

monitored by worried super powers. Another article. After mid-terms, 'tis the season to skip classes. Then winter is a murderous time as crows visit Nebraska towns. There is nothing about the Legislature in any of these articles and I think it just shows a decision made by those who publish the paper that this is nonsense that we're engaged in, this is a circus, this is a carnival. When has a carnival merited front page coverage? Now the World-Herald will give front page coverage because the World-Herald supports Governor Orr and the World-Herald has tried to make everything she do seem as though it makes sense when, in fact, it doesn't. When there is one large newspaper and it, instead of trying to inform the public, tends to becloud the issue and argue that there is no necessity that the public know what the Legislature is doing, it's clear that that paper has made itself an arm of the administration. It can do that. It can do that, because the Constitution grants them the freedom to do it, but it is not ethical and it is not professional. But when have the terms "ethical" and "professional" ever appropriately been attached to the World-Herald in anything that it does? I noticed the other day, after Nebraska had gotten its pants pressed in a football game with Colorado, that the World-Herald editors all got together in secret conclave and wrote one of the most vitriolic editorials against a university because the players took inspiration from the fact that one of their teammates had died from inoperable stomach cancer. Now if old Harold kicks the bucket and they write all these glowing terms about him and I stand up on the floor and talk about some of the terrible things I think he did, they would say I'm terrible. This young quarterback did not hurt the Omaha World-Herald. They did not...he did not do anything to try to improperly influence public opinion or defame anybody as the World-herald regularly does. But when you have a cheap, yellow journalistic sheet, like the World-Herald, supporting the Governor in what she does, it's difficult to make a jump but sometimes you say you judge persons by the company they keep. Now it's clear that there is no intent that the public be aware of what this legislation should consist of. It's clear that the legislators are not to be made aware of it. A public hearing would be a charade under these circumstances.

SPEAKER BARRETT: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: The whole session, as I said, is simply pro forma just to go through the motions, but we don't have to participate in creating a sham that we foist on the public. As
