

what have you. How can a woman be 'secure in her person, house, papers and effects' without her right to privacy? The Fifth Amendment guarantees her right to liberty and private property. The observation has been made that," and get this, "'if men could get pregnant, abortion would become a sacrament.' If men could get pregnant, abortion would become a sacrament because...

PRESIDENT: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...whatever men decide they are going to do becomes right. They don't start from a position and reason to what is right based on the principles of sound reasoning. They decide on what they are going to do based on their power to do it, and then they convert their action into what is right. Then they impose it on everybody weaker than themselves. Unfortunately, oppressed people have been known to identify more with the interest of the oppressor than with their own, and this is why it is not unusual to find women trumpeting the same male dominated philosophy that a woman's body and her womb belongs to a man and the government and they can do with her as they please, and the woman should go along and accept it. So there is some women who echo that, but if it happened to somebody close to them, to their own child, or they were in a set of circumstances where they had to show some compassion instead of just responding to some dogma that a man drilled into their head, there would come some understanding. But since that is not likely to happen, all we will do and continue to do and must continue to do is...

SPEAKER BARRETT PRESIDING

SPEAKER BARRETT: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...counterpose one opinion against another."

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Hall, please. Do I see five hands? Do I see five hands? Shall debate now cease? All in favor vote aye, opposed nay. The question is, shall debate close? Have you all voted? Record, Mr. Clerk. Senator Hall.

SENATOR HALL: (Mike off) ...call of the house, unfortunately.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Hall, yes, I will just ask members to check in. We are technically under call. Members, report to the Chamber and record your presence. Call in votes have been
