Senator Chambers?   Twenty-five percent property tax relief, based on the average price of a home, 25 percent.   Now does that add up to enough money to fly to the Bahamas?   No.   Does that add up to enough money to drive across the state?   More than enough.   The fact of the matter is that it's tax relief and it's money that's going back to these people that they need, they can use, and they'll understand that it's a good faith effort on our part to deal with the situation now, starting now, and into the future, because until we do this, until we belly up to the bar and say, look, we're going to take the first drink of that Satan's nectar, as Senator Chambers likes to call it, of property tax relief, of making that shift with regard to how we pay for local government and specifically education, we're never going to get it done.   And we can sit here and we can pander and pander with regard to how we're going to do it, and what's the right way, and if we're ever going to do it.   But I say we take the bite now.   We take the first drink and we do it through the form of LB 84 and we get on the road of correcting the situation that exists and quit condemning...

SPEAKER BARRETT: One minute.

SENATOR HALL: ...every aspect of every change, of every opportunity that we have to correct the problem.   Yes, there will be a final solution, hopefully.   This isn't it, clearly no one will stand up and say this is the final, end all product.
But it is a start.   We have to provide that, we should provide it and I think it's a good start down that road.   I would urge the body to advance LB 84 to E & R.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Thank you.   Anyone else care to discuss the advancement to E & R, the readvancement?   Senator Schellpeper, do you?

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: I call the question.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Question has been called.   Do I see five hands? I do.   Shall debate cease?   Those in favor vote aye, opposed nay.   Please record.

CLERK: 27 ayes, 2 nays to cease debate, Mr. President.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Debate ceases.   The question is the advancement....Senator Lamb, anything further?
