

committee amendments and there is an option, there is an option. This bill, as you know, I served on the commission and there are a number of things in this bill that I like, but as far as I'm concerned this bill is not ready to go. It does some good things but it certainly cannot be considered a fair and equitable formula and you can just look at the printout and you see that before you put on the Band-Aid of the minimum 60 cents, some schools are going to have really low levies, like 7.5 cents or 37 cents. Now, we're talking about inequities in our present situation and certainly there are, but here, as I read the printout, we've got levies there from $2.00 down to zero and Crawford is the situation where it's zero. What we're getting into is a school aid bill which will probably be here for another 23 years, like the last one, but it is not properly worked out. Now is the time to do it. Now is the time to do it. We're not going to get it done in this session, but what I'm saying is it should not be passed this session. We should build on what has been done so far and then do it next session. Right now, we could go another year with an extension of LB 84 or some similar thing and there is 866 sitting right there ready to do it and so I just don't believe the bill is in proper form. My minute is probably used up.

PRESIDENT: Yes, your time is up and Senator Moore wants the balance. Thank you. Senator Moore.

SENATOR MOORE: Yes, Mr. President and members, you know, Senator Lamb has concerns. In our spirit of trying to...we've spent two days on this bill, actually three days of debate. We've been through them and if some of Senator Lamb's concerns actually been addressed in the amendments that have been adopted to this bill on Select File, you know, the time has come. It's one of those things that Senator Chambers thinks it takes courage to oppose the bill and I guess he and I just simply disagree. And I've had more than one people, some gently, some not so gently inform me that I've pretty well ruined my political future by pushing this bill. And if that be it, so be it. But, nevertheless, the time has come, let's move this puppy over.

PRESIDENT: Thank you. The ques...Senator Chambers requested a call of the house and a roll call vote. The question is, shall the house go under call? All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Record, Mr. Clerk.
