

Kristensen, I was going to ask him to explain to me this one below it. Sunflower and Leaning Buffalo or Sunflower and Buffalo who had one too many. On the next page, the top of page 3, and this I got some assistance from Senator Baack on, I didn't know why they would call it Pork Baby and I asked him, what is a baby pig? And he said, piglet. So instead of Pork Baby that should be Piglet, Senator. And then when we come down to the bottom, the feminist, I think the ladies should look at that very closely because it looks like Rosemary's Baby grown up. On page 4, upper left-hand corner, Cross-section Of Brain On Marijuana. Now I think that is very apropos to what we're dealing with these days with drugs. And this one I should have discussed with Senator Hannibal. It's on page 5, and I'm not talking about the self-portrait of the gentleman, but right next to it, it says, Thor's Wife, and I was going to get your opinion as to whether that looks like Thor's wife or Dracula's father, because I know that you, like I, are concerned about how the ladies are dealt with. Page 7, in the lower right-hand corner, I'm very, very loathe to discuss this picture. I don't know who this person is but with the expression on the face I don't think that that gentleman who painted Mona Lisa could have had any greater tie-up than the gentleman or person who painted this one. Senator Kristensen, now what do you think of my assessment of the pictures that were in the red booklet? Do you think they're as accurate as anybody else's would be since art appreciation is...

SPEAKER BARRETT: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...subjective?

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: The only thing I could really gather from your speech so far is that you need to go to the Museum of Nebraska Art and take their short course on art appreciation.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Kristensen, that's a very good answer. And here's what I have to ask you because I'm sure you've said it in the course of speaking. Exactly where is the museum located?

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: The Museum of Nebraska Art is located in Kearney and the old post office. That post office was built in 1918...or 1911, excuse me, and is an old Gothic building, has artistic value of its own.
