

trying to correct the dates, or what kind of...

SENATOR ASHFORD: What happened was the committee was, when this originally, when LB 516 came up in front of the Revenue Committee, Senator Johnson...or LB...I'm sorry, 715, it was represented to the committee that there were no occasional sales between October 1, 1985 and January 1, 1986 that would be covered by this change and then what happened now is the Department of Revenue has gone back and found some. And the original intent was that it would...those occasional sales would not be affected. Had that understanding been clear, the date, according to Vard Johnson in his letter to the committee, the date would have been placed at October 1, 1985.

SENATOR WESELY: Oh.

SENATOR ASHFORD: Rather than January 1, 1986. There was some confusion on the date and the department's intention in collecting occasional sales. It was their understanding, the committee's understanding that they would not collect on any occasional sales after October 1, 1985, and, in fact, the bill refers to January 1, 1986, as it was originally drafted.

SENATOR WESELY: So there is no revenue loss because it was never intended to happen.

SENATOR ASHFORD: It was never...there was never intended to be collected in the first place.

SENATOR WESELY: And so if we didn't do this, what do we do, go back on these people and ask them for money in '85?

SENATOR ASHFORD: Yes, we did, yeah.

SENATOR WESELY: Gee, okay, thank you.

SENATOR LANDIS: Senator Ashford, to close.

SENATOR ASHFORD: I'd move the advancement.

SENATOR LANDIS: I believe the cable television cameras still are on even at this late hour. Senator Ashford, to close.

SENATOR ASHFORD: Yeah, I would move the advancement of the bill.
