your license. That's the way I read it.

SENATOR SMITH: Okay.

SENATOR LANDIS: And if it doesn't say that, I'm (interruption)...

SENATOR SMITH: Okay.

SENATOR LANDIS: ...some clarification.

SENATOR SMITH: Okay, thank you. And I'll relinquish the rest of my time to Senator Lamb.

SENATOR LAMB: Yes, Mr. President. You know, I'm surprised that this bill has taken so long because this does what was common practice up until just recently. It was the way the motor vehicles was interpreting the law. We've got people that have driven with these lenses for years and years and years with no problems and then suddenly because of a change of personnel in the Department of Motor Vehicles, then...

SPEAKER BARRETT: One minute.

SENATOR LAMB: ...it's no longer possible. Other states are doing it. I think we're making a mountain out of a molehill. In committee, we heard people say that it's common practice in other states. We heard people testify that they have driven with these devices for years. It's not endangering the people and I guess I'm just amazed that there is so much opposition or conversation, I should say, about the bill. I would hope that we would advance it.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Thank you. Senator Moore.

SENATOR MOORE: Yes, Mr. Speaker and members, I share Senator Lamb's frustration over this bill. It appears that, you know, Senator Schimek and Senator Landis and Senator Wesely and Senator Crosby, the Lincoln area senators and Senator Haberman choose to take a lot of time with this bill and that is perfectly within reason. I know that they have some concerns even though they have yet to convince me that they are valid concerns. I know Senator Haberman and others have tried to use the old smoke screen argument of planning seed of doubt. I don't think those...some of those concerns have been valid.
