 of this act and funds remaining in the Governmental 8 Subdivision Fund pursuant to section 4 of this act shall 9 be transferred and deposited in the Nebraska
10 Agricultural Products Marketing Cash Fund, as provided
11 for in section 2-3812.

12 Sec. 6. That section 60-329, Reissue Revised
13 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
14 follows:

15 60-329. For each passenger car having a 16 seating capacity of ten persons or less and used for 17 hire, the registration fee shall be six dollars plus an 18 additional four dollars for every person such car is 19 equipped to carry in addition to the driver. For every 20 passenger motor vehicle of ten-passenger capacity or 21 less and not used for hire, the registration fee shall 22 be fifteen dollars plus any additional fee applicable
23 under section 2 of this act. For buses used exclusively
24 to carry children to and from school, and other school
25 activities, the registration fee shall be ten dollars.
26 For motor vehicles equipped to carry more than ten
1 persons for hire, the fee shall be based on the weight
2 of said vehicle. To ascertain the weight, the unladen
3 weight in pounds shall be used. There shall be added to 4 such weight in pounds the number of persons said vehicle
5 is equipped to carry times two hundred, the sum thereof
6 being the weight of said vehicle for license purposes.
7 The unladen weight shall be ascertained by scale

6 pounds, and less than twenty-two thousand pounds, it
7 shall be licensed as an eight ton truck as provided in 8 section 60-331 and pay the same fee as therein provided;
9 and

10 (6) If said vehicle weighs less than sixteen
11 thousand pounds, it shall be licensed as a five ton
12 truck as provided in section 60-331 and pay the same fee
13 as therein provided; PROVIDED, that upon registration of 14 motor vehicles equipped to carry ten passengers or more
15 and engaged entirely in the transportation of passengers
16 for hire within municipalities or in and within a radius
17 of five miles thereof the fee shall be seventy-five 18 dollars, and for vehicles equipped to carry more than 19 ten passengers and not for hire the registration fee
20 shall be thirty dollars. For passenger cars leased for 21 hire where no driver or chauffeur is furnished by the 22 lessor as part of the consideration paid for by the 23 lessee, incident to the operation of the leased motor
24 vehicle, the fee shall be fifteen dollars. Registration
25 which is in the name of one spouse may be transferred to 26 the husband and wife for a fee of one dollar and fifty
1 cents. So long as one registered name on a registration
2 of a noncommercial vehicle remains the same, other names
3 may be deleted therefrom or new names added thereto for 4 a fee of one dollar and fifty cents.

5 Sec. 7. That section 60-336, Revised Statutes
6 Supplement, 1982, be amended to read as follows:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 40
March 9, 1983

Re: LB 551

Dear Senator Haberman:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the constitutionality of LB 551, which would require the Director of Agriculture to establish minimum prices for wheat, feed grains, oil seeds, and milk.

In arriving at our conclusion, we call particular attention to subsection 5 of Section 2 of the bill which provides:

(5) The minimum prices established by the director for each commodity listed in subsection (1) of this section for each county of the state shall not be less than the product of the ninety per cent of parity price for each respective commodity divided by the average county loan rate, multiplied by the county loan rate of each of the counties of the state. (Emphasis added.)

With regard to the underscored provisions of subsection 5, subsection 3 defines parity prices as "the prices defined by the Agricultural Adjustment Act, 7 U.S.C. 1301," and although county loan rate is not defined in the bill, it is a well known fact that a county loan rate is the amount of money the U.S. Department of Agriculture will loan on the commodity in each county of the state.

In other words, as we pointed out with regard to the same provisions of LB 893 of the 1982 session, the Director of Agriculture would be required to set a price not less than ninety per cent of an amount fixed by Congress, divided by an amount fixed by the United States Department of Agriculture, multiplied by an amount also fixed by the United States Department of Agriculture.

As we pointed out with regard to similar provisions in LB 893 of the 1982 session, in Lincoln Dairy Corporation v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N.W.2d 227 (1960), our Supreme Court held: "The Legislature may not lawfully delegate legislative powers to an administrative or executive authority."

As applied to the provisions of LB 551, our Supreme Court has held that the Legislature may not delegate its power to agencies of the federal government.

In addition, we refer to subsection 2 of Section 2 where the bill states that ninety percent of parity is "a price level approximately equal to the average cost of production for each commodity"; and subsection 4 of Section 2 where the bill provides that "The minimum prices established in subsection (2) of this section shall be based on standard grade, type, or quality subject to normal price discounts or premiums." (Emphasis added.)

Aside from the possibility that the provisions of subsections 2 and 4 of Section 2 might be so vague as to jeopardize the bill's constitutionality, it is our conclusion that to the extent that the Legislature has granted two federal agencies powers which are reserved to the Legislature itself, the bill would be constitutionally suspect.

Very truly yours,

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 9, 1983

Mr. President
Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Senators:

Just over one month ago I delivered my State of the State message and announced my FY 83-84 budget recommendation of $747 million. That overall recommendation included many specific reductions that were necessary to bring our anticipated spending for next year in line with our projected revenues. I am pleased to note that, while there are differences between my budget proposal and that of the Appropriations Committee, the vast majority of my specific recommendations have been adopted by the Committee. I am certain that Chairman Warner and the other members of the Committee would agree that we are a long way from being done with the development of next year's budget. We have, however, come a long way already and the fact that there are by far more areas where we are in agreement than areas where we have substantial differences is certainly encouraging.

While there is good reason to view the actions of the Appropriations Committee as a true sign of progress there is also room for great concern in certain other areas of Legislative action.

A review of the bills introduced and still under consideration indicates that there are over forty bills with a potential fiscal impact in FY 83-84 in excess of $176,000,000. As you review the following list of some of the proposals, I'm certain that each of you can find items that you can support. However, the budget for the next year leaves very little room for new programs and new spending. While it is true that the Appropriations Committee has a lower recommendation than mine in certain areas, they are higher in other areas with the net result being about the same. To fund these proposals will most likely require further reductions in current programs.

Bills with FY 83-84 General Fund Impact

- LB 14 Establish a tax credit for child care - Cost $1,865,000
- LB 25 Establish sales tax for aid to potential subdivisions - Cost $1,100,000
- LB 38 Increase the Nebraska Veterans Aid Trust Fund - Cost $250,000
- LB 55 Require the Department of Agriculture to provide a commodity pricing directory service - Cost $58,500
- LB 64 Nebraska Low Income Energy Act - Cost $350,000
- LB 121 Increase the number of district judges in Lancaster County - Cost $78,000
- LB 140 Provide for state funding of Silver-Haired Legislature - Cost $10,000
- LB 210 Prohibit the use of sex differential retirement tables - Cost $1,615,000
- LB 255 Appropriate funds for Scholarship Award Program - Cost $5,000,000
- LB 317 Increase the food sales tax credit - Cost $9,000,000
- LB 339 Family Farm Preservation Act - Cost $147,000,000
- LB 398 Provide Appropriations for Crime Victims Reparations Board - Cost $300,000
- LB 410 Provide for an increase in cigarette tax for University buildings - Cost $1,675,000
- LB 444 Public Education Income Tax Act - Cost $1,820,125
- LB 469 Eliminate requirement for depositing fees on the General Fund - Cost $326,190
- LB 507 Increase the number of Juvenile Court Judges - Cost $75,287
- LB 534 Pseudorabies Control Act - Cost $557,500
- LB 568 Provide for programs of vocational education - Cost $5,302,706
- LB 585 Nebraska Math and Science Teachers Student Assistance Act - Cost $61,850

Discussions with some Senators on this issue has resulted in comments to the effect that we can solve this problem by simply postponing the effective date (and the costs) to FY 84-85. This is not a solution but rather leads to exactly the same type of problem we are facing this year—commitments and obligations far in excess of estimated revenues. In fact, there are at least seven proposals in existence already at a projected general fund cost of over $494,000,000. We have yet to arrive at a funding solution for those programs passed last year that are to be funded beginning July 1, 1983. We should not add to that burden.

LB 13 Transfer Municipal Court Personnel to County Court System - Cost $7,030,979

LB 62 Provide a foreign language program - Cost $55,000

LB 126 Provide work-study programs at postsecondary education institutions - Cost $2,125,000

LB 165 Allow judges to retire after 25 years of service - Cost $140,000

LB 341 Establish funding level for School Foundation and Equalization aid - Cost $135,234,000

LB 446 Professional Staff Development Fund - Cost $977,000

LB 586 Establish a revenue sharing program for political subdivisions - Cost $349,367,000

As I stated earlier it is my goal to develop a budget that can be supported with an income tax rate of 20% and a sales tax rate of 3 1/2%. To accomplish that goal requires reductions in existing programs.

When I delivered my budget recommendation I also submitted several bills which were necessary to implement certain portions of that budget. Most of those were referred to standing committees other than Appropriations. A review of the status of these bills is listed here.

LB 192 Repeal dedication of 1¢ cigarette tax revenues to Cancer Research - Savings $1,680,000 - Advanced to General File but committee amendment would reinstate and earmark.

LB 396 Repeal General Homestead Exemption - Savings $4,700,000 - Advanced to General File

LB 468 Require funds managed by State Investment Officer to share costs - Savings $150,000 - Heard - awaiting Committee action

LB 517 Eliminate the Cancer Registry - Savings $72,000 - Heard - awaiting Committee action

LB 603 Transfer 309 Task Force and Risk Manager to DAS - Savings $163,000 - Indefinitely postponed

LB 604 Postpone State assumption of county welfare - Savings $23,000,000 - Not yet heard by Committee

LB 606 Eliminate forms management program, Foster Care Review Board, Employee Suggestion System and reduce number of Commissioners on Status of Women - Savings $160,000 - Not yet heard by Committee

I notice that the Appropriations Committee has also introduced several bills to achieve reductions in spending which have been referred to other committees. I encourage those committees to approach their task with a broad view as to the reality of our fiscal problems. So long as we continue to say, "Reductions are certainly needed but in some other areas," no significant reductions will be made. A refusal to cut current spending reduces funding for other, higher priorities. I refuse to believe that there are no cuts which can be made in existing programs. If the standing committees do not support those cuts proposed by me or by the Appropriations Committee, it is incumbent upon them to propose alternative cuts of equal or greater amounts.

As I stated in my Budget Address, "This task will demand of all of us courage to act decisively, cooperation to achieve what is best for the State as a whole, and candor to view our economic condition realistically." Those words remain true today.

(Signed) Sincerely,
ROBERT KERREY
Governor

Opinion No. 41

Dear Senator Pappas:

You have asked for our opinion on two matters in connection with LB 336. You first ask for our opinion on the constitutionality of the distribution of net proceeds provided for in the bill. Secondly, you ask our opinion on the constitutionality of the state operating a lottery without submitting the question to the voters. We will answer your questions in the order they are asked.

Section 10 provides that 45 percent of the gross proceeds shall be used to award prizes and at least 30 percent shall be paid to the State Lottery Community Betterment Fund. Section 31 specifies that money in the State Lottery Community Betterment Fund shall be appropriated for the payment of prizes, for the repayment of money appropriated by the Legislature, for reasonably necessary expenses of the commission, and to aid incorporated cities, villages, counties, and school districts for community betterment purposes. Section 32 provides that the commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations delineating the procedures by which aid to incorporated cities, villages, counties, and school districts shall be distributed. That section continues:

The rules and regulations shall provide that financial aid be distributed to such cities, villages, counties, and school districts. One-third of the money for financial aid to such political subdivisions shall be appropriated to the State Department of Education which shall distribute such amount to school districts in the manner provided by sections 79-1331 to 79-1344. The money appropriated to the department shall be considered as separate and apart from any other revenue appropriated to the department by the Legislature which is derived from any other source. Two-thirds of the money for financial aid shall be distributed to the counties in the state on a per capita basis, based upon the most recent federal decennial census, and each county shall distribute such money to the cities and villages within its boundaries on a per capital basis.

It is thus clear that one-third of the money derived from the operation of a lottery shall be appropriated to school districts and two-thirds of the money shall be appropriated to cities and villages. We believe that this distribution formula fails for being an improper classification. We point to State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, 207 Neb. 598, 300 N.W.2d 181 (1980). In that case the Supreme Court was considering the constitutionality of the distributional formula established under LB 882, Eighty-sixth Legislature, Second Session, 1980. The court, in discussing the granting of state aid to political subdivisions said:

There is no absolute constitutional prohibition against the state granting aid to governmental subdivisions. The formula for granting aid, however, must be of such a nature that similar governmental subdivisions are treated in a similar manner and, as circumstances change, adjustments between governmental subdivisions are made.

In State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, supra, the court was dealing with the question of frozen classifications with respect to the manner of distribution. It was also, however, dealing with the reasonableness of the classification and the basis upon which they were established. The Supreme Court had previously dealt with this question in City of Scottsbluff v. Tiemann, 185 Neb. 256, 175 N.W.2d 74 (1970), a case in which an act had been adopted to require the establishment of municipal courts in certain cities in the state. Cities having more than 13,000 population located in a county having more than 33,000 inhabitants according to the 1960 federal census were required to establish such courts. The court found the classification to be closed and then went on to discuss the question of whether or not the classification there used was reasonable. The court said:

Since the newly created courts in the act are primarily for the benefit of the city, there would appear to be no sound reason for tying their mandatory creation to county population. But, if we were to assume that such a tied-in correlation is permissible, it does not appear a reasonable one in the present case. We can detect no scheme or apparent legal relationship to the purposes of the act in the proportions present between the city and the county populations. They appear to be vicarious, irrational, and totally unrelated. The attempt to explain it perhaps even defies speculation. There is not even an attempt to set up proportional city and county populations. Nor does any peculiar factor appear which would tie in the need as a class for a municipal court in a city of 13,377 with a county population of over 33,000 with the need for a municipal court in a city of 25,742 in a county of similar population.

185 Neb. at 268.

Two examples will suffice, we believe, to show the invalidity of the purported classification herein. In the first, one could look to Banner County and assume its population as 1,000 inhabitants. Secondly, one could look to Douglas County assume its population of approximately 375,000. Further, assuming one million dollars in revenue were to be distributed and there were one million inhabitants in the state, Banner County would receive $1,000 all of which would go to the single city having 30 inhabitants, thus resulting in approximately $33.00 per inhabitant. Douglas County on the other hand would receive $375,000 dollars and, while there are a few inhabitants in Douglas County outside of the city limits, the per capita distribution to Douglas County would be in the neighborhood of $1.00 per inhabitant. In the second example, one could have similar sized towns in two counties of differing populations. The amount those towns would receive would vary according to the county population and also according to the population of the other towns within each county.

Once again, since the benefit of this act seems to be directed toward cities in the accomplishment of "city betterment purposes," we fail to see how these differing results could be based on any reasonable classification. As the courts have recognized, it is within the power of the Legislature to classify for purposes of legislation. However, those classifications must rest on real and substantial differences and not be illusory or so arbitrary and capricious as to be unfair.

In your second question you ask whether or not the Legislature may constitutionally commence operating a state lottery without a vote of the people. Article III, Section 24, of the Constitution in part provides:

The Legislature shall not authorize any game of chance, nor any lottery, or gift enterprise where the consideration for a chance to participate involves the payment of money for the purchase of property, services, chance or admission ticket, or requires an expenditure of substantial effort or time; Provided, that it may authorize and regulate other lotteries, raffles, and gift enterprises which are intended solely as business promotions or the proceeds of which are to be used solely for charitable or community betterment purposes without profit to the promoter of such lotteries, raffles, or gift enterprises.

This section of the Constitution authorizes the Legislature within the limits set forth therein to authorize and regulate lotteries, raffles, and gift enterprises by statute. This has been recognized by the Nebraska Supreme Court in State v. City Betterment Corporation, 197 Neb. 575, 250 N.W.2d 601 (1977). The court said:

The Constitution of Nebraska still forbids any lottery except a lottery specifically authorized by the Legislature within the limitations of Article III, section 24. Under the 1968 amendment, the Legislature cannot authorize any lottery beyond the specific scope of the constitutional permission. The Legislature may refuse to authorize any lottery, or it may impose limits or restrictions, or qualifications upon the operation of a lottery it authorizes.

The court went on to find in City Betterment Corporation that a lottery conducted by an organization whose primary activities were to conduct a lottery was in violation of the statute then in effect.

In analyzing Article III, Section 24, it is clear that the Legislature may authorize and regulate lotteries which are intended for a business promotion or where the proceeds are used for charitable and community betterment purposes and profits do not inure to the promoter of the lottery, raffle, or gift enterprise. None of these prohibitions mandate a vote of the people prior to the establishment of such a lottery. We are unaware of any other constitutional provision which would require a vote of the people in such a situation.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 42
March 8, 1983

Dear Senator Landis:

In your letter of February 25, 1983, you ask whether or not in our opinion the Legislature is empowered to hold confirmation hearings on gubernatorial appointments in several specified circumstances.

The particular circumstances about which you inquire are first, a reappointment to a second term on a commission or board; second, an appointment of an executive department director who was appointed and confirmed in a previous administration and retained by a current administration; and third, the appointment of the Adjutant General.

The legislative responsibilities in this regard generally come from both provisions of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska and from legislation enacted by the Legislature. Article IV, section 10 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska provides: "The Governor shall appoint with the approval of a majority of the Legislature, all persons whose offices are established by the Constitution, or which may be created by law, and whose appointment or election is not otherwise by law or herein provided for; . . ."

Additionally, the Legislature has provided in Neb.Rev.Stat. §81-102 (1982 Supp.): "The Governor shall appoint heads for the various departments, subject to confirmation by a majority vote of the members elected to the Legislature."

With respect to your first two questions, we believe that when an individual is again appointed by a subsequent Governor having been appointed initially by a previous Governor, that such an appointment is nevertheless an initial appointment for the present Governor and must be confirmed by the present Legislature. We believe this would be equally true for appointments to boards and commissions as it would be to appointments to head the various executive departments.

The situation concerning the Adjutant General is slightly different however. While we are of the opinion that an initial appointment of an individual to the position of Adjutant General must be confirmed by the Legislature, such an appointment is for a period of years until the individual reaches the age of 64 as is provided in Neb.Rev.Stat. §55-136. It would appear that while such an individual could no doubt be removed by a new Governor, his continuation in office does not necessarily constitute a new appointment given his statutory tenure and it would not therefore be necessary to reappoint and reconfirm this individual.

Finally we note in passing, that while Neb.Rev.Stat. §81-102 (1982 Supp.) enumerates a number of department heads, this is not an exclusive list and the general language of Article IV, section 10 of the state Constitution, requires the submission and confirmation of all persons whose offices are established by law.

We would also note in passing that our research indicates that at least in several instances, persons originally appointed by the Exon administration, who were retained by the Thone administration, were appointed again by the new administration, submitted to the Legislature and confirmed after hearings before your body. Therefore in addition to the statutory and constitutional language referred to above, there is legislative precedent for this practice.

Opinion No. 43

Dear Senator Warner:

In our Opinion No. 14, issued January 27, 1983, we expressed doubt as to the validity of a provision of LB 26 that land disqualified from "greenbelt" treatment solely because of the passage of LB 26 should not be required to repay the taxes saved in the last five years because of such treatment. We felt it amounted to unreasonable class legislation, because it could, in some situations, put land disqualified by LB 26 in a more favorable situation than land not so disqualified. We will not repeat that discussion here, but refer you to that opinion.

In response, you have submitted to us an amendment to LB 26, which would strike the original provision we discussed, and substitute the following new language:

"Land receiving special assessment as agricultural use land immediately prior to the effective date of this act that becomes disqualified on the effective date of this act solely because of the amendment of sections 77-1343, 77-1344, and 77-1347 by this legislative bill shall not be subject to subsection (1) of this section at that time, but shall be subject to subsection (1) of this section if any other event occurs which would disqualify such land if it had been receiving the special assessment as agricultural use land."

You ask two questions about the effect of such amendment. You give us a hypothetical example of land which has enjoyed special assessment as agricultural land under the law from 1978 to 1983, but becomes disqualified by the provisions of LB 26, and is then assessed at its actual value for other uses. Because of the amendment referred to above, there will be no immediate recovery of the amount of taxes saved during the preceding five years as provided in subsection (1) of §77-1348.

You assume, however, that the land becomes disqualified in 1993 by some other event, such as being devoted to other than agricultural uses. Your question is whether, in that situation, the assessor would be required to take steps to recover the taxes saved by the owner for the period from 1978 to 1983, plus interest. We conclude that, under the statutes, as they would be amended by LB 26, as amended, the assessor would be required to do so.

We say this because §77-1348 (1) (a) provides that upon disqualification of the land the assessor shall collect the amount by which the taxes assessed against the land would have been increased if it had been valued without regard to the greenbelt provisions "during the last five or lesser number of years in which such agricultural use assessment was in effect for the land." Under your hypothetical situation, the last five years in which the special assessment was in effect for the land would be 1978 to 1983, and under the plain language of the statute, the assessor would be required to collect the taxes saved during those years.

We wish to emphasize, however, that our answer to your question is simply one of statutory construction, and not of constitutional necessity. We are not saying that our opinion of January 27, 1983, requires such a result as a constitutional matter.

You also ask whether the disqualifying event would have to be an event which would have disqualified the land before the effective date of LB 26, in order to trigger the duty on the part of the assessor to recover the taxes saved, or whether it could be triggered by a future amendment specifying another disqualifying event. We conclude that there is nothing in your amendment which limits the disqualifying event to one specified before the effective date of LB 26. The only exception to the general rule is the amendments affected by LB 26, itself. A future amendment of the statute would be included in the description of "any other event," as used in your amendment, and would require the appropriate action by the county assessor.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 44
March 9, 1983

Dear Senator Carsten:

You have pointed out that LB 59 would set the state income tax rate for 1983 at 20 percent. Your question is whether, assuming that the increased income tax rate would result in the total receipts from sales and use taxes not being "as nearly as possible equal" to the total individual income tax receipts, the State Board of Equalization and Assessment would be forced to increase the state sales tax rate to achieve this equality.

We believe your question is answered in the negative by Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2715.01(1)(e) (Supp. 1982), which provides:

The rates of the sales and income taxes shall be fixed so that the total sales and use taxes levied will as nearly as possible equal the total individual income tax levied for the calendar year for which the rates so fixed will be effective except when a change in the sales and use tax rate or individual income tax rate would be required solely to meet the provisions of this subdivision. The board shall set the rates in such a manner that total sales and use tax revenue should not exceed total individual income tax revenue in any particular year.

(Emphasis supplied.)

It appears to us that this language specifically covers the situation where a change in the tax rates is made by the Legislature. If the state board had made the change in the income tax rate at its November meeting, it would have been required to meet the "as nearly as possible equal" standard. Where, however, the change is made by the Legislature, it would seem that the only reason for changing the sales and use tax rate would be to "meet the provisions of" subdivision (1)(e), and that subdivision specifically says that the change is not required in that situation.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 46
March 7, 1983

Dear Senator V. Johnson:

You have asked whether correspondence and memoranda of a state senator are presently covered by Neb.Rev.Stat. §§84-712 et seq. (Reissue 1981), of the Freedom of Information Act.

In response we first point out that §84-712.01 (Reissue 1981) provides in part:

(1) Except where any other statute expressly provides that particular information or records shall not be made public, public records shall include all records and documents, regardless of physical form, of or belonging to this state, . . . or any . . . branch, . . . of any of the foregoing.

In the past we have said:

{I}t may be said that a public record is one that is kept by virtue of a duty imposed by law upon an agency or officer which is not expressly or by necessary implication made confidential, privileged, or private by statute. A further definition of public records is contained in §81-1117.04, { (Reissue 1981) } . . . With these definitions it may be said that all records generated by state officers or agencies are public except where made private, confidential or privileged by law. . . .

Historically, the State of Nebraska has implemented public access to public records. As early as 1886 the Supreme Court in State v. Meeker, 19 Neb. 106, 26 N.W. 620 (1886), compelled a clerk of a district court to disclose the records of his office. The statute at that time provided:

"All citizens of this state and all other persons interested in the examination of public records are hereby fully empowered and authorized to examine the same free of charge during the hours of respective officers may be kept open for the ordinary transaction of business.

That early statute with minor modification survives today as sec. 84-712, R.R.S. 1943.

Report of the Attorney General, No. 195, 1975-1976

In addition to the above, from our examination of the legislative history of the above statutes, we do not find any attempt to make documents generated by any state employee, the property of the employee or to be exempt from examination by the public.

Beyond our former conclusion, in the context of your specific question, it is our further conclusion that any record generated by an employee of the state within the course of their employment is state property, and as such is public unless made private, confidential or privileged by law.

With regard to a possible exemption of some specific records of members of the Legislature, we refer to that part of §84-712.05 (Reissue 1981) which provides:

The following records, unless publicly disclosed in an open court, open administrative proceeding or open meeting or disclosed by a public entity pursuant to its duties, may be withheld from the public by the lawful custodian of the records:

(5) Records developed or received by . . . public bodies charged with duties of investigation or examination . . .

In this regard we have said that records of phone calls paid for by public funds are generally available for public inspection but that such records pertaining to work done by individual members of the Legislature as a part of their duties of "investigation and examination", are exempt from public disclosure. This leaves the question of what constitutes records which are a part of a member of the Legislature's duties of "investigation and examination" a question of fact, in each case determinable pursuant to the provisions of §84-712.03 (Reissue 1981), and not a question of law to which we could address ourselves.

In summary, it is our conclusion that all documents in the possession of a member of the Legislature which are generated or received in the course of their exercising their duties as members of the Legislature, are a public record and subject to examination unless they are developed or received under a legislator's powers of "investigation and examination".

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Messrs. Newell, V. Johnson, Cullan, DeCamp, and Miss Kilgarin asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 59 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0529

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert
- 2 the following new sections:
- 3 “Section 1. That section 77-2715.01, Revised
- 4 Statutes Supplement, 1982, be amended to read as
- 5 follows:
- 6 77-2715.01. (1) (a) Commencing in 1983 the
- 7 Legislature shall annually On or before November 15 of
- 8 each year, the State Board of Equalization and
- 9 Assessment shall set the rate of the income tax imposed
- 10 by section 77-2715 for the taxable year beginning in
- 11 the subsequent calendar year, and the rate of the sales
- 12 tax imposed by subsection (1) of section 77-2703 which
- 13 will be effective from January 1 through December 31 of
- 14 the succeeding year, except that for the period May 1
- 15 through December 31, 1982, the rate of the sales tax
- 16 shall be three and one half per cent. For calendar year
- 17 1983 the rate of the income tax shall be nineteen per
- 18 cent and the rate of the sales tax shall be three and
- 19 one half per cent, except that if this bill becomes law
- 20 before the general budget bill for fiscal year 1983-84
- 21 passes, the Legislature shall set the rates for the
- 22 sales and income tax for the current calendar year using
- 23 the procedures provided in this section if a change in
- 1 the rates is needed.
- 2 (b) The Revenue Committee of the Legislature
- 3 shall introduce a bill proposing the rate of the income
- 4 tax imposed by section 77-2715 and the rate of the sales

5 tax imposed by subsection (1) of section 77-2703. The 6 committee shall hold a public hearing on such bill.
7 Such bill shall be held by the Legislature until the 8 general budget bill has been passed by the Legislature.

9 Recognizing that an adequate cash flow is
10 necessary to maintain the orderly implementation of
11 various legislative acts, it is mandatory that the
12 funding of those acts which have a fiscal impact beyond
13 a current appropriations year be considered when setting
14 the sales and income tax rates. Accordingly, the
15 purpose of this subsection is to provide that the State
16 Board of Equalization and Assessment shall set rates
17 based on appropriations and the express obligations of
18 the Legislature for the two succeeding calendar years
19 following the rate setting date. Such action will
20 provide an adequate cash flow, the orderly
21 implementation of the funding of acts as intended by the
22 Legislature, and eliminate drastic fluctuations in the 23 state sales and income tax rates.

24 (a) In fixing the rates, the State Board of 25 Equalization and Assessment shall first determine the status of all appropriations and express obligations for
1 the next two succeeding calendar years following the
2 rate setting date which must be financed from the
3 receipts from the sales and use taxes, the individual
4 and corporation income and franchise taxes and other
5 miscellaneous receipts to the General Fund, from a
6 certified statement of all appropriations and express
7 obligations for the next two succeeding calendar years
8 following the rate setting date made by the most recent
9 regular session of the Legislature, which statement the
10 Director of Administrative Services shall prepare and
11 furnish prior to the convening of such board.

12 (b) If the Legislature should meet in a
13 special session during any year, the board shall add to
14 the appropriations and express obligations as certified
15 pursuant to subdivision (a) of this subsection, the
16 appropriation for the legislative session, all
17 miscellaneous claims, deficiency bills, and all
18 emergency appropriations and express obligations.

19 (c) The board shall then determine the balance
20 of the General Fund at the beginning of the period under
21 consideration and the estimated receipts to the General
22 Fund from all sources other than the sales, use, income,
23 and franchise taxes for this period.

24 (d) (c) The Legislature board shall then set
25 the rates of the sales tax and income tax so that the
26 estimated funds available pursuant to subdivision (c) of

1 this subsection plus estimated receipts from the sales,
2 use, income, and franchise taxes will be not less than
3 two ~~three~~ per cent nor more than seven per cent in
4 excess of the appropriations and express obligations for
5 the next two succeeding calendar years, ~~following the~~
6 ~~rate-setting date as determined pursuant to subdivisions~~
7 ~~(a) and (b) of this subsection.~~ The purpose of this
8 subdivision is to insure that there shall be maintained
9 in the state treasury an adequate General Fund balance,
10 considering cash flow, to meet the appropriations and
11 express obligations ~~as certified as provided in~~
12 ~~subdivision (a) of this subsection~~ of the state.

13 (d) (e) The rates of the sales and income
14 taxes shall be fixed so that the total sales and use
15 taxes levied will as nearly as possible equal the total
16 individual income tax levied for the calendar year for
17 which the rates so fixed will be effective, ~~except when~~
18 ~~a change in the sales and use tax rate or individual~~
19 ~~income tax rate would be required solely to meet the~~
20 ~~provisions of this subdivision.~~ The Legislature board
21 shall set the rates in such a manner that total sales
22 and use tax revenue should not exceed total individual
23 income tax revenue in any particular year.

24 (e) (f) For purposes of this subsection, total
25 sales and use taxes levied shall mean the total state
26 sales and use tax liability of all taxpayers for the
1 calendar year minus total food sales tax credits
2 attributable to the same period. Total income and
3 franchise taxes levied shall mean the total state income
4 and franchise tax liability of all taxpayers for the
5 calendar year, before deduction of food sales tax
6 credits.

7 (f) (g) The sales tax rate so fixed by the
8 Legislature board shall be an increment of one half
9 ~~one-fourth~~ of one per cent, and the income tax rate so
10 fixed shall be an increment of one half of one per cent.

11 (g) (h) For purposes of this section, express
12 obligation shall mean an obligation which has fiscal
13 impact identifiable by a sum certain or by an 14 established percentage or other determinative factor or 15 factors.

16 (2) The board shall meet (a) within fifteen
17 days after the adjournment of each regular session of
18 the Legislature, (b) within thirty days after each
19 special session of the Legislature, and (c) not later
20 than the later of (i) sixty days after passage and
21 approval or (ii) fifteen days prior to the effective

22 date of any changes in the provisions of the Internal
23 Revenue Code of 1954 and amendments thereto, other
24 provisions of the laws of the United States relating to
25 federal income taxes, or the rules and regulations
26 issued under such laws, if such federal changes would
1 increase or decrease the total projected income and
2 franchise taxes levied for any twelve-month period by an
3 amount equal to or greater than the amount of revenue
4 raised from such sources by a one-half per cent tax rate
5 increment and shall determine whether the rates for
6 sales tax and income tax must be changed. At any
7 meeting of the board held due to changes in federal law,
8 the board shall adjust the income tax rate so that the
9 total income and franchise taxes levied shall as nearly
10 as possible equal the income and franchise taxes which 11 would have been levied if there had been no change in
12 the federal law. The chairperson of the Legislature's
13 Revenue Committee shall meet with the Tax Commissioner
14 within ten days after the fifteenth of November of each
15 year and shall determine whether the rates for sales tax
16 and income tax should be changed. In making such 17 determination the board they shall recalculate the
18 requirements pursuant to the formula set forth in
19 subsection (1) of this section, taking into
20 consideration the appropriations and express obligations
21 for any such special session, all miscellaneous claims,
22 deficiency bills, and all emergency appropriations.

23 In the event it is determined by the Revenue
24 Committee that the board determines the rates must be
25 changed as a result of a such regular or special session
26 or as a result of a change in the provisions of the
1 Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and amendments thereto,
2 other provisions of the laws of the United States
3 relating to federal income taxes, and the rules and
4 regulations issued under such laws, the committee shall
5 petition the Governor to call a special session of the
6 Legislature to make whatever rate changes may be
7 necessary. such sales tax rate shall be made effective
8 at the beginning of any calendar month within the
9 current calendar year and such income tax rate shall be
10 effective for the current taxable year.

11 (3) Public notice of any meeting of the board
12 at which sales and income tax rates are to be considered
13 shall be given at least ten days prior to the meeting,
14 by a news release for statewide distribution, by
15 publication in a legal newspaper of general circulation
16 in the state, and in such other forms as the Tax

17 Commissioner shall deem appropriate. The notice shall 18 contain an agenda of matters to be taken up, and a 19 statement that all written reports and fiscal data to be 20 considered by the board at the meeting shall be 21 available to the public at the Tax Commissioner's office
22 during normal business hours at least two business days
23 prior to the meeting.

24 Sec. 2. That section 81-125, Reissue Revised
25 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
26 follows:

1 81-125. The Governor shall on or before
2 January 15 present to the Legislature a complete budget
3 for all the activities of the state receiving
4 appropriations or requesting appropriations, except that
5 the Governor during his or her first year in office
6 shall present such budget to the Legislature on or 7 before February 1. Such budget shall be a tentative
8 work program for the coming biennium, containing a full 9 and itemized report of the expenditures from 10 appropriations made by the previous Legislature and the 11 items which the Governor deems worthy of consideration
12 for the coming biennium, for the respective departments,
13 offices, and institutions, and for all other purposes;
14 the estimated revenue from taxation, the estimated 15 revenue from sources other than taxation, an estimate of 16 the amount required to be raised by taxation and the 17 sales and income tax rates necessary to raise such 18 amount, and recommendations as to deficiency funding
19 requirements pursuant to section 50-423. The budget as 20 transmitted to the Legislature shall show the estimated
21 requirements for each activity of the state as prepared 22 by the Department of Administrative Services and the 23 final recommendation of the Governor. The budget shall 24 comprise the complete report to the Legislature of all 25 appropriations made by the previous Legislature and 26 expenditures therefrom by all agencies receiving
1 appropriations, and the report of expenditures contained
2 in the budget shall be in lieu of all other biennial or 3 other financial reports required by statute to the 4 Legislature by expending agencies of appropriations and 5 expenditures for their own activities, except the 6 biennial report of the State Treasurer and Director of 7 Administrative Services.

8 Sec. 3 That original section 81-125, Reissue
9 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and section
10 77-2715.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1982, and also

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 49

March 11, 1983

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have requested that we review LB 5 with respect to any portions of that bill which we might find constitutionally suspect. We believe the penalty provisions of LB 5, as they affect §28-1205 and §29-2221 of our statutes, raise constitutional questions.

1. Our initial concern is that §1 of LB 5 amends §28-1205 to provide an enhanced penalty for a third offense under §28-1205 of 30 to 50 years imprisonment. At the same time §2 of LB 5 amends §29-2221 to provide an enhanced punishment for a third or subsequent offense under §28-1205 of life imprisonment without parole. In our opinion establishing two distinct penalties for exactly the same offense (third offense use of a firearm in the commission of a felony) renders the more severe of the two penalties suspect under federal and state constitutional prohibitions of cruel and unusual punishment.

Section 29-2221 presently is available to enhance the punishment of persons convicted of 3 or more felony offenses. The concept which underlies "habitual criminal" statutes has been stated as follows:

{A}n enhanced sentence under the provisions of the habitual criminal laws is not a new jeopardy or additional penalty for the same crime. It is simply a stiffened penalty for the latest crime which is considered to be an aggravated offense because it is a repetitive one. Gryger v. Burke, 334 U.S. 728, 68 S.Ct. 1256, 92 L.ED. 1683 (1948). See, also, Poppe v. State, 155 Neb. 527, 52 N.W.2d 422 (1952), as holding generally that statutes which provide for enhanced penalties because the repetitive offenses are not violative of the Constitution.

Addison v. Parratt, 208 Neb. 459, 462, 303 N.W.2d 785 (1981), (Emphasis added).

The Legislature has the power and responsibility of defining crimes and misdemeanors and fixing their punishment. State ex rel. Nelson v. Smith, 114 Neb. 653, 209 N.W. 328 (1926). However, concepts of constitutional prohibitions against cruel and unusual punishment include questions of whether a specific penalty provided by statute is proportional to the offense for which the criminal defendant is convicted.

Although constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment is primarily aimed at the kind of punishment imposed rather than the length, when the duration of a sentence is greatly disproportionate to the offense committed it may constitute cruel and unusual punishment.

Hanson v. State, 48 Wis.2d 203, 179 N.W.2d 909, 911 (1970). In evaluating whether a particular punishment goes beyond constitutionally acceptable parameters, one may properly compare the nature of the offense and the penalty proposed for its commission with other offenses and their respective penalties. People v. Lorentzen, 387 Mich. 167, 194 N.W.2d 827 (1972).

In this instance LB 5 proposes two distinct penalties for the same number of repetitions of the same offense. We fail to perceive, and LB 5 presently does not enlighten us, as to the reason which compels that a third offense under §28-1205 is deemed worthy of 30 to 50 years imprisonment while under §29-2221 it is punished by life without parole. In the absense of some rational basis for this distinction, we must conclude the penalty proposed by LB 5 under §29-2221 would constitute cruel and unusual punishment and thus violate both the federal and state constitutions.

Courts generally afford the Legislature considerable deference in the fixing of penalties for criminal offenses. We believe the potential problem with LB 5 discussed above could be remedied (1) by eliminating the amendment to §29-2221 in LB 5 and providing enhanced punishments for repeated offenses of §28-1205 as presently proposed, (2) by eliminating the third offense penalty under §28-1205 and relying upon the LB 5 amendment to §29-2221 to enhance penalties for third or subsequent offenses, or (3) by attaching the presently proposed penalty provisions of §29-2221 to fourth or subsequent offenses under §28-1205 instead of third offenses as LB 5 presently provides.

2. We also question whether the provisions of LB 5 which provide for an enhanced penalty of life imprisonment without parole for use of a firearm in the commission of a felony can pass the proportional punishment test of a cruel and unusual punishment analysis when compared to other existing criminal penalties. With the exception of the penalty of death available under Neb.Rev.Stat. §28-105 (Reissue 1979), for a Class I felony, no other criminal act has been determined by the Legislature to merit a punishment of life imprisonment without parole, e.g., murder in the first degree (possible life imprisonment), murder in the second degree (10 years to life), manslaughter (1 to 20 years), being found to be an habitual criminal (10 to 60 years). If the Legislature perceives some reason to punish a third or subsequent violation of §28-1205 under §29-2221, more severely than the offenses noted above, we believe some expression of legislative intent in that regard would be necessary to save the enactment from constitutional infirmity.

Very truly yours,

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 50
March 15, 1983

Dear Senator Wagner:

This is in response to your letter of March 7, 1983, in which you referred to our Opinion Number 35 relating to the constitutionality of LB 44 dealing with obsolete statutes. Your specific question was whether a bill to repeal "obsolete" sections all occurring in the same Chapter of the Revised Statutes would be considered to contain but "one subject" and thus constitutional.

In considering your question it is necessary to review a specific chapter and determine whether "one subject" is confined to one Chapter. If, for instance we look at Chapter 81, we find that it covers a great range of subjects, some of them are the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Labor, the State Fire Marshal, independent boards and commissions, state-owned motor vehicles, the Department of Economic Development, and numerous others. In our opinion these subjects are of such variance that they would clearly affect different interest groups within the state. As a result the repeal of purportedly obsolete statutes in one such chapter would be going beyond the constitutional requirement of one subject.

As we have stated before it is necessary to look at the bill and determine if the amendatory sections (or repealing sections) are part of the subject matter of the bill. In Van Horn v. State, 46 Neb. 62, 74 (1895), it was held that legislation is "single" in subject matter "so long as the act has but a single main purpose and object." In determining what that main object is we must look to the bill itself to ascertain whether or not it contains more than one subject. Id. at 72; and Midwest Popcorn Co. v. Johnson, 152 Neb. 867, 871 and 872 (1950). In Opinion Number 35 we stated that the possibility of obsolescence does not create subject matter commonality among otherwise unrelated statutes. Further a review of the contents of a given Chapter such as Chapter 81, leads us to believe that the repeal of "obsolete" sections on a Chapter basis would not meet the "one subject" test as required under Article III, Section 14 of the Constitution of Nebraska.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 51
March 14, 1983

Dear Senator Pirsch:

This is in response to your letter of February 22, 1983, concerning the constitutionality of Section 5 of LB 146 which provides that a child placement agency shall provide medical histories to adopted persons as well as to the adopting parents. Your concern was whether the state could constitutionally require private adoption agencies to open their medical records to a requesting party.

Section 5 expands Neb.Rev.Stat. §43-128 (1982 Supp.) which provides that medical histories of the adopted person and of the adopted person's mother and father shall be provided to the adopting parents. In addition to making medical histories available to the adopted person, it specifies that the information shall be maintained and provided by child placing agencies.

When you refer to a private adoption agency you apparently mean a licensed adoption or child placement agency which is affiliated with a church or some private organization as compared to the Department of Welfare which is involved in adoption as a public agency. In Grey v. Maxwell, 206 Neb. 385, 293 N.W.2d 90, the court pointed up the similarity of the Department of Public Welfare and a licensed adoption agency where there is a relinquishment involved as opposed to a relinquishment to a private person.

A private licensed adoption agency is certainly subject to the same standards, requirements, and protection involving release of information pursuant to §§43-107 et seq., as is the Department of Welfare.

As §42-128 now stands, it provides that adopting parents are furnished with information on the adopted person. Section 5 of LB 146 broadens the statute to provide that the adopted person can, on request, be furnished medical information on his or her biological parents. Clearly, an adoptive parent can have a need for the medical history of the adoptive person and his biological parents. Likewise, an adopted person, particularly when emancipated can have a need for his or her own parental medical history. Any release of such medical data would have to conform to the restrictions on release of information which protects the anonymity of the biological parents except through the mutual consent process set out in §§43-130 through 43-138.

In summary, a private adoption agency can be required to furnish medical information as a condition of its licensing in that the requirement is clearly within the public interest. Further, the adoptive parent and the adopted person are essentially of the same classification in regard to the need for medical information. Therefore, it is our opinion that from the standpoint of equal protection making the medical information available to the adopted person is a move toward constitutionality rather than away from it.

3 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, as amended by section 1,
4 Legislative Bill 58, Eighty-eighth Legislature, First
5 Session, 1983, be amended to read as follows:

6 8-157. (1) No bank shall maintain any branch
7 bank and, except as provided in ~~subsection (2) or~~
8 subsections (2) (3) to (9) of this section and section
9 3, Legislative Bill 58, Eighty-eighth Legislature, First 10 Session, 1983, the general business of every bank shall 11 be transacted at the place of business specified in its 12 charter.

13 (2) With the approval of the director, (a) any 14 bank may maintain an attached auxiliary office, if such 15 office is physically connected by a pneumatic tube or 16 tubes, or a walkway, tunnel, or any other electronic,
17 mechanical, or structural connection or attachment for 18 the public use of the bank and is within two hundred
19 feet of the building containing the premises specified
20 as its place of business in its charter or any adjacent 21 connected building housing a continuation of the 22 operations of the bank's main office and is not within 23 three hundred feet of another bank or another bank's
1 auxiliary attached or detached office, and (b) any bank
2 may establish and maintain commencing (i) in 1983 not
3 more than three detached auxiliary offices, (ii) in 1984
4 not more than four detached auxiliary offices, and (iii)
5 in 1985 and thereafter not more than five detached
6 auxiliary offices at which all banking transactions
7 allowed by law may be made. Such attached or detached
8 auxiliary offices shall be within the corporate limits
9 of the city in which such bank is located. Any bank
10 that establishes and maintains two or more attached or 11 detached auxiliary offices shall locate one of such 12 offices within three miles of the premises specified as 13 its place of business in its charter. No detached 14 auxiliary office shall be located within three hundred 15 feet of another bank or within fifty feet of another
16 detached auxiliary office.

17 (3) With the approval of the director, any 18 bank or banks may establish and maintain any number of 19 electronic satellite facilities or manned electronic 20 satellite facilities at which all banking transactions,
21 defined as receiving deposits of every kind and nature
22 and crediting such to customer accounts, cashing checks
23 and cash withdrawals, transfer of funds from checking 24 accounts to savings accounts, transfer of funds from 25 savings accounts to checking accounts, transfer of funds
26 from either checking accounts and savings accounts to 1 accounts of other customers, payment transfers from

2 customer accounts into accounts maintained by other bank
3 customers or the bank, including preauthorized draft
4 authority, preauthorized loans and credit transactions,
5 receiving payments payable at the bank or otherwise, and 6 such other transactions that the Director of Banking and 7 Finance upon application, notice, and hearing may 8 approve, may be conducted. Such electronic satellite 9 facilities or manned electronic satellite facilities may 10 be established only by a bank as defined in subdivision
11 (4) of section 8-101 or by a national banking 12 association whose main chartered office is located in 13 the State of Nebraska. Neither such electronic 14 satellite facilities, the manned electronic satellite 15 facilities, nor the transactions conducted thereat shall 16 be construed as the establishment of a branch bank or as 17 branch banking. Such facilities shall be available on a 18 nondiscriminating basis for use by customers of any 19 other bank becoming a user bank. It shall not be deemed 20 discrimination if a facility does not offer the same
21 transaction services as other facilities.

22 Any bank may become a user bank by agreeing to 23 pay the establishing bank its pro rata transaction and 24 other costs, including a reasonable return on capital
25 expenditures incurred in establishing and maintaining 26 such facilities. The establishing bank shall file with 1 the director the information necessary to originate a
2 transaction at any facility. Such information must 3 contain a means of designating the bank or processor to 4 which such transactions shall be switched, and must also 5 contain information adequate to perform authorization of 6 cash withdrawal and other transactions authorized by 7 this section. The director shall make such information
8 available to any other bank desiring to become a user
9 bank. The establishing bank shall be responsible for 10 transmitting transactions originating from its facility
11 to a switch, but nothing contained in this section may 12 be construed to provide that any in-house or auxiliary
13 office premises transactions shall be required to go
14 through a switch. The director shall refuse to approve
15 the establishment of any electronic satellite facilities
16 or manned electronic satellite facilities unless such 17 facilities will be available on a nondiscriminating
18 basis through methods and processes that the 19 establishing bank has provided for switching
20 transactions. Once approval is given for the facility
21 of an establishing bank, the director, upon notice and 22 after a hearing, may revoke the approval for the 23 facility or may suspend the use of such facility if he

24 or she determines that it is not available on a
25 nondiscriminating basis, that the necessary information
26 is not on file with the director, or that transactions
1 originated by customers of user banks are not being
2 switched to processing centers. Nothing in this section
3 may be construed to prohibit nonbank employees from 4 assisting in transactions originated at the facilities,
5 and such assistance shall not be deemed to be engaging
6 in the business of banking. Such nonbank employees may 7 be trained in the use of the facilities by bank
8 employees.

9 (4) An establishing bank shall not be deemed
10 to make a facility available on a nondiscriminating
11 basis if, through personnel services offered,
12 advertising on or off the facility premises, or 13 otherwise, it discriminates in the use of the facility
14 against any user bank.

15 (5) Off-premises electronic satellite
16 facilities and manned electronic satellite facilities
17 may be established and maintained by a bank or by a 18 group of two or more banks or a combination of a bank or 19 banks and a third party. No one, through personnel
20 services offered, advertising on or off the facility
21 premises, or otherwise, may discriminate in the use of 22 the facility against any other user bank desiring to use
23 the services of the facility.

24 (6) It is an intent of this section that this 25 section shall apply to banks chartered by the State of 26 Nebraska and all national banking associations whose 1 main chartered offices are located in the State of 2 Nebraska and that there be an equal opportunity to all
3 Nebraska banks for the use of and access to a switch and 4 that no discrimination shall exist or preferential 5 treatment be given in either the operation of such 6 switch or the charges for use thereof. The operation of 7 such switch shall be with the approval of the Director
8 of Banking and Finance. Approval of such switch shall 9 be given by the Director of Banking and Finance when he 10 or she shall determine that its design and operation are 11 such as to provide access thereto and use thereof by any 12 Nebraska bank without discrimination as to access or 13 cost of its use.

14 (7) If the director, upon notice and hearing,
15 determines at any time that the design or operation of a
16 switch or provision for use thereof does discriminate
17 against any bank in providing access thereto and use
18 thereof either through access thereto or by virtue of 19 the cost of its use, he or she may revoke his or her

20 approval of such switch operation and forthwith order
21 the discontinuance of the operation of such switch.

22 (8) If it shall be determined by the Director
23 of Banking and Finance, after notice and hearing, that 24 discrimination against any bank has taken place or that 25 one bank has been preferred over another or that any 26 bank or person has not complied with any of the 1 provisions of this section, he or she shall forthwith
2 issue a cease and desist order or an order for
3 compliance within ten days from the date of the order
4 and upon noncompliance with such order, the offending
5 bank shall become ineligible to receive and hold any 6 deposits of any nature of the State of Nebraska or any 7 political subdivision thereof.

8 (9) The provisions of sections 8-101 and 9 8-157 shall apply to banks and their activities only.
10 Nothing in such sections may be construed to provide any 11 authority for any nonbank institution to engage in any 12 of the banking transactions enumerated in this section.
13 When reference is made in this section to activities by 14 third parties, such activities shall be limited to the 15 ownership, operation, and maintenance of electronic 16 satellite facilities.

17 (10) Nothing in this section shall prohibit 18 ordinary clearinghouse transactions between banks.”.

19 2. On page 8, line 17, strike “and”; and in 20 line 19 after the comma insert “and section 8-157,
21 Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, as amended

23 Legislature, First Session, 1983,”.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 52
March 16, 1983

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have requested our opinion in connection with LB 336. Your question arises as a result of our Opinion No. 41, Opinion of the Attorney General 1983-1984, March 10, 1983. In that opinion we said that the distributional formula contained in LB 336 was unconstitutional. Your question is whether the distributional formula in LB 336 could be abandoned, and in its place, an amendment inserted providing for the transfer of funds raised by a state-wide lottery to the general fund for general state purposes. You have not provided us a specific amendment for this purpose, nor the exact details any such amendment may contain. We must, therefore, be very general in our answer to your query.

Article III, Section 24 of the Constitution in part provides:

The Legislature shall not authorize any game of chance, nor any lottery, or gift enterprise where the consideration for a chance to participate involves the payment of money for the purchase of property, services, chance or admission ticket, or requires an expenditure of substantial effort or time; Provided, that it may authorize and regulate other lotteries, raffles, and gift enterprises which are intended solely as business promotions or the proceeds of which are to be used solely for charitable or community betterment purposes without profit to the promoter of such lotteries, raffles, or gift enterprises.

This provision of the Constitution allows the Legislature to establish lotteries under certain conditions. Our Supreme Court has recognized this in State v. City Betterment Corporation, 197 Neb. 575, 250 N.W.2d 601 (1977). In that case the Supreme Court found that a particular lottery operated by a private corporation for city betterment purposes in Omaha was unlawful under the then existing statutory scheme. They, however, did recognize the authority of the Legislature to authorize lotteries by statutory enactment within the constraints of Article III, Section 24. The two obvious questions which one must address in determining whether proceeds from a state-wide lottery could be used for general fund purposes, are whether the state is a promoter within the terms of the constitutional provision; and the meaning of the term "community betterment purposes."

In City Betterment, supra, the Supreme Court construed the term "promoter" to mean the persons or organizations legally responsible for conducting a lottery. That definition was arrived at against a contention that "promoter" included anyone who advanced money, sold tickets, secured financing, organized, managed or in any other way advanced the lottery. The question, then, is whether or not the prohibition against a promoter receiving profits would apply to a state run lottery where the proceeds inure to the benefit of the state through the general fund.

We have been unable to find any legislative history or case law dealing with this question. We believe it fair to say, upon a review of legislative history, that the possibility of the state conducting a lottery was not one considered by the voters nor, indeed, the legislative proponents of the amendment to Article III, Section 24 authorizing the Legislature to allow lotteries. We are unable, however, to read into that section a prohibition against the state operating a lottery where the purpose of the lottery is for community betterment purposes. The state, as a promoter, would not generally be thought of as being one who was profiting from the operation of the lottery. We believe this would be the result a court considering such a question would be likely to reach because the expenditure of state funds involves the operation of government. Thus, profit in the sense of one receiving a benefit or retaining a benefit from an economic activity is not applicable to the state, qua state. We say this fully recognizing that a number of state agencies or departments do operate in a quasi entrepreneurial fashion. Nonetheless, the sums expended are expended for state or governmental purposes. We thus believe that the prohibition against profit inuring to the benefit of the promoters would not be a prohibition applicable to the state itself should such sums be placed into the general fund.

The second point of analysis is the meaning of the term "community betterment purposes." Once again, an examination of legislative history and the case law of both the constitutional amendment and the enacting ordinance, does not assist us at all in a definition of the term "community betterment purposes." In such a situation one is normally required to discern legislative intent from the language of the act itself. See, Canada Ltd. v. Kreuscher, 204 Neb. 220, 281 N.W.2d 762 (1979). It is also an obvious rule of statutory construction that in the absence of any contrary evidence, the words of a statute or a constitutional amendment must be given their ordinary meaning. See, Douglas County v. Board of Regents, 210 Neb. 573, 316 N.W.2d 62 (1982).

Websters Third New International Dictionary, Unabridged Edition, 1967 defines "betterment" as the making or becoming better: improvement as: an improvement of an estate that makes it better and more valuable than mere repairs would do, an improvement that does more than restore to a former good condition, the replacement in accounting of an existing asset with one of greater cost or superior value. That same volume variously defines "community" including the following: A body of individuals organized into a unit or manifesting unusual awareness of some unifying trait: a state or commonwealth.

We believe that under these definitions it is fair to say that the expenditure of the sums raised by a state run lottery for general fund purposes of the State of Nebraska would amount to a community betterment purpose for the state as a whole. We say this fully recognizing that betterment as defined by Websters means something more than simply ongoing expenditures. There is certainly enough expenditures made out of the general fund which are, in fact, within the definition of betterment, that such expenditures would be proper.

We do not believe sums raised from a lottery and placed in the general fund must be limited to specific projects. However, if such a limitation were enacted it would be within the legislative authority to define proper purposes. Such a definition could be very general in nature or very specific as the legislature saw fit. Within these limitations, we believe your proposal would be constitutional.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

13 79-801. (1) The territory embraced within the 15 the State of Nebraska, together with such additional 16 territory and additions to such city or village as may 17 be added thereto, as declared by ordinances to be 18 boundaries of such city or village, except as provided

19 in subsection (2) of this section, having a population
20 of more than one thousand and less than one hundred
21 thousand inhabitants, including such adjacent territory
22 as now is or hereafter may be attached for school
23 purposes, shall constitute a school district of the

2 District of (name of city or village), in the county of 3 (name of county), in the State of Nebraska. As such in

10 property, real or personal, owned by any school district

12 shall, upon the organization of the district, vest
13 immediately in the new district; and the board of 14 education of the new district shall have exclusive
15 control of the same for all purposes herein
16 contemplated; Provided, that where the territory annexed
17 by a change of boundaries of such city has been part of 18 a Class IV, V, or VI school district for more than one 19 year prior thereto, having been annexed by petition, the 20 question as to which district the annexed territory
21 shall be part of shall be negotiated by the school
22 boards of the school districts involved. If the 23 majority of the members of each school board cannot
24 reach agreement on such question within ninety days
25 after the effective date of the city annexation
26 ordinance, the question of which school district the 1 annexed territory shall be a part of shall be placed on
2 the ballot for the next primary or general election.
3 The registered voters of all Class I districts which 4 form the annexed territory shall then vote on the 5 question at such election. When a city or village
6 subject to this section annexes territory in which 7 registered voters reside and which has been part of a
8 Class III school district for more than one year prior 9 thereto, the issue of whether the area annexed shall 10 remain a part of its current school district or whether 11 it shall become part of the school district of the 12 annexing city or village shall be submitted to the 13 registered voters of the area annexed. The issue may be 14 submitted at a primary, general, or special election.
15 The election shall be conducted in the same manner, as 16 nearly as possible, as other elections in such school
17 district are conducted. Notice of the election to be 18 held pursuant to this section shall be published at 19 least once each week for three weeks prior to the 20 election. The governing board of the school district of 21 the annexing city or village shall call for the election
22 and shall pay the costs of such election. A simple
23 majority of votes cast shall resolve the issue.

24 If, within the boundaries of the annexed
25 territory, there exists a Class VI school, the school
26 building, facilities, and land owned by the district
1 shall remain a part of the Class VI district
2 notwithstanding any action taken by the school boards
3 and notwithstanding the result of such election.

4 If the Class VI district wishes to dispose of 5 such school building, facilities, or land to any

6 individual or political subdivision, including a Class I
7 school district, the question of such disposition shall
8 be placed on the ballot for the next primary or general
9 election. All registered voters of such Class VI
10 district shall then vote on the question at such 11 election. A simple majority of the votes cast shall 12 resolve the issue.

13 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this
14 section or section 79-801.02, any annexation by a city
15 or village encompassed within a Class III school
16 district which annexation shall become effective after 17 the effective date of this act, shall not result in the 18 change of any school district boundaries until September 19 1, 1984, unless the boards of education of all the 20 school districts affected by such annexation, by a
21 majority vote of the members of all such boards, reach 22 an agreement upon any such boundary changes within 23 ninety days following the effective date of the 24 annexation ordinance.

25 Sec. 2. That original section 79-801, Reissue
26 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, is repealed.

1 Sec. 3. Since an emergency exists, this act
2 shall be in full force and take effect, from and after
3 its passage and approval, according to law.”

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 49.

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District; Wesely, 26th District.

WHEREAS, the horror of a nuclear holocaust is universally acknowledged; and

WHEREAS, present medical and scientific evidence shows that nuclear war, even a limited one, would result in death, injury, and disease on a scale unprecedented in human history; and

WHEREAS, the United States has enough nuclear weapons to destroy every Soviet city with a population of one hundred thousand at least thirty-five times over and the Soviet Union can destroy our cities twenty-eight times over; and

WHEREAS, the fiscal year 1982 Department of Defense annual report states that the "United States and Soviet Union are roughly equal in strategic nuclear power"; and

WHEREAS, the current strategy of the Soviet Union and the United States together calls for the production of at least twenty thousand new nuclear warheads and a new generation of delivery systems during the next decade; and

WHEREAS, the federal government is planning to spend more than one trillion dollars on the military in the next six years and at least two hundred billion of that will go for nuclear weapons and nuclear weapons research resulting in an unbalanced budget, major unemployment, and high interest rates, which adversely affects Nebraska's agricultural economy; and

WHEREAS, Nebraskans will pay at least four hundred million in federal tax dollars for nuclear weapons in the next six years; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska, by virtue of the location of the headquarters of the Strategic Air Command in Bellevue and the missile sites in western Nebraska, becomes a primary target for a nuclear attack; and

WHEREAS, the October 1982 Omaha World Herald Poll conclusively shows that a majority of Nebraskans favor a mutual freeze of nuclear arms.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby goes on record in support of an immediate, mutual, and verifiable freeze by the United States and the Soviet Union on the testing, production, and deployment of nuclear weapons and of missiles and new aircraft designed primarily to deliver nuclear weapons.

2. That the Secretary of State transmit certified copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the Secretary of State of the United States, all members of Congress, and the Chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 53
March 17, 1983

Dear Senator Wiitala:

This is in reply to your inquiry pertaining to LB 446 of the Eighty-eighth Legislature, First Session (1983). Perhaps your inquiry can best be understood by first stating a cursory digest of this legislative bill and then your inquiry.

It is the intent of LB 446, pursuant to section 1 thereof, to provide a systematic method for promoting the professional growth of school personnel in their job performance and to improve the educational system of the state. Section 2 of LB 446 would create a Professional Staff Development Fund. Any funds appropriated thereto could only be used for staff development of school personnel as provided in the act. To be eligible to receive funds pursuant to the act, a school district or a cooperative of school districts would be required to submit an application to the State Department of Education for approval. Section 3(1) of LB 446 mandates that the application must include, inter alia, proof of the creation of a local staff development policy board or a staff development board for a cooperative of school districts and section 3(7) mandates that the application must designate a "fiscal agent, which shall be a school board, acting on behalf of a cooperative or on its own behalf." You state that there has been some discussion of amending section 3(7) of LB 446 and thereby permitting an educational service unit to also act as a fiscal agent on behalf of a cooperative of school districts. Your inquiry is whether such an amendment would be constitutionally sound.

We see no particular constitutional problem with such an amendment provided it states that the board of an educational service unit may also be designated as a fiscal agent to act on behalf of a cooperative of school districts. However, we wish to advise you that such amendment could give rise to a situation whereby the board of an educational service unit would act as a fiscal agent for a staff development policy board that is made up of representatives from school districts that are not included within the territory governed by that educational service unit board. That, of course, does not raise a constitutional issue but a serious policy issue to be determined by the Legislature.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 50.

Introduced by Fenger, 45th District.

WHEREAS, this country's first use of atomic science in an adversarial situation had the result of saving thousands of American lives; and

WHEREAS, advancements in atomic and nuclear science since that time have eased many hardships and provided answers in the fields of energy and medicine; and

WHEREAS, those same advancements have, however, created a world-wide military situation that could ultimately result in total annihilation of countries, or even continents; and

WHEREAS, the ultimate de-escalation of any military nuclear threat will probably be determined at a bargaining table by nations labeled "Super Powers"; and

WHEREAS, the petitions circulated, votes taken, and resolutions passed in the United States of America could have the ultimate effect of creating an early demise of one nation by putting undue pressure on only one side of a bargaining table.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA,

FIRST SESSION:

1. That the people of Nebraska, through its elected leaders, namely the Legislature of the state, go on record encouraging the people of the USSR to bring this same action, in like manner, to their nation's government, in the hope that both governments will accede to the wishes of the people in their respective countries.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 54
March 18, 1983

Dear Senator Chambers:

This is in reply to your inquiry pertaining to LB 414 of the Eighty-Eighth Legislature, First Session (1983). That legislative bill, as amended on February 22, 1983, would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-604.01 (Reissue 1981) to provide, in part, that all infants born in the State of Nebraska shall be screened for phenylketonuria and primary hypothyroidism except that "no infant shall be screened if a parent or guardian objects thereto on the grounds that such a screening is contrary to the religious tenets of an established church of which he or she is a member or adherent." In connection therewith you have asked five questions. We have considered each of your five questions, but in view of the conclusion we have reached with respect to your third question, that is the only one that needs to be discussed here.

What is an "established" church? How is such status established?

LB 414 does not define the meaning of an "established church." Hence, its meaning is somewhat uncertain or indefinite. For example, is an "established church" a church which was brought into existence on or before or after a specific date? Or, is an "established church" a church which has gained recognition or acceptance by a certain segment of society and if so, what segment? Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary defines an "established church" as a "church recognized by law as the official church of a nation and supported by civil authority." The foregoing are just a few of the uncertainties associated with the phrase "established church" in Section 1 of LB 414.

It is a basic principle of due process that an enactment is void for vagueness if its commands are not clearly defined. Grayned v. City of Rockford, 408 U.S. 104 (1972). Vague laws offend several important values. First, man is free to steer between lawful and unlawful conduct. Consequently, courts quite properly insist that laws give the person of ordinary intelligence a reasonable opportunity to know what is prohibited so that he may act accordingly. Second, if arbitrary and discriminatory enforcement is to be prevented, laws must provide explicit standards for those who apply them. Where, as here, a specific phrase ("established church") can have several different meanings and is connected with the legislative bill as a whole, we can only conclude the above quoted amendment is vague and as a result, LB 414 is unconstitutional.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General
Harold Mosher
Assistant Attorney General

PRESIDENT SIGNED

While the Legislature was in session and capable of transacting business, the President signed the following resolution: LR 47.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 51.

Introduced by Schmit, 23rd District.

PURPOSE:

To study the full impact of present and future railroad safety operations in Nebraska, especially with regard to the use of occupied cabooses on all trains in this state.

There presently exists a National Labor Agreement which includes provisions for the safe and orderly removal of certain cabooses in accordance with specific guidelines as agreed upon on an individual railroad basis by the railroads and their employee representatives who are most intimately acquainted with the complexities of individual situations. The Nebraska Legislature has considered measures which would statutorily require manned cabooses on trains operating within this state.

There is a compelling need for the Legislature to investigate charges that violations of the caboose provisions of the National Agreement have occurred in this state, along with their safety implications.

There is also a need to determine areas of state and federal jurisdiction relative to railroad safety.

The intent of this study is to obtain specific and factual information (which is presently lacking) on the effects of certain Nebraska railroad systems operating with and without occupied cabooses.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE, 88TH LEGISLATIVE SESSION:

1. That the Public Works Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purpose of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon conclusion of its study make an official report of its findings, together with recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 55

Dear Senator Beutler:

You have requested that we express an opinion as to whether an amendment to recently enacted LB 182 is necessary in order to authorize the State Real Estate Commission to make reciprocal agreements with other states for licensing of non-residents.

The language pertaining to reciprocal agreements for non-resident licenses is substantially the same language that was in the prior Nebraska act until 1980. Under the statutes prior to the 1980 amendment the Commission regularly issued non-resident licenses pursuant to reciprocal agreements made by the Commission.

The matter that has been returned to the Real Estate Licensing Act is primarily in Section 81-885.17. That section, as amended provides that a non-resident who maintains a place of business in his or her state of residence may, in the discretion of the Commission, be issued a non-resident brokers license if such other state has entered into a reciprocal agreement with the Commission in regard to issuance of reciprocal licenses. (81-885.17) (1) (a). Other provisions of that section deal with a non-resident maintaining a place of business in the state under a reciprocal agreement.

Agencies of state government have only such authority to act as is specifically given by statute, or as is necessarily implied from the clear language of a statute.

We are of the opinion that the authority to make reciprocal agreements for licensing non-residents is, in this instance, necessarily implied from the clear language of the act, and that further amendment is not necessary to accomplish the objective.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General
