Teachers buy books. Teachers buy supplies for kids that don't have them. They take money right out of their own pockets and give it to kids. And so it's...I guess that's one of the reasons why I feel very strongly about giving the money directly to teachers. Senator Warner's remarks struck a chord with me and reminded me of all the contributions that I know that individual teachers make to kids. And so I would urge us to get on with it. Let's pass this bill. It's time we did something for teachers.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Schellpeper.

SENATOR SCHELLPEPER: I will give my time to Senator Moore.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Moore.

SENATOR MOORE: Yes, Mr. Speaker. just to say I guess it's time to withdraw this. I apologize to the...to the original supporters of this bill, at least, because I think some of them wanted to read it tonight and because if my amendment was adopted, they couldn't, but I think it makes it a better bill, obviously, a bill that I can now support and I think there has been some fights among some varying entities on this bill. I think now we've got a bill that really does help education in the state. And, with that, I withdraw the amendment. The last things I will say on LB...the last things that all of us will say on LB 89 and come Monday we'll pass the bill over to the Governor.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Thank you. It is withdrawn. Anything further, Mr. Clerk?

CLERK: Nothing further on that bill, Mr. President.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Yes, for the record.

CLERK: Mr. President, amendments to be printed, Senator Scofield to LB 761A; Senator Chizek to LB 279. (See pages 2546-47 of the Legislative Journal.)
