

beware of these legalistic religious people because they know every jot and tittle as it should be dotted and crossed but the spirit of the law is far from them and they never deal with that. But the fact is this, the position articulated in this bill is not that of the Lutheran church. It is that of the Catholic church. It's not...it's not infrequent that people will be led to the slaughter, Senator Labedz. That's not unusual at all. Those who are easily led are most often led. But what happened to a number of people who co-signed this bill was that it was presented to them and they weren't aware of all the ramifications because some have told me that and they ought to say it on the floor, like they said it to me. We all know what the reality is here. And you all can pretend not to know where this bill came from but I know and I'm not going to lie and I'm not going to be intimidated out of saying what I know to be the truth just because I tell the truth and some people are offended. They say in the old days, tell the truth and shame the devil. This is the Catholic church's position and you all know it like I know it. Now there might be others who share in this position but we know where this bill originated from. We know those who drafted it and we know where this kind of legislation comes from. Why does it always take one person to say what everybody knows? If the strings of truth in our minds or our hearts or wherever they're located would respond with a twanging sound every time I told the truth, this Chamber would sound like the Mormon Tabernacle Choir through instrumentals because you all know that what I'm saying is true. I want somebody, instead of saying don't be critical, to stand up and show me where I have told a lie. You all want the documentation for the things I have said? I haven't told you the half of what the church has done. I haven't told you about the nuns. I haven't told you about the young boys who even in the Middle Ages were the sex slaves of priests and where little boys were burned because they had a homosexual relationship with a priest and the priest was not punished...

SPEAKER BARRETT: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...because the child was the devil and the child must be killed to kill the devil, but since it was God's own that was led astray, he must do penance. That is a matter of record. And this is the church that wants to continue to put this heat on these young women. I will tell you what, let them keep on and there will be a revolt in that church among the women because there are some nuns who chose being put out of
