

disadvantaged woman go out the window and we say when this young woman faced with what we all agree is a crisis in her life goes to the doctor, then the doctor must go and tell the police, or whoever the people are in this particular section of statute, the two that are mentioned, that this young lady says that she was the victim of sexual assault. The purpose of this provision is to make her lie. Senator Bernard-Stevens, you understand English and you have sensitivity, this is a provision to make her lie and this provision, Senator Hefner, was put here by the representatives of the Catholic church. And if the Catholic church intrudes into this Legislature, it must be called by name and I will do it. I have probably studied the activities of that church better than anybody on the floor of this Legislature. I studied and read their Catholic encyclopedia when I was at Creighton University and there were priests who didn't even know what the Catholic encyclopedia was. I pointed out the black popes to them and I'm not even a Catholic. I explained why some of the priests wear three-cornered hats and they didn't know. I have read and I also know that cults and religions try to control their membership by controlling the most intimate aspects of their life and that relates to their sexual conduct. That's why so many churches and cults emphasize and dwell in the pubic areas of the human anatomy. If you can make people feel they must get your permission and your approval before they can indulge the most basic drives that they have, you control and own them. You tell them that unless you do this the way I tell you to, it's a sin. Then you control them when they knuckle under to that and that's what these cults and these churches do. And, as a result of that prudish exterior, the practitioners and leaders of these cults and churches often are guilty of the worst sexual abuses that you can find and I touched on the Spanish Inquisition, a lot of the tortures were sexually based. You know how they wanted to check for a witch. They would stick needles through the nipples of her breast, that's what the Christians did. And if she felt no pain, she was possessed. They would stick items up her vagina and if she felt no pain, she was possessed. Those are things...and priests, while some women were having stones stacked on them while they were tied spread eagle on the ground, were raped by priests and you know how I know about this? Because there were records kept by the inquisitors just like the Nazis kept records of their tortures of the Jews. And if you read history, you will find these things that I'm talking about and people want to pretend that is not a part of the reality, but it is, and the kind of bill that we have here today descends in a direct
