

SENATOR NELSON: I will waive off at this time.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Thank you. Any other discussion on the motion to reconsider? Senator Wesely, anything further? Yeah, excuse me, Senator Smith

SENATOR SMITH: Thank you. I am sorry, I wasn't quite finished yet. I would like to continue this just a little bit further. Again, going back to those small businesses that we are talking about here, the truly small businesses in the small communities, do we have any information that any of us on the floor can provide which talks about how much training is required, what kind of training is required, are these people capable of doing it, how many hours does it take? I guess I wish I knew a little bit more about the training requirements in order to meet certification. Can you...do you have that information?

SENATOR WESELY: A three day course is what I understand they have to take.

SENATOR SMITH: Who provides that course, the owner, himself, or do they go somewhere for this training?

SENATOR WESELY: Well, they can go somewhere or they can have their own. It depends on the situation. They have got some flexibility on that.

SENATOR SMITH: Do they know where this training is to be obtained and how often it is offered?

SENATOR WESELY: Well, they could find that out from the Department of Health. That information is all available and accessible.

SENATOR SMITH: I guess the thing that I am going to do is get in touch with the Department of Health and...there it is, right there, okay. Thank you.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Any other discussion? Senator Wesely.

SENATOR WESELY: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to get back to the issue and that is to reconsider the amendment that dealt with the question of employers responsibility to provide training. The current statute requires the training. The current statute calls for all of the things that have been
