ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

DATE: March 25, 1987

SUBJECT: Questions Involving the Bid Process for Construction of a Proposed Recreation/Athletic Facility by the University of Nebraska

REQUESTED BY: Senator Ernest Chambers
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General

This is in response to your March 5, 1987, letter in which you questioned the bid process used by the University of Nebraska for construction of the proposed recreation/athletic facility. Specifically, you stated that the University was prepared to consider contributions in cash or in kind made by contractors in determining the successful low bidder for the facility. You questioned the propriety and legality of this practice.

We have now been informed by the attorney for the University that the University plans to publish a revised addendum to the bidding documents for the recreation/athletic facility which "will remove all consideration of contributions from bidders, either in cash or in kind, in determining the lowest responsible bid for this project." We have also reviewed drafts of documents which would accomplish this deletion of language about consideration of contributions from bidders.

On the basis of this new information from the University, it appears to us that the University has met your objections by eliminating the bidding processes which included provisions for contributions. Therefore, with regard to this specific project the legal status of the bidding process containing contributions provisions is moot. Nonetheless, I believe I should comment upon this issue because of its importance to possible future building projects of the University or other State of Nebraska institutions.

As a strict matter of law, one could legally reach either of these two opposite conclusions where a public building bidding process allows all bidders to treat charitable contributions to the building as a part of the bid:

(1) The process is legal because (a) it is an effort to construct the building at the lowest net cost, and (b) all bidders are allowed to make use of the contributions allowance.

(2) The process is illegal because (a) the contributions allowance is a separate factor unrelated to actual construction of the building, and (b) in reality all bidders are not treated uniformly because the contributions allowance has the actual result of favoring larger, more established and higher tax-bracket bidders.

My view is that anyone, but particularly public agencies, must consider both legal and ethical requirements in conducting public business. It seems to me that the ethics of the situation clearly dictate separating contributions from the bidding process. And so I conclude that a combination of legal and ethical requirements prevents a public agency from making contributions by a bidder a factor in construction bids. The University apparently agrees with this conclusion because it has removed the contributions factor from the bid process. The University is to be commended for this decision.

Mr. Richard Wood, general attorney for the University, has been most cooperative and helpful to us in our study of this matter. He has promptly and fully provided us with all pertinent documents. In addition, he has given us the benefit of his own wise counsel and study.

Sincerely Yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion No. 87040

DATE: March 20, 1987

SUBJECT: Remedial Effect of Proposed Amendments to Optometry Law.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Patricia S. Morehead

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Marilyn B. Hutchinson,
Assistant Attorney General

You have asked whether LB116 with amendment AMO 424 will remedy any constitutional problems of Laws 1986, LB131 which we addressed in Attorney General Opinion #86061. There were two problems. We have concluded that one has been corrected and then re-created by this proposed legislation; the other has been corrected, both as discussed below.

1. Treating current licensees differently than new licensees.

There was no "grandfathering" in the prior bill, but current licensees could continue to practice without certification if they didn't use pharmaceuticals for diagnosis or therapeutic purposes; new licensees had to be certified to use pharmaceuticals both for diagnostic and for therapeutic purposes before they could be licensed.

The proposed amendments at page 2, line 25 to page 3, line 6 of LB116 would delete the source of that problem. However, the insertion proposed after the date on page 3, line 11 creates a similar problem. It would close the class of persons who may be certified to use topical ocular pharmaceuticals for diagnostic purposes to those "previously" certified to do so by the Department. If the intent is to "grandfather" those already certified to use such pharmaceuticals for diagnostic purposes, then "and" should be changed to "except" and an alternative should be added for those certified previously in another state under comparable standards. It should also be clarified whether "previously" refers to before July 17, 1986, or before the effective date of this bill.

2. Delegating to the Department of Health without sufficient guidelines the task of specifying the educational requirements for certification.

This problem is resolved by the proposed legislation. However, there are some inconsistencies which may complicate the enforcement process. The courses and examinations for both types of certification must be approved by the Department. However, the standards for doing so are stated in terms of approval by the Board. To be consistent with the overall scheme of enforcement, i.e., by the Department on the recommendation of the Board, "Board of Examiners in Optometry" should be changed to "Department" at page 4, line 14 of LB116 and at page 1, line 16 and page 2, line 12 of AMO 424. The text starting on page 2, lines 21-23 of AMO 424 starting with "or" should be deleted.

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

Attorney General

3           "Section 1. This act shall be known and may
4 be cited as the Intergovernmental Data Communications

12           (2) The collection, storage, and transfer of 13 information may be best achieved using advanced data
14 processing and communications capabilities;

15           (3) The potential for data transfer within the

19 transfer of information between state agencies and 20 between the state and its political subdivisions;

21           (4) Proper program design begins not with the

3 systems, including a measurement of the impact of 4 program implementation upon all state and local 5 governmental offices; and

6           (5) The design of a statewide system for the 18 governmental subdivisions;

19 (3) Multijurisdictional data processing
20 project shall mean a project identified by a state
21 agency or governmental subdivision for development on 22 data processing systems which gather data that can be 23 used by other state agencies or governmental 24 subdivisions to aid in carrying out their statutory or 1 administrative duties; and

2 (4) State project shall mean an
3 intergovernmental data communications project by which

11 Sec. 5. The term of office of the members of 12 the council shall be two years. Vacancies on the 14 initial appointments. The seat of a council member who 15 accumulates three consecutive absences from the meetings

19 multijurisdictional data processing projects.

20 Sec. 8. The council shall: (1) Develop and 21 publish one-year and five-year plans, specifications, 22 and recommendations for the data processing needs of the 23 state and for a network to provide for intergovernmental 24 transfer of data; (2) seek to eliminate duplication of 1 effort through coordination of related projects; (3)
2 promote flexibility in the collection, use, and exchange
3 of information in anticipation of future needs of the 4 state and its political subdivisions; (4) identify and 5 recommend data processing applications in anticipation
6 of the future needs of state and local governments; and

17 Sec. 9. The council shall have the power to 18 appoint representatives of state agencies and

22 project. Such subcommittees shall be temporary in 23 nature and shall serve to advise, design, and implement
24 specific projects. Subcommittee members shall serve
1 only on proposed projects affecting their agency or
2 governmental subdivision and only for the period of time
3 from the inception of the project until it is 4 operational or deemed terminated by the council.

5 Sec. 10. Members of the council or
6 subcommittees of the council shall receive no
7 compensation but may be reimbursed for actual and 8 necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their
9 duties as provided in sections 84-306.01 to 84-306.05
10 for state employees.

11 Sec. 11. The council may study any state
12 project which appears to have a potential impact upon 13 intergovernmental data transfer. The council may make 14 recommendations concerning the use of data collected and 15 stored in an electronic medium if such data is deemed to 16 have the potential for intergovernmental data transfer
17 and which it deems to have a positive cost-to-benefit
18 relationship. The council may study any local project
19 only if the request for the study originates from the 20 governmental subdivisions involved in the project.

21 Sec. 12. Any state agency, political

3 intergovernmental data transfer may submit an 4 application to the council for the purpose of requesting

5 a study on the feasibility of the project. Such

12 the project is approved for study, the council shall 13 oversee the progress of the study as it deems necessary.

16 for implementation, recommend additional study,
17 recommend modification prior to implementation,
18 recommend additional funding to expand any existing 19 program if such expansion would bring such program into 20 compliance with the long-term objectives set forth by 21 the council, or recommend termination of the project.

22 Sec. 13. The council shall, at least
23 annually, set forth its recommendations to the Governor,

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87041

DATE: March 27, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB708 - Simulcasting of Horseraces Conducted in Nebraska

Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion regarding the constitutionality of LB708. Generally, LB708 would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-1207 (Cum. Supp. 1986), to provide for the simulcasting of horseraces conducted within licensed horseracing facilities within the state, and authorize parimutuel wagering on such races. The bill would allow any racetrack licensed under Neb.Rev.Stat. §§2-1201 to 2-1223 (Reissue 1983 and Cum. Supp. 1986) to apply to the Nebraska State Racing Commission for a simulcast facility license. This license would permit the racetrack, referred to as the "receiving track", to accept wagers on racing events simulcast from another Nebraska licensed racetrack, called the "sending track". Wagers placed at the receiving track would be combined with wagers placed at the sending track to produce a common parimutuel pool for the calculation of odds and the determination of payouts. Your specific question concerns whether the simulcasting arrangement proposed under LB708 is authorized under the terms of Article III, Section 24 of the Nebraska Constitution.

The constitutionality of similar legislation was recently addressed in three decisions from the courts of New Jersey. In Atlantic City Racing Association v. Attorney General, 189 N.J. Super. 549, 461 A.2d 178 (N.J. Super. Ct. Law Div. 1983), the plaintiff Association brought an action seeking a judgment declaring that an arrangement under which horseraces conducted at one state-licensed racetrack would be simulcast live via television to plaintiff's licensed racetrack, for the purpose of allowing plaintiff's patrons to place parimutuel wagers upon such races and to incorporate such wagers into a central parimutuel pool at the originating track, would be permissible under New Jersey law. The pertinent New Jersey constitutional provision, authorizing parimutuel wagering on horseraces, provided, in part:

It shall be lawful to hold, carry on, and operate in this State race meetings whereat the trotting, running or steeplechase racing of horses only may be conducted . . . in duly legalized racetracks, at which the pari-mutuel system of betting shall be permitted.

Id. at ___, 461 A.2d at 181.

The court held that, although statutes promulgated by the Legislature to place into effect the parimutuel system of wagering on horseraces barred the proposals contemplated by the plaintiff, the proposals were not prohibited by the New Jersey constitutional provision authorizing the operation of horseraces at state-licensed racetracks, and wagering on the races held at those tracks. Id. at ___, 461 A.2d at 180, 183-84. This decision was affirmed by the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of New Jersey. Atlantic City Racing Association v. Attorney General, 198 N.J. Super. 247, 486 A.2d 1261 (N.J. Super. Ct. App. Div. 1983).

On appeal, however, the Supreme Court of New Jersey reversed the lower court ruling regarding the constitutionality of the simulcasting arrangement. Atlantic City Racing Association v. Attorney General, 98 N.J. 535, 489 A.2d 165 (1985). In construing the meaning of the New Jersey constitutional provision authorizing parimutuel wagering on horseraces, the Supreme Court of New Jersey stated:

The plain language of the 1939 amendment, in particular the juxtaposition of the phrases, 'the racing of horses . . . in duly legalized tracks, at which the pari-mutuel system of betting shall be permitted . . . ' is reasonably susceptible to only one interpretation, the authorization of pari-mutuel betting solely at the tracks where horse races are conducted.

Id. at ___, 489 A.2d at 172.

Following an analysis of the history behind the enactment of the constitutional directive authorizing parimutuel wagering on horse races, and the legislation enacted to implement this directive, the court ultimately concluded "that pari-mutuel wagering upon horse races as authorized by the Constitution may be conducted only at race-track at which the race is run."

Id. at ___, 489 A.2d at 174.

While the Nebraska constitutional provision governing the licensing and regulation of parimutuel wagering on horseraces conducted in this state is somewhat similar in nature to that which existed in New Jersey at the time these cases were decided, we believe the language of our state Constitution is broader in scope and is sufficient to permit the Legislature to enact legislation to provide for wagering on horseraces conducted in Nebraska under simulcasting arrangement proposed under LB708. Article III, Section 24, of the Nebraska Constitution provides, in pertinent part:

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the enactment of laws providing for the licensing and regulation of wagering on the results of horse races by the parimutuel or certificate method, when conducted by licensees within the race track enclosure at licensed horse race meetings, . . . .

As the Supreme Court of New Jersey stated in Atlantic City Racing Association v. Attorney General, 98 N.J. 535, ___, 489 A.2d 165, 172 (1985), the language of the New Jersey Constitution specifically authorized "the racing of horses . . . in duly legalized tracks, at which the pari-mutuel system of betting shall be permitted. . . ." As was noted, on the basis of this specific language, the court concluded that parimutuel wagering was authorized only at the particular track where horseraces were actually conducted. In contrast, Article III, Section 24, of the Nebraska Constitution, authorizes the Legislature to provide for the licensing and regulation of parimutuel wagering on horseraces, ". . . when conducted by licensees within the race track enclosure at licensed horse race meetings, . . . ." Thus, under our Constitution, the Legislature possesses broad authority to enact laws relating to the licensing and regulation of parimutuel wagering on the results of horseraces conducted in Nebraska, provided such activity is conducted by licensees, within the racetrack enclosure, at licensed horserace meetings.

In our view, an analysis of the provisions of LB708 reveals the simulcasting arrangement proposed under the bill appears to satisfy these constitutional requirements. Section 3 of LB708 permits racetracks licensed by the State Racing Commission to apply to the Commission for a simulcast facility license. In addition, the word "track" is defined in §2(8) to mean ". . . the grounds or enclosures within which horseraces are conducted by licensees authorized to conduct such races. . . ." Thus, under the wagering procedure outlined in §4 of the bill, all parimutuel wagering under the simulcast arrangement would occur within a racetrack enclosure, as such wagering occurs only within tracks licensed by the Commission under the simulcasting arrangement. Finally, pursuant to §§2(2) and 4(2), the term "licensed horserace meeting" is defined to include licensed simulcast racing events. Section 5 of the bill would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-1207 (Cum. Supp. 1986) to reflect the inclusion of racetracks licensed to simulcast races for purposes of conducting parimutuel wagering on horseraces in Nebraska.

Based on the foregoing, it is our opinion that the simulcasting arrangement proposed under LB708 would not violate the requirements of Article III, Section 24, of the Nebraska Constitution. We feel constrained to point out, however, that our conclusion as to the permissibility of such an arrangement is limited solely to the allowance of wagering by patrons at Nebraska licensed racetracks on horseraces simulcast from another Nebraska licensed racetrack facility. Our opinion should not in any way be construed as sanctioning legislative authority to permit wagering on horseraces conducted outside the State of Nebraska and simulcast to Nebraska licensed racetracks.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87042

DATE: March 27, 1987

SUBJECT: Parole Hearings

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jerry Chizek, Chairperson Judiciary Committee

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Linda L. Willard, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested the opinion of this office as to whether "parole hearings" as referred to Chapter 83, Section 1,111(4), Nebraska Revised Statute (1976), requires that a public hearing be conducted before a quorum of the Parole Board and that the offender be allowed to present evidence, call witnesses, and be represented by counsel. It is the opinion of this office that the parole hearings referred to above do not require the full panoply of due process rights.

In Greenholtz v. Inmates of the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, 442 U.S. 1, 60 L.Ed.2d 668 (1979), the United State Supreme Court held that inmates in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional System did not have a constitutionally protected interest in a parole determination which would call for providing them with all the rights available under the due process clause. In Greenholtz, the court noted that:

Two types of hearings are conducted; initial parole review hearings and final parole hearings. At least once each year initial review hearings must be held for every inmate, regardless of parole eligibility. §83-192(9). At the initial review hearing, the Board examines the inmate's entire preconfinement and postconfinement record. Following that examination it provides an informal hearing: no evidence as such is introduced, but the Board interviews the inmate and considers any letters or statements that he wishes to present in support of a claim for release.

If the Board determines from its examination of the entire record and the personal interview that he is not yet a good risk for release, it denies parole, informs the inmate why release was deferred and makes recommendations designed to help correct any deficiencies observed. It also schedules another initial review hearing to take place within one year.

If the Board determines from the file and the initial review hearing that the inmate is a likely candidate for release, a final hearing is scheduled.

. . . At the final parole hearing, the inmate may present evidence, call witnesses and be represented by private counsel of his choice. . . . If parole is denied, the Board furnishes a written statement of the reasons for the denial within 30 days.

442 U.S. at 4-5, 60 L.Ed.2d at 673-674. In upholding the procedures then, and now, in use by the Nebraska Board of Parole, the Court held:

The Nebraska procedure affords an opportunity to be heard, and when parole is denied it informs the inmate in what respects he falls short of qualifying for parole; this affords the process that is due under these circumstances. The Constitution does not require more.

442 U.S. at 16, 60 L.Ed.2d at 681.

Based on the United States Supreme Court holding in Greenholtz, supra, it is our opinion that the review hearing conducted by the Parole Board on an annual basis is sufficient and that the inmate is not entitled to present evidence, call witnesses, and be represented by counsel at this annual hearing.

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Conway asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 261 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0886

1            1. Insert the following new sections:

2            "Sec. 5. In any civil action for injury to a

3            person or property or wrongful death, the liability of

4            each defendant for damages shall be several only and

5            shall not be joint. Each defendant shall be liable only

6            for the amount of damages allocated to that defendant in

7            direct proportion to that defendant's percentage of

8            fault, and a separate judgment shall be rendered against

9            the defendant for that amount. To determine the amount

10           of judgment to be entered against each defendant, the

11           court, with regard to each defendant, shall multiply the 12           total amount of damages recoverable by the claimant by

13           the percentage of each defendant's fault, and that

14           amount shall be the maximum recoverable against the 15           defendant.

16           Sec. 6. In assessing percentages of fault the

17           trier of fact shall consider the fault of all persons.

18 including the claimant and any person on whose behalf a 19 claim is being made, who contributed to the alleged 20 injury to person or property or death, tangible or 21 intangible, regardless of whether such person was or
1 could have been named as a party to the suit either as a
2 defendant or plaintiff. Negligence or fault of a
3 nonparty may be considered if the claimant entered into
4 a settlement agreement with the nonparty or if the
5 defending party gives notice thirty days prior to the
6 date of trial that a nonparty was wholly or partially at 7 fault. The notice shall be given by filing a pleading
8 in the action designating such nonparty and setting
9 forth such nonparty's name and last-known address, or
10 the best identification of such nonparty which is
11 possible under the circumstances, together with a brief
12 statement of the basis for believing such nonparty to be
13 at fault.

14 Sec. 7. Nothing in sections 5 to 10 of this
15 act shall eliminate or diminish any defenses or
16 immunities which currently exist, except as expressly
17 noted in such sections. Assessments of percentages of
18 fault for nonparties are used only for accurately
19 determining the fault of named parties. When fault is
20 assessed against nonparties, findings of such fault
21 shall not subject any nonparty to liability in this or
22 any other action nor shall such findings be introduced
23 as evidence of liability in any action.

24 Sec. 8. Joint liability shall be imposed on
1 all who pursue a common plan or design to commit a
2 tortious act or actively take part in it. Any person
3 held jointly liable under this section shall have a
4 right of contribution from his or her fellow defendants
5 acting in concert. A defendant shall be held
6 responsible only for the portion of fault assessed to 7 those with whom he or she acted in concert under this
8 section.

9 Sec. 9. The burden of alleging and proving
10 fault shall be upon the person who seeks to establish
11 such fault.

12 Sec. 10. Nothing in sections 5 to 9 of this
13 act shall be construed to create a cause of action.
14 Nothing in such sections shall be construed in any way
15 to alter the immunity of any person.

16 Sec. 11. Section 25-824 and sections 2 to 10

17 of this act shall apply to any civil action filed on or 18 after the effective date of this act.”.

19 2. Renumber the remaining section accordingly.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

DATE:                      April 3, 1987

SUBJECT: LB 547

REQUESTED BY: Senator Howard Lamb

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Bernard L. Packett, Assistant Attorney General

In your letter you refer to the provisions of LB 547, which appears to be identical to the provisions of Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution, or Initiative 300. You then ask if the provisions of Section 1(1)(A), which defines a family farm or ranch corporation, would permit a subsidiary corporation to own farm or ranch land if all of the stock of such corporation was held by a qualified family farm corporation.

First, we note that Section 2 of LB 547 provides that the act would not become operative until Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution was repealed in its entirety, therefore its provisions would not have any immediate control or affect on the corporate ownership of farm or ranch land. Until repealed only the provisions of Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution would control.

With regard to the ownership of farm or ranch land as described above, we enclosed herewith a copy of a letter written to the Director of the Department of Economic Development in which the corporate ownership of farm or ranch land provision is discussed. You will note that the discussion in that letter would indicate that a subsidiary corporation could own farm or ranch land if 100 percent of its stock was held by a qualified family farm corporation.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

Director
Department of Economic Development

4th Floor, Box 94666
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509-4666

Re: Initiative 300 (Article XII, Section 8 of the Nebraska Constitution)

Dear Mr. Christianson:

In your recent letter you state that an officer of a corporation had requested that this office express an opinion as to whether or not, under the provisions of Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution, this corporation is qualified to acquire farm or ranch land in Nebraska.

Because of the duties and responsibilities placed upon this office by the Legislature under the provisions of Chapter 84, Article 2 of the statutes, and more specifically by the provisions of Initiative 300 itself, it would be improper for us to issue such an opinion based upon hypothetical facts.

However, in order to assist you in your dealings with corporations interested in establishing farm or ranch related businesses in Nebraska, we would like to point out some of the provisions of Initiative 300 about which the most questions have been raised.

Simply stated, the first paragraph of Article XII, Section 8 (the Initiative 300 Amendment to the Nebraska Constitution), provides that no corporation shall acquire an interest in any real estate used for farming or ranching.

After defining certain terms, including corporation, farming and ranching, this Section 8 then makes fourteen exceptions to the restrictions placed upon corporate ownership of farm or ranch land. The first and probably the most discussed exception is with regard to ownership of land by family farm corporations.

Since Article XII, Section 8, was adopted by the initiative process there is insufficient history to assist one in determining the full intent of the proponents of its provisions, or the meaning of some of its provisions where there may be some ambiguity. In addition, there has been only one case before our Nebraska Supreme Court dealing with the provisions of Initiative 300. That case, Omaha National Bank v. Spire, 223 Neb. 209, dealt only with the limited issues of its constitutionality and the question of whether or not a bank could acquire farm or ranch land and hold it as trustee. In that case our court held that Initiative 300 was constitutional and that a corporate bank, acting as trustee, was not exempt from the prohibition against corporations acquiring an interest in farm or ranch land.

So, without the benefit of sufficient legislative history or court precedent on the point we submit the following as a guideline in your future dealings where corporate ownership of farm or ranch land may arise.

After prohibiting corporations from acquiring farm or ranch land Initiative 300 then proceeds to adopt fourteen exceptions to this restriction.

The first of these fourteen exceptions is that such land can be acquired by a "family farm corporation", which is a corporation in which the majority of the voting stock is held by members of a family related to each other within the fourth degree of kindred. A minority of the voting stock in such corporation may be held by persons not related to members of the family holding a majority of the stock, but they must not be non-resident aliens. A minority of the voting stock may also be held by other corporations or partnerships but in that event all of the partners, and stockholders of such other corporations, must be related within the fourth degree of kindred to the majority stockholders of the family farm corporation. In addition, a member of the "family" must reside on or actively engage in the day-to-day labor and management of the farm or ranch.

In our view, all of the elements of corporate ownership of farm or ranch land are clear and well defined except one, and that is the requirement that a member of the family must reside on "or actively engage in the day-to-day labor and management of the farm or ranch."

In this regard it appears that if a member of the "family" does not reside on the farm or ranch then such member must be actively engaged in the day-to-day labor and management of the farm or ranch.

With only the language of Initiative 300 to guide us, we are unable to say with any degree of certainty what would constitute being actively engaged in the day-to-day labor and management of the farm or ranch. This question is a factual one which, without further definition in the constitution, may only be determined by a court or jury. However, it is clear that to meet the constitutional test here the family member would have to be actively engaged in the operations in a substantial manner. This would mean spending a great amount of time on the farm or ranch and clearly being constantly involved in the necessary work and decisions required.

While there are many other problems raised by Initiative 300, we believe that the above will assist you in dealing with most farm or ranch businesses interested in establishing or expanding their operations in Nebraska.

Our office is available and anxious to advise and assist you in your good efforts. Please call upon us.

Very Truly Yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Ashford asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 261 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0902

1           1. Strike the Conway amendment, AM0886,
2     beginning on page 1518 of the Journal.

3           2. Insert the following new sections:

4           “Sec. 5. (1) Contributory fault shall not bar
5     recovery in an action by any person or the legal
6     representative of such person to recover damages for
7     fault resulting in death or in injury to person or
8     property if the contributory fault of the claimant was
9     not greater than the total fault of all persons against
10    whom recovery is sought, but any damages allowed shall
11    be diminished in proportion to the amount of fault
12    attributable to the claimant. The court may, and when 13    requested by any party shall, direct the jury to find
14    separate special verdicts determining the amount of
15    damages and the percentage of fault attributable to each
16    party. The court shall then reduce the amount of
17    damages in proportion to the amount of fault
18    attributable to the claimant.

19           (2) Fault shall include acts or omissions that 20    are in any measure negligent or reckless toward the 21    person or property of the actor or others or that
1    subjects a person to strict tort liability. The term
2    shall also include breach of warranty, unreasonable
3    assumption of risk not constituting an express consent,
4    misuse of a product, and unreasonable failure to avoid
5    an injury or to mitigate damages. Legal requirements of
6    causal relation apply both to fault as the basis for
7    liability and to contributory fault.

8           (3) Settlement with or any payment made to an
9    injured person or to others on behalf of such injured
10   person with the permission of such injured person or to
11   anyone entitled to recover damages on account of injury
12   or death of such person shall not constitute an
13   admission of liability by the person making the payment
14   or on whose behalf payment was made.

15           (4) Settlement with or any payment made to a
16    person or on the behalf of such person to others for 17    damage to or destruction of property shall not
18    constitute an admission of liability by the person
19    making the payment or on whose behalf the payment was

20 made.

21 (5) Except in an action in which settlement
22 and release has been pleaded as a defense, any
23 settlement or payment referred to in subsections (3) and
24 (4) of this section shall be inadmissible in evidence on
1 the trial of any legal action.

2 (6) All settlements and payments made under
3 subsection (3) and (4) of this section shall be
4 credited against any final settlement or judgment,
5 except that in the event that judgment is entered
6 against the person seeking recovery or if a verdict is
7 rendered for an amount less than the total of any such
8 advance payments in favor of the recipient thereof, such 9 person shall not be required to refund any portion of
10 such advance payments voluntarily made. Upon motion to 11 the court in the absence of a jury and upon proper proof
12 thereof, prior to entry of judgment on a verdict, the
13 court shall first apply subsection (2) of this section
14 and then shall reduce the amount of the damages so
15 determined by the amount of the payments previously made
16 to or on behalf of the person entitled to such damages.

17 Sec. 6. (1) When two or more persons are 18 jointly liable, contributions to awards shall be in
19 proportion to the percentage of fault attributable to
20 each, except that each is jointly and severally liable
21 for the whole award as prescribed in subsection (2) of
22 this section.

23 (2) Upon a showing by the claimant made not
24 later than one year after judgment is entered, the court
1 shall determine whether all or part of an equitable
2 share of a party of the obligation is uncollectible from
3 that party and shall reallocate any uncollectible amount
4 among the other parties, including a claimant at fault,
5 according to their respective percentages of fault. If
6 as a result of reallocation, a claimant's percentage of
7 fault exceeds fifty per cent, further recovery is
8 barred. A party whose liability is reallocated is
9 nonetheless subject to contribution and to any
10 continuing liability to the claimant on the judgment.

11 Sec. 7. That section 25-1222.01, Reissue
12 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
13 as follows:

14 25-1222.01. No Except as provided in section
15 5 of this act, no advance payments or partial payment of

16 damages made by an insurance company or other person,
17 firm, trust, or corporation as an accommodation to an 18 injured person or on his or her behalf to others or to 19 the heirs at law or dependents of a deceased person made
20 under any liability insurance policy, or other voluntary
21 payments made because of an injury, death claim,
22 property loss, or potential claim against any insured or
23 other person, firm, trust, or corporation thereunder
24 shall be construed as an admission of liability by the
1 insured or other person, firm, trust, or corporation, or
2 the payer's recognition of such liability, with respect
3 to such injured or deceased person or with respect to
4 any other claim arising from the same accident or event.
5 Any such payments shall constitute a credit and be
6 deductible from any final settlement made or judgment
7 rendered with respect to such injured or deceased
8 person. In the event of a trial involving such a claim,
9 the fact that such payments have been made shall not be
10 admissible in evidence or brought to the attention of 11 the jury, and the matter of any credit to be deducted
12 from a judgment shall be determined by the court in a
13 separate hearing or upon the stipulation of the parties.

14 Sec. 8. That section 27-408, Reissue Revised
15 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
16 follows:

17 27-408. Evidence Except as provided in
18 subsections (3), (4), and (5) of section 5 of this act,
19 evidence of (1) furnishing or offering or promising to 20 furnish, or (2) accepting or offering or promising to 21 accept, a valuable consideration in compromising or
22 attempting to compromise a claim which was disputed as
23 to either validity or amount, is not admissible to prove
24 liability for or invalidity of the claim or its amount.

1 Evidence of conduct or statements made in compromise
2 negotiations is likewise not admissible. This rule does
3 not require the exclusion of any evidence otherwise
4 discoverable merely because it is presented in the
5 course of compromise negotiations. This rule also does
6 not require exclusion when the evidence is offered for
7 another purpose, such as proving bias or prejudice of a
8 witness, negating a contention of undue delay, or
9 proving an effort to obstruct a criminal investigation
10 or prosecution.

11 Sec. 9. That section 27-409, Reissue Revised

12 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
13 follows:

14 27-409. ~~Evidence~~ Except as provided in
15 subsections (3), (4), and (5) of section 5 of this act,
16 evidence of furnishing or offering or promising to pay
17 medical, hospital, or similar expenses occasioned by an 18 injury is not admissible to prove liability for the 19 injury.

20 Sec. 10. That section 39-619, Reissue Revised
21 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
22 follows:

23 39-619. (1) No person shall, without lawful
24 authority, attempt to or in fact alter, deface, injure,
1 knock down, or remove any traffic-control device or any
2 railroad sign or signal or any part thereof.

3 (2) Any person who moves, alters, damages, or
4 destroys warning devices placed upon roads which the
5 Department of Roads or any local authority or its
6 representative has closed in whole or in part for the
7 protection of the public or for the protection of the 8 highway from damage during construction, improvement, or
9 maintenance operation; and thereby causes injury or
10 death to any person or damage to any property,
11 equipment, or material thereon shall be liable, subject
12 ~~to the provisions of section 25-21,185~~ section 3 of this
13 act, for the full amount of such death, injury, or
14 damage, and such amount may be recovered by the injured
15 or damaged party or his or her legal representative in a
16 civil action brought in any court of competent
17 jurisdiction.

18 Sec. 11. That section 44-2819, Reissue
19 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
20 as follows:

22 this act:

4 another person so damaged has been or shall be
5 reimbursed or paid for any such item of damage, cost, or
6 expense, in whole or in part, by any nonrefundable
7 medical reimbursement insurance shall not be admissible

8 in evidence or brought to the attention of the jury, but
 9 such nonrefundable medical reimbursement insurance
 10 benefits, less all premiums paid by or for the claimant,
 11 may be taken as a credit against any judgment rendered.
 12 The matter of any credit to be deducted from a judgment
 13 shall be determined by the court in a separate hearing
 14 or upon the stipulation of the parties; and -

15 (2) Damages recoverable in any action shall be
 16 those losses which have been or shall be sustained by 17 the claimant as a direct and proximate result of the 18 defendant's wrongful acts as established by a
 19 preponderance of the evidence. In wrongful death
 20 actions, pecuniary loss to a widow or widower, any
 21 dependent, or next of kin shall be subject to all of the QUESTION: Whether it is constitutional to limit the Governor's selection of the membership of a state board from a list provided by a private association such as the State Firemen's Volunteer Association?

CONCLUSION: This is not constitutionally suspect as long as it does not unreasonably restrict the Governor's right to appoint pursuant to Article IV, Section 10, of the Nebraska Constitution.

You have requested an opinion regarding the constitutionality of amending LB 460 so that it would limit the Governor's appointments to the Board of Ambulance Advisors from a list of names submitted by the State Firemen's Volunteer Association. There is no information at our disposal as to the number of qualified candidates from which the Governor would be able to choose.

The Nebraska Constitution at Article IV, Section 10, grants to the Governor the power to make appointments to state offices, and provides in pertinent part:

The Governor shall appoint with the approval of a majority of the Legislature, all persons whose offices are established by the Constitution, or which may be created by law, and whose appointment or election is not otherwise by law or herein provided for; and no such person shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature . . . .

The Supreme Court applied this section of the Constitution in Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W.2d 62 (1966), overruled on other grounds, State ex. rel. Douglas v. Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, 204 Neb. 445, 283 N.W.2d 12 (1979). There, the constitutionality of an act creating a public electric corporation whose membership was composed of public power districts within the state was questioned. By this act, the Legislature created a system by which the Governor was to appoint a board of directors. In essence, the state was divided into regions, each region being represented by a person serving on one of the constituent public power district board of directors. Clearly, of the nine regions from which members were selected for the board of directors, five of the regions were only represented by one person qualified to receive an appointment to the board of directors. The court recognized that the Legislature has the power to define the qualifications for an office. However, it concluded that this system violated Article IV, Section 10, of the Nebraska Constitution because it limited the Governor's power of appointment. In so doing, the court stated:

The right of the Legislature to prescribe reasonable qualifications of one to be appointed to office is not disputed. But the Legislature is prohibited by constitutional provision from appointing officers whose offices are created by law, either directly or indirectly. The provisions of the Act which limit the appointment of grid system directors by the Governor to a certain unnamed individual or to a limited few, is an encroachment by the Legislature upon the powers of the Governor, and is void as violative of Article IV, Section 10, of the Constitution of Nebraska. (Emphasis added.)

Thus, this language certainly raises a question as to the constitutionality of the proposed method of appointing members to the Board of Ambulance Advisors.

While we cannot say with certainty that the proposed method of appointing members to the Board of Ambulance Advisors is, per se, unconstitutional, there are some guidelines which should be considered. First, as indicated in Wittler, the list of candidates must contain more than one name. Moreover, the Governor's appointment choice must not be limited to just a "few" names. While this term is certainly ambiguous, we have advised in previous Attorney General Opinions that a list of three or fewer candidates is unconstitutional. See, Attorney General Opinion No. 227 (1978); Attorney General Opinion No. 151 (1979).

In short, there is no constitutional prohibition against the kind of legislation you have suggested as long as it does not unreasonably encroach upon the Governor's power to appoint by limiting the field of candidates from which the Governor may choose. Clearly, the Governor has the right to appoint individuals to state boards. Although it is the Legislature's prerogative to set forth the qualifications which candidates must have for a certain position, these qualifications may not be so stringent as to essentially predetermine the Governor's selection. That is, the Legislature cannot do indirectly what it cannot do directly. Gaffney v. State Department of Education, 192 Neb. 358, 220 N.W.2d 550 (1974).

The proposed amendment to LB 460 would not be unconstitutional as long as the qualifications set by the Legislature for candidates to the Board of Ambulance Advisors are not too narrow so that only one person or "a limited few" are qualified for the appointment. The State Firemen's Volunteer Association should be required to submit a list to the Governor which includes the names of a number of qualified candidates for the position. In this manner, the Governor's constitutional right to appoint will not be unduly restricted.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Pappas asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 261 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0903

- 1 1. Strike the Conway amendment, AM0886,
- 2 beginning on page 1518 of the Journal.
- 3 2. Insert the following new sections:
- 4 "Sec. 5. (1) Contributory fault shall not bar
- 5 recovery in an action by any person or the legal
- 6 representative of such person to recover damages for
- 7 fault resulting in death or in injury to person or
- 8 property if the contributory fault of the claimant was
- 9 not greater than the total fault of all persons against
- 10 whom recovery is sought, but any damages allowed shall
- 11 be diminished in proportion to the amount of fault
- 12 attributable to the claimant. The court may, and when

13 requested by any party shall, direct the jury to find
14 separate special verdicts determining the amount of
15 damages and the percentage of fault attributable to each
16 party. The court shall then reduce the amount of
17 damages in proportion to the amount of fault
18 attributable to the claimant.

19 (2) Fault shall include acts or omissions that
20 are in any measure negligent or reckless toward the
21 person or property of the actor or others or that
2 subjects a person to strict tort liability. The term
3 shall also include breach of warranty, unreasonable
4 assumption of risk not constituting an express consent,
5 misuse of a product, and unreasonable failure to avoid
6 an injury or to mitigate damages. Legal requirements of
7 causal relation apply both to fault as the basis for
8 liability and to contributory fault.

9 (3) Settlement with or any payment made to an
10 injured person or to others on behalf of such injured
11 person with the permission of such injured person or to
12 anyone entitled to recover damages on account of injury
13 or death of such person shall not constitute an
14 admission of liability by the person making the payment
15 or on whose behalf payment was made.

16 (4) Settlement with or any payment made to a
17 person or on the behalf of such person to others for 18 damage to or destruction of property shall not
19 constitute an admission of liability by the person
20 making the payment or on whose behalf the payment was 21 made.

22 (5) Except in an action in which settlement
23 and release has been pleaded as a defense, any
24 settlement or payment referred to in subsections (3) and
1 (4) of this section shall be inadmissible in evidence on
2 the trial of any legal action.

3 (6) All settlements and payments made under
4 subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall be
5 credited against any final settlement or judgment,
6 except that in the event that judgment is entered
7 against the person seeking recovery or if a verdict is
8 rendered for an amount less than the total of any such
9 advance payments in favor of the recipient thereof, such
10 person shall not be required to refund any portion of 11 such advance payments voluntarily made. Upon motion to 12 the court in the absence of a jury and upon proper proof

12 thereof, prior to entry of judgment on a verdict, the
13 court shall first apply subsection (2) of this section
14 and then shall reduce the amount of the damages so
15 determined by the amount of the payments previously made
16 to or on behalf of the person entitled to such damages.

17       Sec. 6. (1) When two or more persons are 18 jointly liable, contributions to awards shall be in
19 proportion to the percentage of fault attributable to
20 each, except that each is jointly and severally liable
21 for the whole award as prescribed in subsection (2) of
22 this section.

23       (2) Upon a showing by the claimant made not
24 later than one year after judgment is entered, the court
1 shall determine whether all or part of an equitable
2 share of a party of the obligation is uncollectible from
3 that party and shall reallocate any uncollectible amount
4 among the other parties, including a claimant at fault,
5 according to their respective percentages of fault. If
6 as a result of reallocation, a claimant's percentage of
7 fault exceeds fifty per cent, further recovery is
8 barred. A party whose liability is reallocated is
9 nonetheless subject to contribution and to any
10 continuing liability to the claimant on the judgment.

11       Sec. 7. That section 25-1222.01, Reissue
12 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
13 as follows:

14       25-1222.01. No Except as provided in section
15 5 of this act, no advance payments or partial payment of
16 damages made by an insurance company or other person,
17 firm, trust, or corporation as an accommodation to an 18 injured person or on his or her behalf to others or to
19 the heirs at law or dependents of a deceased person made
20 under any liability insurance policy; or other voluntary
21 payments made because of an injury, death claim,
22 property loss, or potential claim against any insured or
23 other person, firm, trust, or corporation thereunder
24 shall be construed as an admission of liability by the
1 insured or other person, firm, trust, or corporation, or
2 the payer's recognition of such liability, with respect
3 to such injured or deceased person or with respect to
4 any other claim arising from the same accident or event.
5 Any such payments shall constitute a credit and be
6 deductible from any final settlement made or judgment
7 rendered with respect to such injured or deceased

8 person. In the event of a trial involving such a claim,
9 the fact that such payments have been made shall not be
10 admissible in evidence or brought to the attention of 11 the jury, and the matter of any credit to be deducted
12 from a judgment shall be determined by the court in a
13 separate hearing or upon the stipulation of the parties.

14 Sec. 8. That section 27-408, Reissue Revised
15 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
16 follows:

17 27-408. Evidence Except as provided in
18 subsections (3), (4), and (5) of section 5 of this act,
19 evidence of (1) furnishing or offering or promising to 20 furnish, or (2) accepting or offering or promising to 21 accept, a valuable consideration in compromising or
22 attempting to compromise a claim which was disputed as
23 to either validity or amount, is not admissible to prove
24 liability for or invalidity of the claim or its amount.

1 Evidence of conduct or statements made in compromise
2 negotiations is likewise not admissible. This rule does
3 not require the exclusion of any evidence otherwise
4 discoverable merely because it is presented in the
5 course of compromise negotiations. This rule also does
6 not require exclusion when the evidence is offered for
7 another purpose, such as proving bias or prejudice of a
8 witness, negating a contention of undue delay, or
9 proving an effort to obstruct a criminal investigation
10 or prosecution.

11 Sec. 9. That section 27-409, Reissue Revised
12 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
13 follows:

14 27-409. Evidence Except as provided in
15 subsections (3), (4), and (5) of section 5 of this act,
16 evidence of furnishing or offering or promising to pay
17 medical, hospital, or similar expenses occasioned by an 18 injury is not admissible to prove liability for the 19 injury.

20 Sec. 10. That section 39-619, Reissue Revised
21 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
22 follows:

23 39-619. (1) No person shall, without lawful
24 authority, attempt to or in fact alter, deface, injure,
1 knock down, or remove any traffic-control device or any
2 railroad sign or signal or any part thereof.

3 (2) Any person who moves, alters, damages, or

4 destroys warning devices placed upon roads which the
5 Department of Roads or any local authority or its
6 representative has closed in whole or in part for the
7 protection of the public or for the protection of the
8 highway from damage during construction, improvement, or
9 maintenance operation; and thereby causes injury or
10 death to any person or damage to any property,
11 equipment, or material thereon shall be liable, subject
12 to the provisions of ~~section 25-21,185~~ section 3 of this
13 act, for the full amount of such death, injury, or
14 damage, and such amount may be recovered by the injured
15 or damaged party or his or her legal representative in a
16 civil action brought in any court of competent
17 jurisdiction.

18 Sec. 11. That section 44-2819, Reissue
19 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
20 as follows:

21 44-2819. Except as provided in section 5 of 22 this act:

23 (1) In any action for damages for bodily injuries or for wrongful death when it is alleged that 1 the claimant suffered damages for the cost of medical
2 care, custodial care, or rehabilitation services,
3 evidence which tends to establish that the claimant or
4 another person so damaged has been or shall be
5 reimbursed or paid for any such item of damage, cost, or
6 expense, in whole or in part, by any nonrefundable
7 medical reimbursement insurance shall not be admissible
8 in evidence or brought to the attention of the jury, but
9 such nonrefundable medical reimbursement insurance
10 benefits, less all premiums paid by or for the claimant,
11 may be taken as a credit against any judgment rendered.
12 The matter of any credit to be deducted from a judgment
13 shall be determined by the court in a separate hearing
14 or upon the stipulation of the parties; and -

15 (2) Damages recoverable in any action shall be
16 those losses which have been or shall be sustained by
17 the claimant as a direct and proximate result of the
18 defendant's wrongful acts as established by a
19 preponderance of the evidence. In wrongful death
20 actions, pecuniary loss to a widow or widower, any 21 dependent, or next of kin shall be subject to all of the 22 terms and provisions of the Nebraska Hospital-Medical 23 Liability Act, sections 44-2801 to 44-2855."

- 24           3. On page 6, line 14, strike "section

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

April 9, 1987

Mr. Allen J. Beermann
Secretary of State
P.O. Box 94608
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Secretary of State:

Engrossed Legislative Bill 683 was received in my office on April 1, 1987, after having been passed by the Legislature.

This bill rested with me five days, Sundays excepted. As provided in Article IV, Section 15, of the Constitution, I have neither signed nor vetoed LB 683 and have allowed it to become law without my signature.

(Signed) Sincerely,
KAY A. ORR
Governor

April 9, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

This is to advise you that LB 683 has been forwarded to the Secretary of State, without my signature. By allowing LB 683 to move forward, I wish to communicate my concerns regarding this legislation, which appears to be in conflict with the constitutional responsibilities of Nebraska's executive branch of government.

LB 683, through the procedure and limitations contained in it, places the Legislature between the courts, which awarded the oil overcharge funds, and the Governor, who accepted the responsibility of disbursing the funds in accordance with the court's guidelines and conditions. My respect for the Legislature's vital role in the democratic process remains undiminished; nevertheless, in the case of LB 683, the Legislature may have acted beyond its constitutional authority by imposing a specific procedure for, and limitations on, the expenditure of the overcharge funds. I have, therefore, requested the Nebraska Attorney General to assess the constitutionality of LB 683. (A copy of my request is attached.)

Raising this issue should not be perceived as an indication that our two branches of government are now engaged in a constitutional challenge which could interfere with our continued cooperation and good will. However, as Governor it is my obligation to attempt to clarify the relative authority of the Legislature and the Governor in the disbursement of the overcharge funds. This question is being raised for the purpose of promoting good government--which is identical to the spirit in which you adopted LB 683.

It is perhaps auspicious that this issue has surfaced as we prepare to celebrate the 200th anniversary of our nation's Constitution. The fact that such a question can be raised in relation to our state Constitution and resolved in a deliberate and civil manner, without shaking the foundation of our government, is a credit to our state's collective reverence for and dedication to the document we have each pledged to uphold.

Sincerely,
(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 77.

By Urban Affairs Committee: Hartnett, 45th District, Chairperson; Hall, 7th District; Higgins, 9th District; Korshoj, 16th District; Labeledz, 5th District; Landis, 46th District; Smith, 33rd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this study is to determine parameters of future municipal development in Nebraska, the terms upon which such development should be permitted to proceed, and the impact of current zoning and annexation laws on that process.

Nebraska municipal law has always recognized the need for cities and villages to exercise certain forms of control through extra-territorial zoning and planning authority. The ability of a city or village to provide services to its residents in the most economical and efficient manner possible depends upon its ability to grow and to reasonably control the growth and development taking place along its perimeter. Keeping such growth orderly and in line with plans for future provision of services is an important policy consideration for maintaining Nebraska municipal health.

Concerns have been raised about the manner in which that extra-territorial control has been exercised and whether it should be modified to conform to current realities. It is important for the Urban Affairs Committee, in line with its responsibility to monitor and report to the Legislature the current conditions of Nebraska cities and villages, to review the current situation and assess certain factors relative to the problem, including:

- (1) The future growth patterns of Nebraska's cities and villages;
- (2) Current and projected annexation plans;
- (3) Growth along the fringes of cities and villages in Nebraska;
- (4) Municipal and municipal-type services provided to such fringe areas;
- (5) Zoning and planning functions of cities, villages, and counties and abuses of the current statutory scheme;
- (6) The finances of municipal growth and infrastructure creation and improvement in urban areas; and
- (7) Issues relating to development and the city and county planning, zoning, and development interface.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Urban Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

By Urban Affairs Committee: Hartnett, 45th District, Chairperson; Hall, 7th District; Higgins, 9th District; Korshoj, 16th District; Labeledz, 5th District; Landis, 46th District; Smith, 33rd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this study is to address the issues and concerns raised by the members of the Legislature with regard to Legislative Resolution 21CA when the resolution was considered on select file on April 7, 1987, and to outline possible options and solutions for the Legislature to adopt in resolving the issues and concerns.

Legislative Resolution 21CA is a constitutional resolution sponsored by the Urban Affairs committee on behalf of the League of Nebraska Municipalities and several of its member cities. The purpose of the resolution is to permit cities in Nebraska to spend funds derived from local sources for economic development projects with the approval of the voters in those communities. The language is permissive and requires legislative authorization before any city could exercise the authority.

The resolution was heard by the Urban Affairs committee on February 17, 1987, and advanced to the floor of the Legislature by unanimous vote of the members. It moved from general to select file on March 6, 1987, with only a single dissenting vote, and was amended without dissent on April 7, 1987, to resolve concerns raised by bond counsel for several cities. At that time, vigorous debate by several members on a motion to indefinitely postpone the resolution raised concerns about legislative intent and direction and possible financial repercussions for local communities.

Following the rejection of the motion, the Legislature voted without dissent to bracket the resolution until the 1988 session. In his statement in support of the bracket motion, Sen. Hartnett, the Chairperson of the Urban Affairs committee, expressed his desire to resolve the legitimate concerns of his colleagues and members of the public about this important piece of economic development legislation and his intention to have the Urban Affairs committee review the resolution, take testimony on the issues presented by the resolution, and determine some possible legislative approaches to implementation of the amendment if the voters of Nebraska were to approve it at the general election in 1988.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Urban Affairs committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.
2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

Mr. Conway asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 261 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM0931

- 1            1. Insert the following new sections:
- 2            "Sec. 5. For purposes of sections 5 to 11 of
- 3            this act, unless the context otherwise requires, fault
- 4            shall include acts or omissions that are in any measure
- 5            negligent or reckless toward the person or property of
- 6            the actor or others or that subjects a person to strict

7 tort liability. The term shall also include breach of 8 warranty, unreasonable assumption of risk not
9 constituting an express consent, misuse of a product,
10 and unreasonable failure to avoid an injury or to 11 mitigate damages.

12       Sec. 6. In any civil action for injury to a
13 person or property or wrongful death, the liability of 14 each defendant for damages shall be several only and
15 shall not be joint. Each defendant shall be liable only
16 for the amount of damages allocated to that defendant in 17 direct proportion to that defendant's percentage of
18 fault, and a separate judgment shall be rendered against
19 the defendant for that amount. To determine the amount
20 of judgment to be entered against each defendant, the 21 trier of fact, with regard to each defendant, shall 1 multiply the total amount of damages recoverable by the 2 plaintiff by the percentage of each defendant's fault,
3 and that amount shall be the maximum recoverable against 4 the defendant.

5       Sec. 7. In assessing percentages of fault the
6 trier of fact shall consider the fault of all persons,
7 including the plaintiff and any person on whose behalf
8 an action is brought, who contributed to the alleged 9 injury to person or property or death, tangible or
10 intangible, regardless of whether such person was or
11 could have been named as a party to the suit either as a
12 defendant or plaintiff. Negligence or fault of a
13 nonparty may be considered if the plaintiff entered into 14 a settlement agreement with the nonparty or if the 15 defending party gives notice thirty days prior to the 16 date of trial that a nonparty was wholly or partially at
17 fault. The notice shall be given by filing a pleading
18 in the action designating such nonparty and setting
19 forth such nonparty's name and last-known address, or 20 the best identification of such nonparty which is
21 possible under the circumstances, together with a brief
22 statement of the basis for believing such nonparty to be
23 at fault.

24       Sec. 8. Nothing in sections 5 to 11 of this
1 act shall eliminate or diminish any defenses or
2 immunities which currently exist, except as expressly
3 noted in such sections. Assessments of percentages of
4 fault for nonparties are used only for accurately
5 determining the fault of named parties. When fault is

6 assessed against nonparties, findings of such fault
7 shall not subject any nonparty to liability in this or
8 any other action nor shall such findings be introduced
9 as evidence of liability in any action.

10 Sec. 9. Joint liability shall be imposed on
11 all who pursue a common plan or design to commit a
12 tortious act or actively take part in it. Any person
13 held jointly liable under this section shall have a
14 right of contribution from his or her fellow defendants
15 acting in concert. A defendant shall be held
16 responsible only for the portion of fault assessed to 17 those with whom he or she acted in concert under this
18 section.

19 Sec. 10. The burden of alleging and proving 20 fault shall be upon the person who seeks to establish
21 such fault.

22 Sec. 11. Nothing in sections 5 to 10 of this
23 act shall be construed to create a cause of action.
24 Nothing in such sections shall be construed in any way
1 to alter the immunity of any person.

2 Sec. 12. Section 25-824 and sections 2 to 11
3 of this act shall apply to any civil action filed on or
4 after the effective date of this act.”.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87047

DATE: April 10, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 644 and Amendment
#0081, Dealing With Nonresident Tuition

REQUESTED BY: Senator Dennis Baack
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Harold Mosher, Assistant Attorney General

LB 644 is an act to amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1338 (Reissue 1981) and Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-4,102 (Supp. 1986). If enacted into operative law, LB 644 would change the calculations relating to nonresident tuition; it would change a provision relating to the School Foundation and Equalization Fund; and would repeal the original sections. Amendment thereto, #0081, describes certain calculations in detail. However, the calculations are not necessarily based upon the cost to a school district to provide high school education to nonresident students per se but are based, in part, upon certain percentage factors which may or may not have a rational basis with the cost of the high school education. Notably absent from the calculations is the cost of retiring bonded indebtedness.

In the absence of specific facts, it is impossible to determine if the calculations to be made pursuant to this legislative bill would result in the levy of a tax that would violate the rule as to uniformity. It would certainly seem possible in view of the weighted percentage factors to be applied to the calculations and the absence from the calculations in the cost of retiring bonded indebtedness. It must be kept in mind that a state cannot tax itself for the benefit of the people of another state. So imposing a tax on one municipality or part of the state, for the purpose of benefiting another municipality or part, violates the rule as to uniformity. "No taxing district can be taxed for the exclusive benefit of another district." See, Peterson v. Hancock, 155 Neb. 801, 817, 54 N.W.2d 85 (1952). Thus, given the right set of facts, a court, in our opinion, could quite properly find that LB 644 and the amendment thereto are unconstitutional.

Respectfully Submitted,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General

QUESTION: Do the personal exemptions provided by LB 335 unconstitutionally supersede the federal bankruptcy laws relative to annuities?

ANSWER: No, the State of Nebraska formally rejected the federal exemptions and elected to retain personal exemptions provided by state law.

DISCUSSION: The Federal Bankruptcy Code 11 USC §522(b)(1) provides that an individual debtor may exempt certain personal property from the bankruptcy estate. It allows the debtor the option of choosing to use either the federal exemptions provided in the bankruptcy code §522(d) or exemptions provided by non-bankruptcy federal law or exemptions provided by state or local law unless the state law applicable to the debtor specifically does not so authorize.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §25-15,105 provides:

The federal exemptions provided in 11 U.S.C. 522, subsection (d), are hereby rejected by the State of Nebraska. The State of Nebraska elects to retain the personal exemptions provided under Nebraska statutes and the Nebraska Constitution and to have such exemptions apply to any bankruptcy petition filed in Nebraska after April 17, 1980.

In enacting §25-15,105 the Legislature eliminated the option of using federal bankruptcy code exemptions for debtors filing bankruptcy in Nebraska. However, Nebraska debtors are still permitted to use personal exemptions provided by either state and local law or non-bankruptcy federal law. Because the rejection of Federal Bankruptcy Code §522(d) exemptions is permitted by §522(b)(1) and because the Legislature enacted §25-15,105, LB 335 does not unconstitutionally supersede the federal bankruptcy laws.

Opinion No. 87049

DATE: April 15, 1987

SUBJECT: Art. IV, Section 15 of the Nebraska Constitution; On What Date Does a Bill Become Law When it is Neither Approved nor Vetoed by the Governor; What is the Effective Date of a Bill Passed With the Emergency Clause?

REQUESTED BY: Joanne M. Pepperl
Revisor of Statutes and Bill Drafter

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

You have asked for our views concerning two separate issues regarding the date upon which a bill becomes law when it is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, and regarding the date upon which a bill becomes effective when it is passed with the emergency clause. We have researched the applicable law, and our opinions as to the questions which you have raised are set out below.

LB 432 was passed by the 90th Nebraska Legislature on March 20, 1987, and presented to the Governor for her action on that same date. On March 27, 1987, LB 432 was delivered to the Nebraska Secretary of State with correspondence from the Governor which indicated that she had neither vetoed nor signed the bill and that she had allowed it to become law without her signature. It is your responsibility to prepare the mat for the printing of the slip law for LB 432 which includes the following line: "Became law (date) without approval of the Governor." There has been some apparent confusion in the past concerning the date upon which a bill has become law under these circumstances. Accordingly, you first ask when LB 432 became law, and what date should be inserted for printing of the slip law.

Art. IV, Section 15 of the Nebraska Constitution provides, in pertinent part:

Any bill which shall not be returned by the Governor within five days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it; unless the Legislature by their adjournment prevent its return; in which case it shall be filed, with his objections, in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after such adjournment, or become a law. Our Supreme Court has not addressed the issue of when the five day period set out in Art. IV, Section 15 of our Constitution begins to run and when that time period expires. However, the general rule in a number of other jurisdictions appears to be that where a certain number of days is prescribed within which the Governor of a state must either approve, veto or return a legislative bill, such days are to be computed by excluding the day on which the bill was presented to the Governor and by including the last day of the specified time period. Redmond v. Ray, 268 N.W.2d 849 (Iowa 1978); Advisory Opinion to the Governor, 131 So.2d 196 (Fla. 1961); 82 CJS Statutes, §49; 73 Am.Jur.2d Statutes, §78; 54 ALR 339. Also, the "days" within which a Governor must act on a legislative bill submitted to him, or within which the bill will become law without action on his part, are days of 24 hours each. 54 ALR 339.

Immediately upon the lapse of the time period provided for in the Constitution for the Governor to act upon a bill, the bill becomes law. State ex rel. Mass Transportation Authority v. Indiana Revenue Board, 144 In.A. 63, 242 N.E.2d 642 (1968); Ex parte Benight 53 Ocr. 293, 11 P.2d 208 (1932).

On the basis of the authority cited above, it is our conclusion that the five day period for approval or veto of a bill presented to the Governor begins on the day following presentation of the bill. The period ends at 12:00 a.m. on the fifth day thereafter, Sundays excluded. Therefore, a bill becomes law at 12:01 a.m. on the sixth day after the bill was presented to the Governor, Sundays excluded, when the Governor does not approve the bill or veto it. Under the specific circumstances which you described, LB 432 became law at 12:01 a.m. on March 27, 1987, which was the sixth day after its presentation to the Governor with Sunday, March 22 excluded from the calculation.

You also ask what is the effective date of a bill passed with the emergency clause. It is our view that the case which you cited to us, Wilson & Company, Inc. v. Otoe County et al., 140 Neb. 518, 300 N.W. 415 (1941) is dispositive of this issue. In that case, our Supreme Court stated, "... we conclude that where a statute provides that it shall take effect, 'from and after its passage and approval,' in computing the time when it takes effect, the day of its passage is excluded, and it goes into effect the next day." Id. at 520, 521; 300 N.W. at 417. Therefore, when a bill is passed and approved with the emergency clause, it goes into effect at 12:01 a.m. on the following day. LB 432 would therefore become effective at 12:01 a.m. on March 28, 1987. We understand that this latter opinion is consistent with your past practice.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87050

DATE: April 15, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 184, a Bill Which Provides That State Statutes Requiring the Expenditure of State Funds Be Subject to Appropriation.

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jerome Warner
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Dale Comer, Assistant Attorney General

LB 184 provides, in its entirety: "Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any provision of law which requires, provides for, or necessitates the expenditure of state funds to enable its implementation shall be subject to appropriations by the Legislature." Certain proposed amendments to LB 184 would add the following language at the end of the bill, "except that this section shall not apply unless the appropriations bill identifies the program, service, or law for which, pursuant to this section, appropriations are not being made." You have requested our opinion as to the constitutionality of LB 184 along with the proposed amendments. Specifically, you ask whether LB 184 provides for an unconstitutional amendment or repeal of a substantive law by an appropriations bill, and you further inquire as to whether LB 184 violates Art. III, Section 14 of our state Constitution dealing with procedures for the amendment of statutes. We conclude that the provisions of LB 184 and its proposed amendments are constitutional.

The questions which you have raised concerning the constitutionality of LB 184 turn upon a determination as to whether the bill and its amendments constitute a "repeal" or an "amendment" of existing statutes. We conclude that they are neither. Rather, they appear to act in a manner more closely akin to a suspension of the existing laws. As such, they would not run afoul of the constitutional provisions you have referenced.

LB 184 and its proposed amendments do not specifically repeal any portions of the Nebraska statutes. Consequently, if that legislation effects a repeal of existing statutes, it must be by implication in the sense that a statute might become inoperative under LB 184 due to a lack of appropriations. Under Nebraska law, such a repeal by implications is not favored. State v. Roth, 222 Neb. 119, 382 N.W.2d 348 (1986); Little Blue Natural Resources District v. Lower Platte North Natural Resources District, 206 Neb. 535, 294 N.W.2d 598 (1980). As a result, our courts will attempt to avoid a construction of LB 184 which would result in the repeal of other statutes.

Repeal generally means "to revoke", "to rescind", or "abrogate by authority." Golconda Lead Mines v. Neill, 82 Idaho 96, 350 P.2d 221 (1960). Moreover, there is a material difference between the repeal of a statute and the suspension of that statute. A repeal puts an end to the statute in question, a suspension holds it in abeyance. 82 CJS Statutes, §278.

It appears to us that LB 184 together with its proposed amendments would not revoke, rescind or put an end to any substantive statutes. Instead, by providing that statutes will not be implemented without an appropriation, the bill would simply hold implementation of a statute in abeyance. Therefore, LB 184 would result in a suspension of statutes rather than a repeal. Since, in our view, LB 184 and its proposed amendments would not result in the repeal of statutes, we do not believe that the bill provides for an unconstitutional repeal of a substantive law by an appropriations measure.

Your second question concerning the constitutionality of LB 184 and its proposed amendments involves Art. III, Section 14 of our state Constitution. That portion of our Constitution provides, in pertinent part, "And no law shall be amended unless the new act contain the section or sections as amended and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed." You ask whether LB 184 and its amendments could be construed as improperly amending other statutes by implication since it would condition the implementation of other statutes upon appropriations, and since it does not enumerate any statutes so "amended."

Our Supreme Court has consistently maintained that when an act is complete and independent in itself, it may incidentally amend, modify, or have some impact upon the provisions of existing statutes without violating the provisions of our Constitution concerning amendments as set out in Art. III, Section 14. State ex rel. Douglas v. Gradwohl, 194 Neb. 745, 235 N.W.2d 854 (1975); Blackledge v. Richards, 194 Neb. 188, 231 N.W.2d 319 (1975). Furthermore, our constitutional provisions relating to amendments will receive a reasonable and liberal construction with the view of upholding the acts of the Legislature, and not unnecessarily hampering the Legislature in its work. State ex rel. Kaspar v. Lehmkuhl, 127 Neb. 812, 257 N.W. 229 (1934). In determining whether an act is complete and independent in itself, our courts will consider whether the legislation in question is meaningless standing alone, and whether it makes changes in existing law by adding new provisions and mingling the new with the old on the same subject in such a manner as to confuse the interpretation and application of the whole legislation. State ex rel. Douglas v. Gradwohl, supra.

Under the criteria set out above, we believe that LB 184 together with its proposed amendments could be considered as complete and independent in itself since it is intelligible without reference to other legislation, and since it does not add new provisions to existing statutes or mingle new and old provisions on the same subject. If LB 184 is considered as complete in itself, it is not an amendment to other statutes, and it would not fall within the provisions of Art. III, Section 14 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Apart from the question of the independence of LB 184, we would note that an amendment to a statute is generally considered a change or an alteration of the law or of some of its provisions which continues the statute in a changed form. State ex rel. Strutz v. Baker, 71 N.D. 153, 299 N.W. 574 (1941). We do not believe that LB 184 involves a change or alteration of any of the substantive statutes upon which it might impact. Rather, as we stated earlier, we believe that LB 184 would act as a suspension of those statutes.

In sum, it is our view that LB 184 together with its proposed amendments would result in a suspension of existing statutes rather than a repeal or an amendment of those statutes. Therefore, LB 184 would not bring about an unconstitutional amendment or repeal of a substantive law by an appropriations bill. Neither would it violate Art. III, Section 14 of our Nebraska Constitution which prohibits statutory amendments which fail to state and repeal the section or sections amended.

Opinion No. 87052

DATE: April 16, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 642; Constitutionality of the Delegation of Legislative Authority in Establishing Administrative Fees

REQUESTED BY: Senator Don Wesely
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General

Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion as to the constitutionality of LB 642. That bill would replace those portions of Neb.Rev.Stat. §8-602 which set out specific fees for services rendered by the Department of Banking and Finance with language which states, "The Director of Banking and Finance shall charge and collect fees for services rendered by the Department of Banking and Finance in amounts as provided by the Director by rules and regulations." You inquire as to whether this is an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority in establishing administrative fees.

In several previous instances, this office has indicated that an administrative agency may not be allowed to set administrative fees without sufficient standards or guidelines from the Legislature concerning the determination of the amount of those fees. Opinion of the Attorney General No. 201, February 19, 1982; Opinion of the Attorney General No. 134, August 12, 1981; Report of the Attorney General, 1975-1976, No. 10 at 11; Report of the Attorney General, 1971-1972, No. 134 at 305. These opinions are all based, at least in part, upon the notion that any grant of authority to an administrative agency by the Legislature must be administered in accordance with adequate standards and guidelines prescribed in the legislative act. Gillette Dairy, Inc. v. Nebraska Dairy Products Board, 192 Neb. 89, 219 N.W.2d 214 (1974); School District No. 39 of Washington County v. Decker, 159 Neb. 693, 68 N.W.2d 354 (1955).

It appears to us that LB 642 establishes no guidelines whatsoever for the determination of fees by the Director of Banking and Finance. Indeed, the bill does not even require those fees to be "reasonable" or "appropriate." As a result, it is our view that LB 642 involves an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority since it does not contain adequate guidelines and standards for the determination of service fees by the Director of Banking and Finance.

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE

Opinion No. 87051

DATE: April 15, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 775 - Employment and Investment Growth Act

REQUESTED BY: Senator Vard R. Johnson
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion on two questions pertaining to the constitutionality of a portion of LB 775, the Employment and Investment Growth Act. Your initial question concerns whether Section 6(3) of LB 775, which provides that "All personal property used by a qualified taxpayer in connection with a qualified project . . . shall constitute a separate class of personal property", violates either the uniformity requirement in Art. VIII, Section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution, or the prohibition against unreasonable class legislation contained in Art. III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution.

Art. VIII, Section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution, provides, in part that "Taxes shall be levied by valuation uniformly and proportionately upon all tangible property and franchises. . . ." With respect to the taxation of personal property, Art. VIII, Section 2, of the Nebraska Constitution, provides: "The Legislature may classify personal property in such manner as it sees fit, and may exempt any of such classes, or may exempt all personal property from taxation."

In Stahmer v. State, 192 Neb. 63, 218 N.W.2d 893 (1974), the Nebraska Supreme Court addressed the scope of the Legislature's authority to classify or exempt personal property from taxation under Art. VIII, Section 2. The plaintiffs in Stahmer challenged exemptions granted by the Legislature pertaining to personal property used in agricultural production, the products thereof, and business inventories, contending, in part, that the statutes violated Art. III, Section 18, prohibiting unreasonable class legislation, and Art. VIII, Section 1, requiring uniform taxation. In rejecting these contentions, the Court stated:

The 1970 amendment of Art. VIII, Section 2, to provide "The Legislature may classify personal property in such manner as it sees fit, and may exempt any of such classes, or may exempt all personal property from taxation" specifically confers broad authority on the Legislature to classify and exempt personal property from taxation. (Emphasis supplied.) The amended portion of Article VIII, Section 2, represents a special constitutional provision adopted later than, and with full knowledge of, the constitutional provisions relied on by plaintiffs. Within the plain ambit of its meaning and purpose it stands supreme and effectively negates plaintiffs' contentions, with the possible exception of the one dealing with the reasonableness of the classifications exempted.

In view of the recent amendment of Art. VIII, Section 2, Constitution, it is doubtful if the statutes are subject to challenge as violating Art. III, Section 18, dealing with special laws, or Art. VIII, Section 1, requiring uniform taxation. In any event, we do not find the classifications set forth in the act to be unreasonable. "Ability to bear the burden of the tax is everywhere recognized as a reasonable ground on which to base a classification in tax measures. Classification for tax purposes may be based on the manner of conducting business, and business conducted in one manner may be taxed differently from business conducted in another manner. The purpose for which property is kept or used has long been a recognized, if not a favorite, basis for distinction in taxation. The view has also been taken that reasonable discrimination with respect to tax matters to promote fair competitive conditions, equalize economic advantages, or encourage particular industries from consideration of public policy is lawful." 51 Am.Jur., Taxation, Section 182, p. 242. This court has held that: "It is competent for the Legislature to classify for purposes of legislation, if the classification rests on some reason of public policy, some substantial difference of situation or circumstance, that would naturally suggest the justice or expediency of diverse legislation with respect to the objects to be classified." Shear v. County Board of Commissioners, 187 Neb. 849, 195 N.W.2d 151.

Id. at 67-68, 218 N.W.2d at 896.

Based on the foregoing, we believe the creation of a separate class of personal property under Section 6(3) of LB 775, consisting of personal property used by qualified taxpayers in qualified projects under the terms of the Act, would not constitute unreasonable class legislation under Art. III, Section 18, and would not violate the uniformity provision of Art. VIII, Section 1. In this regard, we note that Section 2 of the bill evinces an intent

. . . to make revisions in Nebraska's tax structure in order to promote the general health, safety, and welfare of the people of the State of Nebraska by encouraging new businesses to relocate in Nebraska, retaining existing businesses and aiding in their expansion, promoting the creation and retention of new jobs in Nebraska, and attracting and retaining investment capital in the State of Nebraska.

These certainly constitute legitimate legislative purposes, and we cannot conclude that the separate classification for exemption purposes of personal property used in qualified projects under the Act is unconstitutionally unreasonable. In our view, the separate classification for purposes of exemption of such personal property is constitutional, since it bears a reasonable relation to the legitimate purposes of the Act relating to the encouragement of new jobs and investment in the state.

Your second question concerns whether Section 6(3) of LB 775, which provides that "Any county board may determine that all personal property within such class and located within the county shall be exempt from the tax on personal property for a period of 15 years", constitutes an unlawful delegation of legislative authority to county boards, or results in a violation of the uniformity requirement of Art. VIII, Section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution.

While the Nebraska Supreme Court has not had occasion to discuss the authority of the Legislature to delegate its exemption powers under Art. VIII, Section 2, the Court has, in several instances, upheld the constitutionality of statutes wherein the Legislature has delegated its powers to a subordinate agency or body. In each instance, however, the Court has held that, in order for the Legislature to validly delegate legislative powers to others, the Legislature must provide reasonable limitations and standards regarding the manner in which the power delegated is to be exercised. E.g., In re 1969-70 County Tax Levy, 186 Neb. 752, 186 N.W.2d 729 (1971); Williams v. Buffalo County, 181 Neb. 233, 147 N.W.2d 776 (1967); DeJonge v. School District of Bloomington, 179 Neb. 539, 139 N.W.2d 246 (1966).

In our view, an examination of Section 6(3) of LB 775 reveals no standards or limitations are provided regarding the decision by a county board to exempt personal property in the county within the class established under this subsection. Indeed, the bill appears to grant the county board sole and unfettered discretion as to whether or not such property will be exempted from taxation. We believe this provision could result in potentially arbitrary application of the exemption provided, and, given the absence of any standards or guidance regarding the implementation or granting of the exemption, the provision would likely be held to be an unconstitutional delegation of the Legislature's exemption powers granted under Art. VIII, Section 2.

An additional concern arising as a result of granting each county board the authority to determine whether or not to grant the exemption authorized under Section 6(3) is the potential for unequal treatment with respect to taxpayers in overlapping tax districts. Under the present version of the bill, the tax status of property within the class created would be subject entirely to the discretion and determination of each individual county. In the case of an overlapping tax district, lying in two or more counties, one of which had granted the exemption, and the other of which had not, the result would be unequal treatment of taxpayers with regard to such class of property within the taxing district. We believe this possibility presents a potential violation of the requirement of uniform and proportionate treatment within the class of property created under Section 6(3), as mandated by Art. VIII, Section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

Opinion No. 87053

DATE: April 14, 1987

SUBJECT: Receiver for Commonwealth

REQUESTED BY: Senator David Landis

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
LeRoy W. Sievers, Assistant Attorney General

QUESTION: Whether a valid law could be enacted that would remove the State Banking Department as receiver to Commonwealth and provide for a new receiver to be selected by a vote of the creditors of the institution?

CONCLUSION: No.

QUESTION: Whether such an amendment would be germane to LB 113?

CONCLUSION: It is not necessary to answer this question based upon the answer to question number 1.

Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska provides in part as follows:

The Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following cases, that is to say:

Granting to any corporation, association, or individual any special or exclusive privileges, immunity, or franchise whatever. . . . In all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, no special law shall be enacted.

Some understanding of this prohibition against special legislation can be gained by reference to case law interpreting this section. In that regard in Campbell v. City of Lincoln, 182 Neb. 459, 155 N.W.2d 444 (1968), the Nebraska Supreme Court interpreting the prohibition contained in this section relative to legislation applicable to cities said:

The classification must be such that it can readily apply to other cities which might come into the class. . . . 'A valid classification of cities for purposes of legislation must admit of additions to it. It must not be so constituted as to preclude addition to the numbers included within it.'

Id. at 462. Thus, by analogy in order for the proposed legislation to not be in violation of the prohibition contained within the Constitution against special legislation, the classification must admit additions to it.

The legislation that you propose is simply directed at the removal of the State Department of Banking and Finance as receiver in the Commonwealth proceeding. It does not by its terms provide for additions to the class. As a result, it would constitute special legislation. For that reason, the proposed amendment appears to be unconstitutional.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Senator Timothy J. Hall
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

In Re: LB 716

Dear Senator Hall:

Here is the opinion from Special Assistant Attorney General Robert F. Bartle which is in response to your request of March 27, 1987.

As the state's chief law enforcement officer I respectfully submit to you this concern in the interest of unambiguous, informed and appropriate administration of the law. It is imperative that the Legislature clearly set forth in the bill itself whether or not, and if so precisely to what extent, the bill affects pending criminal actions.

Very Truly Yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

Opinion No. 87054

DATE: April 17, 1987

SUBJECT: Retroactive Effect of LB 716

REQUESTED BY: Senator Timothy J. Hall

WRITTEN BY: Robert F. Bartle
Special Assistant Attorney General

QUESTION: Whether the passage of LB 716, as introduced, would affect the status of any criminal proceeding filed on the basis of current law?

CONCLUSION: The passage of LB 716 should not affect any pending criminal proceedings filed on the basis of the current law, except to the extent that the Legislature decided to change any penalty provisions applicable to anyone who may be convicted under the current law.

By your letter of March 27, 1987, you have requested an Attorney General's opinion concerning certain provisions of LB 716, a bill amending the current law relating to initiative and referendum petitions. You have asked whether the passage of LB 16, as originally introduced, would "affect the status of any criminal proceeding filed on the basis of current law." By current law, I assume you are referring to the legislative provisions regulating the circulation of such initiative and referendum petitions as set forth at Neb. Rev. Stat. §§32-702, et seq. (Reissue 1984).

As the Nebraska Attorney General's office has been involved in criminal proceedings relating to alleged violations of the current law, the Attorney General has appointed me as a special assistant to prepare this opinion.

Before I address the question raised, I should qualify my response by noting that I am unaware of any criminal proceeding against anyone accused of only an improper signing of an initiative or referendum petition. Rather, my understanding is that pending prosecutions in Nebraska involve circulators of petitions or individuals responsible for the verification of signatures on petitions, apparently acting as notaries public. Pending cases also involve allegations that certain circulators received payments beyond the expense reimbursement provision of current law.

To briefly summarize the proposed changes in current law embodied in LB 716, I note the amendments change the registered voter requirement to an "elector" requirement, provide for driver's license verification, change the requirements of qualifying circulators of petitions, and change the wording of the Class IV felony violations to language which proscribes the filing of "a false sworn statement" by a circulator or a false signature by a notary public. The proposed amendments, at Section 5, appear to remove the prohibition against paying circulators of petition any salary or wage. Under existing law, a circulator could only receive expense reimbursements. In summary, I would characterize the amendments as providing some substantive changes in both the circulation and verification process attendant to the initiative and referendum law.

With respect to criminal proceedings filed on the basis of current law, the general rule recognized by the Nebraska Supreme Court is when an offense is committed prior to a statutory change, the amendment to the statute occurring after the offense has been committed is not applicable. Berry v. Wolff, 193 Neb. 717, 228 N.W.2d 885 (1975). This general rule was also recognized in a number of cases considered by the court following the Legislature's passage of the new criminal code which became effective in January, 1979. The court consistently held that the new criminal code was only applicable to offenses committed after the adoption of the law and not applicable to offenses occurring prior to the effective date of January 1, 1979. State v. Fuller, 203 Neb. 233, 279 N.W.2d 756 (1979); State v. Munn, 203 Neb. 810, 280 N.W.2d 649 (1979); State v. Griggs, 203 Neb. 830, 280 N.W.2d 657 (1979). However, it should be noted that in each of the above-cited cases, the Supreme Court pointed out that the Legislature specifically provided that the provisions of the code shall not apply to any offense committed prior to January 1, 1979. See, e.g., Fuller, 203 Neb. at 242; Neb. Rev. Stat. §28-103 (Reissue 1985).

In your letter, you mentioned that it was not your intent, as the introducer of LB 716, to have the new provisions apply in criminal proceedings now pending. There is no provision of LB 716 that sets forth that intent in writing, but our Supreme Court has held that no such legislative "pardon" is to be inferred in such cases. Lower v. State, 109 Neb. 590, 191 N.W. 674 (1923). Therefore, based upon the above analysis, I would conclude that the passage of LB 716 would not affect current criminal proceedings, at least with respect to the statutory definition of prohibited actions.

The matter of statutory penalties, however, requires separate analysis. If the Legislature chose to change the criminal penalty applicable to certain violations of initiative and referendum law, that decision could affect pending prosecutions. In State v. Randolph, 186 Neb. 297, 183 N.W.2d 225 (1971), cert. denied, 403 U.S. 909 (1972), the court stated:

{We} therefore hold that where a criminal statute is amended by mitigating the punishment, after the commission of a prohibited act but before final judgment, the punishment is that provided by the amendatory act unless the legislature has specifically provided otherwise.

Id. at 301-302, 183 N.W.2d at 228 (emphasis added).

The so-called Randolph doctrine is also embodied in Nebraska statutory law at Neb. Rev. Stat. §29-2204.01 (Reissue 1985). The rule only applies in a situation where the Legislature decreases the penalty for a specified offense, and not in a situation where the Legislature decided to increase a penalty. State v. Peiffer, 212 Neb. 864, 326 N.W.2d 844 (1982). However, the rule only applies when the Legislature does not make a substantive change in the definition of a crime or a reclassification of the offense. Id., State v. King, 214 Neb. 855, 336 N.W.2d 576 (1983).

With respect to pending cases involving charges such as a false verification of petition signatures, the amendments of LB 716 appear to have no effect as the Class IV felony penalty remains the same. However, with regard to cases involving the alleged improper payment of circulators, the amendments raise questions not clearly answered by existing case law. Since the present version of LB 716 does not provide specific language regarding retroactive effect, it could be argued that anyone convicted for making or receiving improper payments should be sentenced under the amended law which has removed the penalty provisions.

On the other hand, since the amendments have reclassified the offenses significantly, I believe the better argument is that the Randolph doctrine would not apply, and therefore convictions would result in sentencing under the law existing at the time of the offense.

Sincerely,
ROBERT F. BARTLE

Special Assistant Attorney General

Opinion No. 87056

DATE: April 17, 1987

SUBJECT: Matching Funds for Mental Health Services

Nebraska Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Lisa D. Martin-Price, Assistant Attorney General

QUESTION: Whether a maintenance of effort provision which essentially provides for a minimum amount of funds in a "matching formula" violates Article VIII, Section 1A of the Nebraska Constitution?

ANSWER: Our analysis of Article VIII, Section 1A and the pertinent case law indicates that such a provision is constitutional.

You have requested an opinion regarding the constitutionality of LB 320. Although your opinion request does not raise any specific concerns, after speaking with a member of your staff, we understand that your primary concern is in regard to Article VIII, Section 1A of the Nebraska State Constitution. That section makes it unconstitutional for the state to levy a property tax for state purposes. After reviewing the pertinent law, we have concluded that LB 320 does not violate this provision in the Constitution.

As we understand it, LB 320 is a proposed amendment to Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-5009 (Reissue 1986). This statute currently provides that the regional governing boards shall provide funds for community mental health, drug abuse, and alcoholism programs funded from federal, private, and other sources. Exclusive of the foregoing sources, however, the state must provide 75 percent of the funds required to provide services in each region, while local, county, and other taxing resources must account for the other 25 percent of the funds.

The proposed amendment to this statute, however, deletes the provision requiring the counties to provide the other 25 percent. Instead, it sets forth a minimum amount which the counties must raise, and provides that 40 percent or more must be provided by local and county taxes. The new language reads:

Of the amount provided by each governing board, not less than forty percent shall be provided by local and county taxes and the remainder shall come from other nonfederal sources. Funds provided by the regional governing boards for mental health services shall continue to be provided in an amount which is not less than the total amount contributed as certified matching funds for the fiscal year 1986.

After reviewing the language of LB 320, we find no constitutional prohibition in providing a minimum amount in the matching formula. The area of concern, however, appears to be with the language requiring the regional governing boards to raise not less than 40 percent of this minimum from local and county taxes. This language is seen as a possible violation of Article VIII, Section 1A which prohibits the state from levying property taxes for state purposes.

This concern has been addressed in a series of Nebraska Supreme Court cases. In the first of these, Craig v. Board of Equalization of Douglas County, 183 Neb. 779, 164 N.W.2d 445 (1969), the court addressed the constitutionality of a statute which required a county to levy a property tax in order to support institutional patients in state facilities. In determining that this statute was constitutional, the court stated: ". . . {A} statute requiring a county to levy a property tax for purposes substantially local does not contravene the prohibition against state levy of a property tax for state purposes, although the statute commingles state and local purposes." Id. at 784, 164 N.W.2d at 448. In concluding that state and local purposes were commingled, the court stated:

While it is true that the hospital for the insane is . . . a state institution, yet, . . . maintenance of the insane is not necessarily a state burden, and therefore it is within the power of the legislature to require that the tax be levied and collected by each county for the purpose of reimbursing the state, . . . . {For such maintenance} it is the duty of the {county board} to levy the necessary taxes within the constitutional limit. . . .
Id. at 783, 164 N.W.2d at 447-448.

While a number of subsequent cases have reiterated the holding in this case in various factual situations, its facts are the most analogous to the proposed bill. Clearly, LB 320 deals with funding for community mental health services, including alcoholism and drug abuse programs. These services are closely related to the services discussed in Craig. Therefore, we conclude that LB 320 does not violate Article VIII, Section 1A of the Nebraska Constitution.

SUBJECT: County Road Right of Ways

REQUESTED BY: Senator Lee Rupp, Chairperson
Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Linda L. Willard, Assistant Attorney General

You have asked whether an individual placing traps on public lands such as wildlife management areas could be liable for injury to others resulting from the placement of the traps. Our answer is that a person could possibly be liable. Liability would depend on several factors involving, among other things, the placement of the traps and the type of traps used.

Determination of liability would normally involve a reasonable man's determination of whether the trapper placed the traps negligently, maliciously to cause injury to others, or with reckless disregard for the safety of others who may be in the area or that he should have known would be in the area.

Your second question is whether permission must also be obtained from a private title holder of property for activities conducted on the easement other than trapping. Our answer to your second question is yes, permission must be obtained the same as for any other private property except for entry upon the property for these purposes in line with the easement right.

In the absence of any statutes or laws governing trespass on property, the common law would control. See, 28 C.J.S. §1. The common law rights of the title holder would of course depend on the type of interest held by the county. If the interest of the county is merely an easement interest for the purpose of transportation across the land, then the title holder of the property is entitled to all profits of the land including wild flowers, grasses, fruits, berries, and even aluminum cans. If the county title is strictly an easement across the land, then an individual launching a canoe from beneath a bridge would be on the property of the title holder and, absent consent, would be trespassing on the title holder's property. This would not affect the right of those who canoe to claim the affirmative defense to trespass contained in Neb.Rev.Stat. §28-522(4) (Reissue 1985).

We stress that the above would be the case where the county has only an easement interest. The rights of the title holder, the county, and the public at large may vary considerably depending upon the nature of the interest held by the county.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87058

DATE: April 21, 1987

SUBJECT: L.B. 337 (The Business Trust Act)

REQUESTED BY: Senator Jerry D. Miller
Legislature of the State of Nebraska

WRITTEN BY: Bernard L. Packett, Assistant Attorney General

In your recent letter you have asked if the provisions of L.B. 337, The Business Trust Act, violates the provisions of Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution, also known as Initiative 300.

L.B. 337 simply provides that a business trust may hold title to real estate used for farming or ranching and may engage in farming or ranching.

It is a well-established principle of law that the substance of the law takes precedence over the form of the law. Or stated another way, you cannot do indirectly what you cannot do directly. It is our conclusion that a court could find a "business trust" to be the same thing as a "syndicate" under the meaning of Article XII, Section 8 of our Constitution. (Initiative 300). This is a fact determination. If the court so found, the "business trust" would fall within the "syndicate" prohibition of Section 8(1). The point is this: No matter what an entity is called, if it in fact operates like a syndicate a court would find it violative of Section 8(1). Our reasoning for this conclusion is as follows.

Section 2 of L.B. 337 describes a business trust as "an entity separate and distinct from other forms of commercial organizations in Nebraska including partnerships, corporations, associations, syndicates, and other types of trust."

In determining who may or may not own farm or ranch land in Nebraska, it is necessary to look primarily to the provisions of Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution which provides that no corporation or syndicate shall acquire farm or ranch land or engage in farming or ranching.

It would appear that a business trust referred to in L.B. 337 would not fall within the Constitutional definition of a corporation but the distinction between a business trust and a syndicate, as defined by Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution is not as clear.

From an examination of the provisions of L.B. 337, it would appear that although Section 1 provides that a business trust is separate from "partnerships", it does not appear that the provisions of the bill contain any information which would clearly distinguish a business trust from a partnership.

In Adams v. United States, 328 F.Supp. 228, the court said that "the existence of a partnership is a matter of contract, and no particular form of contract is necessary to create the entity known as a partnership, and that any statutory definition of a partnership, as far as it goes, is controlling, but, beyond it, one must look to the general law." The court went on to say that although no one test is controlling, the test that have been found indicative of the existence of a partnership are:

- 1.) Mutual interest in profits,
- 2.) mutual liability, joint and several, for debts and loss of capital,
- 3.) mutual agency and responsibility in the conduct of the business,
- 4.) common contribution and ownership of the partnership property,
- 5.) the rendition of services by all partners and
- 6.) the non-alien ability of an interest in the business.

In South Sioux City Star v. Edwards, 218 Neb. 487, 357 N.W.2d 157 (1984), our Supreme Court said:

Baum v. McBride, 143 Neb. 629, 630, 10 N.W.2d 477, 478 (1943), quoting Waggoner v. First Nat. Bank of Creighton, 43 Neb. 84, 61 N.W.112 (1894), defines a partnership as "a contract of two or more competent persons to place their money, effects, labor, skill, or some or all of them, in lawful commerce or business, and to divide the profit or bear the loss in certain proportions.'” Although the existence of a partnership depends upon the intention of the parties to form such an entity, that intention, where in dispute, is to be ascertained objectively from all the evidence and circumstance. Byram v. Thompson, 154 Neb. 756, 49 N.W.2d 628 (1951); Baum v. McBride, supra.

The sharing of profits is a primary factor to be considered in ascertaining the intention of the parties.

Considering the Constitutional definition of syndicate, the fact that a syndicate includes a limited partnership, and the above court's statements with regard to evidence to be considered in determining whether or not a partnership exists, we are unable to determine from the provisions of L.B. 337 how a business trust differs from a partnership, other than in name.

If there is a distinction, consideration must be given to that part of Article XII, Section 8, which provides that the Legislature “may enact, by general law, further restrictions prohibiting certain agricultural operations that the Legislature deems contrary to the intent of this section.”

From the above, it is our conclusion that in an actual case in which the ownership of farm or ranchland by a “business trust” was an issue under the provisions of Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution, considering the fact that the Legislature can only make the ownership of such land more restrictive, if the evidence before a court was that all of the elements of the syndicate, as defined in Article XII, Section 8 were present, the court would hold that the ownership would be in violation notwithstanding the fact that the land was held by a business trust.

The question would, in our opinion, seem to be not so much is the Business Trust Act in violation of Article XII, Section 8 of the Constitution, as do the facts in a particular case fall within the Constitutional definition of ownership by a “syndicate”. If the entity which purchases farm or ranchland falls within the definition of a syndicate, whatever it may be called, we believe the courts would find it to be in violation.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87059

DATE: April 20, 1987

SUBJECT: The case of Ewing et al. v. Scotts Bluff County Board of Equalization, et., Case No. 85-804, is awaiting argument before the Nebraska Supreme Court. If that court in the case cited were to find that so much of LB 930, Laws 1984, which authorizes receiving school districts to reduce the free high school tuition charge certified by the State Department of Education is unconstitutional and the remaining provisions of this legislative bill cannot stand without such authorization and if the Legislature fails to enact LB 182 or other corrective legislation, would the law existing prior to the enactment of LB 930, Laws 1984, be reinstated so that school districts could use the formula in LB 933, Laws 1982, to compute the free high school tuition?

REQUESTED BY: Senator Ron Withem
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Harold Mosher, Assistant Attorney General

The Nebraska Supreme Court has granted an expedited appeal in Ewing v. Scotts Bluff County Board Equalization, et al., supra. The case will be argued in May, 1987, and a decision in all probability will be announced by the Nebraska Supreme Court sometime this summer. Until it does so, however, there are several unknowns which make it impossible to fully answer your question.

At the outset, if the Nebraska Supreme Court were to find the reduced free high school tuition provision in Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-4.102(f) (Supp. 1986) is unconstitutional and the balance of LB 930, Laws 1984, cannot be severed therefrom it is certainly possible that the law existing prior thereto could be reinstated. The problem here is that the law existing prior thereto, LB 933, Laws 1982, has been found unconstitutional by the District Court of Lancaster County. A motion for a new trial has been filed in that case and is scheduled to be heard April 27, 1987. It is obviously unknown at this time whether or not the motion for a new trial will be granted and if not whether the case will be appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court. If and when the case is appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court is doubtful if it could be briefed and argued before sometime late in the fall of 1987.

It must also be kept in mind that the Nebraska Supreme Court could find the reduced free high school tuition authorized by LB 930, Laws 1984, to be constitutional and the reduced free high school tuition authorized by LB 933, Laws 1982, to be unconstitutional or vice-versa. It must also be kept in mind that the Nebraska Supreme Court could find that the plaintiffs in the Ewing case lack standing to maintain the action in which event the Nebraska Supreme Court in all probability would reverse the judgment of the District Court of Scotts Bluff County and order the case dismissed. In that event, LB 930, Laws 1984, would be operative law (assuming the Ninetieth Legislature, First Session, does not enact a free high school tuition law) but the question would remain if LB 930, Laws 1984, is constitutional. Thus there are simply too many unknowns at this time for us to give you an opinion in response to your question. We can tell you that we know of no case in which a court has found the free high tuition, as certified by the State Department of Education pursuant to LB 930, Laws 1984, to be noncompensatory. However, that statement must read with the caveat that the Nebraska Supreme Court could find LB 930, Laws 1984, is unconstitutional in which event the critical question would be whether or not the prior free high school tuition law is compensatory. That question, however, must wait until further facts become known.

Respectfully submitted,

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Conway asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 261 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM1038

1           1. Strike the original sections and all
2 amendments thereto and insert the following new 3 sections:

4           “Section 1. For purposes of sections 1 to 6
5 of this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

6           (1) Reasonable expenses shall mean expenses
7 reasonably incurred by the prevailing party, including 8 attorney’s fees, parties’ expenses, and court costs and 9 expenses incurred by the court, such as court
10 administration and jury costs; and

11           (2) Substantial justification shall mean not 12 frivolous, groundless in fact or in law, or vexatious,
13 as determined by the court.

14           Sec. 2. Every pleading, motion, or other 15 paper of a party represented by an attorney shall be 16 signed by at least one attorney of record in his or her 17 individual name and state his or her address. A party
18 who is not represented by an attorney shall sign his or 19 her pleading, motion, or other paper and state his or

20 her address. If such pleading, motion, or other paper
21 is not signed, it shall be stricken unless it is signed
1 promptly after the omission is called to the attention
2 of the movant.

3 Sec. 3. (1) A pleading shall not be used
4 against a party in any criminal prosecution or action or 5 proceeding for a penalty or forfeiture, as proof of a
6 fact admitted or alleged in such pleading.

7 (2) The signature of a party or of an attorney
8 constitutes a certificate by him or her that he or she 9 has read the pleading, motion, or other paper; that to 10 the best of his or her knowledge, information, and 11 belief, formed after reasonable inquiry, such pleading, 12 motion, or other paper is well grounded in fact and is 13 warranted by existing law or a good faith argument for 14 the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law
15 and that it is not interposed for any improper purpose,
16 such as to harass, embarrass, injure, cause unnecessary
17 delay, or cause needless increase in litigation cost.

18 (3) A pleading, motion, or other paper which 19 is signed in violation of this section shall subject the 20 party or attorney, or both, regardless of who signed it,
21 to the payment of such reasonable expenses, to be taxed
22 by the court at any time upon a motion or upon the 23 court's initiative, as may have been necessarily 24 incurred by the other party or the court by reason of 1 such pleading, motion, or other paper.

2 (4) For purposes of this section, a pleading,
3 motion, or other paper is not well grounded in fact nor 4 warranted by existing law or a good faith argument if 5 the party or attorney has no reasonable basis to believe
6 that the facts underlying the party's or attorney's
7 legal position are true or if the party's or attorney's
8 legal position is devoid of arguable legal merit. If a 9 pleading, motion, or other paper is not well grounded in 10 fact or warranted by existing law or a good faith
11 argument or if it is interposed for any improper
12 purpose, such pleading, motion, or other paper shall be 13 stricken upon a motion or upon the court's own
14 initiative.

15 Sec. 4. In addition to the sanctions provided
16 in subsection (3) of section 3 of this act, should it
17 appear to the satisfaction of the court at any time that 18 any affidavit presented pursuant to sections 25-1330 to

19 25-1335 is presented for any improper purpose, such as 20 to harass, embarrass, injure, cause unnecessary delay,
21 or cause needless increase in litigation cost, any 22 offending party or attorney may be adjudged guilty of 23 contempt.

24 Sec. 5. (1) Except as provided in subsection
1 (4) of this section, in any civil action commenced or 2 appealed in any court in this state, the court shall 3 award at the conclusion of the civil action, as part of 4 its judgment and in addition to any other costs
5 otherwise assessed, reasonable expenses against any 6 attorney or party who has brought or defended a civil 7 action when a court determines that such bringing of the 8 action or interposing of the defense lacks substantial
9 justification either in whole or part.

10 (2) When a court determines that reasonable
11 expenses should be assessed, the court shall allocate
12 the payment of such expenses among the offending
13 attorneys or parties, or both, as it determines most 14 just.

15 (3) The court shall assess reasonable expenses
16 if, at the conclusion of the civil action, upon the 17 motion of any party or upon the court's own initiative,
18 the court finds that an attorney or party brought or 19 defended an action, or any part thereof, when such 20 bringing of the action or interposing of the defense
21 lacks substantial justification or that the action or 22 defense, or any part thereof, was interposed for any 23 improper purpose, such as to harass, embarrass, injure,
24 cause unnecessary delay, or cause needless increase in
1 litigation cost, including, but not limited to, abuses
2 of discovery procedures.

3 (4) No reasonable expenses shall be assessed
4 if a voluntary dismissal or withdrawal is filed as to 5 any claim, action, or defense within a reasonable time
6 after the attorney or party filing the dismissal or 7 withdrawal knew or reasonably should have known that he 8 or she would not prevail on such claim, action, or 9 defense.

10 Sec. 6. (1) When determining the amount of 11 reasonable expenses awarded as prescribed by section 5
12 of this act, the court shall exercise its sound
13 discretion. When granting an award of reasonable 14 expenses, the court shall specifically set forth the 15 reasons for such award and shall, when determining 16 whether to assess reasonable expenses and the amount to 17 be assessed against offending attorneys and parties,

18 consider the following factors, including, but not
19 limited to: (a) The extent to which any effort was made
20 to determine the validity of any action or claim before
21 the action was asserted; (b) the extent of any effort
22 made after the commencement of an action to reduce the 23 number of claims or defenses being asserted or to 24 dismiss claims or defenses that have been found not to 1 be valid; (c) the availability of facts to assist the 2 party to determine the validity of a claim or defense;
3 (d) the relative financial position of the parties
4 involved; (e) whether or not the action was prosecuted
5 or defended in whole or in part in bad faith; (f)
6 whether or not issues of fact, determinative of the 7 validity of a party's claim or defense, were reasonably
8 in conflict; (g) the extent to which the party prevailed
9 with respect to the amount of and number of claims in 10 controversy; (h) the extent to which any claim or 11 defense was asserted by an attorney or party in a good 12 faith attempt to establish a new theory of law in the 13 state; (i) the amount or conditions of any offer of 14 judgment or settlement in relation to the amount or 15 conditions of the ultimate relief granted by the court;
16 (j) the extent to which a reasonable effort was made to 17 determine, prior to the time of filing of a claim, that 18 all parties sued or joined were proper parties owing a
19 legally defined duty to the plaintiff or defendant; (k)
20 the extent of any effort made after the commencement of 21 an action to reduce the number of parties in the action;
22 and (l) the amount, if any, assessed against the 23 offending attorneys and parties under section 3 of this 24 act.

1 (2) In determining the amount of reasonable
2 expenses awarded pursuant to section 3 of this act, the 3 court shall exercise its sound discretion. When
4 granting an award of reasonable expenses, the court
5 shall specifically set forth the reasons for such award
6 and may, in determining whether to assess reasonable
7 expenses and the amount to be assessed, consider the 8 factors listed in this section which, in the court's 9 discretion, may be applicable.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 93.

Introduced by Rogers, 41st District; Wehrbein, 2nd District.

WHEREAS, the creation of the farm credit system was born out of a need to provide assistance to America's farmers, ranchers, and agricultural cooperatives during times of extreme hardship; and

WHEREAS, the farm credit system has since provided dependable, competitive agricultural credit to generations of farm and ranch families and their cooperatives in the State of Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the farm credit system is now the largest single agricultural lender in the State of Nebraska, serving thousands of borrowers in the state; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature is vitally interested in preserving the stability of agricultural credit in Nebraska and the stability of our rural communities; and

WHEREAS, the farm credit system, due to a number of uncontrollable events and in spite of the fact that it is undertaking an aggressive program of loan restructuring to keep rural America's farmers and ranchers in business, is quickly using its resources in an effort to continue serving the credit needs of this state and others.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby calls upon the Congress of the United States to provide assistance sufficient to strengthen borrower and bondholder confidence and safeguard borrower stock, keeping the farm credit system responsive to the needs of borrowers on a local level and helping it remain as a viable, dependable, competitive lender in the State of Nebraska and other rural states, in the interest of our farmers, ranchers, agricultural cooperatives, and others in rural America.

2. That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the members of the congressional delegations of the states of Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, and Wyoming who represent the states belonging to the Omaha district of the farm credit system.

AM1057

- 1 1. Insert the following new section:
- 2 "Sec. 6. That section 2-1213, Reissue Revised
- 3 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
- 4 follows:

5           2-1213. (1) No racing under sections 2-1201
6 to 2-1218 shall be permitted on Sunday except when
7 approved by a majority of the members of the State
8 Racing Commission upon application for approval by any
9 racetrack. Such approval shall be given after the
10 commission has considered: (a) Whether Sunday racing at 11 the applicant track will tend to promote and encourage 12 agriculture and horse breeding in Nebraska; (b) whether
13 the applicant track operates under a license granted by
14 the State Racing Commission; (c) whether the applicant
15 track is in compliance with all applicable health,
16 safety, fire, and police rules and regulations or
17 ordinances; (d) whether the denial of Sunday racing at 18 the applicant track would impair such track's economic 19 ability to continue to function under its license; and 20 (e) whether the record of the public hearing held on the
21 issue of Sunday racing at the applicant track shows
1 reasonable public support. Notice of such public
2 hearing shall be given at least ten days prior thereto
3 by publication in a newspaper having general circulation
4 in the county in which the applicant track is operating,
5 and the commission shall conduct a public hearing in
6 such county. The commission may ~~prescribe~~ adopt,
7 promulgate, and enforce rules and regulations governing
8 the application and approval for Sunday racing in
9 addition to its powers in section 2-1203. If the State
10 Racing Commission permits racing on Sunday, the voters
11 may prohibit such racing in the manner prescribed in 12 section 2-1213.01. If approval by the commission for
13 Sunday racing at the applicant track is granted, no
14 racing shall occur on Sunday until after 1:00 p.m.

15           No license shall be granted for racing on more
16 than one racetrack in any one county, except that the
17 commission may, in its discretion, grant a license to 18 any county agricultural society to conduct racing during 19 its county fair notwithstanding license may have been
20 issued for racing on another track in such county.
21 Since the purpose of sections 2-1201 to 2-1218 is to
22 encourage agriculture and horse breeding in Nebraska,
23 every licensee shall hold at least one race on each
24 racing day limited to Nebraska-bred horses. Three per
1 cent of the first money of every purse won by a
2 Nebraska-bred horse shall be paid to the breeder of such
3 horse.

4           (2) For purposes of this section,
5 Nebraska-bred horse shall mean a horse registered with
6 the Nebraska Thoroughbred or Quarter Horse Registry and
7 meeting the following requirements: (a) It must have 8 been foaled in Nebraska; (b) its dam must have been
9 registered, prior to foaling, with the Nebraska
10 Thoroughbred or Quarter Horse Registry; (c) its owner or
11 owners, or, if the owner is a corporation, all
12 stockholders thereof, must have been bona fide citizens
13 of Nebraska continually from January 1 of the year of
14 conception through the date of foaling; and (d) its dam
15 must have been continuously owned by a bona fide citizen
16 of Nebraska and have been continuously in Nebraska for 17 six months immediately prior to foaling, except that 18 this period may be reduced to ~~ninety~~ thirty days in the 19 case of a mare in foal and which is either (i)
20 registered as a brood mare with the Nebraska
21 Thoroughbred or Quarter Horse Registry but which is
22 being actively trained and raced outside Nebraska and is
23 returned to this state and remains herein continuously
24 for ~~ninety~~ thirty days immediately prior to foaling; or
1 (ii) purchased at a nationally recognized thoroughbred
2 or quarter horse blood stock sale, the name and pedigree
3 of the mare being listed in the sale catalog, and which 4 is brought into this state and remains ~~herein~~ in this 5 state for ~~ninety~~ thirty days immediately prior to 6 foaling. The requirement that a dam must be 7 continuously in Nebraska for either six months or ninety
8 days as specified in subdivision (2)(d) of this section
9 shall not apply to a dam which is taken outside of 10 Nebraska to be placed up for sale at a nationally
11 recognized thoroughbred or quarter horse blood stock
12 sale, the name and pedigree of the mare being listed in 13 the sale catalog, or for the treatment of an extreme
14 sickness or injury, if written notice of such proposed 15 sale or treatment is provided to the secretary of the 16 commission within three days of the date such horse is 17 taken out of the state.

18           The State Racing Commission may designate
19 official registrars for the purpose of registration and
20 to certify the eligibility of Nebraska-bred horses. An 21 official registrar shall perform such duties in
22 accordance with policies and procedures adopted and
23 promulgated by the State Racing Commission in the

24 current rules and regulations of the commission. The
1 commission may authorize the official registrar to
2 collect specific fees as would reasonably compensate the
3 registrar for expenses incurred in connection with
4 registration of Nebraska-bred horses. The amount of
5 such fee or fees shall be established by the commission
6 and shall not be changed without commission approval.
7 Fees shall not exceed ~~fifty~~ one hundred dollars per
8 horse.

9 Any decision or action taken by the official
10 registrar shall be subject to review by the commission
11 or may be taken up by the commission on its own
12 initiative.”.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 96.

Introduced by Smith, 33rd District; Lynch, 13th District; Wesely, 26th District; Schellpeper, 18th District; Morehead, 30th District; Lamb, 43rd District; Goodrich, 20th District; Beyer, 3rd District; Pappas, 42nd District.

WHEREAS, pursuant to legislation which became effective on April 11, 1986, the people of Nebraska created the Alzheimer's Disease Task Force, authorized such task force to exist from twelve to eighteen months, and directed such task force to explore private sector solutions to the problem of providing long-term health care insurance for persons with Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder; and

WHEREAS, the Alzheimer's Disease Task Force has submitted an Interim Report to the Governor and the Legislature of the State of Nebraska with the following findings:

(1) Alzheimer's disease and related disorders include all untreatable forms of dementia. Alzheimer's disease is an organic brain disorder which results in the progressive deterioration of its victims' memories. During the victim's lifetime, the disease is diagnosed by eliminating other potential causes of the symptoms found in the victim. Actual final diagnosis requires microscopic examination of the victim's brain tissue obtained by autopsy. There are a number of disorders related to Alzheimer's disease. All share similar symptoms of dementia but have different causes. Since they are not currently medically treatable, all ultimately result in the need for long-term care, either in the victim's home or in an institution;

(2) Prior to the age of sixty-five years, approximately five per cent of the country's population suffers from untreatable dementia. This increases to ten per cent at age of seventy-five years and up to twenty-five per cent at the ages of eighty years and above. Since many more millions of family members and other care-givers are involved in the care of these patients, as many as ten to fifteen million Americans are directly impacted by these disorders. While the victim's family often serves as the care-giver to these victims, especially in the early stages, it frequently becomes necessary to institutionalize the victims. Currently, there are in excess of one million two hundred fifty thousand nursing home patients in the United States. As many as one half of these may be victims of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders. The problem with these disorders is particularly acute in Nebraska since our population is much older than the norm for the United States. Various studies have rated Nebraska's population from the sixth to eighth most aged in the country;

(3) Health care related costs incurred by, and on behalf of, the victims of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders can be devastating. While certain treatment costs such as hospitalization and medical bills may be covered by group and individual insurance policies and Medicare, costs incurred for long-term care generally are not covered. Therefore, the very substantial costs incurred for home care or institutionalization of these victims may not be covered by insurance and can bankrupt victims and their families;

(4) Insurance companies offer coverages and benefits and charge premiums which, for the most part, are dependent on the forces of the free market economic system. While the State of Nebraska could mandate that all health insurance policies issued in Nebraska provide benefits for long-term care, such action would substantially add to the costs of insurance borne by this state's citizens. In addition, there is a real possibility that mandating such a benefit would cause insurers to withdraw from writing health insurance in the State of Nebraska;

(5) Certain health insurers have developed long-term care policies which would provide benefits for the care of victims of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders. Model legislation enabling the marketing of these policies have been developed by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and has been introduced for adoption in Nebraska. Adoption of this legislation is highly desirable;

(6) There are many other important issues relating to untreatable dementia which should be reviewed and addressed. Unfortunately, due to the charge contained in LB 804, Eighty-ninth Legislature, Second Session, 1986, issues other than insurance are beyond the current scope of the Alzheimer's Disease Task Force; and

(7) There is a great need for more consumer education concerning the cost of long-term care services and the current problem of inadequate coverage provided by Medicare, Medicare Supplement insurance, and nursing home policies. The general public often erroneously believes that these products provide total coverage for illnesses such as Alzheimer's disease and related disorders; and

WHEREAS, the multidisciplinary makeup of the Alzheimer's Disease Task Force brings a broad perspective to the problems of Alzheimer's disease and its related disorders and its existence should be continued.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature of the State of Nebraska hereby deems it desirable and recommends to the Governor that the Alzheimer's Disease Task Force be rechartered and directed to investigate, research, and examine all relevant issues relating to untreatable dementing disorders, which include Alzheimer's disease and its related disorders, and to provide the Governor and the Legislature with periodic status reports of its activities and findings.

2. That, without restricting the generality of its charge, the Legislature recommends that the rechartered Alzheimer's Disease Task Force:

(a) Investigate desirable statutory changes which would relieve the spouses and families of victims of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders from the prospects of financial ruin in order to qualify the victim for public financial assistance;

(b) Serve as a resource for information on untreatable dementia by:

(i) Receiving input on the problem from the people of Nebraska;

(ii) Disseminating information on the disorders, on agencies and other resources providing assistance to victims and their families, and on financial alternatives available to victims of the disease; and

(iii) Coordinating statewide efforts dealing with the various aspects of the disorders; and

(c) Develop and promote policies in the State of Nebraska which encourage the availability of long-term care for victims of untreatable dementia.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 97.

Introduced by Pirsch, 10th District.

WHEREAS, in Nebraska as a result of crime, thousands of victims sustained not only injury, financial loss, or death, but also the expense, suffering, and indignities of the criminal justice process.

WHEREAS, many Nebraska citizens have volunteered their support and time in noble efforts to assist victims of crime in this state;

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature has been responsive to the needs of crime victims in the past by enacting legislation giving them statutory rights and greater participation in the criminal justice process;

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes the need for greater public awareness of the plight of the crime victim; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes the need of victims for increased support from elected and appointed officials involved with the criminal justice process.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Nebraska Legislature acknowledges the plight of crime victims and wishes to encourage public awareness and support for the needs of victims of crime.

2. That the Legislature hereby declares the week of April 26 to May 2, 1987, to be Victims Rights Week in Nebraska.

Laid over.

Opinion No. 87061

DATE: April 21, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 663 - Due Process Requirements Regarding Natural Gas Rate-Making by Nebraska Municipalities

REQUESTED BY: Senator David Landis
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion regarding the constitutionality of LB 663. Generally, LB 663 proposes to amend Nebraska statutory provisions relating to the establishment of natural gas rates by municipalities. Your question concerns to what extent procedural due process safeguards are constitutionally required with regard to a municipality enacting an ordinance making or changing rates of a gas supplier operating as a public utility.

The general rule regarding the application of the due process requirements of notice and hearing in the context of public utility rate determination proceedings is stated in 73B C.J.S. Public Utilities §44 (1983) as follows:

The nature of a rate determination proceeding before a public service commission depends on constitutional and statutory provisions, which may determine whether notice and hearing are necessary before tariffs become effective. Where the nature of proceedings is judicial or quasi-judicial in character, notice and hearing are necessary, and hearings not in accordance with constitutional and statutory provisions contravene procedural due process. However, it has been held that where tariff procedures are described and characterized as being legislative in nature, a due process hearing is not necessary. (Footnotes omitted).

The Nebraska Supreme Court has adopted the view that the act of a public body in determining a rate for a public utility constitutes action in a legislative, as opposed to a judicial, capacity. City of Scottsbluff v. United Tel. Co. of the West, 171 Neb. 229, 106 N.W.2d 12 (1960); Yellow Cab Co. v. Nebraska State Railway Commission, 176 Neb. 711, 127 N.W.2d 211 (1964). Specifically, with regard to the actions of a municipality in the context of determining gas rates within the city, the court has stated:

A municipal corporation in fixing rates to be charged by a public utility acts in a legislative rather than a judicial capacity. (Citations omitted). By statute, the Legislature has delegated to municipalities the authority to regulate, determine, and fix rates. This power being legislative in nature, it cannot be assumed by the courts and this court cannot usurp the functions of a rate-making body.

Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., Inc. v. City of Sidney, 186 Neb. 168, 170, 181 N.W.2d 682, 683 (1970). See also Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. v. City of St. Edward, 167 Neb. 15, 91 N.W.2d 69 (1958). See generally 64 Am.Jur.2d Public Utilities §89 (1972).

The mere characterization of rate setting as a legislative function, however, is not in and of itself sufficient to determine the necessity to provide notice and hearing comporting with full procedural due process requirements to utilities regarding rate determinations. It is well-established that public utilities are entitled to a just and reasonable compensation or a fair return on property used for public service. Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. v. City of Sidney, supra. Rates fixed by government authorities which are not sufficient to yield a fair return to a public utility are deemed unjust, unreasonable, and confiscatory. American Toll Bridge Co. v. Railroad Commission of California, 307 U.S. 486 (1938). Enforcement of such confiscatory rates deprives the utility of its property in violation of constitutional guarantees safeguarding private property against taking for a public use and due process of law. West v. Chesapeake and Potomac Tel. Co., 295 U.S. 662 (1934); U.S. Const., amend. 5 and amend. 14; Neb. Const., art. I, sec. 3, and Art. I, sec. 21; See generally 64 Am.Jur.2d Public Utilities §134 (1972).

Based on the property right implications associated with public utility rate-making, courts have recognized the need for procedural due process safeguards in the rate-making process. In essence, the right to procedural due process in this context requires providing the utility with adequate notice and an opportunity to be heard, consistent with the essentials of a fair trial. Railroad Commission of California v. Pacific Gas and Electric Company, 302 U.S. 388 (1937); Ohio Bell Tel. Co. v. Public Utilities Commission, 301 U.S. 292 (1937); Morgan v. United States, 298 U.S. 468 (1936).

While it is clear that a public utility is entitled to notice and an opportunity to be heard at a trial-type hearing in the course of the rate setting process, there is authority to support the proposition that such hearing need not be provided at the legislative or administrative level if provision is made for a trial de novo before a court in which evidence may be offered and a full opportunity provided to address the propriety of rates established as a result of the legislative process. Mayfield Gas Co. v. Public Service Commission, 259 S.W.2d 8 (Ky. 1953); See Jordan v. American Eagle Fire Ins. Co., 169 F.2d 281 (D.C. Cir. 1948); See also Ohio Bell Tel. Co. v. Public Utilities Commission, supra. In Jordan v. American Eagle Fire Ins. Co., supra, the court, after citing a number of cases dealing with due process requirements in the public utility rate setting process, summarized these decisions as follows:

Rate-making procedures differ. Sometimes they are state or local tasks and sometimes federal tasks, and the functions of particular courts differ according to the place of the court in the procedure involved. . . . {T}he state legislature may prescribe a procedure in which the initial order is upon legislative or wholly administrative consideration and the full hearing is afforded in a court action. If the court proceeding includes the full right to present evidence, to meet issues, and to explore the evidence and conclusions of the legislative or administrative agent, due process of law exists. . . . However, if the the state procedure consists of administrative consideration without hearing, and court consideration merely by way of review of the determination below without new evidence or exploration by cross-examination, a federal court will set aside the final order as without due process. In modern times, most states, like the federal government, provide for a full hearing in the course of the administrative consideration, thus making that proceeding quasi-judicial. In such instances the addition of a judicial review of the record, findings and conclusions made below, constitutes a combination of actions which satisfies the requirements of due process.

169 F.2d at 289-90.

Reversing the lower court's determination that a full due process hearing was necessary at the legislative or administrative level, the court in Jordan stated:

The District Court rightly held that in rate-making proceedings, such as this, a full hearing in the judicial sense is required. We think it was in error in holding that that hearing must in all cases be afforded in the administrative or legislative process. As we see it, the modern custom of placing that hearing in that part of the procedure is a matter of desirability by reason of expertise, and not a matter of constitutional necessity.

Id. at 290-91.

Based on the foregoing, the Legislature has two options to consider with respect to satisfying procedural due process requirements regarding the establishment of natural gas rates by municipalities. One alternative would be to provide, by statute, for a complete, trial-type hearing before the municipal rate setting body. The other alternative, under the holding in Jordan v. American Eagle Fire Ins. Co., supra, would be to provide procedural due process in the form of a trial de novo in court following action by the municipal body.

An examination of LB 663 reveals that the bill appears to follow the second course of action, permitting a gas supplier to institute a court action in the event a municipality does not grant a requested rate increase. LB 663, §5(3). In view of Nebraska case law characterizing the rate setting process as legislative in nature, we cannot say that such a procedure, on its face, would be held unconstitutional as a denial of procedural due process. The right of a gas supplier to a trial de novo before a court under LB 663 provides the gas supplier with the entire panoply of rights accorded in a judicial proceeding, in the event the supplier is dissatisfied with the action taken by the municipal body in the rate setting process. The provision of a trial-type hearing at the judicial level, as opposed to the administrative or legislative level, has been held sufficient to satisfy due process requirements.

While there is authority to support such a procedure, it should be noted that the modern trend of practice appears to provide, by statute, for a hearing before the rate setting agency, either state public service commission or municipal rate setting body, including the essential elements of a trial-type hearing. E.g., Arkansas Public Service Commission v. Continental Tel. Co., 262 Ark. 821, 561 S.W.2d 645 (1978); City of Los Angeles v. Public Utilities Commission, 15 Cal. 3d 680, 542 P.2d 1371, 125 Cal. Rptr. 779 (1975); Glen Oaks Utilities, Inc. v. City of Houston, 161 Tex. 417, 340 S.W.2d 783 (1960). Generally, while rate-making has traditionally been labeled a "legislative" activity, these cases recognize the rate-making process actually partakes of a proceeding which is quasi-judicial in nature, involving the determination of factual findings relating to the individual company's operations, rate base, and required rate of return on investment. Arkansas Public Service Commission v. Continental Telephone Company, supra.

In light of these considerations, it is possible that the Nebraska Supreme Court, if called upon to reexamine the nature of the rate setting process in the context of addressing the issue of the need for a full due process hearing before a rate setting agency or body, may hold that such a proceeding actually constitutes a quasi-judicial process, necessitating procedural due process requirements of notice and an evidentiary, trial-type hearing. In this regard, we note that our Court has recognized the applicability of fundamental due process rights in the context of quasi-judicial proceedings. E.g., First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Lincoln v. Department of Banking, 187 Neb. 562, 192 N.W.2d 736 (1971) (Establishment of savings and loan associations); City of Auburn v. Eastern Nebraska Public Power District, 179 Neb. 439, 138 N.W.2d 629 (1965) (Granting of certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct electric transmission line); Block v. Lincoln Tel. and Tel. Co., 170 Neb. 531, 103 N.W.2d 312 (1960) (Withdrawal of existing telephone service from subscriber).

In summary, it is our opinion that, to the extent that LB 663 provides a gas supplier with the opportunity to receive a trial de novo before a court on the propriety of a full or partial denial of a requested rate increase, the bill could likely be successfully defended against constitutional attack on procedural due process grounds under the principles enunciated in Jordan v. American Eagle Fire Ins. Co., supra. This is particularly true in light of current Nebraska case law viewing the municipal rate setting process for public utilities as constituting a legislative activity. Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. v. City of Sidney, supra. Given the nature of the determinations involved in the rate setting process, however, including the various factual determinations previously discussed, we cannot definitively state that, if the Nebraska Supreme Court were called upon to examine the issue, the Court would not conclude that the determinations involved rendered the process quasi-judicial in character, and that the rate setting decision, affecting the rights and property of a specific company, necessitated a full due process hearing in the first instance before the rate setting agency or body.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 87062

DATE: April 23, 1987

SUBJECT: Gambling

REQUESTED BY: Senator Chris Abboud
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Melvin K. Kammerlohr, Senior Assistant
Attorney General

QUESTION: Does L.B. 757, the Sports Operation Act, violate the Nebraska Constitution?

CONCLUSION: Yes.

As you know, the Nebraska Constitution strictly limits the Legislature on what it may do in authorizing gambling.

Article III, Section 24 of the Nebraska Constitution provides in part:

The Legislature shall not authorize any game of chance, nor any lottery, or gift enterprise where the consideration for the chance to participate involves the payment of money for the purchase of property, services, chance or admission ticket, or requires an expenditure of substantial effort or time; . . .

Prior to 1934, the above portion of Section 24 of Article III prohibiting the Legislature from authorizing any games of chance, etc., constituted the entire context of Section 24, Article III.

Since that time there have been three Constitutional Amendments to that section authorizing the Legislature to permit three general areas of gambling; these are:

1. Horse racing by the parimutuel or certificate method when conducted by licensees within the racetrack enclosure.

2. Non-profit lotteries, raffles, and gift enterprises intended solely as business promotions or the proceeds of which are used solely for charitable or community betterment purposes without profit to the promoter.

3. Licensing and regulation of Bingo games conducted by non-profit associations which have been in existence for a period of five years.

Other than the exceptions made to Section 24, Article III of the Constitution as listed above, the Constitution prohibits the Legislature from authorizing any games of chance which require the payment of money or substantial effort or time to play.

L.B. 757 attempts to authorize persons who accept orders on sporting events totalling more than $1,000 in any seven consecutive days or $10,000 in any 365 consecutive days if they obtain a sports pool operator's license from the Department of Revenue. "Order" is defined by the bill as "the making of an offer to an operator, by means of a sum of money, and the acceptance by the operator of the offer resulting in the sum of money being at risk contingent upon the outcome of a sporting event;"

This bill does not restrict the operator or participants from making a profit nor does it require the proceeds to be used solely for charitable or community betterment purposes.

The only question then, under the existing provisions of Section 24, Article III of the Nebraska Constitution is whether or not this bill would authorize a game of chance?

In the case of United States v. Thompson, 409 F.Supp. 1044, defendant was convicted of conducting an illegal gambling business. The business involved was one in which defendant printed forecast cards which listed college and professional football games to be played on the following weekend. The card showed a point spread in each game. A player selected 3 to 12 teams and, in effect, bet that the teams selected would do better than the point spread shown. If a player selected all teams right, he would be paid a multiple of his bet, which multiple increased with the number of teams selected.

Defendant argued that the football parlay played was not prohibited by Montana law. The Federal Court stated: "There is no doubt that betting on the outcome of an athletic event is a 'game of chance' . . ." The court cited State v. Kilburn, 109 P.2d 113.

The Federal Court also determined the card involved was a gambling device.

State v. Kilburn, 109 P.2d 1113, held that even if a pinball machine involved more skill than chance to win, the betting (paying money to play with chance to win merchandise certificates) made it a game of chance, the court stated:

{W}e believe the correct rule as applied to a case such as this was applied in the case of Peers v. Caldwell, 85 L.J.K.B., N.S., Eng. 754, where the court held that a machine through which a game of skill was played was nevertheless a gambling device when used for the purpose of betting. In other words, an innocent game involving the element of skill alone becomes a gambling device when players bet on the outcome. To illustrate: A game of poker may involve more skill than chance and is innocent when played for pastime and amusement, but constitutes gambling when played for money. In Miller v. United States, 6 App.D.C. 6, the court said: "It has from an early time been held that a horse race is a game of chance, and so is a game of baseball, and so a foot race, where wagers have been made upon them." See, also, note in 60

A.L.R. 343; Sparks v. State, 48 Ga. App. 498, 173 S.E. 216, and State v. Livingston, 135 Me. 323, 196 A.407.

The Nebraska Supreme Court has also held pinball machines which awarded free games to winners to be illegal. See discussion in the attached opinion.

In 1985 this office issued official opinion #25 to Senator Ernest Chambers concerning L.B. 72, then pending which authorized wagering on sporting events.

That opinion which determined that betting upon sporting events constituted a game of chance and could not be authorized by the Legislature is still valid. The Supreme Court of Nebraska cases and other authorities discussed therein are still current statements of the law and that opinion applies with equal force to your present question concerning L.B. 757. We therefore attach a copy thereof for your convenience and make it a part of this opinion.

Respectfully submitted,

AM1092

(Amendments to Final Reading Copy)

1. Insert the following new sections:

2. "Sec. 3. That section 39-669.15, Reissue
3 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
4 as follows:

5 39-669.15. If a person arrested pursuant to 6 section 39-669.08 refuses to submit to the chemical test
7 of blood, breath, or urine required by that section, the 8 test shall not be given and the arresting officer shall 9 make a sworn report to the Director of Motor Vehicles.
10 Such report shall state (1) that the person was validly
11 arrested pursuant to section 39-669.08 and the reasons
12 for such arrest, (2) that such person was requested to 13 submit to the required test, and (3) that such person
14 refused to submit to the required test. Failure, 15 refusal, or neglect by an officer to comply with any of 16 the provisions of this section shall constitute 17 misconduct in office and shall be grounds for his or her
18 removal therefrom.

19 Sec. 4. That section 39-669.24, Reissue
20 Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read
1 as follows:

2 39-669.24. To enable the Director of Motor
3 Vehicles punctually and economically to perform his or 4 her ministerial duties in revoking or suspending
5 operators' licenses and to insure uniformity in the 6 keeping of the records of operators' licenses suspended
7 or revoked by courts of the state, such director shall 8 prepare and furnish to all courts of the state a 9 standard form of abstract for conviction report. In 10 lieu of furnishing the form, the director may authorize 11 the use of uniform forms provided by the courts or law
12 enforcement agencies. This shall include all necessary
13 information as to the parties to the case, the nature of 14 the offense, the date of hearing, the plea, the 15 judgment, and the amount of the fine or forfeiture, as

16 the case may be. Every such abstract shall be certified
17 by the judge or clerk of any court of record as a true
18 abstract of the record of the court. In the 19 administration of sections 39-669.22 to 39-669.24 or of 20 any section of the Motor Vehicle Operators' License Act, 21 the powers and duties conferred upon the Director of 22 Motor Vehicles, his or her subordinates, or his or her
23 successors, with respect to the revocation or suspension
24 of any operator's license or driving privileges are
1 ministerial in character. The Director of Motor
2 Vehicles shall have authority to revoke or suspend
3 operators' licenses only when positively directed to do
4 so by the terms of the certified abstract of the 5 judgment of conviction forwarded to him or her by the 6 trial court, except as otherwise provided in section
7 39-669.27 and Chapter 60, articles 4 and 5. The 8 Director of Motor Vehicles shall not have the authority
9 to set aside or expunge any conviction pursuant to 10 sections 39-669.07 and 39-669.08. Failure, refusal, or 11 neglect by the Director of Motor Vehicles or any officer
12 of the court to comply with any of the provisions of 13 this section shall constitute misconduct in office and 14 shall be grounds for removal."

15 2. On page 1, line 2, after the first comma 16 insert "39-669.15, 39-669.24,"; and in line 5 after the 17 semicolon insert "to change provisions relating to 18 reporting of certain chemical tests by arresting 19 officers; to change provisions relating to the powers of 20 the Director of Motor Vehicles;"

21 3. On page 2, line 5, strike "4 to 6" and 22 insert "6 to 8".

23 4. On page 36, line 13, strike "4 or 5" and 24 insert "6 or 7".

2 "39-669.15, 39-669.24,".

3 6. Renumber the remaining sections
4 accordingly.

Mr. Hall requested a ruling of the Chair on whether the Haberman amendment is germane to the bill.

Opinion No. 87063

DATE: April 24, 1987

SUBJECT: Pursuant to amendment 0744 to LB 444, whether an existing school district when reorganized into a new consolidated school district may elect by a majority of the legal voters to form a new subdistrict of the reorganized school district.
Pursuant to the above stated amendment, whether the reorganized school district can have two elections, one by the new subdistrict voters for a governing body and one as part of the larger new school district for its governing body.

REQUESTED BY: Senator W. Owen Elmer
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Harold Mosher, Assistant Attorney General

Subsection (1) of section 1 of LB 444 of the Ninetieth Legislature, First Session, would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-402 (Supp. 1986) and authorize, subject to certain conditions precedent, the county superintendent of schools to create a new school district from other school districts or change the boundaries of any school district "upon petitions signed by over fifty per cent of the legal voters of each school district affected and approved by both the state and county committees for school district reorganization." Amendment 0744 to LB 444 states as follows:

1. On page 2, line 4, before "The" insert "(1)"; and after line 21 insert:

(2) When a Class I school district is affected by the creation of a new school district or a change in the boundaries of an existing school district, the legal voters of the affected or changed Class I school district may elect to operate the affected or changed Class I school district as a subdistrict of the new or changed school district. If the legal voters of the affected or changed Class I school district elect to so operate, such voters shall elect a subdistrict school board of five members and shall be entitled to cast their ballots in the election of the school board of the new or changed school district. At the first meeting of the subdistrict school board, the elected members of such board shall select one of its members as chairperson. A subdistrict created under this subsection shall have the same powers and duties as a school district operating an elementary school.

The legal voters of the subdistrict shall have the power at any annual or special meeting (a) to direct the purchasing or leasing of any appropriate site and the building, hiring, or purchasing of a schoolhouse, teacherage for the purpose of providing housing facilities for the school employees of the district, or other school buildings, (b) to determine the amount necessary to be expended for such purposes in the succeeding year, and (c) to vote a tax on the property of the subdistrict for the payment of the same for their elementary school children. Persons in the subdistrict shall pay the annual taxation levy set by the new or changed school district for operation and maintenance of the high school portion of such school district.

If a Class II or III school district is affected by the creation of a new school district or a change in boundaries of an existing school district, the legal voters of the Class II or III school district may elect, by either an election or petition of over fifty per cent of the legal voters of such school district, to be excluded from the new or changed school district or operate an elementary school as pursuant to this subsection.

Conceptually, we are unable to generalize a particular instance whereby the above quoted amendment would operate on a Class I school district as the result of the creation of a new school district or the change in the boundaries of an existing school district pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-402 (Supp. 1986), as amended by this legislative bill. The creation of a new school district or the change in the boundaries of an existing school district pursuant to subsection (1) of section 1 of this legislative bill can only be initiated "upon petitions signed by over fifty per cent of the legal voters of each school district affected." If less than "fifty per cent of the legal voters of each school district affected" failed to sign the petitions in the first instance the creation or change could not occur and the above quoted amendment would have nothing to operate on. If "over fifty per cent of the legal voters of each school district affected" signed the petitions in the first instance the change would occur if all other conditions were met and again the above quoted amendment would have nothing to operate on.

Perhaps a few additional comments are in order in the event we have overlooked an instance whereby the above quoted amendment could be operational. Specifically, we note that it does not contain a time or a date whereby the legal voters of the affected or changed Class I school district may elect to operate as a subdistrict or how the election is to be called or who is to conduct the election. The amendment does state:

If a Class II or III school district is affected by the creation of a new school district or a change in boundaries of an existing school district, the legal voters of the Class II or III school district may elect, by either an election or petition of over fifty per cent of the legal voters of such school district, to be excluded from the new or changed school district or operate an elementary school pursuant to this subsection.

The amendment, however, does not state the date or time such election is to be held or who is to determine the sufficiency of the petitions or who is to conduct the election.

In summary, it appears to us that the above quoted amendment would not permit an existing school district, when reorganized into a new consolidated school district, to form a new subdistrict of the reorganized school district. Nor would the above quoted amendment permit the reorganized school district to have two elections, one by the new subdistrict voters for a governing body and one as part of the larger new school district for its governing body.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 98.

Introduced by Chambers, 11th District.

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska has a compulsory school attendance law; and

WHEREAS, all children have the right to human dignity and personal respect in the classroom; and

WHEREAS, section 79-213 recognizes that "youth is the time most susceptible to the acceptance of principles and doctrines that will influence (them) throughout their lives," and therefore, the education system "must conduct its activities . . . in such a way that the love of liberty, justice, democracy, and America will be instilled in the heart and mind of the youth of the State"; and

WHEREAS, teachers and administrators have an obligation under the law to provide proper instruction and guidance to school children; and

WHEREAS, On April 9, 1987 Monroe Jr. High School in Omaha presented a skit to an audience of 500 people, which skit disparaged persons of Hispanic origin by ridiculing their family structure and portraying the mother of the stereotyped "family" as a thief who squandered rent money on basketball shoes for herself; and

WHEREAS, holding any person up to ridicule and scorn because of his or her race, color or national origin teaches neither respect for oneself or others; and

WHEREAS, a White parent who was "shocked by the material in the skit" and embarrassed because her child performed in it, complained to the executive director of the Chicano Awareness Center in Omaha; and

WHEREAS, poverty and hunger are not fit subjects for jesting and ridicule in the public schools; and

WHEREAS, humiliating portrayals of any group because of race, color or national origin is intolerable and in violation of Nebraska law when done in a public school with official sanction; and

WHEREAS, teachers are given the responsibility under the law (section 79-214) to "give special emphasis to. . . respect for parents and the home. . . and other lessons of a steadying influence which tend to promote and develop an upright and desirable citizenry"; and

WHEREAS, the role of the public schools is perverted by activities which degrade any child or group because of race, color or national origin; and

WHEREAS, the Monroe Jr. High School skit does not comport with the requirements of section 79-213; and

WHEREAS, the degrading skit, titled, "Lifestyles of the Poor and Hungry", was previewed and then approved for performance by Teacher John Kelley and Principal James Vincent; and

WHEREAS, section 79-213(7) declares: "Every school board, the State Board of Education, and each county superintendent of schools, and the superintendent of each individual school in the state shall be held directly responsible, in the order named, for the carrying out of the provisions of (79-213), and neglect thereof by any employee or appointed official shall be considered a dereliction of duty and cause for dismissal".

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature reaffirms the principle of equal treatment and dignity for all school children throughout Nebraska.

2. That the Legislature strongly objects to such racially demeaning portrayals and stereotyping as those advanced by the Monroe Jr. High School skit.

3. That the Legislature calls upon the officials specified in section 79-213(7) to conduct an investigation into this matter and take appropriate corrective action.

4. That a copy of this Resolution be sent to each Member of the Omaha School Board, each Member of the State Board of Education, the Douglas County Superintendent of Schools and the Superintendent of the Omaha Public Schools.

Laid over.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. R. Johnson asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 708 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

AM1088

- 1 1. Insert the following new section:
- 2 "Sec. 6. That section 2-1213, Reissue Revised
- 3 Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as
- 4 follows:
- 5 2-1213. (1) No racing under sections 2-1201
- 6 to 2-1218 shall be permitted on Sunday except when
- 7 approved by a majority of the members of the State
- 8 Racing Commission upon application for approval by any
- 9 racetrack. Such approval shall be given after the
- 10 commission has considered: (a) Whether Sunday racing at
- 11 the applicant track will tend to promote and encourage
- 12 agriculture and horse breeding in Nebraska; (b) whether
- 13 the applicant track operates under a license granted by
- 14 the State Racing Commission; (c) whether the applicant
- 15 track is in compliance with all applicable health,
- 16 safety, fire, and police rules and regulations or
- 17 ordinances; (d) whether the denial of Sunday racing at
- 18 the applicant track would impair such track's economic
- 19 ability to continue to function under its license; and
- 20 (e) whether the record of the public hearing held on the
- 1 issue of Sunday racing at the applicant track shows
- 2 reasonable public support. Notice of such public
- 3 hearing shall be given at least ten days prior thereto
- 4 by publication in a newspaper having general circulation
- 5 in the county in which the applicant track is operating,
- 6 and the commission shall conduct a public hearing in
- 7 such county. The commission may ~~prescribe~~ adopt,
- 8 promulgate, and enforce rules and regulations governing
- the application and approval for Sunday racing in

9 addition to its powers in section 2-1203. If the State
10 Racing Commission permits racing on Sunday, the voters
11 may prohibit such racing in the manner prescribed in 12 section 2-1213.01. If approval by the commission for
13 Sunday racing at the applicant track is granted, no
14 racing shall occur on Sunday until after 1:00 p.m.

15 No license shall be granted for racing on more
16 than one racetrack in any one county, except that the
17 commission may, in its discretion, grant a license to 18 any county agricultural society to conduct racing during 19 its county fair notwithstanding license may have been
20 issued for racing on another track in such county.
21 Since the purpose of sections 2-1201 to 2-1218 is to
22 encourage agriculture and horse breeding in Nebraska,
23 every licensee shall hold at least one race on each
24 racing day limited to Nebraska-bred horses. Three per
1 cent of the first money of every purse won by a
2 Nebraska-bred horse shall be paid to the breeder of such
3 horse.

4 (2) For purposes of this section,
5 Nebraska-bred horse shall mean a horse registered with
6 the Nebraska Thoroughbred or Quarter Horse Registry and

9 registered, prior to foaling, with the Nebraska
10 Thoroughbred or Quarter Horse Registry; (c) its owner or
11 owners, or, if the owner is a corporation, all
12 stockholders thereof, must have been bona fide citizens
13 of Nebraska continually from January 1 of the year of
14 conception through the date of foaling; and (d) its dam
15 must have been continuously owned by a bona fide citizen
16 of Nebraska and have been continuously in Nebraska for
17 six months immediately prior to foaling, except that 18 this such six-month period may be reduced to (i) ninety 19 days in the case of a mare in foal ~~and~~ which is ~~either~~
20 (i) registered as a brood mare with the Nebraska
21 Thoroughbred or Quarter Horse Registry but which is
22 being actively trained and raced outside Nebraska and is
23 returned to this state and remains herein continuously
24 for ninety days immediately prior to foaling; or (ii)
1 thirty days in the case of a mare in foal which is
2 purchased at a nationally recognized thoroughbred or 3 quarter horse blood stock sale, the name and pedigree of 4 the mare being listed in the sale catalog, and which is

5 brought into this state and remains ~~herein~~ in this state
6 for ~~ninety~~ thirty days immediately prior to foaling.

7       The requirement that a dam must be
8 continuously in Nebraska for either six months, ninety
9 days, or thirty days, as specified in subdivision (2)(d)
10 of this section, shall not apply to a dam which is taken
11 outside of Nebraska to be placed up for sale at a
12 nationally recognized thoroughbred or quarter horse
13 blood stock sale, the name and pedigree of the mare
14 being listed in the sale catalog, or for the treatment
15 of an extreme sickness or injury, if written notice of 16 such proposed sale or treatment is provided to the 17 secretary of the commission within three days of the 18 date such horse is taken out of the state.

19       The State Racing Commission may designate
20 official registrars for the purpose of registration and 21 to certify the eligibility of Nebraska-bred horses. An
22 official registrar shall perform such duties in
23 accordance with policies and procedures adopted and
24 promulgated by the State Racing Commission in the
1 current rules and regulations of the commission. The
2 commission may authorize the official registrar to
3 collect specific fees as would reasonably compensate the
4 registrar for expenses incurred in connection with
5 registration of Nebraska-bred horses. The amount of
6 such fee or fees shall be established by the commission
7 and shall not be changed without commission approval.
8 Fees shall not exceed ~~forty~~ one hundred dollars per
9 horse.

10       Any decision or action taken by the official
11 registrar shall be subject to review by the commission
12 or may be taken up by the commission on its own
13 initiative.”.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 104.

Introduced by General Affairs Committee: Morehead, 30th District, Chairperson; Elmer, 35th District; Miller, 37th District; Smith, 33rd District; Weihing, 48th District.

PURPOSE: The Nebraska Liquor Control Act was enacted in 1935. It is a broad act which contains specific regulations relating to the manufacture, sale, and consumption of alcoholic beverages and many parts of the act have not been reviewed or modified since its enactment. Other areas have been changed on a piece-meal basis, leaving inconsistencies and outdated provisions in the current statute.

It is the intent of this study to undertake an in-depth review of the Nebraska Liquor Control Act and propose any changes, including a total rewrite, as the committee deems necessary. The study shall include, but not be limited to, a review of the following elements:

(1) Whether there should be a separate Nebraska Liquor Control Commission, or whether that function should become a part of the Department of Revenue;

(2) Whether changes should be made to the present act, which would update its provisions and eliminate inconsistencies currently existing; and

(3) Whether there should be a total rewrite of the act, using any model act or legislation in other states as a basis for such a rewrite.

After a review of the preceding elements, and any others which the committee may deem to be pertinent, the committee shall draft and offer a proposal for public review. Individuals will have an opportunity to express an opinion and offer suggestions on any proposed changes. After this process is completed, the committee shall finalize any proposals and prepare them for introduction in the 1988 legislative session.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the General Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the General Affairs Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

BILL ON FIRST READING

The following bill was read for the first time by title:

LEGISLATIVE BILL 163A. By Abboud, 12th District.

A BILL FOR AN ACT to appropriate funds to aid in carrying out the provisions of Legislative Bill 163, Ninetieth Legislature, First Session, 1987.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 87060

DATE: April 21, 1987

SUBJECT: State highways; logo signs

REQUESTED BY: Senator Don Wesely
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Warren D. Lichty, Jr., Assistant Attorney General

You have submitted the three amendments to LB 741, Ninetieth Legislature First Session, inquiring as to the constitutionality of LB 741 with these amendments attached. The amendments are the Standing Committee Amendment Number AM0647, the E & R Amendment Number AM5179, and proposed Amendment Number AM0897, which amend the Standing Committee amendment. There is still some question, however, about the point raised in our Opinion No. 115, dated May 18, 1983, which has to do with use of the State right-of-way. The Standing Committee Amendment does provide, in addition to the actual cost of material, fabrication and erecting of specific information sign panels, of an annual fee, which according Amendment Number 897, is to cover fair market rental value. But in section (3), it provides that all revenue received shall be in the Highway Cash Fund and used only for construction and maintenance of the specific information sign panels and administration of these sections. It would appear to us that in order to meet the objections of Opinion No. 115, and avoid the prohibition against loaning the credit of the State, the annual fee (but not the cost of material, fabrication and erecting of the signs) should be placed in the Highway Cash Fund without restriction. If all the funds the Department receives have to be used on the logo program, it would appear arguable that the logo program, and thus the private advertisers are receiving free use of the highway right-of-way.

Also, we have a problem with E & R Amendment Number AM5179. The language of the Standing Committee Amendment was "...business sign and the actual cost of material, fabrication, and erecting the specific information sign panels...." The E & R Amendment Number 5179, changes this language to read: "...business sign and the actual cost of material for fabrication of and erecting the specific information sign panels...." In other words, the original amendment states a series, that is "material, fabrication, and erecting", while the E & R Amendment provides only for the cost of material. We therefore believe that while the actual expenditures are all covered in the Standing Committee Amendment, the E & R Amendment recreates some possible expenditures, that is fabricating and erecting costs, which would not be reimbursed and therefore, would provide for unconstitutional expenditures.

Finally, our Opinion No. 115 raises the question of granting of special or exclusive privileges. We are informed, however, that other states have been allowed to put up more than one food, gas or lodging logo at certain interchanges. Also, the federal regulations allow a sort of "bumping" whereby the service existing closest to the interchange would have a preference. Since the purpose of the logo program is to make known to traffic on the interstate highway, those services which are most readily available, this bumping privilege and the right to erect additional signs (if there is one), would certainly seem to reduce or eliminate the chance of the location on these signs being considered to be the granting of a special or exclusive privilege or franchise.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 87065

DATE: April 30, 1987

SUBJECT: Proposed Amendment(s) to Claims Payable by the Nebraska Property and Liability Insurance
Guaranty Association

REQUESTED BY: Senator R. Wiley Remmers, Chairman
Banking, Commerce & Insurance Committee

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Fredrick F. Neid, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested the opinion of this office concerning the constitutionality of proposed amendments to Legislative Bill 700. The proposed amendment(s) would serve to create an exception to covered claims for certain policyholders of insolvent insurers provided in Neb.Rev.Stat. §44-2406 (Supp. 1986).

It is our opinion that the proposed amendment would constitute special legislation in violation of Article III, §18 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §44-2406 (Supp. 1986) provides, in summary, that the Nebraska Property and Liability Insurance Guaranty Association investigates, hears, settles and determines claims of policyholders of member companies which have become insolvent. The claims have prescribed dollar limitations of three hundred thousand dollars or an amount not exceeding the face amount of the policy from which the claim arises.

The part of the amendment which appears to be the focus of your inquiry provides that: "(b) the association shall pay the amount of a judgment against a school district arising out of an occurrence prior to or on November 16, 1985, if the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer prior to January 1, 1987." Accordingly, the amendment would create an exception to the statutory dollar limits for covered claims for a school district meeting this specific criteria.

It is for the Legislature to classify objects of legislation and if the classification is reasonable and not arbitrary, it is a legitimate exercise of legislative power. Our Supreme Court has held that a statute must be general and uniform throughout the state and must operate alike on all persons of a class with reference to relations and circumstances provided for. State v. Edwards, 211 Neb. 380 (1982). Accordingly, it is appropriate to review the application of the proposed amendment to the special class to be created by the amendment.

The amendment serves to relieve only school districts as policyholders from the statutory restrictions applicable to covered claims. Further, the exception is so narrowly constructed as to exclude members of the class created by the exception. In State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, 207 Neb. 598 (1980), it was held by the Nebraska Supreme Court that a classification which limits the application of the law to a presently existing class and leaves no room for an increase in the members of the class is special and a violation of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

The special class created by the proposed amendment consists of school districts having judgments against them arising out of an incident occurring prior to or on November 16, 1985, if the insurer becomes insolvent prior to January 1, 1987. Thus, school districts having judgments against them would not be members of the class if the incident occurred after November 16, 1985, or if the insurer did not become insolvent. School districts in similar circumstances would therefore be precluded from the special class created.

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

In conclusion, it is our opinion that the proposed amendment would render Neb.Rev.Stat. §44-2406 (Supp. 1986) unconstitutional in that it contains an arbitrary and unreasonable classification prohibited by the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87066

DATE: May 4, 1987

REQUESTED BY: Senator Rod Johnson

Robert M. Spire, Attorney General

QUESTION: Does the provision making the operation of LB 68 effective upon all contiguous states passing an identical act constitute an unlawful delegation of legislative authority?

CONCLUSION: No.

QUESTION: Does LB 68 violate the Interstate Commerce clause of the United States Constitution?

CONCLUSION: Although LB 68's violation of the Commerce clause is not clear, considering the fact that the state, and most if not all other states, have adhered to a lower federal rate of MSNF (Milk-Solids-Not-Fat) content of milk for many years would make defense of the increase difficult, particularly if there was evidence that the purpose of the increase was to promote the economic well-being of producers within the state at the expense of those in other states.

You have asked if Section 2 of LB 68 constitutes an unlawful delegation of legislative authority.

Section 2 provides that the act shall become operative "when all states contiguous to the borders of the State of Nebraska have in effect milk content requirements identical to those requirements established by this legislative bill."

As a general rule a statute may take effect upon the happening of a contingency, such as a passage of a law in another jurisdiction, the vote of the people, or the passage of a constitutional amendment. Sutherland Statutory Construction, Section 33.07 (1986).

In State v. Padley, 195 Neb. 358, 237 N.W.2d 883 (1976), our supreme court dealt with a statute which fixed highway speeds at a maximum of 55 mph and then provided that when the president terminates the Emergency Highway Energy Conservation Act the permissible speed shall be 75 mph "or such speed as Congress requires for compliance with such act, whichever is the lesser."

To the issue of whether or not the legislature could delegate to Congress the authority to designate the speed limit in Nebraska our supreme court held:

The legislature cannot delegate its powers to make a law, but it can make a law to become operative on the happening of a certain contingency or on ascertainment of a fact upon which the law intends to make its own action depend.

See also, Lennox v. Housing Authority of the City of Omaha, 137 Neb. 582, 290 N.W. 451 (1940).

The same rule was applied in State ex rel. Douglas v. Sporhaue, 208 Neb. 703, 305 N.W.2d 614 (1981) where a law authorizing the granting of a permit to transport water for irrigation out-of-state contingent upon the receiving state granting its landowners the same right was held not to be an unlawful delegation of its powers to make a law.

It is therefore our conclusion that the provision making LB 68 effective upon the enactment of its same provisions by all states bordering upon Nebraska would not be an unlawful delegation of the legislature's authority.

You have also asked if LB 68 violates the Interstate Commerce clause of the United States Constitution by establishing a different milk-content requirement for milk sold in Nebraska than that sold in other states.

In answer we call particular attention to the provision of LB 68 which would raise the milk-solids-not-fat content of pasteurized milk to 8.7 percent from the federally established 8.25 percent.

From our examination of a number of cases dealing generally with the subject of higher state standards for dairy products that that prescribed under the federal standards we cannot say with any degree of certainty how the provisions of LB 68 would be treated by the courts.

In 1916 the United States Supreme Court in Hutchinson Ice Cream Company v. Iowa, 242 U.S. 153, upheld Pennsylvania and Iowa laws establishing minimum butter-fat levels for ice cream on the ground that the states police power authorized the enactment of laws to protect consumers from fraud and deception, but did not reach the issue of whether states could prohibit altogether the sale of dairy products containing less than the prescribed minimums.

This and a number of other cases prior to the establishment of federal standards for milk and ice cream made it fairly clear that the state police power was regarded as adequate to authorize the establishment of minimum non-fat or butter-fat levels for particular products and these standards were upheld if they did not prohibit the sale of products containing less than the prescribed minimums, but instead required adequate labeling to distinguish such less expensive products from the identified products (such as ice cream or milk) for which the minimums had been established.

After the federal government established a standard for ice cream, prescribing a 10 percent minimum butter-fat level, Iowa prescribed a minimum of 12 percent. In a challenge before a three-judge federal district court, the court did not resolve the issue of whether a state standard higher than the federal would constitute an excessive burden on Interstate Commerce because the court felt there was insufficient evidence before the court to decide the issue. Borden Company v. Liddy, 239 F.Supp. 289 (S.D. Iowa 1965).

Since 1935 there have been a number of cases in which the U.S. Supreme Court has invalidated various local milk regulations on the ground that they excessively burden the Interstate Commerce.

In Baldwin v. G.A.F. Seelig, Inc., 294 U.S. 511 (1935), the court struck down a New York statute that prohibited the sale of milk bought outside the state unless the price paid to producers was one that would be lawful upon a like transaction within the state; in H. P. Hood and Sons, Inc. v. DuMond, 336 U.S. 527 (1949) the court invalidated a New York law limiting the right of out-of-state milk processors to operate within the state, on the ground that its purpose was to protect local commercial interests; in Dean Milk Company v. Madison, 340 U.S. 349 (1951) the court held that a city ordinance requiring that milk be pasteurized within five miles of the city went beyond what was necessary to assure the wholesomeness of milk sold and imposed an undue burden on Interstate Commerce; in Polar Ice Cream and Creamery Company v. Andrews, 375 U.S. 361 (1964), the court invalidated a Florida law requiring Florida processors to purchase all milk offered by Florida producers before they could purchase milk from out-of-state producers; and in Greater A & P Tea Company v. Cottrell, 424 U.S. 366 (1976), the court held that an excessive burden on Interstate Commerce was imposed by a Mississippi law which provided that milk from another state could be sold in Mississippi only if the regulatory agency of the other state accepted milk purchased in Mississippi on a reciprocal basis.

In a case before the Wisconsin Supreme Court, Coffee Rich, Inc. v. Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, 79 Wis.2d 265, 234 N.W.2d 270 (1975) the court held that although a state law prohibiting the sale of non-dairy coffee whiteners was a legitimate exercise of the state police power to prevent fraud and deception, the law was nevertheless invalid since it placed an excessive burden on Interstate Commerce in relation to the local benefits to consumers.

In a more recent non-dairy product case the Supreme Court of the United States struck down an Iowa law which prohibited the use of 65 foot double trailer trucks on its highways. In Kassel v. Consolidated Freightways Corp., 450 U.S. 662 (1981), the court found that the Iowa law, which was more stringent than those of all other states in the west or midwest, imposed an unreasonable burden on Interstate Commerce in relation to the purported public health and safety benefits which the state cited as justifying its enactment.

This decision involving regulations affecting Interstate Commerce provide considerable guidance in seeking to determine the validity of legislation attempting to establish minimum levels for non-fat milk solids in excess of those prescribed by the federal standards, and although none of these cases directly address state non-fat or milk-fat standards that are higher than the levels prescribed under federal laws, the opinions seem to make clear that the court will carefully scrutinize local regulations which may reduce the flow of Interstate milk into the state in order to determine whether such regulations are intended to achieve a legitimate constitutional purpose, or whether the purpose is merely to advance the economic interests of milk producers within the state.

Another matter which we believe must be considered is the fact that it appears that the state has adhered to the 8.25 percent minimum federal level for many years and that might militate against a conclusion that the higher 8.7 percent was necessary to prevent deception of consumers. The long adherence of the federal government and most other states to the 8.25 percent level might suggest that that level of milk solids is consistent with the expectation and understanding of consumers.

It is therefore our conclusion that although we cannot say that LB 68 is or is not, as a matter of law, in violation of the Commerce clause of the United States Constitution, we believe that in an action challenging the validity of LB 68, if the opponents of the legislation were able to show that the dominant purpose of raising the MSNF level from the federal 8.25 percent level to 8.7 percent was that of increasing the sale of milk solids within the state and promoting the economic well-being of producers within the state at the expense of producers in other states, considering the fact that the state has adhered to the federal 8.25 percent level for many years, defense of the increase in MSNF level on the grounds that the purpose of the bill was to protect the health, safety or welfare of consumers within the state might be very difficult.

Very truly yours,

Miller, 37th District; Weihing, 48th District; Schmit, 23rd District; Elmer, 38th District.

WHEREAS, the year 1987 marks the centennial of the Hatch Act which was passed by the Congress of the United States to create an Agricultural Experiment Station in each state; and

WHEREAS, each state was directed to conduct research "basic to the problems of agriculture in its broadest aspects...the development and improvement of the rural home and rural life and the maximum contribution by agriculture to the welfare of the consumer"; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature adopted provisions of the Hatch Act by an act approved March 31, 1887, and assigned the responsibility for the Agricultural Experiment Station to the University of Nebraska which is now being carried out by the Agricultural Research Division in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska has received significant benefits from this 100-year state-federal partnership; and

WHEREAS, research is carried out in Agriculture, Home Economics, and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln East Campus, the District Research and Extension Centers at Clay Center, Concord, North Platte, and Scottsbluff, the Agricultural Research and Development Center near Mead, the Gudmundsen Sandhills Laboratory near Whitman, and other University Agricultural Research Division facilities across the state; and

WHEREAS, researchers in the Agricultural Research Division work cooperatively with scientists at the state and federal levels as well as those in business and industry in this country and around the world in addressing priority problems of state, regional, national, and international importance; and

WHEREAS, among many noteworthy achievements, research supported by programs at the University of Nebraska has resulted in development of twenty-eight new wheat varieties which are grown on ninety-seven per cent of Nebraska's hard red winter wheat acreage resulting in a fifty-five per cent increase in yields and an estimated one hundred million dollars additional farm income each year; and

WHEREAS, research at the University of Nebraska resulted in discovery of a rotavirus that causes diarrhea, a major cause of death in baby calves, and the University of Nebraska developed a vaccine against this virus which has been licensed and marketed under a University of Nebraska-Lincoln patent and sells approximately four million doses annually, greatly reducing economic losses of the cattle industry. Rotavirus infection is also a major cause of infant death and associated deaths in third world countries and a human rotavirus vaccine is now being manufactured and distributed as a direct result of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln research, resulting in a great saving of human lives; and

WHEREAS, Agricultural Research Division researchers developed a fluorescent antibody test which was adopted as the official test for the eradication procedures and made eradication of hog cholera possible. There has been no case of hog cholera in the United States since 1973, saving American swine producers millions of dollars annually and opening international markets for exportation of swine and pork products; and

WHEREAS, conservation tillage practices developed by the Agricultural Research Division were used on nearly six and one half million of the fifteen million acres of cropland in 1986 and no-till increased to five hundred fifty-one thousand acres in 1986 resulting in extensive savings of soil, water, energy, and labor; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska scientists developed the concepts for restructured meat products which now account for an estimated fifteen per cent of the animal products consumed in the United States today; and

WHEREAS, researchers in Nebraska developed a unique system to evaluate and to use less expensive protein sources which result in an estimated three to five million dollar savings in feed costs for beef cattle each year.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby recognizes researchers in the University of Nebraska Agricultural Research Division for their outstanding contributions to the development of knowledge in agriculture, home economics, and natural resources that has benefited all Nebraskans.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion No. 87068

DATE: May 5, 1987

REQUESTED BY: Senator Gary Hannibal

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
John R. Thompson, Deputy Attorney General

In your March 24, 1987, letter you asked whether the notice and dollar limitations provisions of LB 258 constitute a denial of due process and what is meant by the phrase "after such claim accrued."

First, we do not see any denial of due process in the notice and dollar limitations. Any potential claimants have a method and procedure whereby they may proceed against the employees as well as the subdivision.

Arguments might be raised as to equal protection under the United States and Nebraska Constitutions or the special legislation provision of the Nebraska Constitution. However, these questions have been fully addressed in Campbell v. City of Lincoln, 195 Neb. 703, 240 N.W.2d 339 (1976). The court in Campbell held that requiring claims against a political subdivision to be filed within one year and suits to be filed within two years did not violate the equal protection clauses of either the United States or the Nebraska Constitutions or Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution. The court held that classifying all Nebraska political subdivisions as a separate class was a reasonable classification, operated uniformly upon all members of the class, and was not constitutionally defective.

Further, the placing of dollar limitations or caps on recovery in certain tort actions has been addressed on a number of occasions and found not to violate the equal protection, special legislation, or due process provisions of the state and United States Constitution. In Canley v. City of Jacksonville, 403 So.2d 379 (1981), the Supreme Court of Florida held a statute limiting recovery against a municipality to $100,000.00 was constitutional. A similar holding was enunciated in Sambs v. City of Brookfield, 97 Wis.2d 356, 293 N.W.2d 504 (1980), by the Wisconsin Supreme Court. See also, Jetton v. Jacksonville Electric Authority, 399 So.2d 396 (1981).

The Nebraska Supreme Court in Prendergast v. Nelson, 199 Neb. 97, 256 N.W.2d 657 (1977), upheld the Nebraska Hospital-Medical Liability Act which, among other things, limited the dollar recovery in medical malpractice cases. The court again held that a person has no vested interest in any rule of the common law.

We believe the court would hold similarly with respect to employees of political subdivisions, there being a legitimate legislative purpose in doing so. The subdivisions have an interest in being able to hire and retain competent personnel. If not given some protection from lawsuits for actions in the course of their employment, that might arguably be difficult. There may be other similarly acceptable purposes such as limiting the financial burdens of the political subdivision which has agreed to indemnify its employees for acts in the scope of employment.

You also inquired when a "claim accrues" under the statute. The Nebraska courts have consistently held that a cause of action accrues when a person can institute and maintain a suit against another. Department of Banking v. Mullen, 134 Neb. 338, 278 N.W. 551 (1938); Weiss v. Weiss, 179 Neb. 714, 140 N.W.2d 15 (1966), and; Condon v. A. H. Robins Co., Inc., 217 Neb. 60, 349 N.W.2d 622 (1984).

In Condon, the court held that under Neb.Rev.Stat. §25-244(1) the four year statute of limitations does not begin to run until the aggrieved person discovers or reasonably could have discovered the injury. The time of the negligent act alone is not the key. There must also be injury. If the injury cannot reasonably be discovered, the statute will not start to run until the injury is or could reasonably be discovered. This appears to be the rule in Nebraska, and we believe it would be applied with respect to actions under the Political Subdivision Tort Claims Act as proposed to be amended by LB 258.

Very truly yours,

DATE: May 5, 1987

SUBJECT: Proposed Amendment of Legislative Bill 335
Concerning Exemption of Retirement Plan Benefits

REQUESTED BY: Senator Don Wesely
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Fredrick F. Neid, Assistant Attorney General

This is in response to your questions concerning proposed amendment No. 1060 to Legislative Bill 335. Your specific inquiries are related to Section 4 of the proposed amendment to Neb.Rev.Stat. §44-1089 (Supp. 1986) appearing on page 1799 of the Legislative Journal for April 22, 1987.

Your inquiry appears to be the effect on state retirement and similar plans of the assignability provision of retirement plans contained in Section 4. The amendatory language of Section 4, in part, states:

All proceeds, cash values, and benefits accruing under any employer-funded retirement annuity, individual retirement account, or individual pension plan, which is funded with substantially equal, regular payments, shall be exempt from attachment, garnishment, or other legal or equitable process and from all claims of creditors of the annuitant, unless a written assignment to the contrary has been obtained by the claimant.

This provision, in general, subjects these types of retirement benefits to legal process if the claimant has obtained a written assignment from the annuitant (beneficiary). It is our opinion that the proposed amendment would have no effect on the non-assignability of benefits of the state, school, and retirement plans you have inquired about.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §44-1089 (Supp. 1986), is a general statute having general application. The governmental retirement plans you have inquired about are established by separate legislative acts which include specific exemption provisions. For example, Neb.Rev.Stat. §84-1324 (Supp. 1986) provides:

All annuities or benefits which any person shall be entitled to receive under the State Employees Retirement Act shall not be subject to garnishment, attachment, levy, the operation of bankruptcy or insolvency, or any other process of law whatsoever and shall not be assignable, except that a judgment, decree, or order including approval of a property settlement agreement made pursuant to law that relates to child support, alimony payments, or marital property rights of a spouse, former spouse, child, or other dependent shall be complied with.

The same or similar exemption provisions are contained in statutes pertaining to retirement systems for counties, school employees, judges, legislators, and the state patrol. These statutes expressly provide that the retirement benefits are not assignable and are exempt from legal process.

It is a well-established rule that special provisions of a statute in regard to a particular subject will prevail over general provisions in the same or other statutes so far as there is a conflict. Hall v. Cox Cable of Omaha, Inc., 212 Neb. 887 (1982). Kibbon v. School District of Omaha, Inc., 196 Neb. 293 (1976). Accordingly, where general and special statutes are in conflict, the general law yields to the special. For this reason, it is our opinion the the proposed amendatory language concerning assignability would have no application to the state and similar retirement plans you have inquired about.

You have also inquired concerning the potential liability of the retirement plans if benefits were assigned by a state employee who terminated employment and amounts in the employers account were forfeited as a result. It is our opinion that the forfeited amounts would not be subject to legal process because of express provisions precluding assignability. A purported assignment would be invalid. Further, even if retirement plan benefits were assignable, an assignee (creditor) is entitled to no greater rights or benefits in the plan than the assignor (beneficiary). Accordingly, forfeited amounts would continue to be forfeited in the event of a valid permissible assignment.

While the exemption provisions for these plans remain intact, it is important to point out that this protection from legal process is limited. The protection exists and continues only while the funds and benefit amounts are in the hands of the retirement system. Once benefits or annuity amounts are released to the beneficiary, the amounts are subject to legal process the same as any other property or assets in the hands of a debtor obligor.

Since it is our opinion that the proposed amendment would not "countermand" the existing exemption provisions and would not increase the liability of the retirement plans, it is not necessary to address the other questions you have raised.

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

Attorney General

By Judiciary Committee: Chizek, 31st District, Chairperson; Ashford, 6th District; Korshoj, 16th District; McFarland, 28th District; Nelson, 35th District; and Lynch, 13th District; Morehead, 30th District; Pappas, 42nd District; Scofield, 49th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to examine the conflicting rights of employers to determine standards of conduct for their employees at the workplace and the right of employees to conduct their private lives with regard to the use of alcohol and drugs. Drug and alcohol testing is often conducted as a condition of and during the course of employment. Both employees and employers are concerned about the effects of drug and alcohol intoxication and impairment on safety in the workplace. They are also concerned that the testing procedures and chain of custody are accomplished in a method which guards against mistake, happenstance, and inaccurate or incomplete test results.

The study proposed by this resolution would examine the level of ingestion of alcohol, prescription drugs, and nonprescription drugs, which according to the most recent available scientific information, would cause impairment of the employees duties in the workplace in light of the particular industry which the employee works and the functions performed. The study would also examine and determine what function or role, if any, the State of Nebraska and its subdivisions should assume in implementing drug and alcohol standards for private and public employers.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

By Judiciary Committee: Chizek, 31st District, Chairperson; Conway, 17th District; Korshoj, 16th District; McFarland, 28th District; Nelson, 35th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to determine whether the laws of the State of Nebraska pertaining to Nebraska civil procedure should be amended to conform to the practices and procedures of the federal courts. Citizens, lawyers, and judges must use the civil procedures of Nebraska courts, which have been in place for generations while the federal civil procedures have been revamped on an ongoing basis by the federal judiciary and Congress. It is a concern to the citizens, lawyers, and judges of Nebraska that the procedures and rules of practice of the Nebraska civil procedures often conflict with the federal court procedures and may cause confusion and inefficiency in the courts and hinder justice.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

PURPOSE: Nebraska legislators have been faced with various proposals each recent legislative session to modify our state's comparative fault statutes, the related doctrine of joint and several liability, and the collateral source rule. 1. That the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

whether the gambling laws of this state reflect the community standards within which they are enforced. Additionally, there is a need to determine whether the technical legal standards set forth in the gambling statutes and the procedures pertaining to such statutes fairly and accurately describe the conduct prohibited and the responsibility of law enforcement officers and prosecutors in implementing such statutes and procedures.

The purpose of this study is to review these concerns with the gambling statutes of the State of Nebraska.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 124.

Introduced by Rogers, 41st District.

PURPOSE: The maintenance of public buildings is a substantial and continuing expense at all levels of government in the State of Nebraska. Many large public buildings are constructed with flat roofs which are prone to damage and deterioration due to the action of water and weather. Premature replacement of such roofs presents a backbreaking expense to small towns and other divisions of government.

The purpose of this study is to determine if there is a method to ensure that roofs are designed to prevent as much as possible the deterioration caused by the freezing and thawing of standing water and to eliminate undue maintenance and repair costs for this state's taxpayers.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall study the feasibility of setting standards for construction and drainage of roofs of buildings built and maintained by the public funds in the State of Nebraska.

2. That such committee shall consult with architects, engineers, and representatives of municipal, county, and state government to determine the scope of the problem, develop guidelines for flat roof construction, determine the size and type of buildings which should be subject to such regulation, and identify the most effective means of enforcing such construction standards for public buildings in Nebraska.

3. That such committee prepare a report to be submitted to the Legislature by December 1, 1987, which summarizes the study and recommends solutions.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 125.

Introduced by Coordsen, 32nd District.

PURPOSE: The Department of Insurance is given the statutory responsibility to promote the public welfare by regulating insurance rates to ensure that they are not excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory. Within the past few years, the cost of certain types of liability insurance, including professional errors and omissions liability insurance, liability insurance for day car centers, liability insurance for political subdivisions, and products or completed operations liability insurance, has increased dramatically for many Nebraska policyholders. Nebraska policyholders who have experienced increased premiums and decreased coverages in liability insurance often have had no claims against their insurance policies, and they have received no suitable explanations for increased premiums and decreased coverage from their liability insurance carrier.

The 1987 Nebraska Legislature had before it a series of legislative bills offered in response to the plea of Nebraska policyholders to do something about liability insurance rates. The various insurance carriers who sell liability insurance in Nebraska have information concerning losses, premiums, and other pertinent factors which would be of benefit to the Department of Insurance and to the Legislature in determining whether the liability insurance rates charged by those carriers are not excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory.

The purpose for this resolution is to study the types of information already available from insurance carriers and to study the mechanisms available to the Department of Insurance for collecting and analyzing information with regard to losses, premiums, and other factors. The study should also include suggestions for reporting appropriate information to the Legislature so the members may have more facts before them when they are next asked to deliberate on issues regarding insurance, particularly liability insurance.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee of the Legislature be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution. When conducting this study, the committee is directed to work with the Department of Insurance.

2. That the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 130.

Introduced by Rupp, 22nd District.

PURPOSE: The incidence of attempts to recall public officials appears to be increasing, and any abuse of the recall process has serious implications for representative democracy. The possibility of recall may have a more detrimental impact on some public offices than others. The recall procedure should be available to citizens whenever a government official's performance in office threatens to bring discredit on the office or impedes the efficient functioning of government but the recall procedure should not be available to be used by citizens to harass public officials on the basis of personality, administrative style, or any other factors which reflect administrative judgment. The purpose of this resolution is to study the recall process at all levels of government with an eye towards (1) developing statutory criteria specifying the types of actions that could make a public official subject to recall and (2) determining whether some public offices should be exempt from recall.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 131.

Introduced by Rupp, 22nd District.

PURPOSE: It is in the best interests of the State of Nebraska that the land under the control of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds be utilized only in accordance with sound conservation practices and that, within the context of sound conservation practices, the maximum return is obtained from such land. The purpose of this resolution is to study the administration of school lands in the state with the goal of (1) identifying all such lands, (2) determining how the lands are being used, (3) determining whether sound conservation practices are being utilized by individuals leasing the lands, (4) determining whether the school districts are receiving the maximum return possible from the lands, and (5) ensuring that the administration of the lands is undertaken with the goal of maximizing return and conserving the land.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a Standing Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

14 and which write such insurance in less than thirty-one 15 counties in Nebraska shall not write any policy for an

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 144.

Introduced by Health and Human Services Committee: Wesely, 26th District, Chairperson; Beyer, 3rd District; Goodrich, 20th District; Lynch, 13th District; Morehead, 30th District; Pappas, 42nd District.

PURPOSE: Securing the delivery of appropriate services for persons with mental retardation constitutes a significant commitment by the state. Part of the state's commitment involves the continuing attempt to serve all persons with mental retardation in programs appropriate to the individual and, whenever possible, in community-based settings. In continually striving to improve the system, the Legislature has had the opportunity to examine new ideas and various alternatives, with the hope of finding a better plan. During the 1987 Legislature, several bills were introduced which addressed new concepts.

Because of the complexity of the issues in those bills which included the transfer of ICF/MR residents into community programs, a bid-for-services system of payment for community-based services and others, those topics should be part of a comprehensive study of the mental retardation delivery system. This resolution proposes to study the mental retardation services delivery system, with specific emphasis upon the issues addressed in LB 556, LB 693, LB 259, LB 668, and LB 195.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 150.

Introduced by Schmit, 23rd District; Moore, 24th District; Pappas, 42nd District.

Purpose: The University of Nebraska Medical Center became affiliated with the university system in 1902 and has throughout the years provided health care services for the citizens of the state. The University of Nebraska Medical Center provides educational opportunities in medicine, nursing, and allied health, dentistry, and pharmacy programs which are currently being duplicated by a private medical college for substantially less money. The statewide hospital occupancy rate has decreased by twenty-eight per cent over the last five years and the occupancy rate for the University of Nebraska Medical Center has decreased by thirty-two per cent with a fifteen percent decrease in patient volume over the last five years. The total budget for the University of Nebraska Medical Center has increased from $127,800,000 in 1983-84 to $168,600,000 for 1986-87 while the enrollment has decreased by more than two hundred students during the same period.

The purpose of this resolution is to:

(1) Identify and examine those programs at the University of Nebraska Medical Center currently being offered by the Creighton University Medical School;

(2) Determine the feasibility of eliminating those programs offered by the University of Nebraska Medical Center that are currently being duplicated by the Creighton University Medical School; and with the Creighton University Medical School for those programs which are being duplicated.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 160.

Introduced by Conway, 17th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study the funding of higher education in Nebraska. Postsecondary education is and has always been a significant contributor to the building of Nebraska's economy and culture. Nebraskans have long recognized that it is highly desirable to support postsecondary education through a university system, state college system, and system of technical community colleges. State aid is an important element in the funding mixture supporting higher education in Nebraska. There is a need for adequate support and efficient allocation of funding sources to all parts of Nebraska's higher education system.

Such study should include, but not be limited to:

- (1) An inventory of current and past funding policies;
- (2) A comparison of Nebraska's system of higher education funding with alternative methods utilized in other states; and
- (3) A projection of future higher education funding needs and Nebraska's ability to fulfill them.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a special committee of the Legislature shall be designated by the Executive Board to conduct a priority select interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

Opinion No. 87070

DATE: May 12, 1987

SUBJECT: The Legality of Closed Primary Elections in Light of Recent Decisions by the United States Supreme Court

REQUESTED BY: Senator Lee Rupp

Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General

SUMMARY OF OPINION

Must independent voters in Nebraska, who are qualified and allowed to vote in our nonpartisan legislative primaries, also be allowed to vote in our partisan congressional and senatorial primaries? Yes. Qualified independent voters in Nebraska must be allowed to vote in partisan congressional primary elections. This conclusion is based primarily upon the 1986 United States Supreme Court Tashjian v. Republican Party of Connecticut decision, which holds:

(a) The United States Constitution Qualifications Clause requires that all of those allowed to vote for the more numerous branch of the state legislature (in Nebraska, our unique nonpartisan unicameral) must also be allowed to vote in congressional elections.

(b) This requirement applies to primary as well as general elections. Therefore, it requires that qualified independent voters who vote in the Nebraska primary nonpartisan unicameral elections must also be allowed to vote in the Nebraska primary partisan congressional elections.

DETAILED OPINION

You have asked whether a recent United States Supreme Court decision {Tashjian v. Republican Party of Connecticut, 93 L.Ed.2d 514, 107 S.Ct. 544 (1986)} requires that independent voters in Nebraska, who are qualified and permitted to vote in our nonpartisan legislative primaries, must be allowed to vote in our partisan congressional and senatorial primaries.

We have reviewed the Tashjian decision together with other applicable law, and have concluded that the answer to your question must be yes. Tashjian does require that independent voters allowed to cast ballots in our nonpartisan legislative primaries also must be allowed to vote in our partisan congressional primaries.

I. Our legal reasoning.

(1) The Tashjian case involved a Connecticut statute which allowed only party members to vote in a primary election for a nomination to public office by a major political party. Contrary to that statute, the state's Republican Party adopted a rule which attempted to permit independent voters to vote in the party's primaries for federal and statewide public offices but which remained silent as to the party's primaries for nominations for the state legislature.

(a) The Republican Party then challenged the state statute in federal district court, and the district court granted summary judgment in favor of the Party.

(b) On appeal, the United States Supreme Court affirmed the judgment of the district court which struck down the state statute.

(c) Among other things, the Supreme Court held that the Qualifications Clause contained in Article I, § 2 and the Seventeenth Amendment of the United States Constitution are applicable to primary elections in precisely the same fashion that they apply to general congressional elections.

(d) The court also held that those constitutional provisions require that all those qualified to participate in the selection of members of the more numerous branch of the state Legislature must also be qualified to participate in the election of Senators and Members of the House of Representatives.

(2) Under our unique nonpartisan, unicameral legislative system, our state statutes provide that independent voters may participate in primaries for the selection of state senators. However, those same statutes do not allow independent voters to cast ballots in the partisan primary elections for the Senate and for the House of Representatives. Therefore, our current primary system conflicts with the holding of the Tashjian case.

(3) In Tashjian, the Supreme Court began its analysis of the qualifications issue by discussing the purpose in enacting the first Qualifications Clause. The court determined that the purpose of the Qualifications Clause was actually increased federal suffrage, and the Court stated, "Far from being a device to limit the federal suffrage, the Qualifications Clause was intended by the Framers to prevent the mischief which would arise if state voters found themselves disqualified from participation in federal elections." 93 L.Ed.2d at 532. The Court went on to state,

The fundamental purpose of the Qualifications Clauses contained in Article I, § 2, and the Seventeenth Amendment is satisfied if all those qualified to participate in the selection of members of the more numerous branch of the state legislature are also qualified to participate in the election of Senators and Members of the House of Representatives.

Our conclusion that these provisions do not require a perfect symmetry of voter qualifications in state and federal legislative elections takes additional support from the fact that we have not previously required such absolute symmetry when the federal franchise has been expanded. . . .

We hold that the implementation of the Party rule does not violate the Qualifications Clause or the Seventeenth Amendment because it does not disenfranchise any voter in a federal election who is qualified to vote in a primary or general election for the more numerous house of the state legislature.

93 L.Ed.2d at 532, 533 (Emphasis added).

(4) It therefore appears clear that the Qualification Clause and the Seventeenth Amendment of the United States Constitution do not require that voter qualifications for the state Legislature and for the United States Congress be identical if voter qualifications for the congressional elections are expanded. However, it appears clear that a statute which would reduce the persons qualified to vote in the congressional elections in comparison to those qualified to vote in the elections for the state Legislature would be questionable under the Tashjian analysis. The latter situation is exactly that which we face under our current Nebraska statutes. Independent voters in Nebraska can participate in the primary elections for our state Legislature. They cannot, however, participate in the partisan primaries for selection of candidates for the House of Representatives and for the United States Senate.

(5) Our research has disclosed very little additional law about this issue. Our own Nebraska Supreme Court has not dealt with this specific question, although it has indicated that in the exercise of the right of suffrage, statutes are to be construed liberally in favor of the voter. Shaw v. Stewart, 115 Neb. 315, 212 N.W. 760 (1927). This holding would support the notion that statutes which unduly restrict those who shall be allowed to vote are suspect.

(6) In addition, there are a number of cases which deal with the legitimacy of state regulation of the voting process. For example, in Rosario v. Rockefeller, 410 U.S. 752 (1973), the United States Supreme Court upheld primary election registration requirements designed to prevent party fragmentation and interparty raiding. In these various cases, it is clear that the right of suffrage is a fundamental right, and that the state must demonstrate a compelling interest which is addressed by the regulatory statute in question in order for that statute to have legitimacy. Libertarian Party of Nebraska v. Beermann, 598 F.Supp. 57 (D.Neb. 1984).

(7) In any event, the real question in the present instance is not whether the state has unduly burdened the primary election process in Nebraska, but rather whether our statutory framework complies with the Qualifications Clauses of the United States Constitution as they are explained in the Tashjian decision. As the Supreme Court has said on at least one earlier occasion,

The States in prescribing the qualifications of voters for the most numerous branch of their own Legislatures, do not do this with reference to the election for members of Congress. . . . They define who are to vote for the popular branch of their own Legislature, and the Constitution of the United States says the same person shall vote for members of Congress in that State. It adopts the qualification thus furnished as the qualification of its own electors for members of Congress. In the matter of Jasper Yarbrough, 110 U.S. 651, 663 (1884) (Emphasis added).

(8) On the basis of the Tashjian decision and on the general law supporting expanded suffrage, it is therefore our view that our current statutory framework which does not allow independent voters to vote in the partisan primary elections for Congress conflicts with the Qualifications Clauses of the United States Constitution. It is further our view that those portions of the federal Constitution require that independent voters who vote in the nonpartisan primary for the Legislature should be given whichever partisan ballot they desire for the partisan congressional elections.

II. Where does this leave us?

You have asked whether or not current Nebraska election laws conflict with the recent United States Supreme Court Tashjian ruling. We have answered you by stating and explaining our conclusion that our laws do conflict with this ruling. Perhaps we should stop there. However, because of the significance and urgency of this issue, it may be helpful if we comment upon related legal concerns and share with you our thoughts about precisely what legal options the Legislature, political parties and people of Nebraska have as a result of this significant United States Supreme Court decision:

(1) Humility and experience both teach us that our legal opinion here may be wrong. Others may reach different conclusions. However, we do not consider this a close case. In our judgment the Tashjian Case is clear in what it says and thus it is clear how it affects our unique Nebraska situation.

(2) Tashjian was a 5-4 Supreme Court decision. And so it is always possible that a future Court (with different members) might rule otherwise. But, irrespective of this possibility, we must respect and adhere to the law as it now is, not as it might be at some future undefined time. To proceed in any other fashion would result in legal anarchy.

(3) Timing is important here. We have primary elections next year and so compliance in some form with the requirements of this decision should be addressed promptly. A failure to comply could cast some legal shadows on the 1988 Nebraska primary congressional elections.

(4) What are the actual legal options for the Legislature, the political parties and the people of Nebraska?

(a) The Legislature could amend our state election laws so as to allow independents to vote in partisan congressional primaries. Legislation which merely gives the parties the option to let independents so vote would not meet the Tashjian case requirements. The case requires that the independents must be allowed to so vote. It is important to remember that the Tashjian Case relates to federal congressional elections only. It does not affect the partisan elections of state officeholders, such as the Governor and Secretary of State.

(b) Nebraska could change to a partisan legislature. Doing this would require a state constitutional amendment.

(c) Nebraska could do away with direct partisan primary Congressional elections. The parties themselves, through procedures they would establish, would then designate nominees for the general election. This would replace the present direct vote of the people nomination system. Doing this would require statutory changes.

III. Concluding thoughts.

(1) This Tashjian Case decision raises truly significant public policy and political science issues. For example, its effect upon an established and effective two-party governmental system is of concern to many. It also raises questions about nonpartisanship in the legislature, the policies and procedures of the major political parties, and other related concerns. On all of these questions we quite properly express no opinion. Our task here has been to interpret the meaning and effects of the law and nothing else. How to react to the requirements of the law is the province of the people and their elected representatives.

(2) Special recognition should be given to Ms. Cynthia Johnson, Legal Counsel for the Legislature's Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee. Ms. Johnson, a wise and constructive attorney, studied, analyzed and effectively brought this important issue to the attention of all of us.

(3) As a personal matter, I particularly appreciate the substantial assistance on this issue provided by Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General and Chief of our Department of Justice General Legal Services Section, and Chief Deputy Attorney General A. Eugene Crump.

Perhaps because of the difficult policy decisions the law confronts us with here, we find ourselves a fronte praecipitium a tergo lupi (literally "a precipice in front, wolves behind;" i.e. between a rock and a hard place).

Sincerely,

ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

RESOLUTIONS*LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 162.

Introduced by Pappas, 42nd District; Labedz, 5th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to undertake a study and make recommendations to the Legislature concerning the need for lifeline telephone service in Nebraska and, if a need is found, to develop proposed legislation to meet this need. This study shall address the following issues:

(1) Whether the preservation of universal local exchange basic telephone service and the provision of such service at reasonable rates is being jeopardized by changes in the industry resulting from the divestiture of AT&T, changes in federal and state regulations, and the concomitant introduction of competition;

(2) The extent to which certain individuals and families may need assistance in remaining on the telecommunications network. This analysis should look at the pattern of prices and the availability and quality of service among various economic and demographic groups in Nebraska to identify the characteristics and size of the population which may require assistance. Particular attention shall be given to analyzing the effects of telephone price increases on Nebraska's elderly citizens, persons on fixed incomes, and rural users;

(3) To review federal requirements for matching assistance to lifeline programs and to review the lifeline proposals that have been considered or enacted in other states, with a view of defining those programs which have been most successful in meeting the goal of universal service; and

(4) To define eligibility requirements, funding mechanisms, and administration of a lifeline program if the need for a program is found.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 172.

Introduced by Rogers, 41st District.

PURPOSE: In recent years, volunteer rescue squads have come under increasing pressure from rising costs of support and insurance, a shrinking pool of volunteers, and increasingly sophisticated rescue techniques. These pressures have led to a need to study the emergency medical services system in Nebraska to determine the availability of volunteers, the level of training needed by ambulance technicians, the existence of problems communities face in staffing, funding, and insuring rescue squads, changes in regulations of the Department of Health or Board of Ambulance Advisors that may be needed, the scope of duties of volunteers other than emergency rescues, and other problems associated with the emergency medical services system statewide.

1. That the Health and Human Services Committee and the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee be designated to carry out this study.

2. That the committees consult with the Emergency Medical Services Division of the Department of Health, Volunteer Firefighters Association, the Nebraska Emergency Medical Technician Association, the Board of Ambulance Advisors, the Nebraska Association of County Officials, the League of Municipalities, and other persons necessary to gather the information needed to determine if changes are desirable to make Nebraska's emergency medical services providers more responsive or better trained, to improve support for volunteers, or to increase the pool of volunteers.

3. That part of the interim study involve a demographic study of current emergency medical services volunteers, including age, sex, occupation, education, length of service, and geographic location to determine patterns of involvement that may be altered to increase the number of volunteers.

4. That part of the study be directed to identifying the cost to the average community of supporting a volunteer rescue unit, including equipment, maintenance, training, insurance, and other support.

5. That the study survey emergency medical training and recruitment systems in other states to search for ideas which may be applied to improve Nebraska's system.

6. That a copy of this report and findings or recommendations of the committees be submitted to the Legislature by December 10, 1987.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is the pursuit of educational excellence in the State of Nebraska. In order to provide direction toward the goal of excellence, priority should be given to enhancing the educational profession, particularly teacher education programs and paying greater attention to educational outcomes rather than inputs. The study will include, but not be limited to:

(1) Identification of the providers of educational services in the state and their functional role in the delivery system of elementary, secondary and postsecondary education;

(2) Development of a history of legislation relating to educational excellence which has been passed in the state and assessment of its impact;

(3) Examination of research studies on educational excellence and reform;

(4) Exploration of the possibility of collaborating with other states on research projects associated with educational excellence;

(5) Evaluation of the outcome of states participating in the National Network for Educational Reform which is a coalition of partnerships involving colleges, universities and school districts;

(6) Utilization of the expertise of professionals, particularly classroom teachers, in the field of education, students, and citizens to identify areas in need of enhancements and possible methods to bring about desired changes.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a special committee of the Legislature shall be designated by the Executive Board to conduct a priority select interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87072

DATE: May 12, 1987

SUBJECT: Article XVI, Section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution; may the Legislature propose a state constitutional amendment by legislative bill; what is the governor's authority in the constitutional amendment process?

REQUESTED BY: Senator Elroy Hefner
Nebraska Unicameral

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Dale A. Comer, Assistant Attorney General

Article XVI, Section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution provides, in pertinent part:

The Legislature may propose amendments to this Constitution. If the same be agreed to by three-fifths of the members elected to the Legislature, such proposed amendments shall be entered on the journal, with yeas and nays, and published once each week for three consecutive weeks, in at least one newspaper in each county, where a newspaper is published, immediately preceding the next election of members of the Legislature or a special election called by the vote of four-fifths of the members elected to the Legislature for the purpose of submitting such proposed amendments to the electors. At such election said amendments shall be submitted to the electors for approval or rejection upon a ballot separate from that upon which the names of candidates appear.

You now call our attention to LB 421 with its standing committee amendments which strike the original sections of the bill and insert provisions to place an amendment to the State Constitution upon the ballot. You ask a series of questions concerning the constitutional amendment process including:

- a. May the Legislature place an amendment to the State Constitution on the ballot by means of a legislative bill?
- b. How many votes are needed for such legislation to pass?
- c. What authority, if any, does the governor have in the constitutional amendment process?

Your final question includes a query as to whether a legislative bill involving a constitutional amendment must be submitted to the governor upon final passage, and whether the governor has authority to veto or sign such a legislative bill. Our conclusions are set out below.

Almost 100 years ago, our Supreme Court considered a situation involving questions similar, in great part, to the questions which you have raised. In In Re Senate File 31, 25 Neb. 864, 41 N.W. 981 (1889), the Court considered the propriety of procedures surrounding the passage, by both houses of our then two-house Legislature, of a legislative bill which proposed two amendments to the State Constitution. The constitutional provision governing amendment by legislative initiative in 1889 was substantially identical to Article XVI, Section 1 of our current State Constitution with the exception of language which was later changed to accommodate the Unicameral Legislature. As discussed in our opinion at Report of the Attorney General, 1965-66, No. 210 at 339, the court in In Re Senate File No. 31, drew two conclusions which are instructive concerning the issues which you have raised.

First of all, the court in In Re Senate File No. 31, upheld an amendment procedure whereby amendments to the State Constitution were proposed by legislative bill in spite of arguments by opponents of the legislation to the effect that constitutional amendments could not be proposed by bill. Therefore, as noted in our 1966 opinion cited above, it appears that proposed constitutional amendments to our State Constitution can be submitted to the voters by means of a legislative bill or by means of a legislative resolution.

Second, proposals for amendment to the State Constitution contained in a legislative bill apparently need not be submitted to the governor for his or her approval. As the court stated in In Re Senate File No. 31:

It will be conceded that under our constitution, it is unnecessary to submit a proposition to amend the constitution, duly passed by each branch of the legislature, to the governor for his approval, as such proposition is not ordinary legislation. Id. at 877, 41 N.W. at 984.

Indeed, this latter holding is in accord with the general rule in other jurisdictions which holds that resolutions of the Legislature submitting constitutional amendments to the people need not be approved by the governor since the governor is not a party to the amendment function or process. 16 Am.Jur. 2d, Constitutional Law, §40.

As a result, it is our view that the Legislature may place a proposed state constitutional amendment on the ballot by means of a legislative bill so long as the bill is passed by the three-fifths majority required in Article XVI, Section 1 of our State Constitution, or by thirty affirmative votes. Further, it is our view that such a state constitutional amendment need not be presented to the governor upon final passage, and that the governor has no authority to sign or veto the legislative bill containing the amendment.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

This is to inform the honorable members of the Legislature that I have made the following appointment requiring legislative confirmation:

Gary L. Rex, Director of Policy Research and Nebraska Energy Office, 3131 North 75th Court, Lincoln, Nebraska 68507, 464-2837. Term: March 27, 1987 and at the pleasure of the Governor.

This appointment is respectfully submitted for your consideration.

Sincerely,

(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor

KAO:tj

BILL ON FIRST READING

The following bill was read for the first time by title:

LEGISLATIVE BILL 578A. By Haberman, 44th District.

A BILL FOR AN ACT to appropriate funds to aid in carrying out the provisions of Legislative Bill 578, Ninetieth Legislature, First Session, 1987.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 178.

Introduced by Nelson, 35th District; Miller, 37th District.

PURPOSE: To study and investigate problems associated with the proper disposal and cleanup of chemical agents such as herbicides and pesticides. The study shall:

- (1) Explore the need for proper regulation of the disposal of unused agricultural chemical agents;
- (2) Examine recent chemical controversies to determine whether changes are needed to provide better protection from the use and misuse of chemicals; and
- (3) Compare Nebraska's environmental rules and regulations to those of other states.

The study proposed by this resolution is necessary because of the importance of chemical agents to agriculture and of protecting the environment from unnecessary pollution and because of the possible conflict between the use and misuse of chemicals.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature composed of the introducers of this resolution and the members of the Natural Resources Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall receive staff support from the Legislative Research Division and from a staff member of the Department of Environmental Control designated by the Director of Environmental Control.

3. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 179.

Introduced by Remmers, 1st District; Rogers, 41st District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study issues regarding the centralized computer system for the filing of Uniform Commercial Code liens, statutory liens, and effective financing statements and to consider whether amendments in the legislative framework would be appropriate.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 180.

Introduced by Withem, 14th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study alternative methods to accomplish an improved school district structure in Nebraska. Historically, and especially during recent sessions of the Legislature, school district reorganization has been a divisive and emotional issue, yet in recent years, changing demographics and agricultural adjustments have caused an even greater need to address this issue in an objective and equitable manner.

The study should address various alternative strategies to accomplish an educational structure which promotes educational opportunities, assures tax equity, and retains a legitimate role for local school boards. Items which should be studied shall include, but not be limited to:

(1) Revisions in statutes which pertain to the procedures for organizing school districts of all classes;

(2) Structural changes in the school foundation and equalization formula;

(3) State aid and tax incentives to promote and encourage the organization of all property into school districts which offer kindergarten through grade twelve;

(4) Appropriate levels of state and local support for schools;

(5) Revenue sources for support of the schools;

(6) Establishment of consistent, flexible, and challenging standards for all public schools;

(7) Transportation of students, including the cost to consolidated districts and state requirements for aid support; and

(8) Any other factors reasonably related to the issue of school district structure.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature and other interested senators as designated by the committee shall conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the Legislature hereby recognizes the existence and work of a citizen panel which is reviewing and studying the issues of school district structure and support.

3. That the committee will monitor the work of the citizen panel and receive a report from the panel to prepare draft legislation.

4. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 181.

Introduced by Withem, 14th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study school evaluation procedures. Currently local schools and the State Department of Education use a variety of measures and evaluation techniques to assess the effectiveness and performance of school programs. Nebraska rates highly on the national Wall Charts in terms of ACT scores, teacher/pupil ratios, and high school completion. There are, however, within the state, no consistently reliable evaluation models which policy makers at the state and local levels can use to assess school effectiveness or performance.

The Legislature has been awarded a cost-sharing grant by the National Council of State Legislatures to study school evaluation. The study will provide for a thorough examination and assessment of current school evaluation practices, analysis of the current practice in relation to current school effectiveness research, and establishment of a state model for school evaluation.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature and other interested senators designated by the committee shall conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall supervise and direct the proposed study activities contained in the National Council of State Legislatures' grant proposal.

3. That the Education Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 182.

Introduced by Withem, 14th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study the concept of year-round school. The State of Nebraska is increasingly involved in an international economy and must compete on an educational basis with many nations, such as Japan, which provide educational opportunities on an extended calendar basis. The purpose of this study is to examine the adequacy of current Nebraska statutes, sections 79-201.01 to 79-201.09, which allow, but severely restrict, the ability of school districts to offer year-round school.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the Education Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 183.

Introduced by Withem, 14th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study the coordination and governance of higher education systems. Nebraska higher education is composed of several systems of colleges and universities, including the University of Nebraska system, the Nebraska state colleges, the technical community colleges, the independent colleges and universities, and the private vocational colleges. These systems are governed by separate governing boards with minimum state coordination through the Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education.

The purpose of this study is to examine the roles of the Legislature, Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education, Governor, and institutional governing boards in higher education systems governance and coordination. The study should address among others, the following issues:

1. The role of the state government in higher education coordination among the various systems;
2. The governance of public higher education institutions through alternative board structures, including the feasibility of a statewide Board of Regents for all public institutions;
3. Possible areas of coordination including the presentation and adoption of a coordinated budget for all public higher education institutions;
4. The proper role and responsibilities of the Nebraska Coordination Commission for Postsecondary Education; and
5. The role of the state and public institutions in coordination with independent and private institutions.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 184.

Introduced by Judiciary Committee: Chizek, 31st District, Chairperson; Ashford, 6th District; Conway, 17th District; Korshoj, 16th District; Nelson, 35th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is for a study of the welfare of children and families of the State of Nebraska which is a primary concern of the Legislature and citizens of the state.

The Legislature has adopted legislation regarding the timely and proper payment of child support but the federal regulations and judicial decisions concerning child support change from time to time and the Nebraska law needs to reflect those changes. For these reasons, the study should examine the rules and procedures concerning child support enforcement so that federal regulations and the federal and state constitutional requirements are met.

The traditional policy reasons underlying the rules and procedures for the adoption of children have been challenged. Public policy may require that birthfathers be afforded more rights regarding their children. The study should examine both the substantive and procedural laws regarding the adoption of children to ensure fundamental fairness and adherence to constitutional requirements.

Certain juveniles adjudicated as status offenders are on occasion placed in locked facilities designed for adult criminals, which facilities are administered by the Department of Correctional Services. Certain of these juveniles are occasionally placed for diagnostic and clinical evaluations in locked facilities designated for juveniles adjudicated as criminals. There presently appears to be no cost effective alternative for such evaluations. Detention of the noncriminal juvenile status offenders in locked facilities designed for the adult criminal may not be sound public policy. The study should consider (1) the placement of noncriminal juvenile status offenders in such facilities run by the Department of Correctional Services and (2) whether all juveniles should be afforded equal access to appropriate predispositional clinical and diagnostic evaluations.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the Judiciary Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 185.

Introduced by Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee: Remmers, 1st District, Chairperson; Conway, 17th District; Goodrich, 20th District; Harris, 27th District; Lynch, 13th District; Pappas, 42nd District; Schmit, 23rd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study issues concerning the deposit of public funds in various financial institutions, with due regard for the best interests of the citizens of the State of Nebraska. The study should seek the input of interested persons and institutions and should include a comparison of policies governing such deposits in jurisdictions other than Nebraska.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 186.

Introduced by Pappas, 42nd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to propose a study of property taxation of rental property in Nebraska. The study should include, but not be limited to, the following topics:

- (1) Similarities and differences among counties with respect to the assessment and taxation of rental property;
- (2) The taxation of rental property in other states; and

(3) The feasibility of exempting rental property from taxation, and the effect that such an exemption would have on the property tax base as a whole.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Revenue Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 187.

Introduced by Revenue Committee: V. Johnson, 8th District, Chairperson; Haberman, 44th District; Hartnett, 45th District; Landis, 46th District; Peterson, 21st District; Rogers, 41st District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to propose a study of the methods used to finance the maintenance and construction of highways, roads, and streets in Nebraska. The study should include, but not be limited to, the following topics:

- (1) The overall condition of Nebraska thoroughfares;
- (2) Nebraska's reliance on fuel taxes for funding highway projects;
- (3) The use and distribution of highway revenue;
- (4) Alternative revenue sources, including a weight-distance tax on heavy vehicles; and
- (5) Enhancement of current highway revenue sources.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Revenue Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 188.

Introduced by Rupp, 22nd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study Nebraska petition laws as they relate to the signature verification process, with an emphasis on how such process has been carried out in the past and how it can be improved in the future.

This study is needed:

(1) Because there is an increasing use of the petition process by citizens of the state who desire to enact laws, repeal laws enacted by the Legislature, or recall public officials;

(2) To ensure that the verification procedures, under which submitted petitions are analyzed by public officials, are sufficient to ensure the integrity of the petition process; and

(3) To ensure that the public officials charged with analyzing submitted petitions understand the methodologies prescribed for such analysis and that they follow them.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 189.

Introduced by Scofield, 49th District; Schmit, 23rd District; Warner, 25th District; R. Johnson, 34th District; Chizek, 31st District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to undertake a study to examine the current extent of waste regulation and its costs and the extent of legal and financial liability of waste producers and those who dispose of wastes.

This study is necessary because:

(1) The proper disposal of various types of waste has become a serious concern to citizens of the state;

(2) Such public concern requires state agency involvement in regulating current disposal practices and determining potential financial liability for cleanup where waste disposal regulation fails to prevent contamination;

(3) Concerns involving the cost of regulation, the financial liability for waste disposal, and the extent of legal liability of waste producers and those who dispose of such wastes require the Legislature to consider a complex and interrelated set of issues; and

(4) This interrelated set of issues requires the involvement of committees of the Legislature which address issues of legal liability, potential public financial liability, and the extent of natural resources regulation provided by state law.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a joint committee consisting of the Appropriations Committee, the Natural Resources Committee, and the Judiciary Committee shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution. The committee should examine the potential state liability if existing regulatory, legal, and financial mechanisms fail to adequately address waste disposal problems.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 190.

Introduced by Withem, 14th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study the role of education, from elementary through postsecondary and adult retraining, in the economic growth and development strategy of the state. The state competes in national and international forums in business development and promotion. The Legislature should begin to examine the needs of our economy in setting goals and standards for our schools and colleges.

Specifically, the study should address the educational needs of technologically oriented businesses, such as US West. The study should identify what structural changes need to be made in the structure of Nebraska's educational systems in order to encourage the development of research centers in Nebraska.

The study should be comprehensive in scope and suggest strategies for an education-business partnership in economic development and improvements in education.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.
2. That the committee shall appoint a citizen task force composed of educators and representatives of business and industry to meet and provide input to the committee on a joint education-business community development strategy.
3. That the Education Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 191.

Introduced by Withem, 14th District.

PURPOSE: To study the Central Administration of the University of Nebraska. When the administration of University campuses was centralized in 1974, the objective was to provide for effective leadership in higher education for the University of Nebraska, to provide coordination of programs among the campuses, and to encourage cost efficiencies. In practice it is questionable whether the anticipated leadership, coordination, and efficiencies have resulted from the merger.

The purpose of this resolution is to study the feasibility of eliminating Central Administration and returning management of the University to the individual campuses.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the Education Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 192.

Introduced by Schellpeper, 18th District.

PURPOSE: There has been a great deal of concern about the spiraling cost, lessened coverage, and decreased availability of liability insurance. This has affected a number of entities and individuals in a wide variety of areas throughout the state, including political subdivisions, manufacturers, trucking companies, day care centers, and professionals.

Legislation intended to alleviate this problem has focused on two general areas, tort reform and insurance reform. Tort reform legislation has included: Limits on damages; changes in rules concerning collateral sources, comparative fault, joint and several liability, and frivolous lawsuits; and streamlining the litigation process. Insurance reform legislation has included proposals to allow insurance pooling and modification of the Risk Retention Act.

There is a concern about the availability of adequate, usable, and understandable data crucial to a thorough analysis of the liability insurance problem. Reports from the National Conference of State Legislatures disclose that nationwide there has been difficulty obtaining data on many issues central to this problem. Without this and other data, it is difficult to determine whether further changes in our civil litigation system or further changes in insurance regulation are warranted.

This study should include, but not be limited to, the following issues: (1) Whether insurance companies that write liability insurance in Nebraska can and should report certain information to the Department of Insurance concerning the amount and type of claims paid and the extent to which details can be provided; (2) whether changes in the civil litigation system have an effect on the affordability and availability of liability insurance, by examining the experiences of other states which have enacted reforms in their civil litigation laws and by examining legislation recently enacted concerning the civil litigation system of this state; and (3) whether further changes in either the civil litigation system or the regulation of insurance are warranted in light of the information gathered.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a select committee be chosen by the Executive Board of the Nebraska Legislature to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.
2. That staff resources be coordinated by the Legislative Research Division.
3. That the select committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 193.

Introduced by Hall, 7th District.

PURPOSE: The inmates at the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility are currently afforded an opportunity for visitation. Visitation provides for a continuation of the link between the inmate and the community at large, as well as an opportunity to maintain and strengthen the familiar relationship that inmates have with their relatives.

Opportunities for improvement upon inmate visitation should be explored to maximize the beneficial impact visitation can have upon inmates who maintain contact with the community and to provide a network for such inmates' productive participation in society upon release.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to review the current visitation policies of the Department of Correctional Services adult correctional facility.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 194.

Introduced by Withem, 14th District; Moore, 24th District; Baack, 47th District.

PURPOSE: To study student debt and student aid for higher education in Nebraska. As federal programs for student aid fail to keep pace with student need, it is incumbent on the Legislature to examine areas of unmet needs in the state and to investigate alternative proposals to meet those needs.

It is necessary to review policies and programs in other states, including, but not limited to, levels and types of student financial aid programs, tuition levels, and the balance between institutional aid and student aid.

Further, the study should review the beneficiaries of current aid programs and subsidies to determine if reallocation of benefits is feasible. Finally, the study should address and review the State Scholarship Program as currently enacted, the state work study program proposed by Legislative Bill 371, the reallocation of aid to more needy students proposed by Legislative Bill 609, and the tax credit proposed by Legislative Bill 631.

In addition, the study should specifically examine methods to finance education which do not rely on general fund appropriations, such as a tuition prepayment plan, tax-exempt or tax-deferred savings plans, and tax credits, which are being implemented in several states.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Education Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 195.

Introduced by Moore, 24th District.

WHEREAS, the year of 1987 is the centennial year of the Village of Lushton, Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, Lushton was named after a railroad engineer known simply as Mr. Lush; and

WHEREAS, the current residents will begin the centennial celebration activities in this year; and

WHEREAS, those traditions and the heritage that made Nebraska great are still being carried on by the residents of Lushton; and

WHEREAS, the current residents of Lushton deserve special recognition for the contributions that they and their ancestors have made to all areas of the state's development and as well as to Nebraska's spirit itself.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Legislature extend its congratulations and best wishes in this centennial year to those residents of Lushton both past and present, who have built Lushton into a successful and fine community in which to live and will continue to keep the Lushton community strong.

2. That a copy of this resolution be sent to Bert Bussard, Chairperson of the Village Board.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 196.

Introduced by Hartnett, 45th District; Warner, 25th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to examine the role of a sound public infrastructure in providing for economic growth. Such role is recognized in the Nebraska Economic Development Strategy. The strategy report, Building Prosperity, suggests that the creation of wealth requires a substantial commitment and targeting of resources toward agreed-upon goals and the tax capacity and effort necessary to sustain quality infrastructure systems.

Preliminary analysis of the state's infrastructure has been performed by the Department of Economic Development and other state agencies in a report titled "Nebraska Can Work." This report suggests that Nebraskans need to make an effort to improve public infrastructure and that doing so will require a greater commitment to providing financial resources and development of sound management techniques.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a joint committee consisting of the Urban Affairs Committee and Appropriations Committee shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution. The committee shall examine the findings of the "Nebraska Can Work" report to determine their validity. The committee shall conduct a review hearing on the report, request additional information as necessary, and monitor Part II of the Department of Economic Development's ongoing infrastructure study.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 197.

Introduced by Lynch, 13th District.

PURPOSE: In Nebraska, the state and its political subdivisions generally utilize a single contract system when contracting for building construction or a repair project. The single contract system provides for the public awarding authority to directly contract with a general contractor who then contracts with the specialty contractors: Structure and foundation; air conditioning; heating; ventilating; plumbing; and electrical. The public awarding authority does not receive separate bids from the specialty contractors, and many times the architect and engineer representing the public awarding authority do not even meet directly with the specialty contractors but instead channel all information through the general contractor.

Currently, several states, through state statute or administrative ruling, provide for their state and their political subdivisions to use the separate contract system for all or at least some public projects. The separate contract system provides for the public awarding authority to contract with the general contractor and also with the major specialty contractors. Thus, the public awarding authority solicits bid specifications from the general contractor and from the separate categories of specialty contractors.

The purpose of this study is to evaluate the two methods of contracting for building construction and repair projects in order to assess the strengths and weaknesses of each contract system and determine if the State of Nebraska and its political subdivisions would benefit from using the separate contract system for building construction or repair projects.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 200.

Introduced by Moore, 24th District; Abboud, 12th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to propose a study and examination of the role of state governmental agencies to the end that duplication in state government be kept to a minimum.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Health and Human Services Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study on the optional medicaid services that Nebraska is using and how they can be used to their maximum efficiency.

2. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Petersburg Village Board.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 204.

Introduced by Rupp, 22nd District.

PURPOSE: This resolution is for the purpose of proposing a study of the Nebraska election statutes.

The Attorney General has issued an opinion stating that the recent United States Supreme Court ruling in Tashjian v. Republican Party of Connecticut requires Nebraska to allow unaffiliated voters to vote in primary elections for the United States Senate and the United States House of Representatives.

This opinion may carry with it implications that are not readily apparent and which may result in a need for changes in the statutes relating to primary elections. The study should examine Nebraska election statutes in light of the Tashjian opinion, with an eye towards making any necessary changes.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.
2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 205.

Introduced by Baack, 47th District; Rupp, 22nd District.

PURPOSE: The State of Nebraska and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln spend nearly $30 million each year for their energy costs. Whereas Nebraska imports between eighty and ninety per cent of the energy it uses, the cost represents a substantial drain on the state's economy as a whole and the budget in particular. Reducing the amount of tax dollars spent on energy in state buildings would significantly improve the ability of the state to meet funding obligations in other areas.

The State of Iowa recently implemented a conservation program for state-owned buildings which is estimated to cut energy consumption by twenty to twenty-five per cent annually, thereby saving Iowa $10 million per year. This is accomplished by the Iowa State Facilities Improvement Corporation, a public sector version of an energy services company. The Iowa State Facilities Improvement Corporation issues revenue bonds to finance energy improvements which are repaid through energy savings. The type of improvements include caulking, window modification, boiler and chiller replacement, combustion analyzers, and cogeneration. The average payback is five years.

This program to fight high energy costs would allow all state-owned buildings to be made more efficient in a few years. It could save millions of tax dollars and create a major public improvement project without a tax investment by the state.

The intent of this study is to examine the Iowa State Buildings Program and analyze its effectiveness and transferability to the State of Nebraska.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee shall upon conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or the Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 210.

Introduced by R. Johnson, 34th District.

PURPOSE: The printing industry in Nebraska is an important facet of Nebraska's economy. Because in-state and out-of-state printing customers may easily have printing services performed outside the state, the state tax structure which applies to the industry is of utmost importance in order to retain Nebraska's existing printing industry and to attract additional printing business to the state. The purpose of this resolution is to study Nebraska's tax structure as it relates to the printing industry and to propose any additions or revisions necessary to improve such tax structure.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Revenue Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.
2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 211.

Introduced by Landis, 46th District.

PURPOSE: Faculty salaries at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, University of Nebraska at Omaha, University of Nebraska Medical Center, and state colleges have dropped drastically below comparable university salaries. As an example, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln salaries are at the bottom in comparison to its peer group of twelve American Association of Universities Land Grant Institutions and are also at the bottom in comparison to the other Big Eight institutions. Because universities of Nebraska salaries have not kept pace with other institutions of higher learning, the universities of Nebraska have lost an invaluable bargaining chip in retaining good faculty members.

The purpose of this study is to examine ways in which to remedy this growing problem.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 212.

Introduced by Wesely, 26th District.

WHEREAS, Nebraska's economic crisis continues and the need for long-term economic development remains great; and

WHEREAS, the need for the Legislature to continue to develop and evaluate economic development policies continues; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature established the Special Committee on Economic Development to assist in the strengthening of Nebraska's economic development policies; and

WHEREAS, the Special Committee on Economic Development has served as a focus on economic development issues, provided research assistance to existing standing committees, and evaluated the performance and impact of existing and proposed economic development activities and the general business climate for economic development in Nebraska; and

WHEREAS, the work of the Special Committee on Economic Development will be completed at the end of the first session of the Ninetieth Legislature of Nebraska.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Executive Board of the Legislative Council shall designate a Select Committee to include the following persons: (a) the chairperson of the Appropriations Committee; (b) the chairperson of the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee; (c) the chairperson of the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee; (d) the chairperson of the Revenue Committee; (e) the chairperson of the Agriculture Committee; (f) the chairperson of the Education Committee; and (g) any other members the Executive Board may designate.

2. That the Select Committee shall conduct a comprehensive interim study on economic development, including, but not limited to: (a) The development of recommendations for the formation of risk capital in Nebraska; (b) the development of recommendations for strengthening education as it pertains to economic development; (c) evaluate public programs available to assist new business startups, existing business expansions, and existing business restructuring; (d) a continuation of the 1986 interim performance review of economic development programs in Nebraska; and (e) such other economic development issues the committee deems appropriate.

3. That the Select Committee shall receive staff support from the Legislative Fiscal Office, Legislative Research Office, and such other sources as determined by the Executive Board.

4. That the Select Committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 213.

Introduced by Wesely, 26th District.

PURPOSE: There are over thirteen hundred retired teachers in Nebraska with at least twenty-five years of public service who receive less than two hundred fifty dollars per month in retirement benefits. Many of Nebraska's retired teachers retired many years ago when both salaries and retirement benefits were very low. The retirement benefits of these dedicated teachers have remained low despite rapidly increasing costs-of-living. Nebraska's retired teachers have provided a great public service for our state and have contributed to the development of a quality educational system of which all Nebraskans can be proud.

The purpose of this resolution is to study the retirement benefits of such teachers to determine whether such benefits are adequate.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Nebraska Retirement Systems Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 214.

Introduced by Wesely, 26th District.

PURPOSE: The State of Nebraska is affected fiscally and socially by the need for and provision of human service programs and by the health status of its citizens. These human service and health issues include, but are not limited to: Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome; certificate of need; cost containment for health care services; day care for children; discipline for chemically impaired professionals; emergency medical services; health care for the medically indigent; laboratory testing; long-term care for the elderly; maternal and infant care; medical record access; mental health; substance abuse; poverty; regulation of new health professions; rural health care availability; teenage pregnancy; and work and training mandates for recipients of public aid. These issues have been reviewed and continue to need review by the Legislature to determine the appropriate legislative responses.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 215.

Introduced by Wesely, 26th District.

PURPOSE: School boards are responsible for dealing with student disciplinary problems. State statutes and any changes to such statutes may greatly affect a school board's ability to deal consistently and adequately with disciplinary situations. The purpose of this resolution is to study state statutes relating to student discipline and revise such statutes as may be necessary to allow all school boards to deal more effectively with disciplinary problems.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 216.

Introduced by Schmit, 23rd District; Beyer, 3rd District; Dierks, 40th District; Korshoj, 16th District; Moore, 24th District; Wehrbein, 2nd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study the procedures currently being implemented by the materiel division of the Department of Administrative Services in the identification and disposal of surplus state property. Particular attention shall be given to the procedure whereby surplus property is received from agencies and sold to either other agencies or political subdivisions or sold at public auction.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a select committee appointed by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the select committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 217.

Introduced by Pirsch, 10th District.

PURPOSE: Volunteer workers play a significant and valuable role in providing services and assistance to Nebraskans. Responsibility for injury inadvertently caused to volunteers or to others in the course of volunteer activities and the associated court costs are a growing concern not only to the volunteers themselves, but to agencies and organizations utilizing volunteers. Potential exposure to liability may have a detrimental effect on the participation of such persons in such activities. Economic conditions mandate the need for continued and increased utilization of volunteer services statewide.

The purpose of this resolution is to conduct a comprehensive review which addresses the legal, social, and economic issues surrounding volunteer liability. The study shall further examine the feasibility of providing reasonable protection to the volunteer worker while at the same time protecting the general public. The study shall place particular emphasis upon the following topics:

(1) The various types of volunteer work, volunteer workers, and organizations utilizing volunteer workers;

(2) Action taken by other states which have provided immunity for volunteer workers or have set standards for volunteer programs to reduce the likelihood that volunteers will be held personally liable;

(3) The impact that protection of volunteer workers would have upon the various organizations which utilize volunteer workers as well as the general public; and

(4) The costs and feasibility of extending workers' compensation and liability coverage to volunteers working within state government.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislature Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 218.

Introduced by Lamb, 43rd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to assess the feasibility of having an enhanced 911 emergency system across the state. The state of the current technology could enable the 911 operator to lock the location of the call into the 911 system. Such an ability would enable rescuers to respond more quickly in instances when the emergency call is disconnected, when no information is given, or when misinformation is given.

The study shall include, but not be limited to:

(1) An assessment of the necessity of having such a system in Nebraska;

(2) An examination of how such a system has worked in other areas;

(3) An examination of the technology required and associated cost; and

(4) How such a system could or should be paid for.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 219.

Introduced by Hall, 7th District.

PURPOSE: To study mass transit aid. This study is needed because:

(1) Federal and state cutbacks in mass transit aid place additional pressure on local governmental funding of transportation systems throughout the state;

(2) The transportation needs of the elderly, the poor, and the young are being threatened by these additional cutbacks; and

(3) An evaluation of federal and state funding would be beneficial to evaluate the adequacy of the funding of these programs.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Appropriations Committee shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 220.

Introduced by Schmit, 23rd District; Elmer, 38th District; Schellpeper, 18th District; Wesely, 26th District; Weihing, 48th District; Scofield, 49th District; Lamb, 43rd District; Hall, 7th District; Conway, 17th District; R. Johnson, 34th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to study issues regarding storage, transportation, management, and disposal of waste products and materials in the State of Nebraska.

The study shall include, but not be limited to:

(1) Issues related to low-level radioactive waste, including current compact deliberations, facility financing and insurance, third-party liability, and other related issues;

(2) Solid waste disposal, with particular attention to facility financing;

(3) Hazardous waste disposal, with particular attention to the issue of local input and control;

(4) Recycling of waste products;

(5) Usage of certain returnable containers;

(6) Superfund;

(7) Ground and surface water pollution issues;

(8) Waste water treatment; and

(9) Any other related issues deemed appropriate.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Natural Resources Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee may upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 221.

Introduced by Schmit, 23rd District; Elmer, 38th District; Dierks, 40th District; Weihing, 48th District; Lamb, 43rd District; Hall, 7th District; R. Johnson, 34th District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to authorize a study of issues relating to energy usage in the State of Nebraska.

The study shall include, but not be limited to:

- (1) The role and structure of public power in Nebraska;
- (2) The feasibility of alternative fuel sources for motor vehicles as well as stationary power plants;
- (3) Issues relating to the development, financing, and promotion of the ethanol fuels industry;
- (4) Future demands for energy and the state's ability to meet those demands; and
- (5) Any other related issues deemed relevant.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Natural Resources Committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

2. That the committee may upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion No. 87075

DATE: May 15, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 775 - Employment and Investment Growth Act

REQUESTED BY: Senator Ernest Chambers
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion concerning the constitutionality of a portion of LB 775, as amended. Specifically, your question concerns whether the creation of a separate class of exempt personal property, consisting of certain aircraft or computer equipment used in connection with qualified projects involving an investment of at least ten million dollars in qualified property and the hiring of at least one hundred new employees, constitutes invalid special class legislation prohibited under Article III, Section 18, of the Nebraska Constitution.

If a law operates alike on all persons or localities of a class or affects equally all persons who come within its operation, it is not deemed a "special" law within the meaning of the Constitution. The enactment of legislation which applies to all persons within a specified class is permissible, provided the classification rests upon a reasonable basis. State ex rel. Douglas v. Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, 204 Neb. 445, 283 N.W.2d 12 (1979); State ex rel. Johnson v. Consumers Public Power District, 143 Neb. 753, 10 N.W.2d 784 (1943); Bauer v. State Game, Forestation and Park Commission, 138 Neb. 436, 293 N.W. 282 (1940); State v. Stuhl, 52 Neb. 209, 71 N.W. 94 (1897).

Section 5(2) of LB 775 provides a 15 year tax exemption on the class of personal property consisting of certain aircraft or business computers used in connection with qualified projects involving an investment of at least ten million dollars in qualified property and the hiring of at least one hundred new employees. The benefit of the exemption provided under this subsection is available to any taxpayer entering into an agreement with Tax Commissioner pursuant to the requirements imposed under this provision. Under these circumstances, the personal property tax exemption provided under Section 5(2) would not be viewed as a special law within the prohibition contained in Article III, Section 18, as it applies equally to and operates uniformly upon all members of the class established.

The question remaining for consideration is whether a reasonable basis exists to support the classification established under this provision.

In Stahmer v. State, 192 Neb. 63, 218 N.W.2d 893 (1974), the Nebraska Supreme Court addressed the scope of the Legislature's authority to classify or exempt personal property from taxation under Art. VIII, Section 2. The plaintiffs in Stahmer challenged exemptions granted by the Legislature pertaining to personal property used in agricultural production, the products thereof, and business inventories, contending, in part, that the statutes violated Art. III, Section 18, prohibiting unreasonable class legislation, and Art. VIII, Section 1, requiring uniform taxation. In rejecting these contentions, the Court stated:

The 1970 amendment of Art. VIII, Section 2, to provide "The Legislature may classify personal property in such manner as it sees fit, and may exempt any of such classes, or may exempt all personal property from taxation" specifically confers broad authority on the Legislature to classify and exempt personal property from taxation. (Emphasis supplied.) The amended portion of Article VIII, Section 2, represents a special constitutional provision adopted later than, and with full knowledge of, the constitutional provisions relied on by plaintiffs. Within the plain ambit of its meaning and purpose it stands supreme and effectively negates plaintiffs' contentions, with the possible exception of the one dealing with the reasonableness of the classifications exempted.

* * *

In view of the recent amendment of Art. VIII, Section 2, Constitution, it is doubtful if the statutes are subject to challenge as violating Art. III, Section 18, dealing with special laws, or Art. VIII, Section 1, requiring uniform taxation. In any event, we do not find the classifications set forth in the act to be unreasonable. "Ability to bear the burden of the tax is everywhere recognized as a reasonable ground on which to base a classification in tax measures. Classification for tax purposes may be based on the manner of conducting business, and business conducted in one manner may be taxed differently from business conducted in another manner. The purpose for which property is kept or used has long been a recognized, if not a favorite, basis for distinction in taxation. The view has also been taken that reasonable discrimination with respect to tax matters to promote fair competitive conditions, equalize economic advantages, or encourage particular industries from consideration of public policy is lawful." 51 Am.Jur., Taxation, Section 182, p. 242.

Id. at 67-68, 218 N.W.2d at 896.

Section 2 of LB 775 manifests an intent

. . . to make revisions in Nebraska's tax structure in order to promote the general health, safety, and welfare of the people of the State of Nebraska by encouraging new businesses and aiding in their expansion, promoting the creation and retention of new jobs in Nebraska, and attracting and retaining investment capital in the state of Nebraska.

On numerous occasions, courts have upheld the constitutionality of tax exemptions designed to encourage the development of new industry and the relocation or expansion of existing industries. Allied Stores of Ohio v. Bowers, 358 U.S. 522 (1959); State ex. rel. Tomasic v. Kansas City, 230 Kan. 404, 636 P.2d 760 (1981). See also DeArmond v. Alaska State Development Corp. 376 P.2d 717 (Alaska 1962); Green v. The City of Mt. Pleasant, 256 Iowa 1184, 131 N.W.2d 5 (1964); Village of Deming v. Hosdreg Co., 62 N.M. 18, 303 P.2d 920 (1956). See generally Note, Legal Limitations on Public Inducements to Industrial Location, 59 Colum.L.Rev. 618 (1959). In State ex rel. Tomasic v. Kansas City, supra, the court, in upholding the reasonableness of a classification providing tax exemptions to industrial use facilities to be established within the state, stated:

Favorable tax treatment for industrial-use facilities under the Act as amended in 1961 will undoubtedly promote the development of new industries within the state as well as encourage the retention of old and so bears a rational relationship to the otherwise legitimate purpose of the Act.

{T}he legislature, in emphasizing economic development as a means of promoting the general welfare of the state, has given that economic development priority as a matter of public policy in the Act as amended in 1981. To further economic development of the state, the legislature has attempted to provide the most favorable, constitutionally permissible, conditions to attract industry to the state and to retain industrial facilities currently operating in the state. This court is cognizant of the public interest in such economic development. 230 Kan. at __ 636, P.2d at 778.

As was noted, one of the purposes of LB 775 is to attract and retain in Nebraska businesses which will contribute to the economic growth and development of the state through capital investment and the creation of new employment opportunities. These certainly constitute legitimate legislative purposes, and we cannot conclude that the separate classification for exemption purposes of the items of personal property used in qualified projects under Section 5(2) is wholly without any conceivable reasonable basis. The exemption provided for certain aircraft and computer equipment under this subsection is designed to provide an incentive for businesses to invest in a qualified project or projects which would involve an investment of at least ten million dollars and the hiring of at least one hundred new employees. Given the large amount of investment required as a threshold for qualifying for these exemptions, we cannot say it is wholly unreasonable to assert that businesses able and willing to invest in the state at this level would be likely to utilize these types of property, and that they would view the personal property tax relief provided under this section as a significant incentive to invest and expand in Nebraska.

Furthermore, while we are somewhat troubled by the narrowness of the classification established, we cannot affirmatively state that the Legislature's determination to limit the exemption granted is without a rational basis. While the Legislature may desire to exempt certain personal property from taxation as an incentive to encourage businesses to locate or expand in Nebraska, it is not unreasonable to permit the Legislature to limit the scope of the exemption in order to reduce the adverse effect on the amount of property tax revenues received by local governments if a larger class of property were exempted.

In assessing the reasonableness of the classification at issue, it must be remembered that the courts have shown great deference to legislative judgments in this area. In upholding the validity of legislation designed to permit municipalities to encourage new industry, the Supreme Court of New Mexico stated the following regarding legislative efforts in this area:

Any movement reasonably calculated to improve the economic welfare of the people as a whole through furnishing employment, promoting industry and trade, and inspiring new hope, seems well worthwhile. Whether the present enactment will achieve these aims, none can tell. Only trial, effort and actual experience can give the answer.

While operation of a given project, in the field of competition, may hurt some, if the overall picture shows a comfortable balance of advantages over disadvantages to the many, none can doubt that the measure authorizing it has justified its enactment. After all, the question is one of policy and, within constitutional bounds, that is for the legislature. Even though we may question the wisdom of a given enactment, as a matter of policy, that gives us no right to strike it down, if it violates no provision of the fundamental law. Village of Deming v. Hosdreg Co., supra, 62 N.M. at ___, 303 P.2d at 931.

In conclusion, based upon the deference allowed the Legislature in matters relating to classification for purposes of taxation, and the broad authority granted to the Legislature to classify and exempt personal property under Article VIII, Section 2, of our Constitution, it is our view that the separate classification of the personal property exempted under Section 5(2) of LB 775 could be successfully defended against constitutional attack, as the exemption appears to be rationally related to the legitimate purposes of the Act of encouraging the creation of new jobs and investment in the state.

Very truly yours,

BILL ON FIRST READING

The following bill was read for the first time by title:

LEGISLATIVE BILL 708A. By Schmit, 23rd District.

A BILL FOR AN ACT to appropriate funds to aid in carrying out the provisions of Legislative Bill 708, Ninetieth Legislature, First Session, 1987.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87076

DATE: May 15, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB279 As Amended By Committee Amendment AM0510

REQUESTED BY: Senator Loran Schmit
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Bernard L. Packett, Assistant Attorney General

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutionality of LB279, as amended by Committee Amendment AM0510.

Before addressing your question, we believe it would be helpful to cover some previous opinions which we have given on legislation dealing with funds such as are involved in LB279.

In 1981, the Legislature enacted LB331 which provided in part that the Nebraska Gasohol Committee could award a development gratuity of up to $50,000.00 to a person who would develop the best high protein food made from distiller's grain or the process of ethanol distillation.

In Opinion No. 81, dated April 24, 1981, we expressed serious concerns as to the constitutional validity of the bill under Article XIII, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution, which provides in part:

"The credit of the State shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association or corporation . . ."

In that opinion, we said:

"Our Supreme Court has stated that this constitutional provision prohibits the Legislature from appropriating the public monies of the state to encourage private enterprises. Oxnard Beet Sugar Co. v. State, 73 Neb. 57, 105 N.W. 716 (1905). More recently, in State ex rel. Beck v. City of York, 164 Neb. 223, 82 N.W.2d 269 (1957), our Supreme Court stated:

It is clear that the framers of our Constitution had in mind a prohibition against giving or loaning the credit of the State or any subdivision thereof for a purely private purpose. This supports the fundamental principle that public moneys may not be used for private purposes. . . . It is the plain intention of this provision {Article XIII, Section 3} that state government, including political subdivisions thereof, shall not extend credit in aid of private persons and private enterprises.

Id. at 225, 82 N.W.2d at 271. Under this case law, it is clear that state monies may not be appropriated to private persons for essentially private purposes. While LB331 contains a recital of public purpose, it appears to us that a development gratuity paid by the state to a private person for the development of a new product does entail the payment of state monies for a private purpose. Therefore, we feel that the development gratuity provisions in LB331 are of suspect constitutional validity under Article XIII, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution."

In 1986, the Legislature enacted LB1230, the Ethanol Authority and Development Act, now §§66-1300 et seq.

By letter to the Chairman of the Ethanol Board, dated October 17, 1986, we stated that we were unable to approve "proposed guidelines for grants to cities, counties and villages" because we had some serious doubt that some provisions of the "guideline" could overcome a challenge of constitutionality under the provisions of Article XIII, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution. From our examination of the proposed guidelines we concluded that pursuant to the authority contained in Section 66-1318 they were intended to authorize the grant or the loan of funds derived from an excise tax on wheat and other grains to eligible cities, counties and villages which would in turn provide "grants, loans and loan guarantees" to eligible "individuals, for profit and not for profit corporations, cooperatives, partnerships or such other legal entities" to provide "the capitol costs associated with the development of an ethanol plant or facility related to the processing and storage of ethanol, "or other related facilities".

In rejecting the "guidelines" we pointed out that passing the funds to private individuals or corporations through a city, county or village does not make the grant or loan any less violative of the provisions of Article XIII, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution and if the funds were granted or loaned directly to the private entity.

In our opinion, that part of the standing committee's amendment which repeals §66-1318 satisfies the objection we expressed in our October, 1986 letter to the Chairman of the Ethanol Board.

From our examination of other changes proposed by Amendment 0510 we find one which should be addressed. Section 2 would amend §66-1317 to provide that in addition to cities, counties and villages, Indian Tribes may also apply for grants from the Ethanol Board to facilitate the construction or acquisition of Ethanol plants. It is our opinion that this change would constitute lending the credit to an "association" and would be in violation of Article XIII, Section 3 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Very truly yours

Opinion No. 87077

DATE:

May 19, 1987

SUBJECT:           Constitutionality of LB 658, with reference to Section 13

REQUESTED BY: Rex Haberman
                    State Senator

WRITTEN BY:     Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
                    Bernard L. Packett, Assistant Attorney General

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutionality of Section 13(2) of LB 658 which provides that after January 1, 1990, wholesale gasoline distributors may not possess or sell gasoline containing less than 10% ethanol. We have examined the provision in light of the commerce clause of the United States Constitution.

The decisions of the United States Supreme Court involving laws or regulations affecting interstate commerce provide guidance in determining the validity of legislation attempting to establish standards for various products. The decisions make clear that the court will carefully scrutinize local legislation which may reduce the flow of commerce into a state in order to determine whether such legislation is intended to achieve a legitimate constitutional purpose, or whether the purpose is merely to advance the economic interests of a particular group within the state.

The test currently being used in determining a statute's interference under the commerce clause is presented in Pike v. Bruce Church, 397 U.S. 137 (1970):

The general rule for determining the validity of state statutes affecting interstate commerce is that where the statute regulates even-handedly to effectuate a legitimate public interest, and its effects on interstate commerce are only incidental, it will be upheld unless the burden imposed on such commerce is clearly excessive in relation to the putative local benefit; since the question is one of degree, the extent of the burden that will be tolerated will depend on the nature of the local interest involved, and on whether it could be promoted as well with a lesser impact on interstate activities.

In other words, the test encompasses the requirements that (a) a legitimate local public interest must be served, and (b) the burden on interstate commerce must be only incidental in relation to the proposed benefits.

The public interest served by §13(2) of LB 658 is clear. It is to foster the ethanol producing industry and corngrowers of the state.

The public interest here is legitimate. And so we must ask whether or not §13(2) places a burden upon commerce which legally would be excessive in relation to the proposed benefits.

What burdens upon commerce would a court consider in examining §13(2)? Three that would be relevant are these: (1) an in-state wholesale distributor of gasoline would be unable to possess non-ethanol gasoline for sale in another state; (2) an out of state wholesaler would have to have two facilities for storage of gasoline, one for gasoline containing 10% ethanol for sale in Nebraska and one for gasoline without ethanol for sale in other states; (3) travelers who would normally pass through the state would have to go around Nebraska if they were unable to make it through the state without refueling and they did not wish to burn ethanol gasoline in their vehicles.

The inconvenience of having to go around the state was raised recently in Consolidated Freightways v. Kassel, 612 F.2d 1064 (8 Cir. 1979). In that case, one of the grounds raised challenging an Iowa law limiting the length of trucks to 65 ft. twins was that it unconstitutionally burdened interstate commerce by making it necessary for trucks exceeding 65 ft. to divert around the state. In holding the Iowa law in violation of the commerce clause, the court said:

When a state regulation directly pursues a valid safety objective, some burdening of interstate commerce will be tolerated. How much is a matter of balance. When the regulations objective accrues not directly, by prohibiting a vehicle with which there is some inherent safety problem, but indirectly, by the deflection of interstate commerce away from the state, the balancing is automatic; national interest must prevail.

As the court has pointed out in the Consolidated Freightways case, some consideration will be given to the purpose of the legislation (highway safety) but it also considers the facts of how and to what extent the legislation affects interstate commerce. If, on balance, the effect on interstate commerce outweighs the benefit, the benefit must yield.

Whether or not an act violates the commerce clause of the United States Constitution depends upon the facts of each case. We have considered the guidelines the courts have expressed in the many cases challenging legislation on the grounds of violation of the commerce clause. These are not easy cases for Courts to determine. From our study, we conclude that in a legal test, a Court would find §13(2) to be unconstitutional as an improper burden on interstate commerce.

Very truly yours

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87078

DATE: May 19, 1987

SUBJECT: Constitutionality of LB 663 as Amended - Due Process Requirements Regarding Natural Gas Rate-Making by Nebraska Municipalities

REQUESTED BY: Senator David Landis
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion regarding the constitutionality of LB 663, as amended. Previously, our office addressed at length the procedural due process requirements regarding natural gas rate regulation by Nebraska municipalities. Attorney General Opinion No. 87061, April 24, 1987. Your specific question now concerns whether the procedural safeguards contained in Section 15 of the amended version of LB 663 are consistent with the constitutional due process requirements outlined in our earlier opinion.

Generally, Section 15(4) of the bill provides for an area rate hearing before a hearing officer appointed by the affected municipalities, at which time both the municipalities and the utility are afforded the opportunity to call witnesses, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and argue the evidence. An official record of the proceedings before the hearing officer is to be prepared, including the gas company's rate filing, all reports, all evidence presented by the utility and municipalities at the hearing, the transcript of the proceedings, and the proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law presented to the hearing officer by the utility and the municipalities. A copy of the official record is forwarded by the hearing officer to each municipality. LB 663, Section 15(5). Each municipality is then required to take final action on the rate filing by adopting findings of fact and conclusions of law based on the record created before the hearing officer. LB 663, Section 15(6).

In the event a gas company is dissatisfied with the action taken by a municipality, a right of appeal to district court is provided under Section 15(7) of the bill. All such appeals are to be "de novo upon the record," with the provision that "the district court may, in its discretion, receive additional evidence. . . ." LB 663, Section 15(7). The district court is to determine "whether the action by the municipality was lawful as having set rates which are just and reasonable. . . ." LB 663, Section 15(7).

Initially, we note that you have requested us to expedite our response, in light of the short period of time remaining in the current legislative session. In spite of this time restriction, we will nevertheless endeavor to provide you with some general guidance regarding the specific issues you have raised concerning this procedure.

Your first question concerns the propriety of the appointment of a hearing officer to receive testimony and gather evidence presented by a utility and municipality regarding a rate filing. The general rule concerning the propriety of utilizing a hearing officer or examiner to gather evidence for use by an administrative body is stated in 2 Am.Jur.2d Administrative Law §437 (1962) as follows:

Neither due process of law nor the concept of a full or fair hearing requires that the actual taking of testimony be before the same officers as are to determine the matter involved, and it is common for hearings to be conducted by less than all members of an administrative agency or by examiners or hearing officers appointed for that purpose, the hearing officer not making the decision or making no more than a recommended decision. Beyond this, it is a general rule that in the absence of a statute to the contrary, due process or a fair hearing is not denied by the mere fact that an otherwise authorized person makes or participates in the making of a decision without having been present when evidence was taken. In this connection it is recognized that to "hear" relates, not to physical presence at the taking of evidence, but to certain procedural minimums to ensure an informed judgment by the one who has the responsibility of making the final decision and order. (Footnotes omitted).

The due process requirements with respect to the propriety of an administrative body relying upon evidence gathered by a hearing officer or examiner were established in Morgan v. United States, 298 U.S. 468, 481-82 (1936), in which the Court stated:

This necessary rule does not preclude practicable administrative procedure in obtaining the aid of assistants in the department. Assistants may prosecute inquiries. Evidence may be taken by an examiner. Evidence thus taken may be sifted and analyzed by competent subordinates. Argument may be oral or written. The requirements are not technical. But there must be a hearing in a substantial sense. And to give the substance of a hearing, which is for the purpose of making determinations upon evidence, the officer who makes the determinations must consider and appraise the evidence which justifies them.

Accord, Alaska Transportation Commission v. Gandia, 602 P.2d 402 (Alaska 1979); Browning-Ferris Industries of New Hampshire v. State, 115 N.H. 190, 339 A.2d 1 (1975). See generally Annot., 18 A.L.R.2d 606 (1951, Supp. 1973).

On the basis of the foregoing, we believe that the use of a hearing officer to receive testimony and to gather evidence for municipalities to consider in making determinations regarding action on a natural gas rate filing is consistent with constitutional due process requirements. Accordingly, it is our conclusion that the procedure utilizing a hearing officer in this manner, provided for under Section 15(4) of LB 663, is permissible under established standards of due process.

Your second question concerns whether the provision of a right of appeal to the utility to district court "de novo upon the record," with a provision granting the district court discretion to hear additional evidence, is consistent with constitutional due process requirements.

The general rule regarding the question of whether trial de novo or review on the record is to be provided regarding appeals from public utility regulatory decisions is stated in 73B C.J.S. Public Utilities, §112 (1983) as follows: "Whether or not there is to be a trial de novo in the appellate court on review of an order of a public service commission is dependent on constitutional or statutory provisions, as is also the question whether the review is to be on the record alone." Thus, the scope of review provided in such appeals is dependent upon the nature of review specified in the constitutional or statutory provisions established in a particular jurisdiction.

The propriety of limiting the scope of court review of a determination made by a regulatory body to the record created before such body is illustrated by the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Alabama Public Service Commission v. Southern Railway Co., 341 U.S. 341, 348 (1951), in which the court stated: "The fact that review in the Alabama courts is limited to the record taken before the Commission presents no constitutional infirmity." (Citation omitted). Furthermore, while some statutes provide only for review on the record, some provisions do establish a more expansive standard by providing for review "de novo" on the record. E.g., Application of Ditworth, 48 N.W.2d 22 (N.D. 1951).

In conclusion, we believe there does not appear to be any inherent constitutional deficiency by virtue of establishing a standard of review "de novo upon the record" in district court on appeal of a municipal rate decision. In the absence of any specific state constitutional requirement mandating a particular method of review, the determination of whether a trial de novo or review on the record is provided is a matter left to the discretion of the Legislature.

As we indicated in our earlier opinion, procedural due process in this context requires a public utility be provided with a complete hearing at some point in the process, either at the legislative or administrative level, or in court. Under LB 663, as amended, the opportunity for a gas company to present its case in a trial-type setting is provided at the legislative or administrative level, by virtue of the hearing held before a designated hearing officer. Under these circumstances, we believe that the limitation of review in the district court to the record made by both the utility and the municipalities is consistent with due process requirements, as both parties are given an adequate opportunity to present their case in a trial-type hearing, and to make and preserve a record in the event of an appeal.

Very truly yours,

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 230.

Introduced by Pappas, 42nd District.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this resolution is to undertake a study to examine the Uniform Marital Property Act and to consider the implications such act would have if it were adopted in Nebraska. The study should then make any appropriate recommendations to the Legislature.

The Uniform Marital Property Act is the most recent version of marital property before the state legislatures. The act recognizes that spouses are economic partners in a marriage and creates a sharing property system during marriage. The act was developed over four years by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws and released for state action in 1983.

The Uniform Marital Property Act combines features of common or separate property law found in most states and the community property law of eight states. The equal ownership provision comes from community property law. Management and control features come from a separate property law.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.
2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 231.

Introduced by Ashford, 6th District.

PURPOSE: A current nationwide trend is for states to require welfare recipients to seek employment or participate in employment training programs. The Nebraska Department of Social Services currently requires recipients of aid to families of dependent children to participate in a job support program designed to integrate such recipients into the work force. The Nebraska Department of Labor offers a voluntary program, the Job Training Partnership Act, to certain eligible clients. This study will examine the feasibility of expanding and improving these and other programs to ensure that welfare recipients are provided adequate training, education, and other support necessary to secure meaningful employment.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETIETH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That a committee of the Legislature shall be designated to conduct an interim study to carry out the purposes of this resolution.
2. That the committee shall upon the conclusion of its study make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations, to the Legislative Council or Legislature.

Referred to the Executive Board.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87079

DATE:                   May 20, 1987

SUBJECT:               Interpretation of LB 185, As Amended - Sales Tax Exemption for Materials Used in Farm Machinery Repair and Maintenance

REQUESTED BY: Senator Don Wesely
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
L. Jay Bartel, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our interpretation concerning the exemption from sales tax provided under LB 185, as amended. The exemption provided under the amended version of the bill applies to sales and use of the following:

Materials and replacement parts, except lubricants, used directly in the repair and maintenance of farm machinery, equipment, and tractors, used exclusively in a farming operation undertaken for profit, for the raising and feeding of livestock or poultry, or for producing milk for sale, except that materials and replacement parts used in the repair and maintenance of all-terrain (sic) vehicles, passenger cars, motorcycles, airplanes, and all trucks as defined in section 60-301 shall not be exempt.

In Kellogg Co. v. Herrington, 216 Neb. 138, 144, 343 N.W.2d 326, 330 (1984), the Nebraska Supreme Court set forth the following rules of statutory construction:

"A statute is not to be read as if open to construction as a matter of course." County of Douglas v. Board of Regents, 210 Neb. 573, 577, 316 N.W.2d 62, 65 (1982). "Where words of a statute are plain and unambiguous, no interpretation is necessary to ascertain their meaning, and in the absence of anything to indicate to the contrary, words will be given their ordinary meaning." Hill v. City of Lincoln, 213 Neb. 517, 521, 330 N.W.2d 471, 474 (1983). Moreover, "{i}t is not within the province of a court to read a meaning into a statute that is not warranted by the legislative language. Neither is it within the province of the court to read anything plain, direct, and unambiguous out of a statute." Gaughen v. Sloup, 197 Neb. 762, 765, 250 N.W.2d 915, 917 (1977). In the construction of a statute which is clear and unambiguous, courts cannot supply missing language, and it is not within the court's power to read into a statute meaning which the clear language does not warrant. See, Omaha Public Schools v. Hall, 211 Neb. 618, 319 N.W.2d 730 (1982).

Upon consideration of these principles, we believe the plain meaning of the language employed in LB 185, as amended, evidences a legislative intent to grant an exemption only to materials and replacement parts ". . . used directly in the repair and maintenance of farm machinery, equipment, and tractors, used exclusively in a farming operation undertaken for profit, for the raising and feeding of livestock or poultry, or for producing milk for sale. . . ." The exception following the foregoing language, providing ". . . that materials and replacement parts used in the repair and maintenance of all-terrain (sic) vehicles, passenger cars, motorcycles, airplanes, and all trucks as defined in section 60-301 shall not be exempt," clearly precludes the availability of any exemption under this subsection for materials and replacement parts used in the repair and maintenance of any of the vehicles listed. Thus, in our view, the plain language of the amendment simply bars availability of the exemption for materials or replacement parts used in the repair and maintenance of these specific types of vehicles, under any circumstances.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

May 25, 1987

Patrick J. O'Donnell
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. O'Donnell:

Engrossed Legislative Bill 763 was received in my office on May 19, 1987.

This bill was signed by me on May 25, 1987, and delivered to the Secretary of State.

(Signed) Sincerely,
KAY A. ORR
Governor

May 25, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 780 with my signature but with certain line item reductions.

During December, 1986, just five short months ago, your Legislative body was assembled in Special Session for the purpose of reducing budgets. Your actions then were to reduce the current year appropriation by $6 million with the understanding that those mid-year cuts would be permanent in nature and would therefore approximate an $11 million reduction in the base upon which the budget for the upcoming biennium would be built.

When I took office, there was an estimated unobligated ending balance of $4 million, no reserve, and $17 million of deficits. On February 2, 1987, I delivered to the Legislature a balanced budget based on anticipated revenues. My budget message stated that the budget was not a "take-it-or-leave it" proposal. Subsequent to that time several occurrences have changed our budget perspectives, one of which was the increase of deficiency needs for several agencies, including over $3 million for the Department of Social Services.

Today I am faced with the prospect of signing LB780, the mainline appropriations bill for essential services of state government and state aid. On the whole this bill is fundamentally in line with the budget I originally submitted. It is not, however, the entire budget package. Several budget and revenue bills still are pending.

After thoughtful item by item review of LB 780 I have reduced or eliminated certain items. I have reduced funding for the three advocacy agencies in the second year in the biennium in the amount of $208,364. This reflects both the need to reduce the size of government and my conviction that this type of activity should not be funded with tax dollars. State government and the goals of these commissions would be better served if the commissions obtained independent financing.

The reduction of $300,000 in the appropriation to the Wastewater Grants program merely reflects project delays that will result from Congress' tardy action on making funds available to this program. In no way will this reduction deny the timely receipt of state financial assistance to approved wastewater treatment projects.

Funding for the Nebraska Research and Development Authority has been reduced by $500,000 for the first year only. This will provide new funding of $1.5 million the first year and $2 million the second year.

Funding for the Department of Revenue has been reduced by $145,000 for the first year and $100,000 for the second year. A saving of $250,000 is achieved during the second year by deferring the replacement of a new airplane.

The requirement for a balanced budget remains. I am committed to achieving that end without a tax increase and providing for an adequate reserve.

I urge you to sustain this action.

Sincerely,
(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor

AM1485

- 1 1. Strike the original sections and insert
- 2 the following new sections:
- 3 "Section 1. This act shall be known and may
- 4 be cited as the Trade Secrets Act.
- 5 Sec. 2. As used in the Trade Secrets Act,
- 6 unless the context otherwise requires:
- 7 (1) Improper means shall mean theft, bribery,
- 8 misrepresentation, breach or inducement of a breach of a
- 9 duty to maintain secrecy, or espionage through
- 10 electronic or other means;

- 11 (2) Misappropriation shall mean:
12 (a) Acquisition of a trade secret of another
13 by a person who knows or has reason to know that the 14 trade secret was acquired by improper means; or 15 (b) Disclosure or use of a trade secret of 16 another without express or implied consent by a person 17 who:
18 (i) Used improper means to acquire knowledge
19 of the trade secret;
20 (ii) At the time of the disclosure or use,
21 knew or had reason to know that his or her knowledge of 1 the trade secret was:
2 (A) Derived from or through a person who had
3 utilized improper means to acquire it;
4 (B) Acquired under circumstances giving rise
5 to a duty to maintain its secrecy or limit its use; or 6 (C) Derived from or through a person who owed
7 a duty to the person seeking relief to maintain its 8 secrecy or limit its use; or 9 (iii) Before a material change of his or her
10 position, knew or had reason to know that the 11 information was a trade secret and that knowledge of it
12 had been acquired by accident or mistake;
13 (3) Person shall mean a natural person,
14 corporation, business trust, estate, trust, partnership,
15 association, joint-venture, government, governmental
16 subdivision or agency, or any other legal or commercial
17 entity; and
18 (4) Trade secret shall mean information,
19 including, but not limited to, a drawing, formula,
20 pattern, compilation, program, device, method,
21 technique, list, code, or process that:
22 (a) Derives independent economic value, actual 23 or potential, from not being generally known to, and not 24 being readily ascertainable by proper means by, other
1 persons who can obtain economic value from its
2 disclosure or use; and
3 (b) Is the subject of efforts that are 4 reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its 5 secrecy.
6 Sec. 3. (1) Actual or threatened
7 misappropriation may be enjoined. Upon application to 8 the court, an injunction shall be terminated when the 9 trade secret has ceased to exist, but the injunction may

10 be continued for an additional reasonable period of time
11 in order to eliminate commercial advantage that 12 otherwise would be derived from the misappropriation.

13 (2) In exceptional circumstances, an
14 injunction may condition future use upon payment of a 15 reasonable royalty for no longer than the period of time
16 for which use could have been prohibited. Exceptional
17 circumstances shall include, but are not limited to, a 18 material and prejudicial change of position prior to 19 acquiring knowledge or having reason to know of the 20 misappropriation that renders a prohibitive injunction
21 inequitable.

22 (3) In appropriate circumstances, affirmative
23 acts to protect a trade secret may be compelled by court
24 order.

1 Sec. 4. Except to the extent that a material
2 and prejudicial change of position prior to acquiring 3 knowledge or having reason to know of the 4 misappropriation renders a monetary recovery
5 inequitable, a complainant shall be entitled to recover
6 damages for misappropriation. Damages may include both 7 the actual loss caused by misappropriation and the 8 unjust enrichment caused by misappropriation that is not 9 taken into account in computing actual loss. In lieu of 10 damages measured by any other methods, the damages
11 caused by misappropriation may be measured by imposition
12 of liability for a reasonable royalty for a 13 misappropriator's unauthorized disclosure or use of a
14 trade secret.

15 Sec. 5. In an action under the Trade Secrets
16 Act, the court shall preserve the secrecy of an alleged 17 trade secret by reasonable means, which may include, but 18 not be limited to, granting protective orders in 19 connection with discovery proceedings and ordering 20 nondisclosure of the alleged trade secret by the 21 parties' attorneys, witnesses, or experts. The 22 disclosure or publication of a trade secret in a court
23 proceeding or as a result thereof shall not constitute 24 an abandonment of the secret.

1 Sec. 6. An action for misappropriation shall
2 be brought within four years after the misappropriation
3 is discovered or by the exercise of reasonable diligence
4 should have been discovered. For purposes of this 5 section, a continuing misappropriation shall constitute

6 a single claim.

7 Sec. 7. (1) Except as provided in subsection
8 (2) of this section, the Trade Secrets Act shall 9 displace conflicting tort, restitutionary, and other 10 laws of this state providing civil remedies for the 11 misappropriation of a trade secret.

12 (2) The Trade Secrets Act shall not affect:

13 (a) Contractual remedies, whether or not based
14 upon misappropriation of a trade secret;

15 (b) Other civil remedies that are not based 16 upon misappropriation of a trade secret; or

17 (c) Criminal remedies, whether or not based
18 upon misappropriation of a trade secret.

19 Sec. 8. The Trade Secrets Act shall not apply
20 to any misappropriation occurring prior to the effective
21 date of this act. With respect to a continuing
22 misappropriation that began prior to the effective date
23 of this act, such act also shall not apply to the 24 continuing misappropriation that occurs after such
1 date.”.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

May 27, 1987

Patrick J. O'Donnell
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. O'Donnell:

Engrossed Legislative Bills 775 and 775A were received in my office on May 26, 1987.

These bills were signed by me on May 27, 1987, and delivered to the Secretary of State.

Sincerely,
(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor

May 27, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 781 with my signature but with certain line-item reductions.

Legislative Bill 781 contains appropriation for capital construction projects in the amount of $20,024,234 for Fiscal Year 1987-88 and $28,338,990 for Fiscal Year 1988-89. This is a total of $48,363,224 for the biennium. The vast majority of this funding is to provide for bonded and phased projects, policy decisions which were made prior to my taking office. Relatively minor amounts are provided for ongoing fire and life safety projects.

Two new projects which were not originally requested by state agencies and were not a priority of agencies or governing boards have been eliminated. This includes $70,000 for the Trailside Museum improvements and $43,000 for the Fort Robinson Headquarters Building Fire System. The Trailside Museum improvements projects are eligible for LB 309 Task Force funding at least in part and should be funded through that process in accordance with the priority structure of that legislation.

I urge you to support this action.

Sincerely,
(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

May 27, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Members of the Legislature:

On May 25, 1987, I returned LB 780 to your body with my signature but with certain line-item reductions. In making those reductions, certain "scrivener's errors" were included. The Personal Service Limitations for the three advocacy agencies were reduced inadvertently for Fiscal Year 1987-88, the first year of the biennium. My intentions were to reduce the Personal Service Limitations for the Fiscal Year 1988-89, the second year of the biennium, in accordance with the reduction of the program appropriations for the Fiscal Year 1988-89.

The reductions of the Personal Service Limitation for Fiscal Year 1987-88 are contained in Sections 41, 66, and 70 of LB 780.

Sincerely,
(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87081

DATE: May 27, 1987

SUBJECT: Whether LB 104, Which Deals With the Vaccination of Domestic Animals for Rabies, Is Unconstitutionally Vague.

Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Dale Comer, Assistant Attorney General

You have requested our opinion as to the constitutionality of certain aspects of LB 104. Specifically, you note the definitional provision in the bill for "household pet," and you ask whether, in light of the bill's criminal sanctions, that definition is unconstitutionally vague. We have reviewed the bill and the applicable law. In our view, the definitional section which you have referenced does not violate constitutional prohibitions against vagueness.

LB 104 pertains generally to the vaccination of animals for rabies, and to the seizure and disposition of certain animals which may have the disease. The main thrust of the legislation is to amend the current statutes dealing with vaccination for rabies which deal primarily with dogs so as to make those statutes pertain to domestic animals. Domestic animal is defined in the bill as "any dog or cat, and cat shall mean a cat which is a household pet." You are concerned that the term "household pet" is unduly vague, particularly since violation of these various statutes would constitute a class V misdemeanor.

It is clear in Nebraska that a criminal statute must define a crime with sufficient definiteness, and that there must be ascertainable standards of guilt to inform those subject thereto as to what conduct will render them liable to punishment under the statute. State v. Hamilton, 215 Neb. 694, 340 N.W.2d 397 (1983). The dividing line between what is lawful and unlawful cannot be left to conjecture, and a citizen cannot be held to answer to charges based upon penal statutes whose mandates are so uncertain that they will reasonably admit of different constructions. Id. A penal statute must express the crime and the elements constituting it so clearly that an ordinary person can intelligently choose in advance what course is lawful for him to pursue. Id. The test for determining whether a statute is vague is whether it forbids or requires the doing of an act in terms so vague that men of common intelligence must necessarily guess at its meaning and differ as to its application. State v. Sprague, 213 Neb. 581, 330 N.W.2d 739 (1983).

While a penal statute must be drafted with precision, our Supreme Court has indicated that it is not necessary for a penal statute to be written so as to be beyond the mere possibility of more than one construction, and difficulty in determining the meaning of the language of a statute does not automatically render it unconstitutionally vague and ambiguous. State v. Soddors, 208 Neb. 504, 304 N.W.2d 62 (1981); State v. Robinson, 202 Neb. 210, 274 N.W.2d 553 (1979). Moreover, the constitutional prohibition against undue vagueness does not invalidate every statute which a reviewing court might believe could have been drafted with greater precision; all that due process requires is that a statute give sufficient warning that men may conform their conduct so as to avoid that which is forbidden. State v. Robinson supra. Our Supreme Court has also cited language from the United States Supreme Court to the effect that if the general class of offenses to which a statute is directed is plain within its terms, the statute cannot be struck down as vague, even though marginal cases could be raised where doubts might arise. Richardson v. City of Omaha, 214 Neb. 97, 333 N.W.2d 656 (1983).

In our view, "household pet", as it is used in LB 104, is not unconstitutionally vague. The term itself would appear to be one of commonly understood meaning, and the term has been defined in caselaw. For example, in Town of Atlantic Beach v. Young, 58 N.C. App. 597, 293 S.E.2d 821 (N.C. Ct. App 1982), the North Carolina Court of Appeals stated that the common meaning of "pet" is a domesticated animal kept for pleasure rather than utility. The court then construed the term "house pets" to encompass all domesticated animals kept for pleasure in or around a house. On the basis of this construction, the court held that the facts material to a determination of whether a person's animals are "house pets" are: the kind of animals they are, the reason for which they are kept, and the place where they are kept.

We also believe that the general class of cats to which "household pets" in LB 104 applies is plain within the terms of the proposed statute. In other words, the vast majority of persons who have cats which might be household pets subject to the terms of the rabies vaccination statutes would be aware that their animals would be covered under the plain language of the statute. As you have indicated, there might be hypothetical and marginal cases where the definition of "household pets" would be unclear, such as which cats in a farm environment, if any, would constitute "household pets." However, we believe that the term as it is used in LB 104 is generally of such common understanding that the bill would not be struck down as unconstitutional for vagueness.

Sincerely,
 ROBERT M. SPIRE
 Attorney General

 Assistant Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONOpinion No. 87082

DATE: May 27, 1987

SUBJECT: Parental Liability and Court Jurisdiction
Concerns with LB 536 (Shoplifting)

REQUESTED BY: Senator Ernest Chambers
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Linda L. Willard, Assistant Attorney General

You have asked this office whether LB 536 is violative of the Constitution as it relates to parental liability and accessibility to the Small Claims Court. It is our opinion that this bill does not violate the Constitution in these two areas.

First, you have asked whether LB 536 is violative of the Constitution by imposing liability on "parents" without making allowance for a noncustodial parent or one whose parental rights have been terminated by a court. We have determined no constitutional conflict in holding noncustodial parents to the same standard of liability for the acts of their children as custodial parents. In the same vein, parents whose rights have been terminated might still be liable for actions of their children prior to the termination of their rights. We find no constitutional infirmities with either of these. However, Neb.Rev.Stat. §43-293 states in relevant part:

An order terminating the parent-juvenile relationship shall divest the parent and juvenile of all legal rights, privileges, duties, and obligations with respect to each other . . .

Thus, parents whose parental rights have been terminated would have no legal obligation to pay under LB 536 from the date the termination becomes effective. If sued under the provisions of LB 536, the termination of parental rights would be a defense.

Your second question is whether the Legislature can constitutionally make the doors to the Small Claims Court more open to some than to the remainder of the public. Article V, Section 1, of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska states in relevant part: "The judicial power of the state shall be vested in a Supreme Court, . . . and such other courts inferior to the Supreme Court as may be created by law." In State v. Magney, 52 Neb. 508, 72 N.W. 1006 (1897), the State Supreme Court determined that unless the Constitution provided otherwise, the Legislature could classify and regulate judicial powers and functions. Also, in Miller v. Janacek, 210 Neb. 316, 314 N.W.2d 250 (1982), the State Supreme Court determined that the court can only acquire jurisdiction through legislative enactment. In Simon v. Lieberman, 193 Neb. 321, 226 N.W.2d 781 (1975), the Nebraska Supreme Court upheld the right of the Legislature to create a Small Claims Court where informal hearings may be held.

The Constitution is the basis for the creation of the State Supreme Court and the state district and county courts. The Legislature may constitutionally create other courts inferior to the Supreme Court and may determine the jurisdiction and the roles and functions of those courts as long as they are not in conflict with the Constitution.

We find no constitutional infirmity with the section of LB 536 that makes the Small Claims Court "more open" to some than to other members of the public. The primary question is whether any member of the public is deprived of access to the court system. We find that the wording in LB 536 is in no way a denial of access to the courts. Nor do we find there is any invidious discrimination in LB 536 as it relates to access to the courts. The category singled out for "special treatment" in LB 536 is a legitimate category, is not based on a constitutionally protected class, and, as such, is not unconstitutional.

Sincerely,
ROBERT M. SPIRE
Attorney General

After the first WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, the Lincoln Journal (9-24-86) reported that the CMS miniseries, "George Washington" was one of the lowest rated of all time (finishing behind such presentations as Monday Night Football, Gimme a Break, Golden Girls, Bob Hope Special) thus evincing little public interest in Washington;

(17)

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, On September 18, 1848 during his 4th debate with Stephen A. Douglas, Lincoln proclaimed to a vast crowd at Charleston, Illinois, "While I was at the hotel today an elderly gentleman called upon me to know whether I was really in favor of producing a perfect equality between negroes and white people. (Great laughter.) . . . I thought I would occupy perhaps five minutes in saying something in regard to it. I will say then that I am not, nor ever have been in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races, (applause) -- that I am not nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people; and I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which I believe will for ever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality. And inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together, there must be the position of superior and inferior, and I as much as any other man am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the white race." (Emphasis added.) Collected Works of Abraham Lincoln, Ed., Roy P. Basler, VOL III, pp. 145, 146.

(18)

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, in an interview with Alexander Randall and Joseph T. Mills on August 19, 1864, Lincoln declared: "There are now between 1 & 200 thousand black men now in the service of the Union. ... Abandon all the posts now possessed by black men surrender all these advantages to the enemy, & we would be compelled to abandon the war in 3 weeks." (Emphasis added.) Works, VOL VII, pp. 506, 507;

(19)

After the second WHEREAS, insert, WHEREAS, black men provided the balance of power during the Civil War and many lost their lives fighting for the Union and their own freedom, and their descendants ought not be expected to pay homage to men who held their race in such low esteem;

(19)

After the second WHEREAS, insert, WHEREAS, on January 14, 1863, Lincoln wrote to Secretary of War Edward Stanton: "What the rebels most fear is what we should be most prompt to do; and what they most fear is evident from the hot haste with which, on the first day of the present session of the Rebel Congress, bills were introduced threatening terrible vengeance if we used the blacks in war." Works, VOL V, p. 423;

After the second WHEREAS, insert, WHEREAS, on January 14, 1863, Lincoln sent "Private & confidential" memo to Maj. Gen. John A. Dix saying: "The proclamation has been issued. We were not succeeding -- at best, were progressing too slowly -- without it. Now that we have it...we must also take some benefit from it... I therefore will thank you for your well considered opinion whether Fortress-Monroe, and York-Town, one or both, could not, in whole or in part, be garrisoned by colored troops, leaving the white forces now necessary at those places, to be employed elsewhere."; Works, VOL VI, p. 56;

(21)

After second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, on August 9, 1863, Lincoln wrote to Gen. Ulysses S. Grant: "Gen. Thomas has gone again to the Mississippi Valley, with the view of raising colored troops. I have no reason to doubt that you are doing what you reasonably can upon the same subject. I believe it is a resource which, if vigorously applied now, will soon close the contest. It works doubly, weakening the enemy and strengthening us. We were not fully ripe for it until the river was opened. Now, I think, at least a hundred thousand can, and ought to be rapidly organized along its shores, relieving all white troops to serve elsewhere." (Emphasis added.) Works VOL V, p. 374;

(22)

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, on April 1, 1863, Lincoln sent the following "Private" message to Maj. Gen. Hunter: "I am glad to see the accounts of your colored force at Jacksonville, Florida. I see the enemy are driving at them fiercely, as is to be expected. It is important to the enemy that such a force shall not (emphasis in original) take shape, and grow, and thrive, in the South; and in precisely the same proportion, it is important to us that it shall. (Emphasis in original.) Hence, the utmost caution and vigilance is necessary on our part. The enemy will make extra efforts to destroy them; and we should do the same to preserve and increase them." Works, VOL VI, p. 158;

(23)

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, on April 2, 1863, Lincoln issued a "Proclamation about Commercial Intercourse" which included the following: "There was more than a year and a half of trial to suppress the rebellion before the (emancipation) proclamation was issued. . . . (S)ome of the commanders of our armies in the field who have given us our most important successes, believe the emancipation policy, and the use of colored troops, constitute the heaviest blow yet dealt to the rebellion; and that, at least one of those important successes could not have been achieved when it was, but for the aid of black soldiers. * * * I thought that whatever negroes can be got to do as soldiers, leaves just so much less for white soldiers to do, in saving the Union. Does it appear otherwise to you? But negroes like other people, act upon motives. Why should they do any thing for us, if we will do nothing for them? If they stake their lives for us, they must be prompted by the strongest motive -- even the promise of freedom. And the promise being made, must be kept." Works, VOL VI, pp. 408, 409;

(24)

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, on August 17, 1864, Lincoln wrote to Charles D. Robinson: "Take from us and give to the enemy, the hundred and thirty, forty, or fifty thousand colored persons now serving us as soldiers, seamen, and laborers, and we can not longer maintain the contest. . . . There is a witness in every white mans bosom that he would rather go to the war having the negro to help him, than to help the enemy against him." Works VOL VII, p. 500;

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS on August 17, 1864, Lincoln wrote: "(I)n the Greeley letter of 1862, I said, 'If I could save the Union without freeing any slave I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing all the slaves I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing some, and leaving others alone I would also do that. . . . What I do about slavery and the colored race, I do because I believe it helps to save the Union; and what I forbear I forbear because I do not believe it would help to save the Union. I shall do less whenever I shall believe what I am doing hurts the cause; and I shall do more whenever I shall believe doing more will help the cause.' All this I said in the utmost sincerity; and I am as true to the whole of it now, as when I first said it. When I afterwards proclaimed emancipation, and employed colored soldiers, I only followed the declaration just quoted from the Greeley letter that 'I shall do more (emphasis in the original) whenever I shall believe doing (emphasis in original) will help the cause.' The way these measures were to help the cause, was not to be by magic, or miracles, but by inducing the colored people to come bodily over from the rebel side to ours. (As to why the promise of emancipation must be kept, Lincoln wrote): I am sure you do not desire me to say, or to leave an inference, that I am ready whenever convenient, to join in re-enslaving those who shall have served us in consideration of our promise. ... As a matter of policy, to announce (emphasis in the original), would ruin the Union cause itself. All recruiting or colored men would instantly cease, and all colored men now in our service, would instantly desert us. And rightfully too. Why should they give their lives for us with full notice of our of our purpose to betray them? Drive back to the support of the rebellion the physical force which the colored people now give, and promise us, and neither the present nor any coming administration can (emphasis in original) save the Union." However, Lincoln seemed to contradict this whole argument by writing a bit farther on, "If Jefferson Davis wishes, for himself, or for the benefit of his friends at the North, to know what I would do if he were to offer peace and re-union saying nothing about slavery, let him try me." Works, VOL VII, pp. 500, 501;

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS on April 4, 1864, Lincoln wrote to Albert G. Hodges: "When early in the war, Gen. Fremont attempted military emancipation, I forebade it, because I did not then think it an indispensable necessity. When a little later, Gen. Cameron, then Secretary of War, suggested the arming of blacks, I objected, because I did not yet think it an indispensable necessity. When still later, Gen. Hunter attempted military emancipation, I again forebade it, because I did not yet think the indispensable necessity had come. When in March, and May, and July 1862 I made earnest and successive appeals to the border states to favor compensated emancipation, I believed the indispensable necessity for military emancipation, and arming the blacks would come, unless averted by that measure. They declined the proposition; and I was...driven to the alternative of either surrendering the Union, and with it, the Constitution, or of laying strong hand upon the colored element. I chose the latter.ct ." Works, VOL VII, pp. 281, 282:

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, during an interview on August 19, 1864, Lincoln stated: "My enemies say I am now carrying on this war for the sole purpose of abolition. It is & will be carried on so long as I am President for the sole purpose of restoring the union. But no human power can subdue this rebellion without using the Emancipation lever as I have done. Freedom has given us control of 200,000 able bodied men, born and raised on southern soil. *** My enemies condemn my emancipation policy. Let them prove by the history of this war, that we can restore the Union without it." Works, VOL VII, p. 507;

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, on August 19, 1864, a reporter wrote: "The President now in full flow of spirits, scattered his repartee in all directions. He took his seat on the sofa by my side. Said I, Mr. President I was in your reception room to day. It was dark....There in a corner I saw a man quietly reading who possessed a remarkable physiognomy. I was rivetted to the spot. I stood & stared at him. He raised his flashing eyes and caught me in the act. I was compelled to speak, Said I, Are you the President. No replied the stranger, I am Frederick Douglass." Works, VOL VII, p. 508;

(29)

After the second WHEREAS, insert: WHEREAS, Jews are neither asked nor expected to honor Hitler, et al.:

(30)

After the second WHEREAS, insert, WHEREAS, American Indians are neither asked nor expected to honor Custer;

(31)

After the second WHEREAS, insert, WHEREAS, Christians do not lionize Nero;

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 87084

DATE: May 29, 1987

SUBJECT: Gambling Devices Awarding of Free Games

REQUESTED BY: Senator Howard Lamb
Nebraska State Legislature

WRITTEN BY: Robert M. Spire, Attorney General
Melvin K. Kammerlohr, Assistant Attorney General

QUESTION: Does the attached amendment to L.B. 523 authorizing the payment of unlimited free games for the playing of coin-operated gaming devices such as video gaming devices, which are played for "amusement only," violate the State Constitution?

CONCLUSION: Yes, when winning on such machines is based primarily on chance.

As you know, the Nebraska Constitution strictly limits the Legislature on what it may do in authorizing gambling.

Article III, Section 24 of the Nebraska Constitution provides in part:

The Legislature shall not authorize any game of chance, nor any lottery, or gift enterprise where the consideration for the chance to participate involves the payment of money for the purchase of property, services, chance or admission ticket, or requires an expenditure of substantial effort or time; . . .

Prior to 1934, the above portion of Section 24 of Article III prohibiting the Legislature from authorizing any games of chance, constituted the entire context of Section 24, Article III.

Since that time there have been three Constitutional Amendments to that section authorizing the Legislature to permit three general areas of gambling; these are:

1. Horse racing by the parimutuel or certificate method when conducted by licensees within the racetrack enclosure.

2. Non-profit lotteries, raffles, and gift enterprises intended solely as business promotions or the proceeds of which are used solely for charitable or community betterment purposes without profit to the promoter.

3. Licensing and regulation of Bingo games conducted by non-profit associations which have been in existence for a period of five years.

Other than the exceptions made to Section 24, Article III of the Constitution as listed above, the Constitution prohibits the Legislature from authorizing any games of chance which require the payment of money or substantial effort or time to play.

In a case involving almost the identical questions as video gaming devices, Baedar v. Caldwell, 156 Neb. 489 (1953), the Supreme Court of Nebraska determined that an ordinary pinball machine which awarded free games was a game of chance prohibited by the Constitutional provision, set forth above, and which the Legislature could not authorize; it also determined that it was a gambling device.

In doing so, the court stated in part:

The test of the character of the game is not whether it contains an element of chance or an element of skill, but which of these is the dominating element that determines the result of the game.

The court further noted:

The acquiring of a free game, or games, is made in the event the player gets a high enough score, which is determined by the balls, over which the player has very little control, striking certain bumpers and dropping into certain holes.

The court then stated:

Is a pinball machine or bagatelle machine which is coin-operated and which automatically gives the successful player free plays on the machine, depending on the score he makes, a gambling device?

The evidence shows that the machine here considered has very little play when the play is one game for a nickel deposited. However, the chance to obtain a predetermined high score by virtue of which the player may win one or more free games is the inducement to play the machine, and players are allured or enticed to play it for that reason.

Anything affording necessary lure to indulge the gambling instinct and appeal to the gambling propensities of man is a gambling device. See State ex rel. Hunter v. Omaha Motion Picture Exhibitors Assn., 139 Neb. 312, 297 N.W. 547. (Emphasis added).

The appellee's contention is that the words "money or property" as used in section 28-945, R.R.S. 1943, have no application to a machine such as the one at bar, for the reason that there is no play for money, and free games do not constitute property. In this connection we believe the following applicable to the instance case: A predecessor to the pinball machine was what is known as a mint-vending machines, which by chance occasionally delivered discs to the player, have been held to be a gambling device, even though the discs were of the machine. The basis of such holding is that free games are things of value. See, State ex rel. Manchester v. Marvin, 211 Iowa 462, 233 N.W.486; Howell v. State, 184 Ark. 109, 40 S.W.2d 782; Painter v. State, 163 Tenn. 627, 45 S.W.2d 46, 81 A.L.R. 173; Jenner v. State, 173 Ta. 86, 159 S.E. 564; State v. Mint Vending Machine, 85 N.H. 22, 154 A.224. There are many other cases to the same effect which we deem unnecessary to cite. It seems reasonable, if free plays of the mint-vending machine are things of value, that free games upon a device such as described in the instant case are likewise things of value. If one game is worth a nickel, it is clear that additional games are things of value, and the rule is the same whether the machine emits discs with which it can be replayed or works automatically as in the instant case. See State v. Wiley, supra. (Emphasis added).

The provision in the amendment and the present statute limiting the play of such games "for amusement only" is of no assistance inasmuch as all games, whether for skill or chance, are for amusement and if free games are awarded it is not for "amusement only."

In Baedaro v. Caldwell, supra, the Supreme Court of Nebraska further stated in this regard:

In Kraus v. City of Cleveland, 135 Ohio St. 43, 19 N.E.2d 159, this language appears: "Amusement is a thing of value. Were it not so, it would not be commercialized. * * * Since amusement has value, and added amusement has additional value, and since it is subject to be procured by chance without the payment of additional consideration therefor, there is involved in the game three elements of gambling, namely, chance, price and a prize." See, also, Couch v. State, 71 Okl. Cr. 223, 110 P.2d 613; State ex. rel. Green v. One 5¢ Fifth Inning Base Ball Machine, 241 Ala. 455, 3 S.2d 27. (Emphasis added).

It also should be emphasized that the court then wound up the case referring again to the Constitution of Nebraska. The court then stated:

As previously stated, Article III, section 24, of our Constitution prohibits any game of chance. This means that the machine is prohibited in any event if it is a game of chance no matter what is given for the play. The use of the word "property" in section 28-945, R.R.S. 1943, when considered and construed with the constitutional provision means anything of value. The free games obtained in the manner heretofore discussed would then constitute property within the contemplation of the constitutional provision and section 28-945, R.R.S. 1943, construed therewith.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has cited Baedara v. Caldwell, supra, with approval in the later case of Indoor Recreation Enterprises, Inc. v. Douglas, 194 Neb. 715 (1975), a case in which the Supreme Court found the card games of bridge and poker to be games of chance although skill was also involved.

It is elementary, as noted by the Supreme Court in the above case, that the Legislature may not by statute authorize anything that is not authorized by the Constitution, either directly or indirectly. With this in mind, the statutory provisions relating to gambling must always be construed in light of the constitutional limitations. For example, in light of the foregoing case, the Legislature would not have the power to state that a free replay is not something of value or that a device of any kind in which a winner of a replay or other thing of value is determined primarily by chance and which costs money or other thing of value to play is not a game of chance.

When any game or scheme contains the three elements of (1) prize, (2) chance, and (3) price (in money or time to participate), it comprises gambling or a gambling device. Should a machine require predominantly skill to win free games or other prizes, then the element of "chance" would be absent and the machine would be legal without any legislation. Pinball machines, bridge and poker have been found to be predominantly "chance;" this amendment appears designed to authorize games of chance solely because they award free games instead of money or other prizes. As noted above, this does not remove them from being illegal in violation of the constitution. Therefore, insofar as this amendment attempts to authorize games of chance it violates Article III, Section 24 of the Nebraska Constitution.

In addition to the above objections, we are compelled to point out to you that, since there is not time for a fiscal impact statement, this amendment would require a considerable increase in the number of local or state police, hence, considerable additional money, to enforce such a provision, since the only way it could be proved that they were being played for free games only would be to send in undercover men and catch the proprietor in the act of paying off.

Because of the shortness of time involved as discussed with your assistants in our office, and since this question disposes of the other matters, we have not gone into the other questions you sent over.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT M. SPIRE

Attorney General

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

May 29, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 784 with my signature but with certain line-item reductions.

LB 784, the so-called "trailer" or "supplemental" appropriations bill, was an attempt to fund many worthwhile state programs if revenue was available. Revenue is not available and as a result I have been forced to line-item veto numerous spending proposals. Based on current revenues, the line-item vetoes I have made will bring the budget into balance.

Through your actions, you have left all final spending and budget balancing decisions with the Governor. Any overrides of the final hour reductions may well result in our not meeting the required 3% reserve requirement.

Again, I must veto the items outlined on the attached page because we cannot afford them and must have a balanced budget.

Sincerely,
(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning Legislative Bill 736A with my signature and my line-item reductions. Section 2 of Legislative Bill 736A contains $100,000 State General Funds for the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources for the "Managing Main Street Businesses" program for FY 1987-88.

I have line item reduced this amount to zero in order to balance the State budget for FY 1987-88. A pilot project was accomplished from internally reallocated resources at the Institute. Some continuing reallocations should be able to be accomplished to meet the most pressing needs of the program.

I urge you to support this action.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning Legislative Bill 561A with my signature and with my line-item reductions. Section 2 of LB 561A contains $50,000 of State General Fund appropriation for FY 1987-88 for an aquaculture position at the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Section 3 of LB 561A contains $50,000 of State General Fund appropriation for FY 1987-88 for a poultry pathologist at the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

I have line item reduced both these amounts to zero in order to balance the State budget for FY 1987-88. Both positions are of some merit for aiding alternative product development. Legislative Bill 561 contains the intent that both positions be established by the Board of Regents. It is hoped that the Regents will seriously look at allocating some funds from the $9.8 million increase, contained in LB 780 and LB 782A over the FY 1986-87 base budget, toward the establishment of these positions.

I urge you to support this action.

Sincerely,

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning Legislative Bill 656A with my signature and with my line-item reductions. Legislative Bill 656A contains $1,267,088 from the State General Fund for FY 1987-88 and the same amount for FY 1988-89 for the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture at Curtis.

In order to balance the State budget, I have vetoed $767,088 from FY 1987-88 and $1,267,088 from FY 1988-89. The funds saved in each year of the biennium will be necessary to fund the salary increase and other operations programs already approved by the Legislature in Legislative Bills 780 and 782A. The $500,000 remaining will allow an orderly phaseout of the school.

With my veto, the Regents will have the opportunity to exercise their authority over programmatic decisions at the University as provided in the Nebraska Constitution and in Legislative Bill 656. This is as it should be, and is consistent with the Legislative intent contained in Legislative Bill 1 passed during the Eighty-Ninth Legislature, Fourth Special Session, 1986. Further, this is in accord with the Board of Regents' action to cease operations of the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture at Curtis.

I urge you to support this action.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. President and Members of the Legislature:

I am returning LB 185 and LB 185A without my signature and with my objections.

LB 185 is a well intentioned bill that provides sales tax relief for certain farm purchases. I have been a strong proponent of our family farms and under different circumstances may be persuaded to support a bill such as this. However, as you are well aware, current tax revenues will not support the nearly 3.0 million dollar cost that results from this bill. We just cannot afford it.

I urge you again to sustain this veto as our only means of maintaining a balanced budget that is at its breaking point.

Sincerely,

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, NE 68509

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I am returning LB 408 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 408 changes provisions for the Lincoln police and firefighters retirement plan. My objection to the bill is that this legislation violates state policy in providing uniform guidelines for political subdivision pension plans. This legislation would set another precedent resulting in further fragmentation of pension systems.

Sincerely,
(Signed) KAY A. ORR
Governor
